Clark Hill

MEMORANDUM

TO: Harold Stewart

FROM: Yvette Heintzelman

DATE: November 20, 2024

CLIENT MATTER: City of Minot Investigation

SUBJECT: Investigative Report

On September 27, 2024, the City of Minot hired Clark Hill to investigate complaints received by Council Member Rob Fuller.[1] City Council described the scope of the investigation as an external investigation regarding allegations of hostile work environment, inconsistent discipline, staff confidence in leadership, staff retention, staff morale, and staff concerns of retaliation by Police Chief John Klug.

This investigation report summarizes the interviews of police officers and dispatchers and provides recommendations based on those interviews and a review of documents. Summaries of the interviews follow the report.

Investigation Report

COVID-19 significantly impacted individuals, teams, leaders, organizations, and society as a whole from 2019 through 2022. The pandemic created stress, burnout, remote working, and the anxiety of working through video conferencing, working from home with children present and the list goes on. Leaders needed to make critical decisions affecting operations and personnel where they did not know the outcome and how operations would continue. "As the pandemic increased employees' awareness of, anxiety about, and reflection on their own mortality, some withdrew, while others became more prosocial and creative." Harvard Business Review Research Roundup: How the Pandemic Changed Management (March 13, 2024).

The issue of COVID-19 is provided as a background, because so many individuals interviewed were critical of how the Chief and Haugen handled the police department and the dispatch center during COVID-19 and raised those issues as part of their complaints to the City in this investigation. During a worldwide pandemic, the rules were constantly changing from the state and federal governments regarding distancing, isolation, and masking. While individuals continue to need mental health counseling for the stressors created during those years, for current employees, the City has resources including an Employee Assistance Program for those individuals to access.[2]

[1] Nothing in this Investigation Report constitutes professional legal advice nor is it intended to be a substitute for professional legal advice. Clark Hill's role is purely investigatory and neither Ms. Yvette Heintzelman nor Ms. Lidia Koelbel are providing legal advice to the City.

[2] On May 5, 2023, the World Health Organization declared an end to the Public Health Emergency for COVID-19.

With the pandemic in the background, John Klug and Margaret Haugen were promoted to the Chief of Police and Public Safety Answering Point (PSAP) Manager on February 1, 2020, and charged with ensuring that public safety dispatch and police operations continued during this challenging time.

This investigation was initiated by Councilman Rob Fuller, who is a newly elected member of the Minot City Council. He and Councilman Scott Samuelson had conversations with current and former members of the police department including dispatch. Some of these individuals had worked for Councilman Fuller at his business in town called Spartan Arms. Some of the individuals Fuller employed were former police officers who left on unsatisfactory terms from the police department. After hearing complaints about the police department for several years, Councilman Fuller ran for and was elected to the City Council. Since his election, he has continued to receive complaints. He was concerned about these complaints in light of a request for funding to build a new police department building. He and Councilman Samuelson stated that they would not support funding for a building unless the City addressed the morale issue at the department. At the same time, Fuller was meeting with officers and obtaining information from them regarding their perspective on what was wrong with the police department. Fuller was talking to Harold Stewart, the City Manager, about issues with Chief Klug that he heard about when he (Klug) was an officer.

Past Allegations

On March 4, 2021, the City retained a third-party investigator to investigate issues of disparate treatment of officers and an allegation of cheating on the lieutenants' test. Attachment 23.

On February 6, 2022, the City received an anonymous email regarding Lt. McLeod and Chief Klug. Attachment 42. The email concerned an alleged affair McLeod was having and the conduct of Chief Klug in 2005. The City reviewed the email and conducted an investigation of the allegations at that time. Chief Klug responded to the allegations and the City Council determined that Chief Klug would remain Chief of Police.[3] Attachment 41 and 42.

Background For Current Allegations

As a new council member, Fuller was approached by patrol officers who wanted to provide information and try to do an end run around command staff and the City Manager. The City Manager has asked individuals to come talk to him directly if they have specific issues they want to address, but no one has come to talk to him directly about the information they have.

All of these issues raised, predate Fuller and Samuelson. There have been discussions with the City Council about the need for a new police station. Both Fuller and Samuelson have held up that process because they want to take care of these morale issues first. Fuller had met with thirteen current or former members of the Minot Police Department, including a few dispatchers. He had taken notes of his meetings, which he then transcribed but did not identify the individuals with whom he had spoken. They have been subsequently identified via this investigation. Fuller explained to Heintzelman during this investigation that he does not have a background in human resources or employment law. His comments and conclusions are his stream of conscious reactions to the information he received. He stated that his experience in conducting this investigation is as a businessman in the City of Minot. He previously owned a gun store, Spartan Arms, where he employed several individuals who did not leave the police department on good terms. Over the years, he has heard complaints from people regarding their departure from the City's employ.

On August 26, 2024, Fuller and Samuelson came to Stewart to discuss the morale problems in the police department. Stewart told them that the information they were providing happened in the past period and if there is something new then he would address it. Fuller came back and said that he had new information, because he had been meeting and talking to people about what was going on at the Police Department. Fuller's information was that Officer Batteiger had slept with a domestic violence victim and that he had lost 15.7 grams of heroin from a canine drug training kit. This information was indeed new to Stewart.

On August 30, 2024, Lt. Shane Haug, the Professional Standards Lieutenant, informed Chief Klug and Captain Justin Sundheim that there was an accusation against Dan Batteiger. A female cadet made a comment to her co-worker about being in a relationship with Batteiger. The co-worker has a sponsor who is Jenna Olson. Jenna Olson works in the Sheriff's office. She reached out to Sgt. Jared Foley who is responsible for the Cadet program. Foley contacted the cadet's mother. The juvenile's mother indicated that her daughter makes statements about her desire to date after she turns 18. The mother looked at the girl's phone and did not think anything was occurring. The cadet was out of state and would return on September 9, 2024, which was a holiday. When Chief Klug met with Fuller on September 5, he did not know the outcome of the interview with the cadet. Unbeknownst to Chief Klug at the time, Olson told Krysta Becker, a former Minot Police Officer. Becker told Fuller about the allegations.

On September 5, 2024, Chief Klug met with Stewart, Stefanie Stalheim (City Attorney), Fuller, and Monica Porterfield (HR). Fuller was talking about Batteiger's disciplinary issues and that Batteiger should be terminated for losing the heroine in the drug kit. Chief Klug said that all of Batteiger's issues occurred around a period when he was having personal issues. He was getting divorced and this resulted in Batteiger making some bad decisions. Once he was able to get a handle on his issues, after the canine investigation, Batteiger was on a path of returning to be a good police officer.

Chief Klug explained that he did not terminate Batteiger because he could not prove that he took the drugs or that he lost them. Chief Klug had policy violations from Batteiger, but before Lt. Chapman, who oversees the canine training, changed the policy, Batteiger complied with how the canine officers had typically handled the drug kit. Nevertheless, Chief Klug removed the canine from Batteiger and removed him from all of his training opportunities so that he could focus on getting himself together and being a good officer. He lost a lot of opportunity as a result of that investigation. Chief Klug also held Lt. Chapman accountable for not reviewing the logs and failing to hold Batteiger accountable. Concerning destroying the drug kit, Batteiger's mistake was not involving Sgt. Jensen in the process for destroying the drugs. They have to get DEA approval for the destruction of the drug kit. It cannot be done in the same manner as the destruction of other evidence under state law. Chief Klug did not conclude that Batteiger was trying to hide his mistake by destroying the drug kit.

On August 30, 2024, Chief Klug received a call from a former council member relaying that Fuller was in a bar sharing information about an ongoing criminal investigation. At the time, Chief Klug thought it was a Minot Police Department case. He spoke to Captain Dale Plessas who said that it was a highway patrol case where the incident occurred at the fair. Klug recounted that Batteiger responded to the crash and the passenger in the car was a deputy's son. Krysta Becker, who previously worked at the police department and now works for the Sheriff's department, also responded to the call. The case was given to the highway patrol because of the potential conflict with the Sheriff's office. Sgt. Ruelle was there as well. When the highway patrol showed up, Becker walked around telling the highway patrol to check everyone's body worn camera to make sure everyone is telling the truth. As it turned out, the accident and response happened as everyone said it did. However, Becker was the officer who stated that she would not back up Batteiger. Chief Klug felt that her statements on the scene were a concern and thought the Sheriff should know about her statements that she would not back up one of Minot's officers. Minot Police Department will back up the Ward County Sheriff's Department and vice versa when necessary. Chief Klug was concerned that Fuller had an internal source at the Sheriff's Department to obtain information and that Fuller was sharing confidential investigatory information publicly. Chief Klug and Sundheim had a meeting with the Sheriff and Chief Deputy Larry Hubbard scheduled later on September 5, 2024. No one knew about the meeting with the Sheriff except for the attendees.

Before Fuller left the earlier meeting with Chief Klug on September 5, 2024, Fuller asked Chief Klug two questions:

- Did you schedule a meeting with Larry Hubbard regarding Krysta Becker; and
- Is there anything else on Dan Batteiger?

Chief Klug told him that he had a meeting with the Sheriff but stated that there was nothing else on Batteiger. Chief Klug intended to tell the Sheriff that Fuller had someone inside the Sheriff's Office providing information to Fuller about investigations. Chief Klug also intended to tell the Sheriff about Krysta Becker's statements from the incident at the fair.

When he was asked the question by Fuller, Klug knew that there was an issue with the cadet who was a juvenile but did not know if there was any substance to the allegation since no one had spoken to the cadet yet given she was out of town. He did not want to share information with Fuller because he was given reason to suspect Fuller was sharing information with others in a public setting. Chief Klug was waiting until September 9, 2024, when the cadet came back in town, to determine whether they needed to do an investigation after they could confirm the information with the cadet. Chief Klug did not follow up with Stewart after the meeting to tell him about the allegations against Batteiger.

Chief Klug does not believe he lied to Fuller, Stewart, or Stalheim because he did not know if there was anything to the allegations, and it turns out there was not. He stated that he was trying to protect the integrity of the case because the cadet was a minor and he thought Fuller was talking to people about cases outside of the department. He believes that Jenny Olson told Fuller about what the cadet said about being in a relationship with Batteiger.

Klug did not call Stewart after the meeting with Fuller on September 5, 2024. After that meeting, Chief Klug went to the meeting with the Sheriff. Stewart and Stalheim called Lt. Haug and asked if there was an investigation with Batteiger and a cadet. Haug said yes.

Chief Klug was placed on administrative leave on September 11, 2024.

Expanded Scope of Investigation

When Clark Hill was hired on September 27, 2024 by the City of Minot to investigate complaints received by Councilman Fuller, the initial scope of the investigation described by City Council was an external investigation regarding allegations of hostile work environment, inconsistent discipline, staff confidence in leadership, staff retention, staff morale, and staff concerns of retaliation by Police Chief John Klug.

On September 30 and October 1, 2024, City Manager, Harold Stewart sent an email to employees informing them that anyone who wanted to talk to the external investigators would be provided an opportunity to do so. In addition, documents were requested and provided before and during the interviews conducted by Yvette Heintzelman and Lidia Koelbel.[4]

Everyone who expressed they had information to contribute was contacted. The investigation grew much larger as the number of interviewees more than tripled and new allegations were brought to light. Although additional information including a re-telling of several past incidents that had already been investigated were discussed, an attempt to keep the investigation within the original scope was made. Consequently, the investigation report does not address every new allegation.

Council Member Fuller's Concerns

Based on discussions with Fuller, he was initially concerned about the retention of Batteiger and the investigation into his conduct with the lost heroin. He was also concerned about retaliation against Krysta Becker with the Sheriff's Department. Chief Klug investigated the missing heroin but did not terminate Batteiger's employment. The level of discipline is within the discretion of the Department Head's decision and Chief Klug had justification for his decision. Hindsight always presents a different perspective. Chief Klug was selected for the position of Chief of Police in 2020 after vetting. His decisions must be accepted until he proves to be exercising poor decision-making. This investigation did not uncover poor decision-making concerning the loss of the 15.7 grams of heroin. However, Chief Klug failed to inform the City Manager, his boss, of potentially embarrassing information. Chief Klug's decision to withhold the recent Batteiger issue falls into the same category. While the incident turned out to be nothing, his failure to inform Stewart put Stewart in an embarrassing situation with Fuller and fit into Fuller's narrative that the Chief was withholding information from Stewart and him. I do not find Chief Klug's decision to speak to the Sheriff about Becker's conduct and departure from the City to be unreasonable or retaliatory as her conduct may affect mutual aid between the Ward County Sheriff and the City of Minot.

Since all of this transpired, Batteiger resigned from the City on October 22, 2024, and repaid the money for Christmas gifts in 2021. Thereafter, Fuller indicated that he still had concerns about Chief Klug's decisions in dealing with Kevin Cory and Erik Laudenschlager. Based upon my review of these decisions, this investigation did not find sufficient support to conclude that Chief Klug's decisions were wrong. Fuller may disagree with the decisions, again in hindsight, but they were not wrong.

City Council's Direction

The investigation was to determine whether there was a hostile work environment in either the Police Department created by Chief John Klug and/or his command staff and the PSAP Manager. In addition, the investigation concerned whether Chief Klug issued inconsistent discipline, staff confidence in leadership, staff retention, staff morale, and staff concerns about retaliation by Police Chief John Klug and/or [4] Ms. Koelbel was asked to assist in the interviews because of the expanded scope of the investigation and number of individuals that were identified and a request to complete the investigation is a short amount of time.

Margaret Haugen. While the PSAP Manager was not specifically identified, during this investigation, many dispatchers scheduled meetings with the investigators to share their experiences.

Hostile Work Environment

A hostile work environment means conduct that is unwelcome or offensive in the workplace which causes one or more employees to feel uncomfortable, scared, or intimidated based upon a protected category, i.e. race, sex age, religion, disability, or another protected trait. There was no information to support an allegation of a hostile work environment based upon a protected category. Many individuals, however, did not like the way the command administration communicated with members of the department or the speed in which decisions were made. See e.g., Attachment 33, pp. 1263-1265; Attachment 34, pp. 1266-1267.

Notably, many of the issues raised were very dated including references to Blanchard, 2021 performance evaluations and promotions, faulty equipment that has been repaired, and Chief Klug's conduct from 2005. This information has already been disclosed to the City and/or the Department and/or the subject of previous reviews. To the extent they remain the topic of discussion, the discussion is contributing to the gossip and rumors that are deteriorating the morale of the Department. Further, many people spoke about issues for which they have no personal knowledge and/or no basis for their perspective other than personal feelings. Unsubstantiated statements that lack personal knowledge also foster an environment of gossip, rumor, and misinformation which also negatively affects morale.

Because major decisions and changes are not communicated via personal discussions, i.e. visits to roll call shift meetings or patrol meetings, individuals believe decisions are made without any consideration of their perspectives or feelings which creates a level of distrust and unrest. The Department command would be well served to increase communications, something that was raised in 2021, increase personal interactions with patrol, and be more responsive to issues raised by sergeants through the chain of command. Personnel issues cannot be moved to the bottom of the priority scale repeatedly. They must be addressed in a timely fashion, i.e. a day or two. More delegation on the part of Chief Klug along with the authority to make the decision would facilitate this process.

In dispatch, there is a definite dislike for Haugen and her management style. Several individuals spoke about Haugen gossiping, disclosing confidential information, and/or pitting individuals against each other. I was not told that Haugen was placed on a performance improvement plan even though the Chief has been visiting the PSAP center regularly and attempting to work with the Lead dispatchers. Discussions with lead dispatchers does not seem to be working. The most positive information coming from the dispatch center is the employment of Wayne Fahey. With his addition, the morale seems to be improving as most of the information provided predates Fahey's hire and relates to Haugen, Klug, and Sundheim. If Haugen continues to work in PSAP as the manager, the separation of personnel matters from Haugen should be maintained and the Assistant PSAP Manager should manage all personnel matters and scheduling and any other interaction with the dispatchers.

While the investigation does not find the existence of a hostile work environment, there is a core group of current and former employees in the Police Department and dispatch who do not agree with the decisions made by Chief Klug and Haugen and therefore are unhappy with their work environment.

Inconsistent Discipline

The investigation uncovered that Chief Klug implemented a discipline matrix to provide some structure and guidance for the issuance of discipline. While it appears that he implements all of the significant discipline himself, this is an attempt to provide structure to the captains, lieutenants, and sergeants for the imposition of discipline. However, every disciplinary situation is different and even though two people may engage in the same conduct there may be extenuating circumstances that have to be taken into consideration. By way of example, consider two officers who miss court. The first officer slept through his alarm and the second officer had a car accident on the way to work. For each, it was the second time the officer missed court. Should the discipline be the same? The answer is "no," not necessarily. This is where a supervisor's leadership, judgment, and fundamental fairness come into play. Many people spoke of situations for which they did not have complete information or the individual's information was based on information from others (rumor and speculation).

Chief Klug also created a Professional Standards Lieutenant, which is a position to ensure that policies, procedures, and investigations are equitably and properly handled. While individuals may disagree regarding the selection of individuals for promotion, this investigation did not substantiate decision-making that was patently unfair, including passing over Schoenrock or Laudenschlager for promotion. Fear of individuals resigning if they do not get a promotion, or the assignment of their choice cannot be the basis for decision-making. The most qualified person for the job should be selected. That process is not always perfect and, if an individual cannot meet expectations, they should be held accountable. If their performance is thereafter evaluated and are not meeting expectations, they should be removed from that assignment. By way of example, this investigator was presented with information that Cameon Eisenzimer had good evaluations but was summarily let go from the Department. Eisenzimer was evaluated, supported, and encouraged by Chief Klug as was documented in her personnel evaluations. She was supported by Captain Plessas, but did not perform well in investigations. Ultimately, she was put on a performance improvement plan, but she did not succeed. Attachment 37.

Similarly, Jacob Olson was removed from his FTO position because he was speaking disparagingly about other officers. Attachment 39. He was previously counseled about this conduct and did not heed the warnings from Schoenrock. His trainees were not meeting expectations in that they were not completing casework, their reports had grammatical errors, and were not sufficiently descriptive. Olson was not properly training his trainees and therefore was removed from his assignment. This investigation's findings support his removal.

Also, Kevin Cory was involved in a lawsuit, received discipline for the use of force, and was involved in subsequent use of force issues. The Chief was presented with information that supported other incidents of use of force that were outside policy. The Chief cannot be faulted for being proactive with an officer that he believed was not able to adhere to department policy on the use of force. When presented with that information, Cory resigned.

Based on my interviews and file review, this investigation did not uncover inconsistent discipline but rather individuals who do not agree with the discipline issued. Discipline is issued based upon a variety of factors including conduct in question, disciplinary history and context of the violation. There is also discretion by the supervisor, Chief's Job Description, and City ordinances which place the responsibility of discipline within the Chief's discretion.

Dan Batteiger

Many people have disagreed with the discipline issued by the Chief to Dan Batteiger. While people may differ about whether Batteiger should have been terminated from his employment, there was enough laxity in the supervision and enforcement of policies in recording canine training and maintaining the drug kits to support the conclusion that his conduct was careless and not intentional. This is particularly true with respect to the process of destroying the drug kit which has a special DEA destruction process that is not well known. Batteiger failed to call upon more experienced Canine Officer Sgt. Taylor Jensen for assistance.

Batteiger's Supervisor, Sergeant, and/or Lieutenant, should have investigated his relationship with the purported domestic violence victim. Further they should have addressed the personnel issue when he failed to purchase or return money for the 2021 Christmas present on behalf of his fellow officers for their supervisors.

Batteiger's relationship with the individual he met on a call may also discredit the Department and the City and should have resulted in an internal investigation. The Minot Police Department Code of Ethics requires officers to > …keep my private life unsullied as an example to all and will behave in a manner that does not bring discredit to me or to my agency. I will maintain courageous calm in the face of danger, scorn, or ridicule; develop self-restraint; and be constantly mindful of the welfare of others. Honest in thought and deed both in my personal and official life, I will be exemplary in obeying the law and the regulations of my department.

On-duty or off-duty misconduct that brings discredit to the department should be investigated and appropriate action taken. The standard is higher for individuals who hold a supervisory or management position in the Department. Further, as a Captain, Chief Klug investigated another officer for having a personal relationship with an individual the officer met in response to a call. Therefore, Chief Klug should know that this behavior is unacceptable. Indeed, off-duty conduct that affects the operations of the department should be addressed via the disciplinary process.

This investigation did not find any evidence that the Chief made any decision regarding Batteiger based on a personal relationship with Batteiger or because he was spying on the night shift for the Chief. That allegation was unsubstantiated. He exercised his discretion based on his determination that he did not have any evidence that Batteiger stole the heroin but was careless and did not follow policy. Chief Klug had full authority to exercise his discretion in making the disciplinary decision. He did not, however, consult with the City Manager which would have been a prudent course of action and an issue that should be addressed.

The investigation does not find that the Chief made inconsistent decisions regarding discipline. Further, no one contested their disciplinary decisions or promotion decisions through the City's complaint or grievance procedures. These complaints were raised outside the City's process through Councilmember Fuller. Sidestepping the City's processes undermines the integrity and effectiveness of the City's process and the City's professional staff as well as the organization as a whole and should not be allowed to continue.

Fitness for Duty and Mental Health

Many people have raised concerns about individuals such as Blanchard, Becker, and others who have substance abuse issues and/or mental health issues. These issues are complicated and there are numerous issues to consider such as sick leave availability, insurance coverage, leave under the Family and Medical Leave Act, and an interactive process and reasonable accommodation under the Americans with Disabilities Act. In reviewing the steps and attempts made to provide assistance and opportunity for officers to obtain help and assistance, this investigation uncovered no issues with how Chief Klug handled those individuals and their subsequent return to duty. Further, while there is an expectation that employers, particularly public sector employers, help their employees obtain the assistance they need, there is a concurrent requirement that the employee take steps to address their situation and utilize the Employee Assistance Program and/or health insurance coverage. There may be expenses associated with health care coverage which are the responsibility of the employee. In 2023, the Department created a Wellness and Peer Support Committee. This is also a step in the right direction for addressing mental health issues. The availability of these programs should continue to be made widely known across the Department, including dispatch who may be inadvertently excluded by virtue of the center's location and the down-trickle of information through the chain of command.

Chief Klug utilized the assistance of the Human Resources Department in these situations and should continue to do so. This investigation found that Chief Klug and the Human Resources Department handled these issues correctly.

Staff Confidence in Leadership

The City of Minot Employee Policy Manual is distributed and accessible to all employees on the City's intranet system. The manual provides that the City Manager supervises the Police Chief. The PSAP Manager, while not shown in the organizational chart, reports to Captain Sundheim. The City Council has the authority to appoint the City Manager. The City Manager's authority to appoint or remove a department head is limited only by the requirement of consent of the City Council. Rev. Gen. Ords. 1962, § 4-0401(1)—(6); Ord. No. 5543, § 1; see also Role of the City Manager

This investigation did not uncover the authority of a City Council member to investigate a department head or seek his/her removal. Council Member Fuller is a newly-appointed member of the City Council. It is not surprising that individuals who feel they have been slighted in some way seek out the newest member of the Council to plead their case and see if they can obtain a different result. Council Member Fuller did disclose that he did not have any background in conducting personnel or police disciplinary investigations including the questions posed or the notes that were taken. Indeed, some notes contained conclusions reached immediately based solely on the complaints of the complainants. For example, Chief Klug spoke to the Ware County Sheriff on September 5, 2024, regarding the conduct of one of the Sheriff's Deputies who previously worked for the City. Chief Klug's intention in speaking to the Sheriff was to voice a concern that the deputy had stated that she would not back up an officer in the Department, Batteiger. This investigation also uncovered that the deputy had made a similar statement to another officer. A discussion between two department heads who provide mutual aid to each other for police purposes is sufficient justification for the discussion. An officer cannot refuse to respond to a call for help from a fellow officer, regardless of the personal disagreement. The reference to "retaliation" in Fuller's notes is inconsistent with the underlying facts. There are other references to "WTF" and "WTH" in Fuller's notes without explanation. These references were explained by Fuller as personal commentary to himself. They are, however, inappropriate for notes of an investigation or any other official City documentation.

There were references to "shadow files" in Councilman Fuller's notes. Supervisors in the Police Department, like all department supervisors, are encouraged to counsel their employees, verbal counseling, and then document the conversation so that they can keep track of what was done as part of the progressive disciplinary process. If it is not written down, then it will be forgotten and the supervisor will not properly elevate continued conduct to the next level of discipline under a progressive discipline policy. There is nothing nefarious about keeping a counseling memorandum with the individual supervisor as the term "shadow files" may create. It is recommended that this documentation be kept in a centralized location accessible to all supervisors so that they each have the benefit of the counseling another supervisor has provided to an employee. That way, each supervisor can elevate progressive discipline, as necessary. The disciplinary matrix identifies counseling as a sergeant-level task. See Attachment 25. If the verbal counseling does not work, supervisors can issue written documentation of verbal counseling or a written reprimand. In the end, there should be a process for tracking this information such as the ADP system, CAD notes, etc. There was some confusion regarding the sergeants' ability to access counseling notes and discipline given to other officers. That issue should be addressed and all sergeants and above given access to disciplinary actions taken against an officer. This does not mean that they should have access to investigative files, but the discipline issued. In the alternative, they can be provided the information via human resources.

There is a minority of current and former officers who disagree with Chief Klug's decisions. The majority of officers have not voiced complaints against Chief Klug or his Administration. There are issues to address and improvements to be made to improve leadership in the Police Department such as timely decision-making. Again, no one contested their disciplinary decisions or promotion decisions through the City's complaint or grievance procedures. No one raised these concerns to the City Manager. These complaints were raised outside the City's process through Council Member Fuller. Sidestepping the City's processes undermines the integrity and effectiveness of the City's process and the City's professional staff as well as the organization as a whole.

Chief Klug, however, cannot expect members of the department to follow through on their duties if he does not follow through on his duties, including communicating with the Department, communicating with the City Manager, completing one-on-one meetings, resolving the uniform/beard issue, issuing 2023 performance evaluations, and establishing and maintaining relationships with patrol especially members of the midnight shift. These are the "soft-skills" that keep an organization together, moving forward, and following its leader. This investigation cannot conclude that there is a failure of leadership as Chief Klug can perform his job duties as set forth in his Job Description and City Ordinance. However, if Chief Klug cannot or will change his leadership style to address these issues, the Department will continue to have these issues with leadership and morale.

Staff Retention and Staff Morale

This investigation uncovered several people who did not like the decisions and/or changes made by Chief Klug and therefore resigned from their employment. The number of resignations between 2019 and 2024 is not significant in police but is far more significant in dispatch.

Police Department Departures: 2016-2019. Total 47 (44 resignations; three retirements)

Police Department Departures: 2020-2024. Total 52 (43 resignations; six retirements; two terminations; one death)

Dispatch Departures: 2016-2019. Total 8 (five resignations; one retirement; two terminations)

Dispatch Departures: 2020-2024. Total 23 (22 resignations; one death)

This investigation has received information from individuals claiming that it is a revolving door and that years of experience and tens of thousands of dollars are leaving every time someone quits. It is true that every time an employee leaves, money spent training that employee leaves with them. After COVID-19, in general, the workforce is more transient than before. That concept is supported by the fact that people who have worked here for 20 years decided to quit because they were required to move to another position or back to patrol. While people interviewed made it seem like the change in positions was an "all or nothing" proposition, others stated that they requested accommodation for significant personal reasons (not personal preference) and were provided those accommodations. Unfortunately, Chief Klug did not include that option in his communication to the Department. See Attachment 41, p. 1358. Individuals who excelled in their job, e.g., Guerton, were allowed to stay in their positions. However, if the Chief or Command Staff determined that a shift is not working well with other officers, shifts, or the administration, it is the Chief's prerogative to move those individuals to other shifts. That being said, if the separation or animosity was created in part by the actions of the Chief or Command Staff, that issue must also be addressed. The midnight shift, particularly when the lieutenant was moved off of the shift schedule, was left without a command presence. Neither the captains nor the lieutenants visited a shift or roll call on midnights and may not have visited any of the roll calls, even during COVID. Further, the fact that the Senior Officer and Master Officer pins were left in the midnight officer's mailbox was wrong. If the Chief's practice was to pin the officers when they achieved this accomplishment, he should have gone to the midnight shift to pin those officers as well. The Chief cannot expect officers to follow his lead if they never see him or interact with him. At least they need to be given an opportunity to interact with him.

Chief Klug failed to complete the one-on-one meetings with his officers. This was one of the first promises he made to the department, and he did not complete it. It had a significant impact on some officers who felt disregarded or ignored. While these took a back seat to COVID and his personal issues, that is not the appropriate priority for a Chief. Relationships with his officers cannot take a "back seat." The uniform policy is a prime example of something the Chief could have done to boost morale. Officers were excited to participate in the process after being given the opportunity. Some spent hours researching and drafting the policy to address beards and then the entire uniform policy. Beards, piercings, and tattoos are issues that all departments are addressing. The Chief's failure to review and approve that policy – ever – is significant. He stated that it became lower on the priority scale. The Chief's perspective negatively affects morale. Further, he cannot expect members of the Department to fulfill their job responsibilities if he does not fulfill his job duties or promises to the Department members.

Along the same lines, many have indicated that the "ivory hallway is where ideas go to die." The fact that the Evidence Custodian cannot get shelves for his department or move the packaging outside the Evidence Locker/Room is surprising. But even more surprising is that the Chief needs to be involved in that decision. Chief Klug needs to trust his people or trust a captain but he cannot make all of these decisions himself because the lack of a decision is a decision and one that significantly impacts the department. In the Chief's absence, Acting Chief Plessas was able to review with Harold Stewart outstanding disciplinary issues and make those decisions. Similarly, the Professional Standards Lieutenant must wait for a command staff meeting to make an update to a Lexipol policy even if the change is minor. This again results in a delay in decision making and operations.

Similarly, Chief Klug had an Administrative Assistant. If he does not currently utilize the assistance of an Administrative Assistant, he needs to hire an Administrative Assistant who can assist with the more mundane tasks of a Chief and/or Command Staff including approving expenses for the canine officers. If Cheryl Gessner is not the appropriate person for that job, then her job duties should be changed and if there are performance issues, then those should be addressed.

Officers have talked about the difficulty the City has in recruiting new officers and dispatchers. This investigation uncovered that many people working in the City know each other outside of work and many have gone to school together and may be related in some way. There are also local bars and restaurants that employees frequent in the City. When employees are out and have the opportunity to discuss where they work, that is "advertising" and each person has a choice, they can tell people it is a terrible place and no one should work in the City or they can present an accurate picture of working for the City, good pay, good benefits and the support of the community. That conduct is part of the recruiting process. It will either support or undermine the efforts of the City in hiring more police and dispatch personnel.

The same is true for the morale at work. Many people talked about incidents that occurred many years ago – even before COVID-19. Those decisions have been made, investigations have been conducted and disciplinary action was taken or not taken. By way of example, there was an investigation in 2021 regarding the lieutenant's examination and allegations of cheating. An investigation was conducted and the decision was reached. No complaint or grievance was filed at the time of the decision. This investigation reaches the same conclusion. It is time to put that issue to rest. The same is true for Lackey, Blanchard, Wilk, Sommerville, Becker, Batteiger, and others.

Along the same lines, if Chief Klug or Command Staff made comments that "everyone is replaceable," that does not support the morale of the organization. Or if the Chief makes statements that the Chief's focus is on the organization as a whole and not the individual officers, those statements diminish morale because people do not feel valued and appreciated. This is especially applicable in times of heightened anxiety and stress like COVID-19 and its aftermath.

We did not speak to the majority of individuals in the Department. Amongst the individuals we spoke to, they indicated they had a morale issue. A large number of these individuals are not current employees and therefore do not represent the current state of the Department. Further, some of the individuals we spoke to told us that they were happy at work and wanted us to know that they were happy with their jobs, with the accommodations Chief Klug made for them, and with the Chief's leadership.

The morale issue in dispatch is related to Haugen which Chief Klug should address in a more decisive manner, such as a performance improve plan.

Staff Concerns About Retaliation

Some individuals were concerned about retaliation for participating in the investigation. The City and the Department have policies against retaliation and any individual who believes that a decision was made in retaliation for participating in this investigation should report that issue via the grievance process, to the Human Resources Department, or the City Manager's office. This is a real concern for some employees, but the City Manager has assured everyone in his email dated October 1, 2024, that he would review any discipline:

> I know that many of you are concerned about participating due to fear of retaliation. I will reiterate what I stated verbally at our meeting on September 12th. I will not tolerate any retaliatory actions related to this investigation. To help protect against the potential of retaliation I have deferred any annual performance evaluation for the end of this year, and all disciplinary actions will require my review and approval to ensure they are based on their own merits and not related to participation in this investigation.

The City Manager's review of all discipline will provide a double check to ensure that no one is retaliated for participating in this investigation. I also recommend that the City Manager review promotion decisions as well to further allay any concerns.

Recommendations

Based on the investigation, I am making the following recommendations:

1. Create a process by which council members bring personnel issues to the City Manager for review and response and/or investigation so that personnel issues are reviewed under the City's complaint or grievance policy and by personnel who are trained in these areas.
2. Human Resources policy and procedure should be updated to accept complaints regardless of whether the issue has been addressed by the employee with their supervisor or manager. Speaking to a supervisor or department head should be voluntary, not mandatory. Human Resources must have the authority to investigate and reach a different conclusion from the department head.
3. If there are concerns about relationships between Human Resources and City personnel, consider establishing an 800 number where complaints can be presented and a third-party HR person can conduct a review or investigation. This may be done via videoconference.
4. Re-publicize the grievance and complaint procedure and require every employee to acknowledge that they read and understood the policy and maintain the signature in their personnel file. This should be done even if it already exists.
5. Establish a working relationship with the FOP Union to assist in explaining and disseminating information to officers and to facilitate discussion regarding any communication. They should also be sent a copy of the City's complaint and grievance policies.
6. Consistent with the CPSM evaluation, distribute the Lexipol policies to everyone.
7. Follow the Lexipol complaint investigation procedure and notify a complainant and a witness when an investigation is complete and appropriate remedial action has been taken. If the complaint is unfounded, remind employees of the policies at issue for future reference.

8. Investigation of workplace conduct should not be based upon the substantiation of a criminal case. The burden of proof is different for a criminal case and lower for an employment action. An administrative action should move forward so that employees do not remain on paid administrative leave while a criminal investigation is taking place.
9. Create a hiring and recruitment committee to select graduates from local schools to conduct outreach and participation with those schools. Officers should be paid for their participation. The committee should create concrete steps to take for the City to review and then, subject to review, revision, and budgetary constraints be implemented by the City.
10. All exit interviews should be conducted by a lieutenant and Human Resources or Human Resources. Lieutenants should date and identify all exit interviews and send them to HR.
11. Any decisions regarding benefit time, e.g., use of sick leave during FMLA time off, injury leave or reasonable accommodation requests should be handled in cooperation with the Human Resources Department.
12. To the extent that the Human Resources Department needs additional assistance, a temporary HR service can assist in responding to employee needs and issues.
13. Promotion to any rank, i.e. pinning the officer, should be made at a public meeting before the City Council.
14. Pins for Senior Officers and Master Officers should be made on the shift with an announcement to the entire department.
15. Lieutenants, captains, and the Chief should attend roll call regularly, i.e., at least monthly and probably more than that.
16. The Chief should visit a roll call every month and as needed by operational events and talk to every shift.
17. All officers must install Evertel on their cell phones. All officers must check Evertel daily unless they are on vacation or off duty days in which case they are required to check Evertel before they arrive for work.
18. Chief and command staff should push out department-wide communications weekly.
19. Human Resources should take over the random drug testing process from Sundbakken. Officers should be given two hours' notice, not 72 hours' notice. The testing facility should select the officers at random and call Human Resources who notify the officer via dispatch.
20. Train Chief Klug on current email etiquette and the use of all capitals in his department-wide communications.
21. Delegate decision-making to the individual who was assigned to the position who should be an expert in those areas, e.g., Evidence Custodian, Professional Standards Lieutenant, and allow them to exercise that decision-making within the scope of their rank.
22. Give individuals responsible for tasks, divisions, or assignments, such as the Evidence Custodian or Captain supervising the evidence budget to work within and then evaluate them on properly managing the budget.
23. Identify and delegate administrative tasks to an Administrative Assistant who has a clearly defined job description.
24. The Chief has weekly meetings or calls with the City Manager. It is also my recommendation that the Chief notify the City Manager regarding any situation that may cause embarrassment or discredit the City or Department immediately and regularly utilize the services of human resources and an employment attorney versed in police operations to consult with before any significant disciplinary action is taken.

25. The City should consider implementing the CPSM recommendation to create civilian positions that are easier to fill and shift sworn members to patrol, e.g., APOC.
26. Consideration of the CPSM recommendation for a Deputy Chief of Police to assist the Chief in his duties and relationship with the Department.
27. Audit the pay for dispatchers to ensure that they are being paid for overtime hours worked.
28. Address the rumors, gossip, and misinformation that are contributing to the deterioration of the morale in the Department via a counseling notice and progressive discipline if necessary.

Ord. No. 2630, § 1.

Sec. 24-101. Grievance procedure established.

The city manager shall issue rules and regulations necessary to establish a grievance procedure whereby any employee who is adversely affected by a decision of his immediate or remote supervisor may require that the decision be reviewed by a person having the authority to reverse the decision. The rules and regulations may provide that a grievance is pursued up the chain of administrative command, culminating in a decision by the city manager, or alternatively it may provide that the employee holding a particular identified position shall have the authority to hear and determine grievances on an administrative level. At a minimum the regulations shall provide that the director shall assist an employee, if requested by the employee, in complying with the technical formalities and requirements of the grievance procedure and that the employee presenting a grievance shall be entitled to be represented and assisted by any person, including a fellow employee, who is willing to do so.

Ord. No. 2630, § 1.

Sec. 24-102. Commission final authority on grievances.

If after completing the procedure for the administrative determination of grievances provided for in section 24-101, the employee having the grievance is still dissatisfied with the administrative action taken, if any, with respect to his grievance, he may present the matter to the commission for its review which shall be final and not subject to further review by any court of law.

Ord. No. 2630, § 1.

Sec. 24-103. Standard of review.

The person or persons hearing and determining a grievance pursuant to the authority of section 24-101, or the commission acting pursuant to the authority of section 24-102, shall have the full power and authority to reverse or to modify, as well as to affirm, a decision giving rise to a grievance if he or it concludes that the decision is based upon a misinterpretation or misunderstanding of applicable constitutional principles, both state and federal, or of North Dakota statutory provisions, or of ordinances, regulations, rules, formal procedures, or formal statements of policy of the City of Minot. However if the decision which gives rise to a grievance is a decision which involves the exercise of a discretionary judgment on the part of the person making the decision, and it fairly appears that the person making the decision has been entrusted with or delegated the power to exercise his discretion in making such a decision, then the decision shall be reversed only in the event there is a demonstrated abuse of discretion, on which issue the grieving employee shall have the burden of persuasion.

Ord. No. 2630, § 1.

Sec. 24-104. Grievance procedure limited.

Notwithstanding anything in this division to the contrary, if this chapter elsewhere provides that a decision affecting an employee is to be reviewed in a certain manner, such as is provided in Article V with respect to the dismissal or demotion of an employee for the good of the service, for example, then such other procedure shall be exclusive so that the grievance procedure of this division is inapplicable.

Ord. No. 2630, § 1.

Secs. 24-105—24-110. - Reserved.

Sec. 24-111. Disciplinary regulations.

The commission shall establish disciplinary regulations. These regulations will be of two (2) types, the first type being substantive regulations which set forth the type of behavior which is either prohibited or required on the part of an employee, the breach or nonobservance of which by the employee may form the basis for disciplinary action against him. For example, the regulations may prohibit insubordination, chronic tardiness, making false claims or reports, etc. The second type shall constitute procedural rules with respect to the imposition of discipline. At a minimum the procedural rules of discipline shall provide that the employee's constitutional rights of due process are observed, particularly including the principle that no employee shall be subject to punishment for behavior which is not reasonably identified in the substantive rules of discipline as being the sort of behavior which can give rise to disciplinary action. Moreover the rules and regulations shall provide that with respect to all disciplinary actions taken against an employee, there shall be a right of appeal by the employee to the city manager, or alternatively, that before disciplinary punishment is imposed with respect to an employee the city manager must concur that there are adequate grounds therefor and that the punishment to be imposed is appropriate under the circumstances.

Sec. 24-112. Allowable disciplinary punishments.

(a) Employees may be subject to any one or more of the following disciplinary punishments in accordance with the rules and regulations authorized under section 24-111:(1)Dismissal; (2) Lateral transfer; (3) Suspension without pay; (4) A temporary decrease in pay in an amount not to exceed twenty (20) per cent of the amount of gross pay which the employee would be receiving in the absence of disciplinary punishment for a period of time not to exceed one hundred eighty (180) consecutive calendar days; (5) Adjustment in performance evaluations; or(6) A letter of reprimand to be included in the employee's personnel file.(b) A lateral transfer for disciplinary reasons may only be made to a preexisting vacancy and then only in accordance with the rules promulgated under the authority of section 24-41(c).

Sec. 24-113. Review by the commission.

(a) An employee who has been subjected to disciplinary action resulting in the imposition of disciplinary punishment may appeal to the commission. The commission shall have the authority to reverse the determination that there is cause to impose disciplinary punishment, and may remit the punishment, or it may find that there are grounds for imposing disciplinary punishment but that the punishment imposed should be modified, in which case it shall so order. (b) The procedures whereby an employee may appeal to the commission from an adverse decision with respect to whether disciplinary action should be taken against him, which disciplinary action has led to the imposition of disciplinary punishment, shall be identical to the procedures involved in presenting a grievance to the commission, except that in all respects the appointing authority shall have the burden of going forward with evidence and the burden or persuasion with respect to the factual issues which arise, which issues will be determined by the commission de novo. Furthermore, once the commission has arrived at a decision the employee shall be considered to have exhausted his administrative remedies for purposes of applying the legal doctrine which requires the exhaustion of administrative remedies as a prerequisite to judicial review. To the extent permitted under the general law of the state the decisions of the commission under this division shall be subject to judicial review.

Ord. No. 2630, § 1.

EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK RELEVANT SECTIONS

Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action

It is the policy of the City of Minot to provide Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) as that no person shall, on the ground of race, religion, gender, color, national origin, marital status, age, political affiliation or any disability which does not prevent satisfactory performance of work, be excluded from participation, be denied the benefit of, or be subject to discrimination under any program or activity undertaken by the City of Minot.

An Affirmative Action Plan of the City of Minot sets forth goals to ensure the policy of nondiscrimination as it relates to all our employment and operating practices. It demonstrates the City's commitment to equalizing employment opportunities for females, minorities, and disabled persons in all job classifications found within the City of Minot.

The EEO program applies to all applicants for positions and employees of the City and provides that they are treated fairly. Such treatment shall include no discrimination of any nature in the recruitment, placement, promotions, transfers, demotions, advertising or solicitations for employment, training during employment, rates of pay, or other forms of compensation, selections for training including apprenticeship, lay-off or termination or any related function.

The EEO program in the City of Minot is viewed as good management practice and in order to make it successful, all persons employed by the City of Minot are asked to support the EEO program. Furthermore, people employed in management positions are asked to direct special attention to the internal application of the EEO program and how its goals and objectives relate specifically to their department. The City needs everyone's cooperation for a viable EEO program.

Any person who believes she/he has been discriminated against for any reason should contact the Personnel Office.

Meals and Work Breaks

All employees will be given a 30-minute meal break, completely relieved of duties, for each shift over five hours in duration NDAC 46-02-07-02.

All employees' work schedules should provide for a 15-minute work break during each one-half shift, subject to reasonableness and emergency conditions. The work breaks should be scheduled near the middle of each one-half shift whenever this is feasible. Breaks are to be taken at the job site if the time of the break occurs at a remote location. As an option, employees can be given a one (1) hour lunch break, completely relieved of duties, in place of the allotted 15-minute work breaks and in combination with the required 30-minute lunch break.

Breaks are allowed in the employee's room if the employee is working in the Water Maintenance Yard, Shop, Public Works Building, Water Plant, City offices, etc., at the time of break. If the employee is in a mobile unit at break time, the break may be taken at the nearest convenient location, or in the unit. The immediate supervisor has the authority to add other reasonable rules to the above, for the efficiency of the operation and the public image of the department.

Harassment Policy

Statement of Philosophy: It is the policy of the City to provide a positive work environment that is free of discrimination, sexual and all other forms or harassment. This policy is a measure to ensure that all employees will enjoy a safe workplace free from unreasonable interference, intimidation, hostility, or offensive behavior on the part of the council, department heads, supervisors, co-workers or visitors. All employees are responsible for compliance with this guideline, as the City of Minot will not tolerate unlawful discrimination or harassment.

A. It is the City policy that sexual and other unlawful harassment of its employees in any form is prohibited and that all employees shall be treated with respect. Actions, words, jokes or comments based on an individual's sex, race, ethnicity, age, disability, religion, sexual orientation or any other legally protected characteristic shall not be tolerated.
B. Employees have the right, under Section 703 of Title VII of the Federal Civil Rights Act of 1964, to work in an environment that is free of conduct that can be considered sexually harassing or abusive. Any employee who engages in, who perpetuates or condones sexual or other unlawful harassment shall be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination.
C. The City, in recognizing its obligation to maintain a place of employment that is free of harassing, abusive, or disruptive conduct shall take positive and prompt corrective action where necessary in accordance with this policy.

Definitions:

Unlawful harassment is defined as verbal or physical behavior which relates to an individual's race, color, national origin, religion, gender, age, sexual orientation and/or disability when such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment.

Workplace harassment is defined as any unwelcome conduct, whether, verbal, physical, visual, or innuendos that are derogatory, abusive, disparaging, bullying, threatening or disrespectful types of behavior, even if unrelated to a legally protected status; when such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment.

Sexual harassment is defined as any verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature such as, but not limited to, sex-oriented remarks or jokes, pressures or demands for sexual favors, implied or overt promises or threats, or any unwelcome conduct with sexual or demeaning overtones when:

- Submission to or rejection of such conduct is made, explicitly or implicitly, as a term or condition of employment or advancement;

Suspension, Demotion, and Dismissal

Grievance Procedure

The grievance procedure is defined as a procedure whereby any employee who is adversely affected by a decision of his/her immediate Supervisor, Superintendent/Manager or equivalent, or Department Head, may require the decision be reviewed by a person having the authority to reverse the decision. 2. Written Report: The written report must be submitted to the next Supervisory level, as indicated above, within five (5) working days of the initial decision by the immediate Supervisor. Within five (5) working days after receiving a written grievance, the next level of Supervision shall furnish the employee with a written reply to the grievance. If the grievance pertains to a Department Head, the written report must be submitted to the Human Resource Director within five (5) working days of the initial decision.
3. Appeal to Department Head: If the written reply to the grievance is not satisfactory to the employee, he/she may, within ten (10) working days after receiving the reply, submit an appeal in writing to his/her Department Head. The Department Head shall confer with the aggrieved employee and/or his authorized representative and the employee's supervisor before rendering a decision. Such a decision shall be provided in writing and shall be delivered to the aggrieved employee within ten (10) working days of the date on which the appeal was received by the department head.

This appeal shall be filed with the Human Resource Office and be referred to the next available meeting of the Civil Service Commission for its review, which shall be final.

Note: The grievance procedure does not apply to: employee terminations related to probationary employment, for just cause or due to a reduction in force; or employee transfers for the good of the service.

MINOT POLICE DEPARTMENT POLICIES RELEVANT SECTIONS

Law Enforcement Code of Ethics

As a law enforcement officer, my fundamental duty is to serve the community; to safeguard lives and property; to protect the innocent against deception, the weak against oppression or intimidation and the peaceful against abuse or disorder; and to respect the constitutional rights of all to liberty, equality and justice.

I will keep my private life unsullied as an example to all and will behave in a manner that does not bring discredit to me or to my agency. I will maintain courageous calm in the face of danger, scorn or ridicule; develop self-restraint; and be constantly mindful of the welfare of others. Honest in thought and deed both in my personal and official life, I will be exemplary in obeying the law and the regulations of my department. Whatever I see or hear of a confidential nature or that is confided to me in my official capacity will be kept ever secret unless revelation is necessary in the performance of my duty.

I will never act officiously or permit personal feelings, prejudices, political beliefs, aspirations, animosities or friendships to influence my decisions. With no compromise for crime and with relentless prosecution of criminals, I will enforce the law courteously and appropriately without fear or favor, malice or ill will, never employing unnecessary force or abuse and never accepting gratuities.

I recognize the badge of my office as a symbol of public faith, and I accept it as a public trust to be held so long as I am true to the ethics of police service. I will never engage in acts of corruption or bribery, nor will I condone such acts by other police officers. I will cooperate with all legally authorized agencies and their representatives in the pursuit of justice.

I know that I alone am responsible for my own standard of professional performance and will take every reasonable opportunity to enhance and improve my level of knowledge and competence.

I will constantly strive to achieve these objectives and ideals, dedicating myself before God to my chosen profession . . . law enforcement.

The Department will take preventive and corrective action to address any behavior that violates this policy or the rights and privileges it is designed to protect.

The nondiscrimination policies of the Department may be more comprehensive than state or federal law. Conduct that violates this policy may or may not violate state or federal law but still could subject a member to discipline.

Meal Periods and Breaks

governing all City employees that has been established by the City Manager.

This policy provides guidelines for the reporting, investigation and disposition of complaints regarding the conduct of members of the Minot Police Department. either in person or by telephone. Such complaints will be directed to a supervisor. If a supervisor is not immediately available to take an oral complaint, the receiving member shall obtain contact information sufficient for the supervisor to contact the complainant. In cases of a formal complaint, the supervisor, upon contact with the complainant, shall complete and submit a complaint form to the Chief of Police..

Although not required, complainants should be encouraged to file complaints in person so that proper identification, signatures, photographs or physical evidence may be obtained as necessary.

1005.5 DOCUMENTATION

Supervisors shall ensure that all formal complaints are documented on a complaint form and forwarded to the Chief of Police. The supervisor shall ensure that the nature of the complaint is defined as clearly as possible.

All received complaint forms will be documented in a log that records and tracks complaints. The log shall include the nature of the complaint and the actions taken to address the complaint. The log will be maintained by the Chief of Police or the authorized designee.

1005.6 ADMINISTRATIVE INVESTIGATIONS

Allegations of misconduct will be administratively investigated as follows.

1005.6.1 SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

Anti-Retaliation

1000.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy prohibits retaliation against members who identify workplace issues, such as fraud, waste, abuse of authority, gross mismanagement or any inappropriate conduct or practices, including violations that may pose a threat to the health, safety or well-being of members.

This policy does not prohibit actions taken for nondiscriminatory or non-retaliatory reasons, such as discipline for cause.

These guidelines are intended to supplement and not limit members' access to other applicable remedies. Nothing in this policy shall diminish the rights or remedies of a member pursuant to any applicable federal law, provision of the U.S. Constitution, law, ordinance or employment agreement.

1000.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department has a zero tolerance for retaliation and is committed to taking reasonable steps to protect from retaliation members who, in good faith, engage in permitted behavior or who report or participate in the reporting or investigation of workplace issues. All complaints of retaliation will be taken seriously and will be promptly and appropriately investigated.

1000.3 RETALIATION PROHIBITED

No member may retaliate against any person for engaging in lawful or otherwise permitted behavior; for opposing a practice believed to be unlawful, unethical, discriminatory or retaliatory; for reporting or making a complaint under this policy; or for participating in any investigation related to a complaint under this or any other policy.

Any member who feels he/she has been retaliated against in violation of this policy should promptly report the matter to any supervisor, command staff member, Chief of Police or the City Human Resource Director.

Members shall act in good faith, not engage in unwarranted reporting of trivial or minor deviations or transgressions, and make reasonable efforts to verify facts before making any complaint in order to avoid baseless allegations. Members shall not report or state an intention to report information or an allegation knowing it to be false, with willful or reckless disregard for the truth or falsity of the information or otherwise act in bad faith.

Investigations are generally more effective when the identity of the reporting member is known, thereby allowing investigators to obtain additional information from the reporting member. However, complaints may be made anonymously. All reasonable efforts shall be made to protect the reporting member's identity. However, confidential information may be disclosed to the extent required by law or to the degree necessary to conduct an adequate investigation and make a determination regarding a complaint. In some situations, the investigative process may not be complete unless the source of the information and a statement by the member is part of the investigative process.

Sec. 2-24. Council committees.

(a) The city council may meet as the committee of the whole, which shall be comprised of the entire governing body, and the council president, or the vice president in the absence of the president, shall preside over the committee of the whole meeting. In the absence of the president and vice president, the member in attendance with the most seniority shall preside over the committee of the whole meeting. The committee of the whole reports its recommendations at the conclusion of its deliberations.
(b) The city council may form such standing and special committees, and refer such matters to such committees, as it deems appropriate.
(c) Notwithstanding the reference of a matter to a committee of the council, and the absence of a report on such matter from the committee, and even if the committee has not yet had time to consider initially such matter, the city council as a whole may take up such matter at its own discretion.
(d) A majority of the members of a committee, including positions on the committee which are vacant, shall constitute a quorum; however, the absence of a quorum shall not prevent the members of the committee appearing at a meeting which has been properly noticed beforehand from informally considering the matters on the committee's agenda, and any other matter which might properly come before the committee if a quorum were present, and from reporting informally to the city council concerning their respective views about such matters.

Ord. No. 5133, § 1.

From North Dakota Century Code

The council shall perform all duties prescribed by law or by city ordinances and shall see that the laws and ordinances are faithfully executed.

N.D. Cent. Code Ann. § 40-04.1-07 (West).

Title VII Alternate Reporting Procedures

A complaint can be made by a third party, such as a friend, relative, or coworker, and need not be made by the target of the harassment. For example, if an employee witnesses a coworker being subjected to racial epithets by a person at work, and that employee reports it to the appropriate personnel in Human Resources, the employer is on notice of potentially harassing behavior. Similarly, even if no one complains, the employer still has notice if someone responsible for correcting or reporting harassment becomes aware of the harassment, such as by personally witnessing it. Available at https://www.eeoc.gov/laws/guidance/enforcement-guidance-harassment-workplace

See Clark v. United Parcel Serv., Inc., 400 F.3d 341, 350 (6th Cir. 2005) (concluding that the employer had notice of harassment that was witnessed by supervisors with a duty to report it to management, where the employer's anti-harassment policy required "all supervisors and managers" to report such harassment to the appropriate management personnel) (emphasis in original). Id. at 349 ("While there is no exact formula for what constitutes a 'reasonable' sexual harassment policy, an effective policy should at least . . . require supervisors to report incidents of sexual harassment.")

INTERVIEWS OF CURRENT AND FORMER EMPLOYEES OF THE POLICE DEPARTMENT AND DISPATCH

The following summarize the statements made by individuals and highlight the concerns expressed to the interviewer. Many individuals had opinions regarding investigations, discipline, resignations but lacked any personal knowledge about what happened and how decisions were made, and by whom. These are not verbatim statements unless quotations are used and there are no recordings of the interviews.[5]

Captain Dale Plessas

On October 1, 2024, Heintzelman interviewed Dale Plessas. Plessas is the Investigations Commander who holds the Civil Service rank of Captain. He has been with the Police Department for 23 years. The rank structure is officer, senior officer, sergeant, lieutenant, captain, and chief of police. Plessas was promoted to the position of Investigations Commander in 2020, the same year by the previous chief, Jason Olson. He describes Olson as a "darn good guy."

John Klug was selected as Chief of Police at the beginning of 2020 and COVID. It was very difficult to manage through COVID. During this time, Chief Klug told everyone to stay out of dispatch because they were so shorthanded and he did not want anyone to get sick. There was a code given to sergeants to get into dispatch. Sgt. Wilk was going into dispatch off duty contrary to Chief Klug's order may have given out the code to other officers who went in off duty. Wilk was interviewed several times and said he did not remember giving out the code. Officers were disciplined and it was determined that Wilk lied during the interview and he was terminated for lying under Giglio for doing so. it was an unpopular decision. Allegedly, Chief Klug did not ask the investigating officer before making the disciplinary decision.

As Investigations Commander, Plessas oversees the investigations division, including detectives; task force; bomb squad and crime scene unit, intelligence, and internal investigations. with a new Professional Standards Lieutenant: late 2020. Plessas got the PSL assignment if a lieutenant was under investigation.

[5] Where applicable, an investigation was made into the existence of supporting or contradictory documentation.

Plessas is aware of the Batteiger situation with the discrepancy in the location of the heroin. He does not believe there is any concern that Batteiger lied or stole the drugs. There is also an issue with Batteiger having a sexual relationship with a domestic violence victim he met at a call.

The Operations Commander is Justin Sundheim and the Administrative Commander is Jason Sundbakken.

Chief Klug has made some very unpopular decisions, such as instituting a policy of transferring people out of specialty assignments after a period of time. There is a memorandum describing the process. Attachment 41.

Plessas discussed the Back the Blue grant program which supports hiring police officers. The police department requires 60 credit hours which is the equivalent of an associate degree. They recruit from Alexandria Tech Academy a technical college, but the hiring and recruiting is done through Human Resources.

I asked about some of the individuals that were identified in Fuller's notes. With respect to Amanda Somerville, Plessas told me that she lied to a supervisor about calling somebody back and she had not done so. When the internal investigation was conducted, she saved herself by telling the truth.

Concerning Shannon Lackey, Sundbakken investigated her off-duty interaction with Jenna Bjork. Shortly, thereafter, there was an issue in a bar which resulted in Lackey resigning.

At some point, the City received anonymous letters regarding Chief Klug's conduct many years ago. This related to alcohol issues.

There was a Center for Public Safety Management study regarding the police department.

There was animosity about moving a particular sergeant off the night shift and onto days. While shift selection is based on seniority, there was some stagnancy in people remaining in the same shift assignment for long periods. Now there is a limit of four years in specialty units or assignments.

Lieutenants must go where they are assigned by the Chief. There was an issue regarding Lt. Scott Redding who worked the night shift. He was injured and worked light duty on the night shift for a long time. At some point, he was told that the Department could no longer provide light duty. That same accommodation was not extended to Steve Kenny, who was on extended sick leave and then resigned/retired. Thereafter, the City made some changes to the benefits policy and created a PTO policy which also created some animosity.

There is a core group of people angry at Chief Klug including Scott Redding, Steve Schoenrock, Anthony Hugg, and Jay Bloyer who were all moved off of nights. There were concerns that the night shift was developing a bad attitude towards the administration and segregating themselves from the rest of the department which was the reason for instituting the rotating shifts.

If he has a criticism of Chief Klug, it would be that he has "analysis paralysis." He wants to make the right decision but in trying to do so, makes no decision. By way of example, Plessas identified the uniform/grooming policy. Chief Klug created a committee to look at the issue, they made recommendations, but Chief Klug did not follow through and accept or implement any policy. He gave them "no shave November" 2023 and then extended it to April 2024 and then it disappeared.

Plessas investigated the allegations of missing heroin against Batteiger. He did not agree with the Chief's decision not to dismiss Batteiger as a result of that investigation, but did not think it was a wrong decision. He believes there is an honesty and integrity issue associated with that incident. Lt. Chapman was responsible for the Canine Unit and he received discipline as well. He does not know what discipline Connole received related to this issue. He also does not know what policies were changed as a result of that investigation. Plessas believes there should be a notification process for internal investigations and discipline to the Human Resource Department and the City Manager. There was also an issue with the location of discipline and personnel files. information was not making its way to the "official" personnel file in the Human Resource office.

Previous chiefs issued suspension or loss of pay shortly after the investigation was completed. Chief Klug is slower to get that done.

Chief Klug created the Professional Standards office which conducts policy reviews; use of force reviews; and internal investigations.

The department has body cameras on all patrol officers and detectives. They are all issued body armor. There was no mandate for change within the department when Klug was appointed. The department is Lexipol-certified. The department provides training for officers/command staff including anti-harassment training annually.

There is no discussion of what happens as a result of an investigation into an officer's conduct. There is no distribution of information/policy changes.

On November 6, 2024, shortly after another officer's suicide, we spoke to Plessas again. Plessas stated that now all members of the Police Department, including dispatchers are required to speak to a counselor after such a traumatic occurrence. As for the services, everyone at the department, including the dispatchers, is being kept apprised of the funeral arrangements via the "Chief's Messages" page on Evertel. Command is also staying cognizant that individuals may have different perceptions, reactions, and well-meaning actions may have contrary effects, such as removing a dispatcher on duty during a traumatic event. Her perception was that she was being removed from her support system. Plessas is going to follow up with the dispatcher to let her know that she was heard. Whenever he is at City Hall he will stop by the dispatch center and he acknowledges everyone there. Wayne is usually out on the floor Margaret is usually in her office and Plessas will stop by her office to see how things are going. She updates him on some disciplinary issues that Wayne brings up to her.

Acting Chief Plessas has been trying to make decisions more quickly as these long-elapsed periods of time in decision-making in time were a sticking point under Chief Klug. Plessas has cleared out all the backlogged discipline that was on Chief Klug's desk and has reached a 1-year agreement with the pound for stray animals. Plessas has regularly visited the midnight shift, is trying to talk to people frequently and being more approachable.

Plessas did not second guess Chief Klug's decision on the beard policy. He has never heard Chief Klug say to anyone or about anyone that they were replaceable. Plessas is currently still responsible for Investigations.

Regarding Greg Johnson's shortcomings as a supervisor, Plessas with Lt. Dyke is trying to get him where he needs to be. He should be doing more supervising and less investigative work. Considerations are being made about whether to keep him in investigations. Plessas is not involved at all with the McLeod investigation as he is his brother-in-law. There are still issues with everyone knowing everyone's everything and gossiping. The speculative nature of individuals has been an issue since Chief Balentine. They have been trying to find a balance between how much information to release to the entire department and maintaining confidentiality. Off-duty conduct for officers is affecting the applicant pool – conduct unbecoming, negative attitudes, and backstabbing the department. Plessas recognizes that most issues are with the lower ranks.

As a result of the 2021 investigation, Lt. Shawn Wegner was taken out of investigations where he really did not feel in his element. The department is trying to implement some of the recommendations from the 2024 Center for Public Safety Management organizational study.

Plessas stated that Chief Klug tried many different approaches. Chief Klug did try to meet with the night shifts and brought in dinner, but not regularly. Chief Klug spent many long days working in his office, but unfortunately, he was not out there with everyone else. Chief Klug gave the night shift options as far as when to receive the pin, but Plessas recognizes that people may not take an offered option. Plessas will come back for the night shift after leaving on time. Plessas does not think the night shift cliques exist anymore. He involves HR and the City Manager in all his discipline decisions and receives the benefit of the guidance, perspective, and knowledge of their position. He was not given a choice, which turned out to be a good outcome. The relationship with Ward County has been good and professional.

Plessas has kept his distance from Chief Klug so as to not compromise the investigation. The potential return of the Chief will be very positive for some and met with frustration from others. Plessas wishes that division did not exist. He hopes that in the end the problems will be addressed and the Department can move forward.

Sgt. Taylor Jensen

On October 1, 2024, Heintzelman interviewed Taylor Jensen. Jensen has worked for the Police Department for approximately twelve years. She was promoted to the rank of Sergeant in 2022. She is the Minot Area Bomb Squad Commander and is a canine officer whose canine specializes in recognizing/identifying explosives. She gave me copies of documents identified as Attachment 15.

Jensen told me that in early 2022, Eric Laudenschlager retired his dog Lois The next canine handler was Batteiger. Batteiger lateraled over from another agency. He was at the department for three years. He qualified for the canine unit and had no use-of-force issues. He was selected and took on canine Cyrus. Part of the process was to attend a twelve-week course and maintain a yearly certification. In 2022, Batteiger went to Minneapolis, Minnesota for canine training. Batteiger was getting a divorce and separated from his wife. While he was in Minnesota, he was using the department's take-home car to go to Fargo to see a dispatcher he was dating. Jensen believes this is wrong because he was missing training with the dog while he was on the road. In 2022/2023, Batteiger received several write-ups for a traffic stop and lying although she did not indicate how she had personal knowledge of these circumstances or disciplinary action. During one situation, she had her dog Caspian out on a scene of a call to find shell casings. As they were looking for the casings, she recognized Batteiger's truck at the home of a female where he had arrested her spouse on a domestic violence call. Batteiger initially denied any sexual encounters and said that he was just being "good company." However, during the internal investigation, he admitted that he (Batteiger) was sleeping with the woman he met on the call. She thinks this situation happened before she was promoted.

Batteiger wanted canine hours, but the dog started regressing. Between September 2022 and October 2023, Lt. Chapman who is the canine coordinator, and Jensen started seeing the dog regressing and not hitting on any calls/cars. They tell Batteiger that these are the things we are seeing and provide him with some guidance on what he (Batteiger) should be doing to address the problems. Batteiger did not listen to her about this issue. Jensen told Sundheim in early 2023, about seeing Batteiger at the domestic violence victim's house. Sundheim told Jensen "We're not morality police."

On September 14, 2023; Jensen wrote a letter to the captain highlighting the mission statement and policies of the Police Department. She indicated there was an issue with Batteiger' s canine hours. He received discipline for not recording hours. She recommended that in light of the issues Batteiger was having with the dog, that the dog be removed from Batteiger. Attachment 15.

Thereafter, Connole was looking for the drug kit to take his canine out for training. The drug kit contains drugs from the DEA that are used to train canine officers. They discovered that the heroin was missing. Jensen and Chapman had to take drug tests to determine if they had any heroin in their systems.

After an investigation by Captain Plessas, Captain Sundheim and Chief Klug decided that they would strip Batteiger of all of his responsibilities in training and that he would lose the canine. They sent him back to patrol as a Master Officer. A Master Officer has five years on the job and a Senior Officer has three years on the job. An officer needs five years on the job to be eligible for the sergeant's promotion test.

During our interview, Jensen said that she does not agree that there is no discipline in his file for the missing heroin. Chief and Captain sent out an Evertel message that Batteiger no longer had the dog. Canine Cyrus went to Chapman's house until they found another handler. Batteiger has been telling people he was too busy and did not have time for the canine. When asked by Sgt. Schoenrock why are you lying about losing the dog, Batteiger said that it was too embarrassing to tell the truth.

The investigation did not uncover what happened to the drugs, but Jensen does not believe that taking the dog from Batteiger was a sufficient punishment. She thinks he should be fired, because Somerville was disciplined for lying and Wilk was fired for lying.

While Jensen also stated that there was a rumor about Batteiger and a young girl, Jensen had no personal knowledge and that rumor was subsequently investigated and determined to not be credible.

The Police Department has low morale and she attributes it to tolerating Batteiger and the changes that were made to the night shift.

Jensen is also upset about the way Krysta Becker was treated. Becker had a mental health issue and was left with a $4,000 bill for mental health treatment. Becker refused to work with Batteiger.

Jensen is upset about how discipline is decided and how duties and responsibilities are given out. The Chief decides who gets promoted. She believes three guys were passed over that should not have been passed over: Eric Laudenschlager, Lakoduk and Jay Bloyer.

She also indicated that the Chief has not released the patrol evaluations for 2023. Jensen has not had a one-on-one interview. She also mentioned that the Chief has not acted on the beard policy that the committee submitted to him in November 2023 and it is now November 2024.

Former Officer Aaron Moss (FOP Representative)

On October 1, 2024, Heintzelman interviewed Aaron Moss. Moss worked for the Minot Police Department for approximately 19 years and one day as a patrol officer. He is currently an FOP executive board member and representative for the North Central FOP Lodge, which includes officers from North Central North Dakota and they also have members who are sheriff deputies. They have approximately 125 members. The Minot Police Officers, of which there are approximately 80 sworn, are the largest group of officers in the lodge.

Since April 2023, he has been working for the federal government in a division of the Veterans Administration. He is also a part-time deputy for a jurisdiction that is northwest of Minot. Moss told me that there is no collective bargaining agreement for the peace officers in the state of North Dakota.

Moss spent three years at the Minot Police Department, while John Klug was the Police Chief. He finished his tenure as a Master Police Officer and served in the capacity of Community Outreach Officer working Monday through Friday, eight to 5 o'clock. Before that, he spent 11.5 years as a Patrol Officer.

Moss also served as a field training officer (FTO) for some period of his tenure. As an FTO trainer, he told his recruits that if the job makes you miserable, you need to find something else to do. Moss felt that he was heading in the path of being miserable, so he left the department. Moss said that he wasn't pushed out the door. Rather, when Chief Klug decided to rotate officers out of specialty assignments, he did not agree with that principle. Under this policy, Moss was going to be rotated out of the position of Community Outreach Officer, so he put his name in for promotion. He knew that he needed to have a more varied experience to be competitive and therefore put in for other specialty assignments/staff duties, such as evidence and records.

He also took the sergeants examination and was on the promotions list. He stated that the promotions list was based on a testing process. There were two vacant sergeant positions, which means the city or department would look at the top five people on the list and make their selection from those five people. While Moss was in the top five in the rankings, he was not selected. He indicated that Chief Klug called him and told him that he had not been selected.

Moss believes that because he had spoken up against Chief Klug, he was not selected for those other positions and probably did not have a shot at being selected for promotion. Moss said he had members come to him with complaints about the department, such as a lack of communication from the Chief and/or Administration. He stated that officers felt that working the chain of command did not get them a response back from the administration. Other concerns relayed to him were equipment failures and officer safety (radio incident). Moss described an incident where a patrol officer was concerned that his radio didn't work. Neither the FOP nor the officer filed a complaint or grievance over the issue. Concerning the radio issue, Officer Shaide was complaining that his radio was not consistently working. Moss stated that nothing was done to respond to the radio issue. As a result, there was an incident where officers responded to a call and were required to use their cell phones to call 911 to get back up. Moss was not present during this incident. (Later in my interviews, I spoke with Shaide who had the issue, he was able to communicate via his radio and did not use a cell phone.)

Moss indicates that he and Kenton met with Chief Klug regarding the communication issue in the department. Moss described Chief Klug as raising his voice when they told him that his downward communications were not making it past the Captains. Moss indicated that previous Chiefs would have quarterly meetings with the union to address any issues. The union was fielding concerns regarding the department. Moss also said that every previous Chief would hold patrol meetings and that patrol officers would get comp time for attending the meetings. It was an opportunity for a free flow of information. The meetings were stopped during COVID-19 and have not been picked back up.

Moss complained that Chief Klug never provided his overall plan and vision for the department. Instead, Chief Klug would implement changes without much of an explanation. Directives were dropped on the department without explanation. Moss's perspective is that Chief Klug is dismissive of other people's feelings and that he doesn't have an open-door policy. In 2022/2023 Klug implemented the decision to rotate some members out of their specialty assignments, and people were furious. He indicated that there was no advanced communication with the FOP to let them know it was coming. Apparently, at one point there was a meeting that all officers attended to explain the rationale for the decision to move people out of their specialty assignments, because people were so upset. During that meeting, some identified the negative effects of such a change. Based on that meeting Chief Klug did not change the schedules for detectives. However, during that meeting with personnel, Chief Klug expressed his opinion that it was not his responsibility to take care of the officer's individual needs. Rather, as Chief, his responsibility in managing the organization was to prioritize the organizational needs of the department. This description is inconsistent with the email that Chief Klug sent to the department explaining the changes being implemented and the opportunities available to officers depending on their tenure and experience.

Moss also raised the issue of disparity in discipline. He stated that some women claimed they believed they were being discriminated against. This issue of discrimination was investigated in 2021. Attachment 23. Surprisingly, Moss indicated that the FOP did not know that the City had a grievance process.

In 2022, a Minot officer, Pat Blanchard, committed suicide. That caused the City Council to take an interest in officer wellness and, at the time, one of the council members was a forensic psychologist. They asked for a meeting with the FOP executive board to discuss what could be done for officer wellness. Moss believes that the pressure from the City Council is what caused Chief Klug to discuss the implementation of an officer peer support program.

A group of employees formed a wellness committee to address mental health issues in the workplace. There are no state statutes regarding police officer wellness. Employees spent a significant amount of time preparing documentation and presenting it to Chief Klug. Chief Krug responded that he would "look it over " and they never heard back from him. Moss said that the was done eight months ago. He indicated that Chief Klug's response to the work that the employees did for a wellness program "lit the fuse for him" and he left the department.

As part of the sergeants' promotional process, there is an in-person interview. At the end, a question is posed to the candidate by Klug or one of the Captains to the effect of: "What can we do better?" When Moss was asked this question, he told the interviewers that there was an appearance of unapproachable ability from the Captains and the Command Staff. He further indicated that using the chain of command was pointless, because the communication downwards never occurred.

Moss describes Sundheim as ferocious about supporting Chief Klug.

When asked about the vote of no-confidence letter, Moss said that the letter was intended to get better communications with the City and a more stable work environment. The letter generated a discussion with Alderman Fuller.

Moss indicated that he and Kenton approached a newly elected Alderman, Rob Fuller, regarding the issues they were hearing about from the FOP Lodge members. Both Kenton and Moss were frustrated, because the Police Chief would no longer sit down and speak to them to discuss the issues they were fielding. After several conversations, with Fuller, Fuller told Moss that he was going to "get to the bottom" of what was going on. Moss indicated that there were budgetary issues in the department and that they had made some changes concerning overtime and officers being required to request overtime versus simply working it. He indicated that other departments pay for 100% of family medical coverage, but the Minot Police Department does not. He also indicated that as a result of Klug being appointed the Police Chief, there have been a lot more officers leaving. He indicated that officers did not leave as a result of the previous Police Chief, Olson. Moss indicates that the three previous chiefs' had a concern for the individual officers at the forefront. Now it's more of a job than a profession for him. Moss indicated that the perception has never been that the imposition of discipline was nefarious. The previous Chiefs communicated that the imposition of discipline was to try and make you a better officer. He indicates that it was rare to have discipline imposed and that there was no feeling of disparity of discipline from other Chiefs. The feeling was that the Chief was reinforcing a recognized standard. That is not the perception that the department has, at least from Moss's view, of Chief Klug.

Kenton Kossan

On October 23, 2024, at 3:00 p.m. CT Heintzelman and Koelbel interviewed Kenton Kossan. Kossan started working in early 2018 and had 9 years of experience as a patrol officer. He was a Senior officer and then Master Officer under Chief Olson. He resigned in February 2023.

Kenton has read and acknowledged the Minot Police Department Policies and the employee handbook. Kenton was not aware necessarily of the grievance procedure or complaint procedure. He did not receive any discipline. He was aware of the policies which were handled by the direct supervisor. He has never received a letter of reprimand or anything.

Regarding his relationship with Chief Klug, because of his position in the labor organization, he maintained a non-contentious relationship with the Chief. He understood that the Chief would come up with directives and policies. Kenton advised the Chief that he should "use us to help you." When Chief Olson reached out to the union to come up with a drug testing policy, the union worked with Chief Olson and the Chief would approve what was presented.

Chief Klug, however, did give the union any advanced notice. For example, when he wanted specialized positions in the department and did not include the Union. Kenton brokered a meeting between the membership and the Chief to try to smooth the waters and identify things that could be compromised. The new policy would establish a three-year max stint for the specialized positions, e.g.: Detective or SRO. Kenton's concern with the three-year limit was that an officer did not have enough time to learn the position before they had to move. The SROs, for example, do not even get to see the freshmen class graduate. It takes a specific type of cop to be an SRO, so that may limit the pool of individuals willing to take the assignment. They must be able to handle an active shooter situation and deal with kids on a non-aggressive manner. Detectives need mentoring and time in the position. He did not think it needed to be a hard and fast rule It was not meant to be a Chief bashing session, but to voice an opinion. At the end of the day, the Chief's position did not change.

Jay Haaland, who left, used to be SRO for seven years, ten years walking out the door. Stephanie Lentz was an SRO with a disposition for the position. The theme was that he thought he saw that people at the school liked working with the specific SRO assigned to their school, but then that person would be gone by graduation.

Aaron Moss (other FOP rep) and the Chief got into a yelling match about the incident where an officer's radio did not work. The Chief did not appear to want to hear what they had to say about the officer safety issue.

Kossan also raised the issue of employee insurance contributions. A police officer with a family had a monthly employee contribution towards the cost of health insurance of $200-$250 for insurance, which is higher than the surrounding towns. The retirement pension was based on the Rule of 90 – years of service plus age to get a certain percentage of your pay during retirement. The union had been trying to convince the City to go to the Rule of 85. Their requests were ignored until this budget cycle. Both the Police Chief and Fire Chief supported the change and it appears to be moving forward.

Kenton served a year in the Minot City Council. He believes there are inherent problems in the department that are causing people to leave the Police Department. Kossan said that Alderman Fuller told him that there are 200 years of police experience lost under Chief Klug.

Kossan believes that the culture at the Minot Police Department is not good and that there is an ego/attitude that precludes common sense. He believes that there is a lack of collaboration both within the department and with other agencies. By way of example, the. the relationship between the Sheriff's Office and the Police Department is not good.

Currently, Kossan is an undersheriff for a different county. Sheriffs from other counties do not want to have anything with Chief Klug. He was number two on the promotion list and six people were promoted off of it, but not number one and number two. Aaron Moss was number one. After being passed over twice, Kossan did not care to know what the reason was for being passed over. He assumed that he would not be promoted, even though Kossan has a spotless personnel file.

Councilman Fuller said if they had known that those investigations into the Chief's past took place then he may not have become Chief (the Chief's records were purged consistent with City Policy). Since that time, the retention policy has been changed.

There was a lack of leadership, lack of communication, and an inconsistent disciplinary process. Olson was great.

Belinda Gladback

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman interviewed Belinda Gladback. Officer Gladback has been a patrol officer for 8-1/2 years. She has worked midnights for the past two years. When asked why she wanted to work midnights, she indicated that she wanted to stay away from everyone. She also indicated that gets migraine headaches, but has not gone to a doctor to request accommodation for working the night shift.

In the past, she has had issues working with certain Sergeants and Lieutenants, but when she spoke to her ex-husband about it, he did not agree with her perspective on how she was being treated. She received a very bad evaluation from Sergeant Foley. In 2021, Sgt. Foley told her that she was "not where she should be if she wanted to be a Master Officer." The Master Officer is a test that officers take after they've been with the Department for five years. She indicated that she made grammatical mistakes in her reports, but did not think that the mistakes changed the substance of the report so she did not understand why she was criticized for the mistakes. She said that Sergeant Foley made working for him difficult. Amanda Somerville, Mat Cole, and she had to "dot their 'I's' and cross their 't's'" to stay out of trouble. She got into trouble with Officer Olson indicating that he did not like a comment she made about a child being "ugly" because a child had special needs.

She said that Sergeant Strandemo is much easier to work with, because he's supportive and talks to her. She believes there is a stigma around her that she is difficult to work with or that she makes things difficult for other people. She applied, but did not get an assignment to be an FTO or an SRO. She does not know who the other applicants for those positions were or whether they were more qualified for the position. She does not know whether they had any problems with the consistency of their police reports she thought her reports looked fine to her. She complains that the lieutenants would "get on you" if you did anything that was outside of policy. She identified Lieutenant Wegner as one of those lieutenants. She believes that the smallest fraction would get you counseling. She recalls a situation where Lieutenant Wegner shoved the notebook in her vest and said "If you're going to carry a notebook, make sure it isn't seen." She indicated that at the time, she had a notebook in her vest, which was popping up the top of her vest pocket.

Recently, she scratched the side of the squad car. She told Sergeant Strandemo who took photos and documented the damage. She compared that situation to Jessica Presley having an "at fault" car accident. She claimed that Presley totaled three cars and did not have to write a "dear Chief letter" about the accidents. Gladback thought the incident was over after she wrote the report, however Lieutenant Wegner called her into his office to talk about it. Gladback indicated that anytime she or an officer gets talked to, the sergeants are supposed to know about it. Her sergeant told her that's the way it's supposed to be. However, Sgt. Strandemo told her that he thinks Lt. Wegner is harder on women. Sgt. Strandemo indicated that he saw it with Sergeant Taylor Jensen as well. She indicated there were several incidents with Jensen that he went to Captain Sundheim about with a suggestion on how to fix it. She started documenting things when a male officer engaged in the conduct and how they were treated. Gladback says that now marijuana is charged as an infraction, which is slightly more than a traffic ticket. You have to be charged with it three times before it becomes a B misdemeanor. Patrol Officers have the discretion whether to charge or not to charge marijuana. She states that Patrol Officer William DeNovio was there and that he made a decision not to charge someone with a marijuana violation and did not get talked to you about it. There is no indication that a Lieutenant knew about DeNovio's decision not to charge the marijuana incident. A couple of weeks ago, Gladback worked 10 hours and was late to training. While she was at training, she received three emails and a message on the patrol application about completing a report on an "M" case from Lt. Wegner. An "M" case is a statutory rape case, because of the age differences between the victim and the offender. The victim was a willing participant. The phone was dumped and the report was due. Gladback says that during a meeting, in which Strandemo was there, Wagner called her out in front of Caisee Sandusky, and Officer Andrade. Andrade said she was disrespectful. She's one of the individuals who works midnights along with Strandemo, Scott Redding, and Whitesell. Gladback thought that Jensen went to Human Resources about Lieutenant Wegner

She indicated that Sundheim asked her if she was interested in the noon to 10:00 schedule. She does not think she is interested.

Sgt. Noyes does not follow up on stuff and has covered up for Becker. By way of example, Becker had a ride-along and engaged in a pursuit. She has pepper-sprayed some people in a bar. Gladback does not know what discipline is, because Jensen and Noyes are best friends. Gladback says that Chief Klug and Lt. Wegner have separate files on people, but she doesn't know how she knows that information. She has not seen the files.

Alderman Rob Fuller

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman met with Alderman Rob Fuller regarding this investigation. Alderman Fuller had met with 13 current or former members of the Minot Police Department, including a few dispatchers. He had taken notes of his meetings, which he then transcribed but did not identify the individuals with whom he had spoken. Alderman Fuller said that he does not have a background in human resources or employment law. He stated that his experience in conducting this investigation is as a businessman in the City of Minot. He previously owned a gun store, Spartan Arms where he employed several current or former police officers. Based on our conversation, Fuller employed several individuals, who did not leave the Police Department on good terms. Over the years, he has heard complaints from people regarding their departure from the City's employment.

When asked about his notes, including some of the conclusions that he had in those notes. He indicated that he does not have a background in human resources and is not an attorney. He stated that those notes were his stream of consciousness and thoughts as he was listening to the individual tell their story. Alderman Fuller did not indicate that he had any experience in police operations, procedures, police organizations, or discipline or management. He did not indicate that he had taken any police leadership courses or training or that he had ever been a police officer or supervised a police department.

Fuller indicated that the city was considering building a new police department and as part of his efforts on fiscal responsibility, he and Scott Samuelson were wondering why they should build a new police facility when it appears as though there are officers that are leaving the department in significant numbers. He did not indicate how the departures would support or contradict the need to replace a building that may be past its usefulness.

He has known Harold Stewart and Stefanie Stalheim, because he was a business owner in the City of Minot.

Alderman Fuller was having conversations with officers and asking what was going on at the Police Department. When he heard complaints, he solicited information about how the officers believed the City could fix things. A Master officer by the name of Dan Batteiger kept coming up.

The Thursday after Labor Day, he spoke with Chief Klug, Stalheim, Stewart, and Human Resource personnel Monica Porterfield. He indicated that Chief Klug got defensive during the meeting as he did not like to be questioned about why Dan Batteiger still worked for the City. Chief Klug indicated that he knew where this was coming from, referencing Officer Batteiger. Fuller indicated that there was an issue with Batteiger's ability to manage his canine and missing heroin. Chief Klug was adamant that Batteiger was a reformed officer and that there is nothing else going on with Batteiger. After the meeting, Fuller also told Stalheim and Stewart about some allegations that a 16-year-old girl had made regarding "being" with Batteiger.

As a result of the meeting, the Chief was put on administrative leave on September 11, 2024. When Stewart met with Chief Klug about why he wasn't told about the heroin, Fuller indicates that Chief Klug told Stewart that he "did not think you needed to know yet"' Fuller indicated that Stewart, the Mayor, Lisa Jundt, and Stalheim were asked to recount some meetings with the Chief.

Fuller was upset that Klug went to the Ward County Sheriff after a call where Becker was the deputy on the scene where she made some statements about checking body cam footage to ensure that everybody is "staying honest" Fuller believes Chief Klug went to the Sheriff to retaliate against Becker. He also thinks there is another with a 16-year-old and Batteiger. Fuller also is concerned about Lieutenant Matt McLeod being on the force as a result of some complaints from Valley City, North Dakota, one out of Montana, and Idaho. He was placed on administrative leave until a decision not to prosecute was made by those agencies. Fuller indicates that Steve Schoenrock keeps asking why Dan Batteiger has "a hook" in the department. There were some allegations that Batteiger had been spying on the midnight shift on behalf of the Chief, and therefore the Chief was not going to take any disciplinary action against him.

Steve Schoenrock

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman interviewed Steve Schoenrock. Schoenrock is a Sergeant working in the Police Department and worked the midnight shift until 2023.

Schoenrock was aware that there was an investigation regarding some issues in the department. I asked him to explain to me any issues he was having at the PD. He said in 2021, some female officers who worked in detectives were having a lot of trouble with their supervisors, Lt. Wegner and Sgt. Wilk. He said that Officers Talbott, Lentz, Guerton, and Asham were complaining about having to come to work when the administration stayed at home and they were also complaining about Lieutenant Wegner and Sergeant Wilk but he did not identify anything specific. He suggested that Captain Plessas oversee detectives. Schoenrock did not tell me that there was an investigation into these allegations in 2021 that did not sustain the allegations against either command staff member. Attachment 27.

When COVID hit, there was no administrative personnel in the building at any time. The detectives were working from home, and only the patrol officers were in the Department working. He talked to the administration about the issues and that the assignments were being treated differently. He thought that they were harder on the female officers. He also thought there was an issue with disparate discipline as Shannon Lackey had some alcohol issues, but she and Chief Klug were good friends, and therefore her conduct was allowed to continue.[6] Lackey told Schoenrock that she was "on the inside," so when she was caught lying, she kept her job. Schoenrock compares that statement to what happened to Sgt. Wilk who was terminated for lying in an investigation about giving out the passcode to others to get into the dispatch area during COVID.[7]

Schoenrock said that he had no issues at work before an investigation report came out in 2021. Thereafter, he was pegged as an instigator, because he said that if things didn't change, people would leave.

At some point, Captain Sundheim had a meeting with the patrol officers to provide an opportunity for "free talk" pre -2022. The meeting was an opportunity for patrol officers to identify the issues are having [6] Lackey resigned based on some altercations that would have led to disciplinary action.

[7] The Chief limited access to the dispatch center to minimize the potential for transmission of COVID since the department had to maintain emergency services and the dispatch center was short-staffed. The risk to the public was unknown at the time.

at work. Schoenrock told the people on his shift that they have "no right to complain if don't go to the Captain and speak" when they have the chance. Schoenrock describes Sundheim as a narcissist, because he always has to be the smartest guy in the room. He took all the comments and complaints personally, and after that meeting, anyone who said anything in the meeting that put in for special positions did not get them.[8]

Schoenrock had some medical issues with his neck and was struggling with pain. He was called into Captain Sundheim's office with Lieutenant Wegner. He was handed a letter that outlined how he was responsible for the poor attitudes of the people on his shift. He was asked whether he had given officers talking points to come to the "free talk" meeting. At the "free talk" meeting, Sundheim said that the shifts were too "clicky" and that they should think of the department as "one shift". In response, the night shift, and others, began kissing their index and middle fingers and raising their hand above their head (reminiscent of the Hunger Games/Sammie Sosa kiss?) and saying, "one shift." Schoenrock claims that it was not a passive/aggressive "fuck you" to the captains, but not surprisingly, that is how it was interpreted. Lt. McLeod was the one who brought the issue to Schoenrock's attention. Schoenrock indicated that he apologized to Lt. McLeod about the gesture.

At the time, Schoenrock wanted to stay on the night shift. He believes that Sundheim and Wegner were looking for an emotional reaction from him, so they could take some sort of disciplinary reaction against him. He believes that the letter is in his personnel file.

He was reassigned off the night shift onto the day shift so that the department could provide some oversight from one of the lieutenants. He said that his evaluations have been four and five over the past few years and now he was rated a two in one category. He went to the Chief about the reassignment. Chief Klug told Schoenrock that he just let Sundheim "do his thing" and now he is supervised by Lt. Haug and Lt. Wegner. Sundheim accused him of spreading rumors and not going through the proper channels. Schoenrock is the Senior Sergeant and should be able to choose the shift he works and he wants to stay on midnights. This is inconsistent with his desire to be a lieutenant in that all lieutenants work a day shift.

Schoenrock believes that Lt. Wegner has trouble working with women, because he does not believe they make good cops. He is concerned that Lt. Wegner was moved to patrol and Wegner has had issues with Becker and Jensen in the past. He believes that Lt. Mcleod is doing a good job.

A former officer, whom Schoenrock did not identify, stated that Batteiger confided in him that he had been charged with recording the night shift officers for Chief Klug. Schoenrock was very upset by this, because he knew Batteiger was having money issues. Schoenrock gave Batteiger a job to remodel his basement and fronted him $1000 on the job. The project has been a disaster. Batteiger was struggling to buy Christmas presents for his kids, so Schoenrock gave him some extra money. Batteiger bought his 18-year-old girlfriend a new cell phone with the money instead of buying gifts for his kids. Becker also had a problem with Batteiger. She would not work with him. Becker was angry, because Batteiger was sleeping with a domestic violence victim. Becker told Ruelle that she would not back up Batteiger. She was moved to days and then things blew up and she was gone.[9]

[8] Schoenrock received a counseling memorandum during his transfer off of the day shift because he was undermining the command staff after he was not selected for promotion to lieutenant. At the time of Schoenrock's participation in the promotion process, the Chief had established an assessment center process wherein he brought individuals from other departments to assist in evaluating individuals interested in promotion. Chief Klug indicated that a colonel from the Air Force indicated that Schoenrock was not a good selection for promotion because of his inability to control his emotions. This conduct was demonstrated during my interview with him. He is very upset about this decision that happened years ago.

Shortly after he was appointed, Chief Klug told some members of the department that they were all replaceable. He states that Chief Klug has been passing over the people on the top of the promotions list. Schoenrock has been struggling physically and put in for some other sedentary positions, like records and the crime lab, but did not get the position even though he believes he was a better fit than the person selected. Schoenrock has been released to perform his job duties by his physician without limitation. Should he need an accommodation, that issue should be addressed by Schoenrock with the Human Resources Department.

C. Shane Johnson

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman interviewed Shane Johnson. Johnson is the Sergeant of investigations. He has worked for the department for fifteen years and works on the drug task force, which is a multi-agency regional task force with members from BCI, Minot, Ward County, and the Border Patrol.

He believes it is a "good old boys" club in the Police Department to this day regarding decisions and discipline. Sundheim is responsible for the SWAT team. Because public perception is that the SWAT team is militant, they wear body armor, etc., they are not called out to execute warrants. Rather, the drug task force members, who do not have the proper equipment, are required to execute the search warrants without SWAT backup.

There were two openings for sergeants in approximately 2022. The promotion process consisted of a written test and an interview committee. Cole Strandemo was promoted to Sergeant in Crime Prevention and Matthew Pappenfus was promoted to Sergeant in the Patrol Division. There is also an opening for a sergeant in investigations. Johnson said that they tested and scored higher than the individuals selected but were not promoted. He thought both Strandemo and Pappenfus had discipline in their file but that the discipline was disregarded. He believes this is true even though the Chief talks about accountability and transparency. He said that supervisors are reviewing reports, but are not making corrections to the reports. He identified a report in which the officer failed to identify the car involved as a stolen car as the one being driven into the garage. Case no; 2024-00023085.

Johnson said that Tyler Ruelle told Shane Haug that Pat Blanchard had a steroid issue. Also, Jay Bloyer knew Blanchard was drinking.

Sundbakken gives 72 hours' notice for a random drug test. Johnson's name was selected on July 29, 2024. He does not understand why so much notice is given because it takes around 72 hours for drugs to dissipate in your system. Therefore, the random drug test is not serving its purpose.

Johnson told Captain Dale Plessas that Greg Johnson does not do his job and Lieutenant Dyke is not holding him accountable. Greg Johnson used to play poker with Sundheim and that is why he is not being held accountable. Dyke also does not hold people accountable. There are supposed to be seven Investigators, two Sergeants, one Lieutenant, and one Captain in Investigations. Greg Johnson has worked on three homicides and Elijah Hanks ends up completing his cases. Johnson gave an example of Greg Johnson Steve Schoenrock and Anthony Washington investigating a missing individual complaint. They searched the basement of the home where he was last seen. They reported to the Captain and Lieutenant that there was no evidence in the basement. He went missing on April 3rd. On April 18th/19th, they were waiting on probable cause subpoena to search electronics on Facebook. They obtained the warrant in June 2024. They used the luminal or Bluestar which detects iron in the blood in the basement. They ultimately found the body behind a door in the basement where Greg Johnson, Schoenrock, and Washington searched. Johnson also identified a series of robbers where an individual was stealing cars crashing into garages and stealing items. Greg Johnson had two cases that could get warrants, but was not able to figure out the other cases with the same Modus Operandi.

Johnson identified the Chief's failure to approve the uniform policy as a communication issue. The Chief set a deadline and did not meet the deadline. The Administration always seems to be double booked, so most of the patrol officers don't have one-on-one interactions with the Chief and Administration.

Krysta Becker

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman met with Krysta Becker. Becker is a former Patrol Officer, who left the City in the summer of 2024. She had been with the department for nine years and was a Master Officer. She is currently with the Ward County Sheriff's Department.

She did not have any problems with former Chief Jason Olson. Shortly after Sundheim and Klug came in, Pat Blanchard killed himself. The patrol officers needed more help mentally to handle what was going on. Becker was having a tough time, because her neighbor also shot herself in the head. She was friends with Officers Jensen and Sergeant Noyes. She had difficulty after Blanchard's suicide and her neighbor's suicide. Becker made some statements about putting a bullet in her head. Sergeant Noyes was concerned. Jensen and Noyes reported the statement and she ended up being [redacted]. Becker is upset, because she thought that Sundheim and Chief Klug said they would support the officers and help them no matter what they needed. She feels like she was let down because she was put into the [redacted]. She says that it was good intention, but poorly executed. It took her four days to calm down. They convinced her that she needed to go for [redacted] in Florida . She was upset, because she thought that the department would pay for all of the cost of the [redacted] but the department ran it through her health insurance. The department paid for her transportation to [redacted] in Florida, but she had a $4,000 bill for the co-pays and deductible. She does not think it is fair that she had to pay any of the bills for her own healthcare treatment.

She was originally on the sniper team with SWAT, but was taken off when she had mental health issues. She had some issues with an individual by the name of Batteiger. He was initially living with her when he was separated from his wife, but she kicked him out of the house when she believed he was sleeping with the victim of a domestic battery call that Batteiger responded to. This happened around the same time as the [redacted]. When she returned, Chief Klug told Becker that she needed to give Batteiger a second chance and be able to work with him. She struggled to deal with the Chief's request to be professional with Batteiger while at work. At some point, Becker told another officer that she would not back up Batteiger if he needed her on a call because he had lied to her. Chief Klug and Sundheim tried to work with her to ease her back into working with Batteiger, but she was not willing to do so. They moved her to days. She told both Chief Klug and Sundheim that she would not back up Batteiger if he called for help, because he was not trustworthy. Based on that statement, Chief Klug told her she had a choice to make and she resigned.

Becker believes that she was the first female sniper in the upper Midwest. She said that her psychologist said that she could continue to work on SWAT, but she was not allowed to do so. She thought this was unfair because Blanchard got a six-month suspension for a criminal offense (DUI) and she got a six-month suspension and never returned to work.

As part of the interview process, we reviewed the documents Becker provided as well as the fitness for duty recommendation and provision of transportation to Florida and expenses. Contrary to her assertions, the psychologist indicated that Becker could train and educate the SWAT team, but did not say she should respond to calls in the interim. The fitness for duty report also indicates that Becker needs to realize that she is responsible for her mental health fitness. Attachment 48.

Dave Chapman

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman interviewed Lieutenant Chapman. He indicated that he has no specific grievances concerning working in the Police Department.

Chapman was identified as part of an incident with Chief Klug many years ago and brought forth more recently in an anonymous email sent in February 2022. The original incident described in the email occurred approximately 20 years ago. Chapman was working on the night shift. Chief Klug was working on the Ward County Drug Task Force. He was going through some issues with his ex-wife. One evening, Chapman had a call out to the Clarion Inn. The desk clerk said that someone had come to the hotel and was flashing a badge. When they arrived, Klug was outside. He was intoxicated and looking for, a woman by the name of Maggie. Maggie is Chief Klug's wife. She works as a counselor but does not work for the City. Chapman talked to Klug and he agreed to go home with Maggie. Maggie was driving home and they were near the courthouse at Third Street. They argued and he jumped out of the car. Chapman, who had been following Maggie, pulled over and talked to Klug. In the anonymous email, it stated that Klug pulled a gun on Chapman. That is not true. Chapman never saw a gun. Chapman said that the incident was not reported, but it probably should have been reported.

This incident has been disclosed to the City and is the subject of a previous review. With respect to this investigation, this incident occurred twenty years ago and is irrelevant to the current events. To the extent it remains the topic of discussion, the discussion is contributing to the gossip and rumors that are deteriorating the morale of the department.

Josh Noyes

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman spoke with Josh Noyes. Noyes is currently a Sergeant on a patrol shift. He has been with a department for 12 years. He has a good assignment and believes working for the City is a good opportunity.

Noyes believes that morale is an issue. Chief Klug was appointed right before COVID. Since then, Blanchard committed suicide, there have been officer retention issues and people are burned out. He said that the command staff has an old way of addressing or fixing things, particularly retention. He believes that discipline is inconsistent, even though there is a matrix for discipline. Once he was promoted to Sergeant, he received no training. If there are problems on a shift with an officer, they are supposed to address the issue at the Sergeant level, but there is no transparency concerning disciplinary issues. The sergeants do not know what kind of discipline is given out and then there is no transparency as to how one sergeant is handling a situation versus another. Lieutenant Haug is responsible for internal affairs, but previously it was Lt. McLeod.

There is an issue concerning an officer by the name of Batteiger. He has poor performance and there was an issue regarding Jensen and Becker. At some point Officers Jensen and Becker were at a gun call, looking for brass and they saw a passenger car parked at the house where they had previously been a domestic violence call. They told Noyes about it and he asked Batteiger about why he was at that location. Batteiger lied to Noyes and said that "he was just good company ". Noyes did not put Batteiger's statements into a memorandum and Noyes was never interviewed. When Batteiger was investigated by McLeod, he told the truth about his relationship.

Noyes believes the department enforces the rule that if you lie as an officer, your employment will be terminated. Officers cannot fraternize with felons. Noyes also believes that Amanda Somerville also lied to Sergeants and/or omitted information but was not immediately terminated. Noyes indicates that she would disappear from the GPS for something like 70 days, because she had issues with her boyfriend and only received some counseling. At one point, she was responsible for investigating a vulnerable adult sexual abuse case. She was asked whether the family had been following up with her and if she had failed to return telephone calls. Somerville lied and said that she had never gotten any calls from the family. Ultimately Somerville told the truth during the investigation and therefore was not fired. Noyes doesn't understand why the department kept Batteiger and Sommerville.

Noyes thinks that everything gets politicized and internal investigations take too long and people can sit on paid administrative leave while the investigation is taking place. Noyes did not receive a one-on-one interview like Chief Klug promised. There is an overarching feeling that if the command staff doesn't come up with the idea they won't like it. Neither the command staff nor the Chief takes any of the ideas that are presented by the rest of the department.

Finally, Noyes indicated that the department will not let the SWAT team execute search warrants or arrest warrants for the drug task force or allow them to back up the task force officers. Noyes believes that the warrant execution is an elevated risk that should require a SWAT team presence.

Jacob Olson

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman interviewed Jacob Olson. Olson was promoted to the assignment of School Resource Officer in January 2024. He has been with the department for nine years and in policing for 10 1/2 years.

He started as a police officer in Harvey, North Dakota. When Chief Klug was a Captain, he supervised Olson and helped Olson stay in his career. Olson was having a tough time with one of the FTO trainers. He had another situation with a promotion test. Captain Sundheim gave him an opportunity to participate in a portion of the interview process via video conference because his daughter had a medical appointment that he needed to attend.

He is very grateful to them for their assistance and how they accommodated his personal family situation. The Command Staff and Chief Klug can do good things.

He believes there is a lieutenant file on individuals working in the department There are a lot of people who talk negatively about the Administration. He discussed Blanchard, and how he had an alcoholism problem and was taken off of SWAT for six months.

He was removed from the FTO program, because they said that he was bad-mouthing other FTOs. He was not happy with being removed. He said that he did not know who decided because Strandemo said that he did not decide to remove him from FTO. He stated that Lt. Wegner and Noyes met with him and said that they could not remove the notation from his department file.

He also mentioned that in 2021 Batteiger collected thirty dollars from his shift and never bought the bobblehead Christmas gifts he was supposed to buy. Batteiger kept making excuses for the failure to buy the gift. Everyone put in 30 bucks and there was a total of 300. Batteiger never bought the gift, but kept the money.

I was told that Batteiger returned the money when he resigned from his position.

Anthony Hugg

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman interviewed Anthony Hugg. Hugg is a Master Officer in the Police Department. He is also on the SWAT team and he is an FTO. The Master Officer position is an open book-tested position. The Senior Officer position is also a tested position. Hugg indicates that the patrol division has not received their performance evaluations in 2023.

In 2021, Captain Sundheim had a “free talk “meeting. This was an opportunity for patrol officers to speak to command staff with repercussions. They canceled the first date for the meeting. He believes that as a result of that “free talk” meeting, everyone who spoke up was downgraded in Category 8 of their performance evaluation. Hugg showed me his evaluations. In 2019, Hugg had four and five ranking on his evaluation. He is missing his 2020 evaluation. In 2021, in Category 8, he received a two out of five. In 2022, Category 8, he received a three out of five score. Hugg believes that this score was a result of being on the night shift and speaking out as Sergeant Schoenrock suggested they do for the administration to know what their concerns were. Hugg did not identify what concerns either he or anyone else from the night shift raised other than Schoenrock’s contention that he should have been promoted over Dyke. Hugg also did not reference the “Sammie Sosa” kiss symbol or any other that could have been the basis for the evaluation.

Hugg describes the situation where former officer Blanchard was at a bachelor party and became intoxicated. Blanchard was on the SWAT team and received a call out while at the party. He drove drunk and blew out a tire. He does not believe Blanchard received any discipline for this situation. Hugg has no personal knowledge regarding how this situation was handled.

Hugg believes that as a result of the “free talk” meeting, Schoenrock was moved to days and downgraded in his performance evaluation. Miller, Schoenrock, and Bloyer were blamed for the poor attitude on the midnight shift. Because they were also on the midnight shift, Hugg does not believe that Pappenfus or Haug will be promoted past Lieutenant This is an interesting perspective since Chief Klug promoted Pappenfus to Sergeant and Lt. Haug is now in charge of Professional Standards.

Blanchard committed suicide in December 2022. The “free talk” meeting was in the fall of 2021.

Hugg believes that his educational credits were not included in the sergeants' promotional exam. While he does not believe it would have affected his position on the sergeant's promotion list, he wanted to raise the issue.

Hugg is not involved in discipline or investigations, but believes that in 2021 and 2022, there were issues concerning McLeod's conduct but nothing was done about it. He said that they, but did not identify the "they" did not believe that Sommerville, Laudenschlager, or Wilk got a fair shake regarding the discipline they received.

Hugg did not get a one-on-one interview. He provided the email for the one-on-one interviews.

Hugg was also upset about two individuals he put up for a life-saving award. There was a guy that was stabbed in the neck and the two individuals drove him to the hospital. They were juveniles. The juveniles were at a party and may have been under the influence of alcohol in Hugg's opinion. Hugg said command staff showed up for the award and only three patrol officers attended the presentation of the award. Hugg does not understand some of the decisions that are made. His schedule would change in June. He talked to Lieutenant Wegner and talked to Sundheim about staying on the midnight shift. He does not understand why the SROs are not assigned to the extra 12 – 10 shift for the summer while school is out and he doesn't understand why his schedule is changed to the 12 to 10 shift.

Kristian Shaide

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman spoke to Kristian Shaide. He has been in the Police Department for seven years.

Shaide had a problem with his radio. He went to talk to Sundheim about it. He works on the 12 to 10 shift. For the first half of his shift, his supervisor is Ruelle, in the afternoon, his supervisor is Jensen. He complained to the administration, he did not identify who, about the fact that his radio was not working in places where it should work, e.g., not dead zones. In one instance, he had made a traffic stop and called out for a DUI driver. The driver tried to get away and the officers tackled the guy running to his truck. Shaide called two times to 1078. Nothing was coming out Amanda Somerville was his backup. She called 911. Ultimately, he was able to get the radio out of his vest and use it. This incident occurred on September 5, 2021. Neither he nor Somerville were injured other than a few bruises.

Shaide was extremely vocal about the broken radios and was extremely frustrated with the fact that no one was doing anything about it. In November 2021, he was called into Captain Sundheim's office. Captain Sundheim and McLeod told him that their fight with the suspect was very "vanilla" and there was nothing to complain about. They said that sometimes the radios did not work and that he would have to be prepared to use other resources to call for assistance. Ultimately, Sundheim continued investigating the radio issue and uncovered that there was a short in the connection between the microphone and the radio and all of the radios were fixed. In Shaide's opinion, his complaints about the radio were not taken seriously. Attachment 40, pages 1348-1349, contains Captain Sundheim's investigation and response to the radio issue identified by Shaide dated September 13, 2021.

He believes morale is an issue because the officers didn't see the captain or chief for months. There were only certain meetings scheduled, and there were never any touchpoints. By touch points, Shaide means that neither of the Captains nor the Chief would go out of their way to appear at the midnight shift to interact with the officers and see how it was going. He talked about the discussions they had on the night shift with Schoenrock about not being cliquey. Somebody came up with the idea regarding "one shift." Shaide insists that the gesture was not mocking of the administration, but the administration thought that the midnight shift people were making fun of them.

Shaide is on the SWAT team. The armor that the patrol officers have is a level two. The SWAT armor is level four. He indicates that he got on the SWAT team to do that type of work, not to just train. He thinks that the administration does not utilize the team enough, for example execution of Warrants. There was some discussion about the fact that Sundheim does not allow the SWAT team to back up the undercover team when they are executing warrants.

He believes that there is poor communication from the administration and that they are focused on the wrong problems and doing nothing to improve morale. By way of example, he believes that the department should recruit more from Minot State University. He thought this was an actionable idea. He had a meeting with Dr. Rabe about whether or not he could volunteer to work with some of the students so that they get to know officers from the City of Minot Police Department, and that may help with recruiting and relationships. After speaking with Dr. Rabe, who told him that the University was all in, he went to Sundbakken to pitch his idea. He never heard from Sundbakken about the idea. He understands that Chief Klug and Dr. Rabe had a falling out which may be the issue. He doesn't understand why that would prevent the City from recruiting at MSU.

There was a survey that was sent to the Police Department, but there was no follow-up on the survey. He doesn't understand why the City of Minot Police Department cannot be fully staffed. The Ward County Sheriff is fully staffed, the City of Fargo is fully staffed, and the City of Williston is fully staffed. He states that the work environment is not good in the Minot Police Department. Shaide said that Becker left the Minot Police Department and took less money to go to the Sheriff's Department. Shaide has no personal knowledge about the underlying issues in Becker's departure.

He thinks the discipline is inconsistent. Two years ago, he backed into a tree and totaled the back trunk of the squad car and received no discipline. A year ago, he got stuck in a snowbank with the squad car. They pushed the car out of the bank with a plow and the plow dented the back door. For the second incident, he received a two-day suspension. Based on these experiences, he believes that discipline is inconsistent.

Radio issue was addressed and fixed in 2021.

Jared Foley

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman interviewed Jared Foley. Foley was promoted to Sergeant in July 2019. He is currently the Sergeant responsible for the Records Department, which includes being the Evidence Custodian. Before moving into Records, he was on the patrol shift for eight years.

in December 2022, he was on patrol and loved his job. Thereafter, Chief Klug moved him to the Records division. In Records, he's in the station five days a week and always around the administration. Foley is not a fan of how the administration is running the department. He believes that they never make decisions and their thought process is inconsistent. He thinks that ideas go down the hallway and die, because they never hear anything back.

The person responsible for the Records Department before him was not efficient and there was a big mess to clean up. They use LEARMS for records management. Foley has been going through cases and conducted a massive cleanup and a massive push for categorizing evidence and destruction of evidence that is no longer needed. He was provided with three days of training working with the former Sergeant in Records. He also took a 14-hour course with the International Association of Property and Evidence. This is an association for evidence custodians. In July, he took 15 hours of training on the chain of custody issues and how evidence is handled in the City of Minot. They use Lexipol for the management of their property room. Lexipol is an entity that provides rules and regulations for police departments and other agencies. They conducted an audit in 2018 when Kenton was moved to the position of SRO. There is another officer who is on temporary light duty, Carrie Stanfield (Petersen) also worked in the Records Department with Foley for a year. She applied for the open position in Records, but was not given it. Instead, the position of the records officer was given to a Senior Officer. The department is also hiring another officer to work in the back as well.

Foley claims he inherited a total mess in the Records Division. There has not been a formal audit of evidence since 2018. He cleaned up and organized the Records Department and came up with ideas consistent with what he had learned to make changes. By way of example, he needed shelving units. They cost $800. He made the request several months ago with no response. He brought it up several times. The Chief gave him an answer similar to “I don’t wanna rob Peter to pay Paul.” Foley found some shelves that were not being used so after making several requests, he simply took them cleaned them up, and began using them in the evidence room. Several weeks go by and Chief Klug notices that Foley moved the shelves. Chief Klug said that he told Foley not to take the shelves and that he (Chief) would get back to him (Foley). As a result, he received a letter of counseling for moving the shelves into the intake room of the Evidence Room. Another suggestion was to move evidence processing outside the evidence room near the digital evidence technician and to put the heat sealer out there so that it would be easier for the officers to process evidence. He wrote a proposal and it was sent to the Chief's office and it died there. Foley says that he’s a young sergeant who has ideas about how work may flow better but he keeps getting shut down.

He said he participates in Tuesday meetings with the administration. There’s a lot of small talk back and forth and questions about what he’s working on. He does not believe it is productive.

Four months ago, he received discipline with a day off, because during his attempts to auction off unclaimed property, two bicycles in evidence were advertently sold. He auctioned one off, but was able to recover it. The other one the department paid for. It was simply a mistake, because he didn’t have enough help, as he was working the auction himself with four adults and seven juveniles from the cadet program. He feels that the discipline was unfair, because he didn’t have enough help during the first time through the process and did the best he could.

He also said that the administration does not attend events. There is a suicide prevention walk called “Out of the Darkness”. No administrative personnel showed up for that walk this year.

There was also an issue with coffee with a cop. The Acting Chief Plessas and Sundbakken attended. He also participated in drafting the wellness program. The City Attorney reviewed it and thought they did a good job. However, it has not been implemented. There have also been efforts made by the patrol officers on the uniform policy and a beard policy. They worked on the uniform policy two years ago and still nothing has been implemented.

Foley said he did have a one-on-one meeting with Chief Klug. He thinks Chief Klug had meetings with three people. Even though, he wanted to get to know everyone. The one-on-one meetings were stopped, because Chief Klug had family issues.

Only three or four sergeants go to the administrative meetings, even though all sergeants were supposed to attend these meetings. At the meetings, the administration focused on things like signs for parking in front of the new retaining wall, as opposed to things that are affecting morale. He believes that the morale issues are more important and are affecting service. For example, the failure to implement the beard policy and the continuing the prohibition of beards for officers results in p good candidates not applying for open positions.

Sara Kiss

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman spoke with Sarah Kiss. Kiss was trained on the department's personnel policies and passed her probationary period in June 2023.

Kiss had an altercation with another female officer named Becker. They responded to a call where a female had gone to the hospital, but they could not help her. She was a drug user and was very sick and wasn't eating. They responded to a call for a well-being check. The female was refusing to go to the hospital and Becker threatened the woman by saying something about her kids.

Kiss believe that this was an ethical issue. Sgt. Sandusky told Kiss to report the incident to her supervisor Sergeant Taylor Jensen. They called Sergeant Noyes and they interviewed Kiss. Kiss had detailed notes of what happened. Then the sergeants talked to Becker. Afterward, the Sergeants told Kiss that they would not do anything about it.

Kiss came to work the next day and got in the car with Becker. Becker told Kiss that Kiss should have come to her (Becker), because this is not how we do things here. Becker told Kiss that she (Becker) will not have her (Kiss') back on the road, and once that bridge is burned, nobody will have her (Kiss') back. Kiss spoke to Amanda Somerville who was a friend on her shift. They reviewed the policies and determined that it would be instant termination if Becker failed to back them up. Later, she found out that other issues were going on with Becker and, as a result of those other issues, Becker was moved to dayshift and they worked all of their days together. Kiss was concerned, because Becker said she would be on her own. Becker was put on leave came back to work and then went back on leave. Ultimately, Becker submitted her resignation. Kiss does not know what happened to Becker or if the department ever investigated retaliation against her. Kiss did not report Becker's statements about backing Kiss up to anyone. Kiss believes that it would be good to follow up with the officer and let them know what happened in the investigation.

Otherwise, she is very happy in the department. They checked on her after she had a call with a gunshot victim. Kiss thought that she got the best medical care.

Tyler Ruelle

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman interviewed Tyler Ruelle. He has been working for the department for 15 years and is currently a Patrol Sergeant, on the SWAT team, and sniper team.

Ruelle doesn't have a lot of interaction with the administration. He is concerned, because they have not yet received their 2023 performance evaluation. That being said, he believes an employee would know if there was an issue with their performance, because the sergeants work closely with the patrol officers. When Chief Klug began working as the Chief, he said he (Klug) would have one-on-one meetings with each of the officers. He was doing them with Lieutenant Haug and Sundheim. Ruelle does not see the Chief as he seems to come in late and does not come to any of the shift briefings compared to other chiefs. Ruelle says that it is noticeable. Ruelle is also critical of the 12 to 10 shift, because the department is down on staffing and the individuals that are working that shift are not seeing their Sergeant. They do not have enough personnel to cover the street and the 10 to 12 shift makes it even worse. Ruelle was aware of the situation between Becker and Batteiger. He said that the officers need to be professional when they come to work and they cannot take their issues onto the street. Ruelle said that if they were working on the same side of town, Becker's statements that "I will not cover him" and "if he is on a call, I will not cover him" are not manageable. Any officers can end up on the same side of town working with another officer they may not like. At some point, she was removed from the sniper team and ultimately resigned.

It has been a weird time after COVID, which is the elephant in the room. He was told that his behavior was being influenced by Sergeant Schoenrock, but the fact of the matter was that COVID had isolated the midnight shift in the patrol division from the administration, and that created the separation and maybe some of the issues.

He recalled the situation with Batteiger at the annual firework show at the fairgrounds. This is an incident where Batteiger was chasing two juveniles on an ATV. The traffic was all backed up going west and he was trying to pursue a four-wheeler down Third Avenue. Ultimately, Batteiger was in the eastbound lane going west. The pursuit was outside of the pursuit policy. Ruelle does not believe Batteiger received any discipline for that pursuit. Another incident occurred when there was a kid on a bike who was hit by a car. Becker, Ruelle, and Batteiger were doing traffic control. It was a hot day and Ruelle told Batteiger to relieve Becker from the traffic control. Becker was getting angrier and angrier as she focused on Batteiger and would not allow him to relieve her. Ultimately, Ruelle relieved her instead of Batteiger. However, this created operational issues as the sergeant should not be directing traffic.

Ruelle is aware of the situation with Pat Blanchard. He was drunk at a party and then heard a call go out for the SWAT team. Blanchard tried to respond to the call leaving the bar. He crashed his car and blew the tire. He drove the car to the Police Department and was in the sallyport trying to change the tire. There were two or three officers there watching him. Ultimately, Shane Haug went over and convinced Blanchard not to change the tire and respond to the call. At this point, people in the department knew that Blanchard needed help with alcohol. He does not know what discipline was issued or what help was provided to Blanchard. Blanchard was suspended from the SWAT team. He believes that the DUI for Blanchard was overlooked, which in his opinion, is unfair because others may have gotten prison time for the same behavior.

Ruelle believes that the midnight shift was trying to make a morale problem, fun. They went from three lieutenants to two lieutenants, and the administration was presenting that the department members were all "one shift." This is the same time the Chief created the position of Professional Standards, Lieutenant. There are only two patrol lieutenants, one works the 6 a.m. to 2 p.m. shift and the other works the 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. shift. The night shift does not have a lieutenant. The administration tried to address this issue by saying we were one big shift and we could do this because we are the administration. However, Ruelle believes that if officers have questions, the administration should provide answers. If the Chief is not around, the Captains need to have sufficient information to respond as representatives of the Administration

Ruelle has had conversations with Sundheim where he was seeking information to share it with his shift. The response from Sundheim was that the administration trusted the sergeants to respond to the patrol officers. However, Ruelle didn't have the information to provide. It was like they were saying "We trust you to make the information up" and respond to the officers. Now they have five lieutenants as Dave Chapman was promoted to Lieutenant. He believes some of the Lieutenants are pretty direct but he always thinks something else is going on.

Ruelle believes that patrol officers should get an honest performance evaluation. He believes there needs improvement evaluation on item 8 on his performance evaluation was tied to the "free talk" meeting, which he doesn't believe is appropriate. He was not downgraded in his overall evaluation and does not think he lost pay. He identified the anonymous email that was sent to the media containing a long list of performance issues of the Chief and Captain.

Andrew Roach

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman interviewed Andrew Roach. Roach has been with the department for 8-1/2 years. Roach has previous experience in other police departments, including the county. He is on the Ward County Task Force. They respond to calls around the state. He has been on the task since January 2024. He has been on the dayshift for one year and was on midnights before then.

Chief Klug took over in 2020 right before COVID. There have always been issues with communication and explaining why we do things the way we do them. By way of example, he put in for a training session in Bismarck, North Dakota. The training was free and he was willing to drive to Bismarck to attend the training. He put in for the training three weeks before the training was scheduled and then followed up with Lieutenant Haug the week before the training. By Thursday or Friday, Roach had not received a response. The Training Captain is Sundbakken. He talked to Sundbakken, who did not take it well and was rude and Roach was upset because it was taking so long to get a response. Sundbakken shut the door and they argued the lack of a response. Roach says that the only time he saw administration is when he was getting off of the midnight shift when they were coming in. He was frustrated in general, because he needed to follow up on the training to get lodging and wanted to know if he was going to be able to go. He got a call from Lieutenant Haug that Sundbakken was upset with the way Roach spoke to him regarding the training. Roach said that conversations are preferable to emails. Later that night, he was told that he was approved to go to the training, but he woke up the next morning to a text that said the training request was denied. Later that night at a briefing, Schoenrock told Roach that he was accused of yelling at Sundbakken. Roach said that he was made to look like a bad guy, but all he wanted was approval for the use of a car and a response to his email. The training was on March 22, 2021. It was called Evidence-based Interview and Interrogation.

From other interviews, I was told that training was curtailed if not eliminated during COVID-19, because of the risk of transmission in large groups. As the administration made the decision not to allow officers to walk into the dispatch center, the denial of training is consistent with that approach for that time.

In 2021, he received his performance evaluation but his Sergeant, Schoenrock, did not write the evaluation even though he saw me every day. Lt. Haug went through the evaluation with Roach and gave him subpar grades. He was told that the midnight shift was cliquey and did not integrate with the other shifts. There was a problem because the midnight shift liked to have fun. Schoenrock attributed this attitude against the midnight shift to the administration. We were told that we should mind our "P's and Q's." Roach also worked some overlap shifts on afternoons so when he would come in, he would make a gesture referencing "one shift," which is referred to by Fuller as the "Sammie Sosa kiss." The administration took this as a mocking gesture. However, Roach believes that they were just trying to keep the job interesting. On midnights, sometimes it's slow and it was never their intention to be disrespectful. They did not have a lot of calls so they would go out and play games to see for example who could arrest the most people. In 2018 and 2019, he had the most arrests. They were trying to maintain their motivation and build a little bit of camaraderie with some competition. They were trying to be proactive and look for people that have active warrants. It was difficult for the midnight shift, especially during COVID, because the administration would have meetings during the day and they would meet with everyone in the department except the midnight shift. Then they would hear rumors or interpretations of what occurred from different people.

Roach's 2021 evaluation, Category 8. Ability to work cooperatively with supervision or as part of a team.

> Officer Roach works well with his sergeants and other night-shift officers. Officer Roach needs to remember that the night shift is part of a larger team and needs to improve his demeanor towards administration and other personnel outside of patrol. The total team effort includes all aspects of the department as a whole.

Overall, this was a positive evaluation where Roach was encouraged to move to investigations or patrol and continue to be a leader in the department. He was counseled to maintain a positive attitude with all personnel in the department and not to let small things cause frustration.

He believes that the midnight shift and Sgt. Schoenrock was labeled the agitator, and therefore Schoenrock was moved off of the midnight shift. Roach says the people choose shifts because of their family life, and the administration's perspective only took into consideration the department operations and disregarded the personal effect the change had on department members. He, however, has no personal knowledge of any accommodation issues addressed by the administration. At the same time, the administration also decided that they would rotate people out of specialty assignments. Schoenrock was not in agreement with these changes and did not want to move off the midnight shift.

He asked to participate in the recruitment process from MSU. He's a former athlete from MSU and wanted to be a team player and do what he could to boost hiring. When he made some of the suggestions, Roach believes he was labeled an agitator. In speaking to Sundbakken, I was told that Roach is participating in recruitment at MSU.

He had a one-on-one with the Chief. Roach compared Chief Klug to former Chief Olson. Olson would say hello to you in the hallways. Klug is not that person and he is not welcoming. His stepson, Kenny Tygart, told Roach that Klug did not like him. Roach has aspirations to be with the department for 30 years. He is hoping that he can make that happen.

During our conversation, Roach was reading off of notes on his cell phone.

Jason Bambenek

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman interview Jason Bambenek. Bambenek has been a Patrol Sergeant for five or six years. He has worked both the night and day shifts. He has just under 20 years of service with the Police Department. Bambenek had some notes on his phone that he was reading off of during our interview.

He thinks it hurt more than it helped with Chief Klug. He said many officers were terminated or let go for lying in investigations. In January 2024, Lieutenant McLeod had some issues raised regarding an investigation in Missoula, Montana, or Boise, Idaho. He was put on administrative leave in January 2024 and then came back to work sometime around July 4, with no explanation. Bambenek believes there was an investigation regarding McLeod's niece. Bambenek has friends in law enforcement who told him about a situation that McLeod had around five years ago.

Bambenek said that he received a call as the supervisor on duty from a woman who said that a woman reported that when she was 17 she was sexually assaulted by McLeod and wanted to make a complaint. He took the complaint and emailed it to Chief Klug. He says the woman who called is Dena Rustebakke. Rustebakke is a police officer. He said the reason that McLeod was not investigated further is that the statute of limitations had expired. McLeod is married to Plessas' sister.

Bambenek said he has a weird working relationship with McLeod, because McLeod is cheating on his wife with Bambenek's neighbor Charlsie Burud. She told Bambenek that she was having a sexual relationship with McLeod. He also feels that McLeod is "touchy-feely "with Sergeant Carmen Asham. Bambenek says that the investigation into McLeod was closed by BCI.

Bambenek said that Shane Johnson told him that the current case with the niece was closed. Something happened five years ago which was reported to a school counselor. He believes that nothing is happening, because Sundheim and McLeod were all SWAT commanders at one point and they all know each other and their friends.

Bambenek is concerned because the department is below staffing 17 officers and some people are not doing their job, such as Sergeant Robbie Sumlin. There is someone who is running a department called Street Crimes and not supervising anyone. Bambenek believes that some of these officers should be put back on the street.

Bambenek said that officers are never informed why they are under investigation and if you had been more transparent, the issues would have been minimized. He doesn't believe people are being held accountable, for example, drug testing. Officers are notified in advance that they're going to be sent for random drug testing, which gives them time to clean up. There were no evaluations in 2023 and there are no quarterly assessments. Bambenek believes in Sundbakken is horrendous at training. He believes that Chief Klug is the main reason that people are leaving. There is a long hallway between the Administration's office and the rest of the Police Department.

He thinks that there is a lack of consistency and a lack of focus on what people want to do in their careers. The Chief said that he would do one one-on-ones, but many people were not spoken to and many officers wanted to talk to the Chief. By way example, Zack Myers, wanted his one-on-one with the Chief, but was unable to get it.

Sean Christie

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman interviewed Sean Christie. Christie is a dispatcher who began working for the City in 2023.

Christie believes there have been issues in the Dispatch Department that have existed for a long time. He has been a dispatcher for eight years and believes that he "is the reason the dispatch continues to operate." By that, he means that there is a lot of dissatisfaction in the department, particularly concerning the 12-hour shifts and how many people they have lost since COVID. The current PSAP leader is Margaret Haugen who, he believes is not good at her position. He describes her as a cartoon supervillain, who is completely untrustworthy and lies to the dispatchers. Because she's untrustworthy, she causes a lot of problems between the dispatchers. By way of example, he recalled the situation with a dispatcher who is not adhering to the dress code. Another dispatcher reported it to Margaret and rather than behaving like a supervisor and correcting the dispatcher's attire, Margaret identified the dispatcher that made the complaint. This resulted in animosity between the two dispatchers. Christie says that Margaret has no sense of confidentiality. She talks to one dispatcher about another lead dispatcher which creates animosity between the individuals. Sean, Beth, Lacie, and Shanlya all work four 12-hour shifts. They all believe that Margaret talks to everyone about everybody else. The dispatchers have a deal among themselves. They will always confirm with the actual dispatcher when Margaret says somebody made a comment or complaint. They are high-pressure jobs that are subject to tribalism. It's easy to create fractions amongst the departments.

He believes that Margaret uses gossip as a way manage the department on a daily basis . He doesn't think that discipline is being handled correctly. One of the more egregious situations is with Nicole. She came from Orange County Florida and had six years of experience. Margaret hired her and was very supportive. Nicole became pregnant with a new boyfriend and wanted to switch days. She told Margaret, but said that she did not want the issue of her pregnancy to spread around the department. Nicole was asking to switch days to handle her pregnancy. That same day, Margaret told Christy that Nicole was pregnant. She also told other people in the apartment that Nicole was pregnant. Nicole married one of the deputies, Casey Visocsky. Margaret told Casey that Nicole was pregnant. Nicole was only in her second trimester. Nicole was very upset about Margaret's breach of confidentiality. Ultimately, Nicole received an apology email from Margaret, but no meeting. This is after Nicole complained to Sundheim about Margaret disclosing her private information.

Christie says everybody talks to him. All 10 dispatchers say they have problems with Margaret. The dispatch center is very broken. Margaret reports to Sundheim and every dispatcher reports to Margaret. Recently, she sent a big email to everyone appreciating everyone and trying to check in, because her office should be a safe place where people can come and talk to her. The dispatchers had difficulty taking her seriously because of her past behavior. He said that they did a 360 evaluation online, but she got the results. She received no discipline for all of the complaints against her. Chief Klug has been coming to dispatch to try and address some of the issues. Chief Klug takes the lead in meetings starting in 2023.

Ultimately, Christie spoke with Sundheim after the meeting who indicated that they need to know everything that is going on in the department. It has gotten better. Margaret needed a wake-up call. Margaret is doing okay on the administrative part of the job and they have hired another individual to manage personnel issues. He believes that Margaret got her job because of politics, because she has been there so long.

They are so short-staffed on the dayshift. They have 37 agencies for which they dispatch Police and Fire and take and dispatch calls. Christie was coming in on his days off to cover for dispatchers taking lunch. He is no longer able to come in on overtime to cover for lunch.

From other interviews, I learned that dispatchers are allowed to take lunch and breaks, but they cannot leave the building. If they need to leave the building and go somewhere, they need to take paid time off. If they are going for a walk around the building, they take a radio and return if it is an emergency. The latter incident does not require PTO time. A dispatcher is allowed to go to a restaurant and pick up lunch for those who are working and want to order lunch without using PTO. Dispatchers are only required to punch out when they leave for extended periods which should not occur as they should schedule their errands on days that they are not working to avoid extended lunches and leaving the building.

Michael Connole

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman interviewed Michael Connole. Connole is a Patrol Officer who began working in January 2021. He used to work in Dickinson as a Patrol Officer in the Narcotics Division. Dickinson is a town of about 30,000. He moved back home to Minot. Connole has been very lucky working in the department. He is currently working under Lieutenant Chapman as he is one of the canine officers. He works afternoons, noon to 10 o'clock. He does not understand why they are not all working 10-hour shifts for the amount of people that they have and the staffing needs. In Dickinson, they worked 12-hour shifts, but he believed it was an officer safety issue.[10]

Connole remembers a time when Batteiger's dog was aggressive to Connole. Batteiger did nothing in response to the dog's conduct. Connole is the officer who identified the problem with the drug kit. He was in the process of training his dog and he was working with Taylor Jensen. Connole stated that Batteiger was pushing to get the drug kit destroyed before Connole had access to it. The drug kit is used for training the canines and has tracked drugs including pure heroin from the DEA. There are strict guidelines for obtaining and destroying the drug kit. There are also strict training record requirements. Connole said that Jensen and Batteiger clashed regarding how the dog was being handled and trained. Connole said that while they were working through the process of destroying the drug kit, Batteiger tried to have the drug kit destroyed.

Connole indicates the administration makes a lot of promises, but does not fulfill them. For example, members of the department worked on a beard policy, but it was never implemented. He has not had a one-on-one meeting with the Chief. He has not received his 2023 performance evaluation. He is used to getting a six-month or yearly evaluation. He has had some interaction with Chief Klug, who acknowledges him by saying "hi."

After Connole receives his canine, he has to submit receipts for his expenses every month to Sundbakken. Connole feels that the administration lose the receipts monthly. They are always hounding him for the receipts, but he has turned them in. He thinks that the Captain should not be doing that administrative work and does not understand why they can't be more organized.

He does not believe that the administration takes any officer's suggestion seriously. Sundheim asked for input on the shift layout. Officers looked at the plan and sent him a proposal. Sundbakken sent back to him within 10 minutes and did not take any of their ideas. They also have a Sergeant Sumlin on a forced enforcement assignment. It is a detective position, but he's not supervising anyone. Connole believes that he is a sergeant and he could be on the road helping patrol.

Connole said that he took the Master Officer test in February. It took another month for him to get paid as a Master Officer, and it took even more time for him to get the pin, and recognize that he was a Master Officer. Connole believes this is an example of how the administration disregard for the individuals or their accomplishments.

Lisa Jundt

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman discussed with Lisa Jundt. She's been working at the city for 12-1/2 years as the Human Resources Director. She indicates that the Police Department has a policy regarding discipline and utilizes a disciplinary matrix when making disciplinary decisions. The Police Department comes to Human Resources with sensitive issues such as mental health. The department and City have a harassment policy, complaint procedure, and grievance process. Generally speaking, individuals do not come in for their exit interview. Human resources call them as soon as human resources know they're leaving, but generally, they do not come in.

Jundt did not know that Lieutenants McLeod and Haug were conducting exit interviews with officers.

Dan Batteiger

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman spoke with Dan Batteiger.

Batteiger has been with the department for five years. He came from Colorado in the western part of the state. He worked for four years in Crested Butte, Colorado. He has a year with the Ward County Sheriff's Department and then came to the City of Minot in 2019. He works, the day shift on patrol.

He doesn't have too many issues with the department. He thinks it's run in a "old-school" fashion concerning technology. During briefings, they read the case docket, but do not give out too much information on the activity on the shift prior or the street activity.

He works the night shift with Lieutenant Scott Redding and Sergeant Schoenrock. He's had some difficulty at the department regarding a pursuit involving an ATV after the state fair last year. He worked the night shift with his canine, but had difficulty with the logs and tracking. He is not good at putting in information. He was recommended for the canine program by his Sergeant. Another canine handler, Sergeant Pappenfus was retiring his canine and that's how Batteiger joined the program. When asked about the lost heroin from the canine kit, Batteiger said he was hiding different amounts to see if the dog would alert. Somehow the dog failed to find the heroin. He lost the dog for failing to train the dog. He was also removed from all instructor positions, but he was not given any suspension time. This was in March of 2024 when his dog Cyrus went to someone else. Batteiger was having trouble reading the dog. He was told that after six months if his workmanship improved, they would consider reinstating some of his teaching privileges.

Three years before that, he received some letters regarding a pursuit with a City employee in the vehicle. He was conducting a ride along with a dispatcher and he engaged in the pursuit. He also had some trouble with another officer, Becker. He was separated from his wife and was living with Becker. While he was living with Becker, there was some issue with his relationship with a domestic violence victim that he met while on a call. The relationship was short lived, but Becker found out about it and he ultimately moved out of her residence. He indicates that he had no problems with Becker and he is unaware of why she had problems working with him.

When he attended canine school, it was the toughest school he ever had to attend. They were very active in working locations and he was working with a green dog. It was a long process. Since then, he's moved to the day shift, 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. It's much busier than the night shift, but it is a much tighter shift. The day shift checks on each other. Batteiger claims he has worked to get himself in a better place.

He doesn't have a comment on the internal investigation. Some of the commanders were trying to change policies like the grooming standards and some things were changed and some things were not. There were frustrations with the rejection of suggestions. He never saw the administration and the hallway to the administrative offices is called the “ivory hallway.” People have frustrations with the administration regarding the communications coming from the administration. He denies recording people on the night shift.

He was asked about his responsibility to purchase Christmas gifts for the sergeants and lieutenants on his shift. He gathered money and was supposed to buy custom action figures of each of the lieutenants and sergeants. He put the orders in, but he has not received all of the action figures. This was for Christmas 2020. He received them in 2021. He was waiting to get all of them. When asked why he did not refund any of the money, Batteiger indicated that he had no reason he had just not put any effort into it. Lieutenant Wegner brought this situation to his attention in the spring of 2024. However, at the time of our discussion, he had not done anything in response to that conversation.

Stephanie Stalheim

On October 16, 2024, Koelbel and Heintzelman spoke with Stephanie Stalheim regarding the investigation. Stalheim is the City of Minot Attorney who handles City Council meetings, misdemeanor violations, and City Council departmental questions. She is the municipal attorney, but does not engage in civil litigation on behalf of the city. She addresses some human resources and municipal issues. She started with the City as an Assistant Attorney in 2015 and the City Attorney in 2022. She is aware that 2022 was a difficult year for the city in that Pat Blanchard committed suicide and Tami Peterson, an employee who worked in dispatch, but provided EMS services to the City was killed in a motorcycle accident. Stalheim does not have personal knowledge concerning any of the underlying conduct as she was not working for the City in this capacity in 2022. Her involvement has been with the request for this investigation for the most part.

Assistant Attorney, Nick Schmitz, handles most of the B misdemeanor hearings. She was not involved in the process of promoting Chief Klug to the Chief’s position. Two panels interviewed him. She has no involvement in the Chief's disciplinary history. There was an investigation in 2020 or 2021 regarding a claim of disparate treatment but she was not involved.

On February 6, 2022, the City and various media outlets received an anonymous e-mail. The City received the e-mail on the website citizen request. That was the first she'd heard of those issues with Chief Klug.

The City has a complaint policy or process. If it gets a complaint, it can go to the Civil Service Commission, which is the hearing body that is comprised of three people. The City Attorney's office does not investigate personnel matters, but the Human Resources Department does investigate some of those issues.

Stalheim had heard about inconsistent discipline. She is not really involved in disciplinary issues unless Chief Klug or his predecessor Chief Olson would come in to talk to her about what was going on. She was aware that there was an issue with Shannon Lackey and her interactions with Jenna Bjork. After Lackey's conduct at a bar called “The Spot” there was a call and a disorderly conduct investigation and she resigned.

Stalheim says that either Chief Klug or a Captain will attend meetings with her but they find themselves in the same place time after each meeting. There's a lot of circling back on issues and information and things seem to take a lot longer than they need to take. She doesn't believe Chief Klug is delegating enough of the responsibilities or if he is delegating, he is not giving the delegate the full authority to make the decisions. She's not sure why he is micromanaging people. All of the upper management appeared to be working 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. You don't see them afterward. She thinks that the Police Department issues stay within the Police Department and they don't utilize Human Resources or the administration or her office to work through matters as much as they could or should.

She does not work with Margaret Haugen on a daily basis and had no involvement with her promotion to PSAP Manager. Generally speaking, if people bring things to her attention, she plays the role of the mediator and tries to bring two people together. People in the Police Department are very conscious of not breaking rank and the need to talk to a supervisor before speaking to anyone else outside the department.

Concerning dispatch, the dispatch center was moved to its new location in City Hall. Margaret moved to the new location first. Her office is physically separate from the rest of the dispatchers in the new location. This physical separation may create a problem in overseeing the dispatchers. She believes that Chief Klug and Sundheim are holding monthly meetings with Margaret and the lead dispatchers to work through some of the problems. She has heard that Wayne Fahey is a good trainer and that he is adding new policies. She has also heard that he has a good relationship with everyone.

She has never heard Chief Klug say that if people don’t like it here, they can leave. She knows that Chief Klug does not like to be crossed. When asked about Chief Klug’s leadership training, she knows that he went to the FBI Academy, but does not know anything else.

The City does have a contract with a provider for an Employee Assistance Program. Maggie Klug used to be a Minot Police Officer. She is now a therapist who is contracted with the EAP program. When Pat Blanchard killed himself, the availability of EAP was communicated to all officers. Maggie Klug was one of the therapists that may have been available. No one is mandated to go to Maggie Klug.

She is not aware of any domestic violence issues against Captain Sundheim. Shane Haug runs internal investigations. McLeod was the investigations Lieutenant before that time. Sundheim conducts some investigations when they are investigating people of higher rank than a lieutenant. All of the Command Staff were members of the SWAT team.

She is aware that Chief Klug is not as responsive as the City Administration would like. She assumes that it is usually, because something bigger has come up. The captains are pretty timely. She identifies the alcohol ordinance rewrite that took a long period. There was an issue with tobacco checks and alcohol checks, this is why when Chief Klug would send a captain they'd find themselves in the same place month after month after month.

Harold Stewart

On October 16th, 2024, Koelbel and Heintzelman spoke to Harold Stewart regarding this investigation. Stewart has been the City Manager for the City of Minot ND since the week after Christmas 2020. City Council appointed Chief Klug before COVID. Stewart was not involved in that process.

Stewart indicates that council members have been historically approached by patrol officers who want to provide information to the elected officials after they have not received a satisfactory answer from the Administration. They do not use the grievance or complaint procedure. He was not involved in the hiring decision for Klug as Chief and the information that is out there is a mix of rumor and speculation. He has told people to come talk to him directly if they have specific issues they want to address, they should come and talk to him, but no one has come to talk to him directly. In Stewart's perspective, since the alleged incidents regarding Chief Klug's current wife and alcohol use, he's been investigated and disciplined. He was promoted five times since then and he's been performing satisfactorily. If there is some new issue, Stewart will investigate it.

All of these issues, predate Fuller and Samuelson. There was a need for a new police station. Both Fuller and Samuelson have held up that process because they want to take care of these morale issues first.

On August 26, 2024, Fuller and Samuelson came to him to discuss the morale problems. Stewart told them that the information they were providing happened in the past. If there is something new then he would address it. Fuller came back and said that he had new information, because he has been meeting and talking to people about what was going on at the Police Department. Fuller's information was that Officer Batteiger had slept with a domestic violence victim and that he had lost 15.7 grams of heroin. This information was new to Stewart.

Stewart was very disappointed that Fuller and Samuelson had this information, but Chief Klug had not brought it to his attention. Stewart has repeatedly told his management team that bad things are going to happen and there are things that we'll need to deal with and they need to let him know what is happening. Stewart would rather hear it from them directly than from another source. Once a month, they have a meeting where the department heads can update Stewart and give information regarding personnel issues. The department heads are however free to contact Stewart at any time to discuss an issue that's going on in their department.

By way of example, when COVID began, the Chief said that no one should go into dispatch unless they're working there. A couple of officers shared their codes to get into the door to dispatch. Then, during the investigation, one of the officers lied about it and was fired. For that incident, Stewart was kept advised. Concerning the heroin issue, Chief Klug did not advise him of that situation when it occurred. This is not the first time Stewart has managed a Police Department. They are siloed and protective of their own and they don't want to interact either with the administration or the Human Resources Department. Klug has been inconsistent with notification. If there is an officer hurt or injured or an officer-involved shooting or a shooting in a bar, there is an update and they reach a consensus about how to handle the situation the next day. But concerning personnel matters, Chief Klug does not provide the same updated information. Captain Plessas has been much better about keeping Stewart updated. The City has a grievance process which ultimately comes to him but it is not utilized much.

Stewart works with Chief Klug on the budget process. It has been very adversarial. Chief Klug was having difficulty working with Stewart. He would blow up at the meetings and then come back and apologize. Stewart believes that Klug would talk to his wife about having a good relationship with the administration and that's when he would come back and apologize. He had a very tough time when he was having personal problems and his behavior was very inconsistent.

Stewart does not think the leadership in the department and communication is where it needs to be. The two Captains are Sundheim and Sundbakken. Sundbakken has been with the department for a long time and is a nice guy, but he does not have the qualities of management. He does not seem to exercise leadership or direction. He's far more task-oriented.

Before being promoted to Acting Chief, Stewart did not have much interaction with Plessas. He recalled a meeting between Chief Klug, Plessas, Sundbakken, and Sundheim where they wanted a new position as a public information officer. Officer Moss was supposed to be the community outreach person, but they were not getting sufficient bang for their buck from his performance. The Fire Department also needed a Public Information Officer. Stewart told Klug and the captains that he could not get additional personnel for their department, however he could support having one Community or Public Information Officer for both the Police Department and the Fire Department and other city departments. They became very adversarial including Plessas. None of them could understand that he was on their side and trying to do the best he could for them, but he was limited in his capabilities. There was no reason that one person couldn't support both the Fire Department and the Police Department as a Public Information Officer. Maybe the following year, they could increase the budget for that position depending on how the position functions. Since that time, Plessas has stepped up and done a nice job in the Acting Chief position. He has been far more supportive and communicative. He shares his position and once a decision is made he will execute it. Stewart did not get that kind of performance and response from Chief Klug. Plessas appears to have the trust of the department.

Sundheim is extremely defensive of Chief Klug and himself. He gets pretty heated and Stewart is not impressed with his leadership capabilities. Sundheim was involved in the development of the dispatch center. This was new to everyone that participated in the process but Sundheim made it harder than it needed to be. He believes that Sundheim is more of a dictator than a leader.

Stewart is aware of an issue concerning creating a grooming policy so that the officers could have beards year-round. A committee was established and a grooming policy was created, but it has not been implemented. Stewart thinks this is a problem because the Chief has not executed on the policy or told the department that he was not going to accept their policy.

Stewart has made changes to the PTO policy, which was based on staff input. He expected that his department heads would talk to their personnel and bring any concerns to him that were expressed by the officers. That was done and he implemented some of the ideas he received.

Klug’s reaction to a new issue depends upon what mood he's in and whether he agrees with it. Stewart has had to tell him directly that he will do certain things. It has been difficult working with him on budget issues . He has been slow to come to the bigger picture of being a manager and looking at the entire organization. Klug’s focus is on the Police Department and while he advocates strongly for the Police Department he has a hard time prioritizing his needs. By way of example, Chief Klug pushed hard for this Public Information Officer position, but they also needed more dispatchers that year. Stewart thought the dispatchers were more important than the public information officer. Similarly, he asked for other positions such as a forensic technician who works on computer files. In Stewart's opinion, he would have prioritized the forensic technician over the PIO. Sometimes he questions Chief Klug's logic and judgment.

Chief Klug knew the Assistant PSAP Manager who died in the motorcycle accident shortly after being hired. He also took some personal blame on the Blanchard situation. He was slow to get help for himself even though he advised officers to go to the EAP program. He believed Chief Klug's lashing out was a result of these deaths.

Another situation occurred concerning the vet clinic that provides shelter for the stray dogs that they pick up. Stewart told Chief Klug that he should make sure he has other options in case the clinic can no longer handle the stray animals. Chief Klug did not do so and this year, the vet clinic told the City that it would no longer provide shelter for the strays after the end of the year. Now Chief Klug is struggling to find an alternate location on short notice.

Stewart has talked to Chief Klug about the fact that the command staff works Monday through Friday 8:00 to 4:00. He asked him when the last time was that he visited a night shift or came in on the weekends. He has not been disciplined for his performance. It is Stewart's position that the City should not go back and discipline Chief Klug for incidents that occurred many years ago, particularly since he assumes that they have disciplined for those behaviors. Stewart believes that there is much more team building and training that Chief Klug needs to do in Dispatch. He has informed Stewart of some of those issues but there is more for Chief Klug to do.

William DeNovio

On October 28th, 2024, Heintzelman spoke to William DeNovio. DeNovio has been with the Police Department since 2019, but he left to go to New York for a year and returned in 2022. He is currently in Investigations working as a Detective. He spent four years in the military and five years in the National Guard.

DeNovio does not have any complaints. He likes his job and believes he is treated well. He wanted to ensure that this investigation was not about individuals' personal complaints and that we knew that there were people who were doing well at the department.

If there was anything to discuss, it would be the communication with the administration. His comments were similar to others in that questions that are asked of the sergeants and passed up do not seem to get answered or take a long time to get answered.

He also thought there was a lack of transparency in issuing discipline. While he understands that people do not need to know everyone else's discipline, there is a level of information, particularly when someone in command is gone for some time and then returns without any information whatsoever. It is unsettling and creates an environment where there is a lack of trust. Some sergeants and lieutenants hold officers accountable and some do not.

Some are tougher on report writing than others. however, what is required under the law is the same and if the reports are not written well, then it is embarrassing for the officer in court, the victim and the department in court.

He also recounted a situation regarding use of force where the issue was presented to a Lieutenant and Sergeant who reviewed body camera footage and indicated verbally that there was no issue and nothing to report. Accordingly, reports were prepared and then the body camera footage came to light and an investigation was conducted. He subsequently received a letter of reprimand indicating that his use of force report should have been more explicit regarding another officer's conduct. An investigation was conducted several months later in response to public exposure of the video.

Darren Dyke

On October 28th, 2024, Heintzelman spoke to Darren Dyke. Dyke has been with the Police Department over 20 years. He is the lieutenant responsible for investigations. He took the lieutenant's test and was selected by Chief Klug. Another Sergeant who applied was Schoenrock. Dyke was selected over Schoenrock and Schoenrock was not happy about the fact that Dyke was selected over him. Schoenrock started complaining that Dyke was sleeping with the human resources employee and he cheated on the test which is why he scored so high and was selected. Schoenrock made this complaint in the 2021 third party investigation. The complaint was unfounded. Dyke explained that he listened to all of the testing materials on audiobooks and that is why he did so well.

He wanted me to know that Schoenrock's allegations were false. He knew the human resource person because they had both been involved in training for the department. Nothing more. He had no issues in the department. He tries to stay out of the gossip and rumors and do his job. He did not have any other issues to discuss with me.

Schoenrock raised the same allegations in 2021 and that report, which we reviewed, also determined that Schoenrock's allegations were unsubstantiated.

Cheryl Gessner

On October 28, 2024, Heintzelman spoke to Cheryl Gessner. Gessner has been with the Police Department for 35 years. She is currently Chief Klug's Administrative Assistant. She said that she has known Chief Klug for many years and gets along with him, but she says that he has been pushing her out of her job for several years. She said that Chief Klug has removed all of her duties and responsibilities and she has nothing left to do. At one time, she did payroll and accounts payable and receivable for the Police Department. Payroll took a lot of time because it was done manually and she had to correct a lot of input to ensure that people were paid correctly. Now, payroll is automated and she does not have to do it.

Gessner indicated that the Chief wanted the Captains to sit near his office so he moved her into an old office with no windows. She called it the "dark office." Then she was moved into an office in records. She was then moved back into the dark office. She has tried to find things to do in the Records Department and Investigations but they have their assistants as well.

I asked her whether Chief Klug told her that there were issues with her performance of her job duties. She said there may be some things on her performance evaluation, but nothing significant.

She said that she is not ready to retire, but Chief Klug has removed all of her duties and there is nothing for her to do.

Caisee Sandusky

On October 28th, 2024, Heintzelman spoke to Caisee Sandusky. Sandusky has been with the Police Department for approximately 18 years she worked in patrol and then was assigned as a School Resource Officer. She worked as an SRO for eight years. She is currently the Administrative Sergeant that is responsible for community outreach.

When Chief Klug came out with the idea to move people around, it started in patrol. Officers were very upset. She thought it initially came out in an email. When she heard people complaining about it, she told them to ask the Chief why he made that decision. Ultimately, there were some meetings to discuss the changes. Chief Klug then included specialty assignments into the rotation so she knew that she would be moving. She figured that if she had to move, she might as well take the promotion test. She took the sergeant's test and was promoted to the Administrative Sergeant's position.

She also said that Chief Klug has been very supportive of her after she left the SRO position and has allowed her to stay active in the State SRO program. He has also been supportive in her new role as Administrative Sergeant. She does not have any hesitation in walking into his office and asking him a question. He will provide the answer or tell her that he has to look into it. Sometimes, he gets back to her and sometimes he does not.

There is a divide between the sergeants and lieutenants regarding the amount of information that is transmitted down to the sergeants. there are times when officers will ask a question and she does not have the answer. She will ask a Lieutenant, but information does not necessarily come back responding to the inquiry. Communication is an issue in the department.

Christine Roberts

On October 28, 2024, Heintzelman spoke to Christine Roberts. Roberts has been with the Police Department for 16 years and works in the records department. Roberts told me that she did not have many complaints except her application for the Office Manager position. Roberts indicated that she and a woman named Trish applied for the Office Manager position. She likes Trish and has no complaints about her in the position. However, she does not think that her tenure with the City was given enough consideration. She indicated that when she was interviewed, the command staff told her that they were looking for new ideas for the Office Manager position in the Records Department. She said that she tried to give new ideas, but did not mention what they were when asked. Trish only had two years with the City when she was given the position. Roberts thinks that her years of service to the Department/City should have carried more weight. When asked whether she thinks she should have the position instead of Trish, Roberts said that she has no issues with Trish in the job.

Kristin Guerton

On October 28, 2024, Heintzelman spoke to Kristin Guerton. Guerton has 8.5 years with the Police Department. She has been a detective for the past two years.

When she heard about Chief Klug's desire to move people to other shifts, she had a conversation with Captain Dale Plessas and Lt. Darren Dyke. They told her that she would not be moved and that she could stay in the investigations division as long as she wanted to stay there. She indicated that she considered participating in the promotion process, but she does not the trust process. She is concerned that there is a lack of consistency in the training of patrol officers in that the reports that come to investigations and the affidavits that are submitted for warrants are, at times, poorly written, i.e. missing the elements of the crime, or a cut and paste from the police report which affects the effectiveness of the prosecutions. She also believes that there is no consistency in the FTO training. She is concerned that with hiring issues that the department is experiencing, the department is more lenient in passing an officer through the FTO program. Previously Shannon Lackey was responsible for the FTO program, and she was tough. Now, Captain Sundbakken supervises Caisee Sandusky who is responsible for the FTO program.

From her perspective, people are not being held accountable. Sergeant Greg Johnson works in investigations. He does not know how to draft a warrant or investigate a case. There are cases of domestic violence and sexual assault that he has let sit on his desk. When she went on maternity leave, her duties fell on Stephanie Lentz to handle. When she returned, she picked up a "gnarly stalking case" that Sgt. Johnson was not working up.

No one uses Greg Johnson, because he is lazy and has not been held accountable for his performance. Everyone, including Lt. Darren Dyke, go to Sgt. Shane Johnson, because he gives feedback and offers help. Greg Johnson is a nice guy and no one wants to hurt him, but he is not pulling his weight. She recounted a situation where they were executing an arrest warrant in a homicide case and Sgt. Greg Johnson went over the radio and asked what case they were executing the warrant on. A supervisor that cannot do an officer's job and does not carry their weight is a problem for the department. There are five Investigators, two Sergeants, one Lieutenant and one Captain in the Investigations Department.

She was concerned that the ADP process wanted her to input her evaluation of the supervisor before her evaluation is done.

Guerton was on a search warrant when she was pregnant. During the execution of the search warrant at the end of 2023 at the Henderson Residence, Sgt. Gary Johnson stood at the doorway and watched everyone work. Erin Bonney, who has worked at few a police departments. She moved to the east coast. She spoke her mind about Greg Johnson in her exit interview. A lot of people feel bad because he is a nice guy, but he is not pulling his weight.

Guerton believes that there is a morale issue, because some people not carrying their weight. She believes there are inconsistencies in holding people accountable. By way of example, she believes the supervisor should read an affidavit before notarizing the affidavit. She does not think all supervisors read the affidavits, because sometimes she will get them and they are a "copy and paste" of the officer's report with a lot of unnecessary information in the affidavit.

There was a Uniform Committee established to review the beard policy and other uniform issues. They "busted their asses" working on the policy. Cole Strandemo did a ton of research for the policy that was presented. It addressed uniforms, hair, hats, etc. They were all passionate about it and it gave the officers a chance to participate in the process. They are not working on it anymore and it has fallen by the wayside.

Guerton said that "No shave November" went into December and carried through April. A day before May 1, when people would be required to shave, everyone was asking what was happening with the approval for the Uniform Policy. No one knew and nothing was implemented by the Chief after all the officers put in all that work. It is a morale issue. It did not cost the Department any money and the officers all worked hard and received no answer from Chief Klug with no explanation as to why there was no response.

As a result of the recent officer-involved shooting, Acting Chief Plessas sat down with every shift and explained what the process was for the investigation. He also read the victims' wife's response to a post on Minot Whiners and Complainers that attempted to criticize the police in their response. It was very well received.

She said Chief Klug is on the ND Post Board. She feels comfortable talking to Chief Klug, but there is a lack of communication in other areas. She suggested that I review Erin Bonney's exit interview. Lt. Haug and Lt. McLeod do exit interviews for the Police Department.

Shawn Wegner

On October 31, 2024, Heintzelman interviewed Shawn Wegner. He has been with the Police Department for 24 years. He was promoted in the summer of 2015 to the rank of Lieutenant. He is currently working in Patrol from 8-4 p.m.

Wegner has good things to say about the Chief and command staff. When officers have different struggles, Chief Klug goes out of his way to assist. There was an officer who had alcohol issues. That officer was sent to Utah. Another officer was struggling with depression and the Chief supported him in going to Florida to seek assistance this summer. There was another officer, Becker, who was struggling with a mental health issue and Chief Klug did several things like rearranging schedules and constantly accommodating her.

Wegner knew Chief Klug when he was a Captain in the Investigation Division. Chief Klug recognizes how this career changes a person and tries to help from the wellness perspective. He knows of another individual who was struggling with retirement and with alcohol. The command staff had discussions about how they could help the individual.

He knows that the City Manager identified unfair discipline as an issue, but Chief Klug implemented the disciplinary matrix to be more transparent and create a level playing. Even with the matrix, not everyone knows all the facts, but they still claim unfair discipline. Not everyone is the same and it will not always result in the same discipline. An ongoing issue is missing court. The department is trying to standardize the consequences for officers who miss court. But the consequences may differ if it is a first offense or a third offense.

The supervisors keep separate files for written documentation of counseling memorandum and written warnings. Lieutenants can issue letters of counseling, but a letter of reprimand then goes to the Chief. There is a shared drive where sergeants, lieutenants, captains and the Chief can access any counseling memorandum.

Wegner says that this is the fourth chief that he has worked for and Chief Klug is constantly pushing communications to the department as a whole. The email system was antiquated and so they selected an app called Evertel which can be put on everyone's phone so they have access to communications from the department. Evertel has different rooms where information can be provided. Some rooms are for sending department-wide information, some is for supervisors and some are for particular divisions. The officers are not issued phones. There are work phones assigned to patrol cars and all detectives have work phones. it is easier to get people to put the app on their phone than email and the app is compliant with CEGIS because the communications relate to criminal justice information. The app has safety systems in place so people cannot copy the messages. There is no requirement for the officers to check the app daily. The app was also added to the computers.

Wegner believes that Chief Klug is very approachable. Every time he tries to talk to Chief Klug, he never turns Wegner away. There have been very few times that the door is shut and he is in his office working. Wegner believes Klug is busy throughout the day and then sends messages later in the evening. That is his level of dedication.

Wegner comes from 30 years of military service. Sometimes, when the command has been around for a long time, they are retired in place. Chief Klug has the same drive and works hard. He replies to emails at night and sends them at all hours.

Wegner indicates that the recent Batteiger issues were all "BS." There was no credible support to the allegations and BCI looked into it. Essentially, one of the cadets took a liking to Batteiger and commented on what she would like to have happened when she turned 18. There was no credence to any allegation that Batteiger did anything wrong.

About the one-on-one meetings, Chief Klug tried to do them but they fell by the wayside. Wegner had one and he thinks Chief Klug got through most of the department. Wegner suggests that if someone wanted a one-on-one and was missed, they should have asked to schedule a meeting.

Cole Strandemo

On October 31, 2024, Heintzelman interviewed Cole Strandemo. Strandemo started in May 2011. He is currently a sergeant on the night shift. He is currently the Administrative Sergeant on patrol and works 10:00 p.m. to 8:00 a.m. He has been a sergeant for two years. He is also the Commander of the SWAT team.

Strandemo wanted to talk about the discipline that was issued in the department. He said that the use of discipline has been poor. The sergeants have been tasked with implementing some discipline, but the major decisions regarding discipline are not made by the sergeants. Strandemo related that as the Administrative Sergeant, he is also involved in the FTO program. One of the sergeants on the road told Strandemo that an FTO, Jacob Olson was bad-mouthing other supervisors in front of recruits during FTO training. This happened in front of two different trainees. It was reported that all Olson did was complain about other guys. Strandemo went to administration with Josh Noyes and said that Olson should be removed from the FTO program. Chief Klug and Captain Sundheim were present and there may have been another captain present. This was Strandemo's first foray into discipline. They discussed the options and Chief Klug talked about how the department cannot allow this in the FTO program. There were two other FTOs in the program and Olson has been angry. Klug said that he was "not going to tell you [Strandemo] what to do." Strandemo said that he thought Olson should not be an FTO. When Olson went to the Chief about being removed from the FTO program, the Chief stated that it was not his decision. Strandemo is upset that the Chief basically threw him under the bus. Strandemo does not understand that as a sergeant making the recommendation, he also has to stand behind the recommendation that he made.

Strandemo believes that Chief Klug is mad at him about an off-duty incident that occurred many years ago. He does not have any support for that feeling. Notably, Chief Klug promoted Strandemo to sergeant and relied on Strandemo's recommendation for the removal of Olson from the FTO program showing a level of confidence and respect for Strandemo's opinion.

He was also involved in the decision to remove Krista Becker as a sniper from the SWAT team, because she was unable to control her emotions. After she had her mental health issues, the SWAT team decided to keep her on the team, but she was suspended from responding to calls. She was given a road map of the things she needed to do to come back to the SWAT team. Everybody agreed, command staff and day shift all met with her. Strandemo was not a part of telling her that she was suspended from the team. Becker does not talk to him, because of what happened with the SWAT team.

Strandemo thinks that the only piece of paper that she was given indicated that she was suspended from the SWAT team and it somehow implicated him in that process. Strandemo had a one-on-one with the Chief.

He states that the testing for promotion has changed. They are moving towards an assessment center, which is an interview panel. It takes into consideration time on the job, education, and training.

Since the Chief's administrative leave, Plessas has been to three shift briefings. Strandemo is on the day shift now. However, he states that in the two years that he worked the midnight shift, only one Lieutenant attended a midnight shift briefing. Neither the captains nor the Chief attended a midnight shift briefing when Strandemo was working. They may have come on a day that he was not there, but he did not see them. He said that the pins for Master Officer and Senior Officer are left in the officer's mailbox. No one from the administration has come to a roll call to pin an officer.

When they recently had an officer-involved shooting, Acting Chief Plessas notified BCI on Tuesday or Wednesday; convened the investigation on Thursday and Plessas called the officer on Friday to let him know the results of the BCI investigation. This was Officer Lakoduk. Strandemo contrasts this incident with a use of force incident with Officer Collin Hall. It was reviewed by Lt. Haug and then given to the Chief. Hall did not hear a thing about it for over six weeks, because it was s sitting on the Chief's desk. Strandemo believes that the most recent officer involved shooting with Officer Lakoduk was investigated and cleared by BCI in a week.

In speaking to Acting Chief Plessas, the investigation into the officer involved shooting with Officer Lakoduk has not been completed by BCI and the Department is still waiting for the results of that report. That being said, it appears that Acting Chief Plessas was very transparent regarding the process and the support for the officers and Department.

Lt. McLeod is the Lieutenant in charge of Standards and Practices. He also conducts investigations and sends the report to the Chief for a decision on discipline.

Strandemo and the Intel Analyst reviewed communication programs for the department. He reviewed the one that Bismarck, N.D. police department used. Chief Klug did not select the same application. Strandemo says that for that system to work, the administration has to post regularly. In Bismarck, the Chief posted every day and the captains were also on the platform. The "atta boys" also came across the platform. Strandemo indicated that Chief Klug rarely posts to Evertel. We looked at his Evertel and saw that Chief Klug had posted before his administrative leave on September 11, 2024 on these dates: September 17, 2024; August 29, 2024; August 26, 2024; August 22,2024; July 24, 2024; July 20, 2024; and June 23, 2024. This does not include any "rooms" that the Chief may have sent communications that Strandemo was not a member.

Strandemo was also involved in creating the uniform policy that was given to Chief Klug in 2023. There were some issues with how officers were dressing for court. They wanted to update the policy for hair, jewelry, and piercing. Generally, in November officers can grow a beard if they donate to a charity. Strandemo was on the committee and he/they went to a variety of places, reviewed their policies and worked on getting a uniform policy to Chief Klug. Chief Klug did not have an answer by the end of November 2023 so he extended the no-shave November into December if the officers donated to another charity, approximately $20. It was extended through April 2024 and ended May 1, 2024. Strandemo said that he has tested the respirators and believes the policy presented addresses any issues regarding the ability to obtain a seal on a respirator if the officer has a beard that complies with the policy.[11]

Jason Sundbakken

On November 1, 2024, Heintzelman met with Captain Jason Sundbakken. Sundbakken has been with the Police Department for 28 years. He was promoted in 2019 by Chief Olson. He is currently the Administrative Captain and is responsible for supervising the Administrative Lieutenant, Dale Chapman. He is responsible for the equipment, recruiting, social media sites, and records.

He is responsible for how the department recruits. He had a couple of officers, Roach and Shaide who wanted to work with Minot State University to help with recruiting. They were paid overtime and went to MSU as an outreach. They also sent officers to Alexandria Tech to the hiring fair. They usually send graduates of that school to attend the hiring fairs. They have a really good relationship with Lake Region State College in Devils Lake ND. He said that the problem with recruiting from the Criminal Justice program is that the people in the program want to be lawyers instead of police officers. He is constantly talking to staff about any ideas they may have for recruiting.

The director of MSU's criminal justice department is Dr. Rabe. He is not aware of a problem between Chief Klug and Dr. Rabe. There are times when Dr. Rabe is very difficult to get a hold of to discuss participating in his curriculum. They have had conversations with the college to try and participate in the curriculum to help with recruiting. Sundbakken states that police departments have a huge recruiting problem in that they do not receive same amount of applications or the quality applications that they used to receive.

There is a North Dakota Police Chiefs Association. There is also an MN Police Chiefs Association.

Sundbakken is responsible for the Records Department. Cheryl Gessner has been moved to Records. There have been some issues between Gessner and Roberts where Roberts called Gessner a "bitch." Gessner can be difficult to work with. She was the previous Chief's Secretary and has been with the department since 1989. She used to be responsible for the payroll system, but they have streamlined the process and implemented ADP in 2024 for payroll. The Chief wanted all administrative staff in one place to streamline workflow. Previously the administrative staff was very compartmentalized and they did not work together. Gessner was very unhappy with the move. Her current responsibilities are invoicing, billing, and payments in ADP. She does some work in MUNIS but she has not learned how MUNIS functions entirely. She does some of the review of expenses charged on the department credit cards and some requisitions through MUNIS. She is generally scanning and saving the invoices to the application. Currently, the Chief approves all expenses.

They thought that Records would be a better niche for Cheryl. She reviews invoicing. She also reviews obituaries and finds former employees who died and removes them from the systems. Sundbakken describes Gessner's job duties as "ambiguous." He says that she is a good performer. Her office has been moved four times since 2020. Gessner was allowed to work from home during COVID, which may have created some issues as the department delivered hard copy papers for her to work off of since she could not access all of the systems from home.

The Office Manager position identified by Roberts was the Records Manager position, which is held by Trish Guthrie. Guthrie does a great job. When the command staff was interviewing for that job, they were looking for a person who could present new ideas. Guthrie did better than Roberts and was selected. She was interviewed by the Chief and all three Captains.

Community Outreach is handled by Caisee Sandusky, who is very busy and does not have enough support.

Sundbakken stated that the administration has discussed moving some positions to civilian positions (CSOs) so that sworn members of the department can be moved into patrol. Currently, they are talking about moving the two animal officers and traffic enforcement into community services and making them civilian positions. The administration needs to bring this to the City Council for the job description change and addition of civilian positions.

Sundbakken stated that he was part of the creation of the uniform policy. It was presented to Sundbakken and he sent it to the Chief. He has not received a response from Chief Klug.

Sundbakken indicated that when the decision was made to rotate people off shifts that they had been on for an extended period, there were some people, particularly the midnight shift, that was very angry about it. After Schoenrock was passed over for promotion, his personality changed. He was disgruntled. He would not say hi to people and responded very emotionally. As a result, the midnight shift also became disgruntled and this animosity created "cliques on night shift." At the same time, Chief decided to move the lieutenants off the midnight shift, because they were in the department sitting by themselves with not much to do. The lieutenants were reallocated so that there were two lieutenants responsible for patrol (instead of three), and one lieutenant was assigned to administration, one to investigations and one became the Standards and Practices lieutenant. The two patrol lieutenants stagger their shift and the department is still trying to figure out how to address and be present for the midnight shift. The idea behind moving the lieutenants off of the patrol shift was to give the sergeants more supervisory responsibility.

They used to have patrol meetings and the patrol officers received compensatory time for attending the meeting. They were not held regularly. Now there are command staff meetings and meetings with the sergeants and command staff. The sergeants are supposed to pass the information on to the patrol officers. The Chief and captains do not show up at roll call because they are busy doing their own work. The command staff meets every Monday and every other week the command staff meets with lieutenants. From there, information is supposed to be transmitted to the sergeants and officers.

Sundbakken believes that the Chief was able to have one-on-one meetings with the majority of the department. The purpose of the Evertel system was to convey messages to the department in a manner that is CJIS (Criminal Justice Information Services)[12] compliant.

Sundbakken has heard Chief Klug say that "we are all replaceable" in the context of the mission of the department must continue whether or not one individual person is present.

Sundbakken is also in charge of the department's random drug testing process. While the testing procedure requires a 2-hour notice, Sundbakken gives more advanced notice of being selected for a drug test because of the needs of the patrol operation.

When asked about some of the issues Alderman Fuller had regarding former officers, Sundbakken told me that Jay Laudenschlager had an injury to his cornea. Chief Balentine assigned him to Investigations. Laudenschlager was promoted to Sergeant at the same time as Sundbakken. There were concerns that Jay Laudenschlager was coming to work with alcohol on his breath. He had conversations with Jay Laudenschlager about some personal issues with ultimately his drinking started showing up in his work performance. Once that started to happen, Jay Laudenschlager was told that he needed to retire.

Sundbakken indicated that Chief Klug has tried to address issues of inconsistency with discipline. He created the position of professional standards lieutenant and appointed Lt. Haug who also handles internal investigations. He created and implemented the discipline matrix and consolidated discipline into one investigator and containment in ADP which is accessible to all command staff. He has made a concerted effort to professionalize the process and make discipline consistent.

In a follow-up conversation, Sundbakken also told me that he had a heated argument with Roach regarding his request for training out of state. All training had been stopped because of exposure during COVID.

Justin Sundheim

On November 1, 2024, Heintzelman met with Captain Justin Sundheim and his attorney, Chris Redding. Sundheim has been employed with the City since May 2000. He has been on patrol, a member of the Drug Task Force, and was promoted through the ranks from Lieutenant to Captain. He is responsible for operations, which includes Patrol and Dispatch.

He was working in Investigations when Chief Klug was promoted in 2020. When COVID hit, the administration was working from home, although some of the administration still came to the office. The patrol officers were working on the street.

When Klug became Chief, he visited the issue of reallocating the lieutenants. Something the command staff had discussed with Chief Olson. They also talked about moving people out of positions where they may have become stagnant. It was very difficult for some people to think about moving. They also discussed the need for the sergeants to be more involved in supervision. So, they changed to two lieutenants supervising patrol and staggered their shifts so that they could see all three shifts. This was not dramatically different from the weekends when there was no patrol lieutenant on duty. The midnight shift can call either the Lieutenant or Sundheim directly if they have an issue they need to discuss with a higher-ranking or more experienced officer.

It was not changed simply for the sake of change. If officers had issues moving their shift, or if there was some hardship that was created, the administration took that into consideration. Dan Wheeler is an example of an accommodation made. They did get a few requests for accommodations. They discussed the issue and hardship and Sundheim believes that they were able to accommodate every request made.

The officer meetings (Sundheim was unaware of the name "Free Talk Meeting") were not very productive. Sundheim made himself available a couple of times for officers to come to meet with him in a group. It was not mandatory, but some were told to come over by their Sergeant. He thinks about 20% of the department participated. Some officers were emotional about some of the decisions that were made, but Sundheim did not recall anything specific. When asked about the lower rating in Roach's performance evaluation, he indicated that it had to do with an altercation with Sundbakken. He did not say it was because of any participation in the Free Talk Meeting. Historically, the lieutenants prepared the annual evaluations such as in 2021. The Command staff wanted more input from the sergeants that worked with the officers daily so now the sergeants prepare the evaluations, it is reviewed by the lieutenant and then the captain, and then it goes back to the officer for a discussion.

The Chief normally does pinning, so he does not know if the Chief goes to the midnight shift and does pinning. He does not recall visiting the midnight shift himself.

They have moved away from testing for promotion and are trying to do an assessment center which may include people from outside the department. Generally, the captains will discuss the individuals and talk it through and then the chief will sleep on it for a day and make a decision taking into consideration input from everyone.

When asked about the "you are all replaceable" comment, Sundheim states that it is taken out of context. He has heard the Chief say that no one is irreplaceable concerning the mission of the organization. There is no one person valued over the mission of the organization. We want people to be happy at work and if they are not happy working at Minot Police Department then, life is too short; then go somewhere where you will be happy. But the mission of the Minot Police Department must continue whether you are here or not.

We also discussed the "Sammie Sosa kiss" or Hunger Games, a symbol of defiance. Sundheim said that it was the optics of people mocking the idea of "one shift" that resulted in one of the lieutenants suggesting that they discontinue the gesture. He did not think the intention was similar to the Sammy Sosa kiss.

The reason 2023 evaluations have not been issued is that they have a new process for evaluations. There are only two lieutenants and one has not been available for several months. Now with this investigation, there has been a further delay.

They have also talked about moving the ACO, Animal Control Officer, for which they have two, and the PCO, Parking Control Officer, for which they have one, to a civilian position. They must get City Council approval before they can hire civilians for those positions.

It has been difficult to manage the complaints from some that "nothing ever changes" versus others who are not receptive to change.

Chief John Klug

On November 1, 2024, Heintzelman met with John Klug and his attorney, Jesse H. Walstad. Klug has been with the department for 30 years in January. He was promoted to the position of Chief of Police on February 1, 2020. He attended the FBI National Academy in 2014 and the University of Northwestern Staff and Command program in 2010.[13]

He believes that he has completed the one-on-one meetings.

Concerning the issuance of discipline, Klug is aware of the issuance of discipline but it depends on the level of discipline. There are many times when he does not know about discipline being issued, e.g. a counseling notice or a written reprimand. In the past, the department handled all discipline internally. He tries to utilize the Human Resources Department for certain matters, like suspensions and he also speaks to the City Attorney. He may send the report over to Human Resources for a review and ensure he is taking the proper steps consistent with City policy as well as department policy.

Chief Klug has monthly one-on-one meetings with the City Manager. He prefers in-person meetings with Stewart and thinks Stalheim prefers in-person meetings as well. They have had phone conversations about certain items too.

On August 26, 2024, Alderman Fuller told Stewart that there was a morale problem at the Police Department.

On August 30, 2024, Haug, Professional Standards Lieutenant, informed Chief Klug and Sundheim that there was an accusation against Dan Batteiger. Supposedly a cadet made a comment to her co-worker about being in a relationship with Batteiger. The co-worker has a sponsor who is Jenna Olson. Jenna Olson works in the Sheriff's office. She reached out to Sgt. Jared Foley who is responsible for the Cadet program. Foley contacted the juvenile's mother. The juvenile's mother indicated that the juvenile makes statements about her desire to date after she turns 18. The mother looked at the girl's phone and did not think anything was occurring. Foley should not have contacted the juvenile's mother before notifying command, but he has received discipline for recent judgment issues. Chief Klug advised Sundheim and Haug to tell Foley and Batteiger that they are under notice of an internal investigation. The juvenile was out of state and would return on Monday, September 1, 2024, which was a holiday. When Chief Klug met with Fuller on September 5, he did not know the outcome of the interview with the juvenile.

On September 5, 2024, Chief Klug met with Stewart, Stalheim, Fuller, and Monica Porterfield (HR). Fuller was talking about Batteiger's disciplinary issues and that Batteiger should be terminated for losing the heroine in the drug kit . Chief Klug said that all of Batteiger's issues revolved around a period when he was having personal issues. He was getting divorced and this resulted in Batteiger making some bad decisions. Once he was able to get a handle on his issues, after the canine investigation, Batteiger was on a path of returning to be a good police officer.

[13] The FBI National Academy and the University of Northwestern Staff and Command program are nationally recognized and highly valued training for police department leadership.

Chief Klug said that he did not terminate Batteiger because he could not prove that he took the drugs or that he lost them. Chief Klug had policy violations from Batteiger, but before Chapman changed the policy, Batteiger complied with how the canine officers had typically handled the drug kit. Nevertheless, Chief Klug removed the canine from Batteiger and removed him from all of his training opportunities so that he could focus on getting himself together and being a good officer. He lost a lot of opportunity as a result of the investigation. Chief Klug also held Lt. Chapman accountable for not reviewing the logs and holding Batteiger accountable. Concerning destroying the drug kit, Batteiger's mistake was not involving Jensen in the process. They have to get DEA approval for the destruction of the kit. It cannot be done in the same manner as the destruction of other evidence under state law. Batteiger's mistake in thinking that the drugs in the drug kit are destroyed in the same manner as other drugs are destroyed was wrong. It is a mistake that other canine officers have made because they are unfamiliar with the process and do not destroy drug kits frequently. Chief Klug did not conclude that Batteiger was trying to hide his mistake by destroying the drug kit.

Chief Klug discussed his interactions with officers with mental health/alcohol issues. He recalled a session he attended at the International Association of Police Chiefs' conference where the discussion about officer wellness was not about whether we can terminate an officer's employment, but rather whether there is anything we can do to help them get fit to do the job. If an officer is having a personal issue that affects his ability to do the job, Klug believes he needs to know about it.

On August 30, 2024, Chief Klug received a call from a former council member that Alderman Fuller was in a bar sharing information about an ongoing criminal investigation. At the time, Chief Klug thought it was a Minot Police Department case. He spoke to Plessas who said that it was a highway patrol case where the incident occurred at the fair. Klug recounted that Batteiger responded to the crash and the passenger in the car was a deputy's son. Becker also responded to the call. The case was given to the highway patrol, because of the potential conflict with the sheriff's office. Sgt Ruelle was there as well. When the highway patrol showed up, Becker walked around telling the highway patrol to check everyone's body worn camera to make sure everyone is telling the truth. As it turned out, the accident and response happened as everyone said it did. However, Becker is the officer who stated that she would not back up Batteiger. Chief Klug felt that her statements on the scene were a concern and thought the Sheriff should know about her statements that she would not back up one of Minot's officers.

Minot Police Department will back up the Ward County Sheriff's Department and vice versa when necessary. Chief Klug does not know if there is also an intergovernmental agreement to that effect. He is unaware of any issues between Minot Police Department and the Sheriff's office.

Klug believes that Fuller has an internal source at the Sheriff's Department to obtain information and he is sharing information publicly. Chief Klug and Sundheim had a meeting with the Sheriff and Chief Deputy Larry Hubbard later on September 5, 2024. No one knew about the meeting with the Sheriff except for the attendees.

Before Fuller left the meeting on August 30, 2024, Fuller asked two questions:

- Did you schedule a meeting and Larry Hubbard regarding Kristen Becker; and
- Is there anything else on Dan Batteiger?

Chief Klug told him that he had a meeting with the Sheriff but stated that there was nothing else on Batteiger. Chief Klug intended to tell the Sheriff that Fuller had someone inside the Sheriff's Office providing information to Fuller about investigations and, the second piece of information was about Krysta Becker's statements from the incident at the fair.

When he was asked the question by Fuller, Klug knew that there was an issue with a juvenile, but did not know if there was anything to it. He did not want to share with Fuller, because he thought Fuller was sharing information with others in a public setting. Chief Klug was waiting until September 9, 2024, to determine whether they needed to do an investigation or whether they could confirm the information with the juvenile. Chief Klug did not follow up with Stewart after the meeting to tell him about Batteiger.

Chief Klug does not believe he lied to Fuller, Stewart, or Stalheim because he did not know if there was anything to the allegations, and it turns out there was not, and he was trying to protect the integrity of the case, since Fuller is talking to people about cases outside of the department. He believes that Jenny Olson was the person who told Fuller about the recent juvenile case with Batteiger. Both Foley and Olson are mandated reporters but they are not mandated to report to Fuller or the juvenile's mother before reporting to the department. Nobody filed a complaint regarding Batteiger's conduct before the meeting with Fuller.

Chief Klug found out from Stewart that Fuller told Stewart that the Little Caesar's employee told Jenny Olson, who is a Sheriff's Deputy, Olson told Becker who then told Fuller about the incident with the juvenile.

Chief Klug did not call Stewart after the meeting with Fuller on September 5, 2024. After that meeting, Klug went to a meeting with the Sheriff. Stewart and Stalheim called Haug and asked if there was an investigation with Batteiger and a cadet. Haug said yes. Chief Klug admits that he does not always see eye to eye with Stewart, but they work together and work things out. Fuller is not following procedure and putting himself in situations where he does not belong. All of Fuller's inquiries should be done through the City Manager. He was placed on administrative leave on September 11, 2024.

The discipline matrix is modeled after the San Diego Police Department's discipline matrix with modifications consistent with Minot Police Department's operations. It has been a work in progress for the past two years and they are seeing how it works in the department. The discipline matrix is a starting point for a determination of the appropriate level of discipline. The decisionmaker must then factor in the employee's performance history and the specifics of the particular incident. Notably, counseling memorandums are kept in the department pursuant to the matrix.

The promotional process consists of a test and interview. They have implemented the review panel with scenario-based questions similar to an assessment center. There are more people involved in the evaluation process including people from outside the department.

Chief Klug admits that he dropped the ball on the uniform policy. They were too busy putting fires out and did not realize the impact on the organization.

Concerning the most recent incident with Lt. McCloud, Klug spoke to the Aida County, juvenile investigator who indicated that they would not have conducted the polygraph in the way that it was conducted. He also spoke to the investigator from Butte MT, who is a Sergeant and an SRO on the investigations side. Chief Klug does not recall any inconsistencies with McLeod, but does recall that the dates and years that the mother claimed they were with McLeod changed when she was informed that McLeod was not in attendance at the family event. Chief Klug indicated that there is a belief that the dad began the abuse but the investigators interviewed the mother with the father and therefore did not receive any information from the mother. Chief Klug investigated the incident, because Sundheim is friends with McLeod and Plessas is McLeod's brother-in-law. If a disciplinary decision has to be made, Chief Klug is the one who will make it.

Klug runs some of his personnel issues through Human Resources and some through the City attorney.

In 2020, the captains did the evaluations. That process has since changed so that immediate supervisors (sergeants) prepare the annual evaluations for the patrol officers.

When Schoenrock first applied for promotion to Lieutenant, Chief Klug had a colonel from the Air Force base sit on the assessment center. His comment to Chief Klug was that Schoenrock does not know when to stop talking. His inability to control his emotions may be mistaken for passion about the job, but in the colonel's opinion, he would not promote Schoenrock because he beats an issue to death. Chief Klug said that when he was applying for the Chief's position, Schoenrock said, "I'll do anything to get you in the job. Let me know if you need me or my wife to help." Chief Klug said that everything changed when Schoenrock was not promoted. Dave Chapman was promoted over Schoenrock.

Chief Klug does not recall Schoenrock asking for any accommodations, because of problems with his neck or sending Schoenrock for a fitness for duty.

I spoke to Chief Klug on November 8, 2024, and his attorney Jesse H. Walstad and asked some follow-up questions. Chief Klug does not have access to a list of people he had one-on-one meetings. He believes he may have spoken to 50% of the officers.

Concerning Kevin Cory. There was a lawsuit against the City and a settlement with a non-disclosure agreement. Cory had another incident and Chief Klug asked McLeod to look at the past year's body worn camera video to see if there was a pattern of violation of the code of conduct. If there is a pattern, then the Chief has to report the conduct to the Post Board. Even if Cory remained employed by the City, the Chief would have to report the conduct. They discussed the pattern that they observed with Cory's behavior and he ultimately chose to resign.

Concerning Erik Laudenschlager, he came to talk to the Chief about being passed over for promotion. Erik Laudenschlager said that he thought he was being passed over because of his father's alcoholism while he was an officer. Chief Klug told him that was not the case and that his dad does not work here, but you do. Chief Klug did not think Erik had demonstrated sufficient performance to be promoted over the other candidates. Erik made some other comments and the Chief responded that he was "not going to stop you from quitting." Erik Laudenschlager decided to quit.

Chief Klug believes that the only complaint is the beard policy, which did not rise to the level of a priority with COVID. However, the beard policy was presented in November 2023. Klug stated that he wanted to see what the officer's version of a neatly trimmed beard was after a period of time.

He has terrible leadership issues in Dispatch. They are trying to build the leads to take charge. He hears all the time that the "culture sucks", but unless we work on it, it will not change. It is not an option to fire everyone so we have to learn to work together.

Chief Klug indicated they did not implement any additional training or one one-on-one training as a result of the investigation in 2021 regarding Wegner. He stated that Wegner was recently recommended and recognized by the ESGR and was recommended for the award by a woman.

Chief Klug points out that no one has appealed discipline or filed a grievance. At the time discussions regarding conduct occur, people act like everyone understands the process. He states that he has done the best that he could.

Chief Klug is unaware of any issues between Sundheim and his wife.

As part of this investigation, I reviewed numerous documents including some emails from Chief Klug. On March 18, 2021, Chief Klug sent an email to PD@cityofminot.onmicrosoft.com which is presumably the police department's group wide email. In that email, he addresses the fact that he has not completed the one-on-one meetings he promised to have with the members of the police department in April 2021. He then explains why he did not meet with everyone, "This meeting was intended to take place last year, but… YOU KNOW…COVID HAPPENED! 😊" (emphasis in the original). (Attachment 33 - A Hugg email 3/18/21)

On June 9, 2021, Chief Klug sent an email to the same email address addressing some concerns about his failure to meet with officers in the one-on-one meetings. Chief Klug was away from the office dealing with personal issues. He again uses all capital letters for certain words in the email. Chief Klug may not understand that the use of all capitals in an email is the equivalent of yelling.[14]

> I don't think I OWE an explanation, but as I prepare to ramp up my efforts to start this meetings, I want to be 100% transparent in the "WHY" I haven't met with many of you. To be clear, my Captains (your commanders) ALWAYS know what I am dealing with personally and professionally so they can help with answering questions if I am unavailable – don't hesitate to ask them if I am not available." (Attachment 34 - Klug email 6/9/2021).

He then proceeds to describe all his efforts to help his wife and address his mother-in-law's passing. He also discusses his work on the budget and what he is trying to do for the Department and its members by seeking more money. At the end of his email, he states:

> Lastly and most importantly, I will never turn you away from my office (within reason – such as if I am already in a meeting). Even if my door is closed – please knock. I will pause to talk to you and if I need some time to complete another critical task, I will ensure to set up a time we can meet that works for both of us. If you have an emergency you need to speak to me about – lead with that information when you talk to me. Each of you are my priority. The one-on-one conversations have been a great experience and very enjoyable conversations have been had. This process is important and each of you are important to my mission. Please, be patient. some of your co-workers have talked for almost 2 hours. I have not cut off one conversation once we start.

This email provides an excuse for the Chief's absence, in capital letters, and his busy schedule. As an afterthought, he identifies the employees and then puts them off. As of September 11, 2024, all of the one-on-ones were not completed.

Shane Haug

On November 4, 2024, Heintzelman spoke to Shane Haug. Haug is a Lieutenant in the Police Department. He has worked for the department for 22 years. He is the Professional Standards Lieutenant and conducts policy reviews; background investigations; and internal affairs for sergeants and patrol officers. Investigations of lieutenants and captains go to a Captain or the Chief.

On October 31, 2024, he attended training for the position. He participated in online training and in March 2024, he went to the Southern Police Institute in Louisville, Kentucky. He also went to staff and command school. The department uses Lexipol for policies. He reviews the policies and presents them to the command staff for approval. He cannot approve the policies on his own. Their personnel complaint policy is from Lexipol.

Haug, Wegner, and Sundheim had meetings about the radio issue that Shaide identified. Haug and Sundheim had their actual radios tested in the areas and they worked. They switched away from the two-wire microphone and now they don't have any problems with the radios. Haug does not recall Shaide bringing up his radio issue with Haug directly.

Haug was present during the Blanchard incident. Blanchard was intoxicated. Haug had Ruelle utilize the breathalyzer and confirmed Blanchard was intoxicated. At that time, they did not charge him with a DUI. They called him a ride and sent him home. Haug did not see Blanchard driving the car. He does not know what the punishment was, but he was removed from the SWAT. Haug knows that because Haug was on the SWAT team.

Roach was upset that he was unable to get a response back from Chief regarding free training. Haug remembers that the car was denied and then he was told that he could not go to the training. It was during or right after COVID. All training was stopped during COVID. He is not aware of an issue between Sundbakken and Roach on the training issue.

He does exit interviews, but does not know who reviews them. He prints off a copy and sends them to the Chief and Captains. They are not sent to the City or Human Resources. He was told to remove the names from the exit interviews because of records requests. There are no dates on the documents as well. The complaints he has heard about concern Margaret in dispatch and Greg Johnson in investigations. From patrol, he hears complaints about communication; training, FTOs and the Administration. Dispatchers complain the worst about Margaret. The PSAP does not have enough personnel to separate and move people around so that they spend less time with each other.

Haug enjoys the policy review. His predecessor was McLeod. Haig had no investigation experience. He enjoys the time and the policy updates. He writes a report and then gives it to the Chief for review. Sometimes he does not hear back from the Chief for a significant period of time.

Haug said that unless a Use of Force Board is convened, Haug cannot close the internal investigation until he receives the BCI report regarding the incident. He compared this to the recent officer-involved shooting involving Officer Lakoduk. In the Lakoduk situation, Plessas convened a Use of Force Board which included a member of the Sheriff's Department and an individual from BCE. There is a five-member Board that evaluates use of force when there is a fatality or serious bodily injury as a result of an officer's use of force. This Board convened in August/Sept 2024 and reached a decision. Along the same lines, Officer Hall had a use of force incident at a domestic in June 2024. Hall shoved a guy into the car. Based upon the evaluation, the Board concluded that there was a violation of the Standards of Conduct, but the Board exonerated the officer on his use of force. The report of that incident sat on the Chief's desk for nine weeks.

On August 30, 2024, there was a report of an issue with a juvenile and Batteiger. Foley told him and Sundheim and they called the Chief. The accusation was from a girl from the Cadet program who works at Little Caesars. She is 16. She told a co-worker, who is 30 and is a rehabilitation specialist that she had a dating relationship with Batteiger. This came up during a discussion about "cute cops" and she showed a picture of Batteiger. Foley called her mom and the mom went through the girl's phone and there is no contact between the girl and Batteiger. Foley is in charge of the Cadet program. There was no opportunity for Batteiger and the girl to be alone. The juvenile denies that there is any relationship.

The City manager Stewart asked is there is a criminal investigation and to keep them apprised of what happened. Batteiger was put on administrative leave. BCI came in to investigate the allegation. Stewart and Stalheim asked if the Chief Klug knew about the allegation against Batteiger and Haug said "yes." Haug believes that Jenny Olson told Becker and Becker called Fuller and told him (Fuller) about the issue. Foley and Batteiger are under investigation.

Klug did not call Stewart after the meeting with Fuller on September 5, 2024. After that meeting, Chief Klug went to the meeting with the Sheriff. Stewart and Stalheim called Haug and asked if there was an investigation with Batteiger and a cadet. Haug said yes.

The lieutenants and captains had meetings to discuss the discipline matrix to create consistency. There is no reason not to have Human Resources involved.

Haug does not supervise anyone and has no ability to discipline anyone. He would be limited to counseling. The department has a folder for counseling and reprimands. This folder has been in existence for decades. Suspension documentation is stored in Chief's office and in ADP. Any officer that has discipline should have information there.

Haug keeps a list of complaints that are made against officers that he investigations in his capacity as Professional Standards Lieutenant.

Margaret Haugen - Dispatch PSAP Manager

On October 2, 2024, Heintzelman interviewed Margaret Haugen. Haugen has been the Public Safety Answering Point (PSAP) manager (Dispatch) since February 1, 2020. She's been working for the City of Minot for 17 years. Shortly after she was promoted, COVID happened. She was promoted the same day as Chief Klug.

In November 2023, the Dispatch Center moved into their new location at City Hall. It was difficult. The dispatchers remained in their previous location for several months before they moved over. In this new location, the dispatchers are down the hall from the main dispatch area. Her office is some distance away, so she feels somewhat disconnected from the dispatchers. They have been working 12-hour shifts for the past 3-1/2 years. Many are burnt out, although there is some negativity in the department regarding the shift schedules, they don't have enough staffing to move off of the 12-hour shifts. She is hopeful that they will get close to fully staffed soon enough, because they have three people in training then they'll only be down one person. Their training requires six weeks in the classroom. The new trainees are in their third week. She is hopeful that they will be in dispatch in November and December. Their minimum staffing is two people on a shift. They are given paid lunches and breaks. On a normal schedule, they would have three staff members and work 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. When they take breaks, if they are going to be in the area, one to two minutes away, they carry a radio. If they need to leave the facility, they take PTO time. They receive paid lunches of 30 minutes and two 15 to 20-minute breaks. They can always get up and get coffee or go to the bathroom unless they're on a call.

The starting pay is $22 per hour. The supervisor with the longest tenure is receiving $39 per hour, so they are competitive with other dispatch centers. She does not believe she micromanages the dispatchers. They are like one big family, but they are separated from the rest of the City. She moved in June 2023 to the new location and the rest of the dispatchers came on November 19, 2023 she thinks it is getting better.

After Blanchard's suicide, there was an assistant PSAP manager who had known many of the employees at the City, but she had only been working for the City for two weeks. She was killed in a motorcycle accident. They also had a former deputy killed plus they had to move their location. In addition, they have had two Assistant PSAP Managers. Haugen's opinion is that dispatch has a lot of upset people. She says that she recently hired a new Assistant PSAP named Wayne Fahy and he is fantastic.

She said that Sundheim oversees the Dispatch Center, but Klug is responsible for it. They have been having meetings regarding the morale and issues in dispatch between Chief Klug and the lead dispatcher trying to bring them into a supervisory position.

Barbara McPeak

On October 8, 2014, at 1:30 p.m. CT, Koelbel interviewed Barbara McPeak via Zoom. McPeak is a former dispatcher and PSAP Manager. She is now a retired employee. She retired on January 30, 2020, and returned to work for another two years as a dispatcher. She applied for the Assistant PSAP position to handle the training, scheduling, and problems in the dispatch center (training, recruiting, and getting people to position). The first Assistant PSAP was killed in an accident. Second Assistant PSAP, Juana, went back to Bismarck. McPeak has over 30 years in the Police Department and four years as PSAP Manager.

She retired at 76% at the highest two years by the time she was done with all.

She would come in to cover lunch breaks three to four times during the week, never on the weekends. For two years a month after she retired. Then she stopped being asked. She went on vacation and then came back in November two years later, in 2022, she told Margaret that she felt that Margaret was not doing as well as she should. Then she quit working part-time.

McPeak applied in May 2024. She feels there was no reason why she should not have gotten the position. She said she wrote the training manual and guides for the Dispatch Center. She wanted to try to get things back on track and mold someone to be the manager.

She was very upset that she was not selected for the Assistant PSAP position. She went to speak to the councilman, because she felt she should not be treated that way. She is 60 and has a good five years to give. She thinks she was not hired, because she is female. She now feels that they tried to make every position a male position. She could have sued. She was working 12-hour shifts. The interview was not normal, it felt more like a conversation. "One of the number one things to do is to fix the 12-hour shifts." She feels no one should sit for 12 hours for mental health and family reasons. If they want to leave the building, they have to take PTO or call in someone for a half hour. The Police Department has to pay overtime every single week for every dispatcher, because of the 12-hour shifts. From a manager's perspective that does not make sense. How does the budget work?

She believes the PSAP Manager gets paid a ridiculous wage. It takes two or three weeks to get to know what is going on in the dispatch room. The Assistant PSAP who was just hired, Wayne, will take forever to get up to speed – eight to ten months, which is how long it takes to train a dispatcher. The pay is $80,000.00. He trained paramedics. So, she feels the cost is being wasted, which bothers her. As a citizen, she sees the money as wasted.

Once you get on the hiring list you stay on the list for one year so if Wayne did not work out then she would be next. She feels she gave so much to that place. Captain Jason Sundbakken notified her that she did not get it, not Chief Klug. She was told they were going in a different direction, but Captain Sundbakken was not involved with the hiring process and could not answer any questions about it. She had four letters of recommendation. The letters are included in the documents provided by the City.

Part of the reason she feels she was not hired is that she was friends with Margaret Haugen. Then at one point, she told Margaret she was worried for her when Margaret became PSAP Manager but Margaret made it work. Margaret said that she was concerned about the role reversal over coffee if McPeak was hired as the Assistant PSAP.

Chief Klug took over the day she left. She has known him for 20 to 25 years. He has major integrity issues. One night he got drunk and showed up at her house crying about his first wife. McPeak drove him home and sat with him while he and his wife tried and talked things out. He was good in the lower ranks. You form a bond with these brothers. He never bitched or complained even if he was dispatched to an undesirable call.

Chief Klug “was super pissed” at her, because in the interview she brought up that the long shifts cause the customer service level to go down. She used to be friends with Chief Klug. One reason he would not want McPeak back is that she has a voice. He would have been concerned that she would have found out about the “bs” that was going on in the Police Department. She could not believe some of the stuff that happened at the Police Department. She would find out from everyone else. She never had any firsthand problems with him. But as soon as he got the Chief position it went to his head. She later believed that he didn’t care if she applied for the position or not.

An SRO officer told her that she should have gotten the position. She feels that once she was not hired the camaraderie changed, because they all felt she should have gotten the position. McPeak expressed that there are many issues with the dispatch team from top to bottom. The reasons follow: Margaret could not make a decision; people are negative towards her because she is always answering only to Chief Klug and Captain Justin Sundheim and not standing up for the dispatchers. For example: The move to the new Dispatch Center. The setup is awkward. Everyone faces the wall. Captain Sundheim’s answer that it was for ADA compliance did not make McPeak happy. The dispatchers can hardly talk to each other. The administration did not ask any dispatcher for input when the room was set up. When the old Dispatch Center was upgraded, they asked dispatcher's opinions. The Dispatch Center is in the basement. Cannot even go outside and walk around the building. No sunlight at all. If you are a smoker, you cannot go outside.

Margaret does not come out of her office to give people their lunch. If they do not bring lunch, they do not eat lunch. Margaret changed the dispatch system. She did have a lot on her plate.

One of the dispatchers, Lacie, was involved in an accident on an ATV and she dropped the injured person off at the hospital and left. She was eventually arrested. Lacie applied for Assistant PSAP as well. When former dispatcher Amanda was fired or asked to resign, she had valid points about Margaret violating HIPAA and talking badly about dispatchers. But Amanda had her issues herself. Another dispatcher said her brother died and it was a lie to get time off.

There is no concern for the health and welfare of the dispatchers and zero regard for them being good employees. She took a suicide call of her own cousin. Never got emotional on the phone, but when received a call about a little boy home alone she completely broke down. Margaret says there is nothing she can do. McPeak's people wanted to work for her. She never said you have to find your coverage. McPeak says she treated people like people instead of just a number in a box.

If you have never been a dispatcher, you don't get it. Currently, no one can take a vacation. Everyone is so negative. During her time, McPeak did not have it that bad, because it was a different management. She realizes life is different now. During COVID, they locked down dispatch. But even after the pandemic, they kept the door locked.

Samantha Newman

Koelbel interviewed Samantha Newman via Zoom on October 8, 2024, at 4:00 p.m. CT. Samantha has been a dispatcher for 3.5 years and was hired in April 2021.

Currently, including trainees, they are only short one of the full staff goal of 17. There are 16 hired, but only 12 can operate on their own. Dispatch has not been fully staffed the entire time she worked there.

When Chief Klug was first appointed, he said would meet with everyone in the department one-on-one. When he came to dispatch, he would not really speak to anyone. He would walk around the room and leave.

Concerns with the Dispatch Department include lack of follow through. Following are some examples. When Margaret said she was going to pull people for one-on-one. On Tuesday, she sent the email about meeting one-on-one and by Friday nothing had been done. Concerns were brought to Captain Sundheim regarding the hostile work environment in dispatch.

Samantha was put under Garrity for some very mean comments she made to another employee. The investigation began in February. Eight months later she received a resolution. The only reason she found out the result is because of this current investigation. Sam has heard of an employee who was on Garrity for 18 months.

The incident involved a trainee. Samantha took responsibility for some allegations and some she denied, because they were simply not true. Intimidation tactics were used. In the process of investigation, Captain Sundheim accused her of being a liar for not showing emotions. Samantha wondered if it is because she is female, that she has to show more emotion further asking if the Captain would ask a male employee the same question.

For the most part, she can get along with everyone. If there is an issue, they are able to conflict resolve and talk like adults. The job is traumatic. They lost two officers. One by suicide and one was murdered. The trauma was bonding.

Some dispatchers were missing a lot of work because of mental health days. The suicide officer called into dispatch. The department handled it terribly. Not all officers and not all dispatchers were notified of the suicide of someone with whom they worked daily.

Deputy Nick Van Pelt who worked with Burlington Police Department part-time was murdered. The announcement of the murder came via Evertel, the secured messaging system. The announcement was comprised of two sentences and minuscule. Samantha took the call on Christmas Eve 2023.

Dispatch was left unmanaged for so long. Dispatchers come and go and do their jobs. They fall under Police Department Administration. No accountability and no follow-through. There is no trust in their administration. Both Police Department and Dispatch Administration.

There is a good split between seasoned dispatchers and new employees. It is a year before the new dispatchers are ready to be good.

Six or seven dispatchers left during the time Samantha worked there. Many were seasoned ones. One new dispatcher who came from Florida with experience also left. It is a grueling process to learn the job and the system.

There is a lack of accountability of management and subordinates. There are no policies to hold themselves accountable. Nothing is in writing. She wishes that somehow, they could highlight the folks who show up. There is a high turnover rate, but the ones that show up are overlooked. They often work 100 hours per pay period. In ten weeks, she worked over 400 hours. They are scheduled 84 hours per pay period. Night shift dispatchers were expected to work nights and days. They had ten dispatchers at the time with a minimum two dispatchers on shift. They have no breaks. Especially at night, they do not get breaks. They can go to the bathroom or heat leftovers. And you have to take the radio with you to the bathroom. There is no time to just decompress.

The new center is much nicer than the last one. They moved to a new center in November of last year. There are three monitors on which one can watch movies. That is their window. There is more space, so they are not sitting on top of each other.

Margaret discussed Samantha's training with her husband's supervisors. Her husband is a firefighter. Margaret used the schedule as punishment. When Samantha asked for an extra person on shift rotation one time, she was scheduled to not work any weekends and the other dispatchers felt she was receiving special treatment. Discipline is inconsistent. For example, for hostile CAD messaging, two other dispatchers received just write-ups. For call-in policy violations, some people did not receive any punishment.

Juana, the former Assistant PSAP, would publicly fight with Margaret. Captain Sundheim told her she needed to learn how to conflict resolve. She found another job and announced that Friday was going to be her last day. Juana asked Samantha to be a trainer, but there was no training program or materials. Trainees were not retaining information and no assistance was provided. Trainees came out not knowing anything or how to even log in. She was to produce policies and manage day-to-day activities.

Wayne, the new Assistant PSAP, is a breath of fresh air. He is developing a training program. He was an EMS instructor. Margaret may be able to be an effective leader if she can let go of control and instead just focus on her administrative tasks. Even if Margaret worked 10 to 14 hours a day seven days a week, she would not be able to handle both jobs. The position has not changed over the years.

Ultimately, Samantha loves her job and hopes it will get better.

Justice Brown

Koelbel interviewed Justice Brown via Zoom on October 9, 2024, at 10:00 a.m. CT. Justice was hired in April 2022 and has been in the position for 2.5 years. Currently, the Dispatch Department has 11 fully trained, two in training, and three new hires just out of classroom training.

Chief Klug is located at the PD. Before the Dispatch location was moved, Chief Klug did not come around often. After the move, dispatchers do not see the Chief. On December 29, 2022, when Justice took the call about Officer Pat Blanchard's suicide, she did not realize she needed mental health support. When she did seek support, Chief Klug directed her to services and support.

A lot of people are frustrated with the Chief. People getting talked to and receiving disparate discipline and viewed as unfair. When she has issues or raises questions, she gets the runaround but cannot get to a definite answer.

Captain Sundheim oversees Dispatch. Justice did not have anything noteworthy to account.

The job of a dispatcher is very difficult. She has heard that previous leadership was better. Dispatchers were not allowed to take time off at all during the pandemic. Everyone was very burned out and frustrated. Since she started, there has been a lot of turnover. Some left because they could not do the job, and others because the environment was toxic. Since she started, dispatchers have been scheduled 84 hours per pay period. Four of those hours are overtime. The shifts are 12-hour shifts. Right before the move to the new location, the process to switch the payroll system to ADP began. In the past, an actual person would handle timekeeping issues, vacation requests, etc. Dispatchers could call someone in to cover lunches. After the move ADP was fully implemented, management told her that she had to clock out for lunch or use PTO.

As for the new location, she understood that the City received a lot of funding to refurbish a new place. Dispatch was supposed to be at the top floor and access would be secure. The result looks nice. Technology is top of line. There are cameras. It is a nice facility, but there are no windows so there is no natural light. When working 2-people-shifts they cannot leave the building. There are two day shifts and two night shifts. Her day shift has three dispatchers, the other day shift has four and the two night shifts have two.

Margaret Haugen's management is inconsistent as is discipline. Certain people are allowed to misbehave without consequence. On the other day shift, another dispatcher was out for a long time and a call for OT went out, sometimes for four-hour blocks. When others have to cover themselves. Margaret is not efficient or proficient at her job.

When she started, she realized the culture was going to be rough. When she was with trainer Jackie, Margaret would come in and talk "crap" about the person who was on break. Margaret further used the schedule to retaliate.

When so many dispatchers complained about Margaret, they did 360 surveys because of so many allegations against Margaret. It was supposed to be a confidential survey and only Captain Sundheim and Chief Klug were going to see and not Margaret. Justice is not sure, but she thinks, Margaret went to leadership training. Somehow Margaret found out what the questions and what the dispatchers' answers were. There was not much follow-up and they are not listened to.

After the suicide call she received, she was moved to the day shift. Jeanne made things more difficult for Justice. One time Jeanne told Justice to stop breathing, and another time to not talk before noon. When reported to Margaret, Margaret responded by asking if Jeanne was up to her old tricks. At Margaret's request, Justice typed up a brief account of the occurrence and gave it to Margaret. When Margaret talked to Jeanne about Justice's concerns, Jeanne began making snide remarks and comments when Justice was present.

In another instance, Sean, who is a lead, covered for Justice when the emotion of the suicide call she took caught up with her. Justice was working alone with Jeanne and began to cry. Justice called Sean letting him know she did not think she was able to continue her shift. Sean came in right away and Justice ended up taking time off. When Justice came back the next week, Jeanne walked up to Justice and asked her if she was going to cry again. Beth, who was on shift the whole time and witnessed the remark, when asked, could not remember anything.

Margaret told Justice that Beth and Jeanne wanted Justice's sick time to be looked into after she took the time off mentioned above. They raised the issue as Justice was there when she was not supposed to be there and taking time off when she was supposed to work. They felt Justice was spending too much time there at shift change talking to the night shift and calling in when she was supposed to be working. The chat with Margaret, Justice suspects, was for show to get them off Margaret's back.

Justice wanted to join the volunteer firefighters. She wrote a letter requesting approval as required, but the request was blocked. Margaret said Chief Klug blocked it, but she found out from a senior dispatcher that it was Margaret who blocked it. She wrote another request and submitted to Chief Klug and it was approved. Jeanne would constantly comment about Justice "of course wanting to get traffic on firefighter calls." Once Jeanne put a dispatch call on hold and told that one of them (Justice) should take it.

Her shift is a day shift comprised of Justice, Jackie, and Beth (13 years – Lead for whom she has no respect). Beth gets animated when her authority is challenged. Management, meaning Margaret, is aware of all of Beth's malicious behavior, but does nothing.

One particular week, Justice was going through a lot: her divorce, her grandmother passing away, and a friend dying of a heart attack. After dealing with all that, she slept for eight hours, went on a fire call, slept six hours, then went to work. Fifteen minutes before she leaves for the day, Beth asks to speak to Justice. Beth lectured Justice as her supervisor, regarding how dispatching takes precedence over volunteer firefighting for over a half hour. She kept going until Justice starts to cry because firefighting is her life. Justice ended up leaving 20 minutes after her shift ended.

When fires were occurring all over, Justice was paged out to a fire, but didn't go because her lead told her not to. She told Juana and Margaret about it. They asked her if she was okay. They told Justice that she does not have to worry about firefighting being taken away.

Lacie, another lead, gave classroom training. Ashley, Justice, and Lacie were put together. Lacie seemed distracted. She was out for two months. Went to a work conference and just came back in less than a month. People were upset about the sexual comments Lacie made to them. Lacie used to grab people's butts, which were brought up to Margaret.

Sean was the only guy. They know that things will be handled when he is on call. He had her back through a lot. Justice got along with Juana – somewhat. But Juana did not know their systems and Juana and Margaret did not get along.

Wayne has a way of training and teaching that does not make you feel stupid. He demonstrates a drive to learn the systems. He also provides clear answers on policy. It seems like things are improving.

Justice is not aware of a grievance procedure.

Amanda Wright

Koelbel interviewed Amanda Wright via Zoom on October 9, 2024, at 2:00 p.m. CT. She worked as a dispatcher from 2017 to 2020. She was forced to resign by Chief Klug in July 2020.

Chief Olson had just retired, and Chief Klug was just starting. There was a hit-and-run on Broadway in front of the Taco Bell. She was told to answer a call from Margaret's console, so she did not have all of her equipment on hand. The call was from a gentleman asking questions about the accident. She terminated the call with the gentleman, but could not punch a card.

Two weeks later Chief Klug called Amanda back in. This was her first real interaction with him. The parents of the boy were allegedly suing the department. It turned out that it was the driver on the phone call she took on Margaret's console. Chief Klug said this is in the file, but it was not a big deal. Then it was investigated. She was suffering from severe [redacted]. She is currently working with a [redacted]

Amanda was working four ten-hour shifts. It is a quick turnaround. She was not sleeping. The environment in dispatch was horrible. Margaret kept promising a day shift. Ultimately termination was recommended, but she was given the option to resign. She went home in shame. A year later she was reading the termination paperwork and it listed two incidents: a warrant that was not removed from LMS, and a medical call received in error. She deviated from instructions from the card.

After termination, Amanda found out Margaret told co-workers that Amanda claimed mental health issues, but Margaret "knows others with real mental health issues" and did not think Amanda was suffering from the same.

There is an EAP program. Chief Klug's wife was a therapist in the EAP program. She was the only therapist that had openings. They are sworn to confidentiality, but the boss is in the picture in her office. She was having a bad time in general because of COVID. During COVID, she was dating one of the deputies, but keeping it quiet. The deputy got COVID. So, she called in since she had to isolate. She shared with Margaret that she was dating Van Pelt. Margaret subsequently shared with everyone that she was dating him and had COVID.

Margaret was her trainer. She was unprofessional, smoking frequently, and gossiping about everyone. There was no feedback or coaching. It was a toxic work environment. When McPeak was there it was a lot better. Night and day difference atmosphere-wise.

For lunches and breaks, people used to come in to cover breaks that may not have been paid – Sean and Shanlya. When two people were on shift that was how they used to get a break. You make more mistakes when you are exhausted and stressed. Amanda did not work too much OT because she was tired.

They did not foster an environment of mental health when the Chief's wife was a mental health professional. She loved working there until the last 8-9 months. Two dispatchers – Lacie and Christian (no longer with the department) – received DUIs. She wonders what the Chief's liability would be if he knew that Pat Blanchard had a DUI.

Jackie Lausch

Koelbel interviewed Jackie Lausch on October 11, 2024, at 12:00 p.m. CT. She is a Senior Dispatcher of two-three years and a total of nine years. There are two seniors. During the process of becoming a Senior dispatcher, she withdrew but began receiving higher pay for six months, and that information was shared which caused strife. There are five dispatchers in training and 11 that can work a two-person shift, the 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Three years prior dispatchers spoke to Captain Sundheim and Chief Klug. They took a survey that was supposed to be confidential. Margaret was able to read all the comments. The outcome of the survey was that Margaret went to a leadership course for a week and was not allowed to make the schedule. Chief Klug had since said he messed up for not putting Margaret on a PIP. Chief Klug would come into the room, stare and leave. Interim Chief Plessas, at least, says hello, etc. Chief Klug and Captain Sundheim never hold Margaret accountable.

Margaret creates a hostile work environment. She pits employees one against the other. She has revealed private information about folks. Jackie's father was dying and in end-of-life care. Jackie was very distraught. When he passed away, Margaret told everyone to not message Jackie, and consequently, Jackie received no support from her co-workers. Jackie does not believe it was to benefit her by allowing her time to grieve but instead to isolate her. On Jackie's birthday, she was not celebrated when Margaret promised to celebrate all the birthdays. Margaret is proud of creating a toxic work environment. She is largely unqualified. Policies are drafted in ways that Margaret can bend the rules. There are no standards. No one is held accountable. There are no policies and procedures in a job that can directly affect someone's life. Margaret says you're doing a good job and then throws them under the bus. Margaret wants to be everyone's friend. She feeds everyone stuff about everyone. It could be five years before airing out grievances created by Margaret with certain folks, because they do not always work together. If you brought up stuff, then there is retaliation either on the evaluation or scheduling, etc. Her husband is in emergency management and sent out emails telling dispatchers that they have to report things like the train derailment and big grass fires to them.

Jackie stepped out of training. Her evaluations were catty and did not reflect the type of employee she is. Chief met with Jackie to find out why she resigned from training. He brought her in to ask why she applied to a records position. Sergeants told her that if Jenna and Molly left morale will improve.

Years back City Hall put in a grant and City Hall and Dispatch were to be moved to the new location. Dispatch is now accessible from the alley. They do not even see people from City Hall. Captain Justin Sundheim and Margaret designed the new dispatch center. The location is dangerous if anyone were to go in there. There is no ventilation. Water was turned off at one point and they had to use porta-potties placed in the alley where drug deals occur. They bombed the building with disinfectant for COVID. The door hinges are on the outside. There are no windows. If someone breaks in or if there is a fire, there is no escape. There is no gym. They were promised a treadmill. There was a gym at the other place. They were told there would be a little place for them. Officers used to bring them stuff. No one comes over anymore. She believes they do not want to come in because of Margaret. They have been in the new center for one year and Margaret for 1.3 years. When Margaret was separated things had improved.

Captain Sundheim told them they would never have a window, because it was not safe. He is horrible to talk to. He puts it back on you – boomerang. He is condescending. He provides no support. Statistically, he ran the numbers and relied on them. However, dispatchers are dealing with people at their worst. The backup center is not set up. There are only one or two screens. The Chief said he was following up.

Margaret changed the radio system, but provided no training or support. It has a nice recorder rated top three or five for dispatchers. When asked for training Margaret would send out training group meetings when Jackie was off so she was never able to participate. The new system is only good for the leads and Margaret because they have a different interface. The reason for the change is that someone Margaret knew left the company of the old system and went to the new system company. So, she went to Captain Sundheim and he approved it. She has recently asked Wayne if everyone could have the same interface.

You have to use comp time for training. Jackie in one instance had 90 hours of accrued comp time working the fair which was paid by the sheriff's office. Jackie was paid out 10 hours, because they maxed at 80 hours of comp time. She was not aware that would happen. There are no lunch breaks and no 15-minute breaks. They have to punch out and be paid PTO. HR said it was the Chief's policy. They work 12-hour shifts. Margaret blames them for not coming in on their days off.

The first Assistant PSAP died in a motorcycle accident. Second Assistant PSAP, Juana Perez, and Margaret fought all the time. Wayne is the new current assistant PSAP. He is working on a schedule that is fair and it works. He has been three months in the position. Margaret wanted an Assistant PSAP, but not Wayne.

There are three leads – Lacie (see below), Beth (who does not possess great leadership skills), and Sean (who enjoys gossip). Shanlya became lead because the Chief asked her (Shanlya unprofessionally tells people she loves them over the radio where everyone can hear it). One of the Leads is a lesbian and she grabbed Jackie's breast about eight years prior while she was on a call. Jackie went to HR. The same individual was gambling on the phone on the floor, making lewd remarks, sleeping on the floor, grabbing people's butts, and was promoted to Lead. Margaret loves her so nothing happened to her. People joke about it. This Lead asks for nude pictures. Jackie spoke to Wayne on Tuesday and requested to not be scheduled with her.

With Officer Pat's suicide, other agencies were debriefed before dispatchers. The janitor passed away on PD. One debrief was at the time her dad was dying so she could not attend. A Sergeant asked them if they were okay. Sgt. Ruelle told her about the wellness program and brought flyers. But the program was in place six months to a year before dispatchers were aware of it.

People are leaving and quitting, and the administration has no idea why. The administration stated they are surprised half of the dispatchers are still even there. New rules are getting applied but no policy behind them. They bought walkie-talkies and rolled them out. Margaret asked her to walk as far as she could in 15 minutes to see if the walkie-talkies would still be within range.

Shanlya Van Hill

Koelbel interviewed Shanlya Van Hill on October 11, 2024, at 2:00 p.m. CT. She has been a Dispatcher since January 2017. There are 11 fully trained dispatchers, two training on the floor and three in classroom training. The evening shifts are 7:00 p.m. to 7:00 a.m.

In January 2020 Chief Klug became Chief and Margaret became PSAP Manager. Shanlya became the Lead Dispatcher in December 2023.

A lot of issues present in dispatch were communicated to Chief Klug and Captain Sundheim – issues with Margaret. When she reported issues to Chief Klug, he said to hang in there. Captain Sundheim, HR, and Chief Klug had no follow-through. Chief said he would have one one-on-one, but there was no actual scheduling of any meeting. So, she decided to have one one-on-one herself. He told her to give him a list of who she wanted to talk to, but there was no follow through. Chief Klug then had group meetings with the leads, Margaret, and Captain Sundheim. They would get to the first stage and maybe the second and then never follow through. He is not a leader. He just holds the title. He began saying that if he has to fire all of the dispatchers, he will. In the last 10 months, there was one meeting.

Chief said Shanlya could meet with him. The majority of dispatchers went to him complaining they were at 60% staffing which is not sustainable. There was a 360 evaluation. The results were not released so there was no way to know if her perspective and experience were different from anyone else's based on the responses. Still does not know what happened with the results. Sean, as a Lead, can click on disciplinary files and there was nothing on Margaret's. Margaret used the schedule as a means of power. So, after the survey, she was not able to make the schedule any longer. The job was a lot for her, and she liked to delegate. Jenna Hurt started making the schedules. Within the last month, Shanlya just learned that Margaret received some training. Captain Sundheim said, "we heard you and there will be lots of changes based on your feedback."

One instance in which Shanlya felt targeted was a Letter of suspension she received from Chief Klug. He said, "I know you feel like it is just the two of you (her and Molly) are the ones who are being disciplined." Molly quit in January 2024. She was hired in October 2017. The suspension was for taking long breaks or stealing time. Minimum shift of about five years. They have 12-16 hours with no lunches or 15-minute breaks. As a courtesy, her former supervisor, Lacie, would allow her to take a long lunch break when she could take a lunch break. The practice trickled over under the current supervisor. Then she got in trouble. During the time of the fair, they are expected to work hundreds of hours. She was told that taking four hours of flex time shows that she has no sympathy for her job. It was such a humiliating process. During the investigation, she was so fearful. Chief also said that was the first time she was taking ownership of it.

Shanlya went to a conference called NINA. A dispatcher from Colorado told her the state had to backpay all their employees because they were not being paid properly. Shanlya sent an email involving the HR department regarding the new pay system not paying by the law of North Dakota. They were not getting compensated properly for the four hours over 40. HR said that employees might end up having to pay back the City. She said she did not know how that works. The law dictates the minimum and the policy depends on that. Chief Klug sent a message directly to Shanlya to be careful if she keeps pushing the envelope. Shanlya felt very threatened by the Chief and HR. She emailed back saying that she felt threatened. HR kept asking if she wanted to have the matter looked into. They changed her mind. They did not point to specific policies.

Margaret was a poor leader even as a floor supervisor. There were not as many issues such as poor personality, not being kind, making little comments, but her work performance was not great. She did not possess very good people skills. Margaret was answering the same number of calls as everyone. Margaret greatly mishandles information.

In 2021, Shanlya broke up with long-time fiancée, Josh after eight years. He was a volunteer Firefighter with Minot. Margaret and her husband volunteer there as well. Margaret liked her fiancée more than she liked Shanlya. Margaret made comments like: "When am I losing you?" "Was cheating a factor in break-up" "I heard you slept with a Sergeant in the department." She tried to spread rumors to Sean. Dispatch was female-dominated. Police were male-dominated. She also commented on the women her ex-fiancée was involved with. Margaret emailed an evaluation commenting about how she will be affected by the breakup. By comparison, another co-worker broke up with a girlfriend and Margaret would drive the former girlfriend to places to get stuff. At the same time, Margaret would cry to Shanlya about her relationship issues. Shanlya's ex-fiancée called in as a possible suicide. Margaret, in her superhero complex with firefighting, authorized a phone ping without a warrant for Josh. Shanlya brought this up to Captain Sundheim, but nothing happened.

Molly was Shanlya's best friend. They worked well together. That upset Margaret, so she targeted them. One instance was a trainee who left for various reasons and sent a letter disparaging Molly, Shanlya, and Lacie. Margaret sat Shanlya down, slid the letter across the table and threatened to write her up for a hostile work environment. She wrote, "This will not get you fired." Shanlya gave Lacie a heads-up after that meeting. Lacie was asked and said that the things in the letter were true.

One time Beth did not make it to a meeting, so Margaret read Beth's letter calling in out loud. At the meeting, Margaret said, "Raise your hand if you think I play favorites." Beth wanted a break from the 12-hour shifts. For the upcoming schedule changes and bidding process, Margaret asked for suggestions for a shift for Beth. Shanlya brought up suggestions to Margaret. Margaret responded that she did not want to offer Beth the schedule she wanted. Instead, she wants to offer a very bad schedule to cause Beth to quit.

When Shanlya was interviewed for Lead in July 2023 there were two rounds of interviews. Margaret asked her during the panel: "Do you need a minute? I know you have anxiety."

A co-worker was struggling with 12-hour shifts and mental health issues, Margaret said it was Amanda Wright. Margaret approved of a meeting in which Juana was allowed to bad mouth a new hire the entire meeting. Margaret said that a dispatcher complained that she does not like to be talked down to by Lacie.

Lacie was on an extended leave for a suicide attempt. No one was allowed to talk about it, but then Margaret was upset that someone did not know what Lacie was going through. Margaret asked for on-call schedules. She spent up to three months on FMLA. There was a few days of notice and it resulted in 13 days in a row for Shanlya. On a different occasion, Lacie was arrested at work. Margaret told them not to punch a card. The arresting officer asked for the incident number. Margaret said that Jackie told her not to punch a card.

Lt. Lackey recently moved and threatened to have Shanlya killed because she was friends with the officer she liked. Margaret said, was she drunk?

The shift she wanted she did not get. She wanted to switch shifts. Margaret wanted to make Shanlya work a shift where she would never see her fiancée. Jenna said the same thing on another occasion of schedule change.

Shanlya's boyfriend was told to be watched. Officers take longer lunches. Lieutenants told sergeants to watch their lunches. He was told, "you know what it looks like when your car has not moved for 35 minutes." Alluding to him having sexual relations during lunch. Other interdepartmental relationships are not as closely monitored. If you are good at your job, Margaret will target you. Other dispatchers have issues with dating an officer mindset. People deem workplace relationships as unprofessional. She was pulled for random drug tests frequently (see below) and now her boyfriend too.

Margaret did not hire a trainee because the trainee was in therapy. Margaret has said publicly that she has to speak to Shanlya in a special way. Margaret claims untruthfully that she has special meetings to communicate with Shanlya to appear to provide an ADA accommodation.

Shanlya always passes drug tests. However, the way she is pulled is inconsistent with others. She is notified a week ahead, via text, email, etc. which she does not believe she should receive. Once she asked Margaret if she should take a painkiller. Margaret said yes, and then Shanlya was hit with a drug test. Shanlya was drug tested in five out of six quarters. So, she asked for the policy and suddenly she stopped being pulled for drug tests.

When she got employee of the year, a lieutenant asked her how she was doing because she had high blood pressure. She has no idea how he could know that except from Margaret.

To illustrate Margaret's inability to lead, when the officer committed suicide Margaret did not think she had to come in. She asked Sean if he thinks she should come in. Also, Margaret did not allow dispatchers to participate in the debrief. They received no information, and it was just assumed that Shanlya knew about it.

During the fair, a shift was having difficulty scheduling. She was asked if she was willing to take vacation time and work the fair and then come back to work the rest of the shift. At the time Shanlya asked if Margaret could authorize OT for coverage of dispatch while the fair was going on. The answer was that then people would use it as an excuse for not working the fair. So, only two dispatchers working dispatch were allowed.

Additionally, Margaret quoted pay for working the fair at $50/hour. They were paid the lower amount of $46/hour because the City had to pay taxes. Margaret never answers the phone when you need her. Once an entire shift called out and she could not be reached. Shanlya was dealing with having to find one of two people. But when Margaret came in, she was upset about a broken cabinet door. Instead of thanking her for finding coverage, she said "the door." Shanlya was authorized by Margaret to violate City policy – she worked a 17-hour shift which was needed without a break and a seven-hour break between that shift and Shanlya's next shift. Being reliable and dependable was turned into a punishment.

A dispatcher on the day shift said would be in late. Beth did nothing with the information and was passed into Shanlya's shift, so she worked a 16-hour shift in a 13 stretch. Jeanne was on her way so Shanlya asked Margaret if she wanted her to stay. And Margaret kept saying it's up to you, it's up to you. Shanlya was a person who came in to cover a shift and Margaret gave her attitude.

When Shanlya was promoted, her seniority zeroed out. So, when shift bids for 10-hour shifts came up they did how seniority was selected. Then it was by hire date. She found out this about a meeting with Captain Sundheim regarding seniority. Jeanne attacked Shanlya on the floor. Jackie did not speak to Shanlya for three years because Jeanne made up a story about Shanlya saying Jackie was incompetent. Margaret knows of Jeanne's bad attitude.

Margaret has told others that Shanlya neglected her dog to go out and party. She accused Shanlya of causing one of the K-9s to have to go to the veterinarian because it took a bone out of the garbage. She said Shanlya's fiancée kept adding majors in college because he did not love Shanlya anymore. Margaret is wishy-washy and has no structure at all. Even When McPeak was manager, there was a level of frustration and she could be catty, but at least McPeak could do the job.

A meeting was called with HR about the lunches. It used to be that as long as there was coverage, they could take a lunch. Dispatchers were asked if going to unpaid lunches is preferable. The one-hour meeting turned into a three-hour meeting. They tried to convince them to go to unpaid lunches. If they were picking up lunch for someone then they would be able to stay clocked in.

There was no policy against letting officers come into dispatch. Margaret confronted an officer about how he was getting into dispatch. Molly and Shanlya are cold in dispatch and lock boxes are put in the thermostats. A key was available to change it. Margaret hid the key when it was just the two of them working. There is a camera, but she suspects there is not supposed to be anything on screens. She suspects it is an issue for the FBI and NCIC.

If Margaret were removed from her position, the department would still run the same. She adds nothing. She tried to move the schedule for Christmas and tried to delay the schedule change. Margaret stated that they are expected to make sacrifices for the department. Juana sent this copying Margaret. Margaret allowed mistreatment by Juana. She either allowed it or participated in it. No one checks on Margaret. Shanlya is bringing this forward because she would feel terrible if she did not say anything. Margaret broke the trust they used to have in each other. Twenty-eight dispatchers were lost under Margaret. 50-70 percent of the staff.

She has received notices of the Minot Police Department Policy Manual yearly. The employee handbook is a work in progress. A policy manual has been in the works for dispatch. The grievance procedure was never formally explained. She followed the chain of command. She dislikes reaching out to HR because they will copy the boss. No one in the Center will advocate for her.

Beth Sorenson

Koelbel interviewed Beth Sorenson on October 11, 2024, at 6:00 p.m. CT. She has been a dispatcher for 14.5 years. She is now a Lead. Before Chief Klug, there was Chief Olson. Before Chief Olsen, it was Chief Balentine.

The PSAP Managers were DeVawn Beckman, McPeak, and Margaret Haugen. Last year, Chief Klug started to meet with the dispatchers to try to fix dispatch. Beth thought it was going to happen sooner. Otherwise, the interactions were minimal. The meetings are almost awkward. One year in the new center, she saw him a handful of times. During the time the meetings were going on last year, one day it was so busy that when he popped in no one was in the mood to talk.

Captain Sundheim, Margaret, Chief Klug, and Monica participated. In one of the first meetings, they said "if you are holding any grudges" let it go. She agrees. Before Lacie was a lead, there were three leads at the time. She was looking around the room thinking that she did not hold grudges against anyone. Beth made a special effort to let Jenna know that she was not holding any grudges against her. Jenna was burned out. She quit before Christmas last year.

They tried to do the meetings every month. They would say things like you are not guaranteed your schedule. There is no consideration of seniority. In middle meetings when Chief Klug would have interactions with the attendees, Chief Klug would say that he, as a manager, has the ability to replace his staff when he wants to. That was his philosophy. Chief was having some issues with his health or his wife's health. In later meetings, it became: if anyone had any problems with anyone in particular then let's set up a meeting. Communications have not been the greatest. Beth told him that she did not agree with his philosophy. That did not change his mind. She did not get the feeling that he had any intention to change. Sean Christy expressed frustration with him. It was Sean and Jenna on one side and Beth felt bad for Margaret.

Beth has an interesting relationship with Captain Sundheim. A good working relationship now. In 2021, she was writing evaluations for dispatchers. She went a year without any meaningful communication with Margaret. In November 2022, she wrote evaluations for Jackie and Jeanne and showed them to them to see how they would react. She was getting information about what they thought they could improve. She was accused of presenting evaluations before they were supposed to be presented. No one talked to her before she was pulled into the hot seat. She thought she was getting fired. He did not get her side of the story. She wonders if the people she was trying to support have anything to do with it. They knew those were not the final evaluations. Was Jeanne stirring the pot? Margaret said, "you are not giving them the evaluations, are you?" He did say to get feedback from your people. Any snarky comments were not hers. She was asked whether there was any constructive feedback for any of your people. Jackie provided some things she wanted to improve on. Do you or don't you understand this? He asked if she thought she should be a supervisor still. She was okay with being demoted.

Beth worked primarily on the day shift. For months no one was talking to her. With McPeak, at least she got some feedback as to what was wrong. Margaret's attitude is if you don't like it then oh well. Maybe some did not have enough training. But really, they did not receive great support from Margaret.

This past year has been okay. There is a lot of drama as dispatchers, because of the nature of the job and being confined in the space. As a way to stand up for herself, Beth built a wall of Clorox containers akin to a wall of cereal boxes from childhood.

When the City Manager reached out for a meeting, she was off. The City Manager had a meeting with a small group of dispatchers who could not make it to the main meeting. She was tired of having her days off interrupted. They do not care about their off time.

She does not agree with the break policy. Dispatch is considered non-essential. Shifts started with eight hours. Always tried to get a break when there were enough people. During COVID it became 12-hour shifts and two-person shifts minimum. Stress is high. They can at least go to the bathroom. When McPeak was PSAP, there were discussions about switching to ten hours. At the most recent meeting, Margaret brings up the portable radio again, which means that essentially there would be no breaks ever.

Night shift is three days on four days off. She advocated for days off together. Changes are made with little to no discussion. Two-person shifts are much more commonplace. If people wanted OT they would come in and cover lunches. There was favoritism in that as well. There is no actual discussion. Juana nipped in the bud. If you want guaranteed lunch, you have to work 12.5 hours. More people would have been more stressed and burnt out. They are not robots. They are humans.

There needs to be ways to mitigate the burnout. She used to get migraines. At the last meeting, they brought in walkie-talkie radios. Two people have to be in the Dispatch Center. They do not leave City Hall. They have phones, so they did not need the walkie-talkies.

With regards to attendance, Monica was there, but the decision was already made with Margaret and Captain Sundheim. She does not think about going to Human Resources. But often she feels they already made the decisions. She is waiting for Margaret to get back to her about the walkie-talkies. She has plenty of PTO to not have to carry around walkie-talkies.

On two-person days she does not leave the center. Dispatchers are different than police officers. Dispatchers need a mental break. They don't really use them. It is better to have a break and come back refreshed. Officers are not listening to all the channels that dispatchers are watching.

Jeanne, being closer to Margaret, directs the flow with dispatch. This may have caused more conflict between Margaret and Juana. Beth tried several times to do the scheduling, but it was never accepted because of Jeanne and conflict with Juana. Gossip about Juana and told Juana. The undercurrent of undermining people. Even though she was not the greatest Assistant PSAP. Juana bridged some of the communication. Even with Juana, they were moving in a more positive direction. She had more hope. Discipline was mob rule.

The new Assistant PSAP manager is on their side as far as really understanding what they need. Communication has increased. He is new as of July 2024. Wayne is receiving more respect from other dispatchers. He wrote the book. Dispatch is not for everyone. Have to be okay with chaotic environments. Training-wise, a little lacking. She was trying to keep Wayne out of the drama. His impression of the dispatchers was that they were tired. The Chief even with the meetings did not get that. He was okay with replacing people.

She is still friends with the first PSAP manager. The former manager did not know what was going on. They went to lunch, but did not talk about dispatch that much. Towards the end of the lunch, she could tell Beth was upset. She listened, because she cared about their employees.

It is hard for her to believe that Margaret is sincere. She should have communicated with her the Leads and not through people below her. The 360 survey felt like it went mob rule. She did not like seeing that happen to Margaret, but it is like she created the situation herself. Beth told someone that she feels Margaret does not talk to her and the response was "Consider yourself lucky."

Dispatchers do not have time to look at the policies, because they are so busy. When Juana was around, she had to do a discipline on Jeanne. Not a lot of time to look up the policy to do that. She knows there is an employee handbook online. She received a paper copy years ago. Thinks there was an email letting them know it is available electronically.

For complaints, she follows the chain of command. Some information circulating on the floor. She tried to nip the gossiping in the bud to avoid negativity.

Jeanne Alves

Koelbel interviewed Jeanne Alves on October 15, 2024, at 11:00 a.m. CT. She has been at the department for 15 years, two years part-time, nine years then part-time time then back to full-time. She is a Senior Dispatcher.

Jeanne does not see Chief Klug at Dispatch. On occasion, he will come in and stare. No meetings except for one time when the whole police department met in 2022. He was being accused of some sort of allegations and he was open to comments or questions.

There were a lot of issues with comp time and they went to management for answers from the Chief. He said to follow the chain of command. Reached out a couple of times about the change in the system. Dispatch works every day 24 hours a day. They are paid extra on holidays, but only on recognized days. She never got a response. It was finally fixed on a new pay system – ADP. Dispatchers had a lot of questions about pay etc. She gets emails communicating the changes. She did go to the manager before going to the Chief.

She felt Lacie was abusing COVID sick leave. Lacie is close with the Chief. He said he did not feel Lacie was abusing the policy. Lacie was allowed to do everything including take eight-hour lunches.

She interacts with Captain Sundheim about the same as the Chief. It is not useful as he says things like you are the problem, you need to work on yourself, you are the problem. Juana was using certain people, her favorites, to take time off and not have to put in for. She went to Margaret about it and talked to the Captain, but there is nothing they could or would do about it.

Jeanne went to Margaret to report so many issues. Margaret does nothing about them. She just sits there and nothing gets done. Morale is getting worse. She is a poor leader and plays favorites.

She asked Margaret for counseling services and it was ignored. Even with what they do daily, they need to talk about certain calls but they are just required to do the job and shut up. They do not care about their mental health. They are not being taken care of. She has been feeling this way for a very long time. It is frustrating. Dispatchers provide mental health services, and no one cares about them. Has been feeling this way for a long time. Recently, the Department started counseling sessions for the officers, but it is supposed to include the dispatchers. More officer-oriented and dispatch is left out. Margaret does not stand up for them.

Some people like 12-hour shifts. These shifts are not physically or mentally healthy. They get no breaks and no lunches. They cannot walk away, cannot catch a breath. She has gained 50 pounds. She eats nonstop, because there is no coping. They respond that it is what they are supposed to do.

On nights Jeanne was asked to switch to work with Beth, because Lacie needed a six-week break. Informed Margaret about Beth, who is a Lead. Beth is hostile, does not listen, thinks all is about her, and only wants to talk about her problems.

Talked to Margaret about harassment by Lacie. A few weeks ago, Lacie asked Jeanne if she wanted to make out. She used to walk behind you and grab your breast. This was about two years ago. Margaret is aware. Margaret's response is I will talk to her. She does not know if she talked to Lacie or not. Margaret says she will do something and never does.

One night she received a call from a girl with a head injury, and it turned out that it was Lacie who dropped her off at the hospital. She should have been charged with a DUI. She went to jail. Lacie received a write-up. The police served a warrant and she left. The girl at the emergency room told her that she was with Lacie driving the ATV. Nothing criminal ever happened with that.

Margaret kept sending out all of the changes she wanted. Margaret was the reason she quit. There were over 51 emails she wanted to change, but provided no way to implement. There was a reason they did it that way.

Certain fire departments were asking to be notified first, but there was no way to implement it. Jeanne understood that the order was to notify the Fire Department before providing CPR instructions or other emergency help. Margaret told them this is what the Fire Department wants and therefore this is what the dispatchers have to do. Margaret just forwarded the email from the Fire Department to the dispatchers and expected the dispatchers to just do whatever the Fire Department wanted. Just like this example, Margaret says yes to everything from external orders, but never asks the actual dispatchers how to implement or provide any guidance on how to do it. When questions are asked, she says she is going to look into it but never gets back to them. Jeanne does not see much leadership in dispatch because Margaret just tries to please all of the outside entities without coming up with a program and process. .

When Jeanne was working night shifts with Margaret right out of training, Margaret would be outside smoking. Margaret hardly ever took calls. Told PSAP at the time about Margaret not doing anything and asked to circulate how many calls everyone was taking. The report was sent out once and showed Margaret was not taking as many calls as everyone else. Margaret made it horrible and miserable. Margaret wrote Jeanne a nasty letter which she turned in and should be on her file.

Jeanne hoped there would not be any issues, but she knew she would be a bad PSAP. Jeanne thinks Margaret got it because she knew people. Jeanne also applied for the position once she heard Margaret applied. She has been there the longest other than Beth.

Jeanne was written up to death under Juana. Juana would be training right behind Jeanne and Jackie's area and would demand that they not talk while they train. Jeanne asked what they were doing for the day. Beth pulled her aside and was shaking and the next day she was written up by Beth and Juana and that is when Jeanne went to Captain Sundheim.

Everyone she works with is always complaining about the 12-hour shifts. They have no workout room. And do not have time to use the relaxation room. You don't want to relax in there you want to get away. One day the fire alarm went off and no one could shut it off they had to call the Fire Department, but they could not get in. It seems that no research was done on the dispatch location and the one request, the gym, was not provided. When she brought up the need to get away, they said that's why they got such a big center so they could live there. No one wants to live there. Margaret sent out an email asking for coverage and Jeanne suggested instead of burning people out, she should be able to jump in and cover. Another fire alarm went off. [redacted] had to go to the hospital because her blood pressure was so high.

Most recent example, this year at the fair, Jeanne was working doubles to cover the fair. Jeanne asked how much they would get paid, and Margaret said $50.00. When asked, why they were paid $46. Margaret did not know. She got a hold of payroll and they responded. The response was that they had to pay someone else and that is why the pay was lowered. Margaret tried to be sneaky about a shift that she was told she had to work because no one volunteered for it. Margaret ended up working it when after offering "special pay" there were still no volunteers.

Wayne would like to implement and put in some changes. He is stuck and cannot do anything yet. He is very productive and asks for input. He has an open-door policy. And when you say something to him, he actually gives feedback. At first because of the conditioning from her experience in the past, whenever Wayne would approach her she would get a sinking feeling in the pit of her stomach, she was always afraid she was in trouble.

Favoritism and special treatment are allowed especially with the 12-hour shift. Twelve-hour shifts used to be an emergency shift when shifts were eight hours.

Sometimes she received an email from the Lexipol system that there had been updates to the Police Department policy book. When she was hired she was given an employee handbook in paper format. She does not believe there is a structured grievance policy. She has sent many emails to her supervisors and requested appointments with the Captain. They tell her "don't come to me without solutions" management's job is to look for smoke.

Jenna Hurt

Koelbel interviewed Jenna Hurt on October 15, 2024, at 6:00 p.m. CT. She started in dispatch in August 2012 and until December 2023. She was a Lead.

They had been working on policies for dispatch separate from the Police Department. Never got them officially established. She was injured in April of 2022. She broke her wrist in two places and went to work. She had surgery and after two weeks was back to work on light duty. She could not type fast to take calls. So, she spent two weeks working on the processes that the former PSAP started regarding the dress code. She submitted it to Margaret then it sat on Captain Sundheim's desk. There is no follow-up or follow-through. Kept following up with Captain Sundheim, who said he would check with Chief Klug.

People were late all the time. She followed up on employees stealing time. By the time they looked into it, it was recorded over.

Margaret should be right there being investigated with Chief Klug. She created such a hostile work environment. She would pit them against each other. Went to Captain Sundheim and the 360 eval happened, but then there was no follow-up. Margaret got better for a bit and then nothing changed. Scheduling was taken away from her, because her scheduling made people mad. Jenna started to make the schedule. Jenna was told to cut overtime. People complained to Margaret and would say bad things about Jenna. It appears that one can be arrested at work in dispatch and still have a job there.

Captain Sundheim was the Shift Commander and Jenna used to have amazing respect for him. FBI model dispatch was placed under Captain Sundheim, so he had dispatch and patrol.

There were meetings with the Lead team. Margaret on the floor bullied Juana, the second Assistant PSAP. They would openly argue with each other in front of everyone. Tami, the first Assistant PSAP passed away in a motorcycle accident.

Margaret made it impossible. Insane stuff trainees go through. Captain Sundheim and Chief Klug knew about it. They all went to McLeod during exit interviews. They tried for years to get the training program straight.

There are no standards. People on the night shift were ignoring calls and watching TV. Nothing ever happened to them. There was inconsistency in discipline.

They had weekly, then monthly meetings during which Chief Klug said: I don't even know why you are here if you are so miserable. Jenna knew then and there that nothing was going to change.

There was no sense in going to Margaret. Anything you went to her with, the entire department would know. They started fact-checking with each other based on the lies that Margaret spread.

The Center is terrible for mental health. They were promised treadmills and an exercise room. They made such a big deal about mental health after Pat's suicide. Everything went right back to how it was and no one cared. The solution they provided was three fancy TV screens that were supposed to be their windows. It was supposed to be this grand center. Safety in general was not looked at. They asked for five spots to be lit up in the parking lot. They said they would install lights and security cameras after the City Hall personnel moved in. An officer was beaten up by homeless people.

Margaret is a yes-woman. During the five or six years in which Margaret led the team it was a horrible situation. She is grossly underqualified. She had the most time of all of them. Carrie Steele applied for the position and some external applicants. There was inconsistency and a lack of leadership. It was already not an ideal situation but then with Margaret it went downhill. At the end of the day, McPeak at least had their backs.

Jenna left her pension and took a pay cut just to get out of there. She misses the officers, misses the job. She continued doing the community stuff but could not continue working for that leadership. Lack of communication. She is still close with some of them. Sgt. Foley looked so defeated during a community event. You try to do something to better the Department and you get shut down. One of the officers was talking to her. He mentioned the badge numbers were up to 462. When they do another number crunch, he will be 413 because so many officers left. He is an investigator.

Mental health was not a priority for the department even before Pat's suicide. Not one person came in to check on them. They worked on the same shift for eight years.

Jenna works at the advocacy center now. People ask if she would ever go back. At the end of the day, the damage is done. She is trying to make it better for the ones that remain.

They tried to figure out how to stop people from leaving. Margaret asked for scheduling ideas when she had no intention of implementing anything. Emails, stupid things like evaluations, she had them complete them themselves and would add a little word here and there. She never jumped on to assist, especially when they worked 12-hour shifts with no breaks. She and Jackie worked 12-hour shifts every day by themselves.

Before they would get weekends off every six months. At least with the 12 hours, they got every other weekend off. People at night worked a different rotation. It was always the same people helping with overtime. Some PTO rules may have been illegal. Shanlya figured out that they were not being properly paid, but the response was that they may end up owing the City money instead.

Retention speaks volumes. Chloe left two weeks before Jenna left. Molly Schoen left right after she did. Molly and her leaving would have improved morale she was told. They were very vocal about all the issues in dispatch. Chief did not take ownership of the things he kept allowing to happen.

Margaret said when Jenna was leaving that she was sorry she bullied Jenna. Out with the old and in with the new.

Kevin Cory

Koelbel interviewed Kevin Cory on October 17, 2024, at 11:30 p.m. CT. Kevin is a former police officer who left in June or July of 2020. Kevin was a Patrol Officer hired in 2015. In 2019, he was promoted to Senior Officer, and in February 2020 he was promoted to Master Officer.

Kevin spoke to Councilman Rob Fuller regarding the overall process of how his termination happened. Everything was going well during his employment and in 2019 started noticing everything going downhill. Kevin was involved in a traffic stop that resulted in a lawsuit. The lawsuit alleged excessive force on his part and of another officer. When the stop occurred, Chief Olson was Chief. Kevin was disciplined with three days of unpaid leave and a letter to file.

The lawsuit was in 2020 after Chief Klug became Chief. A settlement was reached. After that, when he was part of the crime scene team and training, Kevin was put on paid administrative leave and had to stay home while an internal investigation occurred. He was not told why except for the use of excessive force in the past. Kevin contacted FOP to obtain representation. In mid-June, he was contacted by McLeod to come in at the height of the COVID pandemic. Before any conversation began, Kevin requested that the attorney join. He was told that it was not possible to postpone when his attorney was not able to join. McLeod said he did not want the attorney on the phone. They were going to review the prior incidents. After scoffing McLeod allowed Kevin to call his attorney. He sat with Lieutenant McLeod with his attorney on the phone. They went over the calls for service including the one involved in the litigation again. This was the only instance in which he was reprimanded. They went through five or six instances in which there was use of force. McLeod's demeanor is very confrontational, or abrasive. McLeod was asking questions such as "Did you fear for your safety?"

In those five or six instances in which force was used, he created a report which was turned in to his Shift Lieutenant for review and then passed on to the Administrative Lieutenant, who would review and file. If something looks wrong, then it goes to the Patrol Captain. First, it was Captain White then in 2017 or 2018 Klug became Patrol Captain. Kevin would never see the report again unless something needed clarification. Kevin was trained in empty-hand controls up to lethal force. 2% required the use of force in all calls he had been involved in.

After the meeting, Kevin was told to go home and wait for further instructions. Kevin was contacted on July 15 via a call from Chief Klug. Kevin had 20 minutes to report to the Police Department and went into Chief Klug's office with Captain Sundheim present. At the table, there was a packet on where he was sitting. Chief Klug went over the packet, which was the findings of the internal investigation. They had found some violation in every call for service they went over in five years. Some violations were for the use of force and/or standard of conduct. Chief Klug stated: "I am not going to downplay it; the decision is that you have to be terminated or resign."

Kevin did not agree with the findings, they were not fair or accurate. He did not feel comfortable responding and needed to talk to his attorney, but could not get a hold of him. He asked if could try again and was told "No, you already had that chance." Kevin paused for a long time stunned thinking about what he could do. There was no opportunity to dispute the findings, no matter what he was told he would be terminated. They eventually said that Kevin could dispute it afterward. Chief Klug said "I don't think you should be a cop."

Kevin wanted to be a cop since he was a kid. He cried. He said he did not want to be fired. It would cause him to lose his peace officer (post) license. Then opted to resign. He was told to sign the paperwork. It stated that he agreed with every finding. He said he did not agree. They went back and forth. He again asked for his attorney. His stomach was still turning. He asked what will happen with a license if he resigns. Chief Klug said he would turn in the paperwork that said resignation. Kevin did not want to deal with it anymore. He signed, since it was the only way to resign from the Police Department. He asked for some time to re-compose himself. Then grabbed his belongings and turned in his gear.

The Union informed Kevin that the process for grievance would be to the City Manager to decide. At the time it was a temporary City Manager. There was a low chance of the City Manager disagreeing with the Chief. He was told to weigh his options. Found out four to five months later when applying to another police department, there was an issue with his peace officer license. Had to speak to the Post Board. Chief Klug submitted it as a termination. It was finally resolved, and he was able to renew.

Chief Klug is power hungry and abused power in Police Department and was a poor choice to hire him. It just seemed like he did not care for Kevin as an officer. He was also that way towards Jenna Bjork and Heather Summers, very standoffish. It felt like high school from day one. During the time he was to be disciplined with three days unpaid, Kevin asked Chief Olson to split the days up who agreed. When he went to Captain Klug to arrange the days as one a week he flat out said it was ridiculous. If it was up to him, Kevin would be fired. He split it up between two pay periods.

Kevin went to EAP after the incident. He found out that Chief Klug's wife was a counselor there. EAP is a program that provides access to counselors. Maggie Klug is a counselor accessible through the City's EAP program. Corey states that through EAP, Maggie Klug did not use the last name of "Tygart" or "Klug." He asked if it was that Maggie Klug because Kevin did not feel comfortable with her. He could not schedule with anyone else then when he said he would seek help elsewhere, the EAP provider was able to provide him another counselor.

Maggie was an evidence technician around 2016 and went by her maiden name Tygart. In 2017 she was very rude at the Police Department. Around 2018, in the spring or summer training, she was part of new officer training. When she came to do a training, she was walking with Captain Klug and said "you didn't want to see me? Are you afraid I am going to spill all your secrets?"

Kevin is thankful to Councilman Fuller and the investigation for finally allowing him to talk about this. It was a huge weight on his shoulders these past four years.

Kevin had access to the Police Department policies, via LERMS where all the electronic policies. He also had access to the HR handbook and policies. He wasn't too familiar with the grievance policy. He looked them up when going through an internal investigation in June 2020. He wanted to know what would happen if he did not agree with the findings of the investigation. Found the policy.

Jenna Bjork

Koelbel interviewed Jenna Bjork on October 17, 2024, at 1:00 p.m. CT. Jenna began in May or March of 2015 as a Dispatcher. She moved to patrol in December 2015. Police Department provided her with training. She was promoted to Senior Officer three years in and Master Officer in five years. In October 2022, she left the Department.

Before he was Chief, Chief Klug was Captain of Investigations in 2016 right after she started. She started dating another officer in the Department and tried to keep it quiet. After a breakup, he started breaking into her house at night. Filing fake cases to get footage of where she was and with whom. The ex-boyfriend was Matt Bunk and is no longer there. The ex-boyfriend told her a protection order would not help her. Once he started screaming at her in the parking lot. Jenna told Sergeant Sundheim who told her to talk to Captain Klug. She went to him and showed him her cell phone. Captain Klug responded that Officer Bunk told him that Jenna would say those things. She had to have her doors and windows repaired and received no support. If she conducted an investigation the way Captain Klug conducted his investigation, she would be disciplined. That officer was good friends with Captain Klug. She was a new officer, so when she reported she was told that it was nothing.

Chief Klug has a crappy personality. He is very reactive, volatile, and emotional. After he was selected as Chief in 2020, she was assigned to investigations. His leadership was to do as I say not as I do. He seems like the guy who was bullied in high school. He made them feel like they were replaceable. In news articles when he was interviewed he referred to new officers as puppy dogs who did not know any better. She did not provide the news article. This was soon after he became Chief which was awful timing to be saying those things about the police, right after George Floyd.

Pat Blanchard was her partner. She wondered if things would have turned out differently if issues were addressed. Pat had gone to a SWAT call drunk. He blew a .16 over the legal limit. Pat was not allowed to train with SWAT for months. He should have been arrested. The Chief put a target on Pat's back. Pat got to keep his job because everyone liked him. Once Pat responded to a call of a young woman in her early 20s with suicidal ideations. Then called off all backups. He left the scene, changed his clothes went back to the woman's house, and had sex with her. The woman came in the next day and tried to file a complaint. These occurred in early 2022, maybe in Fall/Winter 2021. She did not look into it. Pat died in December 2022.

Jenna is from San Diego. She worked hard to build a reputation and quit, because she saw that the department was spiraling. The Department was going down the drain. She did not want to be associated with Minot. They were very short-handed. No one was ever getting off on time. It was exhausting. Even with the heavy nature of the job, the hardest part of the job was the staff and leadership.

Chief Klug never spoke a word to Jenna after Pat's incident. She only heard from the current interim Chief.

She filed a grievance once against a woman in HR around February/March 2022. Brittany Thurston (her last name was Rust) was sleeping with Jenna's boyfriend who had been a firefighter for three years. She told Sergeant Joshua Noyes and asked what to do and he said there was nothing to do. Brittany was dating a cokehead. Once when they were pulled over, she switched seats with him and was arrested for DUI. She came into the department and said what she did. Brittany used to score the test one takes to promote, which was a huge conflict of interest, since they were at odds.

Jenna never got a raise in January one year. In December, she noticed it and went to Cheryl in the administration for the Police Department. She kept arguing with Jenna. She then emailed HR and received $4,000 in back pay.

Sergeant Lackey was promoted over others to Lieutenant. She was known for always getting into bar fights.

Sergeant Noyes approved a surgery she was going to undergo. The surgery was on February 14, 2022. She had the surgery. When she handed in sick leave, Lisa Jundt emailed saying she needed to talk to her because Jenna's lieutenant told Lisa that Jenna was having elective surgery and she would have to use vacation time instead of sick time. Someone else was able to use sick time, a pill popper, and Jenna herself had been approved for other surgeries, such as her ACL surgery, which was operated on three times. When asked if she was going to hold everyone accountable to the same standard, she said no. HR pulled 180 hours of her vacation time. Lisa is good friends with Brittany. Four weeks after the surgery when she came back from leave, asking what was going on, Jenna went to Harold and Harold reversed the decision.

They tried firing her in between her previous surgeries. Chief Olson had approved it. While healing, they brought her in and tried to fire her. They told her she would have to reapply when she returned.

Jenna filed a formal grievance on that and sent it to Chief Klug, Lisa, and Captain Sundheim. Sundheim had been good to her.

Jenna had access electronically to the Police Department Policy Manual and the Employee Handbook. She was aware that the grievance procedure was in the Police Department Handbook.

Matt Pappenfus

Koelbel interviewed Matt Pappenfus on October 17, 2024, at 3:00 p.m. CT. Matt worked for the Police Department from May 2013 until April 2023. Matt was on patrol for the majority of the time and then in investigations, because of light duty. In 2021 he was promoted to Patrol Sergeant. Other specialties are FTO negotiations, SWAT, and K-9.

Matt received a paper copy of the Police Department Policies and it was switched to electronic in 2015 for policy updates. The Employee Handbook is available electronically. Regarding a grievance procedure, everyone knows that it is there. He cannot tell what it is even in his current employment in a union state. And HR was in the same building.

The bad incident he had with Chief Klug was when he left. Chief Klug changed his letter of resignation without letting him know.

Five or six months before, Matt informed Captain Sundheim and Chief Klug that he was leaving to prepare them. He notified them that they would be contacted. Matt had a baby. He tried to use some benefits. When Matt asked HR, they said he did not have benefits based on the day of the resignation letter. Matt reached out to Chief Klug, who said he was doing a tour and agreed to meet Matt later. Matt sat around for a few hours. Captain Sundheim spoke to him then Chief Klug. Matt explained the situation. Matt was on sick time for the newborn and doctor's visits for his knee. The Chief can approve or deny sick time. He denied it and changed his resignation. Matt agreed to come back to work for two weeks. More discussions were had that night. The date was changed to two weeks sooner and then changed to two days sooner. Matt wanted to discuss it, but was told that Chief was too busy and did not have time. Matt contacted FOP to talk about the options. Then made an appointment to meet with Harold. Harold agreed to pay out the vacation time and was able to use the insurance. He was just going to approve his sick time, but received the vacation payout. Matt would have gone back and worked if necessary.

When Chief Klug was a Captain, he heard rumors, but his observations were that Chief Klug is very type A and wanted to control everything. Matt learned how he worked. The Chief was a boss. Matt thinks they should have gone outside of the department, but a lieutenant or captain told him that the evil you know is better than the evil you don't know referring to knowing what the Chief is like.

As for others, Captain Sundbakken who was in charge of training was terrible with the process. Officers would submit for things and Captain Sundbakken would pass it on and no one would ever hear back from him. Lieutenant Wegner had an issue with what he was saying or his leadership, but nothing came of it. The ineffective process could have always been that way, but when Matt became a supervisor, he came to notice it.

Matt left because he moved to Minnesota to a job with better benefits. He did not leave, because there was lots of drama at the Minot Police Department.

Erik Laudenschlager

Koelbel interviewed Erik Laudenschlager on October 23, 2024, at 11:00 a.m. CT. Erik was with the Police Department since November 2009. He was in Parking Control for about one year and then became a Patrol Officer, Senior Patrol, and Master Patrol. In June 2022, he left the department. He was also a K-9 handler and commander of the bomb squad when he resigned.

Erik does not recall ever looking at the Police Department Policies. They were not readily accessible. Erik was aware of the employee handbook. He was not aware of a grievance procedure, not at all. Erik grew up in the Minot Police Department. Erik's dad started at the same time as Chief Klug. He was a Sergeant. Erik knew Chief Klug for an extended period.

Progressing through his career Erik worked with him. Erik had a decent perception until around 2021-2022. There were no issues until he became the Chief. Some things were swept under the rug. A few incidents in which at the time he received little to no reprimand. Issues were documented as many people were aware of them.

Towards the end of his dad's career, his dad retired, and Klug became Chief, Erik was going through the process to make sergeant. The process is one takes a test and interview aggregated with years of service, training hours, and education. Then there is a second interview with the Chief and Command Staff. The process is to pick someone out of the top 3. Eric was on his third of fourth rotation of making the final three. Erik was told by other supervisors "You have K-9." There is an unwritten rule. Captain Steve Whitesell, retired, Captain and Acting Chief Dale Plessas, Lieutenant Scott Redding have told him that as a K-9 handler, you will not be promoted until your dog is ready to retire. He understood it. His dog had six years until it retired. He was told that he was good at your job and to keep doing what he was doing. Erik never had any citizen complaints and was not a problem employee.

Erik participated in three promotional processes. The last go around, one of the K-9 officers, a fresh K-9 handler, was selected for promotion when Erik's dog was set to retire at the end of the year. The new K-9 handler had less than six years, he had just gotten dog certified and had some issues with the use of force. It was Matt Pappenfus. Then shortly after being promoted, Matt moved away. He did not stay longer than a year.

Erik requested a meeting with Chief Klug. Erik told Chief Klug, that through all the processes, he specifically asked what he could do to improve, and he was told to "keep doing what you're doing." Chief Klug looked at him, smiled, and said "What are you going to do? Where are you going to go?" Erik resigned after he gave the occurrence some thought during his set of days off. If that is how the leadership treats you, he did not want to continue working there.

Chief Klug and Erik's dad did not get along at the end of dad's career. Erik spoke with Chief Olson at the time to let him know that he was not his dad. Erik said it felt vengeful and that he was being punished for his dad.

Erik did that math and with the 12 weeks of K-9 training and an additional three weeks, it was $280,000.00 in training walking out the door. There was no animosity until this last meeting. A total of 235 years of law enforcement experience were lost under Chief Klug. He single-handedly destroyed the Minot Police Department. It will take 10 years until they recover.

Some of the good people remaining are afraid that he will just return as the Chief and they will be persecuted, because of what Klug will assume they will have said.

Stephen Kenny

Koelbel interviewed Stephen Kenny on October 23, 2024, at 1:00 p.m. CT. He worked at the Police Department from July 12, 2004, until April 29, 2023. He was told he had to leave.

He is sure that he has access to the Police Department Policy Manual and the Employee Handbook. The one time he had a grievance, Chief Klug and the three captains never talked to him. He spoke to HR.

On November 17, 2022, Stephen left work at 2 a.m. and 9 a.m. had a bad case of vertigo, and had to go to ER. It was his second episode. His daughter took him to the hospital. He was there for six hours. He let the command staff know what happened and provided doctor's notes, pictures, etc. The doctors at first thought it was the crystals in his ears. He went back and was diagnosed that it was his compressed spine caused by his 20 years in the military. They suggested physical therapy. He informed Lieutenant Haug and Lieutenant Wegner. Stephen continued having episodes and in the beginning of April, they found a tumor in his ear. Sitting in the doctor's office Stephen received a text from HR that his employment would be terminated on April 29.

They had put him on FMLA leave – 12 weeks and extended seven weeks. In 19 years, he accumulated almost 1400 hours of sick leave and 300-something hours of vacation. He kept everyone aware of what he was going through. In the past, he had messed up his shoulder and was allowed to work. When he had a broken nose, he was forced to take five days off. He had a very good work ethic. He never wanted to be off work. This is due to his military training.

They forced him to retire. HR said that the Chief should have talked to him. When he went to talk to him, everyone was gone in the PD. He could never reach anyone. He told HR that no one was talking to him. He had a scheduled operation in May, and he asked Captain Dale Plessas for some light duty until the operation. Captain Plessas told him that he would have to put a letter to the Chief and ask for permission. Stephen has seen people get all kinds of light duty and no letter was needed. Four days later when he was setting up his tumor removal operation, he received a letter from HR saying that he was terminated. In June, he anticipated that he was going to be able to go back to work.

He had been a good employee for all these years. He had to fill out all the termination paperwork and it didn't matter if he wanted to or not. Later, he could only get a hold of Captain Sundbakken who kept saying he was all good, all good. Sundbakken said he accidentally deactivated his code to get into the building.

Another employee, Aaron Moss, who retired because he did not want to go back on the road received a big send-off. Stephen had to clear out his locker. The cops who were there did not help him, because they thought he had done something wrong. He wanted to retire this year in April. He stood on the sidewalk outside the Police Department at a complete loss as to what had happened.

Other observations, if Klug was fighting with his wife, he did not hear from anybody. Otherwise, Stephen and Klug trusted each other. Stephen is 10 years older than the Chief. Chief Klug was on an apology tour for something that happened years ago under Chief Balentine when Klug was dating his current wife. During a briefing, he was apologizing for it, because someone posted it online. Stephen's grandson was hired the day Stephen was terminated. The Chief pulled his grandson aside and told him about the incident that happened during Chief Balentine's time.

Lieutenant Wegner messed up a crime scene. He did not get a search warrant and Shawnee Crawl was convicted, but all the evidence and the body in the car were not allowed in. He murdered his roommate. It is a "good o boys" club in the command hall.

Stephen went back in April to HR to talk about an issue with taxes and he had still not heard from anyone.

Stephanie Lentz

Koelbel interviewed Stephanie Lentz on October 23, 2024, at 5:00 p.m. CT. She started in November 2013. She was a patrol officer for two to three years and became an investigator. She left the department on August 23, 2024.

Stephanie had access to the printed and electronic versions of the Police Department Policies and the Employee Handbook. She was never trained on the arbitration policy. Her understanding was that she had to go up the chain of command.

Initially, she had a pretty decent relationship with Chief Klug when he was captain back when she started. He promoted her to investigations. Things were going well until there was a complaint against her. He told her everything she did wrong, but would not hear her reasons.

While Klug was still Captain, one time Stephanie was off and intoxicated and was called out to a murder scene. She could not come in. She communicated with Klug and asked him if he needed her to come in. Stephanie got in trouble for lying.

As Chief, he was going to change how long you can stay in investigations. Her husband is a first responder as well. When she was pregnant, they decided that going back to patrol would be detrimental to her baby. She was five years in the investigations position so understood that under the new policy, she would have to go back to patrol. The move would be seen as a demotion. It didn't matter what she thought or how she felt about it, he did not care about them. She was not super excited about him being promoted to Chief. She was in patrol for three to four years and in a specialty role, investigation, and drone task force, for five years.

The promotion process changed from testing to basically you had to work through scenarios. She was doing well, schooling, and college were also taken into account. No one could explain the scoring. She went from number one with the scenarios to number 11 on the promotions list for the sergeant's position. She stopped even applying. She was more so upset about the way she was treated at that meeting.

As far as training, she was trained in crisis negotiation teams and domestic violence. But the majority of training was out of state. She was regularly denied because of budget issues.

No one knew that Lt. McLeod went on administrative leave which ended up being six months. So, it devolved into rumors. There are lots of different annual reviews done by a sergeant who did not even know how to do the job. Stephanie complained, but nothing ever happened. This applies to a lot of them. There is a lack of communication with everyone. There is no follow-through. No one has your back. They were doing murder investigations with just two of them. There was a lack of competence among the subordinates. Some are great leaders in the department. The ones who were as capable as her were suppressed a little bit.

Jesse Hartman

Koelbel interviewed Jesse Hartman on October 24, 2024, at 3:00 p.m. CT. He started at the Police Department when he was 36 from the Army. He was a patrol officer in 2019. He left in March of 2022, three years.

He received the Police Department Policy Manual at training you receive a thumb drive and a monthly policy review. There was not an official grievance procedure. He followed the chain of command – Sergeant to Lieutenant to Captain and the Chief.

He was hired under Chief Olson. Then two years under Chief Klug. Said hello in passing but never went directly to the Chief. He followed the chain of command.

There was no specific incident. He was in the army for 20 years, but outside experience was not acknowledged by the command. Frustrations did not lie specifically on Klug, but the whole command staff. People were leaving and no one had a reason why. He is currently a supervisor at a different police department one that had retention problems. When he left, he asked if anyone could give him a reason to stay, he would have stayed, but no one could.

When Jesse was leaving in 2022, he was given an award he received that he earned back in November of 2021 from the North Dakota Post Board. There is never any acknowledgment of the officer's good deeds. Because of COVID no one was allowed to congregate in the hallways, etc. Sergeants kind of gave up. If he brought up an issue, a dispute with a fellow police officer, he was asked how he would take care of it. He felt it was the leadership's job to figure it out. Leadership did not care about the police officers. Many seasoned officers were leaving. No one was held accountable.

The command staff was supposed to be supportive, accountable, and transparent. The command staff's job is to support their officers. He is thankful for his time at Minot Police Department. When he left there was no exit interview with HR. Nothing that Chief Klug could have said that would have changed his mind.

Inside the department, they did not know how to speak to their people. Just because someone passed a test and was promoted it did not mean they were a leader. One thing he repeatedly heard was that "that's the way we have always done...."

When all that is left are young officers without life experience it does not work. The department was short-staffed. People could not take vacations and were overworked. Working 120 hours plus no support from the Department was too much.

One Sergeant Burns was old school, but he was learning a lot of stuff all at once from him.

He sold cars for a while and has now been a Sgt for almost a year. The call volume is a lot different.

Heather Summers

Koelbel interviewed Heather Summers on October 24, 2024, at 4:30 p.m. CT. She started on August 3, 2015. She was in a patrol officer position. In January 2018, she moved to an investigation role. In Fall 2019, she was promoted to Senior Patrol Officer. She left in July 2020, just shy of the five-year mark.

She had access to the Minot Police Department Policy Manual and the Employee Handbook consistently. A grievance procedure was not communicated. It was something she had to discover on her own and did not discover until 2020 on her way out the door.

The command staff were Chief Olson, Captain Klug, Captain Sundheim, and Captain Whitesell.

Her direct supervisors were Sergeant Wilk (known for having favorites and expressed in actions – brought up to Sergeant Burns and it was brushed away) and Sergeant Lackey (terminated).

It was considered taboo to go the route of HR. In the last four years, she never heard of the grievance process.

Started having specific issues with Captain Klug. She requested light duty for being pregnant with her now six-year-old. She felt burnt out on patrol. 2018 started feeling burned out and investigations were a way to reignite her passion for her job. Now she has to go to counseling to deal with all of the issues.

Lieutenant Wegner and Captain Klug told her that she was bringing undue hardship to the department by becoming pregnant. She was put on light duty with doctor's notes specifically, unpredictable subjects, and firearms. She had asked her doctor to be very explicit, because she knew that the department would find a gray area. Going through light duty she felt like less of a person. She was not allowed to do anything and was just as much of a burden as she felt she was. She felt like a waste of space. She could not look at any case files, unless they were specifically assigned to her. Wegner made a huge deal one day when she had to get an ultrasound. When she went on maternity leave, Wegner reiterated that she was a burden on the department.

She spoke to Jessica Sundheim and Jessica told her that things would get better once she had the baby. Jessica separated after Heather left.

In 2019, she returned from maternity leave early, because she felt so guilty. Had a difficult pregnancy. In February 2019, she was back to investigations. As soon as she comes back Wegner said to watch the little things, it is the little things that matter. She is very much we do this as a team. If she sees someone struggling to hold their load, then she will set down her load and help someone else. She helped Mikali Talbott log her photographs, and Wegner chastised her for it. Heather said, "I guess I am going to be written up today…" She was assigned domestic violence cases. She was not perfect. She owns up right away when a mistake is brought up. It went from a gradual decline to sprinting downhill.

A couple had a lot of contact with the Police Department. She wanted to talk to the people involved. She watched video footage with the female victim, which she was not supposed to do. She issued a warrant and reached out to the male party. She did not hear back for a long time. Finally, the male gets back to her and says watch the footage again, the warrant is garbage. Olson sat down with her and re-watched the video. He tells her he is glad she caught the issue. She went to the court and dismissed the warrant.

Then [redacted] at the time was being abused in daycare by the wife of a Fire Captain. It took a while for it to become a criminal case. She thinks this is part of the "good ol boys" club. She brought up to Captain Klug that she would not be able to work with the Fire Department. Another baby suffered similar injuries and almost died. In November 2019, she asked to be sent back to patrol. In and out of Wegner's office and being chastised for something. Either in the report, style or used the radio wrong. Very nitpicky stuff that her direct supervisor advised her to go back to patrol. June 19 to November 19, she kept asking to go back on patrol. They said two opposite things: "I'm not sure this is a good fit." But when she asked if she could go back to patrol they would say "No you have to give it more time. It's a learning curve. We see this improvement."

Based on other interviews, the alleged abuse of the child in daycare did not occur in the City's jurisdiction.

Sundheim in November asked if she was ever given Garrity rights. She is known for being very good. She usually had three and four in her performance reviews. Some weird stuff was going on. There was to be an internal investigation into her conduct. They had a complaint from an individual about that bad warrant. She cried and in front of someone when she did not feel safe. She already felt like a black sheep. Two people, Det. Guerton and Lt. Wegner, were in and out of Captain Sundheim's office for the investigation.

She learned how to read lips, because she needed tubes in her ears and when she worked in a prison that skill determined whether she got out of there alive.

Justin re-watched the video that she watched with Chief Olson. Very distraught. He said, "We are here because a private citizen made a complaint that one of their officers is being discriminatory (or sexist)." She realized that she was not mentally fit and wanted to leave. Mikali Talbott suggested she leave for the day. Sergeant Goodman told her to take time and leave for the rest of the day.

Her husband, Ryan, is a deputy at the Sheriff's Department. He was shocked when she called so hysterical. They discussed and were going to request to be put back in patrol.

Annual evaluation with Wegner. All threes and fours. At the end of the email, he said we are asking that you go back to patrol or be terminated. Asked for the day shift. His final comments were that she is a good officer, but your judgment is questionable. She took the time to build relationships, get fire training, took the time to adapt to everything they asked her to do. She was sent back to patrol telling her that her judgment was questionable.

Husband told her she had to get out of there, but they could not afford it on his $30.00/hr.

She stayed in the Investigation Division until January 2020. Still did not feel safe with them. Not their fault really but it was perpetuated by the lack of mental health support. Chief Klug exacerbates it greatly. It does not get better from there.

Klug is then Chief. Olson sent an email that "it was a pleasure to work with her even during this hiccup that should have never happened." She failed handgun certification and overthought really badly. Months later, Lackey calls her back to the station and brings her to Klug's office. Never got along with Lackey, who became a Lieutenant.

Now we're realizing she has mental health problems. She was taken off the road, the gun removed and was supposed to work with Haug. Then she would go re-test. She passes the test, but is constantly called back to the station by the sergeants including Lackey. Lackey says they are watching body cam videos and tells Heather "You cannot talk to people like that (she said the people she was speaking to in the video said they were going to take her shotgun and blow her head off). You cannot share your lunch with a private citizen, because you don't know what they are allergic to."

Rookie Chris Robinson, Shane Adelman, Josh Lund, and Matt Pappenfus were her support system. Brought the concern of how deteriorated she was to Sergeant Noyes.

In May, stepdad passed away and was not allowed to go back to Michigan to visit. Once he passed away, she was told she could not go back to stay with her family. Not living up to the words, Chief Klug who had hired her specifically said that they take care of their own like family.

COVID was isolating. She could not converse with dispatch unnecessarily and could not go back to the station. It hit her badly. If this place doesn't care about me then I don't care about myself. Pat Blanchard said they took the person who she was and made her the worst version of herself.

Sergeant Jared Foley was going through similar things she was going through. She was in a dark place that she almost committed to the thought of driving her car into an oncoming train. It would take a while for someone to find her, and it would not be her husband.

She quit. She went down to the locker room. She said she would be in the briefing office. Went home early. Parked car on side of highway 52-mile marker across from grain silo waited to hear a train horn. Said she could roll her car in front of the train. Then she received a text from her husband. An hour had passed since she had been there. She showed back to shift. She felt very alone. She asked for help and no one told her where it was. They told her, she should go talk to the Chief.

She referred to the medication therapist that she has an appointment with today who works in the same office as the Chief's spouse. She does not particularly think that she respects patient confidentiality at that therapists office. When she (Chief's wife) was at the Department, (in-house social worker), she did not have a real stable track record. She is known for almost causing shootouts by agitating the perpetrators. Summers equates a conversation with her (Chief's wife) as having a conversation with a convicted killer. Ashley Healy is her medical professional. That two-year time period affected her so deeply that she had to go to counseling. Summers is working on how to take criticism.

What Jenna Bjork went through was far worse than what she went through. When she wrote her resignation letter, and was told by Chief Klug she was not to submit to HR. She gave the letter to Lisa and Lisa said this was the first time they ever received a complaint. She followed her down the stairs and heard papers being passed back and forth and the other lady said we have a problem.

Chief Klug destroyed close to 100 officers in three years.

Pat committed suicide. She was not invited to his funeral.

No one knew she was leaving. She received a bunch of texts to find out where she was.

When they announced that he was being sworn in. A male private citizen of the community in the news told them you are going to get what you deserve. She was mistaken about the report. She pulled up the article in which Chief Klug said they are getting what is coming to them. They all requested the guy from out of state to be Chief. And many of them would stay. Members of City Hall came down to ask.

Josh Lund was in his basement ready to eat one too. He was terminated for a policy violation. He was told to disengage from a pursuit, but did not have the opportunity to do so. Josh was getting ready to put spike strips. Matt Pappenfus got away with a lot, because Chief Klug liked him.

Noyes also got away with a lot too. Local defense attorneys attempted to Giglio him, because his testimony did not match up to the body camera. You cannot lie as an officer. And nothing came of it. Once before Klug was Chief and the other incident was as he was coming on as Chief.

She believes Kevin Corey was terminated after he was cleared regarding the use of force issues.

Civil Service Commission – General Information

The Civil Service Commission is composed of three citizens appointed by Mayor and confirmed by the City Council for a five-year term of office. The Commission members are to be citizens known to be sympathetic to the systemic application of the principles of merit and fitness to personnel issues in the public service.

The general duties of the Civil Service Commission are as follows:

a) To represent the public interest in the improvement of personnel administration in the City service.
b) To act in an advisory capacity upon request of the City Council on problems concerning personnel administration.
c) Investigate and hear appeals and complaints concerning the administrative work of the Commission.
d) To review, conduct public hearings on, and approve the Annual Employee's Pay and Classification Plan with or without modification.
e) To authorize the Personnel Director to enforce the provisions of the Personnel Code.
f) To recommend to the City Council measures for coordinating work of the various departments and for increasing the efficiency of the service.
g) To serve as an appeal board to rule on grievances that any employee may have.
h) To do any other lawful act or acts necessary to affect the purpose of the Personnel Code.

1. ENTRANCE AND PROMOTIONAL TESTS

Prior to testing for any entrance level or promotional position, the Civil Service Commission will establish the procedures and requirements for filling the open position. Testing for the position may consist of a written exam(s), a physical agility exam(s), a skill test(s), and an oral interview or any combination of the above exams, depending on the procedures set by the Civil Service Commission.

Once testing is completed, applicants are ranked numerically according to their total composite score on all of the Civil Service Commission approved factors of the open position, with the highest composite score being ranked #1. From this employment list, the appointing authority may consider for appointment three (3) names for the first vacancy to be filled, plus two (2) additional names for each vacancy thereafter.

2. VETERAN'S PREFERENCE

Veteran's Preference is granted on all entrance testing, in accordance with the NDCC 37-19.1-02 requirements, to all qualifying veterans. Qualifying veterans are defined by ordinance as those having served between 12/7/1941 to 12/31/1946 (WWII), 06/27/1950 to 1/31/1955 (Korean), 8/5/1964 to 5/7/1975 (Vietnam Era), 8/2/1990 to 1/2/1992 (Persian Gulf), 9/11/2001 to the last day, declared by Congress of operation Iraqi freedom or operation enduring freedom (whichever occurs later). The Department of Veterans' Affairs shall maintain a list of all period dates for emergency conditions in which the armed forces expeditionary medal has been awarded.

An existing employee is not eligible for Veteran's Preference when applying for another position within the City of Minot.

3. FILLING VACANCIES

The Personnel Code gives present employees a qualified preference to fill a vacancy before the vacancy is filled through the re-hiring of a former employee (by attrition or lay-off) or hiring of a new employee. In general terms, most vacancies will be advertised internally and competitive examinations will be given to qualified applicants. However, there are some exceptions to this general statement and some methods by which an employee can receive additional compensation without opening the job to competition. Please refer to the Annual Plan for other examples, or contact the Human Resource Office.

4. ENTRANCE LEVEL POSITIONS AND STARTING SALARY

The Personnel Code provides that the Commission can identify certain entrance-level positions for which the employees of the City and non-employees can make applications alike on an equal basis. The current Annual Pay and Classification Plan have a listing of the City's entrance-level positions. Whenever practical and feasible, all other vacancies shall be filled by competitive examinations of eligible applicants in the City's classified service.

The beginning salary for the newly appointed employee shall normally be at the minimum of the salary grade for the job classification. However, a newly appointed employee with related experience or other qualifications, may be paid a salary more than the published minimum salary at the discretion of the Human Resource Director and appointing authority, within available budget allowances for the applicable department.

5. BACKGROUND CHECKS AND ALCOHOL AND CONTROLLED SUBSTANCE TESTING

As a condition of employment, all individuals appointed to a position will be subject to a background check to include, but not limited to, driver's license records, criminal records, education records, credit reports and personal history records. An authorization and waiver to release information must be signed by the appointed individual.

Certain positions, designated as performing safety-sensitive functions, also require post-offer pre-employment testing for drugs and alcohol in compliance with DOT regulations and departmental requirements.

6. VOLUNTARY LATERAL TRANSFERS

Whenever a vacancy exists in a position that is not an entry-level position, administration will consider requests for a lateral transfer. Mutual consent of affected Department Heads is required.

However, as a general rule, these positions will be filled by competitive promotional examinations; administration may require those requesting transfer to the position, to write the required examination in competition with others in the classified service.

7. DEMOTION POLICY

When an employee is demoted at their request, or for the best interest of the City, the employee will be placed into the grade of the new position with a corresponding decrease in pay. The actual step that the employee will be placed into will be determined by the Human Resource Director in consultation with the Department Head involved and with final approval by the City Manager.

Information considered by the Human Resource Director in determining placement into the grade includes the years of service of the employee, percentage of difference between old grade and new grade, any disciplinary issues involved in the demotion, step placement of current employees within the department and whether the employee will be eligible for a future career ladder promotion. Mutual consent of affected Department Heads is required for demotions not associated with a reduction in force.

8. PROMOTIONAL LADDERS

In accordance with Section 24-53 of the Personnel Code, the Commission can approve the interconnection of related job descriptions into a “promotional ladder” whereby an employee in one position in the ladder may progress to a higher position in the ladder without competing against other applicants for that position. The Commission has established rules and regulations to govern the use of promotional ladders which provide that progression is dependent upon satisfactory job performance as determined by the employee’s Department Head (who shall have the sole discretion to make that determination) and which provides that the employee pass certain competency tests prescribed by the Commission. A listing of the promotional ladder positions is included in the current Annual Pay and Classification Plan.

9. SALARY POLICY FOR PROMOTION, CAREER LADDER AND RECLASSIFICATION

If an employee is promoted through competitive examination or career ladder, a 5% (two steps) salary adjustment will be made on the effective date of the promotion. In the event that the employee is at the top step of the former position and the first step of the new position is at a higher level, the employee will be placed in the first step of the new position or a minimum of 5%. If an employee accepts a position in another department that results in a new occupational career for the employee, the employee may not receive a 5% adjustment in salary. The actual step the employee will be placed in, will be determined by the Human Resource Director in consultation with the applicable Department Head. Information that will be considered by the Human Resource Director in determining placement into the grade includes: step placement of current employees within the department, required certifications of the position and eligibility for future career ladder promotions.

In the event of promotion of a non-exempt employee to an exempt position, the employee will receive a salary increase of not less than 10% or will be adjusted to the minimum salary level of the new position's salary grade, whichever is greater. At no time shall an exempt employee be compensated at a Base Rate less than 5% greater than his or her highest paid subordinate either non-exempt or exempt, where a direct supervisory relationship exists.

If an employee's position is reclassified to a higher range of pay or is recommended to a higher range of pay as a result of a prevailing rate adjustment as part of the Annual Plan, the employee will be placed into the new range at the same rate of pay and then progress through the pay ranges as so designated under pay plan progression. If the first step in the reclassified service position is higher than the employee's current rate of pay, the employee shall be placed in the first step of the reclassified position, on January 1st, and then progress through the pay plan ranges as so designed under pay plan progression.

If an employee's position is reclassified to a lower range of pay, and the highest step in the reclassified position is lower than the employee's current rate of pay, the employee's salary shall be frozen at their current rate of pay until such time that the position range is adjusted.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary above, the appointing authority has the authority to place an employee in a step that results in more than a 5% increase in the best interest of the City.

10. PROMOTIONAL EXAMINATION POLICY

Promotional examinations within the City of Minot are restricted to the Civil Service employees who have completed 3 months of probationary employment, and have met all qualifications of the position for which they are applying. (Change approved by the Civil Service Commission November 8, 2012)

11. RE-EMPLOYMENT LISTS

Please refer to section 24-43 in the City of Minot Code of Ordinances.

12. PROBATIONARY PERIOD

Upon making an appointment to fill a vacancy, the appointing authority will establish a probationary period with respect to the particular person appointed to the position which probationary period shall not exceed eighteen (18) months.

All new hires, while on probation, will not be eligible for the annual step increase on January 1st until they have completed their probationary period which may consist of six-months or one year, depending upon the position and as designated by the Department Head (probationary periods may be extended by the Department Head up to eighteen months). The new hire will receive a 5% (2 steps) increase upon satisfactory completion of the probationary period of service in the position. Thereafter, the employees annual step increase will occur on January 1st.

13. NEPOTISM

No person shall be appointed to a position if he or she is related to a City employee, who would have immediate supervisory authority over, or who would be immediately supervised as a result of appointment to the position.

Designated relationships for the purpose of nepotism shall mean: mother, father, grandmother, grandfather, sister, brother, spouse, son, daughter, mother-in-law, father-in-law, sister-in-law, brother-in-law, step-mother, step-father, step-sister or step-brother.

If a disqualifying relationship, as designated above, comes about or occurs after the employee is appointed to a position with the City and while he/she is employed by the City, there is no requirement to dismiss the affected employee.

1. SELF-FUNDED HEALTH INSURANCE

The City of Minot provides a Health Care Plan through Blue Cross/Blue Shield of North Dakota which offers a choice of single, single + dependent and family coverage. Eligible employees may enroll the 1st of the month immediately following the first day of employment. Please refer to the City of Minot Benefit Guide for current rates and coverage information.

Link: City of Minot Benefit Guide

Health insurance premiums are deducted from the employee's gross wages prior to federal tax calculations, thereby reducing the employee's taxable earnings.

If an employee does not enroll for coverage at the beginning of employment, during the available enrollment period of 31 days, they must wait until open enrollment for coverage to begin in the next calendar year.

Employees are able to make changes to their health insurance coverage during the year with a qualifying event or lifestyle change. Any employee wishing to make any changes in their coverage should contact the Human Resource Office as soon as possible to make sure the proper deductions will be made for the new coverage.

Important Note: The use of medical marijuana by City employees, even with a prescription is strictly prohibited due to the City of Minot's receipt of federal funding.

- Fire Control Staff and Sworn Police Officers, with the exception of exempt level Officers, will have holidays included in annual Paid Time Off (PTO) accrual.

6. PAID TIME OFF (PTO) Effective December 31, 2023

During the 2024 budget process, the Civil Service Commission and City Council approved the transition to Paid Time Off (PTO) to replace the previous vacation/sick leave policy.

For purposes of policy, PTO will be used as “Scheduled PTO” and “Unscheduled PTO”. Scheduled PTO is leave requested and approved in advance. Unscheduled PTO is for unplanned leave used for purposes such as illness, mental health, and bereavement leave. As much notice as possible should be provided by the employee to their supervisor when asking for Unscheduled PTO, and a PTO Request must be submitted through ADP Workforce Manager immediately upon return to work. Employees who have claimed Unscheduled PTO may be required to provide documentation supporting the use.

Medical and dental appointments using PTO will be authorized during work hours, if the employee notifies their supervisor in advance of the appointment within a reasonable amount of time, to ensure there is adequate personnel for work coverage. However, to the extent that is possible, employees are encouraged to set appointments during nonpeak working time for their position.

Carryover of PTO from one calendar year to the next will be calculated in accordance with the tables above. The last pay period in December of each year the City will buy back any accrued PTO over the applicable Carryover amount, at full value. For example, a 5-10-year General employee that has an accrued balance of 350 hours of PTO as of the last pay period of December will have 26 hours of PTO paid out and included in their second (2nd) December paycheck (350-324=26hrs).

Annual Mandatory Use outlined in the tables is the amount of PTO required to be used by an employee in a calendar year and is a cumulative minimum for the year. If an employee has not used the mandatory amount by August 31st of a calendar year, and the employee has not had PTO leave approved/scheduled before the end of the same calendar year the Department Head will schedule the remaining Annual Mandatory Use to be taken prior to December 31st of the calendar year. The City reserves the right, under the recommendation of the City Manager and the Finance Director, to require additional Mandatory use of PTO to address unexpected budget pressures.

Employees violating the PTO rules and regulations will be subject to the disciplinary actions as outlined in Chapter 6 Section 4 – Disciplinary Policy.

Fire administration staff will accrue PTO in accordance with the General Table above. The Fire Table reflects a conversion factor of 1.50, which is used to convert the accrual provided to other City employees to the appropriate equivalent for Fire personnel.

The 10 paid holidays observed by the City are also calculated into the accrual rates for the Police and Fire departments as they are regularly scheduled to work on holidays (80 hours for Police and 106 hours for Fire). This provides flexibility for when they choose to use their time off and ensure compensation if they choose not to use the accrued PTO. Holidays for Police and Fire personnel required to work on a holiday will be treated as a regular day worked for purposes of compensation and overtime policies. If City Council approves additional holidays within the year, the appropriate hours will be added to the accruals for applicable Police and Fire staff.

PTO accrual shall accrue for each full-time employee as follows:

7. FROZEN SICK LEAVE ACCRUAL USAGE POLICY

Sick leave accruals will be "frozen" effective December 30, 2023 with the transition PTO. Frozen sick leave accruals still maintain a "no cash" value status.

Access to frozen sick leave accruals will allowed in the following situations:

a) For any FMLA designated event which happens prior to December 31, 2023.
b) For any denied Short-Term Disability claim, provided PTO has been used prior to the claim being denied, and the Short-Term Disability Policy has been followed as outlined in Section 10 of this Chapter.
c) For employees on maternity leave, to supplement a Short-Term Disability Claim after the allowable 6-week benefit (8 week benefit for C-Section) has been exhausted.
d) To supplement any shortfall from an approved Short-Term Disability claim.
e) Other extenuating circumstances as approved by the City Manager.

8. PARENTAL LEAVE

The City of Minot will allow FMLA qualified employees to use 12 weeks of unpaid parental leave for the birth, adoption, surrogacy or foster placement of a child, within a 12-month period of the event.

Parental leave must be taken as a continued absence during the 12-week duration. However, incremental absence(s) taken in one-week increments for the 12-week duration, may be considered in emergency cases, and must be approved by the Department Head.

Employees experiencing pregnancy will be required to file a Short-Term Disability claim to access the 6-week paid benefit (8-week for C-section births), and will be allowed to access “frozen” sick accrual bank for the remainder of the 12-week leave.

Employees experiencing adoption, surrogacy or foster placement, and expectant fathers will be allowed to use 6-weeks of PTO paid leave, and 6-weeks of unpaid leave for parental leave purposes.

Employees must provide 30-day advance notice for approval of parental leave.

9. MILITARY LEAVE

The City of Minot will approve military leave of absence requests from employees in order for employees to fulfill their military training and service obligations, provided the employee has military orders.

The City of Minot does not require the use of PTO leave for military leave.

a. Up to 20 days per year for paid military leave will be granted to employees for the required annual camp and for other military training or duty when ordered by proper authority to active non-civilian employment. However, the City of Minot does not recognize 'orders' issued under 10 USC Section 672(d) (voluntary active duty) as proper orders for the purpose of granting paid military leave, instead an unpaid leave-of- absence will be granted, unless the employee requests to use PTO in order to receive pay while on 672(d) military leave.

b. Any military leave caused by the full or partial mobilization of the Reserve and National Guard, or emergency state active duty, will be granted with pay for the first 30 days thereof, less any other paid military leave which may have been granted during the calendar year, pursuant to our military leave policy.

c. If leave is needed for weekend, daily, or hourly periods of drill for military training, employees will be given the option of time off without pay or scheduling said training to off-duty hours.

10. SHORT-TERM DISABILITY (Revisions in red added 02/13/2024)

Effective January 1, 2024, the City of Minot will provide short-term disability insurance, with non-taxable claim benefits, to all of its benefit eligible employees.

This benefit replaces 60% of the employee's weekly salary, up to a maximum of $1,500 per week. Once your disability claim has been approved, the employee will be eligible to receive their employer paid short-term disability benefit starting immediately following an injury and after 7 days following an illness. The benefit will be paid for 25 weeks of disability or until the employee is able to return to work, whichever occurs first.

This policy includes an option to participate in a rehab/recovery program, if applicable, for which the employee will be given an additional 10% income (70%) total.

The City reserves the right to require an employee to apply for Short-Term Disability Insurance compensation, if the situation applies.

All Short-Term Disability claims will run concurrently with FMLA.

Employees filing Short-Term disability claims will be required to use available PTO for any absence from their scheduled work hours in the first 7 calendar days after the injury or illness. This rule applies to any Short-Term Disability claim filed even if there are multiple claims in the same year. Following the initial 7 calendar days, employees will be required to use available PTO or Frozen Sick Leave for 25% of their standard scheduled hours throughout the duration of the STD claim. This ensures that benefit deductions, which are the employees' responsibility, are not missed and also supplements the employee's STD claim income.

If a claim is denied, employees may use available frozen sick leave for 100% of their standard scheduled hours until their return to work, provided they have used the required 7 calendar days of PTO first.

It is important for an employee to start the claim process at the earliest possibility. Any PTO used during claim process time will be considered final, even if the claim is paid retroactively and doubles up on PTO days already used. If you already know you will be out for an impending FMLA personal health related issue, you can start the claim process in advance of your absence, to minimize the use of PTO outside of the required days outlined in this policy.

Contact the Human Resource Department with questions and assistance in submitting a claim.

11. LONG-TERM DISABILITY

The City of Minot purchases a long-term disability policy for all Civil Service employees. This policy is written through Unum Life Insurance Company. If you become disabled while insured under the policy, the policyholder will pay long term monthly disability benefits during your disability, but not beyond the maximum benefit period.

The policy provides for a monthly disability payment to the employee in the amount of 66.67% of monthly pay as determined on the day before the period of disability starts. This disability payment has a waiting (qualifying) period of 180 days before monthly payments begin. If the employee remains disabled, this payment will continue until the employee reaches retirement age. At that time, the employee will receive pension payments.

The long-term disability policy also includes survivor benefit provisions and rehabilitation plans for the employee and spouse.

Each employee is given a Group Benefits Certificate of Insurance policy upon enrollment. This document provides the full details and provisions of the policy and should be kept by all employees as their proof of coverage.

A full copy of the policy is also kept on file in the Human Resource Office for review upon request.

13. JURY DUTY LEAVE

If an employee is required to report for jury duty, the employee shall receive an amount which will equal the employee's regular rate of pay for the time they are gone. This is accomplished by endorsing funds for jury duty compensation to the City of Minot; endorsed checks are to be given to the Human Resource Office. The employee also has the option of taking PTO and retaining the amount received for jury duty. Jury duty is paid at $25 for the first day of duty and $50 per day thereafter.

14. CITY EMPLOYEES PENSION PLAN (Only Applicable to Employees Hired Prior to 01/10/2014)

Effective July 6, 2010 the City of Minot adopted an ordinance that modified the City Employee Pension Plan. The ordinance contained recommendations to modify and update the existing pension ordinance so that the current pension plans now have the following provisions:

All employees who are duly appointed, qualified and acting Civil Service employees of the City shall be members of the City Employees' Pension Fund. Every duly appointed, qualified and acting civil service employee shall become a member at the time they commence employment or reemployment with the City. A $25 non-refundable membership fee will be charged.

The City Employee Pension Plan is a defined benefit plan. The vesting period for the plan is five years prior to July 6, 2010. Vesting is ten years of service for all employees starting on or after July 6, 2010. Pension benefits are calculated using average monthly earnings. Prior to July 6, 2010 average monthly earnings are calculated by using the thirty-six highest paid months of employment with the City.

On or after July 6, 2010, the average monthly earnings are calculated by using the forty-eight highest paid months of employment with the City For employees hired after July 6, 2010 the multiplier is 2.3333% per year of service for the first 30 years and 0.5% per year of service for the next 10 years up to a maximum benefit of 75%. For those employees hired before July 6, 2010 the multiplier is 2.5% per year of service for the first 30 years and 1% per year of service for the next 10 years up to a maximum benefit of 85%. For those employees hired before December 31, 2003 the multiplier is 3.3% per year of service for 20 years, or until the 2.5% multiplier per year of service would be of greater value to them. In other words, employees hired before December 31, 2003 receive the greater benefit of the prior plan or the plan existing from January 1, 2004 to July 5, 2010.

The plan provides for a cost of living adjustment of 1% per year starting the January following when the employee reaches 65 or qualifies for Medicare.

For employees hired after July 6, 2010 there will be no health care supplement benefit. The health insurance benefit for employees hired before July 6, 2010 is equal to the amount of the City's contribution for a single health insurance premium for retirees prior to January 1, 2004 until they reach age 65. For all retirees after December 31, 2003, the formula is equal to $7.50 per month per year of qualifying service from retirement to age 65.

The plans also contain a provision for "Rule of 85" for employees hired before July 6, 2010, which gives the employee the option of retiring at age 60 or under the rule of 85 - whichever comes first. Rule of 85 is determined when the employee's age plus years of qualifying service equal the number 85. For those hired on or after July 6, 2010 the provision for "Rule of 90" applies, which gives the employee the option of retiring under the rule of 90 which is determined when the employee's age plus years of qualifying service equal the number 90 with the minimum retirement age of 55.

The employer and employee share in the funding of the pension plans. The employee share is currently 14.74%.

15. CITY EMPLOYEES DEFINED CONTRIBUTION RETIREMENT PLAN (Only Applicable to Employees Hired 01/01/2014-12/31/2018)

Effective January, 2014 the City of Minot adopted an ordinance that established the City of Minot Employees Defined Contribution Retirement Plan. The ordinance outlined the requirements for employee eligibility of those employees hired or rehired on or after January 1, 2014:

All employees who are duly appointed, qualified and acting Civil Service employees of the City shall be members of the City Employees' Defined Contribution Retirement Plan. Every duly appointed, qualified and acting civil service employee shall become a member at the time they commence employment or reemployment with the City. A $25 non-refundable membership fee will be charged.

The City Employee Retirement Plan is a defined contribution plan with a graduated vesting period of five years. Graduated vesting means any portion the City contributes becomes the employees' vested portion based on years of service. Employees working for the City less than one year will have 0% vesting in the employer's contribution account, employees completing more than one year and less than two years of service will have 20% vesting, employees with more than two years and less than three years of service will have 40% vesting, employees with more than three years and less than four years of service will have 60% vesting, employees with more than four years and less than five years of service will have 80% vesting and employees with five or more years of service will have 100% vesting of employer contributions in the plan.

The City Employee Defined Contribution Retirement Plan is set up with a 7.5% mandatory contribution from the employee to account for the City's non-participation in Social Security. This contribution will be deposited into an available 401(a) account of the employees' choosing as outlined by the current Financial Investor. Employees have the option to contribute additional funds, which would be deposited into an available 457(b) account of their choosing to obtain matching employer contributions. City of Minot matching contributions and maximums are outlined as follows. Employees are able to contribute an additional 1% of their salary to receive a 4% matching by the City, with a maximum City match of 8%. If the employee does not contribute any monies over the 7.5% mandatory contribution, there is no matching contribution by the City.

All employee contributions are pre-tax as outlined by Internal Revenue Service code and regulations.

16. PARTICIPATION IN THE NORTH DAKOTA PUBLIC EMPLOYEES' PENSION PLAN (Applicable to Employees Hired January 1, 2019 – Present)

During the 2019 Budget process the Minot City Council approved the option for designated eligible employees to join the North Dakota Public Employees Retirement System (NDPERS) Pension Plan. This plan is a "defined benefit" plan, which allows members to compute their future retirement benefits from a mathematical formula as set by North Dakota Century Code 54-52-17(4).

Regardless of the earnings performance of funds, you or your beneficiaries are guaranteed to receive no less than your member account balance. This amount is referred to as your minimum guarantee.

The NDPERS defined benefit is based on the following calculation: Final Average Salary x Benefit Multiplier (1.75%) * x Years of Service Credit = Monthly Single Life Retirement Benefit.

Final Average Salary is the average of your highest salaries in 36 of the last 180 months worked.

Benefit Multiplier is the rate established by the legislature, at which you earn benefits. The current multiplier is 1.75%. All employees hired in 2019 are locked with the 2.0% multiplier.

Service Credit is the amount of public service you have accumulated under NDPERS for retirement purposes. Your credit service is reported to you each August in your Annual Statement of Accounts from NDPERS.

Under NDPERS, you become vested at the earlier of: 36 months (3 years) of service credit, or attaining 65 years of age while employed with a participating employer.

Please note, employees designated as being eligible to participate in this program, are able to enroll at any time. Feel free to contact the Human Resource Department with any questions you may have.

17. FLEXIBLE SPENDING AND DEPENDENT CARE ACCOUNTS

During the 2019 Budget the City Council approved the option for City employees to participate in Flexible Spending Accounts for qualified medical expenses and dependent care costs.

Participation in these types of accounts gives employees the opportunity to save on those expenses by taking advantage of pre-tax benefits. Putting aside funds for FSA accounts means more money in your pocket. One of the best perks of a FSA account is that all of your funds are available to use at the start of the plan year. That means if you have a big medical expense at the start of the plan year, you can tap into your FSA funds immediately to help cover the cost.

The maximum amount the employee is able to elect for tax deferment for Medical Expenses annually is $1,500, and $5,000 per household for Dependent Care. You will then pay the funds back through bi-weekly pre-tax payroll deductions. Funds designated for FSA accounts must be used within the plan year or will be forfeited by the employee. Important note: married employees who already have a Health Savings Account (HSA), or whose spouse has an HSA, are not able to participate in a Medical FSA.

18. TUITION REIMBURSEMENT PROGRAM

The purpose of the City of Minot Tuition Reimbursement Program is to assist in training of City employees on a planned and continuous basis, in preparation for future promotion and succession planning opportunities. This policy supports employees seeking to further their formal education. The program assists with tuition for career or job-related courses taken at accredited colleges, universities, business schools, technical and trade schools. The following procedure shall apply to participation in graduate and undergraduate programs.

To be eligible in the Tuition Reimbursement Program, an employee must be a full-time Civil Service or a designated full-time Library position and in good standing. Employees must have at least two years of satisfactory evaluations prior to applying for the program, and must sustain the same level of performance during participation in the program. Employees on a leave of absence, working part-time, or in a non-career or seasonal full-time position are ineligible.

Complete Tuition Reimbursement Policy and associated forms can be found on the employee intranet or by clicking this link: Tuition Reimbursement Policy and Forms

19. MEALS AND WORK BREAKS

All employees will be given a 30-minute meal break, completely relieved of duties, for each shift over 5 hours in duration NDAC 46-02-07-02.

All employees' work schedules should provide for a 15-minute work break during each one-half shift, subject to reasonableness and emergency conditions. The work breaks should be scheduled near the middle of each one-half shift whenever this is feasible. Breaks are to be taken at the job site if the time of the break occurs at a remote location. As an option, employees can be given a one (1) hour lunch break, completely relieved of duties, in place of the allotted 15-minute work breaks and in combination with the required 30-minute lunch break.

Breaks are allowed in the employee's room if the employee is working in the Water Maintenance Yard, Shop, Public Works Building, Water Plant, City offices, etc., at the time of break. If the employee is in a mobile unit at break time, the break may be taken at the nearest convenient location, or in the unit. The immediate supervisor has the authority to add other reasonable rules to the above, for the efficiency of the operation and the public image of the department.

20. WORKPLACE BREASTFEEDING POLICY

The City of Minot supports breastfeeding mothers by accommodating a mother who wishes to express breast milk during her workday when separated from her child. The provisions of this Workplace Breastfeeding Policy meet the requirements of the Fair Labor Standards Act as it relates to breaks for nursing mothers.

- Any employee who is breastfeeding her child will be provided reasonable break times to express breast milk for her newborn.
- A clean, private space (other than a restroom) that is shielded from view and free from intrusion from coworkers and the public, will be made available for this purpose.
- A clean and safe water source with facilities for washing hands and rinsing breast pump equipment is located near the space.
- Refrigerators are available so breast milk can be stored appropriately. Employees storing milk in the refrigerator assume all responsibility for the safety of the milk.

21. EMPLOYEE SERVICE AWARDS

The City of Minot gives recognition to those employees who have reached five (5) year incremental milestones of employment with the City in accordance with North Dakota Century Code 4-07-18

Any employee achieving a milestone during the course of the year will be presented their selected award at an annual awards ceremony.

22. ADDRESS UPDATES, CHANGES IN MARITAL STATUS AND OTHER QUALIFYING EVENTS

Any change in an employee's marital status should be completed by the employee through ADP/WorkForce Now; revisions will include changes made to personnel/payroll records, life insurance and health insurance. If a marriage is anticipated, the information should be updated within 31 days of the marriage, to allow for changes to health insurance, and beneficiaries on life insurance, if desired.

If dependent is to be added to an employee policy, the employee must convert to a single plus dependent or a family health policy within 31 days of the birth, adoption or placement of the dependent. If you already carry a single plus dependent or a family contract, you must still notify Blue Cross/Blue Shield of the added dependent. Changes in insurance coverage may be completed through ADP/WorkForce Now.

Changes to federal or state tax withholding may be completed by the employee through ADP/WorkForce Now.

Any changes in addresses or phone numbers must be completed, at the earliest convenience, through ADP/WorkForce Now so that records may be kept up to date.

1. ANNIVERSARY DATES FOR PROBATIONARY EMPLOYEES

All new hires, while on probation, will not be eligible for an annual increase on January 1st until they have completed their probationary period which may consist of six months or one year, depending upon the position (probationary periods may be extended by the department head up to eighteen months). The new hire will receive a 5% (2 steps) increase upon satisfactory completion of the probationary period in the position. Thereafter, the employee's annual step increase will occur on January 1st.

In the event a probationary employee is appointed to a different entry level position, the employee will still be considered on probation for the new position. The employee will not be eligible for the annual step increase on January 1st until satisfactory completion of the probationary period and completion of one year of service in the new position. Thereafter, the employee's annual step increase will occur on January 1st.

In the event an employee, while on probation, is appointed to an entry level position of higher grade, there will be no probationary step increase. Thereafter, the employee's annual step increase will occur on January 1st, commencing after they have completed one year of service from their date of hire.

In the event an employee, while on probation, is appointed to a non-entry level position, there will be no probationary step increase. Thereafter, the employee's annual step increase will occur on January 1st, commencing after they have completed one year of service from their date of hire.

2. ANNUAL INCREASE FOR PERMANENT EMPLOYEES

The normal annual increase date for all permanent City of Minot Civil Service employees is officially January 1st unless changed by City Council through the budget process. At the time approved by City Council, all employees will progress through the pay ranges as designated under the current pay plan progression.

3. PAY PLAN

The salary structure of the City's current Annual Pay and Classification Plan is of symmetrical design in that it consists of 90 ranges of pay, each comprised of seventeen (17) steps. Each range is approximately two and one-half (2½) percent above the preceding range and steps 1 through 17 within each range are approximately two and one-half (2½) percent greater than the preceding step. The length of each range from minimum to maximum is approximately fifty (50) percent.

The City Pay Plan designates a range (grade) for each individual position under the City's classified service.

4. PAY PLAN PROGRESSION

Progression through the steps of the plan will be as follows: if an employee's step within the range is under midpoint (steps 1-8) the employee will move two steps (5%) annually on January 1st, until the employee reaches midpoint of the range (step 9). Once an employee reaches midpoint and above (steps 9 through 16) the employee will progress one step (2½%) annually on January 1st until the employee reaches step 17.

Provision adopted for 2018 pay plan: Employees currently at Step 17, who are in positions that will not be reclassified to a higher range (grade) in the coming year will be afforded a two (2) percent increase annually until the position experiences a range reclassification.

Each department has a copy of the Annual Plan and it is available for study by employees upon request to the department head.

5. OVERTIME

Overtime when necessary, is paid at time-and-a-half for all regular hours actually worked in excess of forty hours per week, or 106 hours every two-weeks for employees working in fire control positions. Check with your department head immediately if questions arise about overtime.

6. COMPENSATORY TIME

As approved by Section 207(o) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1985, the City of Minot is authorized to provide compensatory time off to employees in lieu of overtime. Signing a compensatory time policy agreement is a condition of employment which entitles the employee to use, preserve, or cash out any unused compensatory time upon termination. Compensatory time guidelines differ by department with maximum allowable accrual based on the type of work performed. Employees requesting to utilize compensatory time off shall be permitted to use such time, as long as the time requested does not unduly disrupt operations of the applicable department.

Compensatory time balance may not exceed 120 hours for Fire control staff or 80 hours for Police sworn officers. For all other positions, compensatory time balance may not exceed 40 hours with a maximum of 80 hours earned per calendar year.

The City may change or update compensatory time policy based on the needs of the workforce and within federal guidelines.

7. ON CALL PAY

Employees who are subject to an on-call rotation, will receive a daily or weekly or monthly stipend as approved by the Department Head.

8. CALL BACK PAY

All call-back pay, with the exception of fire emergency call-back pay, will be paid at overtime rates equal to 1 ½ times the normal rate of pay. A minimum of 1.5 hours will be paid to applicable employees regardless of the duration of time worked during the call-back period.

CHAPTER 4

01 FMLA LEAVE (FAMILY MEDICAL LEAVE ACT OF 1993

02 UNPAID PERSONAL LEAVE OF ABSENCE

1. FMLA LEAVE (FAMILY MEDICAL LEAVE ACT OF 1993)

The City of Minot complies with The Family Medical Leave Act which entitles eligible employees to take up to 12 weeks of unpaid, job- protected leave in a 12-month period for specified family and medical reasons. The employer may elect to use the calendar year, a fixed 12-month leave or fiscal year, or a 12-month period prior to or after the commencement of leave as the 12-month period. The City of Minot has elected to begin the FMLA at the commencement of the leave.

The law contains provisions on employer coverage; employee eligibility for the law's benefits; entitlement to leave, maintenance of health benefits during leave, and job restoration after leave; notice and certification of the need for FMLA leave; and, protection for employees who request to take FMLA leave. The law also requires employers to keep certain records.

To be eligible for FMLA benefits, an employee must meet all of the following requirements:

a) work for covered employer; (the City of Minot is a "covered employer")
b) have worked for the employer for a total of 12 months; and
c) have worked at least 1,250 hours over the previous 12 months; and
d) work at a location in United States where at least 50 employees are employed by the employer within 75 miles.

A covered employer must grant an eligible employee up to a total of 12 workweeks of unpaid leave during any 12-month period for one or more of the following reasons:

1. for the birth and care of the newborn child of the employee;
2. for the placement with the employee of a son or daughter for adoption or foster care;
3. to care for an immediate family member (spouse, child, or parent) with a serious health condition;
4. to take medical leave when the employee is unable to work because of a serious health condition; or
5. for certain qualifying exigencies relating to military family leave.

Under some circumstances, employees may take FMLA leave intermittently-which means taking leave in blocks of time, or by reducing their normal weekly or daily work schedules The City of Minot requires the employee to use available accrued paid leave per the PTO/Frozen Sick Leave Policy which will run concurrent with approved FMLA leave.

A covered employer is required to maintain group health insurance coverage for an employee on FMLA leave whenever such insurance was provided before the leave was taken and on the same terms as if the employee had continued work. If applicable, arrangements will need to be made for employees to pay their share of health insurance premiums while on leave.

If the employee chooses not to return to work for reasons other than a continued serious health condition of the employee or the employee's family member or a circumstance beyond the employee's control, the company will require the employee to reimburse the company the amount it paid for the employee's health insurance premium during the leave period.

1. CONTINUED- FMLA LEAVE (FAMILY MEDICAL LEAVE ACT OF 1993)

Upon return from FMLA leave, an employee must be restored to the employee's original job, or to an equivalent job with equivalent pay, benefits, and other terms and conditions of employment. The employee who takes leave under this policy may be asked to provide a fitness for duty clearance form from a healthcare provider.

On a basis that does not discriminate against employees on FMLA leave, the City may require an employee on FMLA leave to report periodically on the employee's status and intent to return to work.

The employee may be required to provide advance leave notice and medication certification. Taking of leave may be denied if requirements are not met. For further information, a complete copy of the FMLA is posted in each department.

2. UNPAID PERSONAL LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Employees may request a leave of absence without pay for any reason considered sufficient by their department head and approved by the City Manager. Leave without pay must not exceed six months and must be submitted in writing with the following requirements:

a) The reason why such leave should be granted;
b) The effective date of beginning of the leave; and
c) The probable date of return.

Factors considered in approving a personal leave of absence include necessity of the leave, and the personal leave shall be granted only when it is determined that it will not interfere with the normal operation of the City's business. Employees failing to return to duty upon completion of a personal leave, shall be considered to have voluntarily terminated their employment with the City.

If approved, employees must use their leave of absence for the approved purpose.

If a conflict exists between these rules and previously adopted rules of the Police and Fire Department, the rules of the Police and Fire Department will govern.

5. SUSPENSION, DEMOTION, AND DISMISSAL

A procedure for implementing the suspension, demotion or dismissal of officials and employees of the City of Minot for misconduct, inefficiency, and other contributing factors, has been developed by the Civil Service Commission. Positions requiring a valid North Dakota driver's license are set forth under each individual job description in the Annual Pay and Classification Plan. The Plan is posted and available for review on the internal internet for City employees.

Employees should check with their immediate Supervisor for specific requirements associated with their position and their department.

CHAPTER 7

01 GRIEVANCE AND APPEAL PROCEDURE

1. GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

The grievance procedure is defined as a procedure whereby any employee who is adversely affected by a decision of his/her immediate Supervisor, Superintendent/Manager or equivalent, or Department Head, may require the decision be reviewed by a person having the authority to reverse the decision. This procedure is as follows:

1. Oral Report: An employee who has a grievance shall first discuss his grievance with his/her immediate Supervisor. If the grievance pertains to a decision made by that Supervisor, the employee may forward the grievance in writing to the next Supervisory level in the department which is generally the Superintendent, Manager or equivalent within the Police and Fire departments.
2. Written Report: The written report must be submitted to the next Supervisory level, as indicated above, within five (5) working days of the initial decision by the immediate Supervisor. Within five (5) working days after receiving a written grievance, the next level of Supervision shall furnish the employee with a written reply to the grievance. If the grievance pertains to a Department Head, the written report must be submitted to the Human Resource Director within five (5) working days of the initial decision.
3. Appeal to Department Head: If the written reply to the grievance is not satisfactory to the employee, he/she may, within ten (10) working days after receiving the reply, submit an appeal in writing to his/her Department Head. The Department Head shall confer with the aggrieved employee and/or his authorized representative and the employee's supervisor before rendering a decision. Such a decision shall be provided in writing and shall be delivered to the aggrieved employee within ten (10) working days of the date on which the appeal was received by the department head.
4. Appeal to Civil Service Commission: If the appeal to the Department Head fails to resolve the grievance, the employee may, within five (5) working days of receipt of decision on the appeal, submit an appeal in writing to the Civil Service Commission. This appeal shall be filed with the Human Resource Office and be referred to the next available meeting of the Civil Service Commission for its review, which shall be final.

Note: The grievance procedure does not apply to: employee terminations related to probationary employment, for just cause or due to a reduction in force; or employee transfers for the good of the service.

CHAPTER 8

01 PERFORMANCE EVALUATIONS

1. PERFORMANCE EVALUATIONS

Department Heads or Supervisors periodically report on the performance of all employees in the classified service. Reports are made at such times and on forms provided by the Civil Service Commission and become a part of the procedures having to do with promotions, salary advancement, and other changes in employee status.

Presently, performance evaluations are required once every three (3) months during the probationary period and annually thereafter. The performance evaluation includes employee ratings, which are entered in the records of the employees by the Human Resource Office and include notification of outstanding behavior, service and achievement.

Notification is also made of misbehavior or unacceptable conduct. Any employee has the opportunity of inspecting their personal service ratings subject to the regulations that have been prescribed by the Civil Service Commission.

Importance of Performance Evaluations:

- The evaluation performance review period is a rare opportunity to have dedicated time to sit down with each employee and discuss at length the assessment of their performance over the past year or quarterly review period for those who are probationary employees, and to discuss the goals both the Supervisor and employee have for the coming year. Normally, most interactions with employees during the week are in the form of directing work or tasks, which does not allow for helpful and comprehensive performance feedback.
- Completing the performance evaluation and meeting with the employee will allow the Supervisor and employee to identify training and development needs relative to attaining annual goals and enhancing or correcting performance.
- Employee records must include information that is accurate and current regarding employee performance. This is particularly important in handling disciplinary actions.
- The performance process can be a beneficial and positive experience for both the employee and Supervisor. This is a chance for the supervisor to provide recognition for work well done, but also to point out where there are problems with the employee's performance.

CHAPTER 9

01 SAFETY POLICY

02 SAFE OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE OF CITY VEHICLES

03 ACCIDENT REPORTING

04 WORKERS INJURY BENEFITS

05 DRUG FREE WORKPLACE NOTICE

06 DRUG TESTING POLICY

07 WRITTEN HAZARD COMMUNICATION PROGRAM

1. SAFETY POLICY

City Administration considers the safety and health of City employees to be one of its primary responsibilities. A safety program has therefore been established to attempt to provide a safe and healthful working environment. Our objective is to reduce the number of injuries to a minimum, to promote safety awareness as a daily attitude in all employees and to protect the physical resources of the City from damage or loss

Administration supports safety policies and safe procedures. Supervisors shall train employees to attempt to attain an accident-free record. Supervisors shall also be on the alert for unsafe practices and conditions and take measures to eliminate them.

Every employee, in turn, shall accept their responsibility to prevent injuries to themselves and fellow employees by prudently following the safety program. In so doing, they will benefit themselves, their families, and the City.

A separate Safety Manual is provided as part of the employee orientation process to more extensively address specifics of the program. Employees are required to acknowledge receipt of the manual and to comply with all rules and regulations as outlined. The manual has been set up with general sections for all employees, some of which are included in this employee handbook, and specific department sections for more specialized positions.

Disciplinary action for violations of safety procedures will be handled in the same manner as violation of any other City policy or procedure.

2. SAFE OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE OF CITY VEHICLES

City owned equipment is kept in service longer than it normally would if it were used in private business. For this reason, it is particularly important to follow well-accepted standards in the care and maintenance of vehicles. Defects should be promptly reported. An employee is responsible for the vehicles assigned to them and they should have an interest in their appearance and condition. Vehicle operators are required to observe all traffic regulations except when special conditions require that exceptions be made to handle emergency situations.

Equipment must be used only as authorized by the department head or City Manager. One of the most common causes of citizen complaints is related to the manner in which City employees handle City equipment. Some things to remember in handling City equipment:

A. Maintain a steady pace under crowded conditions on two-lane streets so that traffic does not pile up behind the City unit.
B. Do not drive the City owned vehicle down the street in and out of traffic with little regard to speed limits and street conditions.
C. Do not park the City owned vehicle out in the driving lane while performing a maintenance function if the situation permits the driver to park the equipment where it would not be an obstruction.
D. Do not overload the City owned vehicle so that it litters the streets at every stop, start or turn.
E. Make sure to erect suitable warning devices or use flagmen to guide the public around vehicles which must be parked in driving lanes.

Topics like the above mentioned have been the subject of more than one telephone call to the City Manager, department head, or in some instances, the Mayor and Council members. Space does not permit listing the various rules and regulations of equipment operations, however, the words “common sense and courtesy” are usually contained in the description of an operator who is considered to be above average.

3. ACCIDENT REPORTING

Care, caution and common sense are basic accident prevention elements in any occupation. Please report any accidents or unsafe working practices. Don’t take chances.

If involved in an accident with a City vehicle, an employee is required to:

A. Give necessary assistance to injured persons.
B. Notify the police and their supervisors.
C. Notify the Finance Department and give them any information they request.

4. WORKERS INJURY BENEFITS

WORKERS CLAIM FOR INJURIES- GENERAL INFORMATION/DESNIGNATED MEDICAL PROVIDER

In the event an employee is injured on the job and time is lost, compensation will be paid in accordance with the work injury laws of the State of North Dakota.

To be compensated, an employee must report to their Supervisor/Department Head within 24 hours (regardless of seeking medical attention immediately) by filing an Incident Report if not seeking medical attention, or filing a First Report of Injury Claim form if seeking medical attention. Claim filing is completed on-line at https://www.workforcesafety.com. You may also contact the Human Resource Office to assist with the process.

If you are unable to work due to an injury, the City will continue paying you through use of available sick leave accrual until processing of the claim is complete. When you receive time-loss payment from the bureau, the amount of the check will be deducted from your paycheck on a pre-tax basis and the appropriate amount of sick leave will be credited back to you. If your disability lasts longer than your accrued sick leave, workers compensation payments will be the only payment you will receive.

It is the responsibility of all employees to notify the Human Resource Office of payments received by Workforce Safety & Insurance.

Besides reimbursing salaries, Workforce Safety & Insurance (WSI) may pay medical bills for on- the-job injuries, provided the employee has filed a First Report of Injury claim. The injured employee can file the claim at the Human Resource Office or with your Department Administrative Clerk.

The City of Minot has entered into an agreement with ND Workforce Safety & Insurance to participate in a risk management program. The goal of the program is to provide cost effective case management and emphasize an early return to work at the highest possible functional capacity for the injured worker.

Participation in this program requires the City of Minot to designate a medical provider to treat your workplace injuries and illness. The City's designated medical provider is Dr. Howard Reeve at Trinity Health Center. WSI will not pay for medical treatment to another provider unless you are referred by the City's designated provider or unless the employee notified the City Human Resource Office in writing, prior to the injury that they wanted to be treated by a provider other than the designated provider. Emergency care is exempt from this designated provider requirement.

In order to receive maximum benefit from this program, the employee is required to notify the Human Resource Office and/or Supervisor immediately upon injury.

Once the employee has received medical attention from the City's designated medical provider, or the employees requested designated provider, the Workers Claim for Injury form must be filed immediately.

All injured workers must complete the Incident Report or First Report of Injury form online at https://www.workforcesafety.com with their Supervisor or contact the Human Resource Office for assistance.

5. DRUG FREE WORKPLACE NOTICE

Important Note: The use of medical marijuana by employees, even with a prescription is strictly prohibited due to the City of Minot's receipt of Federal funds.

In accordance with the Federal Drug Free Workplace Act, the City of Minot is notifying all employees of its intent to maintain a workplace free from alcohol and illegal drugs. The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensing, possession, or use of a controlled substance by the employees is prohibited

(1) on any work site (at any time) and (2) elsewhere during all working hours. You are hereby notified that compliance with this policy is a condition of employment. If you fail to comply with this policy you will be subject to disciplinary action as set forth in the City of Minot Employee Manual, disciplinary Rules and Regulations, Part II, which is incorporated herein by reference.

If you are convicted of a workplace criminal drug violation you must notify your supervisor within five days of the conviction, if you request, you will be given information on any available drug- counseling, rehabilitation, and employee assistance program and you will be afforded the opportunity to participate in these programs. Drug abuse in the workplace is a danger to yourself and to others.

6. DRUG TESTING POLICY

The City of Minot is dedicated to providing safe and economical services to the public. Employees are our most valuable resource and it is our goal to provide a safe, healthy and satisfying working environment, which provides personal opportunities for growth. In meeting these goals, it is our policy to:

a) Assure that employees are not impaired in their ability to perform assigned duties in a safe, productive and healthy manner;
b) create a workplace environment free from the adverse effects of drug and alcohol misuse and abuse;
c) prohibit the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensing, possession, and/or use of controlled substances;
d) encourage employees to seek professional assistance anytime problems, including alcohol or drug abuse, adversely affects their ability to perform their assigned duties;
e) Meet or exceed all Federal Transit Administration and Federal Highway Administration regulations, which require affirmative actions to eliminate the impact of the misuse of alcohol and drugs in the workplace.

The purpose of our drug testing policy is to assure fitness for duty and to protect our employees and the public and the risks posed by the misuse of alcohol and use of prohibited drugs. The policy is also intended to comply with all applicable Federal regulations governing workplace anti- drug and alcohol programs. Federal regulations mandate urine drug testing and breath alcohol testing for safety-sensitive positions and prohibits performance of safety-sensitive positions when a positive test results. Standards for the collection and testing of urine and breath specimens have also been set.

The policy incorporates those requirements for safety-sensitive employees. A safety-sensitive position is one that requires an employee to possess a commercial driver's license, or the employee maintains vehicles that require a commercial driver's license to operate.

If you are in a safety-sensitive position and do not have a copy of this policy, please contact the Human Resource Office.

Although the City of Minot does not have a policy of drug testing all employees as a condition of employment, the City does follow a Reasonable Suspicion Testing policy for all employees. Reasonable Suspicion Testing is required when a trained supervisor reasonably suspects that an employee is under the influence of a prohibited controlled substance and/or alcohol. The employer's determination that reasonable suspicion exists to require the employee to undergo a controlled substances test must be based on specific, contemporaneous, articulable observations concerning the appearance, behavior, speech or body odors of the employee, and must be documented. The observations may include indications of the chronic and withdrawal effects of controlled substances. A reasonable suspicion alcohol test can only be done immediately prior, during or immediately after the performance of job duties. The observations leading to that testing must be made during, just preceding, or just after the employee performs applicable duties.

7. WRITTEN HAZARD COMMUNICATION PROGRAM

The City of Minot is firmly committed to providing all of its employees with a safe and healthy work environment. It is a matter of City policy to provide our employees with information about hazardous chemicals on the work site through our Hazard Communication Program, which includes container labeling, Material Safety Data Sheets (MSDS's) and employee information/training. Appropriate records will be maintained to ensure an effective Hazard Communication Program.

Department heads will compile a list of all hazardous chemicals that will be used on the work site by reviewing container labels and Material Safety Data Sheets. The lists are updated as necessary. It will be kept both in the individual department office and in the central repository, located at the Minot Fire Headquarters Station #1. (See the Material Safety Data Sheets within your department.)

It is the policy of the City to ensure that each container of hazardous chemicals on a job site is properly labeled. The labels will list:

A. the contents of the container and
B. the appropriate hazard warnings.

To further ensure that employees are aware of the chemical hazards of materials used in their work areas, it is our policy to label all secondary containers. Secondary containers will be labeled with either an extra copy of the manufacturer's label, or with a sign or generic label that lists the container's contents and appropriate hazard warnings. This responsibility has been assigned to each department head.

Copies of material safety data sheets for all hazardous chemicals to which employees may be exposed are kept within each department's office and also in a central repository located at the Minot Fire Headquarters Station #1 and are readily accessible to employees in the work area during each work shift. Each department head is responsible for obtaining and maintaining the file of Material Safety Data Sheets, both within their department and in their portion of the central repository at Fire Station #1. Departmental supervisors will have copies of the MSDS's for their division. Any City of Minot requests for MSDS's from companies will be documented.

Employees are to attend a training session on hazardous chemicals in their work area at the time of their initial work assignment. Employees will sign "sign-off" sheets on training provided. These sheets will be kept in each department supervisor's office. The training session will cover the following:

- An overview of the hazard communication requirements.
- A review of the chemicals present in their workplace operations.
- The location and availability of our written Hazard Communication Program, a list of hazardous chemicals and Material Safety Data Sheets.
- Methods and observation techniques that may be used to detect the presence or release of hazardous chemicals in the work area.
- Physical and health hazards of the chemicals in the work area.
- How to lessen or prevent exposure to hazardous workplace chemicals by using good work practices, personal protective equipment, etc.
- Emergency procedures to follow if employees are exposed to hazardous chemicals.

An explanation of our Hazard Communication Program, including how to read labels and Material Safety Data Sheets to obtain appropriate hazard information.

When a new type of product is introduced into a work area or the chemical composition of a product changes, the employee's supervisor or another individual designated by the department head will review the above items as they are related to the new chemicals.

Periodically employees are required to perform non-routine tasks. Prior to starting work on such projects, each affected employee will be informed by their supervisor about hazards to which they may be exposed and appropriate protective and safety measures.

Before starting any task which involves working with any material of which they are unfamiliar, employees must notify their supervisor in order that the appropriate training might be given to them. In addition, employees must notify their supervisor should any new material come on the work site that the supervisor is not aware of, in order that the appropriate training can be given to employees.

The department supervisor is responsible for the containment of any hazardous material spill in his/her area of responsibility. Equipment required will be stored at each department and checked on a periodic basis. This equipment includes any personal protective equipment, absorbent material, containers, broom, and dustpan. The periodic check will be reported in writing and kept on file in the department. Appropriate disposal of hazardous materials will be the responsibility of the department head involved, in cooperation with the Fire Department.

2. Current and future copies of forms may, if preferred, be retained by the Department Head or Supervisor for the purpose of performance evaluations and monetary reasons related to budget expenditures; all original forms will be forwarded to the Human Resource Department.
    - This does not prohibit department supervision from maintaining written notes or records of employee performance separate from the personnel file for the purpose of preparing performance evaluations and/or possible disciplinary action.
3. All original documents that address an employee's character and/or performance will be maintained in the personnel file, after and upon and employee's review of such documents. Appropriate forms and records are kept by the Clerk of the Commission, including such things as appointments, transfers, promotions, demotions, performance evaluations, and changes in salary, and any other temporary or permanent change in status of the employee.

The City Council has adopted an ordinance whereby a written reprimand of an employee and written materials relating to the reprimand may be destroyed or discarded from City files at the earlier of one year from the date thereof, or a date for removal specified therein. Written materials relating to a demotion, suspension, or transfer of an employee for the good of the service may also be removed or discarded from City files after five years have elapsed following such occurrence. The provisions of the aforementioned shall be supplementary to the requirements of state and federal law.

6. WINTER STORM POLICY

During a winter storm event the operation of City offices may be affected based on actual travel conditions locally. In the event of a "No Travel Advisory" being declared by the Minot Police Chief during a winter storm event, non-storm essential personnel may be sent home by order of the City Manager.

On those occasions when non-storm essential employees have been sent home, the City Manager will consult with the Police Chief and Public Works Director regarding local road conditions and the expected travel status for the following day in order to determine whether the non-storm essential personnel will be expected to be back to their positions the following day. If the "No Travel Advisory" remains in effect, non-storm essential personnel will remain on a "standby" status. If they are needed during the course of the day in which a "No Travel Advisory" is in place, the City Manager may order appropriate city vehicles to transport them to and from City offices. If the storm continues unabated, those employees not reporting to their job will remain on "standby" status and will be expected to report to their office as soon as possible following the lifting of the "No Travel Advisory". Employees are also encouraged to take work home with them in winter storm events to be prepared to work from home via computer if possible.

01 PUBLIC EMPLOYEES RELATION ACT

02 ETHICS POLICY FOR CITY OFFICIALS AND EMPLOYEES

03 EMPLOYEE RESPONSIBILITIES

04 PERSONAL AFFAIRS

05 SOCIAL MEDIA ACCOUNTABILITY

06 CONFIDENTIALITY RESPONSIBILITY

1. PUBLIC EMPLOYEES RELATIONS ACT

The Public Employees Relations Act, contained in state law, provides that an employee may, without fear of reprisal, report in writing to the employee's Department Head, a State's Attorney, Human Resource Director or an employee organization the existence of a job-related violation of state or federal law or, rules, or misuse of public resources. Any employee who intentionally furnishes false information is subject to disciplinary action, including suspension or termination.

2. CITY OF MINOT ETHICS POLICY FOR CITY OFFICIALS AND EMPLOYEES

Purpose:

Good government requires that decision-makers and policy makers be independent, impartial, and accountable to the people they serve. Public service is a public trust, requiring public servants (elected officials and employees) to act loyally to the Constitution, the laws, ordinances and ethical principles. The City of Minot's goal is to provide high quality municipal services which are responsive to the needs of our citizens. Thus it has adopted this Ethics Policy to promote and maintain the highest standards of personal and professional conduct in the pursuit of good government.

To ensure that every citizen can have complete confidence in the integrity of the City of Minot Government, public servants of the City shall respect and adhere to these fundamental principles of ethical service:

A. A public servant shall be trustworthy, truthful, impartial, fair and respectful both inside and outside the City's service, so as not to cause distrust of the servant's impartiality and dedication to the City's best interests.
B. A public servant shall take personal responsibility for the quality of service or representation provided to each citizen so as to deliver the best possible service or representation in a friendly, receptive and courteous manner.
C. A public servant shall act impartially and not give preferential treatment to any organization or individual. Particularly, a public servant shall adhere to all laws and regulations that provide equal opportunity for all persons regardless of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age or disability.
D. A public servant shall satisfy, in good faith, the same obligations as any other citizen, including all just financial obligations, especially those – such as Federal, State or local taxes – that are imposed by law.
E. A public servant shall not conduct official business if he or she has a direct and substantial financial interest therein (except as allowed by statute), nor shall engage in financial transactions using non-public information, nor allow the improper use of such information by others to further any private interest.
F. A public servant shall perform official duties on a "best efforts" basis.
G. No public servant shall make an unauthorized commitment or promise of any kind purporting to bind the City.
H. A public servant shall protect and conserve public property and shall not use it for other than authorized activities, and shall disclose waste, fraud, abuse, and corruption to appropriate authorities.

3. EMPLOYEE RESPONSIBILITIES

- Attitude

  As in any other business, efficiency, safety and pride in a job well done should be of prime importance to all City employees. Of course, we expect an hour's work for an hour's pay. But beyond that, we expect every employee to think of his job as one of the VERY important cogs in a large wheel. If your job was not worth doing, it would not exist – so treat it with the respect it deserves.

- Punctuality

  Employees are expected to report to work on time. If you are, or will be, late or absent from work, it is most important that your supervisor be notified no later than the normal starting time and earlier if possible. This notification is essential so that the supervisor can plan the day's activities. Absence from work without given adequate notice and repeated incidents of appearing late for duty is grounds for disciplinary action. These practices are not fair to other employees who must carry additional duties during your absence.

- Public Relations

  Each and every employee must share the responsibility for maintaining good public relations with the citizens and with fellow employees. Maintaining effective and courteous contacts with citizens is a basic requirement in every employee's job. It helps to remember that almost every person we greet is helping to pay our salaries through the taxes they pay each year. Those with many questions should be treated with the same courtesy and tact with which you treat others. Time spent in listening to taxpayer complaints, criticisms and problems is not wasted and will reap great dividends in improving the public relations program. We are responsible to all of the citizens of Minot and we should remember this in our day-to-day dealings with citizens.

You should bear in mind at all times that even outside our working hours and the office, people will assume that you, as a City employee, know a lot about City government. They will give importance to what you say about your department and about other departments, and will judge City employees in general by your appearance, behavior and attitude.

4. PERSONAL AFFAIRS

It is hoped that each employee will not let their private life reflect unfavorably upon the City of Minot or their work with the City.

The telephone and computer located in the various City offices and buildings are there for use in the conduct of City business and must not be used for personal affairs, except in cases of emergency.

If it is necessary for you to take time off to attend to personal matters, make arrangements with your supervisor well in advance so that the affairs of the department can be adjusted to compensate for your absence.

If a personal matter is of such nature that it affects your ability to perform your work satisfactorily, make arrangements to discuss the problem generally with your department head or with the Human Resource Office so that your efficiency records will accurately reflect your average performance.

5. SOCIAL MEDIA ACCOUNTABILITY

The City acknowledges employee rights to privacy and free speech that may protect online activity conducted on personal social networks. However, what is published on such personal sites should not be attributed to or reference the City and should not appear to be endorsed by or originated from the City. Employees that choose to list their work affiliation or reference their employment with the City in any way on a social network should regard all communication on that network as if it were a professional network.

Online lives are ultimately linked, whether or not employees choose to mention the City on personal online networks. City employees engaging in social media networks must at all times be conscious and respectful of the fact that their words and actions are representative of the City, regardless of when, where and how the content was posted.

6. CONFIDENTIALITY RESPONSIBILITY

CHIEF'S MESSAGE

The Minot Police Department will engage the citizens and visitors in the City of Minot with respect and provide professional police service to all. Police officers have a challenging role in the community and the standards of conduct reflect the importance of fairness, sound judgment, and unfaltering integrity. This policy manual will act as a guide for officers while they perform their duties as well as how they conduct themselves while off-duty. Given the ever-changing world in which we live and work, there is no way to write a policy to cover the exact circumstances an officer must deal with. Therefore, it is important to use their training, education, experiences, and knowledge and rely on the resources and supervisors to guide them. As police officers we are the face of our community and the badge and patch should be worn with pride and be a symbol of peace and safety to our citizens. Our community members should be equally as proud of what our badge and patch represent.

Employees shall serve with the following in mind: Honor - Dedication - Integrity - Community

Stay Safe,

Chief John Klug

LAW ENFORCEMENT CODE OF ETHICS

As a law enforcement officer, my fundamental duty is to serve the community; to safeguard lives and property; to protect the innocent against deception, the weak against oppression or intimidation and the peaceful against abuse or disorder; and to respect the constitutional rights of all to liberty, equality and justice.

I will keep my private life unsullied as an example to all and will behave in a manner that does not bring discredit to me or to my agency. I will maintain courageous calm in the face of danger, scorn or ridicule; develop self-restraint; and be constantly mindful of the welfare of others. Honest in thought and deed both in my personal and official life, I will be exemplary in obeying the law and the regulations of my department. Whatever I see or hear of a confidential nature or that is confided to me in my official capacity will be kept ever secret unless revelation is necessary in the performance of my duty.

I will never act officiously or permit personal feelings, prejudices, political beliefs, aspirations, animosities or friendships to influence my decisions. With no compromise for crime and with relentless prosecution of criminals, I will enforce the law courteously and appropriately without fear or favor, malice or ill will, never employing unnecessary force or abuse and never accepting gratuities.

I recognize the badge of my office as a symbol of public faith, and I accept it as a public trust to be held so long as I am true to the ethics of police service. I will never engage in acts of corruption or bribery, nor will I condone such acts by other police officers. I will cooperate with all legally authorized agencies and their representatives in the pursuit of justice.

I know that I alone am responsible for my own standard of professional performance and will take every reasonable opportunity to enhance and improve my level of knowledge and competence.

I will constantly strive to achieve these objectives and ideals, dedicating myself before God to my chosen profession . . . law enforcement.

(d) Be responsible for division's budget, monitor expenditures, prepare specifications, collect quotes, and place orders for equipment.

(e) Prepare periodic and special reports, respond to citizen complaints, and make presentations to community.

(f) Assist with department operations in absence of Police Chief.

(g) Be responsible for the Minot Police Department Officers assigned to the Ward County Narcotics Task Force.

200.4 COMMAND PROTOCOL

200.4.1 SUCCESSION OF COMMAND

The Chief of Police exercises command over all personnel in the Department. During planned absences the Chief of Police will designate a Division Commander to serve as the acting Chief of Police.

Except when designated as above, the order of command authority in the absence or unavailability of the Chief of Police is as follows:

(a) Captains in order of unit number (seniority).

(b) Lieutenants in the order of unit number (seniority).

200.4.2 UNITY OF COMMAND

The principles of unity of command ensure efficient supervision and control within the Department. Generally, each employee shall be accountable to one supervisor at any time for a given assignment or responsibility. Except where specifically delegated authority may exist by policy or special assignment (e.g., Canine, SWAT), any supervisor may temporarily direct any subordinate if an operational necessity exists.

200.4.3 ORDERS

Members shall respond to and make a good faith and reasonable effort to comply with lawful orders of superior officers and other proper authority.

200.4.4 UNLAWFUL AND CONFLICTING ORDERS

No member is required to obey any order that outwardly appears to be in direct conflict with any federal law, state law or local ordinance. Following an unlawful order is not a defense and does not relieve the member from criminal or civil prosecution or administrative discipline. If the legality of an order is in doubt, the affected member shall ask the issuing supervisor to clarify the order or confer with a higher authority. Responsibility for refusal to obey rests with the member, who shall subsequently be required to justify the refusal.

Unless it would jeopardize the safety of any individual, members who are presented with a lawful order that is in conflict with a previous lawful order, department policy or other directive, shall respectfully inform the issuing supervisor of the conflict. The issuing supervisor is responsible for either resolving the conflict or clarifying that the lawful order is intended to countermand the previous lawful order or directive, in which case the member is obliged to comply. Members who are compelled to follow a conflicting lawful order after having given the issuing supervisor the opportunity to correct the conflict are not held accountable for disobedience of the lawful order or directive that was initially issued.

The person countermanding the original order shall notify the person issuing the original order, indicating the action taken and the reason.

The Emergency Operations Plan can be activated in a number of ways. For the Minot Police Department, the Chief of Police or the highest ranking official on duty may activate the Emergency Operations Plan in response to a major emergency.

Electronic Mail

204.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to establish guidelines for the proper use and application of the electronic mail (e-mail) system provided by the Department. E-mail is a communication tool available to employees to enhance efficiency in the performance of job duties. It is to be used in accordance with generally accepted business practices and current law (e.g., North Dakota's open records laws). Messages transmitted over the e-mail system must only be those that involve official business activities or that contain information essential to employees for the accomplishment of tasks and/or communications directly related to the business, administration or practices of the Department.

The City of Minot Electronic Communications Policy also governs the use of email. If there are any conflicts the City of Minot policy supercedes this policy.

204.2 EMAIL RIGHT OF PRIVACY

All email messages, including any attachments, transmitted over the department computer network or accessed through a web browser accessing the department system are considered department records and therefore are the property of the Department. The Department reserves the right to access, audit and disclose for any lawful reason, any message, including any attachment that is transmitted or received over its email system or that is stored on any department system.

The email system is not a confidential system since all communications transmitted on, to or from the system are the property of the Department. Therefore, the email system is not appropriate for confidential or personal communications. If a communication must be private, an alternative method to communicate the message should be used instead of email. Employees using the department email system shall have no expectation of privacy concerning communications transmitted over the system.

Employees should not use personal accounts to exchange email or other information that is related to the official business of the Department. The use of any computer, Internet service, telephone service or other wireless service to send or receive information that may be related to public business may be subject to review or disclosure.

204.3 PROHIBITED USE OF E-MAIL

Sending derogatory, defamatory, obscene, disrespectful, sexually suggestive, harassing or any other inappropriate messages on the e-mail system is prohibited and may result in discipline.

E-mail messages addressed to the entire Department are only to be used for official business-related items that are of particular interest to all users. Users are reminded that all e-mail is subject to review and scrutiny with regard to appropriate content or violation of any prohibitions. In the event that a user has questions about sending a particular e-mail communication, the user should seek prior approval from the Chief of Police or a Division Commander. Personal advertisements or announcements are not permitted without prior permission from the Chief of Police.

It is a violation of this policy to transmit a message under another user's name or e-mail address or to use the password of another to log into the system. Users are required to log off the network or secure the workstation when the computer is unattended. This added security measure will minimize the potential misuse of an individual's e-mail, name and/or password by others.

204.4 EMAIL RECORD MANAGEMENT

Email may, depending upon the individual content, be a record under North Dakota’s open records laws and must be managed in accordance with the established records retention schedule and in compliance with state law (N.D.C.C. § 44-04-18 et seq.).

Supervision Staffing Levels

206.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to ensure that proper supervision is available to meet the operational requirements of all shifts. The Department intends to balance the needs of the employee against its duty and inherent managerial right to flexibility and discretion in assigning personnel to meet operational needs. While balance is desirable, the paramount concern is to meet the operational requirements of the Department.

206.2 MINIMUM STAFFING LEVELS

Minimum staffing levels should result in the scheduling of at least one regular supervisor on-duty. Patrol Supervisors will ensure that at least one field supervisor is deployed during each shift, in addition to the Patrol Supervisor. In the absence of a second supervisor, the Patrol Supervisor may assign a Master Officer or Senior Officer when possible to act as the field supervisor.

206.2.1 SUPERVISION DEPLOYMENTS

In the absence of an available Sergeant a Master Officer or an officer may be used as a field supervisor in place of a field sergeant.

Use of Force

300.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides guidelines on the reasonable use of force. While there is no way to specify the exact amount or type of reasonable force to be applied in any situation, every member of this department is expected to use these guidelines to make such decisions in a professional, impartial, and reasonable manner.

In addition to those methods, techniques, and tools set forth below, the guidelines for the reasonable application of force contained in this policy shall apply to all policies addressing the potential use of force, including but not limited to the Control Devices and Techniques and Conducted Energy Device policies.

300.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Deadly force - Force reasonably anticipated and intended to create a substantial likelihood of causing death or very serious injury.

Feasible - Reasonably capable of being done or carried out under the circumstances to successfully achieve the arrest or lawful objective without increasing risk to the officer or another person.

Force - The application of physical techniques or tactics, chemical agents, or weapons to another person. It is not a use of force when a person allows him/herself to be searched, escorted, handcuffed, or restrained.

Imminent - Ready to take place; impending. Note that imminent does not mean immediate or instantaneous.

Totality of the circumstances - All facts and circumstances known to the officer at the time, taken as a whole, including the conduct of the officer and the subject leading up to the use of force.

300.2 POLICY

The use of force by law enforcement personnel is a matter of critical concern, both to the public and to the law enforcement community. Officers are involved on a daily basis in numerous and varied interactions and, when warranted, may use reasonable force in carrying out their duties.

Officers must have an understanding of, and true appreciation for, their authority and limitations. This is especially true with respect to overcoming resistance while engaged in the performance of law enforcement duties.

The Minot Police Department recognizes and respects the value of all human life and dignity without prejudice to anyone. Vesting officers with the authority to use reasonable force and to protect the public welfare requires monitoring, evaluation, and a careful balancing of all interests.

300.2.1 DUTY TO INTERCEDE AND REPORT

Any officer present and observing another law enforcement officer or a member using force that is clearly beyond that which is objectively reasonable under the circumstances shall, when in a position to do so, intercede to prevent the use of unreasonable force.

An officer who observes another law enforcement officer or a member use force that is potentially beyond that which is objectively reasonable under the circumstances should report these observations to a supervisor as soon as feasible.

Officers shall use only that amount of force that reasonably appears necessary given the facts and circumstances perceived by the officer at the time of the event to accomplish a legitimate law enforcement purpose.

The reasonableness of force will be judged from the perspective of a reasonable officer on the scene at the time of the incident. Any evaluation of reasonableness must allow for the fact that officers are often forced to make split-second decisions about the amount of force that reasonably appears necessary in a particular situation, with limited information and in circumstances that are tense, uncertain and rapidly evolving.

Given that no policy can realistically predict every possible situation an officer might encounter, officers are entrusted to use well-reasoned discretion in determining the appropriate use of force in each incident.

It is also recognized that circumstances may arise in which officers reasonably believe that it would be impractical or ineffective to use any of the tools, weapons or methods provided by this department. Officers may find it more effective or reasonable to improvise their response to rapidly unfolding conditions that they are confronting. In such circumstances, the use of any improvised device or method must nonetheless be reasonable and utilized only to the degree that reasonably appears necessary to accomplish a legitimate law enforcement purpose.

While the ultimate objective of every law enforcement encounter is to avoid or minimize injury, nothing in this policy requires an officer to retreat or be exposed to possible physical injury before applying reasonable force.

300.3.1 USE OF FORCE TO EFFECT AN ARREST

An officer may use reasonable force to effect an arrest if, after notice of intention to arrest the person, the person either flees or forcibly resists (N.D.C.C. § 29-06-13).

300.3.2 FACTORS USED TO DETERMINE THE REASONABLENESS OF FORCE

When determining whether to apply force and evaluating whether an officer has used reasonable force, a number of factors should be taken into consideration, as time and circumstances permit. These factors include but are not limited to:

(a) Immediacy and severity of the threat to officers or others.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(b) The conduct of the individual being confronted, as reasonably perceived by the officer at the time.

(c) Officer/subject factors (e.g., age, size, relative strength, skill level, injuries sustained, level of exhaustion or fatigue, the number of officers available vs. subjects).

(d) The effects of suspected drug or alcohol use.

(e) The individual's mental state or capacity.

(f) The individual's ability to understand and comply with officer commands.

(g) Proximity of weapons or dangerous improvised devices.

(h) The degree to which the individual has been effectively restrained and his/her ability to resist despite being restrained.

(i) The availability of other reasonable and feasible options and their possible effectiveness.

(j) Seriousness of the suspected offense or reason for contact with the individual.

(k) Training and experience of the officer.

(l) Potential for injury to officers, suspects, and others.

(m) Whether the individual appears to be resisting, attempting to evade arrest by flight, or is attacking the officer.

(n) The risk and reasonably foreseeable consequences of escape.

(o) The apparent need for immediate control of the individual or a prompt resolution of the situation.

(p) Whether the conduct of the individual being confronted no longer reasonably appears to pose an imminent threat to the officer or others.

(q) Prior contacts with the individual or awareness of any propensity for violence.

(r) Any other exigent circumstances.

300.3.3 PAIN COMPLIANCE TECHNIQUES

Pain compliance techniques may be effective in controlling a physically or actively resisting individual. Officers may only apply those pain compliance techniques for which they have successfully completed department-approved training. Officers utilizing any pain compliance technique should consider:

(a) The degree to which the application of the technique may be controlled given the level of resistance.

(b) Whether the person can comply with the direction or orders of the officer.

(c) Whether the person has been given sufficient opportunity to comply.

The application of any pain compliance technique shall be discontinued once the officer determines that compliance has been achieved.

The Minot Police Department uses the PPCT, the SPEAR System and the Krav Maga methods of force on force tactics . it is the goal for every officerto be trained in PPCT, SPEAR and/or Krav Maga and required to pass a practical test. Force on force tactics techniques used by the Minot Police Department are carefully chosen by their effectiveness and lower risk of injury to the subject and officer. Refresher courses in force on force tactics are offered to every officer.

300.3.4 USE OF FORCE TO SEIZE EVIDENCE

In general, officers may use reasonable force to lawfully seize evidence and to prevent the destruction of evidence. However, officers are discouraged from using force solely to prevent a person from swallowing evidence or contraband. In the instance when force is used, officers should not intentionally use any technique that restricts blood flow to the head, restricts respiration or which creates a reasonable likelihood that blood flow to the head or respiration would be restricted. Officers are encouraged to use techniques and methods taught by the Minot Police Department for this specific purpose.

300.3.5 RESPIRATORY RESTRAINTS

The use of a respiratory restraint, also known as a chokehold, is limited to circumstances where deadly force is authorized and if applied, is subject to the same guidelines and requirements as a carotid control hold.

300.4 DEADLY FORCE APPLICATIONS

Use of deadly force is justified in the following circumstances:

(a) An officer may use deadly force to protect him/herself or others from what he/she reasonably believes would be an imminent threat of death or serious bodily injury.

(b) An officer may use deadly force to stop a fleeing subject when the officer has probable cause to believe that the person has committed, or intends to commit, a felony involving the infliction or threatened infliction of serious bodily injury or death, and the officer reasonably believes that there is an imminent risk of serious bodily injury or death to any other person if the subject is not immediately apprehended. Under such circumstances, a verbal warning should precede the use of deadly force, where feasible.

Imminent does not mean immediate or instantaneous. An imminent danger may exist even if the suspect is not at that very moment pointing a weapon at someone. For example, an imminent danger may exist if an officer reasonably believes any of the following:

1. The person has a weapon or is attempting to access one and it is reasonable to believe the person intends to use it against the officer or another.
2. The person is capable of causing serious bodily injury or death without a weapon and it is reasonable to believe the person intends to do so.

300.4.1 MOVING VEHICLES

Shots fired at or from a moving vehicle involve additional considerations and risks, and are rarely effective.

When feasible, officers should take reasonable steps to move out of the path of an approaching vehicle instead of discharging their firearm at the vehicle or any of its occupants.

An officer should only discharge a firearm at a moving vehicle or its occupants when the officer reasonably believes there are no other reasonable means available to avert the imminent threat of the vehicle, or if deadly force other than the vehicle is directed at the officer or others.

Officers should not shoot at any part of a vehicle in an attempt to disable the vehicle.

300.5 REPORTING THE USE OF FORCE

Any use of force by a member of this department shall be documented promptly, completely and accurately in an appropriate report, depending on the nature of the incident. The officer should articulate the factors perceived and why he/she believed the use of force was reasonable under the circumstances. To collect data for purposes of training, resource allocation, analysis and related purposes, the Department may require the completion of additional report forms, as specified in department policy, procedure or law.

300.5.1 NOTIFICATIONS TO SUPERVISORS

Supervisory notification shall be made as soon as practicable following the application of force in any of the following circumstances:

(a) The application caused a visible injury.

(b) The application would lead a reasonable officer to conclude that the individual may have experienced more than momentary discomfort.

(c) The individual subjected to the force complained of injury or continuing pain.

(d) The individual indicates intent to pursue litigation.

(e) Any application of the conducted energy device or control device.

(f) Any application of a restraint device other than handcuffs, shackles, or belly chains.

(g) The individual subjected to the force was rendered unconscious.

(h) An individual was struck or kicked.

(i) An individual alleges unreasonable force was used or that any of the above has occurred.

300.6 MEDICAL CONSIDERATIONS

Once it is reasonably safe to do so, medical assistance shall be obtained for any person who exhibits signs of physical distress, has sustained visible injury, expresses a complaint of injury or continuing pain, or was rendered unconscious. Any individual exhibiting signs of physical distress after an encounter should be continuously monitored until the individual can be medically assessed. Individuals should not be placed on their stomachs for an extended period, as this could impair their ability to breathe.

Based upon the officer's initial assessment of the nature and extent of the individual's injuries, medical assistance may consist of examination by an emergency medical services provider or medical personnel at a hospital or jail. If any such individual refuses medical attention, such a refusal shall be fully documented in related reports and, whenever practicable, should be witnessed by another officer and/or medical personnel. If a recording is made of the contact or an interview with the individual, any refusal should be included in the recording, if possible.

The on-scene supervisor or, if the on-scene supervisor is not available, the primary handling officer shall ensure that any person providing medical care or receiving custody of a person following any use of force is informed that the person was subjected to force. This notification shall include a description of the force used and any other circumstances the officer reasonably believes would be potential safety or medical risks to the subject (e.g., prolonged struggle, extreme agitation, impaired respiration).

Individuals who exhibit extreme agitation, violent irrational behavior accompanied by profuse sweating, extraordinary strength beyond their physical characteristics, and imperviousness to pain, or who require a protracted physical encounter with multiple officers to be brought under control, may be at an increased risk of sudden death. Calls involving these persons should be considered medical emergencies. Officers who reasonably suspect a medical emergency should request medical assistance as soon as practicable and have medical personnel stage away.

See the Medical Aid and Response Policy for additional guidelines.

300.7 SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITY

When a supervisor is able to respond to an incident in which there has been a reported application of force, the supervisor is expected to:

(a) Obtain the basic facts from the involved officers. Absent an allegation of misconduct or excessive force, this will be considered a routine contact in the normal course of duties.

(b) Ensure that any injured parties are examined and treated if necessary.

(c) Once any initial medical assessment has been completed or first aid has been rendered, ensure that photographs have been taken of any areas involving visible injury or complaint of pain, as well as overall photographs of uninjured areas. These photographs should be retained until all potential for civil litigation has expired.

(d) Ensure that any and all witnesses have been properly identified and documented..

(e) Determine if there is any indication that the subject may pursue civil litigation. If there is an indication of potential civil litigation, the supervisor should complete and route a notification of a potential claim to their Division Commander.

(f) Evaluate the circumstances surrounding the incident and initiate an administrative investigation if there is a question of policy non-compliance or if for any reason further investigation may be appropriate.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

In the event that a supervisor is unable to respond to the scene of an incident involving the reported application of force, the Shift Commander is still expected to complete as many of the above items as circumstances permit.

300.7.1 PATROL SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITY
The Patrol Supervisor shall review each use of force by any personnel within his/her command to ensure compliance with this policy and to address any training issues.

300.8 TRAINING

Officers will receive periodic training on this policy and demonstrate their knowledge and understanding.

Subject to available resources, officers should receive periodic training on:

(a) Guidelines regarding vulnerable populations, including but not limited to children, elderly, pregnant persons, and individuals with physical, mental, or intellectual disabilities.

(b) De-escalation tactics, including alternatives to force.

Use of Force Review Boards

301.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy establishes a process for the Minot Police Department to review the use of force by its employees.

This review process shall be in addition to any other review or investigation that may be conducted by any outside or multi-agency entity having jurisdiction over the investigation or evaluation of the use of deadly force.

301.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department will objectively evaluate the use of force by its members to ensure that their authority is used lawfully, appropriately and is consistent with training and policy.

301.3 REMOVAL FROM LINE DUTY ASSIGNMENT

Generally, whenever an employee's actions or use of force in an official capacity, or while using department equipment, results in death or serious bodily injury to another, that employee will be placed in a temporary administrative assignment pending an administrative review. The Chief of Police may exercise discretion and choose not to place an employee in an administrative assignment in any case.

301.4 REVIEW BOARD

The Use of Force Review Board will be convened when the use of force by a member results in serious bodily injury or death to another.

The Use of Force Review Board will also review the circumstances surrounding every discharge of a firearm, whether the employee was on- or off-duty, excluding training, recreational use or used to dispatch an injured animal.

The Chief of Police may request the Use of Force Review Board to investigate the circumstances surrounding any use of force incident.

The Professional Standards Lieutenant will convene the Use of Force Review Board as necessary. It will be the responsibility of the Division Commander or supervisor of the involved employee to notify the Professional Standards Lieutenant of any incidents requiring board review. The Professional Standards Lieutenant will ensure that all relevant reports, documents and materials are available for consideration and review by the board.

301.4.1 COMPOSITION OF THE BOARD

The Professional Standards Lieutenant may select up to five Use of Force Review Board members representing a cross section of the department to include subject matter experts, supervisors, peers and may include representatives from other agencies.

Use of Force Review Boards

301.4.2 RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE BOARD

The Use of Force Review Board is empowered to conduct an administrative review and inquiry into the circumstances of an incident.

The board members may request further investigation, request reports be submitted for the board's review, call persons to present information and request the involved employee to appear. The involved employee will be notified of the meeting of the board and may choose to have a representative through all phases of the review process.

The board does not have the authority to recommend discipline.

The Chief of Police will determine whether the board should delay its review until after completion of any criminal investigation, review by any prosecutorial body, filing of criminal charges, the decision not to file criminal charges, or any other action. The board should be provided all relevant available material from these proceedings for its consideration.

The review shall be based upon those facts which were reasonably believed or known by the officer at the time of the incident, applying any legal requirements, department policies, procedures and approved training to those facts. Facts later discovered but unknown to the officer at the time shall neither justify nor call into question an officer's decision regarding the use of force.

Any questioning of the involved employee conducted by the board will be in accordance with the department's disciplinary procedures, the Personnel Complaints Policy, applicable state or federal law and proper application of Garrity rights.

The board shall make one of the following recommended findings:

(a) The employee's actions were within department policy and procedure.

(b) The employee's actions were in violation of department policy and procedure.

A recommended finding requires a majority vote of the board. The board may also recommend additional investigations or reviews, such as disciplinary investigations, training reviews to consider whether training should be developed or revised, and policy reviews, as may be appropriate. The board chairperson will submit the written recommendation to the Chief of Police.

The Chief of Police shall review the recommendation, make a final determination as to whether the employee's actions were within policy and procedure and will determine whether any additional actions, investigations or reviews are appropriate. If the Chief of Police concludes that discipline should be considered, a disciplinary process will be initiated.

At the conclusion of any additional reviews, copies of all relevant reports and information will be filed with the Chief of Police.

Handcuffing and Restraints

302.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides guidelines for the use of handcuffs and other restraints during detentions and arrests.

302.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department authorizes the use of restraint devices in accordance with this policy, the Use of Force Policy and department training. Restraint devices shall not be used to punish, to display authority or as a show of force.

302.3 USE OF RESTRAINTS

Only members who have successfully completed Minot Police Department-approved training on the use of restraint devices described in this policy are authorized to use these devices.

When deciding whether to use any restraint, officers should carefully balance officer safety concerns with factors that include, but are not limited to:

(a) The circumstances or crime leading to the arrest.

(b) The demeanor and behavior of the arrested person.

(c) The age and health of the person.

(d) Whether the person is known to be pregnant.

(e) Whether the person has a hearing or speaking disability. In such cases, consideration should be given, safety permitting, to handcuffing to the front in order to allow the person to sign or write notes.

(f) Whether the person has any other apparent disability.

302.3.1 RESTRAINT OF DETAINEES

Situations may arise where it may be reasonable to restrain an individual who may, after brief investigation, be released without arrest. Unless arrested, the use of restraints on detainees should continue only for as long as is reasonably necessary to assure the safety of officers and others. When deciding whether to remove restraints from a detainee, officers should continuously weigh the safety interests at hand against the continuing intrusion upon the detainee.

302.3.2 RESTRAINT OF PREGNANT PERSONS

Persons who are known to be pregnant should be restrained in the least restrictive manner that is effective for officer safety. Leg irons, waist chains, or handcuffs behind the body should not be used unless the officer has a reasonable suspicion that the person may resist, attempt escape, injure self or others, or damage property.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

No person who is in labor, delivery, or recovery after delivery shall be handcuffed or restrained except in extraordinary circumstances and only when a supervisor makes an individualized determination that such restraints are necessary for the safety of the arrestee, officers, or others.

302.3.3 RESTRAINT OF JUVENILES

A juvenile who is known or appears to be under 14 years of age should not be restrained unless he/she is suspected of a dangerous felony or when the officer has a reasonable suspicion that the juvenile may resist, attempt escape, injure him/herself, injure the officer or damage property.

302.3.4 NOTIFICATIONS

Whenever an officer transports a person with the use of restraints other than handcuffs, the officer shall inform the jail staff upon arrival at the jail that restraints were used. This notification should include information regarding any other circumstances the officer reasonably believes would be potential safety concerns or medical risks to the subject (e.g., prolonged struggle, extreme agitation, impaired respiration) that may have occurred prior to, or during transportation to the jail.

302.4 APPLICATION OF HANDCUFFS OR PLASTIC CUFFS

Handcuffs, including temporary nylon or plastic cuffs, may be used only to restrain a person's hands to ensure officer safety.

Although recommended for most arrest situations, handcuffing is discretionary and not an absolute requirement of the Department. Officers should consider handcuffing any person they reasonably believe warrants that degree of restraint. However, officers should not conclude that in order to avoid risk every person should be handcuffed, regardless of the circumstances.

In most situations handcuffs should be applied with the hands behind the person's back. When feasible, handcuffs should be double-locked to prevent tightening, which may cause undue discomfort or injury to the hands or wrists.

In situations where one pair of handcuffs does not appear sufficient to restrain the individual or may cause unreasonable discomfort due to the person's size, officers should consider alternatives, such as using an additional set of handcuffs or multiple plastic cuffs.

Handcuffs should be removed as soon as it is reasonable or after the person has been searched and is safely confined within a detention facility.

302.5 APPLICATION OF SPIT HOODS/MASKS/SOCKS

Spit hoods/masks/socks are temporary protective devices designed to prevent the wearer from biting and/or transferring or transmitting fluids (saliva and mucous) to others.

Spit hoods may be placed upon persons in custody when the officer reasonably believes the person will bite or spit, either on a person or in an inappropriate place. They are generally used during application of a physical restraint, while the person is restrained, or during or after transport.

Officers utilizing spit hoods should ensure that the hood is fastened properly to allow for adequate ventilation and that the restrained person can breathe normally. Officers should provide assistance during the movement of restrained individuals due to the potential for impaired or distorted vision on the part of the individual. Officers should avoid commingling individuals wearing spit hoods with other detainees.

Spit hoods should not be used in situations where the restrained person is bleeding profusely from the area around the mouth or nose, or if there are indications that the person has a medical condition, such as difficulty breathing or vomiting. In such cases, prompt medical care should be obtained. If the person vomits while wearing a spit hood, the spit hood should be promptly removed and discarded. Persons who have been sprayed with oleoresin capsicum (OC) spray should be thoroughly decontaminated including hair, head and clothing prior to application of a spit hood.

Those who have been placed in a spit hood should be continually monitored and shall not be left unattended until the spit hood is removed. Spit hoods shall be discarded after each use.

302.6 APPLICATION OF AUXILIARY RESTRAINT DEVICES

Auxiliary restraint devices include transport belts, waist or belly chains, transportation chains, leg irons and other similar devices. Auxiliary restraint devices are intended for use during long-term restraint or transportation. They provide additional security and safety without impeding breathing, while permitting adequate movement, comfort and mobility.

Only department-authorized devices may be used. Any person in auxiliary restraints should be monitored as reasonably appears necessary.

302.7 APPLICATION OF LEG RESTRAINT DEVICES

Leg restraints may be used to restrain the legs of a violent or potentially violent person when it is reasonable to do so during the course of detention, arrest or transportation. Only restraint devices approved by the Department shall be used.

In determining whether to use the leg restraint, officers should consider:

(a) Whether the officer or others could be exposed to injury due to the assaultive or resistant behavior of a suspect.

(b) Whether it is reasonably necessary to protect the suspect from his/her own actions (e.g., hitting his/her head against the interior of the patrol unit, running away from the arresting officer while handcuffed, kicking at objects or officers).

(c) Whether it is reasonably necessary to avoid damage to property (e.g., kicking at windows of the patrol unit).

302.7.1 GUIDELINES FOR USE OF LEG RESTRAINTS

When applying leg restraints the following guidelines should be followed:

(a) If practicable, officers should notify a supervisor of the intent to apply the leg restraint device. In all cases, a supervisor shall be notified as soon as practicable after the application of the leg restraint device.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(b) Once applied, absent a medical or other emergency, restraints should remain in place until the officer arrives at the jail or other facility or the person no longer reasonably appears to pose a threat.

(c) Once secured, the person should be placed in a seated or upright position, secured with a seat belt, and shall not be placed on his/her stomach for an extended period, as this could reduce the person's ability to breathe.

(d) The restrained person should be continually monitored by an officer while in the leg restraint. The officer should ensure that the person does not roll onto and remain on his/her stomach.

(e) The officer should look for signs of labored breathing and take appropriate steps to relieve and minimize any obvious factors contributing to this condition.

(f) When transported by ambulance/paramedic unit, the restrained person should be accompanied by an officer when requested by medical personnel. The transporting officer should describe to medical personnel any unusual behaviors or other circumstances the officer reasonably believes would be potential safety or medical risks to the subject (e.g., prolonged struggle, extreme agitation, impaired respiration).

302.8 REQUIRED DOCUMENTATION

If a person is arrested, the use of handcuffs or other restraints shall be documented in the related report.

Officers should document the following information in reports, as appropriate, when restraints other than handcuffs are used on a person:

(a) The factors that led to the decision to use restraints.

(b) Supervisor notification of restraint use.

(c) The types of restraint used.

(d) The amount of time the person was restrained.

(e) How the person was transported and the position of the person during transport.

(f) Observations of the person's behavior and any signs of physiological problems.

(g) Any known or suspected drug use or other medical problems.

302.9 TRAINING

Subject to available resources, the Administrative Captain should ensure that officers receive periodic training on the proper use of handcuffs and other restraints, including:

(a) Proper placement and fit of handcuffs and other restraint devices approved for use by the Department.

(b) Response to complaints of pain by restrained persons.

(c) Options for restraining those who may be pregnant without the use of leg irons, waist chains, or handcuffs behind the body.

Control Devices and Techniques

303.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides guidelines for the use and maintenance of control devices that are described in this policy.

303.2 POLICY

In order to control subjects who are violent or who demonstrate the intent to be violent, the Minot Police Department authorizes officers to use control devices in accordance with the guidelines in this policy and the Use of Force Policy.

303.3 ISSUING, CARRYING AND USING CONTROL DEVICES

Control devices described in this policy may be carried and used by members of this department only if the device has been issued by the Department or approved by the Chief of Police or the authorized designee.

Only officers who have successfully completed department-approved training in the use of any control device are authorized to carry and use the device.

Control devices may be used when a decision has been made to control, restrain or arrest a subject who is violent or who demonstrates the intent to be violent, and the use of the device appears reasonable under the circumstances. When reasonable, a verbal warning and opportunity to comply should precede the use of these devices.

When using control devices, officers should carefully consider potential impact areas in order to minimize injuries and unintentional targets.

303.4 RESPONSIBILITIES

303.4.1 PATROL SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

The Patrol Supervisor may authorize the use of a control device by selected personnel or members of specialized units who have successfully completed the required training.

303.4.2 INSTRUCTOR RESPONSIBILITIES

The appropriate instructor shall control the inventory and issuance of control devices and shall ensure that all damaged, inoperative, outdated or expended control devices or munitions are properly disposed of, repaired or replaced.

Every control device will be periodically inspected by the appropriate instructor the designated instructor for a particular control device. The inspection shall be documented.

303.4.3 USER RESPONSIBILITIES

All normal maintenance, charging or cleaning shall remain the responsibility of personnel using the various devices.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

Any damaged, inoperative, outdated or expended control devices or munitions, along with documentation explaining the cause of the damage, shall be returned to the instructorfor disposition.

303.5 BATON GUIDELINES

The need to immediately control a suspect must be weighed against the risk of causing serious injury. The head, neck, throat, spine, heart, kidneys and groin should not be intentionally targeted except when the officer reasonably believes the suspect poses an imminent threat of serious bodily injury or death to the officer or others.

303.6 TEAR GAS GUIDELINES

Tear gas may be used for crowd control, crowd dispersal or against barricaded suspects based on the circumstances. Only the Incident Commander or SWAT Commander may authorize the delivery and use of tear gas, and only after evaluating all conditions known at the time and determining that such force reasonably appears justified and necessary.

When practicable, fire personnel should be alerted or summoned to the scene prior to the deployment of tear gas to control any fires and to assist in providing medical aid or gas evacuation if needed.

303.7 OLEORESIN CAPSICUM (OC) GUIDELINES

As with other control devices, oleoresin capsicum (OC) spray and pepper projectiles may be considered for use to bring under control an individual or groups of individuals who are engaging in, or are about to engage in, violent behavior. Pepper projectiles and OC spray should not, however, be used against individuals or groups who merely fail to disperse or do not reasonably appear to present a risk to the safety of officers or the public.

303.7.1 TREATMENT FOR OC SPRAY EXPOSURE

Persons who have been sprayed with or otherwise affected by the use of OC should be promptly provided with clean water to cleanse the affected areas. Those persons who complain of further severe effects shall be examined by appropriate medical personnel.

303.8 POST-APPLICATION NOTICE

Whenever tear gas or OC has been introduced into a residence, building interior, vehicle or other enclosed area, officers should provide the owners or available occupants with notice of the possible presence of residue that could result in irritation or injury if the area is not properly cleaned. Such notice should include advisement that clean up will be at the owner’s expense. Information regarding the method of notice and the individuals notified should be included in related reports.

303.9 KINETIC ENERGY PROJECTILE GUIDELINES

This department is committed to reducing the potential for violent confrontations. Kinetic energy projectiles, when used properly, are less likely to result in death or serious physical injury and can be used in an attempt to de-escalate a potentially deadly situation.

303.9.1 DEPLOYMENT AND USE

Only department-approved kinetic energy munitions shall be carried and deployed. Approved munitions may be used to compel an individual to cease his/her actions when such munitions present a reasonable option.

Officers are not required or compelled to use approved munitions in lieu of other reasonable tactics if the involved officer determines that deployment of these munitions cannot be done safely. The safety of hostages, innocent persons and officers takes priority over the safety of subjects engaged in criminal or suicidal behavior.

Circumstances appropriate for deployment include, but are not limited to, situations in which:

(a) The suspect is armed with a weapon and the tactical circumstances allow for the safe application of approved munitions.

(b) The suspect has made credible threats to harm him/herself or others.

(c) The suspect is engaged in riotous behavior or is throwing rocks, bottles or other dangerous projectiles at people and/or officers.

(d) There is probable cause to believe that the suspect has already committed a crime of violence and is refusing to comply with lawful orders.

303.9.2 DEPLOYMENT CONSIDERATIONS

Before discharging projectiles, the officer should consider such factors as:

(a) Distance and angle to target.

(b) Type of munitions employed.

(c) Type and thickness of subject’s clothing.

(d) The subject’s proximity to others.

(e) The location of the subject.

(f) Whether the subject’s actions dictate the need for an immediate response and the use of control devices appears appropriate.

A verbal warning of the intended use of the device should precede its application, unless it would otherwise endanger the safety of officers or when it is not practicable due to the circumstances. The purpose of the warning is to give the individual a reasonable opportunity to voluntarily comply and to warn other officers and individuals that the device is being deployed.

Officers should keep in mind the manufacturer’s recommendations and their training regarding effective distances and target areas. However, officers are not restricted solely to use according to manufacturer recommendations. Each situation must be evaluated on the totality of circumstances at the time of deployment.

The need to immediately incapacitate the subject must be weighed against the risk of causing serious injury or death. The head and neck should not be intentionally targeted, except when the officer reasonably believes the suspect poses an imminent threat of serious bodily injury or death to the officer or others.

303.9.3 SAFETY PROCEDURES
Officers will inspect the launcher and projectiles to ensure that the launcher is in proper working order and the projectiles are of the approved type and appear to be free from defects.

303.10 TRAINING

The Administrative Captain shall ensure that all personnel who are authorized to carry a control device have been properly trained and certified to carry the specific control device and are retrained or recertified as necessary.

(a) Proficiency training shall be monitored and documented by a certified, control-device weapons or tactics instructor.

(b) All training and proficiency for control devices will be documented in the officer's training file.

(c) Officers who fail to demonstrate proficiency with the control device or knowledge of this agency's Use of Force Policy will be provided remedial training. If an officer cannot demonstrate proficiency with a control device or knowledge of this agency's Use of Force Policy after remedial training, the officer will be restricted from carrying the control device and may be subject to discipline.

303.11 REPORTING

Any application of a control device or technique listed in this policy shall be documented in the related incident report and reported pursuant to the Use of Force Policy.

Conducted Energy Device

304.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides guidelines for the issuance and use of TASER (TM)s.

304.2 POLICY

The TASER device is intended to control a violent or potentially violent individual, while minimizing the risk of serious injury. The appropriate use of such a device should result in fewer serious injuries to officers and suspects.

304.3 ISSUANCE AND CARRYING TASER DEVICES

Only members who have successfully completed department-approved training may be issued and carry the TASER device.

Officers shall only use the TASER device and cartridges that have been issued by the Department.officers who have been issued the TASER device shall wear the device in an approved holster on their duty belt or external vest carrier on their "weak" side, opposite their duty weapon. Wearing of the device on the external vest carrier will be restricted to special teams.

Members carrying the TASER device should perform a periodic spark test on the unit in accordance with training on the beginning of their work week cycle.

(a) Officers shall be responsible for ensuring that their issued TASER device is properly maintained and in good working order.

(b) Officers shall not hold both a firearm and the TASER device at the same time.

304.4 USE OF THE TASER DEVICE

The TASER device has limitations and restrictions requiring consideration before its use. The TASER device should only be used when its operator can safely approach the subject within the operational range of the device. Although the TASER device is generally effective in controlling most individuals, officers should be aware that the device may not achieve the intended results and be prepared with other options.

304.4.1 APPLICATION OF THE TASER DEVICE

The TASER device may be used in any of the following circumstances, when the circumstances perceived by the officer at the time indicate that such application is reasonably necessary to control a person:

(a) The subject is violent or has demonstrated, by words or action, an intention to be violent or to physically resist, and reasonably appears to present the potential to harm officers, him/herself or others.

Mere flight from a pursuing officer, without other known circumstances or factors, is not good cause for the use of the TASER device to apprehend an individual.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

304.4.2 SPECIAL DEPLOYMENT CONSIDERATIONS

The use of the TASER device on certain individuals should generally be avoided unless the totality of the circumstances indicates that other available options reasonably appear ineffective or would present a greater danger to the officer, the subject or others, and the officer reasonably believes that the need to control the individual outweighs the risk of using the device. This includes:

(a) Individuals who are known to be pregnant.

(b) Elderly individuals or obvious juveniles.

(c) Individuals with obviously low body mass.

(d) Individuals who are handcuffed or otherwise restrained.

(e) Individuals who have been recently sprayed with a flammable chemical agent or who are otherwise in close proximity to any known combustible vapor or flammable material, including alcohol-based oleoresin capsicum (OC) spray.

(f) Individuals whose position or activity may result in collateral injury (e.g., falls from height, operating vehicles).

Because the application of the TASER device in the drive-stun mode (i.e., direct contact without probes) relies primarily on pain compliance, the use of the drive-stun mode generally should be limited to supplementing the probe-mode to complete the circuit, or as a distraction technique to gain separation between officers and the subject, thereby giving officers time and distance to consider other force options or actions.

The TASER device shall not be used to psychologically torment, elicit statements or to punish any individual.

304.4.3 TARGETING CONSIDERATIONS

Reasonable efforts should be made to target lower center mass and avoid the head, neck, chest and groin. If the dynamics of a situation or officer safety do not permit the officer to limit the application of the C.E.D. probes to a precise target area, officers should monitor the condition of the subject if one or more probes strikes the head, neck, chest or groin until the subject is examined by paramedics or other medical personnel.

304.4.4 MULTIPLE APPLICATIONS OF THE TASER DEVICE

Officers should apply the TASER device for only one standard cycle and then evaluate the situation before applying any subsequent cycles. Multiple applications of the TASER device against a single individual are generally not recommended and should be avoided unless the officer reasonably believes that the need to control the individual outweighs the potentially increased risk posed by multiple applications.

If the first application of the TASER device appears to be ineffective in gaining control of an individual, the officer should consider certain factors before additional applications of the TASER device, including:

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(a) Whether the probes are making proper contact.

(b) Whether the individual has the ability and has been given a reasonable opportunity to comply.

(c) Whether verbal commands, other options or tactics may be more effective.

Officers should generally not intentionally apply more than one TASER device at a time against a single subject.

304.4.5 ACTIONS FOLLOWING DEPLOYMENTS
Officers shall notify a supervisor of all TASER device discharges.

304.4.6 DANGEROUS ANIMALS
The Taser device may be deployed against an animal as part of a plan to deal with a potentially dangerous animal, such as a dog, if the animal reasonably appears to pose an imminent threat to human safety and alternative methods are not reasonably available or would likely be ineffective.

304.5 DOCUMENTATION

Officers shall document all TASER device discharges in the related arrest/crime report and in accordance with the Use of Force report form. Unintentional discharges will be documented. Officers shall dock their Taser battery as soon as reasonably possible after a discharge of their Taser, except for routine testing and training. Uploaded firing information will be labeled with associated incident information. Unintentional discharges will be documented in writing to the Office of Professional Standards.

304.5.1 REPORTS
The officer should include the following in the arrest/crime report:

(a) Identification of all personnel firing TASER devices

(b) Identification of all witnesses

(c) Medical care provided to the subject

(d) Observations of the subject’s physical and physiological actions

(e) Any known or suspected drug use, intoxication or other medical problems

304.6 MEDICAL TREATMENT

Officers will use protective gloves when removing probes. Only appropriate medical personnel should remove TASER device probes from a person’s body if they are in a sensitive area. Used TASER device probes shall be treated as a sharps biohazard, similar to a used hypodermic needle, and handled appropriately. Universal precautions should be taken.

All persons who have been struck by TASER device probes or who have been subjected to the electric discharge of the device shall be medically assessed prior to booking. Additionally, any such individual who falls under any of the following categories should, as soon as practicable, be examined by paramedics or other qualified medical personnel:

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(a) The person is suspected of being under the influence of controlled substances and/or alcohol.

(b) The person may be pregnant.

(c) The person reasonably appears to be in need of medical attention.

(d) The TASER device probes are lodged in a sensitive area (e.g., groin, female breast, head, face, neck).

(e) The person requests medical treatment.

Any individual exhibiting signs of distress or who is exposed to multiple or prolonged applications (i.e., more than 15 seconds) shall be transported to a medical facility for examination or medically evaluated prior to booking. If any individual refuses medical attention, such a refusal should be witnessed by another officer and/or medical personnel and shall be fully documented in related reports. If an audio recording is made of the contact or an interview with the individual, any refusal should be included, if possible.

The transporting officer shall inform any person providing medical care or receiving custody that the individual has been subjected to the application of the TASER device.

304.7 SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

A supervisor should respond to all incidents where the TASER device was activated.

A supervisor should review each incident where a person has been exposed to an activation of the TASER device. The supervisor shall ensure that the officer has uploaded the firing data to evidence via docking their battery prior to concluding their shift..

304.8 TRAINING

Personnel who are authorized to carry the TASER device shall be permitted to do so only after successfully completing the initial department-approved training. Any personnel who have not carried the TASER device as a part of their assignment for a period of twelve months or more shall be re-certified by a department-approved TASER device instructor prior to again carrying or using the device.

Proficiency training for personnel who have been issued TASER devices should occur every year. A reassessment of an officer's knowledge and/or practical skill may be required at any time if deemed appropriate by the Chief or their designee. All training and proficiency for TASER devices will be documented in the officer's training file.

Command staff, supervisors and investigators should receive TASER device training as appropriate for the investigations they conduct and review.

Officers who do not carry TASER devices should receive training that is sufficient to familiarize them with the device and with working with officers who use the device.

The Administrative Captain is responsible for ensuring that all members who carry TASER devices have received initial and annual proficiency training.

Conducted Energy Device

Application of TASER devices during training could result in injury to personnel and should not be mandatory for certification.

The Administrative Captain should ensure that all training includes:

(a) A review of this policy.

(b) A review of the Use of Force Policy.

(c) Performing weak-hand draws or cross-draws to reduce the possibility of unintentionally drawing and firing a firearm.

(d) Target area considerations, to include techniques or options to reduce the unintentional application of probes near the head, neck, chest and groin.

(e) Handcuffing a subject during the application of the TASER device and transitioning to other force options.

Officer-Involved Shootings and Deaths

305.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to establish policy and procedures for the investigation of an incident in which a person is injured or dies as the result of an officer-involved shooting or dies as a result of another action of an officer.

In other incidents not covered by this policy, the Chief of Police may decide that the investigation will follow the process provided in this policy.

305.2 TYPES OF INVESTIGATIONS

Officer-involved shootings and deaths involve several separate investigations. The investigations may include:

- A criminal investigation of the suspect's actions.
- A criminal investigation of the involved officer's actions.
- An administrative investigation as to policy compliance by involved officers.
- A civil investigation to determine potential liability.

305.3 CONTROL OF INVESTIGATIONS

The Chief of Police may request ND BCI or another outside agency to conduct the criminal investigation of officer-involved shootings and deaths. This may include providing any assistance requested by the outside agency.

Jurisdiction is determined by the location of the shooting or death and the agency employing the involved officer. The following scenarios outline the jurisdictional responsibilities for investigating officer-involved shootings and deaths.

305.3.1 CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION OF SUSPECT ACTIONS

The investigation of any possible criminal conduct by the suspect is controlled by the agency in whose jurisdiction the suspect's crime occurred. For example, the Minot Police Department would control the investigation if the suspect's crime occurred in Minot.

If multiple crimes have been committed in multiple jurisdictions, identification of the agency that will control the investigation may be reached in the same way as with any other crime. The investigation may be conducted by the agency in control of the criminal investigation of the involved officer, at the discretion of the Chief of Police and with concurrence from the other agency.

305.3.2 CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION OF OFFICER ACTIONS

When an officer from this department is involved, the criminal investigation will be handled according to this policy. The normal protocol will be for the Chief of Police or his designee to request ND BCI or another outside agency to conduct the criminal investigation of the officer(s) actions.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

Requests made of this department to investigate a shooting or death involving an outside agency's officer shall be referred to the Chief of Police or the authorized designee for approval.

305.3.3 ADMINISTRATIVE INVESTIGATION

Regardless of where the incident occurs, the administrative investigation of each involved officer is controlled by the respective employing agency.

305.4 INVESTIGATION PROCESS

The following procedures are guidelines used in the response and investigation of an officer-involved shooting or death.

305.4.1 UNINVOLVED OFFICER RESPONSIBILITIES

Upon arrival at the scene of an officer-involved shooting or death, the first uninvolved MPD officer will be the officer-in-charge and will assume the responsibilities of a supervisor until properly relieved. This officer should, as appropriate:

(a) Secure the scene and identify and eliminate hazards for all those involved.

(b) Take reasonable steps to obtain emergency medical attention for injured individuals.

(c) Request additional resources from the Department or other agencies as needed.

(d) Coordinate a perimeter or pursuit of suspects.

(e) Check for injured persons and evacuate as needed.

(f) Brief the supervisor upon arrival.

305.4.2 SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

Upon arrival at the scene, the first uninvolved MPD supervisor should ensure completion of the duties as outlined above, plus:

(a) Attempt to obtain a brief overview of the situation from any uninvolved officers.

1. In the event that there are no uninvolved officers who can supply adequate overview, the supervisor should attempt to obtain a brief voluntary overview from one involved officer.

(b) If necessary, the supervisor may administratively order any MPD officer to immediately provide public safety information necessary to secure the scene, identify injured parties and pursue suspects.

1. Public safety information shall be limited to such things as outstanding suspect information, number and direction of any shots fired, perimeter of the incident scene, identity of known or potential witnesses and any other pertinent information.

2. The initial on-scene supervisor should not attempt to order any involved officer to provide any information other than public safety information.

(c) Provide all available public safety information to the Patrol Supervisor and Minot Central Dispatch. If feasible, sensitive information should be communicated over secure networks.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(d) Take command of and secure the incident scene with additional MPD members until properly relieved by another supervisor or other assigned personnel or investigator.

(e) As soon as practicable, ensure that involved officers are transported (separately, if feasible) to a suitable location for further direction.

(a) Each involved MPD officer should be given an administrative order not to discuss the incident with other involved officers or MPD members pending further direction from a supervisor.

(b) When an involved officer's weapon is taken or left at the scene for other than officer-safety reasons (e.g., evidence), ensure that he/she is transported by other officers.

(c) ensure that the integrity of any physical evidence present on the involved officer's equipment or clothing, such as blood or fingerprints is preserved until investigators or crime scene response personnel can properly retrieve it.

305.4.3 PATROL SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

Upon learning of an officer-involved shooting or death, the Patrol Supervisor shall be responsible for coordinating all aspects of the incident until he/she is relieved by the Chief of Police or a Division Commander.

305.4.4 NOTIFICATIONS

The following persons may be notified as soon as practicable:

- Chief of Police
- Investigations Division Commander
- Outside agency investigators (if appropriate)
- Patrol Division Commander
- Psychological/peer support personnel
- Coroner (if necessary)
- Officer representative (if requested)
- Public Information Officer
- Office of Professional Standards

All outside inquiries about the incident shall be directed to the Patrol Supervisor or Department Public Information Officer.

305.4.5 INVOLVED OFFICERS

The following shall be considered for the involved officer:

(a) Any request for legal representation will be accommodated.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

1. Involved MPD officers shall not be permitted to meet collectively or in a group with an attorney or any representative prior to providing a formal interview or report.
2. Requests from involved non-MPD officers should be referred to their employing agency.

(b) Discussions with licensed attorneys will be considered privileged as attorney-client communications.

(c) A licensed psychotherapist shall be provided by the Department to each involved MPD officer. A licensed psychotherapist may also be provided to any other affected MPD members, upon request.

1. Interviews with a licensed psychotherapist will be considered privileged.
2. An interview or session with a licensed psychotherapist may take place prior to the member providing a formal interview or report. However, involved members shall not be permitted to consult or meet collectively or in a group with a licensed psychotherapist prior to providing a formal interview or report.
3. A separate fitness-for-duty exam may also be required (see the Fitness for Duty Policy).

Although the Department will honor the sensitivity of communications with peer counselors, there is no legal privilege to such communications. Peer counselors are cautioned against discussing the facts of any incident with an involved or witness officer.

Care should be taken to preserve the integrity of any physical evidence present on the involved officer's equipment or clothing, such as blood or fingerprints, until investigators or lab personnel can properly retrieve it.

Each involved MPD officer shall be given reasonable paid administrative leave following an officer-involved shooting or death. It shall be the responsibility of the Patrol Supervisor to make schedule adjustments to accommodate such leave.

305.5 CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION

Once public safety issues have been addressed, criminal investigators should be given the opportunity to obtain a voluntary statement from involved officers and to complete their interviews. The following shall be considered for the involved officer:

(a) MPD Command Staff personnel should not participate directly in any voluntary interview of MPD officers. This will not prohibit such personnel from monitoring interviews or providing the criminal investigators with topics for inquiry.

(b) If requested, any involved officer will be afforded the opportunity to consult individually with a representative of his/her choosing or an attorney prior to speaking with criminal investigators. However, in order to maintain the integrity of each involved officer’s statement, involved officers shall not consult or meet with a representative or an attorney collectively or in groups prior to being interviewed.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(c) If any involved officer is physically, emotionally or otherwise not in a position to provide a voluntary statement when interviewed by criminal investigators, consideration should be given to allowing a reasonable period for the officer to schedule an alternate time for the interview.

(d) Any voluntary statement provided by an involved officer will be made available for inclusion in any related investigation, including administrative investigations. However, no administratively coerced statement will be provided to any criminal investigators unless the officer consents.

305.5.1 WITNESS IDENTIFICATION AND INTERVIEWS

Because potential witnesses to an officer-involved shooting or death may become unavailable or the integrity of their statements compromised with the passage of time, a supervisor should take reasonable steps to promptly coordinate with criminal investigators to utilize available law enforcement personnel for the following:

(a) Identification of all persons present at the scene and in the immediate area.

1. When feasible, a recorded statement should be obtained from those persons who claim not to have witnessed the incident but who were present at the time it occurred.

2. Any potential witness who is unwilling or unable to remain available for a formal interview should not be detained absent reasonable suspicion to detain or probable cause to arrest. Without detaining the individual for the sole purpose of identification, attempts to identify the witness prior to his/her departure should be made whenever feasible.

(b) Witnesses who are willing to provide a formal interview should be asked to meet at a suitable location where criminal investigators may obtain a recorded statement. Such witnesses, if willing, may be transported by a member of the Department.

1. A written, verbal or recorded statement of consent should be obtained prior to transporting a witness. When the witness is a minor, consent should be obtained from the parent or guardian, if available, prior to transportation.

(c) Promptly contacting the suspect’s known family and associates to obtain any available and untainted background information about the suspect’s activities and state of mind prior to the incident.

305.5.2 INVESTIGATIVE PERSONNEL

Once notified of an officer-involved shooting or death, it shall be the responsibility of the Investigations Division supervisor to assign appropriate investigative personnel to handle the investigation of related crimes. Department investigators may be assigned to separately handle the investigation of any related crimes not being investigated by the outside agency.

305.5.3 REPORTS BY INVOLVED MPD OFFICERS

In the event that suspects remain outstanding or subject to prosecution for related offenses, this department shall retain the authority to require involved MPD officers to provide sufficient information for related criminal reports to facilitate the apprehension and prosecution of those individuals.

While the involved MPD officer may write the report, it is generally recommended that such reports be completed by assigned investigators, who should interview all involved officers as victims/ witnesses. Since the purpose of these reports will be to facilitate criminal prosecution, statements of involved officers should focus on evidence to establish the elements of criminal activities by suspects. Care should be taken not to duplicate information provided by involved officers in other reports.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to deprive an involved MPD officer of the right to consult with legal counsel prior to completing any such criminal report.

Reports related to the prosecution of criminal suspects will be processed according to normal procedures but should also be included for reference in the investigation of the officer-involved shooting or death.

305.6 ADMINISTRATIVE INVESTIGATION

In addition to all other investigations associated with an officer-involved shooting or death, this department will conduct an internal administrative investigation of involved MPD officers to determine conformance with department policy. This investigation will be conducted under the supervision of the Office of Professional Standards and will be considered a confidential officer personnel file until completion.

Interviews of members shall be subject to department policies and applicable laws.

(a) Any officer involved in a shooting or death may be requested or administratively compelled to provide a blood and/or urine sample for alcohol/drug screening. Absent consent from the officer, such compelled samples and the results of any such testing shall not be disclosed to any criminal investigative agency.

(b) If any officer has voluntarily elected to provide a statement to criminal investigators, the assigned administrative investigator should review that statement before proceeding with any further interview of that involved officer.

    1. If a further interview of the officer is deemed necessary to determine policy compliance, care should be taken to limit the inquiry to new areas with minimal, if any, duplication of questions addressed in the voluntary statement. The involved officer shall be provided with a copy of his/her prior statement before proceeding with any subsequent interviews.

(c) In the event that an involved officer has elected not to provide criminal investigators with a voluntary statement, the assigned administrative investigator shall conduct an administrative interview to determine all relevant information.

    1. Although this interview should not be unreasonably delayed, care should be taken to ensure that the officer's physical and psychological needs have been addressed before commencing the interview.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

2. If requested, the officer shall have the opportunity to select an uninvolved representative to be present during the interview. However, in order to maintain the integrity of each individual officer's statement, involved officers shall not consult or meet with a representative collectively or in groups prior to being interviewed.
3. Administrative interviews should be recorded by the investigator. The officer may also record the interview.
4. The officer shall be informed of the nature of the investigation. If an officer refuses to answer questions, he/she should be given his/her Garrity rights and ordered to provide full and truthful answers to all questions. The officer shall be informed that the interview will be for administrative purposes only and that the statement cannot be used criminally.
5. The Office of Professional Standards shall compile all relevant information and reports necessary for the Department to determine compliance with applicable policies.
6. Regardless of whether the use of force is an issue in the case, the completed administrative investigation shall be submitted to the Use of Force Review Board, which will restrict its findings as to whether there was compliance with the Use of Force Policy.
7. Any other indications of potential policy violations shall be determined in accordance with standard disciplinary procedures.

305.7 CIVIL LIABILITY RESPONSE

A member of this department may be assigned to work exclusively under the direction of the legal counsel for the Department to assist in the preparation of materials deemed necessary in anticipation of potential civil litigation.

All materials generated in this capacity shall be considered attorney work product and may not be used for any other purpose. The civil liability response is not intended to interfere with any other investigation but shall be given reasonable access to all other investigations.

305.8 AUDIO AND VIDEO RECORDINGS

Any officer involved in a shooting or death may be permitted to review available Mobile Audio/ Video (MAV), body-worn video, or other video or audio recordings prior to providing a recorded statement or completing supplemental reports. Officers should articulate any discrepancies between their perceptions and recollections and what appears on video.

Any MAV, body-worn and other known video or audio recordings of an incident should not be publicly released during an ongoing investigation without consulting the prosecuting attorney or City Attorney's Office, as appropriate.

305.9 DEBRIEFING

Following an officer-involved shooting or death, the Minot Police Department should conduct both a critical incident/stress debriefing and a tactical debriefing.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.

305.9.1 TACTICAL DEBRIEFING

A tactical debriefing should take place to identify any training or areas of policy that need improvement. The Chief of Police should identify the appropriate participants. This debriefing should not be conducted until all involved members have provided recorded or formal statements to criminal and/or administrative investigators.

305.9.2 CRITICAL INCIDENT/STRESS DEBRIEFING

A critical incident/stress debriefing should occur as soon as practicable. Notes and recorded statements should not be taken because the sole purpose of the debriefing is to help mitigate the stress-related effects of a traumatic event.

The debriefing is not part of any investigative process. Care should be taken not to release or repeat any communication made during a debriefing unless otherwise authorized by policy, law or a valid court order (N.D.C.C. § 44-04-18.1(5)).

Attendance at the debriefing shall only include those members of the Department directly involved in the incident, which can include support personnel (e.g., dispatchers, other non-sworn). Family or other support personnel may attend with the concurrence of those involved in the incident. The debriefing shall be closed to the public and should be closed to all other members of the Department, including supervisory and internal affairspersonnel.

305.10 MEDIA RELATIONS

Any media release shall be prepared with input and concurrence from the supervisor and department representative responsible for each phase of the investigation.

No involved MPD officer shall make any comment to the media unless he/she is authorized by the Chief of Police or a Division Commander.

Department members receiving inquiries regarding officer-involved shootings or deaths occurring in other jurisdictions shall refrain from public comment and will direct those inquiries to the agency having jurisdiction and primary responsibility for the investigation.

Firearms shall not be carried by any member, either on- or off-duty, who has consumed an amount of an alcoholic beverage, taken any drugs or medication, or has taken any combination thereof that would tend to adversely affect the member's senses or judgment.

306.5 SIDEARM TRAINING AND QUALIFICATIONS

Annually, every officer shall successfully complete a sidearmqualification program in accordance with North Dakota POST rules unless waived by POST (N.D.A.C. 109-02-3-4, N.D.A.C. 109-02-03-06).

The Lead Weapons Instructor shall keep accurate records of qualifications and training as directed by the Administrative Commander.

At least once annually, all personnel carrying a duty sidearm will receive training on the Use of Force policy and demonstrate their knowledge and understanding of the policy.

All personnel carrying a duty sidearm are required to qualify three times per year and show firearms proficiency with their on-duty sidearm on an approved range course or as directed by the Administrative Commander.Officers shall qualify annually with their off-duty handguns.

306.5.1 NON-CERTIFICATION OR NON-QUALIFICATION

If any member fails to meet minimum standards for sidearms training or qualification for any reason, including injury, illness, duty status or scheduling conflict, that member shall notify the Lead Weapons Instructor prior to the end of the required training or qualification period.

Those who fail to meet minimum standards or qualify shall be provided remedial training and will be subject to the following requirements:

(a) Additional range assignments may be scheduled to assist the member in demonstrating consistent sidearm proficiency.

(b) Members shall be given credit for a range training or qualification when obtaining a qualifying score or meeting standards after remedial training.

(c) A failure to qualify for reasons other than proficiency, including any malfunction of sidearm, ammunition or otherwise, is not considered a failed attempt at qualification.

(d) No range credit will be given for the following:

  (a) Unauthorized range make-up

  (b) Failure to meet minimum standards or qualify after remedial training

Members who fail to demonstrate duty sidearms proficiency as required by policy, or who fail to meet POST qualification requirements, may not carry a sidearm in the course of employment and will be relieved from field assignment (N.D.A.C. § 109-02-03-01). Disciplinary action may follow.

See also the PATROL RIFLE policy for requirements concerning the Patrol Rifle.

306.6 FIREARM DISCHARGE

Except during training or recreational use, any member who discharges a firearm intentionally or unintentionally, on- or off-duty, shall make a verbal report to his/her supervisor as soon as circumstances permit. If the discharge results in injury or death to another person, statements and reports shall be made in accordance with the Officer-Involved Shootings and Deaths Policy. If a firearm was discharged as a use of force, the involved member shall adhere to the reporting requirements set forth in the Use of Force Policy.

In all other cases, written reports shall be made as follows:

(a) If on-duty at the time of the incident, the member shall file a written report with his/her Division Commander or provide a recorded statement to investigators prior to the end of shift, unless otherwise directed.

(b) If off-duty at the time of the incident, a written report shall be submitted or a recorded statement provided no later than the end of the next regularly scheduled shift, unless otherwise directed by a supervisor.

306.6.1 DESTRUCTION OF ANIMALS

Members are authorized to use firearms to stop an animal in circumstances where the animal reasonably appears to pose an imminent threat to human safety and alternative methods are not reasonably available or would likely be ineffective.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

In circumstances where there is sufficient advance notice that a potentially dangerous animal may be encountered, department members should develop reasonable contingency plans for dealing with the animal (e.g., fire extinguisher, TASER (TM), oleoresin capsicum (OC) spray, animal control officer). Nothing in this policy shall prohibit any member from shooting a dangerous animal if circumstances reasonably dictate that a contingency plan has failed or becomes impractical.

306.6.2 INJURED ANIMALS
With the approval of a supervisor, a member may euthanize an animal that is so badly injured that human compassion requires its removal from further suffering and where other dispositions are impractical.

306.6.3 WARNING AND OTHER SHOTS
Generally, warning shots or shots fired for the purpose of summoning aid are prohibited.

306.7 WEAPONS INSTRUCTOR DUTIES

The range will be under the exclusive control of the Weapons Instructor. All members attending will follow the directions of the Weapons Instructor. The Weapons Instructor will maintain a roster of all members attending the range and will submit the roster to the Lead Weapons Instructor after each range date. Failure of any member to check in with the Firearms Instructor may result in non-participation or non-qualification.

The range shall remain operational and accessible to department members during hours established by the Ward County Law Enforcement Range Board.

The Lead Weapons Instructor has the responsibility of insuring that a periodic inspection, at least once a year, of all duty sidearms carried by members of this department to verify proper operation. The Lead Weapons Instructor has the authority to deem any department-issued or personally owned sidearm unfit for service. The member will be responsible for all repairs to his/her personal sidearm; it will not be returned to service until it has been inspected by an armorer and the inspection has been approved by the Lead Weapons Instructor.

The Lead Weapons Instructor has the responsibility for insuring each member meets at least the minimum firearm qualification requirements.

The Lead Weapons Instructor shall complete and submit to the Administration Division documentation of the training courses provided. Documentation shall include the qualifications of each instructor who provides the training, a description of the training provided and, on a form that has been approved by the Department, a list of each member who completes the training or qualification. The Lead Weapons Instructor should keep accurate records of all training shoots, qualifications, repairs, maintenance or other firearms related records as directed by the Administration Division.

The Lead Weapons Instructor shall forward documentation of licensed department personnel duty sidearm qualifications to POST as required by state law (N.D.A.C. § 109-02-03-07(3)).

306.8 FLYING WHILE ARMED

The Transportation Security Administration (TSA) has imposed rules governing law enforcement officers flying armed on commercial aircraft. The following requirements apply to officers who intend to be armed while flying on a commercial air carrier or flights where screening is conducted (49 CFR 1544.219):

(a) Officers wishing to fly while armed must be flying in an official capacity, not for vacation or pleasure, and must have a need to have the firearm accessible, as determined by the Department based on the law and published TSA rules.

(b) Officers must carry their Minot Police Department identification card, bearing the officer's name, a full-face photograph, identification number, the officer's signature and the signature of the Chief of Police or the official seal of the Department and must present this identification to airline officials when requested. The officer should also carry the standard photo identification needed for passenger screening by airline and TSA officials (e.g., drivers license, passport).

(c) The Minot Police Department must submit a National Law Enforcement Telecommunications System (NLETS) message prior to the officer's travel. If approved, TSA will send the Minot Police Department an NLETS message containing a unique alphanumeric identifier. The officer must present the message on the day of travel to airport personnel as authorization to travel while armed.

(d) An official letter signed by the Chief of Police authorizing armed travel may also accompany the officer. The letter should outline the officer's need to fly armed, detail his/her itinerary, and should include that the officer has completed the mandatory TSA training for a law enforcement officer flying while armed.

(e) Officers must have completed the mandated TSA security training covering officers flying while armed. The training shall be given by the department-appointed instructor.

(f) It is the officer's responsibility to notify the air carrier in advance of the intended armed travel. This notification should be accomplished by early check-in at the carrier's check-in counter.

(g) Any officer flying while armed should discreetly contact the flight crew prior to take-off and notify them of his/her assigned seat.

(h) Discretion must be used to avoid alarming passengers or crew by displaying a firearm. The officer must keep the firearm concealed on his/her person at all times. Firearms are not permitted in carry-on luggage and may not be stored in an overhead compartment.

(i) Officers should try to resolve any problems associated with flying armed through the flight captain, ground security manager, TSA representative or other management representative of the air carrier.

(j) Officers shall not consume alcoholic beverages while aboard an aircraft, or within eight hours prior to boarding an aircraft.

306.9 CARRYING FIREARMS OUT OF STATE

Qualified, active, full-time officers of this department are authorized to carry a concealed firearm in all other states subject to the following conditions (18 USC § 926B):

(a) The officer shall carry his/her Minot Police Department identification card whenever carrying such firearm.

(b) The officer is not the subject of any current disciplinary action.

(c) The officer may not be under the influence of alcohol or any other intoxicating or hallucinatory drug.

(d) The officer will remain subject to this and all other department policies (including qualifying and training).

Officers are cautioned that individual states may enact local regulations that permit private persons or entities to prohibit or restrict the possession of concealed firearms on their property, or that prohibit or restrict the possession of firearms on any state or local government property, installation, building, base or park. Federal authority may not shield an officer from arrest and prosecution in such locally restricted areas.

Active law enforcement officers from other states are subject to all requirements set forth in 18 USC § 926B.

Vehicle Pursuits

307.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides guidelines for vehicle pursuits in order to protect the safety of involved officers, the public, fleeing violators and property.

307.1.1 POLICY

This department's response to those who unlawfully flee from law enforcement action shall stress a common sense balance between the importance of apprehending offenders and the high risk nature of vehicle pursuits.

307.2 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Vehicle pursuit - An event involving one or more peace officers attempting to apprehend a suspect who is trying to avoid arrest while operating a vehicle by using high speed or other evasive tactics, such as disregarding traffic warning signs, stop signs, red lights, and/or driving off a roadway.

Blocking or vehicle intercept - A slow-speed coordinated maneuver where two or more law enforcement vehicles simultaneously intercept and block the movement of a suspect vehicle, the driver of which may be unaware of the impending enforcement stop. The goal is containment and preventing a pursuit, or the continuation of a pursuit. Blocking is not a moving or stationary road block.

Boxing in - A tactic designed to stop a violator's vehicle by surrounding it with law enforcement vehicles and then slowing all vehicles to a stop.

Ramming - The deliberate act of impacting a violator's vehicle with another vehicle to functionally damage or otherwise force the violator's vehicle to stop.

Roadblocks - A tactic designed to stop a violator's vehicle by intentionally placing a vehicle or other immovable object in the path of the violator's vehicle.

Tire deflation device, spikes or tack strips - A device that extends across the roadway and is designed to puncture the tires of the pursued vehicle.

307.3 OFFICER RESPONSIBILITIES

A vehicle pursuit shall be conducted using an authorized emergency vehicle that is equipped with and using as reasonably necessary a flashing red or a combination of red and blue, red and white, or red, white and blue lights and an audible signal by siren or airhorn (N.D.C.C. 39-10-03(2)).

The driver of a class A authorized vehicle may:

- Proceed past a red light, stop signal or stop sign, but only after slowing down as may be necessary for safe operation.
- Exceed the speed limit so long as the officer does not endanger life or property.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

- Disregard regulations governing direction of movement or turning in specified directions so long as the officer does not endanger life or property.

Officers shall drive with due regard for the safety of all persons.

The primary officer will vigorously investigate and seek prosecution for any incidents in which a motorist flees regardless of whether the pursuit is intitiated or terminated in an effort to deter this type of criminal behavior in the motoring public.

307.3.1 WHEN TO INITIATE A PURSUIT

An officer may initiate or engage in a pursuit if the violation is one that endangers others, or the officer has a reason to believe that the operator or occupants have committed or are committing a felony offense, or other criminal offense involving violence or injury.

Factors that shall be considered, both individually and collectively, when deciding to initiate or continue a pursuit include:

(a) The seriousness of the known or reasonably suspected crime and its relationship to community safety.

(b) The importance of protecting the public and balancing the known or reasonably suspected offense and the apparent need for immediate capture against the risks to officers, innocent motorists and others.

(c) The apparent nature of the fleeing suspect (e.g., whether the suspect represents a serious threat to public safety).

(d) The identity of the suspect has been verified and there is comparatively minimal risk in allowing the suspect to be apprehended at a later time.

(e) The safety of the public in the area of the pursuit, including the type of area, time of day, the amount of vehicular and pedestrian traffic (e.g., school zones) and the speed of the pursuit relative to these factors.

(f) The pursuing officer's familiarity with the area of the pursuit, the quality of radio communication between the pursuing units and the dispatcher/supervisor, and the driving capabilities of the pursuing officers under the conditions of the pursuit.

(g) The weather, traffic and road conditions that unreasonably increase the danger of the pursuit when weighed against the risks resulting from the suspect's escape.

(h) The performance capabilities of the vehicles used in the pursuit in relation to the speed and other conditions of the pursuit.

(i) Vehicle speeds.

(j) Other persons in or on the pursued vehicle (e.g., passengers, co-offenders and hostages).

(k) The availability of other resources, such as aircraft assistance.

(l) The police unit is carrying passengers other than on-duty police officers. Pursuits should not be undertaken with a prisoner or ride-along in the pursuit vehicle.

307.3.2 WHEN TO TERMINATE A PURSUIT

Pursuits should be discontinued whenever the circumstances known or which reasonably ought to be known to the officer or supervisor during the pursuit indicates that the present risk of continuing the pursuit reasonably appears to outweigh the risk resulting from the suspect's escape.

The above factors on when to initiate a pursuit are will apply equally to the decision to discontinue as well as the decision to initiate a pursuit. The term "terminate" shall be construed to mean to discontinue or to stop chasing the fleeing vehicle.A pursuit is terminated when the motorist stops, or when the attempt to apprehend is discontinued by the officer. An officer is deemed to be no longer attempting to apprehend the motorist when the officer deactivates the emergency lights and siren; pulls over to the side of the road and stops (does not continue to follow the fleeing vehicle) and/or, when safe to do so, makes a 90 or 180 degree turn away from the fleeing vehicle.

In addition to the factors listed above, the following factors should be considered when deciding whether to terminate a pursuit:

(a) The distance between the pursuing officers and the fleeing vehicle is so great that further pursuit would be futile or require the pursuit to continue for an unreasonable time or distance or the pursued vehicle's location is no longer definitely known.

(b) The officer's pursuit vehicle sustains damage or a mechanical failure that renders it unsafe to drive or has an emergency equipment failure that causes the vehicle to no longer qualify for emergency operation use.

(c) When directed to terminate the pursuit by a supervisor.

307.4 PURSUIT UNITS

Pursuit units should be limited to three vehicles (two units and a supervisor). However, the number of units involved will vary with the circumstances.

An officer or supervisor may request additional units to join a pursuit if, after assessing the factors outlined above, it appears that the number of officers involved would be insufficient to safely arrest the suspect. All other officers shall stay out of the pursuit but should remain alert to its progress and location. Any officer who drops out of a pursuit may then, if necessary, proceed to the termination point at legal speeds, following the appropriate rules of the road.

Distinctively marked patrol vehicles should replace unmarked vehicles involved in a pursuit whenever practicable.

The use of non police pursuit rated vehicles should be avoided when possible and the operator shall surrender their role in the pursuit to a police pursuit rated unit as quickly as possible.

307.4.1 VEHICLES WITHOUT EMERGENCY EQUIPMENT

Vehicles not equipped with a red emergency light and siren are prohibited from initiating or joining in any pursuit. Officers in such vehicles may provide support to pursuing units as long as the vehicle is operated in compliance with all traffic laws.

307.4.2 PRIMARY UNIT RESPONSIBILITIES

The initial pursuing officer will be designated as the primary pursuit unit and will be responsible for the conduct of the pursuit unless it is unable to remain reasonably close to the violator's vehicle. The primary responsibility of the officer initiating the pursuit is the apprehension of the suspect without unreasonable danger to him/herself or other persons.

The primary unit should notify Minot Central Dispatch, commencing with a request for priority radio traffic, that a vehicle pursuit has been initiated, and as soon as practicable, provide information which includes:

(a) The reason for the pursuit.

(b) The location and direction of travel.

(c) The speed of the fleeing vehicle.

(d) The description of the fleeing vehicle and license number, if known.

(e) The number of occupants.

(f) The identity or description of the known occupants.

(g) The weather, road and traffic conditions.

(h) The identity of other agencies involved in the pursuit.

(i) Information concerning the use of firearms, threat of force, injuries, hostages or other unusual hazards.

Unless relieved by a supervisor or secondary unit, the officer in the primary unit shall be responsible for broadcasting the progress of the pursuit. Unless circumstances reasonably indicate otherwise, the primary unit should relinquish the responsibility of broadcasting the progress of the pursuit to a secondary unit or aircraft joining the pursuit to minimize distractions and allow the primary unit to concentrate foremost on safe pursuit tactics.

307.4.3 SECONDARY UNIT RESPONSIBILITIES

The second officer in the pursuit is responsible for:

(a) Immediately notifying the dispatcher of his/her entry into the pursuit.

(b) Remaining at a safe distance behind the primary unit unless directed to assume the role of primary officer, or if the primary unit is unable to continue the pursuit.

(c) Broadcasting the progress of the pursuit unless the situation indicates otherwise.

(d) Serving as backup to the primary unit once the subject has been stopped.

307.4.4 PURSUIT DRIVING TACTICS

The decision to use specific driving tactics requires the same assessment of considerations outlined in the factors to be considered concerning pursuit initiation and termination. The following are tactics for units involved in the pursuit:

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(a) Officers, considering their driving skills and vehicle performance capabilities, will space themselves from other involved vehicles such that they are able to see and avoid hazards or react safely to maneuvers by the fleeing vehicle.

(b) Because intersections can present increased risks, the following tactics should be considered:

1. Pursuing units shall exercise due caution and slow down as may be necessary for safe operation when proceeding through controlled intersections.

(c) As a general rule, officers should not pursue a vehicle driving the wrong way on a roadway, highway or freeway. In the event the pursued vehicle does so, the following tactics should be considered:

1. Requesting assistance from an available air unit.

2. Maintaining visual contact with the pursued vehicle by paralleling on the correct side of the roadway.

3. Requesting other units to observe exits available to the suspect.

(d) Notifying the North Dakota State Patrol or other law enforcement agency if it appears the pursuit may enter their jurisdiction.

(e) Officers involved in a pursuit should not attempt to pass other units unless the situation indicates otherwise or they are requested to do so by the primary unit and a clear understanding of the maneuver process exists between the involved officers.

307.4.5 TACTICS/PROCEDURES FOR UNITS NOT INVOLVED IN THE PURSUIT
There should be no paralleling of the pursuit route. Officers should remain in their assigned area and should not become involved with the pursuit unless directed otherwise by a supervisor.

Non-pursuing personnel needed at the termination of the pursuit should respond in a non-emergency manner, observing the rules of the road unless exigent circumstances require an emergency response.

The primary unit, secondary unit and supervisor should be the only units operating under emergency conditions (emergency lights and siren) unless other units are assigned to the pursuit.

307.5 SUPERVISORY CONTROL AND RESPONSIBILITIES

It is the policy of this department that available supervisory and management control will be exercised over all vehicle pursuits involving officers from this department.

The field supervisor will be responsible for the following:

(a) Upon becoming aware of a pursuit, immediately notifying involved officers and Minot Central Dispatch of supervisory presence and ascertaining all reasonably available information to continuously assess the situation and risk factors associated with the pursuit in order to ensure that the pursuit is conducted within established department guidelines.

(b) Engaging in the pursuit, when appropriate, to provide on-scene supervision.

(c) Exercising management and control of the pursuit even if not engaged in it.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(d) Directing that the pursuit be terminated if, in his/her judgment, it is not justified to continue the pursuit under the guidelines of this policy.

307.5.1 PATROL SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

Upon becoming aware that a pursuit has been initiated, the Patrol Supervisor should monitor and continually assess the situation and ensure the pursuit is conducted within the guidelines and requirements of this policy. The Patrol Supervisor has the final responsibility for the coordination, control and termination of a vehicle pursuit and shall be in overall command.

The Patrol Supervisor shall review all pursuit reports for content and a copy should be forwarded to the Professional Standards Lieutenant.

307.6 COMMUNICATIONS

If the pursuit is confined within the City limits, radio communications will be conducted on the primary channel unless instructed otherwise by a supervisor or communications dispatcher. If the pursuit leaves the jurisdiction of this department or such is imminent, involved units should, whenever available, switch radio communications to an emergency channel most accessible by participating agencies and units.

307.6.1 DISPATCH RESPONSIBILITIES

Upon notification that a pursuit has been initiated, Minot Central Dispatch will be responsible for:

(a) Coordinating pursuit communications of the involved units and personnel.

(b) Notifying and coordinating with other involved or affected agencies as practicable.

(c) Ensuring that a patrol supervisor is notified of the pursuit.

(d) Assigning an incident number and logging all pursuit activities.

(e) Broadcasting pursuit updates as well as other pertinent information as necessary.

(f) Query DMV, CWIS, and NCIC for license data and any warrants.

307.7 INTERJURISDICTIONAL CONSIDERATIONS

When a pursuit enters another agency’s jurisdiction, the primary officer or supervisor, taking into consideration the distance traveled, unfamiliarity with the area, the risk of escape and other pertinent facts, should determine whether to request the other agency to assume the pursuit (N.D.C.C. § 40-20-05(2); N.D.C.C. § 11-15-33).

307.7.1 ASSUMPTION OF PURSUIT BY ANOTHER AGENCY

Minot Police Department officers will generally discontinue the pursuit when another agency has assumed the pursuit, unless continued assistance is requested by the agency assuming the pursuit. Upon discontinuing the pursuit, the primary unit may,with supervisory approval,proceed to the termination point to assist in the investigation. A supervisor should coordinate with the agency managing the termination point to determine the supervisor's need to respond or otherwise assist in the investigation. The supervisor should request reports from the agency involved in the pursuit.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

Notification of a pursuit in progress should not be construed as a request to join the pursuit. Requests to or from another agency to assume a pursuit should be specific, and mere request does not supercede this policy

307.7.2 PURSUITS EXTENDING INTO THIS JURISDICTION

The agency that initiates a pursuit shall be responsible for conducting the pursuit. Units from this department should not join a pursuit unless specifically requested to do so by the agency whose peace officers are in pursuit.

When a request is made for this department to assist or take over a pursuit that has entered this jurisdiction, the supervisor should apply all aspects of this Pursuit Policy.

Requests for pursuit intervention may also be considered by the Patrol Supervisor, and should be carried out in accordance with this agency's policy.

The Patrol Supervisor or supervisor, after consideration of the above factors, may decline to assist in or assume the other agency's pursuit.

In the event that a pursuit from another agency terminates within this jurisdiction, officers shall provide appropriate assistance to peace officers from the initiating agency and other involved agencies including, but not limited to, scene control, coordination and completion of supplemental reports and any other assistance requested or needed.

307.8 PURSUIT INTERVENTION

Pursuit intervention is an attempt to terminate the ability of a suspect to continue to flee in a vehicle through tactical application of technology, tire deflation devices, blocking, ramming or roadblock procedures.

Boxing in (rolling roadblocks) are generally prohibited, unless clear exigent circumstances are present.

307.8.1 WHEN USE IS AUTHORIZED

Whenever practicable, an officer shall seek approval from a supervisor before employing a pursuit intervention tactic. In deciding whether to use intervention tactics, officers/supervisors should balance the risk of allowing the pursuit to continue with the potential hazards arising from the use of each tactic to the public, the officers and persons in or on the pursued vehicle. With this in mind, the decision to use any intervention tactic should be reasonable in light of the circumstances apparent to the officer at the time of the decision.

307.8.2 USE OF FIREARMS

The use of firearms to disable a pursued vehicle is not generally an effective tactic and involves all the dangers associated with discharging firearms. Officers should not utilize firearms during an ongoing pursuit unless the conditions and circumstances meet the requirements authorizing the use of deadly force. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit any officer from using a firearm to stop a suspect from using a vehicle as a deadly weapon.

307.8.3 INTERVENTION STANDARDS

Any pursuit intervention tactic, depending upon the conditions and circumstances under which it is used, may present dangers to the officers, the public or anyone in or on the vehicle being pursued. Certain applications of intervention tactics may be construed to be a use of force, including deadly force, and are subject to department policies guiding such use. Officers shall consider these facts and requirements prior to deciding how, when, where and if an intervention tactic should be employed.

(a) Ramming a fleeing vehicle should be done only after other reasonable tactical means at the officer's disposal have been exhausted and where there does not appear to be another reasonable alternative method. This policy is an administrative guide to direct officers in their decision-making process before ramming another vehicle. When ramming is used as a means to stop a fleeing vehicle, the following factors should be present:

1. The suspect is an actual or suspected felon who reasonably appears to represent a serious threat to the public if not apprehended.
2. The suspect is driving with willful or wanton disregard for the safety of other persons or is driving in a reckless and life-endangering manner. If there does not reasonably appear to be a present or immediately foreseeable serious threat to the public, the use of ramming is not authorized.

(b) Tire deflation devices should be deployed only when it is reasonably apparent that only the pursued vehicle will be affected by their use. Prior to the deployment of spike strips, the officer shall notify pursuing units and the supervisor of the intent and location. Officers should carefully consider the limitations of such devices as well as the potential risk to officers, the public and occupants of the pursued vehicle.

(c) Because roadblocks involve a potential for serious injury or death to occupants of the pursued vehicle if the suspect does not stop, the intentional placement of roadblocks in the direct path of a pursued vehicle is generally discouraged and should not be deployed without prior approval of a supervisor. If roadblocks are deployed, it should only be done under extraordinary conditions when all other reasonable intervention techniques have failed or reasonably appear ineffective and the need to immediately stop the pursued vehicle substantially outweighs the risk of injury or death to occupants of the pursued vehicle, officers or other members of the public.

307.9 REPORTING AND REVIEW REQUIREMENTS

All appropriate reports shall be completed to comply with local and state regulations.

(a) The primary officer and all involved officers shall complete appropriate crime/arrest reports.

(b) The primary officer shall complete a pursuit report. All other officers shall complete supplemental reports.

(c) All reports will be completed no later than the end of the officer's shift.

(d) All reports will have a copy forwarded to the Professional Standards Lieutenant for review.

307.9.1 REGULAR AND PERIODIC PURSUIT TRAINING

In addition to initial and supplementary training on pursuits, all licensed employees will participate, no less than annually, in regular and periodic training addressing this policy and the importance of vehicle safety and protecting the public at all times. Training will include a recognition of the need to balance the known offense and the need for immediate capture against the risks to officers and others.

Officer Response To Calls

308.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides for the safe and appropriate response to all emergency and non-emergency situations.

308.2 RESPONSE TO CALLS

Officers responding to an emergency call shall proceed immediately. Officers shall continuously operate emergency lighting equipment and, if appropriate, sound the siren (N.D.C.C. § 39-10-03).

Responding with emergency lights and siren does not relieve the officer of the duty to drive with due regard for the safety of all persons and property and does not protect the officer from the consequences of reckless disregard for the safety of others.

Officers should only respond to a call as an emergency response when (N.D.C.C. § 39-10-03(2)):

(a) In pursuit or apprehension of a violator or suspected violator.

(b) Dispatched or otherwise in response to a reported emergency involving a possible personal injury, death or damage to property.

(c) The Chief of Police or authorized designee deems it advisable for the protection of a person or property.

Officers not responding to a call as an emergency response shall observe all traffic laws and proceed without the use of emergency lights and siren.

308.3 REQUESTING EMERGENCY ASSISTANCE

Officers may request emergency assistance when they reasonably believe that there is an imminent threat to the safety of officers, or assistance is needed to prevent imminent serious harm to a citizen.

If circumstances permit, the requesting officer should give the following information:

- The unit number
- The location
- The reason for the request and type of emergency
- The number of units required

Where a situation has stabilized and emergency response is not required, the requesting officer shall promptly notify Minot Central Dispatch.

308.3.1 NUMBER OF UNITS PARTICIPATING

Normally, only those units reasonably necessary should respond to a call with an emergency response. The Patrol Supervisor or the field supervisor should monitor all emergency responses and reduce or enhance the response as warranted.

308.4 RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE RESPONDING OFFICER

Officers shall exercise sound judgment and care with due regard for life and property when responding to a call with an emergency response. During a call involving an emergency response officers may (N.D.C.C. § 39-10-03(1)):

(a) Disregard regulations governing parking or standing when using emergency lighting equipment.

(b) Proceed past a red light, stop signal or stop sign, but only after slowing down as may be necessary for safe operation.

(c) Exceed any speed limits provided this does not endanger life or property.

(d) Disregard regulations governing direction of movement or turning in specified directions.

The decision to continue as an emergency response is at the discretion of the officer. If, in the officer's judgment, the roadway conditions or traffic congestion does not permit such a response without unreasonable risk, the officer may elect to respond to the call without the use of emergency lights and siren at the legal speed limit. In such an event, the officer should immediately notify other responding units and/or Minot Central Dispatch. An officer shall also discontinue an emergency response when directed by a supervisor or as otherwise appropriate.

Upon determining that an emergency response is appropriate, an officer shall immediately give the location from which he/she is responding unless it is not practicable to do so.

The first officer arriving at an emergency response scene should determine whether to increase or reduce the level of the response and notify Minot Central Dispatch of his/her determination. Any subsequent change in the appropriate response level should be communicated to Minot Central Dispatch by the officer in charge of the scene unless a supervisor assumes this responsibility.

308.5 COMMUNICATIONS RESPONSIBILITIES

A dispatcher shall ensure acknowledgment and response of assisting units when an officer requests emergency assistance or when the available information reasonably indicates that the public is threatened with serious injury or death and an immediate law enforcement response is needed. The dispatcher shall:

a. Attempt to assign the closest available unit to the location requiring assistance.

b. Notify and coordinate outside emergency services (e.g., fire and ambulance).

c. In the case of unusual circumstances, a dispatcher shall immediately notify the Patrol Supervisor.

d. Continue to obtain and broadcast information as necessary concerning the response and monitor the situation until it is stabilized or terminated.

e. Control all radio communication during the emergency and coordinate assistance under the direction of the Patrol Supervisor or field supervisor.

308.6 SUPERVISORY RESPONSIBILITIES

Upon being notified that an emergency response has been initiated, the Patrol Supervisor or the field supervisor shall determine that:

(a) the proper response has been initiated.

(b) No more than those units reasonably necessary under the circumstances are involved in the response.

The field supervisor shall, whenever practicable, monitor the response until it has been stabilized or terminated, and assert control by directing units into or out of the response if necessary. If, in the supervisor's judgment, the circumstances require additional units to be assigned an emergency response, the supervisor may do so.

It is the supervisor's responsibility to terminate an emergency response that, in his/her judgment, is inappropriate due to the circumstances.

When making the decision to authorize an emergency response, the Patrol Supervisor or the field supervisor should consider the following:

- The type of call or crime involved
- The necessity of a timely response
- Traffic and roadway conditions
- The location of the responding units

308.7 FAILURE OF EMERGENCY EQUIPMENT

If the emergency equipment on the vehicle should fail to operate, the officer must terminate the emergency response and continue accordingly.

The officer shall notify the Patrol Supervisor, field supervisor or Minot Central Dispatch of the equipment failure so that another unit may be assigned to the emergency response.

308.8 ROBBERY/BURGLARY ALARM RESPONSE

(a) A minimum of two officers should respond to robbery/burglary alarms.

(b) Officers shall respond with caution keeping in mind that unless there is specific information to indicate otherwise greater than 95% of received alarms prove to be false alarms.

(c) Officers shall use emergency lights at a minimum and sirens as necessary during response whenever they are exceeding the speed limit or disregarding any traffic laws.

(d) If it is reported by dispatch that it appears to be a false alarm officers shall continue their response to the building in a non-emergency mode to attempt to verify that the alarm is indeed a false alarm. Officers shall discontinue emergency response immediately and obey all traffic laws upon receiving information that it is a false alarm.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(e) As officers near the location of the alarm they shall slow their response to the legally posted speed limit and shut off their emergency lights/siren so not to alert potential suspects of their arrival in the area.

(f) Officers should take up tactical positions around the building in accordance with their training and attempt to stay out of sight in a perimeter location to observe the building without alert potential suspects of their presence.

(g) Officers should advise Dispatch to attempt contact with a key holder or person on the contact list for the building to determine if there is a crime in progress.

(h) Officers should attempt to make contact with the key holder or contact person away from the building to attempt to determine the cause of the alarm. If no cause can be determined officers should make a tactical decision as to the safest tactic to establish the cause of the alarm and eventually clear the building.

(i) If a key holder is not able to respond or be contacted officers should coordinate their response after consulting with their supervisor.

(j) If an alarm is determined to be false the officer should attempt to determine the cause for the alarm and in the case of a human error identify the person responsible for the false alarm so it can be documented on the incident report on the police docket.

Canines

309.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy establishes guidelines for the use of canines to augment law enforcement services in the community, including but not limited to locating individuals and contraband and apprehending criminal offenders.

309.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department that teams of handlers and canines meet and maintain the appropriate proficiency to effectively and reasonably carry out legitimate law enforcement objectives.

309.3 ASSIGNMENT

Canine teams should be assigned to assist and supplement the Patrol Division to function primarily in assist or cover assignments. However, they may be assigned by the Patrol Supervisor to other functions, such as routine calls for service, based on the current operational needs.

Canine teams should generally not be assigned to handle routine matters that will take them out of service for extended periods of time and then only with the approval of the Patrol Supervisor.

309.4 CANINE COORDINATOR

The canine coordinator shall be appointed by the Chief and directly responsible to the Patrol Commander.

The responsibilities of the coordinator include, but are not limited to:

(a) Reviewing all canine use reports to ensure compliance with policy and to identify training issues and other needs of the program.

(b) Maintaining accurate records to document canine activitiies.

(c) Ensuring the canine teams are scheduled for regular training to maximize their capabilities.

309.5 REQUESTS FOR CANINE TEAMS

Patrol Division members are encouraged to request the use of a canine. Requests for a canine team from department units outside of the Patrol Division shall be approved by the Patrol Supervisor.

309.5.1 OUTSIDE AGENCY REQUEST

All requests for canine assistance from outside agencies must be approved by the Patrol Supervisor and are subject to the following:

(a) Canine teams shall not be used for any assignment that is not consistent with this policy.

(b) The canine handler shall have the authority to decline a request for any specific assignment that he/she deems unsuitable.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(c) It shall be the responsibility of the canine handler to coordinate operations with agency personnel in order to minimize the risk of unintended injury.

(d) It shall be the responsibility of the canine handler to complete all necessary reports or as directed.

309.5.2 PUBLIC DEMONSTRATIONS
All public requests for a canine team shall be reviewed and, if appropriate, approved by the canine coordinator prior to making any resource commitment.

309.6 APPREHENSION GUIDELINES

A canine may be used to locate and apprehend a suspect if the canine handler reasonably believes that the individual has either committed, is committing or threatening to commit any serious offense and if any of the following conditions exist:

(a) There is a reasonable belief the suspect poses an imminent threat of violence or serious harm to the public, any officer or the handler.

(b) The suspect is physically resisting or threatening to resist arrest and the use of a canine reasonably appears to be necessary to overcome such resistance.

(c) The suspect is believed to be concealed in an area where entry by other than the canine would pose a threat to the safety of officers or the public.

It is recognized that situations may arise that do not fall within the provisions set forth in this policy. Such events require consideration of the totality of the circumstances and the use of an objective reasonableness standard applied to the decision to use a canine.

Absent a reasonable belief that a suspect has committed, is committing or is threatening to commit a serious offense, mere flight from a pursuing officer, without any of the above conditions, shall not serve as the basis for the use of a canine to apprehend a suspect however the canine unit may be used to locate the suspect.

Use of a canine to locate and apprehend a suspect wanted for a lesser criminal offense than those identified above requires approval from the Patrol Supervisor. Absent a change in circumstances that present an imminent threat to officers, the canine or the public, such canine use should be conducted on-leash or under conditions that minimize the likelihood the canine will bite or otherwise injure the individual.

In all applications, once the suspect has been located and no longer reasonably appears to present a threat or risk of escape, the handler should secure the canine as soon as it becomes reasonably practicable.

If the canine has apprehended the suspect with a secure bite, and the handler believes that the suspect no longer poses a threat, the handler should promptly command the canine to release the suspect.

309.6.1 PREPARATION FOR DEPLOYMENT

Prior to the use of a canine to search for or apprehend any suspect, the canine handler and/or the supervisor on-scene should carefully consider all pertinent information reasonably available at the time. The information should include but is not limited to:

(a) The nature and seriousness of the suspected offense.

(b) Whether violence or weapons were used or are anticipated.

(c) The degree of resistance or threatened resistance, if any, the suspect has shown.

(d) The suspect's known or perceived age.

(e) The potential for injury to officers or the public caused by the suspect if the canine is not utilized.

(f) Any potential danger to the public and/or other officers at the scene if the canine is released.

(g) The potential for the suspect to escape or flee if the canine is not utilized.

As circumstances permit, the canine handler should make every reasonable effort to communicate and coordinate with other involved members to minimize the risk of unintended injury.

It is the canine handler's responsibility to evaluate each situation and determine whether the use of a canine is appropriate and reasonable. The canine handler shall have the authority to decline the use of the canine whenever he/she deems deployment is unsuitable.

A supervisor who is sufficiently apprised of the situation may prohibit deploying the canine.

Unless otherwise directed by a supervisor, assisting members should take direction from the handler in order to minimize interference with the canine.

309.6.2 WARNINGS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

Unless it would increase the risk of injury or escape, a clearly audible warning announcing that a canine will be used if the suspect does not surrender should be made prior to releasing a canine. The handler should allow a reasonable time for a suspect to surrender and should quiet the canine momentarily to listen for any verbal response to the warning. If feasible, other members should be in a location opposite the warning to verify that the announcement could be heard. If available, warnings given in other languages should be used as necessary.

If a warning is not to be given, the canine handler, when practicable, should first advise the supervisor of his/her decision before releasing the canine. In the event of an apprehension, the handler shall document in any related report how the warning was given and, if none was given, the reasons why.

309.6.3 REPORTING DEPLOYMENTS, BITES AND INJURIES

Whenever a canine deployment results in a bite or causes injury to an intended suspect, a supervisor should be promptly notified and the injuries documented in a Use of Force report. The injured person shall be promptly treated by emergency medical services personnel and, if appropriate, transported to an appropriate medical facility for further treatment. The deployment and injuries should also be included in any related incident or arrest report.

Any unintended bite or injury caused by a canine, whether on- or off-duty, shall be promptly reported and a report shall be done in writing to the canine coordinator.

If an individual alleges an injury, either visible or not visible, a supervisor shall be notified and both the individual's injured and claimed to be injured areas shall be photographed as soon as practicable after first tending to the immediate needs of the injured party. Photographs shall be retained as evidence in accordance with current department evidence procedures.

309.7 NON-APPREHENSION GUIDELINES

Properly trained canines may be used to track or search for non-criminals (e.g., lost children, individuals who may be disoriented or in need of medical attention). The canine handler is responsible for determining the canine's suitability for such assignments based on the conditions and the particular abilities of the canine. When the canine is deployed in a search or other non-apprehension operation, the following guidelines apply:

(a) Absent a change in circumstances that presents an imminent threat to officers, the canine, or the public, such applications should be conducted on-leash or under conditions that minimize the likelihood the canine will bite or otherwise injure the individual, if located.

(b) Unless otherwise directed by a supervisor, assisting members should take direction from the handler in order to minimize interference with the canine.

(c) Throughout the deployment, the handler should periodically give verbal assurances that the canine will not bite or hurt the individual and encourage the individual to make him/herself known.

(d) Once the individual has been located, the handler should place the canine in a down-stay or otherwise secure it as soon as reasonably practicable.

309.7.1 ARTICLE DETECTION

A canine trained to find objects or property related to a person or crime may be used to locate or identify articles. A canine search should be conducted in a manner that minimizes the likelihood of unintended bites or injuries.

309.7.2 NARCOTICS DETECTION

A canine trained in narcotics detection may be used in accordance with current law and in accordance with training practices.

A narcotics-detection trained canine will not be used to search a person for narcotics.

309.8 HANDLER RESPONSIBILITIES

The canine handler shall ultimately be responsible for the health and welfare of the canine and shall ensure that the canine receives proper nutrition, grooming, training, medical care, affection and living conditions.

309.8.1 CANINE IN PUBLIC AREAS

The canine should be kept on a leash when in areas that allow access to the public. Exceptions to this rule would include specific law enforcement operations for which the canine is trained.

(a) A canine shall not be left unattended in any area to which the public may have access.

(b) When the canine vehicle is left unattended, all windows and doors shall be secured in such a manner as to prevent unauthorized access to the canine. The handler shall also ensure that the unattended vehicle remains inhabitable for the canine.

309.9 TRAINING

Before assignment in the field, each canine team shall be trained and certified to meet current nationally recognized standards or other recognized and approved certification standards. Cross-trained canine teams or those canine teams trained exclusively for the detection of narcotics and/or explosives also shall be trained and certified to meet current nationally recognized standards or other recognized and approved certification standards established for their particular skills.

All canine training should be conducted while on-duty unless otherwise approved by the canine coordinator or Patrol Supervisor.

309.9.1 CONTINUED TRAINING

Each canine team shall thereafter be re-certified to a current nationally recognized standard or other recognized and approved certification standards on an annual basis.

309.9.2 FAILURE TO SUCCESSFULLY COMPLETE TRAINING

Any canine team failing to graduate or obtain certification shall not be deployed in the field for tasks the team is not certified to perform until graduation or certification is achieved.

309.9.3 TRAINING RECORDS

All canine training records shall be maintained by the canine handler and the canine’s training file.

309.9.4 CONTROLLED SUBSTANCE TRAINING AIDS

Officers acting in the performance of their official duties may possess or transfer controlled substances for the purpose of narcotics-detection canine training in compliance with state and federal laws (N.D.C.C. § 19-03.1-16; 21 USC § 823(f)).

The Chief of Police or the authorized designee may authorize a member to seek a court order to allow controlled substances seized by the Minot Police Department to be possessed by the member or a narcotics-detection canine trainer who is working under the direction of this department for training purposes, provided the controlled substances are no longer needed as criminal evidence.

As an alternative, the Chief of Police or the authorized designee may request narcotics training aids from the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA).

These procedures are not required if the canine handler uses commercially available synthetic substances that are not controlled narcotics.

Canines

309.9.5 CONTROLLED SUBSTANCE PROCEDURES

Due to the responsibilities and liabilities involved with possessing readily usable amounts of controlled substances and the ever-present danger of the canine's accidental ingestion of these controlled substances, the following procedures shall be strictly followed:

(a) All controlled substance training samples shall be weighed and tested prior to dispensing to the individual canine handler or trainer.

(d) All controlled substance training samples may be inspected, weighed, and tested. The results of the quarterly testing shall be recorded and maintained by the canine coordinator with a copy forwarded to the dispensing agency.

(e) All controlled substance training samples will be stored in locked, airtight, and watertight cases at all times, except during training. The locked cases shall be secured in the trunk of the canine handler's assigned patrol vehicle during transport and stored in an appropriate locked container.

(f) All DEA obtained controlled substance aids shall be destroyed in accordance with DEA procedures. All other controlled substance training aids shall be destroyed in accordance with department controlled substance destruction procedures.

310.3 DISPATCH/ CALL TAKER RESPONSE

Evidence Preservation Considerations

Direct the victim to preserve evidence by refraining from engaging in any of the activities listed below:

1. Changing clothes

2. Washing, brushing teeth, rinsing mouth

3. Consuming any food, beverage or smoking

4. Combing hair

5. Touching, destroying, or, moving any items at the crime scene

6. Urinating or defecating: advise the use of a clean plastic container to collect urine should the victim have to urinate

Additional Procedures

1. Demonstrate patience and respect at all times with the victim reporting a crime of sexual assault. The victim may be in crisis and may exhibit behaviors ranging from rage, outbursts, and crying to calmness, unresponsiveness, or laughter.

2. Determine victim's relationship to the suspect and whether a restraining order is in place.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

3. Whenever possible, stay on the line with the victim to provide additional information and assistance until an officer arrives at the scene.

4. For 911 or other emergency hang-up calls, the dispatcher will immediately attempt to re-establish contact with the caller. Field units will still respond.

5. Record and preserve a tape of the conversation and print out a transcript, if possible, for the investigation.

6. Utilize a current list of domestic violence/sexual assault programs, shelters, and victim/witness programs to assist in making referrals.

310.4 LAW ENFORCEMENT RESPONSE

Immediate Response

Law enforcement's initial contact with victims of sexual assault can greatly influence the entire investigative process. Therefore, contact with victims should be guided by professional, respectful, and courteous behavior at all times. Law enforcement initially responding to a report of sexual assault shall:

1. Respond immediately to the crime scene or location of the victim.

a. If responding to the scene, the officer shall:

- Assess the crime scene
- Arrange transportation to the hospital if needed
- Inform victim of rights and reporting options
- Advise victim on preserving evidence

b. If responding to a hospital, the officer shall:

- Initiate contact with medical staff for information
- Determine if an advocate has been called.
- If advocate is not available, review victim rights and reporting options

2. Secure the scene to ensure the offender is not present or if present poses no additional risk to the victim. 3. Keep the victim safe and address any safety issues. 4. Administer first aid, if necessary. 5. Request medical support, if necessary. 6. Establish trust and rapport by demonstrating understanding, patience, and respect for the victim's dignity, including:

a. Limiting preliminary questions b. Explaining each person's role c. Contacting other officers or agencies for assistance

7. Remain aware that the sexual assault may have been committed by a family member, caretaker, neighbor or friend who may be present at the scene. 8. Conduct initial investigation of the crime that has been committed:

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

a. Obtain names of witnesses and contact information. b. When possible, obtain statements from witnesses that were present. c. Identify where the incident occurred, specifically to establish jurisdiction. d. Determine whether drugs or alcohol were utilized to facilitate the sexual assault without the victim's knowledge in order to identify the need for additional evidence collection. e. Determine the relationship between the victim and suspect, and whether a valid protection order is in force.

9. Be aware that a victim may make excited utterances which may have evidentiary value.

a. Record these utterances when practical and note them in your report.

Delayed Investigation Response

It is not uncommon for delayed reports (any report after the 96 hour evidence collection limitation) to occur regarding sexual assaults. In a delayed investigation, law enforcement shall:

1. Obtain a victim statement.

2. Identify witnesses present prior to and after the assault occurred and obtain contact information for them.

3. Contact witnesses and interview each of them regarding the reported assault.

4. Identify all possible evidence that may exist. This may include:

a. Any text messages discussing the incident b. Electronic postings regarding the incident on sites such as Facebook or Twitter c. Any physical evidence related to the assault: clothing, bedding, condoms, etc. d. Any photographs that may have been taken prior to or after the assault occurred

310.5 VICTIM INTERVIEW PREPARATION

1. Prior to conducting an interview with the victim, law enforcement should contact the local sexual assault/domestic violence program.

2. Obtain an interpreter if needed. Be mindful of the victim's needs during the interview process (i.e. if the victim needs to take a break or would like a support person present-when appropriate).
3. While documenting basic information, obtain the victim's name, date of birth and contact information. Ensure the victim wants to make a report, and understands what that involves.

4. Explain the process of the interview: who is involved and their roles. Ensure the victim is okay with everyone in the room.

5. Ensure safety and privacy by interviewing the victim in a place separate from the suspect.

a. If responding to the scene, suggest finding somewhere private to speak; this may include going to the police department or hospital. Allow the victim to make that determination whenever possible. b. If responding to a hospital, ensure privacy by requesting an examination room or conference room rather than remaining in a trauma area waiting room. c. If the victim presents to the law enforcement department, use an interview or conference room to ensure comfort and privacy.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.

6. Maintain an appropriate demeanor by:

a. Listening, showing interest in the victim and the situation, maintaining objectivity, and remain aware of nonverbal communication signals. b. Maintaining good eye contact through natural, spontaneous glances. (Fixed gazes or staring increase fear and hostility). c. Demonstrating interest and encouraging the victim to continue speaking (appropriate facial and head movements with a relaxed stance).

7. Lead the interview; however, let the victim speak uninterrupted.

310.6 CONDUCTING THE VICTIM INTERVIEW

1. Ascertain victim's relationship to the suspect. 2. Determine what happened. It may be most effective to have the victim begin with the events prior to the sexual assault, noting the victim's condition and demeanor. Obtain the following information:

a. A description of injuries, if any, to the victim. b. Identify any injuries, if any, to the suspect, specifically any injuries inflicted by the victim. c. Inquire how the incident began. d. Identify the location of where the assault occurred. e. Determine if there was any weapon involved. f. Obtain as much information related to the suspect as possible, if known; where he/she lives and/or works, vehicles used, areas frequented. g. Inquire if anything was taken from the scene or left at the scene by the victim or suspect.

3. Identify any witnesses, their contact information, and how they were involved. 4. After the victim has provided his/her statements, the officer(s) should ask about details for clarification, and summarize the stated account; this allows the victim to point out anything that might be misrepresented and ensures accuracy. 5. Photograph and document photographs in the report.

(a) Photographs of extremely brutal injuries or bite marks can prove beneficial in court. Because some injuries become apparent only after several days, it is recommended that follow-up photographs be taken as there is always the possibility initial photographs will not show the extent or the severity of the injury.

6. Answer any other questions the victim may have after the interview. 7. Address the victim's safety, such as whether the suspect knows where the victim lives, and any transportation issues. 8. Upon completion of the interview, ensure the victim has law enforcement's contact information. 9. Obtain the phone number of the victim's residence and include that number in the incident report so jail/court/victim-witness personnel may use this information to inform the victim of the suspect's release on bail. It is also important to obtain alternative contact information, (i.e. additional phone numbers, etc.) where messages can be left when necessary. If possible, record name, address, and phone number of two close friends or relatives of the victim who will know how to reach the victim 6-12 months from the time of the investigation. 10. Inform the victim of what will occur following the preliminary interview, including:

a. Provide the victim with contact for a follow-up interview with law enforcement. b. Describe how law enforcement may proceed following the interview. c. If advocate was not present during the interview, provide the victim with contact information for the local domestic violence/sexual assault advocacy program.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

11. Also, pretext phone calls often produce valuable information. The victim's emotional and physical state should be considered before initiating such a call. A victim advocate is a source of valuable support. Pretext phone calls can be utilized with other witnesses as well.

310.7 SUSPECT INTERVIEW

1. If possible, the officer should tape record the suspect's statement for evidentiary purposes. 2. Determine the suspect's relationship to the victim (stranger vs. non-stranger) and what happened. Determining the relationship is significant especially when discussing the victim's safety as well as during the interview and evidence collection. 3. Prior to the interview ascertain suspect's criminal history and any previous contact with law enforcement. 4. Determine what happened. It may be most effective to have the suspect begin with the events prior to the sexual assault, noting the suspect's condition and demeanor in the report. 5. Document any injuries to the suspect, who or what caused them, and if weapons or objects were used to commit the reported assault. 6. Photograph and document in report:

a. Any damaged or torn clothing on the suspect (keeping in mind the suspect may have changed clothing). b. Any smeared or transferred makeup on either clothing or the suspect. c. All evidence of injury, including any physical complaints the suspect may have. d. The presence of any use of alcohol and/or drugs by the suspect.

7. Make every attempt to obtain a suspect statement.

310.8 EVIDENCE COLLECTION

Law enforcement within the jurisdiction in which the offense was believed to have occurred is responsible for coordinating the collection of the Sexual Assault Evidence Collection Kit from the healthcare facility at which the examination was conducted. In order to ensure effective evidence collection, the officer should:

1. Once the victim has consented to the examination, ensure the following information is communicated:

a. He/she has the right to decline any or all parts of the examination. b. The victim's name and date of birth will be on the evidence collection kit for storage purposes. c. The sexual assault kit will be stored for seven years or until the victim turns 22, whichever comes later. d. The examination will occur within the 96 hours following the assault (unless reason to extend the time period is given). N.D.C.C. § 12.1-34-07 If the victim does not consent to the examination, encourage the victim to obtain medical attention to address sexually transmitted infections and pregnancy testing.

2. Work with other professionals (SANE, advocate, physician) to explain the forensic examination process; this includes explaining what is done and what may be collected, such as clothing. 3. Recognize drug-facilitated sexual assault considerations. NOTE: Inform the victim he/she will not be criminally charged if drugs or alcohol are identified in the urine and/or blood sample; however, the results may be presented in court proceedings, N.D.C.C. § 12.1-34-07(4).

310.8.1 ON-SCENE EVIDENCE COLLECTION

1. Secure the crime scene (if not already done). 2. Maintain chain of custody and properly collect evidence.

a. All evidence collected should be dried, clearly marked, properly packaged and labeled. b. Refrigerate the evidence as soon as possible. c. When packaging, use individual envelopes for each item collected. d. Use new paper bags or envelopes rather than plastic bags to collect evidence.

3. Collect physical evidence such as:

a. Any clothing worn by the victim and suspect at the time of the assault-specifically undergarments, pants, and shorts (unless collected by medical personnel). b. Other physical evidence that may corroborate the victim's account of the incident (i.e. condom wrappers, sheets, blankets, bottles, etc.). c. Any damaged or torn clothing worn by the victim or the suspect. d. Any smeared or transferred makeup on either the victim or the suspect or their clothing. e. Document all evidence of injury including any physical complaints the suspect may have.

310.8.2 VICTIM FORENSIC EVIDENCE COLLECTION

1. Prior to the examination if a SANE is unavailable, document and photograph the victim's external visible injuries (if any).

a. Expose as little as possible using sheets or other covers. b. Ensure all of the needed photographs are obtained. c. Arrange to take additional photographs after the assault as more bruises may appear or become more visible. d. Medical personnel and law enforcement should use an anatomical diagram to document the injuries on the victim as the primary crime scene.

2. Follow proper kit storage requirements.

a. Refrigerate the sexual assault kit as soon as possible. b. If urine sample is included with the sexual assault kit, freeze sample immediately; it is not necessary to freeze the entire kit, only the urine sample. c. Transport sexual assault kit to the North Dakota Crime Laboratory Division if DNA evidence is necessary and the victim has consented to the investigation.

3. If not providing the sexual assault kit to ND Crime Laboratory Division for analysis (when a victim chooses not to report) proceed as follows:

a. The law enforcement agency in custody of the collected evidence is responsible for maintaining the chain of custody of that evidence. b. The victim's name and date of birth are required for collection and storage of the kit. c. Sexual Assault Evidence Collection Kits and other evidence collected for victims who do not currently elect to proceed with an investigation should be maintained in the same manner as other evidence collection kits and evidence.

310.8.3 SUSPECT FORENSIC EVIDENCE COLLECTION

A sexual assault evidence collection kit can be utilized to collect the evidence on the suspect. Law enforcement should remain present during the evidence collection procedures.

It is essential everything possible is done to prevent any contact between the victim and suspect. Although not always possible, this may include examinations taking place at different times and/or locations, ensuring the victim has left the site of the examination prior to the suspect's arrival.

1. If in custody, the suspect shall be given a Miranda warning before being asked medical history questions by the forensic examiner or investigator. 2. Both the examiner and attending officer shall be prepared to document any spontaneous statements made by the suspect regardless of whether or not the suspect is in custody and whether or not the suspect was provided with a Miranda warning.

310.9 PROCEDURES FOR SUSPECT EXAMINATION

1. Immediately after the suspect interview, the investigating officer shall determine whether a forensic sexual assault examination should be obtained for the suspect. Consider the following when making this determination:

a. What is the length of time since the assault occurred? b. What was the nature of the assault? c. Does the victim believe he/she may have injured the suspect? d. Has the suspect showered? e. Is the suspect wearing the same clothing he/she was wearing during or immediately after the assault?

2. A search warrant may be needed to collect any evidence from the body of the suspect or even to collect clothing. If the suspect consents to such evidence collection procedures, complete and obtain the suspect's signature on a consent form.

310.10 FOLLOW UP VICTIM INTERVIEW

The purpose of the follow-up interview is to address any inconsistencies and clarify any confusion and to gather any further information. Law enforcement officers shall:

1. Conduct the interview in a location that is convenient, accessible and comfortable for the victim. This may include arranging for transportation and contacting the local advocacy agency to be present for the interview.

a. Discuss the purpose of the interview with the victim. b. Review the victim's contact information. c. Address arrest decisions made and explain the status of the case with the victim. d. Identify any new information or developments and ask questions specifically related to how the sexual assault has impacted the victim. e. Identify any need for follow-up photographs of injuries.

NOTE: Depending upon the location of the injuries, it may be necessary to enlist in medical personnel to assist in obtaining follow-up photographs.

2. Compile and review information already collected including:

a. Talk to the responding officer(s) regarding the preliminary investigation. b. Review the first responder documentation: How was the call received? Where did the officer respond? c. Review the first interview with the victim and identify any holes, gaps or questions. d. Review the history of questions asked related to the incident e. Identify whether there were any additional witnesses and their contact information. f. Clarify any inconsistencies with earlier accounts in a nonthreatening manner.

3. Ensure the following issues were addressed in the initial interview including:

a. Obtain specific circumstances of the assault, such as how it happened. b. Review and clarify the details of the assault. c. Review the details provided by the suspect prior to meeting with the victim to identify discrepancies that may need to be addressed.

4. Discuss any safety concerns the victim may have. Work with local domestic violence/sexual assault advocacy programs to assist in addressing the victim's concerns and any questions they may have about obtaining a court order due to safety concerns. Utilize pretext phone calls (one-party consent in ND: N.D.C.C. § 12.1-15-02). These are valuable in non-stranger sexual assault cases. Involve the victim as an investigative tool as appropriate.

310.11 FOLLOW UP SUSPECT INTERVIEW

Based on the nature of the assault, develop an investigative and interview strategy. This may require considering the potential defenses available to the suspect (for example: denial, mistaken identity or consent). This strategy will guide the questions and any additional evidence collection that may be needed. This interview may:

1. Re-photograph injuries on the suspect to document changes in visible injuries from the previous interview. 2. Compile and review information already collected including:

a. Talk to the responding officer(s) regarding the preliminary investigation. b. Review the first interview with the suspect and identify any holes, gaps or questions. c. Review history of questions asked related to the incident

3. Obtain any clarifying information from the suspect, including addressing inconsistencies that may have come up during other interviews and throughout the investigation. 4. Gather any additional information and/or details from the suspect regarding the assault.

a. Obtain specific circumstances of the assault, such as how it happened. b. Review and clarify the details of the assault:

5. Identify whether there were any additional witnesses and their contact information.

310.12 ARREST AND PROSECUTION CONSIDERATIONS

1. Law enforcement and prosecution are encouraged to communicate throughout the investigation and prosecution of a case. Decisions regarding prosecution should be communicated to law enforcement. 2. Some considerations in arrest and prosecution decisions might include:

a. The victim's safety and rights. b. Requests made by the victim regarding the incident. c. Any existing evidence related to the incident.

3. During this time prosecution may enlist in assistance from the victim witness program and/or local domestic violence/sexual assault advocacy program. These programs may aid with informing the victim of decisions made regarding arrest and/or prosecution.

310.13 DOCUMENTATION AND GUIDELINES IN NON_REPORTED CASES

In the event a victim seeks an examination but does not wish to make a report at that time documentation should occur as follows:

1 The local law enforcement agency within the jurisdiction in which the offense was believed to have occurred is responsible for coordinating the collection of the Sexual Assault Evidence Collection Kit from the healthcare facility. The victim's name and date of birth shall be required for collection of the kit.

2 Sexual Assault Evidence Collection Kits and other evidence collected for victims who do not currently elect to proceed with an investigation should be maintained in the same manner as other Evidence Collection Kits and evidence.

3 Sexual assault evidence collected from non-investigated cases should be kept by law enforcement for a minimum of seven years or until the victim turns twenty-two, whichever occurs later.

Domestic Violence

311.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to provide the guidelines necessary to deter, prevent and reduce domestic violence through vigorous enforcement and to address domestic violence as a serious crime against society. The policy specifically addresses the commitment of this department to take enforcement action when appropriate, to provide assistance to victims and to guide officers in the investigation of domestic violence (N.D.C.C. § 14-07.1-14).

311.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Court order - All forms of court orders related to domestic violence, both civil and criminal, whether issued by a court of this state or another and whether service has been made.

Domestic violence - Physical harm, bodily injury or sexual activity compelled by physical force, assault or the infliction of fear of imminent physical harm, bodily injury, sexual activity compelled by physical force or assault, not committed in self-defense, by a family or household member (N.D.C.C. § 14-07.1-01(2)).

Predominant aggressor - An individual who is the most significant, not necessarily the first, aggressor (N.D.C.C. § 14-07.1-01(6)).

311.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department's response to incidents of domestic violence and violations of related court orders shall stress enforcement of the law to protect the victim and shall communicate the philosophy that domestic violence is criminal behavior. It is also the policy of this department to facilitate victims' and offenders' access to appropriate civil remedies and community resources whenever feasible.

311.3 OFFICER SAFETY

The investigation of domestic violence cases often places officers in emotionally charged and sometimes highly dangerous environments. No provision of this policy is intended to supersede the responsibility of all officers to exercise due caution and reasonable care in providing for the safety of any officers and parties involved.

311.4 INVESTIGATIONS

The following guidelines should be followed by officers when investigating domestic violence cases:

(a) Calls of reported, threatened, imminent, or ongoing domestic violence and the violation of any court order are of extreme importance and should be considered among the highest response priorities. This includes incomplete 9-1-1 calls.

(b) When practicable, officers should obtain and document statements from the victim, the suspect, and any witnesses, including children, in or around the household or location of occurrence.

(c) Officers should list the full name and date of birth (and school if available) of each child who was present in the household at the time of the offense. The names of other children who may not have been in the house at that particular time should also be obtained for follow-up.

(d) When practicable and legally permitted, video or audio record all significant statements and observations.

(e) All injuries should be photographed, regardless of severity, taking care to preserve the victim's personal privacy. Where practicable, photographs should be taken by a person of the same sex. Victims whose injuries are not visible at the time of the incident, or whose injuries change in appearance warranting additional photographs, should be asked to contact the Investigations Division in the event that the injuries later become visible.

(f) Officers should request that the victim complete and sign an authorization for release of medical records related to the incident when applicable.

(g) If the suspect is no longer at the scene, officers should make reasonable efforts to locate the suspect to further the investigation, provide the suspect with an opportunity to make a statement, and make an arrest or seek an arrest warrant if appropriate.

(h) Seize any firearm or other dangerous weapon in the home, if appropriate and legally permitted, for safekeeping or as evidence.

1. Any firearm or other dangerous weapon used or possessed while in the commission of a felony or a misdemeanor involving violence or intimidation shall be seized (N.D.C.C. § 62.1-01-02).

(i) When completing an incident or arrest report for violation of a court order, officers should include specific information that establishes that the offender has been served, including the date the offender was served, the name of the agency that served the order, and the provision of the order that the subject is alleged to have violated. When it is reasonably available, the arresting officer should attach a copy of the order to the incident or arrest report.

(j) Officers should take appropriate enforcement action when there is probable cause to believe an offense has occurred. The following factors should not be used as sole justification for declining to take enforcement action:

1. Whether the suspect lives on the premises with the victim
2. Claims by the suspect that the victim provoked or perpetuated the violence
3. The potential financial or child custody consequences of arrest
4. The physical or emotional state of either party
5. Use of drugs or alcohol by either party
6. Denial that the domestic violence occurred where evidence indicates otherwise

7. A request by the victim not to arrest the suspect
8. Location of the incident (public/private)
9. Speculation that the complainant may not follow through with the prosecution
10. Actual or perceived characteristics such as race, ethnicity, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, economic status, age, cultural group, disability, or marital status of the victim or suspect
11. The social status, community status, or professional position of the victim or suspect.

311.4.1 IF A SUSPECT IS ARRESTED
If a suspect is arrested, officers should:

(a) Advise the victim that there is no guarantee the suspect will remain in custody.

(b) Provide the victim's contact information to the jail staff to enable notification of the victim upon the suspect's release from jail.

(c) Advise the victim whether any type of court order will be in effect when the suspect is released from jail.

311.4.2 IF NO ARREST IS MADE
If no arrest is made, the officer should:

(a) Advise the parties of any options, including but not limited to:

1. Voluntary separation of the parties.
2. Appropriate resource referrals (e.g., counselors, friends, relatives, shelter homes, victim witness unit).

(b) Document the resolution in a report.

311.5 VICTIM ASSISTANCE

Victims may be traumatized or confused. Officers should:

(a) Recognize that a victim's behavior and actions may be affected.

(b) Provide the victim with the victim information handout developed by the department, even if the incident may not rise to the level of crime.

(c) Alert the victim to any available victim advocates, shelters and community resources.

(d) Stand by for a reasonable amount of time when an involved person requests law enforcement assistance while removing essential items of personal property.

(e) Seek medical assistance as soon as practicable for the victim if he/she has sustained injury or complains of pain.

(f) Ask the victim whether he/she has a safe place to stay. Assist in arranging to transport the victim to an alternate shelter if the victim expresses a concern for his/her safety or if the officer determines that a need exists.

(g) Make reasonable efforts to ensure that children or dependent adults who are under the supervision of the suspect or victim are being properly cared for.

(h) Seek or assist the victim in obtaining an emergency order if appropriate.

An officer shall advise a person protected by a Canadian domestic violence protective order of available local victims' services (N.D.C.C. § 14-07.5-02).

311.6 DISPATCH ASSISTANCE

All calls of domestic violence, including incomplete 9-1-1 calls, should be dispatched as soon as practicable.

Dispatchers should advise patrol units whether any involved persons are subject to terms of a court order. It is the responsibility of the officer to read and verify the order is current, and valid.

311.7 FOREIGN COURT ORDERS

Various types of orders may be issued in domestic violence cases. Any foreign court order properly issued by a court of another state, Indian tribe or territory shall be enforced by officers as if it were the order of a court in this state. An order should be considered properly issued when it reasonably appears that the issuing court has jurisdiction over the parties and reasonable notice and opportunity to respond was given to the party against whom the order was issued (18 USC § 2265). An otherwise valid out-of-state court order shall be enforced, regardless of whether the order has been properly registered with this state.

Canadian orders shall be enforced in the same manner as if issued in this state (N.D.C.C. § 14-07.5-02).

311.7.1 SERVICE OF FOREIGN COURT ORDERS

If an officer determines that an otherwise valid foreign protection order cannot be enforced because the respondent has not been notified or served with the order, the officer shall inform the respondent of the order and make a reasonable effort to serve the order upon the respondent. After informing the respondent and serving the order, the officer shall allow the respondent a reasonable opportunity to comply with the order before enforcing the order (N.D.C.C. § 14-07.4-03(3); N.D.C.C. § 14-07.5-02).

Officers investigating a possible violation of a foreign order must advise the protected person that an attempt will be made to contact the person who is the subject of the order. The officer shall then make a reasonable effort to contact the person who is the subject of the order to inform the person of the specific terms and conditions of the order as provided in N.D.C.C. § 14-07.5-02.

311.8 VERIFICATION OF COURT ORDERS

Determining the validity of a court order, particularly an order from another jurisdiction, can be challenging. Therefore, in determining whether there is probable cause to make an arrest for a violation of any court order, officers should carefully review the actual order when available, and, where appropriate and practicable:

(a) Ask the subject of the order about his/her notice or receipt of the order, his/her knowledge of its terms and efforts to respond to the order.

(b) Check available records or databases that may show the status or conditions of the order.

(c) Contact the issuing court to verify the validity of the order.

(d) Contact a law enforcement official from the jurisdiction where the order was issued to verify information.

Officers should document in an appropriate report their efforts to verify the validity of an order, regardless of whether an arrest is made. Officers should contact a supervisor for clarification when needed.

311.9 ASSISTANCE IN SERVICE OR EXECUTION OF PROTECTION ORDERS

Upon an order of the court, members of the Department shall assist in the execution or service of a protection order including (N.D.C.C. § 14-07.1-04):

(a) Accompanying an applicant and assisting him/her in obtaining housing.

(b) Otherwise assisting in the execution or service of the protection order including referral to a domestic violence shelter care facility.

311.10 STANDARDS FOR ARRESTS

Officers investigating a domestic violence report should consider the following (N.D.C.C. § 14-07.1-10; N.D.C.C. § 14-07.1-11):

(a) An officer who has probable cause to believe that a person has committed a crime involving domestic violence shall presume that arresting the person is the appropriate response and should make an arrest as follows:

1. An arrest may be made without a warrant within 12 hours from the time the officer determines there is probable cause for the arrest and only if the officer observes that there has been recent physical injury to, or impairment of physical condition of, the alleged victim.
2. If more than 12 hours have elapsed, the officer must secure an arrest warrant.

(b) An officer shall not threaten, suggest or otherwise indicate that a family or household member will be arrested to discourage law enforcement intervention.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(c) Complaints received from multiple family or household members shall be evaluated separately to determine if either party acted in self-defense. Dual arrests should not be made. If self-defense is not a factor, the officer shall consider which party was the predominant aggressor by considering the following factors when determining whether to pursue further investigation or seek an arrest warrant:

1. The comparative severity of injuries involved.
2. Any history of domestic violence or any other violent acts.
3. The likelihood of future harm.

(d) An individual arrested for domestic violence shall not be released on bail or personal recognizance unless he/she has made a personal appearance before a magistrate.

(e) An officer who has probable cause to believe a person has committed the offense of violating a protection order under N.D.C.C. § 14-07.1-06, shall arrest the person whether or not the violation was committed in the presence of the officer.

(f) The arresting or booking officer should provide victim contact information to jail staff to facilitate the ability of jail staff to notify the victim before the suspect's release.

311.11 REPORTS AND RECORDS

Officers shall make a written report of any allegation of domestic violence regardless of whether an arrest was made (N.D.C.C. § 14-07.1-12). When preparing a report of domestic violence, an officer shall:

(a) Include the name of the predominant aggressor, if determined through the investigation, and a description of the evidence that supports the determination.

(b) Include a lethality assessment for use by the prosecutor.

(c) Submit the report to his/her supervisor.

(d) Complete and submit appropriate documentation to the agency providing child protective services, as required by the current collaborative agreement.

At the request of a domestic violence victim, one copy of each domestic violence face sheet and incident report should be provided. Absent good cause, the face sheet should be made available during business hours, within a reasonable amount of time of the request. Incident reports should be completed in an expeditious manner.

311.12 TRAINING

Training should be provided as incorporated in the department training plan (N.D.C.C. § 14-07.1-14(2)).

This policy will provide police executives and officers guidance in addressing incidents where one (or more) party to a possible domestic violence incident is an employee, whether sworn or civilian, of any rank in the department.

Where incidents of domestic violence are alleged to have occurred, the department will act quickly to protect the victim, arrest the perpetrator, and conduct parallel administrative and criminal investigations.

Search and Seizure

313.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

Both the federal and the state constitutions provide every individual with the right to be free from unreasonable searches and seizures. This policy provides general guidelines for Minot Police Department personnel to consider when dealing with search and seizure issues.

313.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department to respect the fundamental privacy rights of individuals. Members of this department will conduct searches in strict observance of the constitutional rights of persons being searched. All seizures by this department will comply with relevant federal and state law governing the seizure of persons and property.

The Department will provide relevant and current training to officers as guidance for the application of current law as well as local community standards and prosecutorial considerations to specific search and seizure situations as appropriate.

313.3 SEARCHES

The U.S. Constitution generally provides that a valid warrant is required in order for a search to be valid. There are, however, several exceptions to the rule that permit a warrantless search.

Examples of law enforcement activities that are exceptions to the general warrant requirement include, but are not limited to, searches pursuant to the following:

- Valid consent
- Incident to a lawful arrest
- Legitimate community caretaking interests
- Vehicle searches under certain circumstances
- Exigent circumstances

Certain other activities are recognized by federal and state courts and by certain statutes as legitimate law enforcement activities that also do not require a warrant. Such activities may include seizure and examination of abandoned property and observations of activities and property located on open public areas.

Because case law regarding search and seizure is constantly changing and subject to interpretation by the courts, each member of this department is expected to act in each situation according to current training and his/her familiarity with clearly established rights as determined by case law.

Whenever practicable, officers are encouraged to contact a supervisor or other available resource to resolve questions regarding search and seizure issues prior to electing a course of action.

313.4 SEARCH PROTOCOL

Although conditions will vary and officer safety and other exigencies must be considered in every search situation, the following guidelines should be followed whenever circumstances permit:

(a) Members of this department will strive to conduct searches with dignity and courtesy.

(b) Searches should be carried out with due regard and respect for private property interests and in a manner that minimizes damage. Property should be left in a condition as close as reasonably possible to its pre-search condition.

(c) In order to minimize the need for forcible entry, an attempt should be made to obtain keys, combinations or access codes when a search of locked property is anticipated.

(d) Whenever practicable, a search should not be conducted by a lone officer. A cover officer should be positioned to ensure safety and should not be involved in the search.

(e) When the person to be searched is of the opposite sex as the searching officer, a reasonable effort should be made to summon an officer of the same sex as the subject to conduct the search. When it is not practicable to summon an officer of the same sex as the subject, the following guidelines should be followed:

    1. Another officer or a supervisor should witness the search.

313.5 DOCUMENTATION

Officers are responsible to document any search and to ensure that any required reports are sufficient including, at minimum, documentation of the following:

- Reason for the search
- Any efforts used to minimize the intrusiveness of any search (e.g., asking for consent or keys)
- What, if any, injuries or damage occurred
- All steps taken to secure property
- The results of the search including a description of any property or contraband seized
- If the person searched is the opposite sex, any efforts to summon an officer of the same sex as the person being searched and the identification of any witness officer

Supervisors shall review reports to ensure the reports are accurate, that actions are properly documented and that current legal requirements and department policy have been met.

Temporary Custody of Juveniles

314.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides guidelines consistent with the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act for juveniles taken into temporary custody by members of the Minot Police Department (34 USC § 11133).

This policy only applies to the temporary custody of juveniles before they are released or transferred to a place authorized for the detention of juveniles (N.D.C.C. § 27-20.4-08).

314.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Juvenile non-offender - An abused, neglected, dependent, or alien juvenile who may be legally held for his/her own safety or welfare. This also includes any juvenile who may have initially been contacted for an offense that would not subject an adult to arrest (e.g., fine-only offense) but was taken into custody for his/her protection or for purposes of reuniting the juvenile with a parent, guardian, or other responsible person. Also included is any juvenile nine years of age or younger (N.D.C.C. § 12.1–04–01).

Juvenile offender - A juvenile 17 years of age or younger who is alleged to have committed an offense that would subject an adult to arrest (a non-status offense). It also includes an offense under N.D.C.C. § 62.1-02-01 for underage possession of a handgun (28 CFR 31.303).

Non-secure custody - When a juvenile is held in the presence of an officer or other custody employee at all times and not placed in a locked room, cell, or behind any locked doors. Juveniles in non-secure custody may be handcuffed, but not to a stationary or secure object. Personal supervision, through direct visual monitoring and audio two-way communication, is maintained. Monitoring through electronic devices, such as video, does not replace direct visual observation.

Secure custody - When a juvenile offender is held in a locked room, a set of rooms, or a cell. Secure custody also includes being physically secured to a stationary object.

Examples of secure custody include:

(a) A juvenile left alone in an unlocked room within the secure perimeter of the adult temporary holding area.

(b) A juvenile handcuffed to a rail.

(c) A juvenile placed in a room that contains doors with delayed egress devices with a delay of more than 30 seconds.

(d) A juvenile being processed in a secure booking area when a non-secure booking area is available.

(e) A juvenile left alone in a secure booking area after being photographed and fingerprinted.

(f) A juvenile placed in a cell within the adult temporary holding area, whether or not the cell door is locked.

(g) A juvenile placed in a room that is capable of being locked or contains a fixed object designed for cuffing or restricting movement.

Sight and sound separation - Located or arranged so as to prevent physical, visual, or auditory contact.

Status offender - A juvenile suspected of committing a criminal violation of the law that would not be a criminal violation but for the age of the offender. Examples may include running away, underage possession of tobacco, curfew violation, and truancy. A juvenile in custody on a court order or warrant based upon a status offense is also a status offender.

314.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department is committed to releasing juveniles from temporary custody as soon as reasonably practicable and keeping juveniles safe while they are in temporary custody at the Minot Police Department. Juveniles should be held in temporary custody only for as long as reasonably necessary for processing, transfer or release.

314.3 JUVENILES WHO SHOULD NOT BE HELD

Juveniles who exhibit any of the following conditions should not be held at the Minot Police Department. These include:

(a) Unconsciousness or having been unconscious while being taken into custody or transported.

(b) Serious injuries or a medical condition requiring immediate medical attention.

(c) A suspected suicide risk or showing obvious signs of severe emotional or mental disturbance (see the Mental Illness Commitments Policy).

1. If the officer taking custody of a juvenile believes that the juvenile may be a suicide risk, the officer shall ensure continuous direct supervision until evaluation, release, or transfer to an appropriate facility is completed.

(d) Significant intoxication or showing signs of having ingested any substance that poses a significant risk to their health, whether or not they appear intoxicated.

(e) Extremely violent or continuously violent behavior.

(f) Afflicted with, or displaying symptoms of, a communicable disease that poses an unreasonable exposure risk.

Officers taking custody of a juvenile who exhibits any of the above conditions should take reasonable steps to provide medical attention or mental health assistance and notify a supervisor of the situation. These juveniles should not be held at the Minot Police Department unless or until they have been evaluated by a qualified medical and/or mental health professional.

314.4 CUSTODY OF JUVENILES

Officers should take custody of a juvenile and temporarily hold the juvenile at the Minot Police Department when there is no other lawful and practical alternative to temporary custody. Refer to the Child Abuse Policy for additional information regarding detaining a juvenile who is suspected of being a victim.

No juvenile should be held in temporary custody at the Minot Police Department without authorization of the arresting officer's supervisor or the Patrol Supervisor. Juveniles taken into custody shall be held in non-secure custody unless otherwise authorized by this policy.

Any juvenile taken into custody shall be released to the care of the juvenile's parent, legal guardian, or other responsible adult, or transferred to a juvenile custody facility or to other authority as soon as practicable, and in no event shall a juvenile be held beyond six hours from the time of the juvenile's entry into the Minot Police Department (N.D.C.C. § 27-20.4-07; 34 USC § 11133).

314.4.1 CUSTODY OF NON-OFFENDERS

Non-offenders taken into protective custody in compliance with the Child Abuse Policy should generally not be held at the Minot Police Department. Custodial arrangements should be made for non-offenders as soon as reasonably possible. Juvenile non-offenders may not be held in secure custody (34 USC § 11133).

314.4.2 CUSTODY OF JUVENILE STATUS OFFENDERS

Status offenders should generally be released by juvenile referral or upon a warning rather than taken into temporary custody. However, officers may take custody of a status offender if requested to do so by a parent or legal guardian in order to facilitate reunification (e.g., transported home or to the station to await a parent). Juvenile status offenders may not be held in secure custody (34 USC § 11133).

314.4.3 CUSTODY OF JUVENILE OFFENDERS

Juvenile offenders should be held in non-secure custody while at the Minot Police Department unless another form of custody is authorized by this policy or is necessary due to exigent circumstances.

The following applies to juveniles taken into custody:

(a) Juvenile offenders may be taken into custody (N.D.C.C. § 27-20.4-05):

1. Pursuant to an order of the court.
2. Pursuant to the laws of arrest applicable to adults and as authorized after scoring of the detention screening tool.

(b) A juvenile offender should not be released from custody without first contacting the court if there is reason to believe any of the following (N.D.C.C. § 27-20.4-06):

1. Further care is required to protect the juvenile offender, or the property of others, or of the juvenile offender.

2. The juvenile offender may abscond or be removed from the jurisdiction of the court.
3. The juvenile offender has no parent, guardian, custodian, or other person able to provide supervision and care, and return the juvenile offender to the court when required.
4. An order for the juvenile offender's detention or nonsecure care has been made by the court.
5. The detention screening tool indicates that the juvenile offender should be detained.

314.5 ADVISEMENTS

A member of this department who does not release a juvenile to a parent, guardian, or other custodian shall promptly notify the juvenile's parent, guardian, or other custodian and the court of the reason for the custody (N.D.C.C. § 27-20.4-07).

The member shall send the required referral to the court within 24 hours of taking a juvenile into custody under section 27-20.4-05 (N.D.C.C. § 27-20.4-05.1).

If there is reason to believe that a juvenile offender committed a sexual offense (see generally N.D.C.C. § 12.1-20-01 et seq. and N.D.C.C. § 12.1-27.2-01 et seq.), the Department of Health and Human Services should be notified as soon as practicable. A copy of the case report shall also be forwarded to the Department of Health and Human Services (N.D.C.C. § 50-25.1-05.3).

314.6 JUVENILE CUSTODY LOGS

Any time a juvenile is held in custody at the Department, the detention shall be promptly and properly documented in the juvenile custody log, including:

(a) Identifying information about the juvenile being held.
(b) Date and time of arrival at and release from the Minot Police Department.
(c) Patrol Supervisor notification and approval to temporarily hold the juvenile.
(d) Any charges for which the juvenile is being held and classification of the juvenile as a juvenile offender, status offender, or non-offender.
(e) Any changes in status.
(f) Time of all welfare checks.
(g) Any medical and other screening requested and completed.
(h) Circumstances that justify any secure custody.
(i) Any other information that may be required by other authorities, such as compliance inspectors or a local juvenile court authority.

314.7 NO-CONTACT REQUIREMENTS

Sight and sound separation shall be maintained between all juveniles and adults while in custody at the Department (34 USC § 11133). There should also be sight and sound separation between non-offenders and juvenile and status offenders.

In situations where brief or accidental contact may occur (e.g., during the brief time a juvenile is being fingerprinted and/or photographed in booking), a member of the Minot Police Department shall maintain a constant, immediate, side-by-side presence with the juvenile or the adult to minimize any contact. If inadvertent or accidental contact does occur, reasonable efforts shall be taken to end the contact.

314.8 TEMPORARY CUSTODY REQUIREMENTS

Members and supervisors assigned to monitor or process any juvenile at the Minot Police Department shall ensure the following:

(a) The Patrol Supervisor should be notified if it is anticipated that a juvenile may need to remain at the Minot Police Department for longer than four hours. This will enable the Patrol Supervisor to ensure no juvenile is held at the Minot Police Department for more than six hours.

(b) A staff member of the same sex shall supervise the personal hygiene activities and care, such as changing clothing or using the restroom, without direct observation to allow for privacy.

(c) Personal visual checks and significant incidents/activities shall be noted on the log.

    1. There shall be no viewing devices, such as peep holes or mirrors, of which the juvenile is not aware. Therefore, an employee should inform a juvenile under the employee's care that the juvenile will be monitored at all times, unless the juvenile is using the toilet. This does not apply to surreptitious and legally obtained recorded interrogations.

    2. Juveniles shall have reasonable access to toilets and wash basins.

(d) Food should be provided if a juvenile has not eaten within the past four hours or is otherwise in need of nourishment, including any special diet required for the health of the juvenile.

(e) Juveniles shall have reasonable access to a drinking fountain or water.

(f) Juveniles shall have reasonable opportunities to stand and stretch, particularly if handcuffed or restrained in any way.

(g) Juveniles should have privacy during family, guardian, and/or lawyer visits.

(h) Juveniles should be permitted to remain in their personal clothing unless the clothing is taken as evidence or is otherwise unsuitable or inadequate for continued wear while in custody.

(i) Blankets should be provided as reasonably necessary.

(j) Adequate shelter, heat, light, and ventilation should be provided without compromising security or enabling escape.

(k) Juveniles shall have adequate furnishings, including suitable chairs or benches.

(l) Juveniles shall have the right to the same number of telephone calls as an adult in custody.

(m) No discipline may be administered to any juvenile, nor may juveniles be subjected to corporal or unusual punishment, humiliation, or mental abuse.

314.9 USE OF RESTRAINT DEVICES

Juvenile offenders may be handcuffed in accordance with the Handcuffing and Restraints Policy. A juvenile offender may be handcuffed at the Minot Police Department when the juvenile presents a heightened risk. However, non-offenders and status offenders should not be handcuffed unless they are combative or threatening.

Other restraints shall only be used after less restrictive measures have failed and with the approval of the Patrol Supervisor. Restraints shall only be used so long as it reasonably appears necessary for the juvenile's protection or the protection of others.

Juveniles in restraints shall be kept away from other unrestrained individuals and monitored in such a way as to protect the juvenile from abuse.

314.10 PERSONAL PROPERTY

The officer taking custody of a juvenile offender or status offender at the Minot Police Department shall ensure a thorough search of the juvenile’s property is made and all property is removed from the juvenile, especially those items that could compromise safety, such as pens, pencils and belts.

The personal property of a juvenile should be placed in a property bag. The property should be inventoried in the juvenile’s presence and sealed into the bag. The property should be kept in a monitored or secure location until the juvenile is released from the custody of the Minot Police Department.

314.11 SUICIDE ATTEMPT, DEATH, OR SERIOUS INJURY

The Patrol Division Division Commander will ensure procedures are in place to address the suicide attempt, death, or serious injury of any juvenile held at the Minot Police Department. The procedures should include the following:

(a) Immediate request for emergency medical assistance if appropriate

(b) Immediate notification of the on-duty supervisor, Chief of Police, and Investigations Division supervisor

(c) Notification of the parent, guardian, or person standing in loco parentis of the juvenile

(d) Notification of the appropriate prosecutor

(e) Notification of the City Attorney

(f) Notification of the Coroner

(g) Notification of the juvenile court

(h) Evidence preservation

314.12 INTERVIEWING OR INTERROGATING

No interview or interrogation of a juvenile should occur unless the juvenile has the apparent capacity to consent, and does consent, to an interview or interrogation.

314.13 RESTRICTION ON FINGERPRINTING AND PHOTOGRAPHING

No child under the age of 14 may be fingerprinted except for certain crimes as allowed by law (N.D.C.C. § 27-20.2-24(1)).

A child may only be photographed for certain offenses (N.D.C.C. § 27-20.2-24(6)).

Adult Abuse

315.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to provide guidelines for the investigation and reporting of suspected abuse of certain adults who may be more vulnerable than others. This policy also addresses mandatory notification for Minot Police Department members as required by law.

315.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Adult abuse - Any offense or attempted offense involving violence or neglect of an adult victim when committed by a person responsible for the adult's care, or any other act that would mandate reporting or notification to a social service agency or law enforcement (N.D.C.C. § 50-25.2-03).

315.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department will investigate all reported incidents of alleged adult abuse and ensure proper reporting and notification as required by law.

315.3 MANDATORY NOTIFICATION

Members of the Minot Police Department shall notify the North Dakota Department of Health and Human Services or other designated agency when they have knowledge that a vulnerable adult has been subjected to abuse or neglect, or when they observe a vulnerable adult being subjected to conditions or circumstances that reasonably would result in abuse or neglect when the knowledge is derived from information received in their official capacity (N.D.C.C. § 50-25.2-03).

For purposes of this notification, a vulnerable adult is an adult (including a minor emancipated by marriage) with a substantial mental or functional impairment (N.D.C.C. § 50-25.2-01). Abuse is any willful act or omission of a caregiver or any other person which results in physical injury, mental anguish, unreasonable confinement, sexual abuse or exploitation, or financial exploitation to or of a vulnerable adult (N.D.C.C. § 50-25.2-01).

Officers investigating any allegation of abuse or neglect of a vulnerable adult that requires immediate steps to protect the person, such as removing them from their environment, shall notify the North Dakota Department of Health and Human Services of the steps taken (N.D.C.C. § 50-25.2-05).

315.3.1 NOTIFICATION PROCEDURE

Notification should occur as follows:

(a) Notification to the North Dakota Department of Health and Human Services or other designated agency should be made immediately, either orally or in writing (N.D.C.C. § 50-25.2-03).

(b) A member shall, if known, include all of the following in a notification (N.D.C.C. § 50-25.2-03):

1. The name, age, and residence address of the alleged vulnerable adult.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

2. The name and residence address of the caregiver, if any.
3. The nature and extent of the alleged abuse or neglect or the conditions and circumstances that would reasonably be expected to result in abuse or neglect.
4. Any evidence of previous abuse or neglect, including the nature and extent of the abuse or neglect.
5. Any other information that may be helpful in establishing the cause of the alleged abuse or neglect and the identity of the individual responsible for the alleged abuse or neglect.

315.4 INVESTIGATIONS AND REPORTING

All reported or suspected cases of adult abuse require investigation and a report, even if the allegations appear unfounded or unsubstantiated.

Investigations and reports related to suspected cases of adult abuse should address, as applicable:

(a) The overall basis for the contact. This should be done by the investigating officer in all circumstances where a suspected adult abuse victim is contacted.

(b) Any relevant statements the victim may have made and to whom he/she made the statements.

(c) If a person is taken into protective custody, the reasons, the name and title of the person making the decision, and why other alternatives were not appropriate.

(d) Documentation of any visible injuries or any injuries identified by the victim. This should include photographs of such injuries, if practicable.

(e) Whether the victim was transported for medical treatment or a medical examination.

(f) Whether the victim identified a household member as the alleged perpetrator, and a list of the names of any other potential victims or witnesses who may reside in the residence.

(g) Identification of any prior related reports or allegations of abuse, including other jurisdictions, as reasonably known.

(h) Previous addresses of the victim and suspect.

(i) Other potential witnesses who have not yet been interviewed, such as relatives or others close to the victim’s environment.

Any unexplained death of an adult who was in the care of a guardian or caretaker should be considered as potential adult abuse and investigated similarly.

315.5 PROTECTIVE CUSTODY

Before taking an adult abuse victim into protective custody when facts indicate the adult may not be able to care for themselves, the officer should make reasonable attempts to contact the North Dakota Department of Health and Human Services or another designated agency. Generally, removal of an adult abuse victim from the victim's family, guardian, or other responsible adult should be left to the welfare authorities when they are present or have become involved in an investigation.

Generally, members of this department should remove an adult abuse victim from the victim's family or guardian without a court order only when no other effective alternative is reasonably available and immediate action reasonably appears necessary to protect the victim. Prior to taking an adult abuse victim into protective custody, the officer should take reasonable steps to deliver the adult to another qualified legal guardian, unless it reasonably appears that the release would endanger the victim or result in abduction. If this is not a reasonable option, the officer shall ensure that the adult is delivered to the North Dakota Department of Health and Human Services or another designated agency.

Whenever practicable, the officer should inform a supervisor of the circumstances prior to taking an adult abuse victim into protective custody. If prior notification is not practicable, officers should contact a supervisor promptly after taking the adult into protective custody.

When adult abuse victims are under state control, have a state-appointed guardian or there are other legal holdings for guardianship, it may be necessary or reasonable to seek a court order on behalf of the adult abuse victim to either remove the adult from a dangerous environment (protective custody) or restrain a person from contact with the adult (N.D.C.C. § 50-25.2-07).

315.6 INTERVIEWS

315.6.1 PRELIMINARY INTERVIEWS

Absent extenuating circumstances or impracticality, officers should audio record the preliminary interview with a suspected adult abuse victim. Officers should avoid multiple interviews with the victim and should attempt to gather only the information necessary to begin an investigation. When practicable, investigating officers should defer interviews until a person who is specially trained in such interviews is available.

315.6.2 DETAINING VICTIMS FOR INTERVIEWS

An officer should not detain an adult involuntarily who is suspected of being a victim of abuse solely for the purpose of an interview or physical exam without the adult's consent or the consent of a guardian unless one of the following applies:

(a) The adult cannot adequately provide for the adult's own care or protection and exigent circumstances exist, such as:

1. A reasonable belief that medical issues of the adult need to be addressed immediately.
2. A reasonable belief that the adult is or will be in danger of harm if the interview or physical exam is not immediately completed.
3. The alleged offender is a family member or guardian and there is reason to believe the adult may be in continued danger.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(b) A court order or warrant has been issued.

315.7 MEDICAL EXAMINATIONS

When an adult abuse investigation requires a medical examination, the investigating officer should obtain consent for such examination from the victim, guardian, agency or entity having legal custody of the adult. The officer should also arrange for the adult's transportation to the appropriate medical facility.

In cases where the alleged offender is a family member, guardian, agency or entity having legal custody and is refusing to give consent for the medical examination, officers should notify a supervisor before proceeding. If exigent circumstances do not exist or if state law does not provide for officers to take the adult for a medical examination, the supervisor should consider other government agencies or services that may obtain a court order for such an examination.

315.8 DRUG-ENDANGERED VICTIMS

A coordinated response by law enforcement and social services agencies is appropriate to meet the immediate and longer-term medical and safety needs of an adult abuse victim who has been exposed to the manufacturing, trafficking or use of narcotics.

315.8.1 SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

The Investigations Division Supervisor should:

(a) Work with professionals from the appropriate agencies, including the North Dakota Department of Health and Human Services or another designated agency, other law enforcement agencies, medical service providers, and local prosecutors to develop community specific procedures for responding to situations where there are adult abuse victims endangered by exposure to methamphetamine labs or the manufacture and trafficking of other drugs.

(b) Activate any available interagency response when an officer notifies the Investigations Division Supervisor that the officer has responded to a drug lab or other narcotics crime scene where an adult abuse victim is present or where evidence indicates that an adult abuse victim lives there.

(c) Develop a report format or checklist for use when officers respond to drug labs or other narcotics crime scenes. The checklist will help officers document the environmental, medical, social, and other conditions that may affect the adult.

315.8.2 OFFICER RESPONSIBILITIES

Officers responding to a drug lab or other narcotics crime scene where an adult abuse victim is present or where there is evidence that an adult abuse victim lives there should:

(a) Document the environmental, medical, social and other conditions of the adult, using photography as appropriate and the checklist or form developed for this purpose.

(b) Notify the Investigations Division Supervisor so an interagency response can begin.

315.9 RELEASE OF REPORTS

Information related to incidents of adult abuse or suspected adult abuse shall be confidential and may only be disclosed pursuant to state law and the Records Maintenance and Release Policy (N.D.C.C. § 50-25.2-12).

315.10 TRAINING

The Department should provide training on best practices in adult abuse investigations to members tasked with investigating these cases. The training should include:

(a) Participating in multidisciplinary investigations, as appropriate.

(b) Conducting interviews.

(c) Availability of therapy services for adults and families.

(d) Availability of specialized forensic medical exams.

(e) Cultural competence (including interpretive services) related to adult abuse investigations.

(f) Availability of victim advocates or other support.

(g) Other training as may be provided by the North Dakota Department of Health and Human Services (N.D.C.C. § 50-25.2-13).

Discriminatory Harassment

316.1 POLICY

The Minot Police Department is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to creating and maintaining a work environment that is free of all forms of discriminatory harassment, including sexual harassment and retaliation. The Department will not tolerate discrimination against members in hiring, promotion, discharge, compensation, fringe benefits, and other privileges of employment. The Department will take preventive and corrective action to address any behavior that violates this policy or the rights and privileges it is designed to protect.

The nondiscrimination policies of the Department may be more comprehensive than state or federal law. Conduct that violates this policy may or may not violate state or federal law but still could subject a member to discipline.

Child Abuse

317.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to provide guidelines for the investigation of suspected child abuse. This policy also addresses when Minot Police Department members are required to notify the North Dakota Department of Health and Human Services of suspected child abuse.

317.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Child - Unless otherwise specified by a cited statute, a child is any person under the age of 18 years.

Child abuse - Includes any offense or attempted offense involving violence or neglect with a child victim when committed by a person responsible for the child's care or any other act that would mandate notification to a social service agency.

317.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department will investigate all reported incidents of alleged criminal child abuse and ensure the North Dakota Department of Health and Human Services is notified as required by law.

317.3 MANDATORY NOTIFICATION

Members of the Minot Police Department shall notify the North Dakota Department of Health and Human Services of where the child is currently residing when there is reasonable cause to believe the child is the victim of abuse or neglect (N.D.C.C. § 50-25.1-03).

For purposes of notification, abuse includes a child 17 years of age or younger who experiences mental or physical injury by a person responsible for the child's welfare. This includes a parent, an adult family member, any member of the child's household, a guardian, a foster parent, or any person providing care for the child at a school or child care setting. Abuse also includes any sexual offense committed against a child 17 years of age or younger by any person, whether or not the person is responsible for the child's welfare (N.D.C.C. § 50-25.1-02).

For purposes of notification, neglect includes failure to provide proper parental care or control, subsistence, education, or other care or control necessary for a child's physical, mental, or emotional health, or morals, not due primarily from the financial inability of a person responsible for the child's welfare. Neglect should be assumed when care of a child is requested by a person who has a physical, mental, emotional, or other illness or disability and is responsible for the child's welfare. Neglect also includes abandonment of a child by a parent, guardian, or custodian; failure of a parent, guardian, or custodian to participate in treatment ordered by the juvenile court; subjecting a child to prenatal exposure to alcohol misuse or drug use; permitting a child to remain in an environment that subjects the child to exposure to a controlled or chemical substance or drug paraphernalia; or subjecting a child to human trafficking (N.D.C.C. § 50-25.1-02).

Notification should occur as follows (N.D.C.C. § 50-25.1-04):

(a) Incidents of suspected child abuse shall be immediately referred to the North Dakota Department of Health and Human Services of where the child is currently residing. Oral reports must be followed by written reports within 48 hours, if requested.

(b) A child abuse report, when possible, should include:

1. The name and addresses of the child, the child's parents, or others responsible for the child's care.
2. The age, sex, and race of the child.
3. The nature and extent of the child's injuries, including any evidence of previous cases of known or suspected abuse or neglect of the child or the child's siblings.
4. The names and addresses of the persons responsible for the suspected abuse or neglect, if known.
5. The family composition.
6. The source of the report and the name, address, and occupation of the person making the report.
7. Any action taken by the reporting source.
8. Any other information that the person making the report believes may be helpful.

317.4 INVESTIGATIONS AND REPORTING
In all reported or suspected cases of child abuse, a report will be written. Officers shall write a report even if the allegations appear unfounded or unsubstantiated.

Investigations and reports related to suspected cases of child abuse should address, as applicable:

(a) The overall basis for the contact. This should be done by the investigating officer in all circumstances where a suspected child abuse victim was contacted.

(b) The exigent circumstances that existed if officers interviewed the child victim without the presence of a parent or guardian.

(c) Any relevant statements the child may have made and to whom the child made the statements.

(d) If a child was taken into protective custody, the reasons, the name and title of the person making the decision, and why other alternatives were not appropriate.

(e) Documentation of any visible injuries or any injuries identified by the child. This should include photographs of such injuries, if practicable.

(f) Whether the child victim was transported for medical treatment or a medical examination.

(g) Whether the victim identified a household member as the alleged perpetrator, and a list of the names of any other children who may reside in the residence.

(h) Identification of any prior related reports or allegations of child abuse, including other jurisdictions, as reasonably known.

(i) Previous addresses of the victim and suspect.

(j) Other potential witnesses who have not yet been interviewed, such as relatives or others close to the victim's environment.

(k) The Department shall investigate every report of child abuse or neglect if a violation of a criminal statute is alleged. Officers shall coordinate the planning and execution of the investigation and child protection assessment with the North Dakota Department of Health and Human Services and may (N.D.C.C. § 50-25.1-05):

1. Refer the case to a children's advocacy center for a forensic interview, forensic medical examination, or other services.
2. Conduct interviews with any child involved in the investigation without the consent of a person responsible for the child's welfare.
3. Conduct an interview at a school, child care facility, or any other place where any child involved in the investigation is found.

All cases of the unexplained death of a child should be investigated as thoroughly as if it had been a case of suspected child abuse (e.g., a sudden or unexplained death of an infant).

317.5 PROTECTIVE CUSTODY

Before taking any child into protective custody, the officer should make reasonable attempts to contact the North Dakota Department of Health and Human Services. Generally, removal of a child from the child's family, guardian, or other responsible adult should be left to the child welfare authorities when they are present or have become involved in an investigation.

Generally, members of this department should remove a child from the child's parent or guardian without a court order only when no other effective alternative is reasonably available and immediate action reasonably appears necessary to protect the child. Prior to taking a child into protective custody, the officer should take reasonable steps to deliver the child to another qualified parent or legal guardian, unless it reasonably appears that the release would endanger the child or result in abduction. If this is not a reasonable option, the officer shall ensure that the child is delivered to the North Dakota Department of Health and Human Services.

Whenever practicable, the officer should inform a supervisor of the circumstances prior to taking a child into protective custody. If prior notification is not practicable, officers should contact a supervisor promptly after taking a child into protective custody.

Children may only be removed from a parent or guardian (N.D.C.C. § 27-20.3-13; N.D.C.C. § 27-20.3-06):

(a) With a court order authorizing the removal of the child.

(b) Without a court order when there are reasonable grounds to believe that the child is suffering from illness or injury, or is in immediate danger from the child's surroundings, and the child's removal is necessary.

317.6 INTERVIEWS

317.6.1 PRELIMINARY INTERVIEWS

Absent extenuating circumstances or impracticality, officers should record the preliminary interview with suspected child abuse victims. Officers should avoid multiple interviews with a child victim and should attempt to gather only the information necessary to begin an investigation. When practicable, investigating officers should defer interviews until a person who is specially trained in such interviews is available. Generally, child victims should not be interviewed in the home or location where the alleged abuse occurred.

317.6.2 DETAINING SUSPECTED CHILD ABUSE VICTIMS FOR AN INTERVIEW

An officer should not detain a child involuntarily who is suspected of being a victim of child abuse solely for the purpose of an interview or physical exam without the consent of a parent or guardian unless one of the following applies:

(a) Exigent circumstances exist, such as:

1. A reasonable belief that medical issues of the child need to be addressed immediately.
2. A reasonable belief that the child is or will be in danger of harm if the interview or physical exam is not immediately completed.
3. The alleged offender is the custodial parent or guardian and there is reason to believe the child may be in continued danger.

(b) A court order or warrant has been issued.

317.6.3 INTERVIEWING JUVENILES

If the parents or guardians are not the alleged abusers, a parent of the child should, when practicable, be notified prior to the child being interviewed. If the abuse or neglect is alleged to have occurred in a school or childcare facility, the interview should not take place in any school building or child care facility building where the abuse or neglect is alleged to have occurred.

Prior to conducting an interview on school property, the investigating officer shall notify school officials (N.D.C.C. § 50-25.1-05.6). The notification should include the name of the child, the purpose of the interview and a reference to the statutory authority that allows the interview to be conducted on school property. The investigating officer shall determine who may attend the interview, although school officials may set reasonable conditions as to the time, place and manner of the interview. Care should be taken to minimize disruption of the educational program of the child, other students or school staff.

317.7 MEDICAL EXAMINATIONS

If the child has been the victim of abuse that requires a medical examination, the investigating officer should obtain consent for such examination from the appropriate parent, guardian or agency having legal custody of the child. The officer should also arrange for the child's transportation to the appropriate medical facility.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

In cases where the alleged offender is the custodial parent or guardian and is refusing consent for the medical examination, officers should notify a supervisor before proceeding. If exigent circumstances do not exist or if state law does not provide for officers to take the child for a medical examination, the notified supervisor should consider obtaining a court order for such an examination.

317.8 DRUG-ENDANGERED CHILDREN

A coordinated response by law enforcement and social services agencies is appropriate to meet the immediate and longer-term medical and safety needs of children exposed to the manufacturing, trafficking or use of narcotics.

317.8.1 OFFICER RESPONSIBILITIES

Officers responding to a drug lab or other narcotics crime scene where a child is present or where there is evidence that a child lives should:

(a) Document the environmental, medical, social and other conditions of the child using photography as appropriate and the checklist or form developed for this purpose.

(b) Notify the Investigations Division supervisor so an interagency response can begin.

317.9 STATE MANDATES AND OTHER RELEVANT LAWS

North Dakota requires or permits the following:

317.9.1 RELEASE OF REPORTS

Reports of child abuse or neglect shall be confidential and may only be disclosed pursuant to state law and the Records Maintenance and Release Policy (N.D.C.C. § 50-25.1-05; N.D.C.C. § 50-25.1-11).

317.9.2 CHILD FATALITY REVIEW PANEL

Child Fatality Review Panels are required to review deaths of children that meet the criteria established by the North Dakota Department of Health and Human Services. This department shall cooperate fully with the panel (N.D.C.C. § 50-25.1-04.3).

317.10 TRAINING

The Department should provide training on best practices in child abuse investigations to members tasked with investigating these cases. The training should include:

(a) Participating in multidisciplinary investigations, as appropriate.

(b) Conducting forensic interviews.

(c) Availability of therapy services for children and families.

(d) Availability of specialized forensic medical exams.

(e) Cultural competence (including interpretive services) related to child abuse investigations.

Priority shall be given to missing person cases over property-related cases. Members will initiate an investigation into all reports of missing persons, regardless of the length of time the person has been missing.

Responsibility for the missing person report shall remain with this department until the other jurisdiction confirms in writing its acceptance of responsibility for the report (N.D.C.C. § 12-68-01(2)).

Standards of Conduct

322.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy establishes standards of conduct that are consistent with the values and mission of the Minot Police Department and are expected of all department members. The standards contained in this policy are not intended to be an exhaustive list of requirements and prohibitions but they do identify many of the important matters concerning member conduct. In addition to the provisions of this policy, members are subject to all other provisions contained in this manual, as well as any additional guidance on conduct that may be disseminated by this Department or a member's supervisors.

322.2 POLICY

The continued employment or appointment of every member of the Minot Police Department shall be based on conduct that reasonably conforms to the guidelines set forth herein. Failure to meet the guidelines set forth in this policy, whether on- or off-duty, may be cause for disciplinary action.

322.3 DIRECTIVES AND ORDERS

Members shall comply with lawful directives and orders from any department supervisor or person in a position of authority, absent a reasonable and bona fide justification.

322.3.1 UNLAWFUL OR CONFLICTING ORDERS

Supervisors shall not knowingly issue orders or directives that, if carried out, would result in a violation of any law or department policy. Supervisors should not issue orders that conflict with any previous order without making reasonable clarification that the new order is intended to countermand the earlier order.

No member is required to obey any order that appears to be in direct conflict with any federal law, state law or local ordinance. Following a known unlawful order is not a defense and does not relieve the member from criminal or civil prosecution or administrative discipline. If the legality of an order is in doubt, the affected member shall ask the issuing supervisor to clarify the order or shall confer with a higher authority. The responsibility for refusal to obey rests with the member, who shall subsequently be required to justify the refusal.

Unless it would jeopardize the safety of any individual, members who are presented with a lawful order that is in conflict with a previous lawful order, department policy or other directive shall respectfully inform the issuing supervisor of the conflict. The issuing supervisor is responsible for either resolving the conflict or clarifying that the lawful order is intended to countermand the previous lawful order or directive, in which case the member is obliged to comply. Members who are compelled to follow a conflicting lawful order after having given the issuing supervisor the opportunity to correct the conflict, will not be held accountable for disobedience of the lawful order or directive that was initially issued.

The person countermanding the original order shall notify, in writing, the person issuing the original order, indicating the action taken and the reason.

Whenever the presence of media or other aircraft pose a threat to public or officer safety or significantly hamper incident operations, the field supervisor should consider requesting a Temporary Flight Restriction (TFR). All requests for a TFR should be routed through the Patrol Supervisor. The TFR request should include specific information regarding the perimeter and altitude necessary for the incident and should be requested through the appropriate control tower. If the control tower is not known, the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) should be contacted (14 CFR 91.137).

325.3.2 PROVIDING ADVANCE INFORMATION

To protect the safety and rights of officers and other persons, advance information about planned actions by law enforcement personnel, such as movement of persons in custody or the execution of an arrest or search warrant, should not be disclosed to the news media nor should media representatives be invited to be present at such actions except with the prior approval of the Chief of Police.

Any exceptions to the above should only be considered for the furtherance of legitimate law enforcement purposes. Prior to approving any exception, the Chief of Police will consider, at minimum, whether the release of information or presence of the media would unreasonably endanger any individual, prejudice the rights of any person or is otherwise prohibited by law.

325.4 INFORMATION SUBJECT TO RELEASE

The Department will comply with the North Dakota Attorney General's Law Enforcement Records Checklist which is available on the NDAG website.

325.4.1 STATE RESTRICTED INFORMATION

It shall be the responsibility of the authorized employee dealing with media requests to ensure that restricted information is not inappropriately released to the media by this department (see the Records Maintenance and Release and Personnel Files policies). When in doubt, authorized and available legal counsel should be obtained.

(b) Court Overtime: It is the policy of the Minot Police Department to pay for callback for officers off duty. Court time will be considered a callback. Therefore, if an officer must report early for court, it will be considered a callback and he/she will receive the minimum of 1 1/2 hours of overtime pay.

Outside Agency Assistance

327.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to provide guidance to members when requesting or responding to a request for mutual aid or when assisting another law enforcement agency.

327.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department to promptly respond to requests for assistance by other law enforcement agencies, subject to available resources and consistent with the applicable laws and policies of this department.

327.3 ASSISTING OUTSIDE AGENCIES

Generally, requests for any type of assistance from another agency should be routed to the Patrol Supervisor's office for approval. In some instances, a memorandum of understanding or other established protocol may exist that eliminates the need for approval of individual requests.

When another law enforcement agency requests assistance from this department, the Patrol Supervisor may authorize, if available, an appropriate number of personnel to assist (N.D.C.C. § 44-08-20). Members are reminded that their actions when rendering assistance must conform with applicable laws and be consistent with the policies of this department.

Officers may respond to a request for emergency assistance, however, they shall notify a supervisor of their activity as soon as practicable.

Arrestees may be temporarily detained by this department until arrangements for transportation are made by the outside agency. Probation violators who are temporarily detained by the department will not ordinarily be booked at this department. Only in exceptional circumstances will this department provide transportation of arrestees to other facilities on behalf of another agency.

When transportation assistance is rendered, a report shall be prepared and submitted by the handling member unless otherwise directed by a supervisor.

327.3.1 AGREEMENTS

The Chief of Police may enter into agreements with other law enforcement agencies to (N.D.C.C. § 44-08-24; N.D.C.C. § 54-40.3-04):

(a) Assist other state and local criminal justice agencies.

(b) Exchange officers of this department with peace officers of another criminal justice agency on a temporary basis.

327.3.2 INITIATED ACTIVITY

While assisting a peace officer from another agency or acting on behalf of another agency, an officer's assistance shall be limited to the duties, scope and course of employment authorized for an officer of this department (N.D.C.C. § 44-08-24).

Outside Agency Assistance

Any on-duty officer who engages in law enforcement activities of any type that are not part of a mutual aid request and take place outside the jurisdiction of the Minot Police Department shall notify his/her supervisor or the Patrol Supervisor and Minot Central Dispatch as soon as practicable. This requirement does not apply to special enforcement details or multi-agency units that regularly work in multiple jurisdictions.

327.4 REQUESTING OUTSIDE ASSISTANCE

If assistance is needed from another agency, the member requesting assistance should, if practicable, first notify a supervisor. The handling member or supervisor should direct assisting personnel to where they are needed and to whom they should report when they arrive (N.D.C.C. § 44-08-20).

The requesting member should arrange for appropriate radio communication capabilities, if necessary and available, so that communication can be coordinated between assisting personnel.

327.5 MANDATORY SHARING

Equipment and supplies purchased with federal funds or grants with contingent sharing requirements should be documented and updated as necessary by the Administrative Commander. The conditions relative to sharing, the training requirements connected to the use of the supplies and equipment, and those trained in the use of the supplies and equipment should be included in the documentation. Copies of the list should be provided to Minot Central Dispatch and the Patrol Supervisor to ensure proper use in compliance with agreements.

Registered Offender Information

328.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy establishes guidelines by which the Minot Police Department will address issues associated with certain offenders who are residing in the jurisdiction, and how the Department will disseminate information and respond to public inquiries for information about registered offenders (N.D.C.C. § 12.1-32-15).

328.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department to identify and monitor registered offenders living within this jurisdiction and to take reasonable steps to address the risks those persons may pose.

328.3 REGISTRATION

328.3.1 ORIGINATING AGENCY

The registration forms and instructions will direct the offender to register with the local law enforcement agency where the offender resides, works or attends school (N.D.C.C. § 12.1-32-15(5)).

Once the forms are acknowledged and signed, copies and all required attachments shall be submitted to the Bureau of Criminal Investigation (BCI).

328.3.2 RESIDING/REGISTERING AGENCY

When the Department receives notice of the offender registration from BCI, the appropriate assigned employee will ensure the offender registers within the appropriate time frame. If the offender fails to register, the assigned employee will take appropriate action to locate the offender as quickly as possible and ensure compliance (N.D.C.C. § 12.1-32-15(2)).

Upon conclusion of the registration process, the employee shall forward the completed registration, biometric data, photographs and DNA sample, if applicable, to the Records Section, which will then send the completed registration to BCI within three days and the DNA samples to the state crime laboratory. If BCI does not receive the offender's completed registration forms within the time expected, it will contact this department so that efforts can be made to locate the offender as quickly as possible (N.D.C.C. § 12.1-32-15(7)).

The refusal of a registrant to provide any of the required information or complete the process should initiate a criminal investigation for failure to register (N.D.C.C. § 12.1-32-15(9)).

Employees assigned to register offenders should receive appropriate training regarding the registration process.

328.3.3 CONTENTS OF REGISTRATION

The offender is required to provide all of the following applicable information, and to notify the Department if there are any changes to the following:

(a) Residence address

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(b) Employer address

(c) School information

(d) Motor vehicle

(e) Driver’s license and professional licenses

(f) Email address and social networking information

328.3.4 MODIFICATION OR CHANGES

The offender is responsible for notifying law enforcement regarding any changes including address, employment, school, and other required information, at least 10 days before the change.

If the offender moves outside this jurisdiction, the offender must complete a change of registration at this department before moving and must register with the new law enforcement agency in the new jurisdiction no later than three days after moving.

An offender must inform the Department if the offender plans to travel outside of the United States, at least 21 days before the intended travel (N.D.C.C. § 12.1-32-15).

328.4 MONITORING OF REGISTERED OFFENDERS

A Patrol Division supervisor should establish a system to periodically, and at least once annually, verify that a registrant remains in compliance with his/her registration requirements after the initial registration (N.D.C.C. § 12.1-32-15(7)).

This verification should include:

(a) At minimum addresses should be verified every 90 days for lifetime and unassigned offenders and every 180 days for other offenders.

(b) Review of information on state website.

(c) Contact with a registrant's parole or probation officer.

Any discrepancies should be reported to the appropriate agencies or departments.

The Records Sergeant or Patrol Supervisor should also establish a procedure to routinely disseminate information regarding registered offenders to Minot Police Department personnel, including timely updates regarding new or relocated registrants.

328.5 DISSEMINATION OF PUBLIC INFORMATION

Department members will not unilaterally make a public notification advising the community of a particular registrant’s presence in the community. Members who identify a significant risk or other public safety issue associated with a registrant should promptly advise their supervisors. The supervisor should evaluate the request and forward the information to the Chief of Police, if warranted. A determination will be made by the Chief of Police, with the assistance of legal counsel as necessary, whether such a public alert should be made (N.D.C.C. § 12.1-32-15(14)).

Upon request, the Department may release conviction and registration information regarding low-risk, moderate-risk or high-risk offenders.

(c) High-risk offender information may be released in addition to those above by the following:

3. Persons should not rely solely on the offender registry as a safeguard against offenses in their communities.
4. The crime for which a person is convicted may not accurately reflect the level of risk.

328.5.2 MANDATORY DISSEMINATION

Relevant and necessary conviction and registration information must be disclosed to the public by the Department, following Attorney General guidelines, if the individual is a moderate or high risk and it is determined that disclosure of the conviction and registration information is necessary for public protection (N.D.C.C. § 12.1-32-15(14)).

Public disclosure may include internet access if the offender:

(a) Is required to register for a lifetime.

(b) Has been determined to be a high risk to the public.

(c) Has been determined to be a high risk to the public by an agency of another state or the federal government.

If the offender has been determined to be a moderate risk, public disclosure must include, at a minimum, notification of the offense to the registered victim and to any agency, civic organization or group of persons who have characteristics similar to those of a victim of the offender.

329.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to provide guidance to members of this department in determining when, how and to whom notification of major incidents should be made.

329.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department recognizes that certain incidents should be brought to the attention of supervisors or other specified personnel of this department to facilitate the coordination of activities and ensure that inquiries from the media and the public are properly addressed.

329.3 MINIMUM CRITERIA FOR NOTIFICATION

Most situations where the media show a strong interest are also of interest to the Chief of Police and the affected Division Commander. The following list of incident types is provided as a guide for notification and is not intended to be all-inclusive:

- Homicides, suspicious deaths or deaths related to law enforcement activity

Death Investigation

330.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to provide guidelines for situations where officers initially respond to and investigate the circumstances of a deceased person.

Some causes of death may not be readily apparent and some cases differ substantially from what they appear to be initially. The thoroughness of death investigations and the use of appropriate resources and evidence gathering techniques is critical.

330.2 INVESTIGATION CONSIDERATIONS

Emergency medical services shall be called in all suspected death cases unless the death is obvious (e.g., decapitated, decomposed).

A supervisor shall be notified as soon as possible to assist and provide appropriate personnel and resources. The on-scene supervisor should determine whether follow-up investigation is required and notify the Investigations Commander who will notify command staff in accordance with the Major Incident Notification Policy.

330.2.1 CORONER REQUEST

The office of the Coroner shall be called and provided with known facts concerning the time, place, manner and circumstances of the death involving any of the following circumstances (N.D.C.C. § 11-19.1-01(5)):

(a) Obvious or suspected homicidal, suicidal or accidental injury

(b) Firearm injury

(c) Severe, unexplained injury

(d) Occupant or pedestrian motor vehicle injury

(e) An injury to a minor

(f) Fire, chemical, electrical or radiation

(g) Starvation

(h) Unidentified or skeletonized human remains

(i) Drowning

(j) Suffocation, smothering or strangulation

(k) Poisoning or illegal drug use

(l) Prior child abuse or neglect assessment concerns

(m) Open child protection service case on the victim

(n) Victim is in the custody of the Department of Human Services, county social services, the Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation or other correctional facility or law enforcement

(o) Unexplained death or death in an undetermined manner

(p) Suspected sexual assault

(q) Any other suspicious factor

Any reasonable requests from the Coroner, such as completion of reports, forms, scene preservation or coordination of decedent transportation should be satisfied.

330.2.2 SEARCHING DEAD BODIES

The Coroner or an assistant and authorized investigators are generally the only persons who should move, handle or search a body. The Coroner, with the permission of the Department, may take property, objects or articles found on the deceased or in the deceased's immediate vicinity that may be necessary for conducting an investigation to determine the identity of the deceased or the cause or manner of death.

Should exigent circumstances indicate to an officer that any other search of a known dead body is warranted prior to the arrival of the Coroner, the investigating officer should first obtain verbal consent from the Coroner when practicable.

An officer may make a reasonable search of an individual who is reasonably believed dead, or is near death, for the purpose of identification or for information identifying the individual as a donor. If a donor document is located, the Coroner shall be promptly notified.

Whenever reasonably possible, a witness, preferably a relative of the deceased or a member of the household, should be requested to remain nearby the scene and available to the officer pending the arrival of the Coroner. The name and address of this person shall be included in the narrative of the death report.

Whenever personal effects are removed from the body of the deceased by the Coroner, a receipt shall be obtained. This receipt shall be attached to the death report.

330.2.3 DEATH NOTIFICATION

When reasonably practicable, notification to the next-of-kin of the deceased person shall be made, in person, by the officer assigned to the incident or any other designated department member. A chaplain can be there to assist in the response of the individual/family to the notification. The chaplain can provide comfort and consolation to the bereaved. He can aid in contacting clergy and other support. If the next-of-kin lives in another jurisdiction, a law enforcement official from that jurisdiction shall be requested to make the personal notification.

If a deceased person has been identified as a missing person, this department shall attempt to locate family members and inform them of the death and location of the deceased missing person's remains. All efforts to locate and notify family members shall be recorded in appropriate reports and properly retained.

330.2.4 UNIDENTIFIED DEAD BODIES

If the identity of a dead body cannot be established after the Coroner arrives, the Coroner will issue a “John Doe" or "Jane Doe” number for the report.

330.2.5 UNIDENTIFIED BODIES DATA ENTRY

As soon as reasonably possible, but no later than 30 working days after the date a death is reported to the Department, all available identifying features of the unidentified body, including dental records, fingerprints, any unusual physical characteristics and a description of clothing or personal belongings found on or with the body, should be forwarded to the appropriate agency for entry into the North Dakota Criminal Justice Information Sharing (NDCJIS) database and the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) file.

330.2.6 DEATH INVESTIGATION REPORTING

All incidents involving a death shall be documented on the appropriate form. In addition, an officer should complete an infant death investigation checklist during any unexplained infant death investigation.

330.2.7 SUSPECTED HOMICIDE

If the initially assigned officer suspects that the death involves a homicide, any suspicious circumstances or if the manner of death cannot be determined, the officer shall take steps to protect the scene. The Investigations Division shall be notified to determine the possible need for an investigator to respond to the scene for further immediate investigation.

If the on-scene supervisor, through consultation with the Patrol Supervisor or Investigations Division supervisor, is unable to determine the manner of death, the investigation shall proceed as though it is a homicide.

The assigned investigator investigating a homicide or a death under suspicious circumstances may, with the approval of his/her supervisor, request the Coroner to conduct physical examinations and tests, and to provide a report.

330.2.8 EMPLOYMENT-RELATED DEATHS OR INJURIES

Any member of this agency who responds to and determines that a death, serious illness or serious injury has occurred as a result of an accident at or in connection with the victim's employment, may ensure that the regional Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) office is notified by telephone or teletype with all pertinent information.

Identity Theft

331.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

Identity theft is a growing trend that frequently involves related crimes in multiple jurisdictions. This policy is intended to provide guidelines for the reporting and investigation of such crimes.

331.2 REPORTING

(a) Officers shall complete a report for identity theft upon request from any victim who resides within the City. The victim shall be given a copy of the report (N.D.C.C. § 51-31-04(1)).

1. If the suspected identity theft crime did not occur within the City's jurisdiction, an officer may forward the report to the agency having jurisdiction where the crime was committed for further investigation.

(b) If the victim is not a resident of the City, the officer may complete a courtesy report to be forwarded to the agency where the victim resides.

(c) While the crime of identity theft should be reported to the law enforcement agency where the victim resides, officers of this department should investigate and report crimes occurring within this jurisdiction that have resulted from the original identity theft (e.g., the identity theft occurred elsewhere but the fraud, usage of services or receipt of goods was acquired or occurred in this jurisdiction).

(d) Officers should include all known incidents of fraudulent activity in the report (e.g., credit card number that was applied for in victim's name when the victim never made such an application).

(e) Officers should also cross-reference all known reports made by the victim (e.g., U.S. Secret Service, credit reporting bureaus, U.S. Postal Service and Department of Motor Vehicles) with all known report numbers.

(f) Following supervisory review and department processing, the initial report should be forwarded to the appropriate investigator for follow-up investigation, coordination with other agencies and prosecution, as circumstances dictate.

331.3 PREVENTIVE MEASURES

The victim should be advised to place a security freeze on his/her consumer report with the three major credit bureaus.

331.4 INFORMATION

The victim should be encouraged to contact the North Dakota Attorney General's Consumer Protection and Antitrust Division, which assists consumers with completing an Identity Theft Affidavit that the consumer can use to relay his/her identify theft information to creditors and credit bureaus.

The victim should also be encouraged to contact the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), which is responsible for receiving and processing complaints under the Identity Theft and Assumption Deterrence Act. The victim can contact the FTC online or by telephone. Additional information may be found at the U.S. Department of Justice website, or a regional FBI division website.

Private Person's Arrest

332.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to provide guidance for handling private person's arrest and detentions made pursuant to North Dakota law.

332.2 ADVISING PRIVATE PERSONS OF THE ARREST PROCESS

Officers should use sound discretion in determining whether to advise an individual of the arrest process.

(a) When advising any individual regarding the right to make a private person's arrest, officers should refrain from encouraging or dissuading any individual from making such an arrest and should instead limit advice to the legal requirements for such an arrest, as listed below.

(b) Private individuals should be discouraged from using force to effect a private person's arrest. Absent an immediate threat to their own safety or the safety of others, private individuals should be encouraged to refer matters to law enforcement officials for further investigation or arrest.

332.3 ARRESTS BY PRIVATE PERSONS

A private person may arrest another (N.D.C.C. § 29-06-04; N.D.C.C. § 29-06-20):

(a) When directed by any peace officer to assist a peace officer in an arrest.

(b) For a public offense committed or attempted in the arresting person's presence.

(c) When the person arrested has committed a felony, although not in the arresting person's presence.

(d) When a felony has been committed and the arresting person has reasonable grounds to believe the arrested person committed the felony.

332.4 OFFICER RESPONSIBILITIES

Any officer presented with a private person who has made a private person's arrest must determine whether there is reasonable cause to believe that such an arrest would be lawful.

(a) Should any officer determine that there is no reasonable cause to believe that a private person's arrest is lawful, the officer should take no action to further detain or restrain the individual beyond that which reasonably appears necessary to investigate the matter, to determine the lawfulness of the arrest and protect the public safety.

1. Any officer who determines that a private person's arrest appears to be unlawful should promptly release the arrested individual. The officer must include the basis of such a determination in a related report.

2. Absent reasonable cause to support a private person's arrest or other lawful grounds to support an independent arrest by the officer, the officer should advise the parties that no arrest will be made and that the circumstances will be documented in a related report.

(b) Whenever an officer determines that there is reasonable cause to believe that a private person's arrest is lawful, the officer may exercise any of the following options:

1. Advise the complaintant to place the subject under arrest in the officer's presence.
2. Take the individual into physical custody for booking
3. Take the person before a magistrate (N.D.C.C. § 29-06-18).
4. Release the person upon issuance of a Uniform Complaint and Summons if the offense involved a minor traffic or game and fish offense (N.D.R.Crim.P. Rule 5).

332.5 REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

In all circumstances in which a private person is claiming to have made an arrest, the complainant shall sign the summons as well as complete a full report. When possible, a recorded statement from the complainant should be taken. If the person fails or refuses to do so, the arrested subject shall be released unless the officer has an independent reason to take the person into custody.

In addition to the complainant's report (and any other related documents, such as summons), officers shall complete a narrative report regarding the circumstances and disposition of the incident.

Limited English Proficiency Services

333.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

Language barriers can sometimes inhibit or even prohibit individuals with limited English proficiency (LEP) from gaining meaningful access to, or an understanding of important rights, obligations and services. It is the policy of this department to take all reasonable steps to ensure timely and equal access to all individuals, regardless of national origin or primary language (Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964; § 601; 42 USC § 2000d).

333.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Authorized interpreter - An employee of the Minot Police Department who is bilingual and has successfully completed department-prescribed interpreter training and is authorized to act as an interpreter or translator.

Bilingual - The ability to communicate in two languages fluently, including the ability to communicate technical and law enforcement terminology. Bilingual includes a variety of skill levels. For example, some bilingual individuals may be fluent enough to engage in direct communication in a non-English language but insufficiently fluent to interpret or translate from one language into another. A bilingual individual, depending on his/her skill level, could be utilized to communicate fluently in a non-English language but not to interpret between two languages if he/she does not possess the necessary specialized skills. To be utilized to interpret or translate from one language into another, an individual must possess the skill, training and demonstrated competence. For purposes of this policy, employees, in order to be identified as bilingual, must initially and periodically demonstrate, through a procedure to be established by the Department, the level of skill and competence such that the Department is able to determine the purposes for which an employee's language skills may be used.

Interpretation - The act of listening to a communication in one language (source language) and orally converting it to another language (target language) while retaining the same meaning.

Interpreter - An individual who engages in the practice of interpreting (N.D.C.C. § 43-52-01).

Interpreting - The translating or transliterating of English concepts to any necessary specialized vocabulary that is used by a consumer, or translating a consumer's specialized vocabulary to English concepts. This includes American sign language, English-based sign language and oral interpreting (N.D.C.C. § 43-52-01).

Limited English Proficient (LEP) - Designates individuals whose primary language is not English and who have a limited ability to read, write, speak or understand English. LEP individuals may be competent in certain types of communication (e.g., speaking or understanding) but still be LEP for other purposes (e.g., reading or writing). Similarly, LEP designations are context-specific; an individual may possess sufficient English language skills to function in one setting but these skills may be insufficient in other situations.

Translation - The replacement of written text from one language (source language) into an equivalent written text (target language).

333.2 FOUR-FACTOR ANALYSIS

Since there are potentially hundreds of languages that department personnel could encounter, the Department will utilize the four-factor analysis outlined in the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ) LEP Guidance to Federal Financial Assistance Recipients available at the DOJ website in determining which measures will provide reasonable and meaningful access to various rights, obligations, services and programs to everyone. It is recognized that law enforcement contacts and circumstances will vary considerably. This analysis must remain flexible and requires an ongoing balance of the following four factors:

(a) The number or proportion of LEP individuals eligible to be served or likely to be encountered by department personnel, or who may benefit from programs or services within the jurisdiction of the Department or a particular geographic area.

(b) The frequency with which LEP individuals are likely to come in contact with department personnel, programs or services.

(c) The nature and importance of the contact, program, information or service provided.

(d) The cost of providing LEP assistance and the resources available.

As indicated above, the intent of this analysis is to create a balance that reasonably ensures meaningful access by LEP individuals to critical services, while not imposing undue burdens on the Department or its personnel.

While this department will not discriminate against or deny any individual access to services, rights or programs based upon national origin or any other protected interest or right, the above analysis will be utilized to determine the availability and level of assistance provided to any LEP individual or group.

333.2.1 IDENTIFICATION OF LEP INDIVIDUAL'S LANGUAGE

The Department will utilize all reasonably available tools, such as language identification cards, when attempting to determine an LEP individual's primary language in an effort to avoid mistakes when identifying a language.

333.3 TYPES OF LEP ASSISTANCE AVAILABLE

Depending on the balance of the four factors, this department will make every reasonable effort to provide meaningful and timely assistance to LEP individuals through a variety of services, where reasonably available. LEP individuals may elect to accept interpreter services offered by the Department at no cost or choose to provide their own interpreter services at their own expense.

Department personnel should document in any related report whether the LEP individual elected to use interpreter services provided by the Department or some other source. Department-provided interpreter services may include, but are not limited to, the assistance methods described in this section.

Limited English Proficiency Services

333.3.1 BILINGUAL STAFF

Personnel utilized for LEP services need not be certified as interpreters but must have demonstrated, through established department procedures, a level of competence to ascertain whether his/her language skills are best suited to monolingual communication, interpretation, translation, or all or none of these functions.

All personnel used for communication with LEP individuals must demonstrate knowledge of the functions of an interpreter and the ethical issues involved when acting as a language conduit. In addition, employees who serve as interpreters and/or translators must have demonstrated competence in both English and the non-English language. When bilingual personnel from this department are not available, personnel from other City departments who have the requisite training may be used.

333.3.2 WRITTEN FORMS AND GUIDELINES

This department will determine the most frequently used and critical forms and guidelines, and translate these documents into the languages most likely to be requested. The Department will make these translated forms available to department personnel and other appropriate individuals.

333.3.3 AUDIO RECORDINGS

The Department may develop audio recordings of information that is either important to or frequently requested by LEP individuals for broadcast in a language most likely to be understood by involved LEP individuals.

333.3.4 TELEPHONE INTERPRETER SERVICES

The Patrol Supervisor and the PSAP Manager will maintain a list of qualified interpreter services. These services shall be available, with the approval of a supervisor, to assist personnel in communicating with LEP individuals via official cellular telephones.

333.3.5 COMMUNITY VOLUNTEERS AND OTHER SOURCES OF INTERPRETATION

Where competent bilingual department personnel or other City-certified staff are unavailable to assist, responsible members of the community who have demonstrated competence in either monolingual (direct) communication and/or in interpretation and translation (as noted above) may be called upon to assist in communication efforts. Sources for these individuals may include neighboring law enforcement agencies, university language and linguistics departments, local businesses, banks, churches, neighborhood leaders and school officials. Department personnel should ensure that community members are able to provide unbiased assistance. The nature of the contact and relationship between the LEP individual and the individual offering services must be carefully considered (e.g., victim/suspect).

Except for exigent or very informal and non-confrontational circumstances, the use of an LEP individual's bilingual friends or family members, particularly children, is generally not recommended. Department personnel shall make case-by-case determinations on the appropriateness of using such individuals (for further guidance, see Section VI(A) of the DOJ Final Guidance available at the DOJ website).

333.4 LEP CONTACT SITUATIONS AND REPORTING

While all law enforcement contacts, services and individual rights are important, this department will utilize the four-factor analysis to prioritize language services so that these services may be targeted where they are most needed. A supervisor should be informed of any service requests other than those provided by the Department.

Whenever any member of this department is required to complete a report or when other documentation and interpretation or translation services are provided to any involved LEP individual, such services should be noted in the related report.

333.4.1 RECEIVING AND RESPONDING TO REQUESTS FOR ASSISTANCE

In order to provide LEP individuals with meaningful access to law enforcement services when they are victims of, or witnesses to, alleged criminal activity or other emergencies, this department has designated its 9-1-1 lines as its top priority for language services. Department personnel will make every reasonable effort to promptly accommodate LEP individuals utilizing 9-1-1 lines through any or all of the above resources.

While 9-1-1 calls shall receive top priority, reasonable efforts should also be made to accommodate LEP individuals who are seeking routine access to services and information by utilizing the resources listed in this policy.

333.4.2 EMERGENCY CALLS TO 9-1-1

When a 9-1-1 call-taker receives a call and determines that the caller is an LEP individual, the call-taker should quickly determine whether sufficient information can be obtained to initiate an appropriate emergency response. If language assistance is still needed, the language is known and a language-appropriate authorized interpreter is available in Minot Central Dispatch, the call-taker should immediately connect the LEP caller to the interpreter.

If an appropriate authorized interpreter is not available, the call-taker will promptly connect the LEP caller to the contracted telephonic interpretation service directly for assistance in completing the call. Dispatchers will make every reasonable effort to dispatch a bilingual officer to the assignment if one is available.

The Minot Police Department will take reasonable steps and will work with the Human Resource Department to hire and develop in-house language capacity in Minot Central Dispatch by hiring qualified personnel with specific language skills.

333.4.3 FIELD ENFORCEMENT AND INVESTIGATIONS

Field enforcement will generally include such contacts as traffic stops, pedestrian stops, serving warrants and protective orders, crowd/traffic control and other routine field contacts that may involve LEP individuals. The scope and nature of these activities and contacts will inevitably vary. Department personnel must assess each situation to determine the need and availability for translation services and utilize the methods outlined in this policy to provide appropriate language assistance.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

Although not every situation can be addressed in this policy, it is important that department personnel are able to effectively communicate the reason for a contact, the need for information and the meaning or consequences of any enforcement action taken with an LEP individual. For example, it would be meaningless to request consent to search if the person requesting is unable to effectively communicate with an LEP individual.

333.4.4 INVESTIGATIVE INTERVIEWS

In any situation where the translation of an interview may contain information that might be used in a criminal trial, it is important to take certain steps to improve the chances of admissibility. This includes interviews conducted during an investigation with victims, witnesses and suspects. In such situations, audio recordings of the interviews should be made when reasonably possible. Identification and contact information for the interpreter (e.g., name, address) should be documented so the person can be subpoenaed for trial if necessary.

Any person selected as an interpreter and/or translator must have demonstrated competence in both English and the non-English language involved and knowledge of the functions of an interpreter that allow for correct and effective translation, and should not be a person with an interest in the case. The person providing interpretation or translation services may be required to establish the accuracy and trustworthiness of the interpretation or translation to the court.

333.4.5 CUSTODIAL INTERROGATIONS AND BOOKINGS

In an effort to ensure the rights of LEP individuals are protected during arrest and custodial interrogation, this department places a high priority on providing competent interpretation during such situations. It is further recognized that miscommunication during custodial interrogations may have a substantial impact on the evidence presented in any related criminal prosecution. As such, personnel providing interpretation services or translated forms in these situations will have demonstrated competence in interpretation/translation and make every reasonable effort to accurately interpret/translate all communications with LEP individuals.

To ensure that translations during criminal investigations are documented accurately and are admissible as evidence, audio recordings of interrogations, victim interviews and witness interviews should be used whenever reasonably possible.

Employees providing interpretation or translation services shall also be aware of the inherent communication impediments to gathering information from the LEP individual throughout the booking process or any other situation in which an LEP individual is under the control of department personnel. Medical screening questions are commonly used to elicit information on an individual's medical needs, suicidal inclinations, presence of contagious diseases, potential illness, symptoms of withdrawal from certain medications or the need to segregate the arrestee from other prisoners. Therefore it is important for members of this department to make every reasonable effort to provide effective language services in these situations.

333.4.6 COMPLAINTS

The Department shall ensure access to LEP persons who wish to file a complaint regarding the discharge of department duties. The Department may do so by providing interpretation assistance or translated forms to such individuals. If the Department responds to complaints filed by LEP individuals, the Department shall attempt to communicate its response in an accessible manner.

333.4.7 COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Community outreach programs and other such services offered by this department have become increasingly recognized as important to the ultimate success of more traditional law enforcement duties. This department will continue to work with community groups, local businesses and neighborhoods to provide equal access to programs and services to LEP individuals and groups.

333.5 TRAINING

To ensure that all personnel who have contact with the public or with those in custody are properly trained, this department will provide periodic training on LEP policies and procedures, including how to access department-authorized, telephonic and in-person interpreters and other available resources.

The Administrative Captain shall be responsible for ensuring all new personnel receive LEP training and that all personnel receive refresher training at least once every two years thereafter. The Administrative Captain shall maintain records of all LEP training provided, with a copy in each member’s training file, in accordance with established records retention schedules.

333.6 SUPPLEMENTAL MATERIALS PROVIDED TO DEPARTMENT EMPLOYEES

Materials that will be made available to employees to assist in providing access and service to LEP individuals include:

(a) A list of department bilingual employees, languages spoken and contact and shift information.

(b) A list of department-certified interpretation services, bilingual interpreters, languages spoken and contact and availability information.

(c) The telephone number and access code of telephonic interpretation services.

(d) Language identification cards.

(e) Translated Miranda warning cards and other frequently used documents.

(f) Audio recordings/warnings that are developed in non-English languages.

333.7 MONITORING AND UPDATING LANGUAGE ASSISTANCE EFFORTS

333.7.1 LEP COORDINATOR

The Chief of Police will appoint an LEP coordinator who is responsible for coordinating and implementing all aspects of the Minot Police Department services to LEP individuals.

Limited English Proficiency Services

The LEP coordinator shall assess demographic data, review the utilization data obtained from the contracted language access services, and consult with community-based organizations annually to determine if there are additional languages into which vital documents should be translated.

The LEP coordinator will also be responsible for annually reviewing all new documents issued by the Minot Police Department to assess whether they should be considered vital documents and be translated.

Communications with Persons with Disabilities

334.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides guidance to members when communicating with individuals with disabilities, including those who are deaf or hard of hearing, have impaired speech or vision, or are blind

334.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Auxiliary aids - Tools used to communicate with people who have a disability or impairment. They include, but are not limited to, the use of gestures or visual aids to supplement oral communication; a notepad and pen or pencil to exchange written notes; a computer or typewriter; an assistive listening system or device to amplify sound; a teletypewriter (TTY) or videophones (video relay service or VRS); taped text; qualified readers; or a qualified interpreter.

Disability or impairment - A physical or mental impairment that substantially limits a major life activity, including hearing or seeing, regardless of whether the disabled person uses assistive or adaptive devices or auxiliary aids (42 USC § 12102).

Qualified interpreter - A person who is able to interpret effectively, accurately and impartially, both receptively and expressively, using any necessary specialized vocabulary. Qualified interpreters include oral interpreters, transliterators, sign language interpreters and intermediary interpreters.

334.2 POLICY

It is the policy of this department to reasonably ensure that people with disabilities, including victims, witnesses, suspects and arrestees have equal access to law enforcement services, programs and activities. Members must make efforts to communicate effectively with individuals with disabilities.

The Department will not discriminate against or deny any individual access to services, rights or programs based upon disabilities.

334.3 AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES (ADA) COORDINATOR

The Chief of Police shall delegate certain responsibilities to an ADA Coordinator (28 CFR 35.107). The ADA Coordinator shall be appointed by, and directly responsible, to the Patrol Division Division Commander or the authorized designee.

The responsibilities of the ADA Coordinator shall include, but not be limited to:

(a) Working with the City ADA coordinator regarding the Minot Police Department's efforts to ensure equal access to services, programs and activities.

(b) Developing reports, new procedures, or recommending modifications to this policy.

(c) Acting as a liaison with local disability advocacy groups or other disability groups regarding access to department services, programs and activities.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(d) Ensuring that a list of qualified interpreter services is maintained and available to each Patrol Supervisor and PSAP Manager. The list should include information regarding the following:

1. Contact information
2. Availability

(e) Developing procedures that will enable members to access auxiliary aids or services, including qualified interpreters, and ensure the procedures are available to all members.

(f) Ensuring signage is posted in appropriate areas, indicating that auxiliary aids are available free of charge to people with disabilities.

(g) Ensuring appropriate processes are in place to provide for the prompt and equitable resolution of complaints and inquiries regarding discrimination in access to department services, programs and activities.

334.4 FACTORS TO CONSIDER

Because the nature of any law enforcement contact may vary substantially from one situation to the next, members of this department should consider all information reasonably available to them when determining how to communicate with an individual with a disability. Members should carefully balance all known factors in an effort to reasonably ensure people who are disabled have equal access to services, programs and activities. These factors may include, but are not limited to:

(a) Members should not always assume that effective communication is being achieved. The fact that an individual appears to be nodding in agreement does not always mean he/she completely understands the message. When there is any doubt, members should ask the individual to communicate back or otherwise demonstrate their understanding.

(b) The nature of the disability (e.g., deafness or blindness vs. hard of hearing or low vision).

(c) The nature of the law enforcement contact (e.g., emergency vs. non-emergency, custodial vs. consensual).

(d) The availability of auxiliary aids. The fact that a particular aid is not available does not eliminate the obligation to reasonably ensure access. However, in an emergency, availability may factor into the type of aid used.

334.5 INITIAL AND IMMEDIATE CONSIDERATIONS

Recognizing that various law enforcement encounters may be potentially volatile and/or emotionally charged, members should remain alert to the possibility of communication problems.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

Members should exercise special care in the use of all gestures, and verbal and written communication to minimize initial confusion and misunderstanding when dealing with any individual with known or suspected disabilities.

In a non-emergency situation, when a member knows or suspects an individual requires assistance to effectively communicate, the member shall identify the individual's choice of auxiliary aid or service.

The individual's preferred communication method must be honored unless another effective method of communication exists under the circumstances (28 CFR 35.160).

Factors to consider when determining whether an alternative method is effective include:

(a) The methods of communication usually used by the individual.

(b) The nature, length and complexity of the communication involved.

(c) The context of the communication.

In emergency situations involving an imminent threat to the safety or welfare of any person, members may use whatever auxiliary aids and services that reasonably appear effective under the circumstances. This may include, for example, exchanging written notes or using the services of a person who knows sign language but is not a qualified interpreter, even if the person who is deaf or hard of hearing would prefer a qualified sign language interpreter or another appropriate auxiliary aid or service. Once the emergency has ended, the continued method of communication should be reconsidered. The member should inquire as to the individual's preference and give primary consideration to that preference.

If an individual who is deaf, hard of hearing or has impaired speech must be handcuffed while in the custody of the Minot Police Department, consideration should be given, safety permitting, to placing the handcuffs in the front of the body to facilitate communication using sign language or writing.

334.6 TYPES OF ASSISTANCE AVAILABLE

Minot Police Department members shall never refuse to assist an individual with disabilities who is requesting assistance. The Department will not charge anyone to receive auxiliary aids, nor shall they require anyone to furnish their own auxiliary aid or service as a condition for receiving assistance. The Department will make every reasonable effort to provide equal access and timely assistance to individuals who are disabled through a variety of services.

A person who is disabled may choose to accept department-provided auxiliary aids or services or they may choose to provide their own.

Department-provided auxiliary aids or services may include, but are not limited to, the assistance methods described in this policy.

334.7 AUDIO RECORDINGS AND ENLARGED PRINT

The Department may develop audio recordings to assist people who are blind or have a visual impairment with accessing important information. If such a recording is not available, members may read aloud from the appropriate form, for example a personnel complaint form, or provide forms with enlarged print.

334.8 QUALIFIED INTERPRETERS

A qualified interpreter may be needed in lengthy or complex transactions (e.g., interviewing a victim, witness, suspect or arrestee), if the individual to be interviewed normally relies on sign language or speechreading (lip-reading) to understand what others are saying. The qualified interpreter should not be a person with an interest in the case or the investigation. A person providing interpretation services may be required to establish the accuracy and trustworthiness of the interpretation in a court proceeding.

Qualified interpreters should be:

(a) Available within a reasonable amount of time but in no event longer than one hour if requested.

(b) Experienced in providing interpretation services related to law enforcement matters.

(c) Familiar with the use of VRS and/or video remote interpreting services.

(d) Certified in either American Sign Language (ASL) or Signed English (SE).

(e) Able to understand and adhere to the interpreter role without deviating into other roles, such as counselor or legal adviser.

(f) Knowledgeable of the ethical issues involved when providing interpreter services.

Members should use department-approved procedures to request a qualified interpreter at the earliest reasonable opportunity, and generally not more than 15 minutes after a request for an interpreter has been made or it is reasonably apparent that an interpreter is needed. No individual who is disabled shall be required to provide his/her own interpreter (28 CFR 35.160).

334.9 TTY AND RELAY SERVICES

In situations where an individual without a disability would have access to a telephone (e.g., booking or attorney contacts), members must also provide those who are deaf, hard of hearing or have impaired speech the opportunity to place calls using an available TTY (also known as a telecommunications device for deaf people, or TDD). Members shall provide additional time, as needed, for effective communication due to the slower nature of TTY and TDD communications.

The Department will accept all TTY or TDD calls placed by those who are deaf or hard of hearing and received via a telecommunications relay service (28 CFR 35.162).

Note that relay services translate verbatim, so the conversation must be conducted as if speaking directly to the caller.

334.10 COMMUNITY VOLUNTEERS

Interpreter services may be available from community volunteers who have demonstrated competence in communication services, such as ASL or SE, and have been approved by the Department to provide interpreter services.

Where qualified interpreters are unavailable to assist, approved community volunteers who have demonstrated competence may be called upon when appropriate. However, department members must carefully consider the nature of the contact and the relationship between the individual with the disability and the volunteer to ensure that the volunteer can provide neutral and unbiased assistance.

334.11 FAMILY AND FRIENDS

While family or friends may offer to assist with interpretation, members should carefully consider the circumstances before relying on such individuals. The nature of the contact and relationship between the individual with the disability and the person offering services must be carefully considered (e.g., victim/suspect).

Children shall not be relied upon except in emergency or critical situations when there is no qualified interpreter reasonably available.

Adults may be relied upon when (28 CFR 35.160):

(a) There is an emergency or critical situation and there is no qualified interpreter reasonably available.

(b) The person with the disability requests that the adult interpret or facilitate communication and the adult agrees to provide such assistance, and reliance on that adult for such assistance is reasonable under the circumstances.

334.12 REPORTING

Whenever any member of this department is required to complete a report or other documentation, and communication assistance has been provided, such services should be noted in the related report. Members should document the type of communication services utilized and whether the individual elected to use services provided by the Department or some other identified source. If the individual's express preference is not honored, the member must document why another method of communication was used.

All written communications exchanged in a criminal case shall be attached to the report or placed into evidence.

334.13 FIELD ENFORCEMENT

Field enforcement will generally include such contacts as traffic stops, pedestrian stops, serving warrants and restraining orders, crowd/traffic control and other routine field contacts which may involve disabled or impaired individuals. The scope and nature of these activities and contacts will inevitably vary.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

The Department recognizes that it would be virtually impossible to provide immediate access to complete communication services to every officer in the field. Each member and/or supervisor must assess each such situation and consider the length, complexity and importance of the communication in determining the type of resources to use and determining whether a qualified interpreter should be sought to ensure effective communication.

Although every situation cannot be addressed in this policy, it is important that members are able to effectively communicate the reason for a contact, the need for information and the meaning or consequences of any enforcement action. For example, it would be meaningless to verbally request consent to search if the involved member is unable to effectively communicate with an individual who is deaf or hard of hearing and requires communications assistance.

If available, officers should obtain the assistance of a qualified interpreter before placing an individual with a disability under arrest. Individuals who are arrested and are assisted by service animals should be permitted to make arrangements for the care of such animals prior to transport.

334.13.1 FIELD RESOURCES

Examples of methods that may be sufficient for transactions, such as checking a license or giving directions to a location or for urgent situations such as responding to a violent crime in progress, may, depending on the circumstances, include such simple things as:

(a) Hand gestures or visual aids with an individual who is deaf, hard of hearing or has impaired speech.

(b) Exchange of written notes or communications.

(c) Verbal communication with an individual who can speechread by facing the individual and speaking slowly and clearly.

(d) Use of computer, word processing, Personal Communications Device or similar device to exchange texts or notes.

(e) Slowly and clearly speaking or reading simple terms to individuals who have a visual or mental impairment.

Members should be aware that these techniques may not provide effective communication as required by law and this policy depending on the circumstances.

334.14 CUSTODIAL INTERROGATIONS

In an effort to ensure that the rights of individuals who are deaf, hard of hearing or have speech impairment are protected during a custodial interrogation, this department will provide interpreter services before beginning an interrogation, unless exigent circumstances exist or the individual has made a clear indication that he/she understands the process and desires to proceed without an interpreter. The use of a video remote interpreting service should be considered, where appropriate, if a live interpreter is not available. Miranda warnings shall be provided to suspects who are deaf or hard of hearing by a qualified interpreter or by providing a written Miranda warning card.

Communications with Persons with Disabilities

In order to ensure that communications during custodial investigations are accurately documented and are admissible as evidence, interrogations should be recorded whenever reasonably possible. See guidance on recording custodial interrogations in the Investigation and Prosecution Policy.

334.15 ARRESTS AND BOOKINGS

If an individual with speech or hearing disabilities is arrested, the arresting officer shall use department-approved procedures to provide a qualified interpreter at the place of arrest or booking as soon as reasonably practicable, unless the individual indicates that he/she prefers a different auxiliary aid or service or the officer reasonably determines another effective method of communication exists under the circumstances.

When gathering information during the booking process, members should remain alert to the impediments that often exist when communicating with those who are deaf, hard of hearing, who have impaired speech or vision, are blind, or have other disabilities. In the interest of the arrestee's health and welfare, the safety and security of the facility and to protect individual rights, it is important that accurate medical screening and booking information be obtained. If necessary, members should seek the assistance of a qualified interpreter whenever there is concern that accurate information cannot be obtained or that booking instructions may not be properly understood by the individual.

Individuals who require and possess personally owned communication aids (e.g., hearing aids, cochlear processors) should be permitted to retain them while in custody.

334.16 COMPLAINTS

The Department shall ensure that individuals with disabilities who wish to file a complaint regarding members of this department are able to do so. The Department may provide a qualified interpreter or forms in enlarged print, as appropriate. Complaints will be referred to the department ADA Coordinator.

Investigations into such complaints shall be handled in accordance with the Personnel Complaints Policy. Qualified interpreters used during the investigation of a complaint should not be members of this Department.

334.17 COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Community outreach programs and other such services offered by this department are important to the ultimate success of more traditional law enforcement duties. This department will continue to work with community groups, local businesses and neighborhoods to provide equal access to such programs and services.

334.17.1 TRAINING

To ensure that all members who may have contact with individuals who are disabled are properly trained, the Department will provide periodic training that should include:

(a) Awareness and understanding of this policy and related procedures, related forms and available resources.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(b) Procedures for accessing qualified interpreters and other available resources.

(c) Working with in-person and telephone interpreters and related equipment.

The Administrative Captain shall be responsible for ensuring new members receive training related to interacting with individuals who have disabilities including individuals who are deaf, hard of hearing, who have impaired speech or vision, or are blind. Those who may have contact with such individuals should receive refresher training at least once every two years thereafter. The Administrative Captain shall maintain records of all training provided, and will retain a copy in each member's training file in accordance with established records retention schedules.

334.17.2 CALL-TAKER TRAINING

Emergency call-takers shall be trained in the use of TTY equipment protocols for communicating with individuals who are deaf, hard of hearing or who have speech impairments. Such training and information should include:

(a) The requirements of the ADA and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act for telephone emergency service providers.

(b) ASL syntax and accepted abbreviations.

(c) Practical instruction on identifying and processing TTY or TDD calls, including the importance of recognizing silent TTY or TDD calls, using proper syntax, abbreviations and protocol when responding to TTY or TDD calls.

(d) Hands-on experience in TTY and TDD communications, including identification of TTY or TDD tones.

Training should be mandatory for all Minot Central Dispatch members who may have contact with individuals from the public who are deaf, hard of hearing or have impaired speech. Refresher training should occur every six months.

334.18 INTERPRETER REQUIRED

Specific circumstances require interpreter services:

(a) An interpreter must be appointed immediately after a deaf person is arrested for any alleged violation that may result in imprisonment or a fine in excess of $100 (N.D.C.C. § 28-33-02(2)). No attempt shall be made to interrogate or take a statement from a deaf person who has been arrested until a qualified interpreter is appointed. Any interrogation or statement of the deaf person shall be made through the interpreter (N.D.C.C. § 28-33-02(2)).

(b) A deaf person involved in any proceeding or receiving any services from this department shall be informed of his/her right to a qualified interpreter. The interpreter will (N.D.C.C. § 28-33-02(3)):

1. Interpret or translate the action of any department personnel providing any services.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

2. Assist the deaf person in communicating.

(c) If the property of a person is seized incident to a lawful arrest or search, the seizing officer shall, upon request, make available to the person at the earliest possible time a qualified interpreter who will assist the person in understanding his/her rights and the possible consequences of the seizure (N.D.C.C. § 28-33-02(3)).

An officer may require a person requesting an interpreter to furnish reasonable proof of the person's disability when the officer has reason to believe that the person is not disabled. Failure of any person to request an interpreter shall not be deemed a waiver of the right to an interpreter (N.D.C.C. § 28-33-03).

Biological Samples

335.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides guidelines for the collection of biological samples from those individuals required to provide samples upon conviction and or arrest for certain offenses. This policy does not apply to biological samples collected at a crime scene or taken from a person in conjunction with a criminal investigation. Nor does it apply to biological samples collected from those required to register, for example, as sex offenders.

335.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department will assist in the expeditious collection of required biological samples from arrestees and offenders in accordance with the laws of this state through voluntary consent or with a court order and with as little reliance on force as practicable (N.D.A.C. § 10-17-01-03(3)).

335.3 PERSONS SUBJECT TO BIOLOGICAL SAMPLE COLLECTION

Those who must submit a biological sample include (N.D.C.C. § 31-13-03; N.D.A.C. § 10-17-01-03):

(a) A qualifying offender who has not previously had a sample collected for inclusion in the law enforcement DNA database.

(b) A qualifying offender 18 years of age or older who has been arrested and booked for the commission of a felony offense.

335.4 PROCEDURE

When an individual is required to provide a biological sample, an officer shall attempt to obtain the sample in accordance with this policy and approved sampling techniques (N.D.C.C. § 31-13-04; N.D.A.C. § 10-17-01-04).

335.4.1 COLLECTION

The following steps should be taken to collect a sample:

(a) Confirm the individual's identity, before the samples are collected, by one or more of the following: a driver's license, fingerprints, department database, or any other reasonable means within the Department's discretion (N.D.A.C. § 10-17-01-04(3)).

1. The crime lab will only accept samples when index fingerprints have been taken.

(b) Verify that the individual is required to provide a sample pursuant to law (N.D.C.C. § 31-13-03; N.D.A.C. § 10-17-01-03).

(c) Verify that a biological sample has not been previously collected from the offender by querying the state database. There is no need to obtain a biological sample if one has been previously obtained.

(d) Use and complete the designated buccal swab collection kit to perform the collection and take steps to avoid cross contamination (N.D.A.C. § 10-17-01-04(1)).

(e) Submit the completed collection kit in accordance with crime lab rules (N.D.C.C. § 31-13-04).

335.5 USE OF FORCE TO OBTAIN SAMPLES

If a person refuses to cooperate with the sample collection process, officers should attempt to identify the reason for refusal and seek voluntary compliance without resorting to using force. Force will not be used in the collection of samples except as authorized by court order and only with the approval of a supervisor. The supervisor shall review and approve any plan to use force and be present to document the process (N.D.A.C. § 10-17-01-03(2)).

Methods to consider when seeking voluntary compliance include contacting:

(a) The person’s parole or probation officer when applicable.

(b) The prosecuting attorney to seek additional charges against the person for failure to comply or to otherwise bring the refusal before a judge.

(c) The judge at the person’s next court appearance.

(d) The person’s attorney.

(e) A chaplain.

(f) Another custody facility with additional resources, where an arrestee can be transferred to better facilitate sample collection.

(g) A supervisor who may be able to authorize custodial disciplinary actions to compel compliance, if any are available.

335.5.1 VIDEO RECORDING

A video recording should be made any time force is used to obtain a biological sample. The recording should document all staff participating in the process, in addition to the methods and all force used during the collection. The recording should be part of the investigation file, if any, or otherwise retained in accordance with established records retention schedules.

All chaplains will be assigned to duties by the chaplain coordinator or the authorized designee.

Chaplains may not proselytize or attempt to recruit members of the Department or the public into a religious affiliation while representing themselves as chaplains with this department. If there is any question as to the receiving person's intent, chaplains should verify that the person is desirous of spiritual counseling or guidance before engaging in such discussion.

Service Animals

337.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

Service animals play an important role in helping to overcome the limitations often faced by people with disabilities. The Minot Police Department recognizes this need and is committed to making reasonable modifications to its policies, practices and procedures in accordance with Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and North Dakota law to permit the use of service animals that are individually trained to assist a person with a disability.

337.2 SERVICE ANIMALS

The ADA defines a service animal as any dog or miniature horse that is individually trained to do work or perform tasks for the benefit of an individual with a disability, including a physical, sensory, psychiatric, intellectual or other mental disability. The work or tasks performed by a service animal must be directly related to the owner's disability (28 CFR 35.104).

337.2.1 STATE LAW

A “service dog” means any dog trained to do work, perform tasks, or provide assistance for the benefit of an individual with a disability. The term includes an animal trained to provide assistance to an individual with a disability, pull a wheelchair, lend balance support, retrieve dropped objects, or provide assistance in a medical crisis (N.D.C.C. § 25-13-01.1).

337.2.2 USE OF SERVICE ANIMALS

Some service animals may be readily identifiable. However, many do not have a distinctive symbol, harness or collar. Service animals are not pets and may be trained by an individual or organization to assist people with disabilities.

Service animals may be used in a number of ways to provide assistance, including:

- Guiding people who are blind or have low vision.
- Alerting people who are deaf or hard of hearing.
- Retrieving or picking up items, opening doors or flipping switches for people who have limited use of their hands, arms or legs.
- Pulling wheelchairs.
- Providing physical support and assisting with stability and balance.
- Doing work or performing tasks for persons with traumatic brain injury, intellectual disabilities or psychiatric disabilities, such as reminding a person with depression to take medication.
- Alerting a person with anxiety to the onset of panic attacks, providing tactile stimulation to calm a person with post-traumatic stress disorder, assisting people with schizophrenia to distinguish between hallucinations and reality, and helping people with traumatic brain injury to locate misplaced items or follow daily routines.

337.3 MEMBER RESPONSIBILITIES

Service animals that are assisting individuals with disabilities are permitted in all public facilities and areas where the public is allowed. Department members are expected to treat individuals with service animals with the same courtesy and respect that the Minot Police Department affords to all members of the public (N.D.C.C. § 25-13-02; N.D.C.C. § 25-13-02.1).

If an animal exhibits vicious behavior, poses a direct threat to the health of others or unreasonably disrupts or interferes with normal business operations, the employee may direct the owner to remove the animal from the premises. Barking alone is not a threat nor does a direct threat exist if the partner/handler takes prompt, effective action to control the animal. Each incident must be considered individually. Past incidents alone are not cause for excluding a service animal. Removal of a service animal may not be used as a reason to refuse service to an individual with disabilities. Members of this department are expected to provide all services as are reasonably available to the individual with a disability.

If it is apparent or if the department member is aware the animal is a service animal, the owner should not be asked any questions as to the status of the animal. If it is unclear whether an animal meets the definition of a service animal, the member should ask the individual only the following questions:

- Is the animal required because of a disability?
- What task or service has the animal been trained to perform?

If the individual explains that the animal is required because of a disability and has been trained to work or perform at least one task, the animal meets the definition of a service animal, and no further question as to the animal's status should be asked. The person should not be asked questions about his/her disabilities nor should the person be asked to provide any license, certification or identification card for the service animal.

Service animals are not pets. Department members should not interfere with the important work performed by a service animal by talking to, petting or otherwise initiating contact with a service animal.

When handling calls of a complaint regarding a service animal, members of this department should remain neutral and should be prepared to explain the ADA requirements concerning service animals to the concerned parties. Businesses are required to permit service animals to accompany their partner/handler in all areas that other customers or members of the public are allowed.

Absent a violation of law independent of ADA, officers should take no enforcement action beyond keeping the peace. Individuals who believe they have been discriminated against as a result of their disability should be referred to the Civil Rights Division of the U.S. Department of Justice.

Volunteers

338.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

It is the policy of this department to use qualified volunteers for specified tasks and duties in order to create efficiencies for the Department and improve services to the community. Volunteers are intended to supplement and support, rather than supplant, licensed officers and civilian personnel. Volunteers can be an important part of any organization and have proven to be a valuable asset to law enforcement agencies. Volunteers help to increase department responsiveness, delivery of services and information input, and provide new program opportunities. In addition, volunteers bring new skills and expertise to the Department and prompt new enthusiasm.

338.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Volunteer - An individual who performs a service for the Department without promise, expectation or receipt of compensation for services rendered. This may include unpaid chaplains, unpaid officers, interns, persons providing administrative support and youth involved in a law enforcement Explorer Post, among others.

(g) No condition of mental illness or chemical dependency that may adversely affect the person's ability to serve in the position.

(h) Physical requirements reasonably appropriate to the assignment.

The Chief of Police may apply exceptions for eligibility based on organizational needs and the qualification of the individual.

338.2 VOLUNTEER MANAGEMENT

338.2.1 SCREENING

All prospective volunteers should complete the volunteer application form. A face-to-face interview with the applicant will be conducted by the approved designee.

A documented background investigation shall be completed on each volunteer applicant and shall include, but not necessarily be limited to, the following:

(a) Traffic and criminal background check

(b) Employment

(c) References

Additional testing may be required of each applicant depending on the type of assignment.

A volunteer whose assignment requires the use of, access to or places him/her in the vicinity of criminal histories, investigative files or information portals shall require submission of prints and clearance through the North Dakota Bureau of Criminal Investigation (BCI) and the FBI.

338.2.2 SELECTION AND PLACEMENT

Service as a volunteer shall begin with an official notice of acceptance or appointment to a volunteer position. Notice may only be given by an authorized representative of the Department. No volunteer should begin performance of any position until he/she has been officially accepted for that position and completed all necessary screening and documentation.

At the time of final acceptance, each volunteer should complete all necessary enrollment documentation and will receive a copy of the job description and agreement of service with the Department.

Volunteers should be placed only in assignments or programs that are consistent with their knowledge, skills, abilities and with the needs of the Department.

338.2.3 EMPLOYEES WORKING AS RESERVE

Licensed employees of this department, when authorized, may also serve as reserve officers. However, the Department must not utilize the services of a reserve or volunteer in such a way that it would violate employment laws or labor agreements (example: a detention officer working as a reserve officer for reduced or no pay). Therefore, the authorized representative should consult the Human Resource Department prior to an employee serving in a reserve, auxiliary or volunteer capacity (29 CFR 553.30).

338.2.4 TRAINING

Volunteers will be provided with an orientation program to acquaint them with the Department, personnel, policies and procedures that have a direct impact on their work assignment.

Volunteers should receive position-specific training to ensure they have adequate knowledge and skills to complete tasks required by the position and should receive periodic ongoing training as deemed appropriate by their supervisor.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

Training should reinforce to volunteers that they should not intentionally represent themselves as, or by omission infer, that they are licensed officers or other full-time members of the Department. They shall always represent themselves as volunteers.

All volunteers shall comply with the rules of conduct and with all orders and directives, either oral or written, issued by the Department. Whenever a rule, regulation or guideline in this manual refers to a licensed officer, it shall also apply to a volunteer, unless by its nature it is inapplicable.

338.2.5 FITNESS FOR DUTY

No volunteer shall report to work or be on-duty when his/her judgment or physical condition has been impaired by alcohol, medication or other substances, illness or injury.

Volunteers shall report to their supervisor any changes in status that may affect their ability to fulfill their duties. This includes, but is not limited to, the following:

(a) Driver's license

(b) Medical condition

(d) Criminal investigations

(e) All law enforcement contacts

All volunteers shall adhere to the guidelines set forth by this department regarding drug and alcohol use.

338.3 SUPERVISION OF VOLUNTEERS

Each volunteer who is accepted to a position with the Department must have a clearly identified supervisor who is responsible for direct management of that volunteer. This supervisor will be responsible for day-to-day management and guidance of the work of the volunteer and should be available to the volunteer for consultation and assistance.

A volunteer may be assigned as, and act as, a supervisor of other volunteers, provided the supervising volunteer is under the direct supervision of a paid staff member.

(b)

338.4 CONFIDENTIALITY

With appropriate security clearance, volunteers may have access to private and confidential information, such as criminal histories or investigative files. Unless otherwise directed by a supervisor, the duties of the position or department policy, all information shall be considered confidential. Only that information specifically identified and approved by authorized personnel shall be released. Confidential information shall be given only to persons who have a need and a right to know as determined by department policy and supervisory personnel.

Each volunteer will receive training in data practices and be required to sign a nondisclosure agreement before being given an assignment with the Department. Subsequent unauthorized disclosure of any private or confidential information, verbally, in writing or by any other means, by the volunteer is grounds for immediate dismissal and possible criminal prosecution.

Volunteers shall not address public gatherings, appear on radio or television, prepare any article for publication, act as correspondents to a newspaper or other periodical, release or divulge any information concerning the activities of the Department, or maintain that they represent the Department in such matters without permission from the proper department personnel.

338.5 PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT

Volunteers will be issued a visitors pass that must be worn and visible at all times while on-duty. Any fixed and portable equipment issued by the Department shall be for official and authorized use only. Any property or equipment issued to a volunteer shall remain the property of the Department and shall be returned at the termination of service.

Volunteers assigned to duties or assignments that require the use of a vehicle must first complete:

(a) A driving safety briefing.

(b) Verification that the volunteer possesses a valid driver's license.

(c) Verification that the volunteer carries current vehicle insurance.

The authorized representative should ensure that all volunteers receive safety briefing updates and license and insurance verification at least once a year.

When operating a vehicle provided by the department, volunteers shall obey all rules of the road, including seat belt requirements.

Volunteers should not operate a marked patrol car unless there is a prominently placed sign indicating that it is out of service and is being operated for maintenance purposes only; that it is being operated during an approved skills course; that it is being used to transport equipment; that it is being used to provide supplementary assistance under the direction of an on-duty licensed officer. Volunteers are not authorized to operate a vehicle provided by the department for enforcement patrol operations or under emergency conditions (lights and siren).

338.5.2 RADIO AND MDT USAGE

Volunteers shall successfully complete state and federal database access training and radio procedures training prior to using the law enforcement radio or MDT and shall comply with all related provisions. The authorized representative should ensure that radio and database access training is provided for volunteers whenever necessary.

Off-Duty Law Enforcement Actions

340.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The decision to become involved in a law enforcement action when off-duty can place an officer as well as others, at great risk and requires careful consideration. This policy is intended to provide guidelines for officers of the Minot Police Department with respect to taking law enforcement action while off-duty.

340.2 POLICY

Officers generally should not initiate law enforcement action while off-duty. Officers should not attempt to initiate enforcement action when witnessing minor crimes, such as suspected intoxicated drivers, reckless driving or minor property crimes. Such incidents should be promptly reported to the appropriate law enforcement agency. Part-time officers of this department are prohibited by state law from exercising peace officer duties when off-duty (N.D.C.C. § 12-63-02.1(4)).

When the safety of the public or the prevention of major property damage requires immediate action, officers should first consider reporting and monitoring the activity and only take direct action as a last resort.

Officers are not expected to place themselves in unreasonable peril. However, any licensed member of this department who becomes aware of an incident or circumstance that he/she reasonably believes poses an imminent threat of serious bodily injury or death or significant property damage may take reasonable action to minimize the threat.

340.3 FIREARMS

Officers of this department may carry firearms while off-duty in accordance with federal regulations, state law and department policy. All firearms and ammunition must meet guidelines as described in the Firearms Policy. When carrying firearms while off-duty, officers shall also carry their department-issued badge and identification.

Officers should refrain from carrying firearms when the consumption of alcohol is likely or when the need to carry a firearm is outweighed by safety considerations. Firearms shall not be carried by any member, either on- or off-duty, who has consumed an amount of an alcoholic beverage taken any drugs or medications or a combination thereof that would tend to adversely affect the member's senses or judgment.

340.4 DECISION TO INTERVENE

There is no legal requirement for off-duty officers to take law enforcement action. However, should officers decide to intervene, they must evaluate whether the action is necessary or desirable and should take into consideration:

(a) The tactical disadvantage of being alone and that there may be multiple or hidden suspects.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(b) The inability to communicate with responding units.

(c) The lack of equipment, such as handcuffs, oleoresin capsicum (OC) spray or a baton.

(d) The lack of cover.

(e) The potential for increased risk to bystanders if the off-duty officer were to intervene.

(f) Unfamiliarity with the surroundings.

(g) The potential for the off-duty officer to be misidentified by other peace officers or members of the public.

Officers should consider waiting for on-duty uniformed officers to arrive and gather as much accurate intelligence as possible, instead of immediately intervening.

340.4.1 INTERVENTION PROCEDURE

If involvement is reasonably necessary, the officer should attempt to call or have someone else call 9-1-1 to request immediate assistance. The operator should be informed that an off-duty officer is on-scene and should be provided a description of the off-duty officer if possible.

Whenever practicable, the off-duty officer should loudly and repeatedly identify him/herself as an officer with the Minot Police Department until acknowledged. Official identification should also be displayed.

340.4.2 INCIDENTS OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Officers should refrain from handling incidents of personal interest, (e.g., family or neighbor disputes) and should remain neutral. In such circumstances, officers should call the responsible agency to handle the matter.

340.4.3 CIVILIAN RESPONSIBILITIES

Civilian personnel should not become involved in any law enforcement actions while off-duty except to notify the local law enforcement authority and remain at the scene, if safe and practicable.

340.4.4 OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

When encountering a non-uniformed officer in public, uniformed officers should wait for acknowledgement by the non-uniformed officer in case he/she needs to maintain an undercover capability.

340.5 REPORTING

Any officer, prior to taking any off-duty enforcement action, shall notify and receive approval of a supervisor at the Minot Police Department (or other applicable law enforcement authority) if acting outside the jurisdiction of the Minot Police Department. If prior contact is not reasonably possible, the officer shall notify the applicable local law enforcement agency as soon as reasonably practicable. The Patrol Supervisor shall determine whether a report should be filed by the officer.

Officers should cooperate fully with the agency having jurisdiction in providing statements or reports as requested or as appropriate.

Bias-Based Policing

401.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides guidance to department members that affirms the Minot Police Department's commitment to policing that is fair and objective.

Nothing in this policy prohibits the use of specified characteristics in law enforcement activities designed to strengthen the department's relationship with its diverse communities (e.g., cultural and ethnicity awareness training, youth programs, community group outreach partnerships).

401.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Bias-based policing - An inappropriate reliance on actual or perceived characteristics such as race, ethnicity, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, economic status, age, cultural group, disability, or affiliation with any non-criminal group (protected characteristics) as the basis for providing differing law enforcement service or enforcement.

401.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department is committed to providing law enforcement services to the community with due regard for the racial, cultural or other differences of those served. It is the policy of this department to provide law enforcement services and to enforce the law equally, fairly, objectively and without discrimination toward any individual or group.

401.3 BIAS-BASED POLICING PROHIBITED

Bias-based policing is strictly prohibited.

However, nothing in this policy is intended to prohibit an officer from considering protected characteristics in combination with credible, timely and distinct information connecting a person or people of a specific characteristic to a specific unlawful incident, or to specific unlawful incidents, specific criminal patterns or specific schemes.

401.4 MEMBER RESPONSIBILITIES

Every member of this department shall perform his/her duties in a fair and objective manner and is responsible for promptly reporting any suspected or known instances of bias-based policing to a supervisor. Members should, when reasonable to do so, intervene to prevent any biased-based actions by another member.

401.4.1 REASON FOR CONTACT

Officers contacting a person shall be prepared to articulate sufficient reason for the contact, independent of the protected characteristics of the individual.

To the extent that written documentation would otherwise be completed (e.g., arrest report, Field Interview (FI) card), the involved officer should include those facts giving rise to the contact, as applicable.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

Except for required data-collection forms or methods, nothing in this policy shall require any officer to document a contact that would not otherwise require reporting.

401.5 SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

Supervisors should monitor those individuals under their command for compliance with this policy and shall handle any alleged or observed violations in accordance with the Personnel Complaints Policy.

(a) Supervisors should discuss any issues with the involved officer and his/her supervisor in a timely manner.

1. Supervisors should document these discussions, in the prescribed manner.

(b) Supervisors should periodically review Mobile Audio Video (MAV) recordings, portable audio/video recordings, Mobile Data Terminal (MDT) data and any other available resource used to document contact between officers and the public to ensure compliance with this policy.

1. Supervisors should document these periodic reviews.
2. Recordings or data that capture a potential instance of bias-based policing should be appropriately retained for administrative investigation purposes.

(c) Supervisors shall initiate investigations of any actual or alleged violations of this policy.

(d) Supervisors should take prompt and reasonable steps to address any retaliatory action taken against any member of this department who discloses information concerning bias-based policing.

401.6 TRAINING

Crime and Disaster Scene Integrity

402.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to provide guidance in handling a major crime or disaster.

402.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department to secure crime or disaster scenes so that evidence is preserved, and to identify and mitigate the dangers associated with a major crime or disaster scene for the safety of the community and those required to enter or work near the scene.

402.3 SCENE RESPONSIBILITY

The first officer at the scene of a crime or major incident is generally responsible for the immediate safety of the public and preservation of the scene. Officers shall also consider officer safety and the safety of those persons entering or exiting the area, including those rendering medical aid to any injured parties. Once an officer has assumed or been assigned to maintain the integrity and security of the crime or disaster scene, the officer shall maintain the crime or disaster scene until he/she is properly relieved by a supervisor or other designated person.

402.4 FIRST RESPONDER CONSIDERATIONS

The following list generally describes the first responder's function at a crime or disaster scene. This list is not intended to be all-inclusive, is not necessarily in order and may be altered according to the demands of each situation:

(a) Broadcast emergency information, including requests for additional assistance and resources.

(b) Provide for the general safety of those within the immediate area by mitigating, reducing or eliminating threats or dangers.

(c) Locate or identify suspects and determine whether dangerous suspects are still within the area.

(d) Provide first aid to injured parties if it can be done safely.

(e) Evacuate the location safely as required or appropriate.

(f) Secure the inner perimeter.

(g) Protect items of apparent evidentiary value.

(h) Secure an outer perimeter.

(i) Identify potential witnesses.

(j) Start a chronological log noting critical times and personnel allowed access.

402.5 SEARCHES

Officers arriving at crime or disaster scenes are often faced with the immediate need to search for and render aid to victims, and to determine if suspects are present and continue to pose a threat. Once officers are satisfied that no additional suspects are present and/or there are no injured persons to be treated, those exigent circumstances will likely no longer exist. Officers should thereafter secure the scene and conduct no further search until additional or alternate authority for the search is obtained, such as consent or a search warrant.

402.5.1 CONSENT

When possible, officers should seek written consent to search from authorized individuals. However, in the case of serious crimes or major investigations, it may be prudent to also obtain a search warrant. Consent as an additional authorization may be sought, even in cases where a search warrant has been granted.

SWAT TEAM

403.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The SWAT team has been established to provide specialized support in handling critical field operations where intense negotiations and/or special tactical deployment methods beyond the capacity of field officers appear to be necessary. The SWAT team is made up of 5 separate elements that work together to form the SWAT team, those elements are; Tactical, Crisis Negotiations, Marksman, Tactical Emergency Medics, and Support. Personnel for the team are drawn from the Minot Police Department, Ward County Sheriff's Office, Minot Fire Department, and Trinity Health or other apporved medical facility..

403.1.1 OPERATIONAL AND ADMINISTRATIVE POLICY

The Policy Manual sections pertaining to SWAT is divided into Administrative and Operational Policy and Procedures. Since situations that necessitate the need for such a law enforcement response vary greatly from incident to incident, and because such events often demand on-scene evaluation, the Operational Policy outlined in this section serves as a guideline to department personnel, allowing for appropriate on-scene decision-making as required. The Administrative Procedures, however, are more restrictive and few exceptions should be taken.

403.1.2 CRISIS NEGOTIATION TEAM DEFINED

Crisis Negotiations Team (CNT) - A designated unit of personnel, which may be a multi jurisdictional team, that is specifically trained and equipped to provide skilled communicators whose goal is to de-escalate and affect surrender in critical situations where suspects have taken hostages, barricaded themselves, or have suicidal tendencies.

403.1.3 TACTICAL TEAM DEFINED

Tactical Team (TAC)- A designated unit of law enforcement officers, which may be a multi jurisdictional team, that is specifically trained and equipped to work as a coordinated team to resolve critical incidents that are so hazardous, complex, or unusual that they may exceed the capabilities of first responders or investigative units. This includes, but is not limited to, hostage taking, barricaded suspects, snipers, terrorist acts, and other high risk incidents. As a matter of department policy, such a unit may also be used to serve high risk warrants, both search warrants and arrest warrants, where public and officer safety issues warrant the use of such a unit.

403.1.4 SWAT COMMANDER DEFINED

SWAT Team Commander - Selection of the SWAT Commander shall be made by the Special Operations Group Commander and appointed by the Chief of Police. Their role is to coordinate and manage the five (5) teams that make up the SWAT team. They will have overall responsibility for team operations. The commander shall be responsible for scheduling team training, selection and appointment of personnel to the five (5) teams, as well as to serve as the incident commander when the SWAT team is activated. All requests for the activation of the team or any parts of the team shall be made to the SWAT Commander for review.

403.1.5 MARKSMAN TEAM DEFINED
Marksman Team (SNIPER) - A designated unit of law enforcement officers highly trained and equipped with long rifles to provide precision lethal cover at varying distances for the tactical elements of the team. They will also provided real time intel to the SWAT Commander through the use of rifle scopes, spotting scopes, and binoculars.

403.1.6 TACTICAL EMERGENCY MEDICS DEFINED
Tactical Medics (TEMS) - A unit of sworn or non-sworn personnel trained to provide emergency medical care in hostile conditions to innocent civilians, officers, and subjects. The intent of the unit is to provide immediate stabilizing care and evacuation of injured persons as some incidents take place far from advanced medical care facilities. Members of this unit are drawn from the Minot Fire Department, local ambulance services, and local medical facilities. This unit may contain a physician from a local medical facility if there is qualified interest in the position.

403.1.7 SUPPORT TEAM DEFINED
Support Team - A unit of sworn officers attached to the SWAT team and working directly under the SWAT Commander, tasked with a variety of duties in support of the team's operation. Those duties include driving team vehicles, scribe for the team commander, liaison with local authorities when out of jurisdiction, drone pilots, and other duties as assigned.

403.2 POLICY
It is the policy of this department to maintain a SWAT team and to provide the equipment, manpower and training necessary to maintain a SWAT team. The SWAT team should develop sufficient resources to perform three basic operational functions:

(a) Command and control

(b) Containment

(c) Entry/apprehension/rescue

It is understood that it is difficult to categorize specific capabilities for critical incidents. Training needs may vary based on the experience level of the team personnel, team administrators and incident commanders. Nothing in this policy shall prohibit individual teams from responding to a situation that exceeds their training levels due to the exigency of the circumstances. The preservation of human life is paramount.

403.2.1 POLICY CONSIDERATIONS
Annually, the SWAT Commander shall ensure the team's capabilities meet those established by the North Dakota Special Operations Committee. A report of the team's capabilities shall be forwarded to that committee by the commander.

403.2.2 ORGANIZATIONAL PROCEDURES
This department may develop a separate written set of organizational procedures that may address, at minimum, some of the following:

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(a) Locally identified specific missions the team is capable of performing

(b) Team organization and function

(c) Personnel selection and retention criteria

(d) Training and required competencies

(e) Procedures for activation and deployment

(f) Command and control issues, including a clearly defined command structure

(g) Multi-agency response

(h) Extra jurisdictional response

(i) Specialized functions and supporting resources

403.2.3 OPERATIONAL PROCEDURES

This department may develop a separate written set of operational procedures, in accordance with its level of capability, using sound risk reduction practices. The operational procedures should be patterned after the National Tactical Officers Association's suggested SWAT best practices. Because such procedures are specific to SWAT members and will outline tactical and officer safety issues, they are classified as confidential security data and are not included within this policy. The operational procedures may include some of the following elements:

(a) Personnel responsible for developing an operational or tactical plan should be designated prior to, and/or during SWAT operations (time permitting).

1. All SWAT team members should have an understanding of operational planning.
2. SWAT team training should consider planning for both spontaneous and planned events.
3. SWAT teams should incorporate medical emergency contingency planning as part of the SWAT operational plan.

(b) Plans for mission briefings should be conducted prior to an operation, unless circumstances require immediate deployment.

1. When reasonably possible, briefings should include the specialized units and supporting resources.

(c) Protocols for a sustained operation should be developed. These may include relief, rotation of personnel and augmentation of resources.

(d) A threat assessment is to be worked through prior to initiating a tactical action. This will determine the appropriate response and resources necessary, including the use of SWAT.

(e) The appropriate role for a trained negotiator should be defined.

(f) The threat assessment shall determine whether a warrant should be regarded as high risk should be developed.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(g) A method for deciding how best to serve a high-risk warrant should be developed, with all reasonably foreseeable alternatives being reviewed in accordance with risk/benefit criteria prior to selecting the method of response.

(h) The elements of post-incident scene management should include:

1. Documentation of the incident.
2. Transition to investigations and/or other units.
3. Debriefing after every deployment of the SWAT team.
    (a) After-action team debriefing provides evaluation and analysis of critical incidents and affords the opportunity for individual and team assessments. It also helps to identify training needs and reinforces sound risk management practices.
    (b) To maintain candor and a meaningful exchange, debriefing will generally not be recorded.
    (c) When appropriate, debriefing should include specialized units and resources.

(i) Sound risk management analysis should be included.

(j) Standardization of equipment should be addressed.

403.3 TRAINING NEEDS ASSESSMENT

The SWAT commander shall conduct an annual SWAT training needs assessment to ensure that training is conducted within team capabilities and department policy.

403.3.1 INITIAL TRAINING

Those officers selected as members of the SWAT will attend the next available department-approved basic SWAT course. Untrained officers may be used in a support or training capacity. Additional training will be coordinated by the team supervisor.

(a) To avoid unnecessary or redundant training, previous training completed by members may be considered equivalent when the hours and content or topics meet or exceed requirements determined by the Department.

403.3.2 UPDATED TRAINING

Appropriate team training for the specialized SWAT functions and other supporting resources should be completed prior to full deployment of the team.

SWAT team operators and SWAT supervisors/team leaders should complete update or refresher training to maintain operational readiness.

403.3.3 SUPERVISION AND MANAGEMENT TRAINING

Command and executive personnel are encouraged to attend training for managing the SWAT function at the organizational level. This is to ensure that personnel who provide active oversight at the scene of SWAT operations understand the purpose and capabilities of the team.

Command personnel who may assume incident command responsibilities should attend a SWAT or critical incident commander course or its equivalent. SWAT command personnel should attend a SWAT commander or tactical commander course or its equivalent that has been approved by the Department.

403.3.4 TRAINING SAFETY
Use of a designated safety officer should be considered for all tactical training.

403.3.5 SCENARIO-BASED TRAINING
SWAT teams should participate in scenario-based training that simulates the tactical operational environment. Such training is an established method of improving performance during an actual deployment.

403.3.6 TRAINING DOCUMENTATION
Individual and team training shall be documented and records forwarded to the Administrative Commander or their designee. Such documentation shall be maintained in each member's individual training file. The SWAT Commander may also maintain a training file.

403.4 UNIFORMS, EQUIPMENT AND FIREARMS

403.4.1 UNIFORMS
SWAT teams from this department should wear uniforms that clearly identify team members as law enforcement officers. It is recognized that certain tactical conditions may require covert movement. Attire may be selected appropriate to the specific mission.

403.4.2 EQUIPMENT
SWAT teams from this department should be adequately equipped to meet the specific mission identified by the Department.

403.4.3 FIREARMS
Weapons and equipment used by SWAT, the specialized units and the supporting resources should be department-issued or approved, including any modifications, additions or attachments.

403.4.4 OPERATIONAL READINESS INSPECTION
The SWAT commander or his designee shall perform an operational readiness inspection of all unit equipment at least annually. The inspection will include personal equipment issued to members of the unit as well as special use equipment maintained for periodic or occasional use in the SWAT vehicle.

403.5 CRISIS NEGOTIATION TEAM ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES
The CNT has been established to provide skilled verbal communicators, who may be utilized to attempt to de-escalate and effect surrender in critical situations where suspects have taken hostages, barricaded themselves or have suicidal tendencies.

The following procedures serve as directives for the administrative operation of the CNT.

Hazardous Material Response

405.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

Hazardous materials present a potential harm to employees and others as a result of their exposure. To comply with applicable law, the following represents the policy of this department.

405.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Hazardous material - A substance that, by its nature, containment or reactivity, has the capability of inflicting harm during exposure. It is characterized as being toxic, corrosive, flammable, reactive, an irritant or strong sensitizer and thereby poses a threat to health when improperly managed.

405.2 HAZARDOUS MATERIAL RESPONSE

Employees may encounter situations involving suspected hazardous materials, such as at the scene of a traffic accident, chemical spill or fire. When employees come into contact with a suspected hazardous material, they should take certain steps to protect themselves and other persons.

The fire department is the agency trained and equipped to properly respond and mitigate most hazardous materials and biohazards.

Responders should not perform tasks or use equipment without proper training.

A responder entering the area may require decontamination before he/she is allowed to depart the scene and should be evaluated by appropriate technicians and medical professionals for signs of exposure.

The following steps should be considered at any scene involving suspected hazardous materials:

(a) Attempt to identify the type of hazardous substance. (Identification can be determined by placard, driver's manifest or statements from the person transporting).

(b) Notify the fire department.

(c) Provide first aid to injured parties if it can be done safely and without contamination.

(d) Begin evacuation of the immediate and surrounding areas, depending on the substance. Voluntary evacuation should be considered; however, depending on the substance, mandatory evacuation may be necessary.

(e) Notify the First District Health Unit.

(f) Call the Division of State Radio to request assistance from the North Dakota Department of Emergency Services (NDDES).

405.3 REPORTING EXPOSURE

Department personnel who believe they have been exposed to a hazardous material shall immediately report the exposure to a supervisor. Each exposure shall be documented by the employee in an incident report that shall be forwarded via chain of command to the Division

Commander as soon as practicable. Should the affected employee be unable to document the exposure for any reason, it shall be the responsibility of the notified supervisor to complete the memorandum.

Injury or illness caused or believed to be caused from exposure to hazardous materials shall be reported the same as any other on-duty injury or illness, in addition to a crime report or incident report.

405.3.1 SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

When a supervisor has been informed that an employee has been exposed to a hazardous material, he/she shall ensure that immediate medical treatment is obtained and appropriate action is taken to treat the exposure.

To ensure the safety of department members, safety equipment is available through supervisory personnel. Safety items not maintained by the Department will be obtained through the fire department.

Hostage and Barricade Incidents

406.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to provide guidelines for situations where officers have legal cause to contact, detain or arrest a person, and the person refuses to submit to the lawful requests of the officers by remaining in a structure or vehicle and/or by taking a hostage.

The scope of this policy is not intended to address all variables that officers encounter during their initial response or when a hostage or barricade situation has developed. This policy does not require or purport to recommend specific strategies or tactics for resolution as each incident is a dynamic and rapidly evolving event.

406.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Barricade situation - An incident where a person maintains a position of cover or concealment and ignores or resists law enforcement personnel, and it is reasonable to believe the subject is armed with a dangerous or deadly weapon.

Hostage situation - An incident where it is reasonable to believe a person is unlawfully held by a hostage-taker as security so that specified terms or conditions will be met.

406.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department to address hostage and barricade situations with due regard for the preservation of life and balancing the risk of injury, while obtaining the safe release of hostages, apprehending offenders and securing available evidence.

406.3 COMMUNICATION

When circumstances permit, initial responding officers should try to establish and maintain lines of communication with a barricaded person or hostage-taker. Officers should attempt to identify any additional subjects, inquire about victims and injuries, seek the release of hostages, gather intelligence information, identify time-sensitive demands or conditions and obtain the suspect's surrender.

When available, department-authorized negotiators should respond to the scene as soon as practicable and assume communication responsibilities. Negotiators are permitted to exercise flexibility in each situation based upon their training, the circumstances presented, suspect actions or demands and the available resources.

406.3.1 EMERGENCY COMMUNICATIONS

An officer with supervisory control over an incident in which there is probable cause to believe that an individual could suffer injury or death as a result of the incident may order a telecommunications company to cut, reroute or divert telecommunications transmissions for the purpose of controlling communications (N.D.C.C. § 8-10-11).

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

406.4 FIRST RESPONDER CONSIDERATIONS

First responding officers should promptly and carefully evaluate all available information to determine whether an incident involves, or may later develop into, a hostage or barricade situation.

The first responding officer should immediately request a supervisor's response as soon as it is determined that a hostage or barricade situation exists. The first responding officer shall assume the duties of the supervisor until relieved by a supervisor or a more qualified responder. The officer shall continually evaluate the situation, including the level of risk to officers, to the persons involved and to bystanders, and the resources currently available.

The handling officer should brief the arriving supervisor of the incident, including information about suspects and victims, the extent of any injuries, additional resources or equipment that may be needed, and current perimeters and evacuation areas.

406.4.1 BARRICADE SITUATION

Unless circumstances require otherwise, officers handling a barricade situation should attempt to avoid a forceful confrontation in favor of stabilizing the incident by establishing and maintaining lines of communication while awaiting the arrival of specialized personnel and trained negotiators. During the interim the following options, while not all-inclusive or in any particular order, should be considered:

(a) Ensure injured persons are evacuated from the immediate threat area if it is reasonably safe to do so. Request medical assistance.

(b) Assign personnel to a contact team to control the subject should he/she attempt to exit the building, structure or vehicle, and attack, use deadly force, attempt to escape or surrender prior to additional resources arriving.

(c) Request additional personnel, resources and equipment as needed (e.g., canine team, air support).

(d) Provide responding emergency personnel with a safe arrival route to the location.

(e) Evacuate non-injured persons in the immediate threat area if it is reasonably safe to do so.

(f) Attempt or obtain a line of communication and gather as much information on the subject as possible, including weapons, other involved parties, additional hazards or injuries.

(g) Establish an inner and outer perimeter as circumstances require and resources permit to prevent unauthorized access.

(h) Evacuate bystanders, residents and businesses within the inner and then outer perimeter as appropriate. Check for injuries, the presence of other involved subjects, witnesses, evidence or additional information.

(i) Determine the need for and notify the appropriate persons within and outside the Department, such as command officers and the Public Information Officer.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(j) If necessary and available, establish a tactical or exclusive radio frequency for the incident.

(k) Establish a command post.

406.4.2 HOSTAGE SITUATION

Officers presented with a hostage situation should attempt to avoid a forceful confrontation in favor of controlling the incident in anticipation of the arrival of specialized personnel and trained hostage negotiators. However, it is understood that hostage situations are dynamic and can require that officers react quickly to developing or changing threats. The following options while not all-inclusive or in any particular order, should be considered:

(a) Ensure injured persons are evacuated from the immediate threat area if it is reasonably safe to do so. Request medical assistance.

(b) Assign personnel to a contact team to control the subject should he/she attempt to exit the building, structure or vehicle, and attack, use deadly force, attempt to escape or surrender prior to additional resources arriving.

(c) Establish a rapid response team in the event it becomes necessary to rapidly enter a building, structure or vehicle, such as when the suspect is using deadly force against any hostages (see the Rapid Response and Deployment Policy).

(d) Assist hostages or potential hostages to escape if it is reasonably safe to do so. Hostages should be kept separated, if practicable, pending further interview.

(e) Request additional personnel, resources and equipment as needed (e.g., canine team, air support).

(f) Provide responding emergency personnel with a safe arrival route to the location.

(g) Evacuate non-injured persons in the immediate threat area if it is reasonably safe to do so.

(h) Coordinate pursuit or surveillance vehicles and control of travel routes.

(i) Attempt or obtain a line of communication and gather as much information about the suspect as possible, including any weapons, victims and their injuries, additional hazards, other involved parties and any other relevant intelligence information.

(j) Establish an inner and outer perimeter as resources and circumstances permit to prevent unauthorized access.

(k) Evacuate bystanders, residents and businesses within the inner and then outer perimeter as appropriate. Check for injuries, the presence of other involved subjects, witnesses, evidence or additional information.

(l) Determine the need for and notify the appropriate persons within and outside the Department, such as command officers and the Public Information Officer.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(m) If necessary and available, establish a tactical or exclusive radio frequency for the incident.

406.5 SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

Upon being notified that a hostage or barricade situation exists, the supervisor should immediately respond to the scene, assess the risk level of the situation, establish a proper chain of command and assume the role of Incident Commander until properly relieved. This includes requesting a SWAT and/or SWAT response if appropriate and apprising the SWAT and/or SWAT Commander of the circumstances. In addition, the following options, listed here in no particular order, should be considered:

(a) Ensure injured persons are evacuated and treated by medical personnel.

(b) Ensure the completion of necessary first responder responsibilities or assignments.

(c) Request crisis negotiators, specialized units, additional personnel, resources or equipment as appropriate.

(d) Establish a command post location as resources and circumstances permit.

(e) Designate assistants who can help with intelligence information and documentation of the incident.

(f) If it is practicable to do so, arrange for video documentation of the operation.

(g) Consider contacting utility and communication providers when restricting such services (e.g., restricting electric power, gas, telephone service).

(h) Ensure adequate law enforcement coverage for the remainder of the City during the incident. The supervisor should direct non-essential personnel away from the scene unless they have been summoned by the supervisor or Minot Central Dispatch.

(i) Identify a media staging area outside the outer perimeter and have the department Public Information Officer or designated temporary media representative provide media access in accordance with the News Media Relations Policy.

(j) Identify the need for mutual aid and the transition or relief of personnel for incidents of extended duration.

(k) Debrief personnel and review documentation as appropriate.

Response to Bomb Calls

407.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to provide guidelines to assist members of the Minot Police Department in their initial response to incidents involving explosives, explosive devices, explosion/bombing incidents or threats of such incidents. Under no circumstances should these guidelines be interpreted as compromising the safety of first responders or the public. When confronted with an incident involving explosives, safety should always be the primary consideration.

407.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department to place a higher priority on the safety of persons and the public over damage or destruction to public or private property.

407.3 RECEIPT OF BOMB THREAT

Department members receiving a bomb threat should obtain as much information from the individual as reasonably possible, including the type, placement and alleged detonation time of the device.

If the bomb threat is received on a recorded line, reasonable steps should be taken to ensure that the recording is preserved in accordance with established department evidence procedures.

The member receiving the bomb threat should ensure that the Patrol Supervisor is immediately advised and informed of the details. This will enable the Patrol Supervisor to ensure that the appropriate personnel are dispatched and, as appropriate, the threatened location is given an advance warning.

407.4 GOVERNMENT FACILITY OR PROPERTY

A bomb threat targeting a government facility may require a different response based on the government agency.

407.4.1 MINOT POLICE DEPARTMENT FACILITY

If the bomb threat is against the Minot Police Department facility, the Patrol Supervisor will direct and assign officers as required for coordinating a general building search or evacuation of the police department, as he/she deems appropriate.

407.4.2 OTHER COUNTY OR MUNICIPAL FACILITY OR PROPERTY

If the bomb threat is against a county or municipal facility within the jurisdiction of the Minot Police Department that is not the property of this department, the appropriate agency will be promptly informed of the threat. Assistance to the other entity may be provided as the Patrol Supervisor deems appropriate.

407.4.3 FEDERAL BUILDING OR PROPERTY

If the bomb threat is against a federal building or property, the Federal Protective Service should be immediately notified. The Federal Protective Service provides a uniformed law enforcement response for most facilities, which may include use of its Explosive Detector Dog teams.

If the bomb threat is against a federal government property where the Federal Protective Service is unable to provide a timely response, the appropriate facility's security or command staff should be notified.

Bomb threats against a military installation should be reported to the military police or other military security responsible for the installation.

407.5 PRIVATE FACILITY OR PROPERTY

When a member of this department receives notification of a bomb threat at a location in the City of Minot, the member receiving the notification should obtain as much information as reasonably possible from the notifying individual, including:

(a) The location of the facility.

(b) The nature of the threat.

(c) Whether the type and detonation time of the device is known.

(d) Whether the facility is occupied and, if so, the number of occupants currently on-scene.

(e) Whether the individual is requesting police assistance at the facility.

(f) Whether there are any internal facility procedures regarding bomb threats in place, such as:

1. No evacuation of personnel and no search for a device.
2. Search for a device without evacuation of personnel.
3. Evacuation of personnel without a search for a device.
4. Evacuation of personnel and a search for a device.

The member receiving the bomb threat information should ensure that the Patrol Supervisor is immediately notified so that he/she can communicate with the person in charge of the threatened facility.

407.5.1 ASSISTANCE

The Patrol Supervisor should be notified when police assistance is requested. The Patrol Supervisor will make the decision whether the Department will render assistance and at what level. Information and circumstances that indicate a reasonably apparent, imminent threat to the safety of either the facility or the public may require a more active approach, including police control over the facility.

Should the Patrol Supervisor determine that the Department will assist or control such an incident, he/she will determine:

(a) The appropriate level of assistance.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(b) The plan for assistance.

(c) Whether to evacuate and/or search the facility.

(d) Whether to involve facility staff in the search or evacuation of the building.

1. The person in charge of the facility should be made aware of the possibility of damage to the facility as a result of a search.
2. The safety of all participants is the paramount concern.

(e) The need for additional resources, includingnotification and response, or standby notice, for fire and emergency medical services.

Personal should maintain awareness of the possibility of secondary threats during an evacuation.

407.6 FOUND DEVICE

When handling an incident involving a suspected explosive device, the following guidelines, while not all inclusive, should be followed:

(a) No known or suspected explosive item should be considered safe regardless of its size or apparent packaging.

(b) The device should not be touched or moved except by the bomb squad or military explosive ordnance disposal team.

(c) Personnel should not transmit on any equipment that is capable of producing radio frequency energy within the evacuation area around the suspected device. This includes the following:

1. Two-way radios
2. Cell phones
3. Other personal communication devices

(d) The appropriate bomb squad or military explosive ordnance disposal team should be summoned for assistance.

(e) The largest perimeter reasonably possible should initially be established around the device based upon available personnel and the anticipated danger zone.

(f) A safe access route should be provided for support personnel and equipment.

(g) Search the area for secondary devices as appropriate and based upon available resources.

(h) Consider evacuation of buildings and personnel near the device or inside the danger zone and the safest exit route.

(i) Promptly relay available information to the Patrol Supervisor including:

1. The time of discovery.
2. The exact location of the device.
3. A full description of the device (e.g., size, shape, markings, construction).
4. The anticipated danger zone and perimeter.

5. The areas to be evacuated or cleared.

407.7 EXPLOSION/BOMBING INCIDENTS

When an explosion has occurred, there are multitudes of considerations which may confront the responding officers. As in other catastrophic events, a rapid response may help to minimize injury to victims, minimize contamination of the scene by gathering crowds, or minimize any additional damage from fires or unstable structures.

407.7.1 CONSIDERATIONS

Officers responding to explosions, whether accidental or a criminal act, should consider the following actions:

(a) Assess the scope of the incident, including the number of victims and extent of injuries.

(b) Request additional personnel and resources, as appropriate.

(c) Assist with first aid.

(d) Identify and take appropriate precautions to mitigate scene hazards, such as collapsed structures, bloodborne pathogens and hazardous materials.

(e) Assist with the safe evacuation of victims, if possible.

(f) Establish an inner perimeter to include entry points and evacuation routes. Search for additional or secondary devices.

(g) Preserve evidence.

(h) Establish an outer perimeter and evacuate if necessary.

(i) Identify witnesses.

407.7.2 NOTIFICATIONS

When an explosion has occurred, the following people should be notified as appropriate:

- Fire department
- Bomb squad
- Additional department personnel, such as investigators and forensic services
- Field supervisor
- Patrol Supervisor
- Other law enforcement agencies, including local, state or federal agencies, such as the FBI and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives (ATF)
- Other government agencies, as appropriate

407.7.3 CROWD CONTROL

Only authorized members with a legitimate need should be permitted access to the scene. Spectators and other unauthorized individuals should be restricted to a safe distance as is reasonably practicable given the available resources and personnel.

407.7.4 PRESERVATION OF EVIDENCE

As in any other crime scene, steps should immediately be taken to preserve the scene. The Patrol Supervisor should assign officers to protect the crime scene area, which could extend over a long distance. Consideration should be given to the fact that evidence may be imbedded in nearby structures or hanging in trees and bushes.

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department to protect the public and individuals through legal and appropriate use of mental illness commitments.

408.3 AUTHORITY

When an officer has reasonable cause to believe that an individual requires treatment and there exists a serious and immediate risk of harm to that individual, other persons, or property, and preliminary intervention by a magistrate is not possible, the officer may take the individual into custody and transport him/her to a public treatment facility to be screened for admission (N.D.C.C. § 25-03.1-04; N.D.C.C. § 25-03.1-25).

Should emergency conditions exist that prevent the immediate transportation of the individual to a public treatment facility, a private facility that has adequate resources and capacity may hold the individual for up to 23 hours prior to transfer to a public treatment facility (N.D.C.C. § 25-03.1-25).

If an officer reasonably believes that the individual is not complying with an order for alternative treatment, that the alternative treatment is not sufficient to prevent serious risk of harm, and that considerations of time and safety do not allow intervention by a court, the officer may cause the individual to be taken into custody and detained at a treatment facility as provided by law (N.D.C.C. § 25-03.1-21).

Upon being taken into custody, an officer shall immediately advise the individual of the purpose of custody, of the intended uses and possible effects of any evaluation that the individual undergoes, and of the individual's rights to counsel as well as a preliminary or treatment hearing (N.D.C.C. § 25-03.1-25).

408.3.1 VOLUNTARY EVALUATION

If an officer encounters an individual who may qualify for a mental illness commitment, he/she may inquire as to whether the person desires to be voluntarily evaluated at an appropriate facility. If the person so desires, the officer should:

(a) Transport the person to an appropriate facility that is able to conduct the evaluation and admit the person for detention for the purpose of a mental health evaluation.

(b) Document the circumstances surrounding the individual's desire to pursue voluntary evaluation and/or admission.

If at any point the person changes his/her mind regarding voluntary evaluation, the officer should proceed with the involuntary detention for the purpose of a mental health evaluation, if appropriate.

408.4 CONSIDERATIONS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Any officer handling a call involving a person who may qualify for detention for the purpose of a mental health evaluation should consider, as time and circumstances reasonably permit:

(a) Available information that might assist in determining the possible cause and nature of the person's action or stated intentions.

(b) Community or neighborhood mediation services.

(c) Conflict resolution and de-escalation techniques.

(d) Community or other resources that may be readily available to assist with mental health issues.

While these steps are encouraged, nothing in this section is intended to dissuade officers from taking reasonable action to ensure the safety of officers and others.

Detention for the purpose of a mental health evaluation should be preferred over arrest for people who have mental health issues and are suspected of committing minor crimes or creating other public safety issues.

408.5 TRANSPORTATION

When transporting any individual for a mental illness commitment, the transporting officer should have Minot Central Dispatch notify the receiving facility of the estimated time of arrival, the level of cooperation of the individual and whether any special medical care is needed.

Officers may transport individuals in the patrol unit and shall secure them in accordance with the Handcuffing and Restraints Policy.

408.6 TRANSFER TO APPROPRIATE FACILITY

Upon arrival at the facility, the officer will escort the individual into a treatment area designated by a facility staff member. If the individual is not seeking treatment voluntarily, the officer should provide the staff member with the written application for detention for the purpose of a mental health evaluation and remain present to provide clarification of the grounds for detention, upon request.

If the individual is transported and delivered while restrained, the officer may assist with transferring the individual to facility restraints and will be available to assist during the admission process.

408.7 DOCUMENTATION

Upon arrival to the appropriate facility, the officer shall complete and provide an application for evaluation and a detailed written report. The written report must state the circumstances under which the individual was taken into custody and must describe the actions that led the officer to believe the individual requires treatment, and that, because of that person's condition, there exists a serious risk of harm to the individual, another person, or property if the person is not immediately detained (N.D.C.C. § 25-03.1-25).

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

The officer should also provide a verbal summary to a receiving facility staff member regarding the circumstances leading to the involuntary detention.

408.8 CRIMINAL OFFENSES

Officers investigating an individual who is suspected of committing a minor criminal offense and who is being taken into custody for a mental health evaluation should resolve the criminal matter by issuing a warning, citation, or pursuing an arrest warrant.

When an individual who may qualify for detention for the purpose of a mental health evaluation has committed a serious criminal offense that would normally result in an arrest and transfer to a jail facility, the officer should:

(a) Notify the appropriate supervisor of the facts of the situation.

(b) Thoroughly document in the related reports the circumstances that indicate the individual may qualify for detention.

In the supervisor's judgment, the individual may instead be transported to the appropriate mental health facility. The supervisor should consider the seriousness of the offense, the treatment options available, the ability of the Department to regain custody of the individual, department resources (posting a guard) and other relevant factors in making this decision.

408.9 FIREARMS AND OTHER WEAPONS

Whenever a person is taken into custody for a mental illness commitment, the handling officer should try to determine if the person owns or has access to any firearm or other deadly weapon. Officers should consider whether it is appropriate and consistent with current search and seizure law under the circumstances to seize any such firearms or other dangerous weapons (e.g., safekeeping, evidence, consent).

Officers are cautioned that a search warrant may be needed before entering a residence or other place to search, unless lawful, warrantless entry has already been made (e.g., exigent circumstances, consent). A warrant may also be needed before searching for or seizing weapons.

The handling officer should further advise the person of the procedure for the return of any firearm or other weapon that has been taken into custody.

408.10 TRAINING

This department will endeavor to provide department-approved training on interaction with mentally disabled persons, mental illness commitments and crisis intervention.

Citation Releases

409.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to provide members of the Minot Police Department with guidance on when to release adults who are suspected offenders on a citation, rather than having the person held in custody for a court appearance or released on bail.

Additional release restrictions may apply to those detained for domestic violence, as outlined in the Domestic Violence Policy.

409.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department will consider its resources and its mission of protecting the community when exercising any discretion to release suspected offenders on a citation, when authorized to do so.

409.3 RELEASE

Unless prohibited by law or this policy, a suspected offender:

(a) Shall be released on issuance of a citation for non-criminal traffic violations of state law or an equivalent municipal ordinance unless the person is charged with one of the following, in which case the person may be released on issuance of a citation (N.D.C.C. § 39-07-07):

1. Reckless driving
2. Driving in excess of speed limitations
3. Driving while license or driving privilege is suspended or revoked
4. Driving without liability insurance
5. Failing to display a placard or flag while transporting explosive or hazardous materials
6. Operating an unsafe vehicle

(b) Shall be released with a citation and applicable fine for a trespass violation as required by N.D.C.C. § 12.1-22-03.

1. The officer shall take the name and address of the suspected offender, notify him/her of the right to request a hearing if posting bond by mail and provide the offender with an envelope to mail in the bond.
2. The officer is not permitted to accept the fine or bond.

(c) May be released on issuance of a citation for any other offense that occurs in the presence of the issuing officer (N.D.R.Crim.P .5(e)).

409.4 PROHIBITIONS

The release of a suspected offender on a citation is not permitted when (N.D.C.C. § 39-07-09):

(a) The officer has reason to believe the person is guilty of a felony.

(b) The person is charged with any of the following offenses:

1. Driving under the influence (DUI)
2. Homicide involving a motor vehicle
3. Leaving the scene of an accident
4. Operating a snowmobile in violation of N.D.C.C. § 39-24-09(5)(b) or N.D.C.C. § 39-24-09(5)(c)
5. Causing an accident with an authorized emergency vehicle or a vehicle operated for maintenance of the state highway system

(c) The person refuses to give a written promise to appear before the magistrate having jurisdiction where the offense was committed (N.D.C.C. § 39-07-08).

(d) The officer at the scene of a traffic accident has a reasonable belief, based on personal investigation, that a nonresident driver involved in a traffic accident will disregard a written promise to appear in court (N.D.C.C. § 29-06-15.1).

(e) The officer reasonably believes the person has violated a court order to participate in the 24/7 Sobriety Program (N.D.C.C. § 29-06-15(3)).

See the Domestic Violence Policy for release restrictions related to those investigations.

409.5 CONSIDERATIONS

In determining whether to cite and release a person when discretion is permitted, officers should consider:

(a) The type of offense committed.

(b) The known criminal history of the suspected offender.

(c) The ability to identify the suspected offender with reasonable certainty.

(d) Whether there is any record of the individual failing to appear in previous cases or other articulable indications that the individual may not appear in court for this offense.

(e) The individual’s ties to the area, such as residence, employment or family.

(f) Whether there is reasonable likelihood that criminal conduct by the individual will continue.

409.6 APPEARANCE BEFORE MAGISTRATE REQUIRED

An officer shall immediately take any person not released by citation before the nearest or most accessible magistrate (N.D.C.C. § 39-07-08; N.D.R.Crim.P .5(e)).

Diplomatic and Consular Contacts

410.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to ensure members of the Minot Police Department extend appropriate privileges and immunities to foreign diplomatic and consular representatives in accordance with international law.

410.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department respects international laws related to the special privileges and immunities afforded foreign diplomatic and consular representatives assigned to the United States.

All foreign diplomatic and consular representatives shall be treated with respect and courtesy, regardless of any privileges or immunities afforded them.

Members who have stopped a person who claims diplomatic or consular privileges and immunities should immediately:

(a) Notify a supervisor.

(b) Advise the person that his/her claim will be investigated and he/she will be released in accordance with the law upon confirmation of the person's status.

(c) Request the person's identification card, issued by the DOS Office of the Chief of Protocol, or in the case of persons accredited to the United Nations, issued by the U.S. Mission to the United Nations. These are the only reliable documents for purposes of determining privileges and immunities.

(d) Identity or immunity status should not be presumed from the type of license plates displayed on a vehicle.

(e) The status of a DOS Office of Foreign Missions (OFM) license plate should be run via the National Law Enforcement Telecommunications System (NLETS), designating “US” as the state, if the officer has reason to question the legitimate possession of the license plate.

(g) Verify the immunity status with DOS and follow any instructions regarding further detention, arrest, prosecution and/or release, as indicated by the DOS representative. This may require immediate release, even if a crime has been committed.

(b) All persons, even those with a valid privilege or immunity, may be reasonably restrained in exigent circumstances for purposes of self-defense, public safety or the prevention of serious criminal acts.

(c) An impaired foreign diplomatic or consular representative may be prevented from driving a vehicle, even if the person may not be arrested due to privileges and immunities.

1. Investigations, including the request for field sobriety tests, chemical tests and any other tests regarding impaired driving may proceed, but they shall not be compelled.

Rapid Response and Deployment

411.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

Violence that is committed in schools, workplaces and other locations by individuals or a group of individuals who are determined to target and kill persons and to create mass casualties presents a difficult situation for law enforcement. The purpose of this policy is to identify guidelines and factors that will assist officers in situations that call for rapid response and deployment.

411.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department will endeavor to plan for rapid response to crisis situations, and to coordinate response planning with other emergency services as well as with those that are responsible for operating sites that may be the target of a critical incident.

Nothing in this policy shall preclude the use of reasonable force, deadly or otherwise, by members of the Department in protecting themselves or others from death or serious injury.

411.3 FIRST RESPONSE

If there is a reasonable belief that acts or threats by a suspect are placing lives in imminent danger, first responding officers should consider reasonable options to reduce, prevent or eliminate the threat. Officers must decide, often under a multitude of difficult and rapidly evolving circumstances, whether to advance on the suspect, take other actions to deal with the threat or wait for additional resources.

If a suspect is actively engaged in the infliction of serious bodily harm or other life-threatening activity toward others, officers should take immediate action, if reasonably practicable, while requesting additional assistance.

Officers should remain aware of the possibility that an incident may be part of a coordinated multi-location attack that may require some capacity to respond to other incidents at other locations.

When deciding on a course of action officers should consider:

(a) Whether they have clothing or identification that makes them easily recognizable as police officers.

(b) Whether to advance on or engage a suspect who is still a possible or perceived threat to others. Any advance or engagement should be based on information known or received at the time.

(c) Whether to wait for additional resources or personnel. This does not preclude an individual officer from taking immediate action.

(d) Whether individuals who are under imminent threat can be moved or evacuated with reasonable safety.

(e) Whether the suspect can be contained or denied access to victims.

(f) Whether the officers have the ability to effectively communicate with other personnel or resources.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(g) Whether planned tactics can be effectively deployed.

(h) The availability of rifles, shotguns, shields, breaching tools, control devices and any other appropriate tools, and whether the deployment of these tools will provide a tactical advantage.

In a case of a barricaded suspect with no hostages and no immediate threat to others, officers should consider summoning and waiting for additional assistance (SWAT and/or crisis negotiation team response).

411.4 CONSIDERATIONS

When dealing with a crisis situation members should:

(a) Assess the immediate situation and take reasonable steps to maintain operative control of the incident.

(b) Obtain, explore and analyze sources of intelligence and known information regarding the circumstances, location and suspect involved in the incident.

(c) Attempt to attain a tactical advantage over the suspect by reducing, preventing or eliminating any known or perceived threat.

(d) Attempt, if feasible and based upon the suspect's actions and danger to others, a negotiated surrender of the suspect and release of the hostages.

411.5 PLANNING

Critical incident planning efforts should consider:

(a) Identification of likely critical incident target sites, such as schools, shopping centers, entertainment and sporting event venues.

(b) Availability of building plans and venue schematics of likely critical incident target sites.

(c) Communications interoperability with other law enforcement and emergency service agencies.

(d) Training opportunities in critical incident target sites, including joint training with site occupants.

(e) Evacuation routes in critical incident target sites.

(f) Patrol first-response training.

(g) Response coordination and resources of emergency medical and fire services.

(h) Equipment needs.

(i) Mutual aid agreements with other agencies.

(j) Coordination with private security providers in critical incident target sites.

411.6 TRAINING

Trainingshould include rapid response to critical incidents in the training plan. This training should address:

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(a) Orientation to likely critical incident target sites, such as schools, shopping centers, entertainment and sporting event venues.

(b) Communications interoperability with other law enforcement and emergency service agencies.

(c) Patrol first-response training, including patrol rifle, shotgun, breaching tool and control device training.

(d) First aid, including gunshot trauma.

(e) Reality-based scenario training (e.g., active shooter, disgruntled violent worker).

Immigration Violations

412.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to provide guidelines to employees of the Minot Police Department relating to immigration and interacting with federal immigration officials.

412.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department that all members make personal and professional commitments to equal enforcement of the law and equal service to the public. Confidence in this commitment will increase the effectiveness of this department in protecting and serving the entire community and recognizing the dignity of all persons, regardless of their national origin or immigration status.

412.3 VICTIMS AND WITNESSES

To encourage crime reporting and cooperation in the investigation of criminal activity, all individuals, regardless of their immigration status, must feel secure that contacting or being addressed by members of law enforcement will not automatically lead to immigration inquiry and/or deportation. While it may be necessary to determine the identity of a victim or witness, members shall treat all individuals equally and not in any way that would violate the United States or North Dakota constitutions.

412.4 DETENTIONS

An officer should not detain any individual, for any length of time, for a civil violation of federal immigration laws or a related civil warrant.

An officer who has a reasonable suspicion that an individual already lawfully contacted or detained has committed a criminal violation of federal immigration law may detain the person for a reasonable period of time in order to contact federal immigration officials to verify whether an immigration violation is a federal civil violation or a criminal violation. If the violation is a criminal violation, the officer may continue to detain the person for a reasonable period of time if requested by federal immigration officials (8 USC § 1357(g)(10)). No individual who is otherwise ready to be released should continue to be detained only because questions about the individual's status are unresolved.

If the officer has facts that establish probable cause to believe that a person already lawfully detained has committed a criminal immigration offense, he/she may continue the detention and may request a federal immigration official to respond to the location to take custody of the detained person (8 USC § 1357(g)(10)).

An officer is encouraged to forgo detentions made solely on the basis of a misdemeanor offense when time limitations, availability of personnel, issues of officer safety, communication capabilities, or the potential to obstruct a separate investigation outweigh the need for the detention.

An officer should notify a supervisor as soon as practicable whenever an individual is being detained for a criminal immigration violation.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

412.4.1 SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

When notified that an officer has detained an individual and established reasonable suspicion or probable cause to believe the person has violated a criminal immigration offense, the supervisor should determine whether it is appropriate to:

(a) Transfer the person to federal authorities.

(b) Lawfully arrest the person for a criminal offense or pursuant to a judicial warrant (see the Law Enforcement Authority Policy).

412.5 ARREST NOTIFICATION TO IMMIGRATION AND CUSTOMS ENFORCEMENT

Generally, an officer should not notify federal immigration officials when booking arrestees at a jail facility. Any required notification will be handled according to jail operation procedures. No individual who is otherwise ready to be released should continue to be detained solely for the purpose of notification.

412.6 INFORMATION SHARING

No member of this department will prohibit, or in any way restrict, any other member from doing any of the following regarding the citizenship or immigration status, lawful or unlawful, of any individual (8 USC § 1373):

(a) Sending information to, or requesting or receiving such information from federal immigration officials

(b) Maintaining such information in department records

(c) Exchanging such information with any other federal, state, or local government entity

412.6.1 IMMIGRATION DETAINERS

No individual should be held based solely on a federal immigration detainer under 8 CFR 287.7 unless the person has been charged with a federal crime or the detainer is accompanied by a warrant, affidavit of probable cause, or removal order. Notification to the federal authority issuing the detainer should be made prior to the release.

412.7 U VISA AND T VISA NONIMMIGRANT STATUS

Under certain circumstances, federal law allows temporary immigration benefits, known as a U visa, to victims and witnesses of certain qualifying crimes (8 USC § 1101(a)(15)(U)).

Similar immigration protection, known as a T visa, is available for certain qualifying victims of human trafficking (8 USC § 1101(a)(15)(T)).

Any request for assistance in applying for U visa or T visa status should be forwarded in a timely manner to the Investigations Division supervisor assigned to oversee the handling of any related case. The Investigations Division supervisor should coordinate with the department crime victim liaison to:

(a) Consult with the assigned investigator to determine the current status of any related case and whether further documentation is warranted.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(b) Contact the appropriate prosecutor assigned to the case, if applicable, to ensure the certification or declaration has not already been completed and whether a certification or declaration is warranted.

(c) Address the request and complete the certification or declaration, if appropriate, in a timely manner.

1. The instructions for completing certification and declaration forms can be found on the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) website.

(d) Ensure that any decision to complete, or not complete, a certification or declaration form is documented in the case file and forwarded to the appropriate prosecutor. Include a copy of any completed form in the case file.

412.8 TRAINING

The Administrative Captain should ensure officers receive training on this policy.

Training should include:

(a) Identifying civil versus criminal immigration violations.

(b) Factors that may be considered in determining whether a criminal immigration offense has been committed.

412.9 FEDERAL REQUESTS FOR ASSISTANCE

Requests by federal immigration officials for assistance from this department should be directed to a supervisor. The Department may provide available support services, such as traffic control or peacekeeping efforts.

Emergency Utility Service

413.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to provide guidelines for addressing City utility service emergencies. This policy will address calls for service that are frequently directed to the Police Department.

413.1.1 BROKEN WATER LINES

The City's responsibility ends at the water meter. Any break or malfunction in the water system from the water meter to the citizen's residence or business is the customer's responsibility. The public works department can only turn off the valve at the meter. The citizen can normally accomplish this.

If a break occurs on the City side of the meter, emergency personnel should be called as soon as practicable by Minot Central Dispatch.

413.1.2 ELECTRICAL LINES

The public works department does not maintain electrical lines to street light poles. When a power line poses a hazard, an officer should be dispatched to protect against personal injury or property damage that might be caused by power lines. The electric company or the public works department should be promptly notified, as appropriate.

413.1.3 RESERVOIRS, PUMPS AND WELLS

The public works department maintains the reservoirs and public water equipment, as well as several underpass and other street drainage pumps. In the event of flooding or equipment malfunctions, emergency personnel should be contacted as soon as possible.

413.1.4 EMERGENCY NUMBERS

A current list of emergency personnel who are to be called for municipal utility emergencies will be maintained by Minot Central Dispatch.

413.2 TRAFFIC SIGNAL MAINTENANCE

The City of Minot is responsible for maintenance for all traffic signals within the City other than those maintained by the North Dakota Department of Transportation (NDDOT).

413.2.1 OFFICER'S RESPONSIBILITIES

Upon observing a damaged or malfunctioning signal, the officer will advise Minot Central Dispatch of the location and problem with the signal. The dispatcher should make the necessary notification to the proper maintenance agency.

Patrol Rifles

414.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

To more effectively and accurately address the increasing level of firepower and body armor utilized by criminal suspects, the Minot Police Department will make patrol rifles available to qualified officers as an additional and more immediate tactical resource.

414.2 PATROL RIFLE

414.2.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Patrol rifle - An authorized weapon owned or approved by the Department, which is made available to properly trained and qualified officers as a supplemental resource to their duty handgun or shotgun.

414.3 POLICY

Only weapons and ammunition that meet agency authorized specifications, are approved by the Chief of Police and issued by the Department, may be used by officers in their law enforcement responsibilities.

No personally owned rifles may be carried for patrol duty unless pre-approved in by the Chief of Police or his designee.

The authorized patrol rifle issued by the Department is the AR-15,.223.

414.4 RIFLE MAINTENANCE

(a) Primary responsibility for maintenance of patrol rifles shall fall on the qualified armorer, who shall inspect and service each patrol rifle on a yearly basis.

(b) Each officer carrying a patrol rifle may be required to field strip and clean an assigned patrol rifle as needed.

(c) Each patrol officer shall be responsible for promptly reporting any damage or malfunction of an assigned patrol rifle to a supervisor or the armorer.

(d) Any patrol rifle found to be unserviceable shall also be clearly identified as non-serviceable, including details regarding the unserviceable condition.

(e) Each patrol rifle shall be subject to inspection by a supervisor or the armorer at any time.

(f) No modification shall be made to any patrol rifle without prior written authorization from the Chief of Police.

414.5 TRAINING

Officers shall not carry or utilize the patrol rifle unless they have successfully completed department training. This training shall consist of an initial patrol rifle user's course and qualification score with a certified weapons instructor. Officers shall thereafter be required to successfully complete yearly firearms proficiency qualification conducted by a certified weapons instructor.

Any officer who fails to qualify during the annual qualification will no longer be authorized to carry the patrol rifle without successfully retaking the initial patrol officers user's course and qualification.

414.6 DEPLOYMENT OF THE PATROL RIFLE

Officers may deploy the patrol rifle in any circumstance where the officer can articulate a reasonable expectation that the rifle may be needed. Examples of some general guidelines for deploying the patrol rifle may include, but are not limited to:

(a) Situations where the officer reasonably anticipates an armed encounter.

(b) When an officer is faced with a situation that may require the delivery of accurate and effective fire at long range.

(c) Situations where an officer reasonably expects the need to meet or exceed a suspect's firepower.

(d) When an officer reasonably believes that there may be a need to deliver fire on a barricaded person or a person with a hostage.

(e) When an officer reasonably believes that a suspect may be wearing body armor.

(f) When authorized or requested by a supervisor.

(g) When needed to euthanize an animal.

414.7 DISCHARGE OF THE PATROL RIFLE

The discharge of the patrol rifle shall be governed by the Use of Force and Firearm Discharge policies.

414.8 RIFLE STORAGE

Aircraft Accidents

415.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to provide department members with guidelines for handling aircraft accidents.

This policy does not supersede, and is supplementary to, applicable portions of the Crime and Disaster Scene Integrity, Emergency Operations Plan and Hazardous Material Response policies.

415.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Aircraft - Any fixed wing aircraft, rotorcraft, balloon, blimp/dirigible or glider that is capable of carrying a person or any unmanned aerial vehicle other than those intended for non-commercial recreational use.

415.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department to provide an appropriate emergency response to aircraft accidents. This includes emergency medical care and scene management.

415.3 ARRIVAL AT SCENE

Officers or other authorized members tasked with initial scene management should establish an inner and outer perimeter to:

(a) Protect persons and property.

(b) Prevent any disturbance or further damage to the wreckage or debris, except to preserve life or rescue the injured.

(c) Preserve ground scars and marks made by the aircraft.

(d) Manage the admission and access of public safety and medical personnel to the extent necessary to preserve life or to stabilize hazardous materials.

(e) Maintain a record of persons who enter the accident site.

(f) Consider implementation of an Incident Command System (ICS).

415.4 INJURIES AND CASUALTIES

Members should address emergency medical issues and provide care as a first priority.

Those tasked with the supervision of the scene should coordinate with the National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) before the removal of bodies. If that is not possible, the scene supervisor should ensure documentation of what was disturbed, including switch/control positions and instrument/gauge readings.

When an aircraft accident is reported to this department, the responding supervisor shall ensure notification is or has been made to NTSB, the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), and when applicable, the appropriate branch of the military.

Supervisors shall ensure other notifications are made once an aircraft accident has been reported. The notifications will vary depending on the type of accident, extent of injuries or damage, and the type of aircraft involved. When an aircraft accident has occurred, it is generally necessary to notify the following:

(a) Fire department

(b) Appropriate airport tower

(c) Emergency medical services (EMS)

The NTSB has primary responsibility for investigating accidents involving civil aircraft. In the case of a military aircraft accident, the appropriate branch of the military will have primary investigation responsibility.

After the NTSB or military representative arrives on-scene, the efforts of this department will shift to a support role for those agencies.

If NTSB or a military representative determines that an aircraft or accident does not qualify under its jurisdiction, the on-scene department supervisor should ensure the accident is still appropriately investigated and documented.

415.7 DANGEROUS MATERIALS

Members should be aware of potentially dangerous materials that might be present. These may include, but are not limited to:

(a) Fuel, chemicals, explosives, biological or radioactive materials and bombs or other ordnance.

At a minimum the documentation should include the date, time and location of the incident; any witness statements, if taken; the names of MPD members deployed to assist; other City resources that were utilized; and cross reference information to other investigating agencies. Suspected criminal activity should be documented on the appropriate crime report.

415.8.1 WRECKAGE

When reasonably safe, members should:

(a) Obtain the aircraft registration number (N number) and note the type of aircraft.

(b) Attempt to ascertain the number of casualties.

(c) Obtain photographs or video of the overall wreckage, including the cockpit and damage, starting at the initial point of impact, if possible, and any ground scars or marks made by the aircraft.

1. Military aircraft may contain classified equipment and therefore shall not be photographed unless authorized by a military commanding officer (18 USC § 795).

(e) Acquire copies of any recordings from security cameras that may have captured the incident.

415.8.2 WITNESSES

Members tasked with contacting witnesses should obtain:

(b) A detailed description of what was observed or heard.

(c) Any photographs or recordings of the accident witnesses may be willing to voluntarily surrender.

(d) The names of all persons reporting the accident, even if not yet interviewed.

(e) Any audio recordings of reports to 9-1-1 regarding the accident and dispatch records.

415.9 MEDIA RELATIONS

The Public Information Officer (PIO) should coordinate a response to the media, including access issues, road closures, detours and any safety information that is pertinent to the surrounding community. Contacts and Temporary Detentions

417.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to establish guidelines for temporarily detaining but not arresting persons in the field, conducting field interviews (FI) and pat-down searches, and the taking and disposition of photographs.

417.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Consensual encounter - Occurs when an officer contacts an individual but does not create a detention through words, actions, or other means. In other words, a reasonable individual would believe that his/her contact with the officer is voluntary.

Field interview (FI) - The brief detainment of an individual, whether on foot or in a vehicle, based on reasonable suspicion for the purpose of determining the individual's identity and resolving the officer's suspicions.

Field photographs - Posed photographs taken of a person during a contact, temporary detention, or arrest in the field. Undercover surveillance photographs of an individual and recordings captured by the normal operation of a Mobile Audio Video (MAV) system, body-worn camera, or public safety camera when persons are not posed for the purpose of photographing are not considered field photographs.

Pat-down search - This type of search is used by officers in the field to check an individual for dangerous weapons. It involves a thorough patting down of clothing to locate any weapons or dangerous items that could pose a danger to the officer, the detainee, or others.

Reasonable suspicion - When, under the totality of the circumstances, an officer has articulable facts that criminal activity may be afoot, and a particular person is connected with that possible criminal activity.

Temporary detention - When an officer intentionally, through words, actions or physical force, causes an individual to reasonably believe he/she is required to restrict his/her movement without an actual arrest. Temporary detentions also occur when an officer actually restrains a person’s freedom of movement.

417.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department respects the right of the public to be free from unreasonable searches or seizures. Due to an unlimited variety of situations confronting the officer, the decision to temporarily detain a person and complete an FI, pat-down search, or field photograph shall be left to the officer based on the totality of the circumstances, officer safety considerations, and constitutional safeguards.

417.3 FIELD INTERVIEWS

Based on observance of suspicious circumstances or upon information from investigation, an officer may initiate the stop of a person, and conduct an FI, when there is articulable, reasonable suspicion to do so. A person, however, shall not be detained longer than is reasonably necessary to resolve the officer's suspicions.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

Nothing in this policy is intended to discourage consensual contacts. Frequent casual contact with consenting individuals is encouraged by the Minot Police Department to strengthen community involvement, community awareness, and problem identification.

417.3.1 INITIATING A FIELD INTERVIEW

When initiating the stop, the officer should be able to point to specific facts that, when considered with the totality of the circumstances, reasonably warrant the stop. Such facts include but are not limited to an individual’s:

(a) Appearance or demeanor suggesting that he/she is part of a criminal enterprise or is engaged in a criminal act.

(b) Actions suggesting that he/she is engaged in a criminal activity.

(c) Presence in an area at an inappropriate hour of the day or night.

(d) Presence in a particular area is suspicious.

(e) Carrying suspicious objects or items.

(f) Excessive clothes for the climate or clothes bulging in a manner that suggests he/she is carrying a dangerous weapon.

(g) Location in proximate time and place to an alleged crime.

(h) Physical description of a suspect or clothing worn that matches clothing worn by a suspect in a recent crime.

(i) Prior criminal record or involvement in criminal activity as known by the officer.

417.4 PAT-DOWN SEARCHES

Once a valid stop has been made, and consistent with the officer’s training and experience, an officer may pat a suspect's outer clothing for weapons if the officer has a reasonable, articulable suspicion the suspect may pose a safety risk. The purpose of this limited search is not to discover evidence of a crime, but to allow the officer to pursue the investigation without fear of violence. Circumstances that may establish justification for performing a pat-down search include but are not limited to:

(a) The type of crime suspected, particularly in crimes of violence where the use or threat of weapons is involved.

(b) Where more than one suspect must be handled by a single officer.

(c) The hour of the day and the location or area where the stop takes place.

(d) Prior knowledge of the suspect's use of force and/or propensity to carry weapons.

(e) The actions and demeanor of the suspect.

(f) Visual indications that suggest the suspect is carrying a firearm or other dangerous weapon.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

Whenever practicable, a pat-down search should not be conducted by a lone officer. A cover officer should be positioned to ensure safety and should not be involved in the search.

417.5 FIELD PHOTOGRAPHS

All available databases should be searched before photographing any field detainee. If a photograph is not located, or if an existing photograph no longer resembles the detainee, the officer shall carefully consider, among other things, the factors listed below.

417.5.1 FIELD PHOTOGRAPHS TAKEN WITH CONSENT

Field photographs may be taken when the subject being photographed knowingly and voluntarily gives consent.

417.5.2 FIELD PHOTOGRAPHS TAKEN WITHOUT CONSENT

Field photographs may be taken without consent only if they are taken during a detention that is based upon reasonable suspicion of criminal activity, and the photograph serves a legitimate law enforcement purpose related to the detention. The officer must be able to articulate facts that reasonably indicate that the subject was involved in or was about to become involved in criminal conduct. The subject should not be ordered to remove or lift any clothing for the purpose of taking a photograph.

If, prior to taking a photograph, the officer's reasonable suspicion of criminal activity has been dispelled, the detention must cease and the photograph should not be taken.

All field photographs and related reports shall be submitted to a supervisor and retained in compliance with this policy.

417.5.3 DISPOSITION OF PHOTOGRAPHS

If an individual is photographed as a suspect in a particular crime, the photograph should be submitted as an evidence item in the related case, following standard evidence procedures.

If a photograph is not associated with an investigation where a case number has been issued, the should review and forward the photograph to one of the following locations:

(a) If the photograph and associated FI or documentation is relevant to criminal organization/enterprise enforcement, the officer will document and forward the photograph to the Investigations Division.An Investigations supervisor will ensure the photograph and supporting documents are retained as prescribed in the Criminal Organizations Policy.

(b) Photographs that do not qualify for retention in a criminal intelligence system or temporary information file shall be forwarded to the Records Section

When a photograph is taken in association with a particular case, the investigator may use such photograph in a photo lineup. Thereafter, the individual photograph should be retained as a part of the case file. All other photographs shall be retained in accordance with the established records retention schedule.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

417.5.4 SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

While it is recognized that field photographs often become valuable investigative tools, supervisors should monitor such practices in view of the above listed considerations. This is not to imply that supervisor approval is required before each photograph is taken.

Access to, and use of, field photographs shall be strictly limited to law enforcement purposes.

417.6 WITNESS IDENTIFICATION AND INTERVIEWS

Because potential witnesses to an incident may become unavailable or the integrity of their statements compromised with the passage of time, officers should, when warranted by the seriousness of the case, take reasonable steps to promptly coordinate with an on-scene supervisor and/or criminal investigator to utilize available members for the following:

(a) Identifying all persons present at the scene and in the immediate area.

1. When feasible, a recorded statement should be obtained from those who claim not to have witnessed the incident but who were present at the time it occurred.
2. Any potential witness who is unwilling or unable to remain available for a formal interview should not be detained absent reasonable suspicion to detain or probable cause to arrest. Without detaining the individual for the sole purpose of identification, officers should attempt to identify the witness prior to his/her departure.

(b) Witnesses who are willing to provide a formal interview should be asked to meet at a suitable location where criminal investigators may obtain a recorded statement. Such witnesses, if willing, may be transported by Department members.

1. A written, verbal or recorded statement of consent should be obtained prior to transporting a witness. When the witness is a minor, consent should be obtained from the parent or guardian, if available, prior to transport.

Criminal Street Gangs

418.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to ensure that the Minot Police Department appropriately utilizes criminal intelligence systems and temporary information files to support investigations of criminal organizations and enterprises.

418.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Criminal intelligence system - Any record system that receives, stores, exchanges or disseminates information that has been evaluated and determined to be relevant to the identification of a criminal organization or enterprise, its members or affiliates. This does not include temporary information files.

Criminal street gang - Any ongoing organization or group of three or more persons, whether formal or informal, that acts in concert or agrees to act in concert with a purpose that any of those persons alone or in any combination commit or will commit two or more predicate gang crimes (N.D.C.C. § 12.1-06.2-01(3)).

418.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department recognizes that certain criminal activities, including but not limited to gang crimes and drug trafficking, often involve some degree of regular coordination and may involve a large number of participants over a broad geographical area.

It is the policy of this department to collect and share relevant information while respecting the privacy and legal rights of the public.

418.3 CRIMINAL INTELLIGENCE SYSTEMS

No department member may create, submit to or obtain information from a criminal intelligence system unless the Chief of Police has approved the system for department use.

Any criminal intelligence system approved for department use should meet or exceed the standards of 28 CFR 23.20.

A designated supervisor will be responsible for maintaining each criminal intelligence system that has been approved for department use. The supervisor or the authorized designee should ensure the following:

(a) Members using any such system are appropriately selected and trained.

(b) Use of every criminal intelligence system is appropriately reviewed and audited.

(c) Any system security issues are reasonably addressed.

418.3.1 SYSTEM ENTRIES

It is the designated supervisor's responsibility to approve the entry of any information from a report, FI, photo or other relevant document into an authorized criminal intelligence system. If entries are made based upon information that is not on file with this department, such as open or public source documents or documents that are on file at another agency, the designated supervisor should ensure copies of those documents are retained by the Records Section. Any supporting documentation for an entry shall be retained by the Records Section in accordance with the established records retention schedule and for at least as long as the entry is maintained in the system.

The designated supervisor should ensure that any documents retained by the Records Section are appropriately marked as intelligence information. The Records Sergeant may not purge such documents without the approval of the designated supervisor.

418.4 TEMPORARY INFORMATION FILE

No member may create or keep files on individuals that are separate from the approved criminal intelligence system. However, members may maintain temporary information that is necessary to actively investigate whether a person or group qualifies for entry into the department-approved CIS only as provided in this section. Once information qualifies for inclusion, it should be submitted to the supervisor responsible for consideration of CIS entries.

418.4.1 FILE CONTENTS

A temporary information file may only contain information and documents that, within one year, will have a reasonable likelihood to meet the criteria for entry into an authorized criminal intelligence system.

Information and documents contained in a temporary information file:

(a) Must only be included upon documented authorization of the responsible department supervisor.

(b) Should not be originals that would ordinarily be retained by the Records Section or Property Section, but should be copies of, or references to, retained documents such as copies of reports, field interview (FI forms, Minot Central Dispatch records or booking forms.

(c) Shall not include opinions. No person, organization or enterprise shall be labeled as being involved in crime beyond what is already in the document or information.

(d) May include information collected from publicly available sources or references to documents on file with another government agency. Attribution identifying the source should be retained with the information.

418.4.2 FILE REVIEW AND PURGING

The contents of a temporary information file shall not be retained longer than one year. At the end of one year, the contents must be purged or entered in an authorized criminal intelligence system, as applicable.

The designated supervisor shall periodically review the temporary information files to verify that the contents meet the criteria for retention. Validation and purging of files is the responsibility of the supervisor.

418.5 INFORMATION RECOGNITION

Department members should document facts that suggest an individual, organization or enterprise is involved in criminal activity and should forward that information appropriately. Examples include, but are not limited to:

(a) Gang indicia associated with a person or residence.

(b) Information related to a drug-trafficking operation.

(c) Vandalism indicating an animus for a particular group.

(d) Information related to an illegal gambling operation.

Department supervisors who utilize an authorized criminal intelligence system should work with the Administrative Captain to train members to identify information that may be particularly relevant for inclusion.

418.6 RELEASE OF INFORMATION

Department members shall comply with the rules of an authorized criminal intelligence system regarding inquiries and release of information.

Information from a temporary information file may only be furnished to department members and other law enforcement agencies on a need-to-know basis and consistent with the Records Maintenance and Release Policy.

When an inquiry is made by the parent or guardian of a juvenile as to whether that juvenile's name is in a temporary information file, such information should be provided by the supervisor responsible for the temporary information file, unless there is good cause to believe that the release of such information might jeopardize an ongoing criminal investigation.

418.7 CRIMINAL STREET GANGS

The Investigations Division supervisor should ensure that there are an appropriate number of department members who can:

(a) Testify as experts on matters related to criminal street gangs, and maintain an above average familiarity with identification of criminal street gangs, criminal street gang members and patterns of criminal gang activity.

(b) Coordinate with other agencies in the region regarding criminal street gang crimes and information.

PATROL SUPERVISORS

419.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

Each patrol shift must be directed by supervisors who are capable of making decisions and communicating in a manner consistent with department policies, procedures, practices, functions and objectives. To accomplish this goal, a sergeant or higher rank heads each watch.

419.2 DESIGNATION AS ACTING PATROL SUPERVISOR

This policy does not preclude designating a less senior officer as an acting Patrol Supervisor when operational needs require.

Mobile Audio/Video

420.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The Minot Police Department has equipped marked patrol cars with Mobile/Audio Video (MAV) recording systems to provide records of events and assist officers in the performance of their duties. This policy provides guidance on the use of these systems.

420.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Activate - Any process that causes the MAV system to transmit or store video or audio data.

In-car camera system and Mobile Audio Video (MAV) system - Synonymous terms which refer to any system that captures audio and video signals, that is capable of installation in a vehicle, and that includes at a minimum, a camera, microphone, recorder and monitor.

MAV technician - Personnel certified or trained in the operational use and repair of MAVs, duplicating methods, storage and retrieval methods and procedures, and who have a working knowledge of video forensics and evidentiary procedures.

Recorded media - Audio-video signals recorded or digitally stored on a storage device or portable media.

420.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department to use mobile audio and video technology to more effectively fulfill the mission of the Department and to ensure these systems are used securely and efficiently.

420.3 OFFICER RESPONSIBILITIES

Prior to going into service, each officer will properly equip him/herself to record audio and video in the field. At the end of the shift, each officer will follow the established procedures for providing to the Department any recordings or used media and any other related equipment. Each officer should have adequate recording media for the entire duty assignment. In the event an officer works at a remote location and reports in only periodically, additional recording media may be issued. Only Minot Police Department identified and labeled media with tracking numbers is to be used.

At the start of each shift, officers should test the MAV system's operation in accordance with manufacturer specifications and department operating procedures and training.

If the system is malfunctioning, the officer shall report the problem to the shift commander or supervisor and an equipment repair worksheet will be completed.

420.4 ACTIVATION OF MAV

The MAV system is designed to turn on whenever the unit's emergency lights/siren are activated, a designated vehicle speed is exceeded, or upon vehicle impact. The system will also activate when the gun lock release is pushed for the vehicle's rifle/shotgun rack. The system remains on until it is turned off manually.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

420.4.1 REQUIRED ACTIVATION OF THE MAV

This policy is not intended to describe every possible situation in which the MAV system may be used, although there are many situations where its use is appropriate. An officer may activate the system any time the officer believes it would be appropriate or valuable to document an incident.

In some circumstances it is not possible to capture images of the incident due to conditions or the location of the camera. However, the audio portion can be valuable evidence and is subject to the same activation requirements as the MAV. The MAV system should be activated in any of the following situations:

(a) All field contacts involving actual or potential criminal conduct within video or audio range:

1. Traffic stops (to include, but not limited to, traffic violations, stranded motorist assistance and all crime interdiction stops)
2. Priority responses
3. Vehicle pursuits
4. Suspicious vehicles
5. Arrests
6. Vehicle searches
7. Physical or verbal confrontations or use of force
8. Pedestrian checks
9. DUI investigations including field sobriety tests
10. Consensual encounters
11. Crimes in progress
12. Responding to an in-progress call

(b) All self-initiated activity in which an officer would normally notify Minot Central Dispatch.

(c) Any call for service involving a crime where the recorder may aid in the apprehension and/or prosecution of a suspect:

1. Domestic violence
2. Disturbance of the peace
3. Offenses involving violence or weapons

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(d) Any other contact that becomes adversarial after the initial contact, in a situation that would not otherwise require recording.

(e) Any other circumstance where the officer believes that a recording of an incident would be appropriate.

420.4.2 CESSATION OF RECORDING

Once activated, the MAV system should remain on until the incident has concluded. For the purpose of this section, conclusion of an incident has occurred when all arrests have been made, arrestees have been transported and all witnesses and victims have been interviewed. Recording may cease if an officer is simply waiting for a tow truck or a family member to arrive, or in other similar situations.

420.4.3 WHEN ACTIVATION NOT REQUIRED

Activation of the MAV system is not required when exchanging information with other officers or during breaks, lunch periods, when not in service or actively on patrol.

No member of this department may surreptitiously record a conversation of any other member of this department except with a court order or when authorized by the Chief of Police or the authorized designee for the purpose of conducting a criminal or administrative investigation (N.D.C.C. § 12.1-15-02).

420.4.4 SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

Supervisors should determine if vehicles with non-functioning MAV systems should be placed into service. Any time a MAV system is non-functioning and placed into service a report should be left for the Records Sergeant to document the lapse in MAV coverage. An equipment repair form should be filled out to have any non-functioning system repaired as soon as possible.

On reasonable intervals, supervisors should validate that MAV systems are being utilizied according to this policy.

420.5 REVIEW OF MAV RECORDINGS

All recording media, recorded images and audio recordings are the property of the Department. Dissemination outside of the Department is strictly prohibited, except to the extent permitted or required by law.

To prevent damage to, or alteration of, the original recorded media, it shall not be copied, viewed or otherwise inserted into any device not approved by the department MAV technician. When reasonably possible, a copy of the original media shall be used for viewing (unless otherwise directed by the courts) to preserve the original media.

Recordings may be reviewed in any of the following situations:

(a) By a supervisor investigating a specific act of officer conduct

(j) Recordings may be shown for training purposes. If an involved officer objects to showing a recording, his/her objection will be submitted to the staff to determine if the training value outweighs the officer's objection.

In no event shall any recording be used or shown for the purpose of ridiculing or embarrassing any employee.

420.6 DOCUMENTING MAV USE

Any incident that is recorded with either the video or audio system shall be documented in the officer's report.

Upon completion of an incident (traffic stop, call for service, etc.), the officer shall label the digital file according to their training so that it may properly upload to the system server.

420.7 RECORDING MEDIA STORAGE AND INTEGRITY

Once submitted for storage, all recordings will be maintained in accordance with the storage procedures used by the department. All recordings that are not booked as evidence will be disposed of in compliance with the established records retention schedule (N.D.C.C. § 44-04-17.1(16)).

420.7.1 COPIES OF RECORDING MEDIA

Upon proper request, a copy of the original recording will be made for use as authorized in this policy.

Recordings may only be released in response to a court order or in accordance with open records laws and proper department request processes for such records..

420.7.2 MAV RECORDINGS AS EVIDENCE

Officers who reasonably believe that a MAV recording is likely to contain evidence relevant to a criminal offense, potential claim against the officer, or against the Minot Police Department should indicate this in an appropriate report. Officers should ensure relevant recordings are preserved.

(c) The MAV system may be configured to record audio data occurring prior to activation.

(d)

(e)

420.9 MAV TECHNICIAN RESPONSIBILITIES

The MAV technician is responsible for:

(a) Ordering, issuing, retrieving, storing, erasing and duplicating of all recorded media.

(b) Collecting all completed media for oversight and verification of wireless downloaded media. Once collected, the MAV technician:

1. Ensures it is stored in a secured location with authorized controlled access.

(c) Managing the long-term storage of media that has been deemed to be of evidentiary value in accordance with the department evidence storage protocols and the records retention schedule.

420.10 TRAINING

All members who are authorized to use the MAV system should have functional knowledge of its operation through familiarization sessions with a knowledgable person or by reading operating manuals. Typically this information is passed on through peer training sessions from an officer who has become knowledgeable of the equipment. .

Mobile Data Terminal Use

421.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to establish guidelines for the proper access, use and application of the Mobile Data Terminal (MDT) system in order to ensure appropriate access to confidential records from local, state and national law enforcement databases, and to ensure effective electronic communications between department members and Minot Central Dispatch.

421.2 POLICY

Minot Police Department members using the MDT shall comply with all appropriate federal and state rules and regulations and shall use the MDT in a professional manner, in accordance with this policy.

421.3 PRIVACY EXPECTATION

Members forfeit any expectation of privacy with regard to messages accessed, transmitted, received or reviewed on any department technology system (see the Information Technology Use Policy for additional guidance).

421.4 RESTRICTED ACCESS AND USE

MDT use is subject to the Information Technology Use and Protected Information policies.

Members shall not access the MDT system if they have not received prior authorization and the required training. Members shall immediately report unauthorized access or use of the MDT by another member to their supervisors or Patrol Supervisors.

Use of the MDT system to access law enforcement databases or transmit messages is restricted to official activities, business-related tasks and communications that are directly related to the business, administration or practices of the Department. In the event that a member has questions about sending a particular message or accessing a particular database, the member should seek prior approval from his/her supervisor.

Sending derogatory, defamatory, obscene, disrespectful, sexually suggestive, harassing or any other inappropriate messages on the MDT system is prohibited and may result in discipline.

It is a violation of this policy to transmit a message or access a law enforcement database under another member’s name or to use the password of another member to log in to the MDT system unless directed to do so by a supervisor. Members are required to log off the MDT or secure the MDT when it is unattended. This added security measure will minimize the potential for unauthorized access or misuse.

421.4.1 USE WHILE DRIVING

Use of the MDT by the vehicle operator should be limited to times when the vehicle is stopped. Information that is required for immediate enforcement, investigative, tactical or safety needs should be transmitted over the radio.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

In no case shall an operator attempt to send or review lengthy messages while the vehicle is in motion.

421.5 DOCUMENTATION OF ACTIVITY

Except as otherwise directed by the Patrol Supervisor or other department-established protocol, all calls for service assigned by a dispatcher should be communicated by voice over the police radio and electronically via the MDT unless security or confidentiality prevents such broadcasting.

MDT and voice transmissions are used to document the member's daily activity. To ensure accuracy:

(a) All contacts or activity shall be documented at the time of the contact.

(b) Whenever the activity or contact is initiated by voice, it should be documented by a dispatcher.

(c) Whenever the activity or contact is not initiated by voice, the member shall document it via the MDT.

421.5.1 STATUS CHANGES

All changes in status (e.g., arrival at scene, meal periods, in service) will be transmitted over the police radio or through the MDT system.

Members responding to in-progress calls should advise changes in status over the radio to assist other members responding to the same incident. Other changes in status can be made on the MDT when the vehicle is not in motion.

421.5.2 EMERGENCY ACTIVATION

If there is an emergency activation and the member does not respond to a request for confirmation of the need for emergency assistance or confirms the need, available resources will be sent to assist in locating the member. If the location is known, the nearest available officer should respond in accordance with the Officer Response to Calls Policy.

Members should ensure a field supervisor and the Patrol Supervisor are notified of the incident without delay.

Officers not responding to the emergency shall refrain from transmitting on the police radio until a no-further-assistance broadcast is made or if they are also handling an emergency.

421.6 EQUIPMENT CONSIDERATIONS

421.6.1 MALFUNCTIONING MDT

Whenever possible, members will not use vehicles with malfunctioning MDTs. Whenever members must drive a vehicle in which the MDT is not working, they shall notify Minot Central Dispatch. It shall be the responsibility of the dispatcher to document all information that will then be transmitted verbally over the police radio.

421.6.2 BOMB CALLS

When investigating reports of possible bombs, members should not communicate on their MDTs when in the evacuation area of a suspected explosive device. Radio frequency emitted by the MDT could cause some devices to detonate.

Portable Audio/Video Recorders

422.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides guidelines for the use of portable audio/video recording devices by members of this department while in the performance of their duties. Portable audio/video recording devices include all recording systems whether body-worn, hand held or integrated into portable equipment.

This policy does not apply to mobile audio/video recordings, interviews or interrogations conducted at any Minot Police Department facility, authorized undercover operations, wiretaps or eavesdropping (concealed listening devices).

422.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Departmentwill provide members with access to portable recorders, commonly referred to as body cameras, for use during the performance of their duties. The use of recorders is intended to enhance the mission of the Department by accurately capturing contacts between members of the Department and the public.

422.3 MEMBER PRIVACY EXPECTATION

All recordings made by members on any department-issued device at any time, and any recording made while acting in an official capacity of this department, regardless of ownership of the device it was made on, shall remain the property of the Department.

422.4 MEMBER RESPONSIBILITIES

Prior to going into service on Patrol, each uniformed member who has been assigned a body camera will be responsible for making sure that he/she is equipped with a body camera issued by the Department, and that the camera is in good working order. If the camera is not in working order or the member becomes aware of a malfunction at any time, the member shall promptly report the failure to his/her supervisor and obtain a functioning device as soon as reasonably practicable. Uniformed members should wear the camera in a conspicuous manner or otherwise notify persons that they are being recorded, whenever reasonably practicable.

Any member assigned to a non-uniformed position may wear an approved body camera at any time the member believes that such a device may be useful. Unless conducting a lawful recording in an authorized undercover capacity, non-uniformed members should wear the recorder in a conspicuous manner when in use or otherwise notify persons that they are being recorded, whenever reasonably practicable. The body camera shall be worn and activated during situations such as execution of a search warrant or high risk arrest warrant operation, or as directed by a supervisor.

Members should document the existence of a recording in any report or other official record of the contact, including any instance where the camera malfunctioned or the member deactivated the camera. Members should include the reason for deactivation.

422.5 PROHIBITED USE OF PORTABLE RECORDERS

Members are prohibited from using department-issued body cameras and recording media for personal use and are prohibited from making personal copies of recordings created while on-duty or while acting in their official capacity.

Members are also prohibited from retaining recordings of activities or information obtained while on-duty, whether the recording was created with department-issued or personally owned recorders. Members shall not duplicate or distribute such recordings, except for authorized legitimate department business purposes. All such recordings shall be retained in accordance with theDepartment storage procedures.

Members are prohibited from using personally owned recording devices while on-duty without the express consent of a supervisor. Any member who uses a personally owned recorder for department-related activities shall comply with the provisions of this policy, including retention and release requirements, and should notify the on-duty supervisor of such use as soon as reasonably practicable.

Recordings shall not be used by any member for the purpose of embarrassment, harassment or ridicule.

422.6 IDENTIFICATION AND PRESERVATION OF RECORDINGS

To assist with identifying and preserving data and recordings, members should download, tag or mark these in accordance with procedure and document the existence of the recording in any related case report.

A member should transfer, tag or mark recordings when the member reasonably believes:

(a) The recording contains evidence relevant to potential criminal, civil or administrative matters.

(b) A complainant, victim or witness has requested non-disclosure.

(c) A complainant, victim or witness has not requested non-disclosure but the disclosure of the recording may endanger the person.

(d) Disclosure may be an unreasonable violation of someone’s privacy.

(e) Medical or mental health information is contained.

(f) Disclosure may compromise an undercover officer or confidential informant.

(g) The recording or portions of the recording may be protected under the North Dakota Open Records Law (N.D.C.C. § 44-04-18.7).

Any time a member reasonably believes a recorded contact may be beneficial in a non-criminal matter (e.g., a hostile contact), the member should promptly notify a supervisor of the existence of the recording.

422.7 REVIEW OF RECORDED MEDIA FILES

When preparing written reports, members may review their recordings as a resource prior to filing their report. If necessary, an officer shall explain any discrepencies between their perceptions of an event and what is seen in the recording. Members shall not retain personal copies of recordings. Members should not use the fact that a recording was made as a reason to write a less detailed report.

Supervisors are authorized to review relevant recordings any time they are investigating alleged misconduct or reports of meritorious conduct or whenever such recordings would be beneficial in reviewing the member's performance.

Recorded files may also be reviewed:

(a) Upon approval by a supervisor, by any member of the Department who is participating in an official investigation, such as a personnel complaint, administrative investigation or criminal investigation.

(b) Pursuant to lawful process or by court personnel who are otherwise authorized to review evidence in a related case.

(c) By media personnel with permission of the Chief of Police or the authorized designee.

(d) In compliance with a public records request, if permitted, and in accordance with the Records Maintenance and Release Policy.

All recordings should be reviewed by the Records Supervisor or designee prior to public release (see the Records Maintenance and Release Policy). Recordings that unreasonably violate a person's privacy or sense of dignity should not be publicly released unless disclosure is required by law or order of the court.

422.8 COORDINATOR

The Chief of Police or the authorized designee should designate a coordinator responsible for:

(a) Establishing procedures for the security, storage and maintenance of data and recordings.

(b) Establishing procedures for accessing data and recordings.

(c) Establishing procedures for logging or auditing access.

(d) Establishing procedures for transferring, downloading, tagging or marking events.

422.9 ACTIVATION OF THE AUDIO/VIDEO RECORDER

This policy is not intended to describe every possible situation in which the body camera should be used, although there are many situations where its use is appropriate. Members should activate the body camera any time the member believes it would be appropriate or valuable to record an incident.

The body camera should be activated in any of the following situations:

(a) All enforcement and investigative contacts including stops and field interview (FI) situations

(b) Traffic stops including, but not limited to, traffic violations, stranded motorist assistance and all crime interdiction stops

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(c) Self-initiated activity in which a member would normally notify Minot Central Dispatch

(d) Any other contact that becomes adversarial after the initial contact in a situation that would not otherwise require recording

Members should remain sensitive to the dignity of all individuals being recorded and exercise sound discretion to respect privacy by discontinuing recording whenever it reasonably appears to the member that such privacy may outweigh any legitimate law enforcement interest in recording. Requests by members of the public to stop recording should be considered using this same criterion. Recording should resume when privacy is no longer at issue unless the circumstances no longer fit the criteria for recording.

Members shall not record with body worn cameras while in patient care areas of a health care facility, unless the patient becomes adversarial with the member. If so, the member shall record for law enforcement purposes only, but shall not record patient/clinician conversations whenever avoidable.

At no time is a member expected to jeopardize his/her safety in order to activate a body camera. However, the camera should be activated in situations described above as soon as reasonably practicable.

422.9.1 CESSATION OF RECORDING

Once activated, the body camera should remain on continuously until the member reasonably believes that his/her direct participation in the incident is complete or the situation no longer fits the criteria for activation. Recording may be stopped during significant periods of inactivity such as report writing or other breaks from direct participation in the incident.

422.9.2 SURREPTITIOUS USE OF THE AUDIO/VIDEO RECORDER

North Dakota law permits an individual to surreptitiously record any conversation in which one party to the conversation has given his/her permission (N.D.C.C. § 12.1-15-02).

Members may surreptitiously record any conversation during the course of a criminal investigation in which the member reasonably believes that such a recording will be lawful and beneficial to the investigation.

Members shall not surreptitiously record another department member without a court order unless lawfully authorized by the Chief of Police or the authorized designee.

422.9.3 USE OF PORTABLE RECORDER IN DRUG OFFENSE INVESTIGATIONS

Officers may use a body camera to intercept wire or oral communications in drug offense investigations in compliance with a court order (N.D.C.C. § 29-29.2-02). Upon expiration of the order, the officer designated in the court order shall provide the issuing judge all documents and other information pertaining to the communications pursuant to the order or as required by law.

Intercepted communications shall be maintained in their entirety, without editing or alteration, and shall not be destroyed without a judge's order and in any event must be kept for 10 years.

422.9.4 EXPLOSIVE DEVICE
Many portable recorders, including body-worn cameras and audio/video transmitters, emit radio waves that could trigger an explosive device. Therefore, these devices should not be used where an explosive device may be present.

422.10 RETENTION OF RECORDINGS
Portable recordings are public records (N.D.C.C. § 44-04-17.1(16)). All recordings shall be retained for a period consistent with the requirements of the organization's records retention schedule.

422.10.1 RELEASE OF AUDIO/VIDEO RECORDINGS
Requests for the release of audio/video recordings shall be processed in accordance with the Records Maintenance and Release Policy.

422.11 LIVE STREAM OF BODY WORN CAMERAS
Supervisors may log into officers body worn cameras and live stream the officer's activities for purposes of supervision, situational awareness, safety, or to provide assistance. Dispatch and non-supervisory personnel may log into a body worn camera and live stream events for high risk officer safety reasons or when requested by the officer to provide assistance.

Examples of safety reasons to activate the live stream of body worn camera would be, but not limited to:

(a) Officers repeatedly not responding to radio traffic.

(b) Foot pursuits.

(c) Officers calling out an emergency - need immediate assistance situation or activation of a radio emergency button.

Foot Pursuits

424.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides guidelines to assist officers in making the decision to initiate or continue the pursuit of suspects on foot.

424.2 DECISION TO PURSUE

The safety of department members and the public should be the primary consideration when determining whether a foot pursuit should be initiated or continued. Officers must be mindful that immediate apprehension of a suspect is rarely more important than the safety of the public and department members.

Officers may be justified in initiating a foot pursuit of any individual that the officer reasonably believes is about to engage in, is engaging in or has engaged in criminal activity. The decision to initiate or continue such a foot pursuit, however, must be continuously re-evaluated in light of the circumstances presented at the time.

Mere flight by a person who is not suspected of criminal activity alone shall not serve as justification for engaging in an extended foot pursuit without the development of reasonable suspicion regarding the individual's involvement in criminal activity or being wanted by law enforcement.

Deciding to initiate or continue a foot pursuit is a decision that an officer must make quickly and under unpredictable and dynamic circumstances. It is recognized that foot pursuits may place department members and the public at significant risk. Therefore, no officer or supervisor shall be criticized or disciplined for deciding not to engage in a foot pursuit because of the perceived risk involved.

If circumstances permit, surveillance and containment are generally the safest tactics for apprehending fleeing persons. In deciding whether to initiate or continue a foot pursuit, an officer should continuously consider reasonable alternatives to a foot pursuit based upon the circumstances and resources available, such as:

(a) Containment of the area.

(b) Saturation of the area with law enforcement personnel, including assistance from other agencies.

(c) A canine search.

(d) Thermal imaging or other sensing technology.

(e) Apprehension at another time when the identity of the suspect is known or there is information available that would likely allow for later apprehension, and the need to immediately apprehend the suspect does not reasonably appear to outweigh the risk of continuing the foot pursuit.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

424.3 GENERAL GUIDELINES

When reasonably practicable, officers should consider alternatives to engaging in or continuing a foot pursuit when:

(a) Directed by a supervisor to terminate the foot pursuit, such an order shall be considered mandatory.

(b) The officer is acting alone.

(c) When two or more officers become separated, lose visual contact with one another or obstacles separate them to the degree that they cannot immediately assist each other should a confrontation take place. In such circumstances, it is generally recommended that a single officer keep the suspect in sight from a safe distance and coordinate the containment effort.

(d) The officer is unsure of his/her location and direction of travel.

(e) The officer is pursuing multiple suspects and it is not reasonable to believe that the officer would be able to control the suspect should a confrontation occur.

(f) The physical condition of the officer renders him/her incapable of controlling the suspect if apprehended.

(g) The officer loses radio contact with Minot Central Dispatch or with backup officers.

(h) The suspect enters a building, structure, confined space or a wooded or otherwise isolated area and there are insufficient officers to provide backup and containment. The primary officer should consider discontinuing the pursuit and coordinating containment pending the arrival of sufficient resources.

(i) The officer becomes aware of unanticipated or unforeseen circumstances that unreasonably increase the risk to officers or the public.

(j) The officer reasonably believes that the danger to the pursuing officers or public outweighs the objective of immediate apprehension.

(k) The officer loses possession of his/her firearm or other essential equipment.

(l) The officer or a third party is injured during the pursuit, requiring immediate assistance and there are no other emergency personnel available to render assistance.

(m) The suspect's location is no longer known.

(n) The identity of the suspect is established or other information exists that will allow for the suspect's apprehension at a later time, and it reasonably appears that there is no immediate threat to department personnel or the public if the suspect is not immediately apprehended.

(o) The officer's ability to safely continue the pursuit is impaired by inclement weather, darkness or other conditions.

424.4 RESPONSIBILITIES IN FOOT PURSUITS

424.4.1 INITIATING OFFICER RESPONSIBILITIES

Unless relieved by another officer or a supervisor, the initiating officer shall be responsible for coordinating the progress of the pursuit.

Early communication of available information from the involved officers is essential so that adequate resources can be coordinated and deployed to bring a foot pursuit to a safe conclusion. Officers initiating a foot pursuit should broadcast the following information as soon as it becomes practicable and available:

(a) Location and direction of travel

(b) Call sign identifier

(c) Number of suspects and description, to include name if known

(d) Whether the suspect is known or believed to be armed with a dangerous weapon

Officers should be mindful that radio transmissions made while running may be difficult to understand and may need to be repeated.

Absent extenuating circumstances, any officer unable to promptly and effectively broadcast this information should terminate the pursuit. If the foot pursuit is discontinued for any reason, immediate efforts for containment should be implemented and alternatives considered based upon the circumstances and available resources.

When a foot pursuit terminates, the officer will notify Minot Central Dispatch of his/her location and the status of the pursuit termination (e.g., suspect in custody, lost sight of suspect), and will direct further actions as reasonably appear necessary.

424.4.2 ASSISTING OFFICER RESPONSIBILITIES

Whenever any officer announces that he/she is engaged in a foot pursuit, all other officers should minimize nonessential radio traffic to permit the involved officers maximum access to the radio frequency.

424.4.3 SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

Upon becoming aware of a foot pursuit, the supervisor shall make every reasonable effort to ascertain sufficient information to direct responding resources and to take command, control and coordination of the foot pursuit. The supervisor should respond to the area whenever reasonably possible. The supervisor does not, however, need to be physically present to exercise control over the pursuit. The supervisor should continuously assess the situation in order to ensure the foot pursuit is conducted within established department guidelines.

The supervisor shall terminate the foot pursuit when the danger to pursuing officers or the public appears to unreasonably outweigh the objective of immediate apprehension of the suspect.

Upon apprehension of the suspect, the supervisor should promptly proceed to the termination point to direct the post-pursuit activity.

424.4.4 DISPATCH RESPONSIBILITIES

Upon being notified or becoming aware that a foot pursuit is in progress, Minot Central Dispatch personnel shall, as soon as practicable, notify the field supervisor and provide available information. Procedures for Minot Central Dispatch includes:

(a) Clearing the radio channel of non-emergency traffic.

(b) Repeating the transmissions of the pursuing officer as needed.

(c) Ensuring that a field supervisor is notified of the pursuit.

(d) Relaying all pertinent information to responding personnel.

(e) Contacting additional resources as indicated.

(f) Coordinating response of additional resources to assist with the foot pursuit.

424.5 REPORTING

The initiating officer shall complete the appropriate crime/arrest reports documenting, at a minimum:

(a) The reason for initiating the foot pursuit.

(b) The identity of involved personnel.

(c) The course and approximate distance of the pursuit.

(d) Whether a suspect was apprehended as well as the means and methods used.

1. Any use of force shall be reported and documented in compliance with the Use of Force Policy.

(e) Any injuries or property damage.

Assisting officers taking an active role in the apprehension of the suspect shall complete supplemental reports as necessary or as directed.

In any case in which a suspect is not apprehended and there is insufficient information to warrant further investigation, a supervisor may advise the initiating officer that he/she need not complete a supplemental report in conjunction with the report normally required to document the incident.

424.6 POLICY

It is the policy of this department that officers, when deciding to initiate or continue a foot pursuit, continuously balance the objective of apprehending the suspect with the risk and potential for injury to department members, the public or the suspect.

Officers are expected to act reasonably, based on the totality of the circumstances.

Homeless Persons

425.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to ensure that personnel understand the needs and rights of the homeless and to establish procedures to guide officers during all contacts with the homeless, whether consensual or for enforcement purposes. The Minot Police Department recognizes that members of the homeless community are often in need of special protection and services. The Minot Police Department will address these needs in balance with the overall mission of this department. Therefore, officers will consider the following policy when serving the homeless community.

425.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department to provide law enforcement services to all members of the community while protecting the rights, dignity and private property of the homeless. Homelessness is not a crime and members of this department will not use homelessness solely as a basis for detention or law enforcement action.

425.3 FIELD CONTACTS

Officers are encouraged to contact the homeless for purposes of rendering aid, support and for community-oriented policing purposes. Nothing in this policy is meant to dissuade an officer from taking reasonable enforcement action when facts support a reasonable suspicion of criminal activity.

Officers should provide homeless persons with resource and assistance information whenever it is reasonably apparent such services may be appropriate.

425.3.1 OTHER CONSIDERATIONS

Homeless members of the community will receive the same level and quality of service provided to other members of the community. The fact that a victim or witness is homeless may require special consideration for a successful investigation and prosecution. Officers should consider the following when handling investigations involving homeless victims, witnesses or suspects:

(a) Document alternate contact information. This may include obtaining addresses and telephone numbers of relatives and friends.

(b) Document places the homeless person may frequent.

(c) Provide homeless victims with victim/witness resources when appropriate.

(d) Obtain statements from all available witnesses in the event a homeless victim is unavailable for a court appearance.

(e) Consider whether the person may be a dependent adult or elder and if so, proceed in accordance with the Adult Abuse Policy.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(f) Arrange for transportation for investigation-related matters, such as medical exams and court appearances.

(g) Consider whether a crime should be reported and submitted for prosecution even when a homeless victim indicates he/she does not desire prosecution.

425.4 PERSONAL PROPERTY

The personal property of homeless persons must not be treated differently than the property of other members of the public. Officers should use reasonable care when handling, collecting and retaining the personal property of homeless persons and should not destroy or discard their personal property.

When a homeless person is arrested or otherwise removed from a public place, officers should make reasonable accommodations to permit the person to lawfully secure his/her personal property. Otherwise, the arrestee's personal property should be collected for safekeeping. If the arrestee has more personal property than can reasonably be collected and transported by the officer, a supervisor should be consulted. The property should be photographed and measures should be taken to remove or secure the property. It will be the supervisor's responsibility to coordinate the removal and safekeeping of the property.

Officers should not conduct or assist in cleanup operations of belongings that reasonably appear to be the property of homeless persons without the prior authorization of a supervisor. When practicable, requests by the public for cleanup operations of a homeless encampment should be referred to the Patrol Operations Commander.

Officers who encounter unattended encampments, bedding or other personal property in public areas that reasonably appears to belong to a homeless person should not remove or destroy such property and should inform a supervisor. If such property appears to involve a trespass, is blight to the community or is the subject of a complaint, it will be the responsibility of the supervisor to address the matter in a timely fashion.

425.5 MENTAL ILLNESSES AND MENTAL IMPAIRMENTS

Some homeless persons may suffer from a mental illness or a mental impairment. Officers shall not detain a homeless person for an emergency admission to a mental health facility unless facts and circumstances warrant such a detention.

When a mental illness hold is not warranted, the contacting officer should provide the homeless person with contact information for mental health assistance, as appropriate. In these circumstances, officers may provide transportation to a mental health specialist if requested by the person and approved by a supervisor.

425.6 ECOLOGICAL ISSUES

Sometimes homeless encampments can affect the ecology and natural resources of the community and may involve criminal offenses beyond mere littering. Officers are encouraged to notify other appropriate agencies or departments when a significant impact to the environment has or is likely to occur. Significant impacts to the environment may warrant a crime report, investigation, supporting photographs and supervisor notification.

Public Recording of Law Enforcement Activity

427.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides guidelines for handling situations in which members of the public photograph or audio/video record law enforcement actions and other public activities that involve members of this department. In addition, this policy provides guidelines for situations where the recordings may be evidence.

427.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department recognizes the right of persons to lawfully record members of this department who are performing their official duties. Members of this department will not prohibit or intentionally interfere with such lawful recordings. Any recordings that are deemed to be evidence of a crime or relevant to an investigation will only be collected or seized lawfully.

Officers should exercise restraint and should not resort to highly discretionary arrests for offenses such as interference, failure to comply or disorderly conduct as a means of preventing someone from exercising the right to record members performing their official duties.

427.3 RECORDING LAW ENFORCEMENT ACTIVITY

Members of the public who wish to record law enforcement activities are limited only in certain aspects.

(a) Recordings may be made from any public place or any private property where the individual has the legal right to be present.

(b) Beyond the act of photographing or recording, individuals may not interfere with the law enforcement activity. Examples of interference include, but are not limited to:

1. Tampering with a witness or suspect.
2. Inciting others to violate the law.
3. Being so close to the activity as to present a clear safety hazard to the officers.
4. Being so close to the activity as to interfere with an officer’s effective communication with a suspect or witness.

(c) The individual may not present an undue safety risk to the officers, him/herself or others.

427.4 OFFICER RESPONSE

Officers should promptly request that a supervisor respond to the scene whenever it appears that anyone recording activities may be interfering with an investigation or it is believed that the recording may be evidence. If practicable, officers should wait for the supervisor to arrive before taking enforcement action or seizing any cameras or recording media.

Whenever practicable, officers or supervisors should give clear and concise warnings to individuals who are conducting themselves in a manner that would cause their recording or behavior to be unlawful. Accompanying the warnings should be clear directions on what an individual can do to be compliant; directions should be specific enough to allow compliance. For example, rather than directing an individual to clear the area, an officer could advise the person that he/she may continue observing and recording from the sidewalk across the street.

If an arrest or other significant enforcement activity is taken as the result of a recording that interferes with law enforcement activity, officers shall document in a report the nature and extent of the interference or other unlawful behavior and the warnings that were issued.

427.5 SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

A supervisor should respond to the scene when requested or any time the circumstances indicate a likelihood of interference or other unlawful behavior.

The supervisor should review the situation with the officer and:

(a) Request any additional assistance as needed to ensure a safe environment.

(b) Take a lead role in communicating with individuals who are observing or recording regarding any appropriate limitations on their location or behavior. When practical, the encounter should be recorded.

(c) When practicable, allow adequate time for individuals to respond to requests for a change of location or behavior.

(d) Ensure that any enforcement, seizure or other actions are consistent with this policy and constitutional and state law.

(e) Explain alternatives for individuals who wish to express concern about the conduct of Department members, such as how and where to file a complaint.

427.6 SEIZING RECORDINGS AS EVIDENCE

Officers should not seize recording devices or media unless (42 USC § 2000aa):

(a) There is probable cause to believe the person recording has committed or is committing a crime to which the recording relates, and the recording is reasonably necessary for prosecution of the person.

1. Absent exigency or consent, a warrant should be sought before seizing or viewing such recordings. Reasonable steps may be taken to prevent erasure of the recording.

(b) There is reason to believe that the immediate seizure of such recordings is necessary to prevent serious bodily injury or death of any person.

(c) The person consents.

1. To ensure that the consent is voluntary, the request should not be made in a threatening or coercive manner.

2. If the original recording is provided, a copy of the recording should be provided to the recording party, if practicable. The recording party should be permitted to be present while the copy is being made, if feasible. Another way to obtain the evidence is to transmit a copy of the recording from a device to a department-owned device.

Crisis Intervention Incidents

428.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides guidelines for interacting with those who may be experiencing a mental health or emotional crisis. Interaction with such individuals has the potential for miscommunication and violence. It often requires an officer to make difficult judgments about a person's mental state and intent in order to effectively and legally interact with the individual.

428.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Person in crisis - A person whose level of distress or mental health symptoms have exceeded the person's internal ability to manage his/her behavior or emotions. A crisis can be precipitated by any number of things, including an increase in the symptoms of mental illness despite treatment compliance; non-compliance with treatment, including a failure to take prescribed medications appropriately; or any other circumstance or event that causes the person to engage in erratic, disruptive or dangerous behavior that may be accompanied by impaired judgment.

428.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department is committed to providing a consistently high level of service to all members of the community and recognizes that persons in crisis may benefit from intervention. The Department will collaborate, where feasible, with mental health professionals to develop an overall intervention strategy to guide its members' interactions with those experiencing a mental health crisis. This is to ensure equitable and safe treatment of all involved.

428.3 SIGNS

Members should be alert to any of the following possible signs of mental health issues or crises:

(a) A known history of mental illness

(b) Threats of or attempted suicide

(c) Loss of memory

(d) Incoherence, disorientation or slow response

(e) Delusions, hallucinations, perceptions unrelated to reality or grandiose ideas

(f) Depression, pronounced feelings of hopelessness or uselessness, extreme sadness or guilt

(g) Social withdrawal

(h) Manic or impulsive behavior, extreme agitation, lack of control

(i) Lack of fear

(j) Anxiety, aggression, rigidity, inflexibility or paranoia

Members should be aware that this list is not exhaustive. The presence or absence of any of these should not be treated as proof of the presence or absence of a mental health issue or crisis.

428.4 COORDINATION WITH MENTAL HEALTH PROFESSIONALS

The Chief of Police should designate an appropriate Division Commander to collaborate with mental health professionals to develop an education and response protocol. It should include a list of community resources, to guide department interaction with those who may be suffering from mental illness or who appear to be in a mental health crisis.

428.5 FIRST RESPONDERS

Safety is a priority for first responders. It is important to recognize that individuals under the influence of alcohol, drugs or both may exhibit symptoms that are similar to those of a person in a mental health crisis. These individuals may still present a serious threat to officers; such a threat should be addressed with reasonable tactics. Nothing in this policy shall be construed to limit an officer's authority to use reasonable force when interacting with a person in crisis.

Officers are reminded that mental health issues, mental health crises and unusual behavior alone are not criminal offenses. Individuals may benefit from treatment as opposed to incarceration.

An officer responding to a call involving a person in crisis should:

(a) Promptly assess the situation independent of reported information and make a preliminary determination regarding whether a mental health crisis may be a factor.

(b) Request available backup officers and specialized resources as deemed necessary and, if it is reasonably believed that the person is in a crisis situation, use conflict resolution and de-escalation techniques to stabilize the incident as appropriate.

(c) If feasible, and without compromising safety, turn off flashing lights, bright lights or sirens.

(d) Attempt to determine if weapons are present or available.

(e) Take into account the person's mental and emotional state and potential inability to understand commands or to appreciate the consequences of his/her action or inaction, as perceived by the officer.

(f) Secure the scene and clear the immediate area as necessary.

(g) Employ tactics to preserve the safety of all participants.

(h) Determine the nature of any crime.

(i) Request a supervisor, as warranted.

(j) Evaluate any available information that might assist in determining cause or motivation for the person's actions or stated intentions.

(k) If circumstances reasonably permit, consider and employ alternatives to force.

428.6 DE-ESCALATION

Officers should consider that taking no action or passively monitoring the situation may be the most reasonable response to a mental health crisis.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

Once it is determined that a situation is a mental health crisis and immediate safety concerns have been addressed, responding members should be aware of the following considerations and should generally:

- Evaluate safety conditions.
- Introduce themselves and attempt to obtain the person's name.
- Be patient, polite, calm, courteous and avoid overreacting.
- Speak and move slowly and in a non-threatening manner.
- Moderate the level of direct eye contact.
- Remove distractions or disruptive people from the area.
- Demonstrate active listening skills (e.g., summarize the person's verbal communication).
- Provide for sufficient avenues of retreat or escape should the situation become volatile.

Responding officers generally should not:

- Use stances or tactics that can be interpreted as aggressive.
- Allow others to interrupt or engage the person.
- Corner a person who is not believed to be armed, violent or suicidal.
- Argue, speak with a raised voice or use threats to obtain compliance.

428.7 INCIDENT ORIENTATION

When responding to an incident that may involve mental illness or a mental health crisis, the officer should request that the dispatcher provide critical information as it becomes available. This includes:

(a) Whether the person relies on drugs or medication, or may have failed to take his/her medication.

(b) Whether there have been prior incidents, suicide threats/attempts, and whether there has been previous police response.

(c) Contact information for a treating physician or mental health professional.

Additional resources and a supervisor should be requested as warranted.

428.8 SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

A supervisor should respond to the scene of any interaction with a person in crisis. Responding supervisors should:

(a) Attempt to secure appropriate and sufficient resources.

(b) Closely monitor any use of force, including the use of restraints, and ensure that those subjected to the use of force are provided with timely access to medical care (see the Handcuffing and Restraints Policy).

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(c) Consider strategic disengagement. Absent an imminent threat to the public and, as circumstances dictate, this may include removing or reducing law enforcement resources or engaging in passive monitoring.

(d) Ensure that all reports are completed and that incident documentation uses appropriate terminology and language.

(e) Conduct an after-action tactical and operational debriefing, and prepare an after-action evaluation of the incident to be forwarded to the Division Commander.

(f) Evaluate whether a critical incident stress management debriefing for involved members is warranted.

428.9 INCIDENT REPORTING

Members engaging in any oral or written communication associated with a mental health crisis should be mindful of the sensitive nature of such communications and should exercise appropriate discretion when referring to or describing persons and circumstances.

Members having contact with a person in crisis should keep related information confidential, except to the extent that revealing information is necessary to conform to department reporting procedures or other official mental health or medical proceedings.

428.9.1 DIVERSION

Individuals who are not being arrested should be processed in accordance with the Mental Illness Commitments Policy.

428.10 CIVILIAN INTERACTION WITH PEOPLE IN CRISIS

Civilian members may be required to interact with persons in crisis in an administrative capacity, such as dispatching, records request, and animal control issues.

(a) Members should treat all individuals equally and with dignity and respect.

(b) If a member believes that he/she is interacting with a person in crisis, he/she should proceed patiently and in a calm manner.

(c) Members should be aware and understand that the person may make unusual or bizarre claims or requests.

If a person's behavior makes the member feel unsafe, if the person is or becomes disruptive or violent, or if the person acts in such a manner as to cause the member to believe that the person may be harmful to him/herself or others, an officer should be promptly summoned to provide assistance.

428.11 TRAINING

In coordination with the mental health community and appropriate stakeholders, the Department will develop and provide comprehensive education and training to all department members to enable them to effectively interact with persons in crisis.

First Amendment Assemblies

429.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides guidance for responding to public assemblies or demonstrations.

429.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department respects the rights of people to peaceably assemble. It is the policy of this department not to unreasonably interfere with, harass, intimidate or discriminate against persons engaged in the lawful exercise of their rights, while also preserving the peace, protecting life and preventing the destruction of property.

429.3 GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS

Individuals or groups present on the public way, such as public facilities, streets or walkways, generally have the right to assemble, rally, demonstrate, protest or otherwise express their views and opinions through varying forms of communication, including the distribution of printed matter. These rights may be limited by laws or ordinances regulating such matters as the obstruction of individual or vehicle access or egress, trespass, noise, picketing, distribution of handbills and leafleting, and loitering. However, officers shall not take action or fail to take action based on the opinions being expressed.

Participant behavior during a demonstration or other public assembly can vary. This may include, but is not limited to:

- Lawful, constitutionally protected actions and speech.
- Civil disobedience (typically involving minor criminal acts).
- Rioting.

All of these behaviors may be present during the same event. Therefore, it is imperative that law enforcement actions are measured and appropriate for the behaviors officers may encounter. This is particularly critical if force is being used. Adaptable strategies and tactics are essential. The purpose of a law enforcement presence at the scene of public assemblies and demonstrations should be to preserve the peace, to protect life and prevent the destruction of property.

Officers should not:

(a) Engage in assembly or demonstration-related discussion with participants.

(b) Harass, confront or intimidate participants.

(c) Seize the cameras, cell phones or materials of participants or observers unless an officer is placing a person under lawful arrest.

Supervisors should continually observe department members under their commands to ensure that members' interaction with participants and their response to crowd dynamics is appropriate.

429.3.1 PHOTOGRAPHS AND VIDEO RECORDINGS

Photographs and video recording, when appropriate, can serve a number of purposes, including support of criminal prosecutions by documenting criminal acts; assistance in evaluating department performance; serving as training material; recording the use of dispersal orders; and facilitating a response to allegations of improper law enforcement conduct.

Photographs and videos will not be used or retained for the sole purpose of collecting or maintaining information about the political, religious or social views of associations, or the activities of any individual, group, association, organization, corporation, business or partnership, unless such information directly relates to an investigation of criminal activities and there is reasonable suspicion that the subject of the information is involved in criminal conduct.

429.4 UNPLANNED EVENTS

When responding to an unplanned or spontaneous public gathering, the first responding officer should conduct an assessment of conditions, including, but not limited to, the following:

- Location
- Number of participants
- Apparent purpose of the event
- Leadership (whether it is apparent and/or whether it is effective)
- Any initial indicators of unlawful or disruptive activity
- Indicators that lawful use of public facilities, streets or walkways will be impacted
- Ability and/or need to continue monitoring the incident

Initial assessment information should be promptly communicated to Minot Central Dispatch, and the assignment of a supervisor should be requested. Additional resources should be requested as appropriate. The responding supervisor shall assume command of the incident until command is expressly assumed by another, and the assumption of command is communicated to the involved members. A clearly defined command structure that is consistent with the Incident Command System (ICS) should be established as resources are deployed.

429.5 PLANNED EVENT PREPARATION

For planned events, comprehensive, incident-specific operational plans should be developed. The ICS should be considered for such events.

429.5.1 INFORMATION GATHERING AND ASSESSMENT

In order to properly assess the potential impact of a public assembly or demonstration on public safety and order, relevant information should be collected and vetted. This may include:

- Information obtained from outreach to group organizers or leaders.
- Information about past and potential unlawful conduct associated with the event or similar events.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

- The potential time, duration, scope, and type of planned activities.
- Any other information related to the goal of providing a balanced response to criminal activity and the protection of public safety interests.

Information should be obtained in a transparent manner, and the sources documented. Relevant information should be communicated to the appropriate parties in a timely manner.

Information will be obtained in a lawful manner and will not be based solely on the purpose or content of the assembly or demonstration, or actual or perceived characteristics such as race, ethnicity, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, economic status, age, cultural group, or disability of the participants (or any other characteristic that is unrelated to criminal conduct or the identification of a criminal subject).

429.5.2 OPERATIONAL PLANS

An operational planning team with responsibility for event planning and management should be established. The planning team should develop an operational plan for the event.

The operational plan will minimally provide for:

(a) Command assignments, chain of command structure, roles and responsibilities.

(b) Staffing and resource allocation.

(c) Management of criminal investigations.

(d) Designation of uniform of the day and related safety equipment (e.g., helmets, shields).

(e) Deployment of specialized resources.

(f) Event communications and interoperability in a multijurisdictional event.

(g) Liaison with demonstration leaders and external agencies.

(h) Liaison with City government and legal staff.

(i) Media relations.

(j) Logistics: food, fuel, replacement equipment, duty hours, relief and transportation.

(k) Traffic management plans.

(l) First aid and emergency medical service provider availability.

(m) Prisoner transport and detention.

(n) Review of policies regarding public assemblies and use of force in crowd control.

(o) Parameters for declaring an unlawful assembly.

(p) Arrest protocol, including management of mass arrests.

(q) Protocol for recording information flow and decisions.

(r) Rules of engagement, including rules of conduct, protocols for field force extraction and arrests, and any authorization required for the use of force.

(s) Protocol for handling complaints during the event.

(t) Parameters for the use of body-worn cameras and other portable recording devices.

429.5.3 MUTUAL AID AND EXTERNAL RESOURCES

The magnitude and anticipated duration of an event may necessitate interagency cooperation and coordination. The assigned Incident Commander should ensure that any required memorandums of understanding or other agreements are properly executed, and that any anticipated mutual aid is requested and facilitated (see the Mutual Aid and Outside Agency Assistance Policy).

429.6 UNLAWFUL ASSEMBLY DISPERSAL ORDERS

If a public gathering or demonstration remains peaceful and nonviolent, and there is no reasonably imminent threat to persons or property, the Incident Commander should generally authorize continued monitoring of the event.

Should the Incident Commander make a determination that public safety is presently or is about to be jeopardized, he/she or the authorized designee should attempt to verbally persuade event organizers or participants to disperse of their own accord. Warnings and advisements may be communicated through established communications links with leaders and/or participants or to the group.

When initial attempts at verbal persuasion are unsuccessful, the Incident Commander or the authorized designee should make a clear standardized announcement to the gathering that the event is an unlawful assembly, and should order the dispersal of the participants. The announcement should be communicated by whatever methods are reasonably available to ensure that the content of the message is clear and that it has been heard by the participants. The announcement should be amplified, made in different languages as appropriate, made from multiple locations in the affected area and documented by audio and video. The announcement should provide information about what law enforcement actions will take place if illegal behavior continues and should identify routes for egress. A reasonable time to disperse should be allowed following a dispersal order.

429.7 USE OF FORCE

Use of force is governed by current department policy and applicable law (see the Use of Force, Handcuffing and Restraints, Control Devices and Techniques, and Conducted Energy Device policies).

Individuals refusing to comply with lawful orders (e.g., nonviolent refusal to disperse) should be given a clear verbal warning and a reasonable opportunity to comply. If an individual refuses to comply with lawful orders, the Incident Commander shall evaluate the type of resistance and adopt a reasonable response in order to accomplish the law enforcement mission (such as dispersal or arrest of those acting in violation of the law). Control devices and conducted energy devices should be considered only when the participants' conduct reasonably appears to present the potential to harm officers, themselves or others, or will result in substantial property loss or damage (see the Control Devices and Techniques and the Conducted Energy Device policies).

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

Force or control devices, including oleoresin capsaicin (OC), should be directed toward individuals and not toward groups or crowds, unless specific individuals cannot reasonably be targeted due to extreme circumstances, such as a riotous crowd.

Any use of force by a member of this department shall be documented promptly, completely, and accurately in an appropriate report. The type of report required may depend on the nature of the incident.

429.8 ARRESTS

The Minot Police Department should respond to unlawful behavior in a manner that is consistent with the operational plan. If practicable, warnings or advisements should be communicated prior to arrest.

Mass arrests should be employed only when alternate tactics and strategies have been, or reasonably appear likely to be, unsuccessful. Mass arrests shall only be undertaken upon the order of the Incident Commander or the authorized designee. There must be probable cause for each arrest.

If employed, mass arrest protocols should fully integrate:

(a) Reasonable measures to address the safety of officers and arrestees.

(b) Dedicated arrest, booking and report writing teams.

(c) Timely access to medical care.

(d) Timely access to legal resources.

(e) Timely processing of arrestees.

(f) Full accountability for arrestees and evidence.

(g) Coordination and cooperation with the prosecuting authority, jail and courts (see the Citation Releases Policy).

429.9 MEDIA RELATIONS

The Public Information Officer should use all available avenues of communication, including press releases, briefings, press conferences and social media to maintain open channels of communication with media representatives and the public about the status and progress of the event, taking all opportunities to reassure the public about the professional management of the event (see the Media Relations Policy).

429.10 DEMOBILIZATION

When appropriate, the Incident Commander or the authorized designee should implement a phased and orderly withdrawal of law enforcement resources. All relieved personnel should promptly complete any required reports, including use of force reports, and account for all issued equipment and vehicles to their supervisors prior to returning to normal operational duties.

429.11 POST EVENT

The Incident Commander should designate a member to assemble full documentation of the event, to include the following:

(a) Operational plan

(b) Any incident logs

(c) Any assignment logs

(d) Vehicle, fuel, equipment and supply records

(e) Incident, arrest, use of force, injury and property damage reports

(f) Photographs, audio/video recordings, Minot Central Dispatch records/tapes

(g) Media accounts (print and broadcast media)

429.11.1 AFTER-ACTION REPORTING

The Incident Commander should work with City legal counsel, as appropriate, to prepare a comprehensive after-action report of the event, explaining all incidents where force was used including the following:

(a) Date, time and description of the event

(b) Actions taken and outcomes (e.g., injuries, property damage, arrests)

(c) Problems identified

(d) Significant events

(e) Recommendations for improvement; opportunities for training should be documented in a generic manner, without identifying individuals or specific incidents, facts or circumstances.

429.12 TRAINING

Department members should receive periodic training regarding this policy, as well as the dynamics of crowd control and incident management. The Department should, when practicable, train with its external and mutual aid partners.

Civil Disputes

430.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides members of the Minot Police Department with guidance for addressing conflicts between persons when no criminal investigation or enforcement action is warranted (e.g., civil matters), with the goal of minimizing any potential for violence or criminal acts.

The Domestic Violence Policy will address specific legal mandates related to domestic violence court orders. References in this policy to “court orders” apply to any order of a court that does not require arrest or enforcement by the terms of the order or by North Dakota law.

430.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department recognizes that a law enforcement presence at a civil dispute can play an important role in the peace and safety of the community. Subject to available resources, members of this department will assist at the scene of civil disputes with the primary goal of safeguarding persons and property, preventing criminal activity and maintaining the peace. When handling civil disputes, members will remain impartial, maintain a calm presence, give consideration to all sides and refrain from giving legal or inappropriate advice.

430.3 GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS

When appropriate, members handling a civil dispute should encourage the involved parties to seek the assistance of resolution services or take the matter to the civil courts. Members must not become personally involved in disputes and shall at all times remain impartial.

While not intended to be an exhaustive list, members should give considerations to the following when handling civil disputes:

(a) Civil disputes tend to be confrontational and members should be alert that they can escalate to violence very quickly. De-escalation techniques should be used when appropriate.

(b) Members should not dismiss alleged or observed criminal violations as a civil matter and should initiate the appropriate investigation and report when criminal activity is apparent.

(c) Members shall not provide legal advice, however, when appropriate, members should inform the parties when they are at risk of violating criminal laws.

(d) Members are reminded that they shall not enter a residence or other non-public location without legal authority including valid consent.

(e) Members should not take an unreasonable amount of time assisting in these matters and generally should contact a supervisor if it appears that time for peacekeeping efforts will be extensive..

430.4 COURT ORDERS

Disputes involving court orders can be complex. Where no mandate exists for an officer to make an arrest for a violation of a court order, the matter may be addressed by documenting any apparent court order violation in a report. If there appears to be a more immediate need for enforcement action, the investigating officer should consult a supervisor prior to making any arrest.

If a person appears to be violating the terms of a court order but is disputing the validity of the order or its applicability, the investigating officer should document the following:

(a) The person's knowledge of the court order or whether proof of service exists.

(b) Any specific reason or rationale the involved person offers for not complying with the terms of the order.

A copy of the court order may be attached to the report when available. The report amy be forwarded to the appropriate prosecutor. The report may also be forwarded to the court issuing the order with a notice that the report was also forwarded to the prosecutor for review.

430.4.1 STANDBY REQUESTS

Standby requests may become volatile and the use oc cover officers should be strongly considered when handling these type of assignments.

Officers responding to a call for standby assistance to retrieve property should meet the person requesting assistance at a neutral location to discuss the process. The person should be advised that items that are disputed will not be allowed to be removed. The member may advise the person to seek private legal advice as to the distribution of disputed property.

Members should accompany the person to the location of the property. Members should ask if the other party will allow removal of the property or whether the other party would remove the property.

If the other party is uncooperative, the person requesting standby assistance should be instructed to seek private legal advice. Officers should not order the other party to allow entry or the removal of any items. If there is a restraining or similar order against the person requesting standby assistance, that person should be asked to leave the scene or they may be subject to arrest for violation of the order.

If the other party is not present at the location, the member will not allow entry into the location or the removal of property from the location.

430.5 VEHICLES AND PERSONAL PROPERTY

Officers may be faced with disputes regarding possession or ownership of vehicles or other personal property. Officers may review documents provided by parties or available databases (e.g., vehicle registration), but should be aware that legal possession of vehicles or personal property can be complex. Generally, officers should not take any enforcement action unless a crime is apparent. The people and the vehicle or personal property involved should be identified and the incident documented.

430.6 REAL PROPERTY

Disputes over possession or occupancy of real property (e.g., land, homes, apartments) should generally be handled through a person seeking a court order.

Medical Aid and Response

431.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy recognizes that members often encounter persons in need of medical aid and establishes a law enforcement response to such situations.

431.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department that all officers and other designated members be trained to provide emergency medical aid and to facilitate an emergency medical response.

431.3 FIRST RESPONDING MEMBER RESPONSIBILITIES

Whenever practicable, members should take appropriate steps to provide initial medical aid (e.g., first aid, CPR and use of an automated external defibrillator (AED)) in accordance with their training and current certification levels. This should be done for those in need of immediate care and only when the member can safely do so.

Prior to initiating medical aid, the member should contact Minot Central Dispatch and request response by Emergency Medical Services (EMS) as the member deems appropriate.

Members should follow universal precautions when providing medical aid, such as wearing gloves and avoiding contact with bodily fluids, consistent with the Communicable Diseases Policy. Members should use a barrier or bag device to perform rescue breathing.

When requesting EMS, the member should provide Minot Central Dispatch with information for relay to EMS personnel in order to enable an appropriate response, including:

(a) The location where EMS is needed.

(b) The nature of the incident.

(c) Any known scene hazards.

(d) Information on the person in need of EMS, such as:

1. Signs and symptoms as observed by the member.
2. Changes in apparent condition.
3. Number of patients, sex and age, if known.
4. Whether the person is conscious, breathing and alert, or is believed to have consumed drugs or alcohol.
5. Whether the person is showing signs of extreme agitation or is engaging in violent irrational behavior accompanied by profuse sweating, extraordinary strength beyond their physical characteristics, and imperviousness to pain.

Members should stabilize the scene whenever practicable while awaiting the arrival of EMS.

Members should not direct EMS personnel regarding whether to transport the person for treatment.

431.4 TRANSPORTING ILL AND INJURED PERSONS

Except in extraordinary cases where alternatives are not reasonably available, members should not transport persons who are unconscious, who have serious injuries or who may be seriously ill. EMS personnel should be called to handle patient transportation.

Officers should search any person who is in custody before releasing that person to EMS for transport.

An officer should accompany any person in custody during transport in an ambulance when requested by EMS personnel, when it reasonably appears necessary to provide security, when it is necessary for investigative purposes or when so directed by a supervisor.

Members should not provide emergency escort for medical transport or civilian vehicles.

431.5 PERSONS REFUSING EMS CARE

If a person who is not in custody refuses EMS care or refuses to be transported to a medical facility, an officer shall not force that person to receive care or be transported. However, members may assist EMS personnel when EMS personnel determine the person lacks mental capacity to understand the consequences of refusing medical care or to make an informed decision, and the lack of immediate medical attention may result in serious bodily injury or the death of the person.

In cases where mental illness may be a factor, the officer should consider proceeding with a mental illness commitment in accordance with the Mental Illness Commitments Policy.

If an officer believes that a person who is in custody requires EMS care and the person refuses, he/she should encourage the person to receive medical treatment. The officer may also consider contacting a family member to help persuade the person to agree to treatment or who may be able to authorize treatment for the person.

If the person still refuses, the officer will require the person to be transported to the nearest medical facility. In such cases, the officer should consult with a supervisor prior to the transport.

Members shall not sign refusal-for-treatment forms or forms accepting financial responsibility for treatment.

431.6 MEDICAL ATTENTION RELATED TO USE OF FORCE

Specific guidelines for medical attention for injuries sustained from a use of force may be found in the Use of Force, Handcuffing and Restraints, Control Devices and Techniques, and Conducted Energy Device policies.

431.7 AIR AMBULANCE

Generally, when on-scene, EMS personnel will be responsible for determining whether an air ambulance response should be requested. An air ambulance may be appropriate when there are victims with life-threatening injuries or who require specialized treatment (e.g., gunshot wounds, burns, obstetrical cases), and distance or other known delays will affect the EMS response.

The Patrol Division Division Commander should develop guidelines for air ambulance landings or enter into local operating agreements for the use of air ambulances, as applicable. In creating those guidelines, the Department should identify:

- Responsibility and authority for designating a landing zone and determining the size of the landing zone.
- Responsibility for securing the area and maintaining that security once the landing zone is identified.
- Consideration of the air ambulance provider's minimum standards for proximity to vertical obstructions and surface composition (e.g., dirt, gravel, pavement, concrete, grass).
- Consideration of the air ambulance provider's minimum standards for horizontal clearance from structures, fences, power poles, antennas or roadways.
- Responsibility for notifying the appropriate highway or transportation agencies if a roadway is selected as a landing zone.
- Procedures for ground personnel to communicate with flight personnel during the operation.

One department member at the scene should be designated as the air ambulance communications contact. Headlights, spotlights and flashlights should not be aimed upward at the air ambulance. Members should direct vehicle and pedestrian traffic away from the landing zone.

Members should follow these cautions when near an air ambulance:

- Never approach the aircraft until signaled by the flight crew.
- Always approach the aircraft from the front.
- Avoid the aircraft's tail rotor area.
- Wear eye protection during landing and take-off.
- Do not carry or hold items, such as IV bags, above the head.
- Ensure that no one smokes near the aircraft.

431.8 AUTOMATED EXTERNAL DEFIBRILLATOR (AED) USE

A member may use an AED only after he/she has received training in a nationally recognized course in CPR and AED use (N.D.C.C. § 32-03.1-02.3).

431.8.1 AED USER RESPONSIBILITY

Members who are issued AEDs for use in department vehicles should check the AED at the beginning of the shift to ensure it is properly charged and functioning. Any AED that is not functioning properly will be taken out of service and given to the Administrative Captainor designee who is responsible for ensuring appropriate maintenance.

Following use of an AED, the device shall be cleaned and/or decontaminated as required. The electrodes and/or pads will be replaced as recommended by the AED manufacturer.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

Any member using an AED shall notify Minot Central Dispatch as soon as possible and request response by EMS.

431.8.2 AED REPORTING
Any member using an AED will complete an incident report detailing its use.

431.8.3 AED TRAINING AND MAINTENANCE
The Administrative Captain shall ensure appropriate training is provided to members authorized to use an AED (N.D.C.C. § 32-03.1-02.3).

The Administrative Captain is responsible for ensuring AED devices are appropriately maintained and will retain records of all maintenance in accordance with the established records retention schedule.

431.9 ADMINISTRATION OF OPIOID OVERDOSE MEDICATION

Members may administer opioid overdose medication in accordance with protocol specified by the health care professional who prescribed the medication for use by the member (N.D.C.C. § 23-01-42).

431.9.1 OPIOID OVERDOSE MEDICATION USER RESPONSIBILITIES
Members who are qualified to administer opioid overdose medication, such as naloxone, should handle, store and administer the medication consistent with their training. Members should check the medication and associated administration equipment at the beginning of their shifts to ensure they are serviceable and not expired. Any expired medication or unserviceable administration equipment should be removed from service and given to the Administrative Captain.

Any member who administers an opioid overdose medication should contact Minot Central Dispatch as soon as possible and request response by EMS.

431.9.2 OPIOID OVERDOSE MEDICATION REPORTING
Any member administering opioid overdose medication should detail its use in an appropriate report.

431.9.3 OPIOID OVERDOSE MEDICATION TRAINING
The Administrative Captain should ensure training is provided to members authorized to administer opioid overdose medication.

431.10 SICK OR INJURED ARRESTEE

If an arrestee appears ill or injured, or claims illness or injury, he/she should be medically cleared prior to booking.

If the jail or detention facility refuses to accept custody of an arrestee based on medical screening, the officer should note the name of the facility person refusing to accept custody and the reason for refusal, and should notify a supervisor to determine the appropriate action.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

Arrestees who appear to have a serious medical issue should be transported by ambulance. Officers shall not transport an arrestee to a hospital without a supervisor's approval.

Nothing in this section should delay an officer from requesting EMS when an arrestee reasonably appears to be exhibiting symptoms that appear to be life threatening, including breathing problems or an altered level of consciousness, or is claiming an illness or injury that reasonably warrants an EMS response in accordance with the officer's training.

431.11 FIRST AID TRAINING

Subject to available resources, the Administrative Captain should ensure officers receive periodic first aid training appropriate for their position.

Medical Marijuana

432.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to provide members of this department with guidelines for investigating the acquisition, possession, transportation, delivery, production, or use of marijuana under North Dakota's medical marijuana laws.

432.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include (N.D.C.C. § 19–24.1–01):

Allowable amount of usable marijuana – Possession of no more than three ounces of dried leaves or flowers, or the amount that can be purchased in concentrated form, or combination of both as set forth in N.D.C.C. § 19-24.1-01.

Registered designated caregiver - An individual who agrees to manage the well-being of a registered qualifying patient with respect to the qualifying patient's medical use of marijuana and who has been issued a valid registry identification card from the North Dakota Department of Health (DOH).

Registered qualifying patient - An individual who has been diagnosed by a health care provider as having a debilitating medical condition and issued a valid registry identification card from the North Dakota DOH.

432.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department to prioritize resources to avoid making arrests related to marijuana that the arresting officer reasonably believes would not be prosecuted by state or federal authorities.

North Dakota medical marijuana laws are intended to provide protection from prosecution to those who produce, process, sell, dispense, and use medical marijuana. However, North Dakota medical marijuana laws do not affect federal laws and there is no medical exception under federal law for the possession or distribution of marijuana. The Minot Police Department will exercise discretion to ensure laws are appropriately enforced without unreasonably burdening both those individuals protected under North Dakota law and the resources of the Department.

432.3 INVESTIGATION

Investigations involving the possession, delivery, production, or use of marijuana generally fall into one of several categories:

(a) Investigations when no person makes a medicinal claim

(b) Investigations involving a registered qualifying patient

(c) Investigations involving a registered designated caregiver

Medical Marijuana

432.3.1 INVESTIGATIONS WITH NO MEDICAL CLAIM

In any investigation involving the possession, delivery, production, or use of marijuana or drug paraphernalia where no person claims that the marijuana is used for medicinal purposes, the officer should proceed with a criminal investigation. A medicinal claim may be raised at any time, so officers should document any statements and observations that may be relevant to whether the marijuana was possessed or produced for medicinal purposes.

432.3.2 INVESTIGATIONS INVOLVING A REGISTERED QUALIFYING PATIENT

Officers shall not take enforcement action against a registered qualifying patient for acquiring, using, or possessing medical marijuana or related supplies who are in compliance with North Dakota's medical marijuana program. This will generally include a registered qualifying patient in possession of his/her registry identification card who possesses no more than an allowable amount of usable marijuana (N.D.C.C. § 19–24.1–32).

Enforcement action should not be taken because a registered qualifying patient is not in physical possession of his/her registry identification card if it can be established the person is a registered qualifying patient.

432.3.3 INVESTIGATIONS INVOLVING A REGISTERED DESIGNATED CAREGIVER

Officers shall not take enforcement action against a registered designated caregiver for assisting a registered qualifying patient to acquire, use, or possess medical marijuana or related supplies in compliance with North Dakota's medical marijuana program (N.D.C.C. § 19–24.1–32).

Enforcement action should not be taken because a registered designated caregiver is not in physical possession of his/her registry identification card if it can be established the person is a registered designated caregiver. A registered designated caregiver may receive compensation for associated costs (N.D.C.C. § 19–24.1–32).

432.3.4 ADDITIONAL CONSIDERATIONS

Officers should consider the following when investigating an incident involving marijuana possession, delivery, production, or use:

(a) Registry identification cards specify when a patient is authorized to use the dried leaves or flowers of marijuana (N.D.C.C. § 19–24.1–11).

(b) Because enforcement of medical marijuana laws can be complex, time-consuming, and call for resources unavailable at the time of initial investigation, officers may consider submitting a report to the prosecutor for review, in lieu of making an arrest. This can be particularly appropriate when:

1. The suspect has been identified and can be easily located at another time.
2. The case would benefit from review by a person with expertise in medical marijuana investigations.
3. Sufficient evidence, such as photographs or samples, has been lawfully obtained.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

4. Any other relevant factors, such as available department resources and time constraints.

(c) Manufacturing facilities, dispensaries, and registered compassion center agents are also protected from prosecution for possession and transfer or marijuana or related products when conducted in accordance with North Dakota's medical marijuana program (N.D.C.C. § 19–24.1–32).

(d) Before proceeding with enforcement related to a manufacturing facility, dispensary, or a registered compassion center agent, officers should consider conferring with appropriate legal counsel and the North Dakota DOH.

(e) Registry cards can be verified through the North Dakota DOH's secure verification system (N.D.C.C. § 19–24.1–31).

432.3.5 EXCEPTIONS

Officers may take enforcement action if the person (N.D.C.C. § 19–24.1–33):

(a) Possesses or consumes an allowable amount of usable marijuana:

1. On a school bus or school van that is used for school purposes.
2. On the grounds of any public or private school.
3. At any location while a public or private school sanctioned event is occurring at that location.
4. On the grounds of a correctional facility.
5. On the grounds of a child care facility or licensed home day care, unless authorized under rules adopted by the North Dakota Department of Human Services (DHS).

(b) Undertakes specified offenses related to smoking in public.

(c) Allows the smoke or vapor to be inhaled by a minor who is not the registered qualifying patient.

(d) Operates, navigates, or is in actual physical control of a motor vehicle, aircraft, train, or motorboat while under the influence of marijuana.

432.4 FEDERAL LAW ENFORCEMENT

Officers should provide information regarding a marijuana investigation to federal law enforcement authorities when it is requested by federal law enforcement authorities or whenever the officer believes those authorities would have a particular interest in the information.

432.5 PROPERTY SECTION SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

The Property Section supervisor should ensure that marijuana, drug paraphernalia, or other related property seized from a person engaged or assisting in the use of medical marijuana is not destroyed. The Property Section supervisor is not responsible for caring for live marijuana plants.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

Upon the prosecutor's decision to forgo prosecution, or the dismissal of charges or an acquittal, the Property Section supervisor should, as soon as practicable, return to the person from whom it was seized any useable marijuana, plants, drug paraphernalia, or other related property.

The Property Section supervisor should not destroy marijuana that was alleged to be for medical purposes except upon receipt of a court order.

The Property Section supervisor may release marijuana to federal law enforcement authorities upon presentation of a valid court order or by a written order of the Investigations Division supervisor.

432.6 REPORTING

432.6.1 REPORTABLE INCIDENTS

Officers who reasonably believe one of the following has occurred are required to report the incident to the North Dakota DOH within five days on the form provided by the DOH (N.D.A.C. § 33-44-01-34):

(a) Individuals who are found to be in possession of usable marijuana dispensed pursuant to the state medical marijuana program and who are not registered cardholders.

(b) Registered qualifying patients or designated caregivers who are found in possession of more than the allowable amount of usable marijuana.

432.6.2 ADVERSE REACTIONS

Officers who reasonably believe that an incident involving an overdose or adverse reaction may be related to the use of usable marijuana are required to report the incident to the North Dakota DOH as set forth in N.D.A.C. § 33-44-01-35.

Chapter 5 - Traffic Operations

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

Traffic Function and Responsibility

500.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The goal of traffic law enforcement is to reduce traffic accidents and improve the safety and quality of life for the community through traffic law compliance. This may be achieved through the application of such techniques as geographic/temporal assignment of personnel and equipment and the establishment of preventive patrols to deal with specific categories of unlawful driving behavior. Traffic enforcement techniques are based on accident data, enforcement activity records, traffic volume, traffic conditions and other data. This department provides enforcement efforts, not only in proportion to the frequency of their occurrence in accident situations but also in terms of traffic-related needs.

500.2 TRAFFIC OFFICER DEPLOYMENT

Several factors are considered in the development of deployment schedules for officers of the Minot Police Department. Information provided by the North Dakota Department of Transportation (NDDOT) is a valuable resource for traffic accidents and therefore officer deployment. Some of the factors for analysis include:

- Location
- Time
- Day
- Violation factors

All officers assigned to patrol or traffic enforcement functions will emphasize enforcement of traffic laws and address accident-causing violations during those periods and at those locations where the incidence of accidents is increased. As a matter of routine, all officers will take directed enforcement action on request, and random enforcement action when appropriate, against violators. All officers shall maintain high visibility while working general enforcement, especially at high-accident incidence locations.

Other factors to be considered for deployment are citizen requests, construction zones, school zones or special events.

500.3 ENFORCEMENT

Enforcement actions are commensurate with applicable laws and take into account the degree and severity of the violation committed. This department does not establish ticket quotas and the number of arrests or citations issued by any officer shall not be used as the sole criterion for evaluating officer overall performance. The visibility and quality of an officer’s work effort will be commensurate with the philosophy of this policy. Several methods are effective in the reduction of accidents.

500.4 RECORDS OF TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS

The Department shall maintain records of all violations of local and state vehicle laws including the final disposition of all offenses. The records shall be available to the public as specified in the Records Maintenance and Release Policy.

500.5 HIGH-VISIBILITY VESTS

The Department has provided American National Standards Institute (ANSI) Class II high-visibility vests to reduce the danger to employees who may be exposed to hazards presented by passing traffic, construction vehicles and disaster recovery equipment (23 CFR 655.601).

Although intended primarily for use while performing traffic-related assignments, high-visibility vests should be worn at any time increased visibility would improve the safety or efficiency of the employee.

500.5.1 REQUIRED USE

Except when working in a potentially adversarial or confrontational role, such as during vehicle stops, high-visibility vests should be worn at any time it is anticipated that an employee will be exposed to the hazards of approaching traffic or construction and recovery equipment. Examples of when high-visibility vests should be worn include traffic control duties, accident investigations, lane closures and while at disaster scenes, or anytime high visibility is desirable. When emergency conditions preclude the immediate donning of the vest, officers should retrieve and wear the vest as soon as conditions reasonably permit. Use of the vests shall also be mandatory when directed by a supervisor.

Vests maintained in the investigation units may be used any time a plainclothes officer might benefit from being readily identified as an officer.

500.5.2 CARE AND STORAGE OF HIGH-VISIBILITY VESTS

High-visibility vests shall be maintained by the individual officer and readily available. Before going into service each employee shall ensure a serviceable high-visibility vest is in their duty bag.

Additional high-visibility vests will be available..

Traffic Accident Response And Reporting

501.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The public safety responsibilities of law enforcement include responding to traffic accidents, providing aid and assistance, documentation of the incident and identification of criminal activity. The Minot Police Department prepares traffic accident reports in compliance with the North Dakota Motor Vehicles Code (N.D.C.C. Title 39) and as a public service makes traffic accident information available to the public.

501.2 CALL RESPONSE

Officers should respond without delay when dispatched to a traffic accident. A traffic accident with reported injuries may include an emergency response if the officer reasonably believes such a response is appropriate.

501.2.1 RESPONSE CONSIDERATIONS

An officer responding to and upon arrival at an accident, should consider the following:

(a) The most appropriate route to the incident

(b) Proper placement of the emergency vehicle to provide protection for officers and the scene

(c) Potential for involvement of hazardous materials

(d) Additional support that may be necessary (e.g., traffic control, medical aid, HAZMAT, ambulance, tow vehicles and airship landing)

(e) Providing first aid to any injured parties if it can be done safely, and obtaining medical assistance as necessary

(f) Traffic control and protection of the scene

(g) Clearance of the roadway

501.3 ACCIDENT INVESTIGATION

Investigation of traffic accidents should include, at minimum, the following:

(a) Identification and interview of all involved parties

(b) Identification and interview of any witnesses

(c) Determination if a crime or traffic violation has occurred and taking appropriate enforcement action

(d) Identification and protection of items of apparent evidentiary value

(e) Documentation of the incident as necessary (e.g., statements, measurements, photographs, collection of evidence and reporting) on appropriate report forms

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

501.4 TAKING ENFORCEMENT ACTION

After a thorough investigation in which physical evidence or witness statements indicate that a violation of state traffic statutes contributed to the accident, officers should issue a traffic citation or a misdemeanor citation to the offending driver.

More serious violations, such as vehicular manslaughter or other felonies should involve consultation with a prosecuting attorney prior to charges being filed. If a driver subject to arrest is admitted to a hospital, a supervisor shall be contacted to determine the best enforcement option.

501.5 TRAFFIC ACCIDENT REPORTING

501.5.1 OFFICER RESPONSIBILITIES

Department members shall utilize North Dakota Department of Transportation (NDDOT) forms for the reporting of traffic accidents that meet the following criteria (N.D.C.C. § 39-08-10; N.D.C.C. § 39-08-13):

(a) Injury or death of any person

(b) Apparent property damage of $1,000 or more

Accidents involving an undomesticated animal and resulting in property damage only to the driver's vehicle are exempt from the notice requirements of N.D.C.C. § 39-08-09.

Officers shall notify a supervisor as soon as practicable of any traffic accident involving serious injury or death to any person.

Upon completion of an investigation, officers shall attach a sticker to the window of any damaged vehicle showing that the accident in which the vehicle was involved has been investigated (N.D.C.C. § 39-07-12).

All traffic accident reports taken by members of this department shall be forwarded to the Shift Commander for approval prior to data entry into the records management system.

501.5.2 SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

A supervisor shall respond to the scene of any traffic accident involving serious injury or death of a person and, without delay following positive identification of any person seriously injured or deceased, notify the person's immediate family, as defined by law, or make arrangements for notification by clergy or another suitable person (N.D.C.C. § 39-08-10.1).

This department shall not release the identity of any person seriously injured or deceased in a traffic accident until one of the following occurs:

(a) A member of the immediate family has been notified and given an opportunity to notify other immediate family members; or

(b) Twenty-four hours have elapsed from the time positive identification was made.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

501.5.3 MODIFICATIONS TO TRAFFIC ACCIDENT REPORTS
A change or modification of a written report that alters a material fact in the report may be made only by the person who prepared the report prior to its approval and distribution. A written supplemental report may be made by any authorized employee.

501.6 REPORTING SITUATIONS

501.6.1 TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS INVOLVING CITY VEHICLES
Traffic accident investigation reports shall be taken when a City-owned vehicle is involved in a traffic accident on a roadway or highway, wherein any damage or injury results. A City Property Damage report may be taken in lieu of a traffic accident report when the accident occurs on private property or does not involve another vehicle and the damage is minor. Whenever there is damage to a City vehicle, a City Property Damage Report shall be completed and forwarded to the appropriate Division Commander.

Photographs of the accident scene and vehicle damage shall be taken at the discretion of the traffic investigator or any supervisor.

Accidents involving a police vehicle should be immediately reported to the employees immediate supervisor who will determine the appropriate agency to investigate the incident.

501.6.2 TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS WITH POLICE DEPARTMENT EMPLOYEES
When an employee of this department, either on- or off-duty, is involved in a traffic accident within the jurisdiction of the Minot Police Department the Patrol Supervisor should request the North Dakota Highway Patrol (NDHP) or other outside agency to complete an investigation and report.

501.6.3 TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS WITH OTHER CITY EMPLOYEES OR OFFICIALS
The Patrol Supervisor may request assistance from the NDHP or other outside agency for the investigation of any traffic accident involving any City official or employee where a serious injury or fatality has occurred.

501.6.4 TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS INVOLVING INJURED ANIMALS
Department members should refer to the Animal Control Policy when a traffic accident involves disposition of an injured animal.

Vehicle Towing and Release

502.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides the procedures for towing a vehicle by or at the direction of the Minot Police Department. Nothing in this policy shall require the Department to tow a vehicle.

502.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department will tow vehicles when appropriate and in accordance with the law.

502.3 IMPOUNDS AND STORAGE

When circumstances permit, for example when towing a vehicle for parking or registration violations, the handling employee should, prior to having a vehicle towed, make a good faith effort to notify the owner of the vehicle that it is subject to removal. This may be accomplished by personal contact, telephone or by leaving a notice attached to the vehicle at least 48 hours prior to removal. If a vehicle presents a hazard, such as being abandoned on the roadway, it may be towed immediately (N.D.C.C. § 39-10-47; N.D.C.C. § 39-10-48).

If any personal property or cargo that has been spilled from a vehicle is presenting a hazard, the property or cargo may also be removed immediately (N.D.C.C. § 39-10-47).

The responsibilities of those employees storing or impounding a vehicle are as follows.

502.3.1 VEHICLE STORAGE REPORT

Department members requesting towing, seizure or impound of a vehicle shall complete a vehicle impound report that includes a description of property within the vehicle as well as existing damage. The vehicle impound report is then submitted to dispatch as soon as practicable after the vehicle is stored.

Approved vehicle impound forms shall be promptly filed so that they are immediately available for release or for information should inquiries be made.

502.3.2 REMOVAL FROM A TRAFFIC ACCIDENT SCENE

When a vehicle has been involved in a traffic accident and must be removed from the scene, the officer shall have the driver select a towing company, if reasonably possible, and shall relay the request for the specified towing company to Minot Central Dispatch. When there is no preferred company requested Central Dispatch will contact the company with the City of Minot towing contract.

If the owner is incapacitated or for any reason it is necessary for the Department to assume responsibility for a vehicle involved in an accident, the officer shall request the dispatcher to call the contracted company to respond. The officer will then conduct an inventory and store the vehicle using the vehicle impound report.

Vehicle Towing and Release

502.3.3 STORAGE AT AN ARREST SCENE

Whenever a person in charge or in control of a vehicle is arrested, it is the policy of this department to provide reasonable safekeeping by towing the arrestee's vehicle subject to the exceptions described below. The vehicle shall be towed whenever it is needed for the furtherance of an investigation or prosecution of the case, or when the community caretaker doctrine would reasonably suggest that the vehicle should be towed (e.g., traffic hazard, high crime area).

Situations where consideration should be given to leaving a vehicle at the scene in lieu of towing, provided the vehicle can be lawfully parked and left in a reasonably secured and safe condition, include:

- A traffic-related warrant arrest.
- Situations where the vehicle was not used to further the offense for which the driver was arrested.
- Whenever the licensed owner of the vehicle is present, and is willing and able to take control of any vehicle that was not involved in criminal activity.
- Whenever the vehicle does not need to be towed and the owner requests that it be left at the scene. In such cases the owner shall be informed that the Department will not be responsible for theft or damages.

502.3.4 DRIVING A NON-CITY VEHICLE

Vehicles that have been towed by or at the direction of the Department should not be driven by police personnel unless it is necessary to move a vehicle a short distance to eliminate a hazard, prevent the obstruction of a fire hydrant or to comply with parking regulations.

502.3.5 DISPATCHER'S RESPONSIBILITIES

Upon receiving a request for towing, the dispatcher shall promptly telephone the specified towing service. The officer shall be advised when the request has been made and the towing service has been dispatched.

When there is no preferred company requested, the dispatcher shall call the contracted company..

502.3.6 RECORDS SECTION RESPONSIBILITY

Vehicle storage forms shall be promptly filed so that they are immediately available for release or review should inquiries be made.

Minot Central Dispatch personnel should promptly enter pertinent data from a completed vehicle storage form report into the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) and the North Dakota Criminal Justice Information Sharing (CJIS) system to determine if the vehicle has been reported stolen.

Assigned department personnel shall:

(a) Determine the names and addresses of any individuals having an interest in the vehicle through North Dakota Department of Transportation (NDDOT) or CJIS databases. Within 10 days of the impoundment by department personnel, the department shall notify any individual identified as having an interest in the vehicle of the impoundment unless all of the following apply (N.D.C.C. § 23.1-15-04):

1. The vehicle is more than seven model years of age.
2. The vehicle lacks vital component parts.
3. The vehicle does not display a current valid license plate for North Dakota or any other state or foreign country.

(b) Send notice by certified mail, return receipt requested, to each individual identified as having an interest in the vehicle. If the identity and address of the registered owner and all lienholders cannot be determined with reasonable certainty, the notice shall be published once in a newspaper of general circulation in the City. The notice shall include (N.D.C.C. § 23.1-15-05):

1. The date and place where the vehicle was taken into custody.
2. The year, make, model, and serial number of the abandoned motor vehicle.
3. The place where the vehicle is being held.
4. Information for the owner, any lienholders, or secured parties that they have a right to reclaim the vehicle.
5. A statement that failure of the owner, lienholders, or secured parties to exercise their right to reclaim the vehicle is deemed a waiver of all right, title, and interest in the vehicle and a consent to disposal of the vehicle in accordance with N.D.C.C. § 23.1-15-07.

502.4 TOWING SERVICES

The City of Minot periodically selects one or more firms to act as official tow services and awards contracts to those firms. Those firms will be used when:

(a) It is necessary to safeguard a vehicle due to the inability of the owner or operator to take the required action.

(b) A vehicle is being held as evidence in connection with an investigation.

(c) It is otherwise necessary to store a motor vehicle. This would include situations involving the recovery of stolen or abandoned vehicles and the removal of vehicles obstructing traffic in violation of state or local regulations.

502.5 VEHICLE INVENTORY

All property in a stored or impounded vehicle shall be inventoried and listed on the vehicle storage form. This includes the trunk and any compartments or containers, even if they are closed and/or locked. Members conducting inventory searches should be as thorough and accurate as practicable in preparing an itemized inventory. These inventory procedures are for the purpose of protecting an owner’s property while the owner is in police custody, to provide for the safety of officers and the public, and to protect the Department against fraudulent claims of lost, stolen or damaged property.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

If the apparent potential for damage to a locked container reasonably appears to outweigh the protection of the items inside, other options to consider regarding locked containers include, but are not limited to, obtaining access to the locked container from the owner, placing the locked container into safekeeping or obtaining a written waiver of responsibility for the contents of the locked container.

502.6 PRESERVATION OF EVIDENCE

An officer removing a vehicle who has probable cause to believe that the vehicle or its contents constitute any evidence which tends to show that a criminal offense has been committed, or tends to show that a particular person has committed a criminal offense, should ensure that all legally required and reasonably necessary efforts to preserve the evidence, including but not limited to, safe storage, are taken until the evidence is released to the owner or otherwise disposed of according to law.

502.7 SECURITY OF VEHICLES AND PROPERTY

Unless it would cause an unreasonable delay in the completion of a vehicle impound/storage or create an issue of officer safety, an officer should make reasonable accommodations to permit a driver/owner to retrieve small items of value or personal need (e.g., cash, jewelry, cellular telephone, prescriptions) that are not considered evidence or contraband.

If a search of a vehicle leaves the vehicle or any property contained therein vulnerable to unauthorized entry, theft or damage, personnel conducting the search shall take such steps as are reasonably necessary to secure and/or preserve the vehicle or property.

Impaired Driving

503.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides guidance to members of the Department who play a role in the detection and investigation of driving under the influence (DUI).

503.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department is committed to the safety of the roadways and the community and will pursue fair but aggressive enforcement of North Dakota's impaired driving laws.

503.3 INVESTIGATIONS

Officers should not enforce DUI laws to the exclusion of their other duties unless specifically assigned to DUI enforcement. All officers are expected to enforce these laws with due diligence.

Any DUI investigation will be documented. Information that should be documented includes, at a minimum:

(a) The field sobriety tests (FSTs) administered and the results.

(b) The officer's observations that indicate impairment on the part of the individual, and the officer's health-related inquiries that may help to identify any serious health concerns (e.g., diabetic shock).

(c) Sources of additional information (e.g., reporting party, witnesses) and their observations.

(d) Information about any audio and/or video recording of the individual's driving or subsequent actions.

(e) The location and time frame of the individual's vehicle operation and how this was determined.

(f) Any prior related convictions in North Dakota or another jurisdiction.

503.4 FIELD TESTS

Officers who are conducting a DUI investigation should conduct Standardized Field Sobriety Testing in accordance with training based on the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) recommendations.

503.4.1 SCREENING TEST

Any person who operates a motor vehicle and is stopped for a moving violation, or is involved in a crash, or is impaired in violation of N.D.C.C. § 39-08-01 (or an equivalent offense), is deemed to have given consent to submit to on-site screening tests of his/her breath when the officer has a reasonable belief that the person's body contains alcohol (N.D.C.C. § 39-20-14). The results of such screening tests will only be used to determine whether to administer additional tests. The officer shall inform the individual that refusal of a screening test may result in a revocation for up to three years of his/her driving privileges. If the person refuses, no test will be given (N.D.C.C. § 39-20-14).

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

This also applies to a person who drives or is in physical control of a commercial vehicle, except that the officer must also warn the person that refusal to submit to the tests will result in the person being immediately placed out of service for a period of 24 hours and disqualified from operating a commercial vehicle for a period of not less than one year (N.D.C.C. § 39-06.2-10.2).

The screening tests will be performed by an officer certified as a chemical test operator.

If the individual is at a hospital as a patient, the person in charge of that individual's case must first be notified of the requirement to administer a screening test. However, if that person objects to the test on the grounds that it would be prejudicial to the proper care or treatment of the patient, the patient may not be required to submit to such tests.

503.5 CHEMICAL TESTS

A person implies consent under North Dakota law to a chemical test or tests, and to providing the associated chemical sample, under any of the following:

(a) An officer has arrested the person for DUI (N.D.C.C. § 39-20-01).

(b) The person was operating or in physical control of a commercial vehicle and the officer has probable cause to believe that the person has alcohol or drugs in his/her system (N.D.C.C. § 39-06.2-10.2).

If a person withdraws this implied consent, or is unable to withdraw consent (e.g., the person is unconscious), or if the officer is requesting a blood or urine sample and the person may face criminal penalties for refusal, the officer should consider implied consent revoked and proceed as though the person has refused to provide a chemical sample.

A chemical test may not be administered until the required implied consent advisory has been given to the person (N.D.C.C. § 39-20-01; N.D.C.C. § 39-06.2-10.2).

503.5.1 CHOICE OF TESTS

Officers shall determine which of the tests is to be used, but should not prevent, hinder or delay an arrestee's attempts to secure an independent test under N.D.C.C. § 39-20-02, and must at least provide access to a telephone. An officer should transport an arrestee seeking an independent test unless the arrestee will be released from custody in time to obtain a viable test.

503.5.2 URINE SAMPLES

The officer shall follow any directions accompanying the urine evidence collection kit.

Urine samples shall be collected and witnessed by an officer or jail staff member of the same sex as the individual giving the sample. The arrestee should be allowed sufficient privacy to maintain his/her dignity, to the extent possible, while still ensuring the accuracy of the sample.

The sample shall be packaged, marked, handled, stored and transported as required by the testing facility.

503.6 REFUSALS

When an arrestee refuses to provide a chemical sample, officers should:

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(a) Advise the arrestee of the requirement to provide a sample and that refusal will result in a revocation and is a criminal offense, as set forth in N.D.C.C. § 39-20-01.

(b) Audio- and/or video-record the admonishment and the response when it is practicable.

(c) Document the refusal in the appropriate report.

503.6.1 BLOOD SAMPLE WITHOUT CONSENT

A blood sample may be obtained from a person who refuses a chemical test when any of the following conditions exist:

(a) A search warrant has been obtained.

(b) Officers are mandated to obtain a chemical sample either by consent or by search warrant in the case of a crash resulting in death or serious bodily injury (N.D.C.C. § 39-20-01.1). A warrant is required in these circumstances, unless an arrest has been made and the officer can articulate that exigent circumstances exist.

Exigency does not exist solely because of the short time period associated with the natural dissipation of alcohol or controlled or prohibited substances in the person's bloodstream. Exigency can be established by the existence of special facts, such as a lengthy time delay in obtaining a blood sample due to a crash investigation or medical treatment of the person.

503.6.2 FORCED BLOOD SAMPLE

If an arrestee indicates by word or action that he/she will physically resist a blood draw, the officer should request a supervisor to respond.

The responding supervisor should:

(a) Evaluate whether using force to obtain a blood sample is appropriate under the circumstances.

(b) Ensure that all attempts to obtain a blood sample through force cease if the person agrees to, and completes, a viable form of testing in a timely manner.

(c) Advise the person of his/her duty to provide a sample (even if this advisement was previously done by another officer), and attempt to persuade the individual to provide such a sample without physical resistance. This dialogue should be recorded on audio and/or video when legal and practicable.

(d) Ensure that the blood sample is taken in a medically approved manner.

(e) Ensure that the forced blood draw is recorded on audio and/or video when practicable.

(f) Monitor and ensure that the type and level of force applied appears reasonable under the circumstances:

1. Unless otherwise provided in a warrant, force should generally be limited to handcuffing or similar restraint methods.

2. In misdemeanor cases, if the arrestee becomes violent or more resistant, no additional force will be used and a refusal should be noted in the report.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

3. In felony cases, force which reasonably appears necessary to overcome the resistance to the blood draw may be permitted.

(g) Ensure that the use of force and methods used to accomplish the collection of the blood sample are documented in the related report.

If a supervisor is unavailable, officers are expected to use sound judgment and perform the duties of a supervisor, as set forth above.

503.7 ARREST AND INVESTIGATION

Officers may obtain a chemical test sample from any person suspected of DUI on a highway or on public or private areas to which the public has a right of access. Such tests may only be obtained after placing the individual under arrest, except for certain exceptions (N.D.C.C. § 39-20-01).

503.7.1 RIGHT TO ATTORNEY CONTACT

Persons who have been requested to provide a chemical sample may request to speak to an attorney. Upon such request, the person shall be granted a reasonable opportunity to attempt contact with an attorney. If the person continues to refuse to submit to any test after having been provided such an opportunity, it shall be deemed a refusal.

503.7.2 JUVENILE CONSIDERATIONS

When an individual under 18 is taken into custody for DUI or an equivalent ordinance, the officer shall attempt to contact the individual's parent or legal guardian to explain the reason for the custody (N.D.C.C. § 39-20-01).

The Records Section shall mail a notice to the minor’s parent or legal guardian within 10 days after the test results are received or within 10 days after the minor is taken into custody if the minor refuses to submit to chemical testing (N.D.C.C. § 39-20-01).

If the juvenile is enrolled in school, the Records Section shall also ensure that notice of the DUI violation is delivered to the school principal within two weeks of the incident (N.D.C.C. § 15.1-24-05).

503.7.3 NONRESIDENT OPERATOR

If a person licensed in another state has refused a lawful request to submit to a chemical test to determine alcohol concentration or has submitted to a chemical test that shows the person to have been operating a vehicle while under the influence, the officer shall issue the person a temporary operator’s license and notification of his/her test results, and will forward the required reports to the North Dakota Department of Transportation (NDDOT) as required by N.D.C.C. § 39-20-03.2.

If the person was operating or in physical control of a commercial vehicle and refuses a lawful request to submit to a chemical test or submits to a chemical test that shows a prohibited alcohol concentration, the officer shall inform the person of the test results, issue the person an out-of-service order and temporary driver’s permit, and will forward any applicable reports to NDDOT as required by N.D.C.C. § 39-06.2-10.4.

Traffic Citations

504.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy outlines the responsibility for traffic citations, the collection of data, the procedure for dismissal, correction and voiding of traffic citations.

504.2 RESPONSIBILITIES

Employees of this department shall use the North Dakota Uniform Traffic Complaint and Summons form for all traffic and parking offense citations (N.D.C.C. § 29-05-31). Employees shall provide any person issued a citation with an appropriate envelope for use in mailing the bond (N.D.C.C. § 39-07-07).

Employees may use E-tickets to issue citations as authorized by the Department in place of paper tickets.

Supervisors shall issue paper citation books to officers.

504.3 DISMISSAL OF TRAFFIC CITATIONS

Employees of this department do not have the authority to dismiss a citation once it has been issued. Only the court has the authority to dismiss a citation that has been issued. Any request from a recipient to dismiss a citation shall be referred to the Patrol Supervisor. Upon a review of the circumstances involving the issuance of the traffic citation, the Patrol Supervisor may forward the citation to the appropriate prosecutor with a request for dismissal. All recipients of traffic citations whose request for dismissal has been denied shall be referred to the appropriate court.

Should an officer determine during a court proceeding that a traffic citation should be dismissed in the interest of justice or where prosecution is deemed inappropriate, the officer may request that the court dismiss the citation. Upon dismissal of the traffic citation by the court, the officer shall notify his/her immediate supervisor of the circumstances surrounding the dismissal and shall complete any paperwork as directed or required.

504.4 VOIDING TRAFFIC CITATIONS

Voiding a traffic citation may occur when a traffic citation has not been completed or where it is completed but not issued. All copies of the citation shall be presented to a supervisor to approve the voiding of the citation. The citation and copies shall then be shredded.

504.5 CORRECTION OF TRAFFIC CITATIONS

When a traffic citation is issued and in need of correction, the officer issuing the citation shall submit the citation and a letter requesting a specific correction to his/her immediate supervisor. The citation and letter shall then be forwarded to the Records Division.

504.6 DISPOSITION OF TRAFFIC CITATIONS

The court and file copies of all traffic citations issued by members of this department shall be forwarded to the employee's immediate supervisor for review. The citation copies shall then be filed with the Records Section.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

Upon separation from employment with this department, all employees who were issued traffic citation books shall return any unused citations to the Department.

504.7 NOTICE OF PARKING VIOLATION APPEAL PROCEDURE

Disposition of notice of parking violation appeals is conducted pursuant to state and local laws.

504.8 JUVENILE CITATIONS

Juvenile citations are similar to adult citations except that certain juvenile offenses, including those involving a criminal offense, would be processed through the juvenile referral procedure. The juvenile's age, place of residency and the type of offense should be considered before issuing the juvenile a citation.

The Records Division shall notify the juvenile's school principal in writing within two weeks for certain traffic-related offenses as specified in the School Student or Employee Arrest Reporting Policy.

Disabled Vehicles

505.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The Minot Police Department has adopted this policy regarding providing assistance to motorists in disabled vehicles within this organization's jurisdiction.

505.2 OFFICER RESPONSIBILITIES

When an on-duty officer observes a disabled vehicle, the officer should make a reasonable effort to provide assistance. If that officer is assigned to a call of higher priority, the dispatcher should be advised of the location of the disabled vehicle and the need for assistance. The dispatcher should then assign another available officer or other department member to respond as soon as practicable.

505.3 EXTENT OF ASSISTANCE

In most cases, a disabled motorist will require assistance. After assistance is rendered or arrangements for assistance are made, continued involvement by department personnel will be contingent on the time of day, the location, the availability of department resources and the vulnerability of the disabled motorist. No officer will push or pull a disabled vehicle.

505.3.1 MECHANICAL REPAIRS

Department personnel shall not make mechanical repairs to a disabled vehicle. This includes using jumper cables to start a disabled vehicle.

506.2 IMPOUNDING ILLEGALLY PARKED VEHICLES

Illegally parked vehicles requiring impound shall be impounded in accordance with Chapter 20 of the City of Minot Code of Ordinances and N.D.C.C.

506.3 VEHICLE STORAGE

Any abandoned vehicle qualifying for a tow should be removed by the authorized towing service and a vehicle impound/storage form shall be completed by the officer authorizing the storage of the vehicle.

Investigation and Prosecution

600.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to set guidelines and requirements pertaining to the handling and disposition of criminal investigations.

600.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department to investigate crimes thoroughly and with due diligence, and to evaluate and prepare criminal cases for appropriate clearance or submission to a prosecutor.

600.3 INITIAL INVESTIGATION

600.3.1 OFFICER RESPONSIBILITIES

An officer responsible for an initial investigation shall complete no less than the following:

(a) Make a preliminary determination of whether a crime has been committed by:
    (a) Speaking with any witnesses or complainants.
    (b) A cursory examination for evidence.
(b) If information indicates a crime has occurred, the officer shall:
    (a) Preserve the scene and any evidence as required to complete the initial and follow-up investigation.
    (b) Determine if additional investigative resources (e.g., investigators or scene processing) are necessary and request assistance as required.
    (c) If assistance is warranted, or if the incident is not routine, notify a supervisor or the Patrol Supervisor.
    (d) Make reasonable attempts to locate, identify and interview all available victims, complainants, witnesses and suspects.
    (e) Collect any evidence.
    (f) Take any appropriate law enforcement action.
    (g) Complete and submit the appropriate reports and documentation.
(c) If the preliminary determination is that no crime occurred, determine what other action may be necessary, what other resources may be available, and advise the informant or complainant of this information.

600.4 CUSTODIAL INTERROGATION REQUIREMENTS

Suspects who are in custody and subjected to an interrogation shall be given the Miranda warning, unless an exception applies. Interview or interrogation of a juvenile shall be in accordance with the Temporary Custody of Juveniles Policy.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

600.4.1 AUDIO/VIDEO RECORDINGS

Any custodial interrogation of an individual should be recorded (audio or video with audio as available) in its entirety. Regardless of where the interrogation occurs, every reasonable effort should be made to secure functional recording equipment to accomplish such recordings.

No recording of a custodial interrogation should be destroyed or altered except as in accordance with the established records retention schedule. Copies of recorded interrogations or interviews may be made in the same or a different format as the original recording, provided the copies are true, accurate and complete and are made only for authorized and legitimate law enforcement purposes.

Recordings should not take the place of a thorough report and investigative interviews.

600.5 DISCONTINUATION OF INVESTIGATIONS

The investigation of a criminal case or efforts to seek prosecution should only be discontinued if one of the following applies:

(a) All reasonable investigative efforts have been exhausted, no reasonable belief that the person who committed the crime can be identified, and the incident has been documented appropriately.

(b) The perpetrator of a misdemeanor has been identified and a warning is the most appropriate disposition.

1. In these cases, the investigator shall document that the person was warned and why prosecution was not sought.

2. Warnings shall not be given for felony offenses or other offenses identified in this policy or by law that require an arrest or submission of a case to a prosecutor.

(c) The case has been submitted to the appropriate prosecutor but no charges have been filed and further investigation is not reasonable and/or has not been requested by the prosecutor.

(d) The case has been submitted to the appropriate prosecutor, charges have been filed, and further investigation is not reasonable, warranted or requested.

(e) Suspects have been arrested, there are no other suspects, and further investigation is either not warranted or requested.

(f) Investigation has proved that a crime was not committed (see the Sexual Assault Investigations Policy for special considerations in these cases).

The Domestic Violence, Child Abuse, Sexual Assault Investigations and Adult Abuse policies may also require an arrest or submittal of a case to a prosecutor.

600.6 COMPUTERS AND DIGITAL EVIDENCE

The collection, preservation, transportation and storage of computers, cell phones and other digital devices may require specialized handling to preserve the value of the related evidence. If it is anticipated that computers or similar equipment will be seized, officers should request that computer forensic examiners assist with seizing computers and related evidence. If a forensic examiner is unavailable, officers should take reasonable steps to prepare for such seizure and use the resources that are available.

600.7 INVESTIGATIVE USE OF SOCIAL MEDIA AND INTERNET SOURCES

Use of social media and any other Internet source to access information for the purpose of criminal investigation shall comply with applicable laws and policies regarding privacy, civil rights and civil liberties. Information gathered via the Internet should only be accessed by members while on-duty and for purposes related to the mission of this department. If a member encounters information relevant to a criminal investigation while off-duty or while using his/her own equipment, the member should note the dates, times and locations of the information and report the discovery to his/her supervisor as soon as practicable. The member, or others who have been assigned to do so, should attempt to replicate the finding when on-duty and using department equipment.

Information obtained via the Internet should not be archived or stored in any manner other than department-established record keeping systems (see the Records Maintenance and Release and Criminal Street Gangs policies).

600.7.1 ACCESS RESTRICTIONS

Information that can be accessed from any department computer, without the need of an account, password, email address, alias or other identifier (unrestricted websites), may be accessed and used for legitimate investigative purposes without supervisory approval.

Accessing information from any Internet source that requires the use or creation of an account, password, email address, alias or other identifier, or the use of nongovernment IP addresses, requires supervisor approval prior to access. The supervisor will review the justification for accessing the information and consult with legal counsel as necessary to identify any policy or legal restrictions. Any such access and the supervisor approval shall be documented in the related investigative report.

Accessing information that requires the use of a third party's account or online identifier requires supervisor approval and the consent of the third party. The consent must be voluntary and shall be documented in the related investigative report.

Information gathered from any Internet source should be evaluated for its validity, authenticity, accuracy and reliability. Corroborative evidence should be sought and documented in the related investigative report.

Any information collected in furtherance of an investigation through an Internet source should be documented in the related report. Documentation should include the source of information and the dates and times that the information was gathered.

600.7.2 INTERCEPTING ELECTRONIC COMMUNICATION

Intercepting social media communications in real time may be subject to federal and state wiretap laws. Officers should seek legal counsel before any such interception.

Asset Forfeiture

601.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy describes the authority and procedure for the seizure, forfeiture and liquidation of property associated with specified designated offenses.

601.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Fiscal agent - The person designated by the Chief of Police to be responsible for securing and maintaining seized assets and distributing any proceeds realized from any forfeiture proceedings. This includes any time the Minot Police Department seizes property for forfeiture or when the Minot Police Department is acting as the fiscal agent pursuant to a multi-agency agreement. The Records Sergeant in coordination with the City of Minot Finance department appointee shall assume the role of Fiscal agent.

Forfeiture - The process by which legal ownership of an asset is transferred to a government or other authority.

Forfeiture reviewer - The department member assigned by the Chief of Police who is responsible for reviewing all forfeiture cases and for acting as the liaison between the Department and the forfeiture counsel. The Investigations Division commander is hereby appointed as the Forfeiture reviewer.

Property subject to forfeiture - Includes the following:

(a) Property subject to general criminal forfeiture includes (N.D.C.C. § 29-31.1-01):

1. Property that is illegally possessed or is contraband.
2. Property, other than a residence or real estate, that has been used or is intended to be used to commit a criminal offense or flee, where the co-owner has not been convicted of the criminal offense.
3. Proceeds of a criminal offense.
4. Property offered or given to another as an inducement for the commission of a criminal offense.
5. A vehicle or other means of transportation used in the commission of a felony, the escape from the scene of a felony, or in the transportation of property that is the subject matter of a felony.
6. Personal property used in the theft of livestock or the transportation of stolen livestock.

(b) Property subject to forfeiture under the Uniform Controlled Substances Act includes (N.D.C.C. § 19-03.1-36):

1. All controlled substances which have been manufactured, distributed, dispensed or acquired in violation of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, imitation controlled substances and the containers for the preceding items.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

2. All raw materials, products and equipment of any kind which are used, or intended for use, in manufacturing, compounding, processing, delivering, importing or exporting any controlled substance and the containers for the preceding items.
3. All conveyances, including aircraft, vehicles or vessels, which are used, or intended for use, to transport, or in any manner to facilitate the transportation, sale or receipt of controlled substances.
4. Drug paraphernalia.
5. All money or anything else of value furnished, or intended to be furnished, in exchange for a controlled substance in violation of the Uniform Controlled Substances Act, and all real and personal property, assets, profits, etc., acquired or derived from the unlawful purchase, attempted purchase, delivery, attempted delivery, manufacturing or attempted manufacturing of any controlled substance or imitation controlled substance.

Seizure - The act of law enforcement officials taking property, cash or assets that have been used in connection with or acquired by specified illegal activities.

601.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department recognizes that appropriately applied forfeiture laws are helpful to enforce the law, deter crime and reduce the economic incentive of crime. However, the potential of revenue shall not be allowed to jeopardize the effective investigation and prosecution of criminal offenses, officer safety, the integrity of ongoing investigations or any person's due process rights.

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department that all members, including those assigned to internal or external law enforcement task force operations, shall comply with all state and federal laws pertaining to forfeitures.

601.3 ASSET SEIZURE

Property may be seized for forfeiture as provided in this policy and in accordance with applicable state and federal law.

Whenever practicable, obtaining a search warrant or court order for seizure prior to making a seizure is the preferred method.

601.3.1 PROPERTY SUBJECT TO SEIZURE

A large amount of money standing alone is insufficient to establish the probable cause required to make a seizure.

The following may be seized upon review and approval of a supervisor and in coordination with the forfeiture reviewer (N.D.C.C. § 29-31.1-03; N.D.C.C. § 19-03.1-36):

(a) Property subject to forfeiture authorized for seizure by a court order.

(b) Property that officers have probable cause to believe qualifies as property subject to forfeiture and the property is seized under circumstances in which a warrantless seizure would be reasonable (i.e., property would be lost without immediate seizure).

601.3.2 PROPERTY NOT SUBJECT TO SEIZURE
The following property should not be seized for forfeiture:

(a) Property of someone who had no part in the commission of the offense and who had no knowledge of the criminal use or intended use of the property (N.D.C.C. § 29-31.1-07; N.D.C.C. § 19-03.1-36).

(b) Cash and property that does not meet forfeiture thresholds.

601.4 PROCESSING SEIZED PROPERTY FOR FORFEITURE PROCEEDINGS

When property or cash subject to this policy is seized, the officer making the seizure should ensure compliance with the following:

(a) Complete the applicable seizure forms and present the appropriate copy to the person from whom the property is seized. If cash or property is seized from more than one person, a separate copy must be provided to each person, specifying the items seized. When property is seized and no one claims an interest in the property, the officer must leave the copy in the place where the property was found, if it is reasonable to do so.

(b) Complete and submit a report and original seizure forms within 24 hours of the seizure, if practicable.

(c) Forward the original seizure forms and related reports to the forfeiture reviewer promptly after the seizure.

The officer will book seized property as evidence with the notation in the comment section of the property form, “Seized Subject to Forfeiture.” Property seized subject to forfeiture should be booked on a separate property form. No other evidence from the case should be booked on this form.

Photographs should be taken of items seized, particularly cash, jewelry and other valuable items.

Officers who suspect property may be subject to seizure but are not able to seize the property (e.g., the property is located elsewhere, the whereabouts of the property is unknown, it is real estate, bank accounts, non-tangible assets) should document and forward the information in the appropriate report to the forfeiture reviewer.

601.5 MAINTAINING SEIZED PROPERTY

The Property Section supervisor is responsible for ensuring compliance with the following:

(a) All property received for forfeiture is reasonably secured and properly stored to prevent waste and preserve its condition.

(b) All property received for forfeiture is checked to determine if the property has been stolen.

(c) All property received for forfeiture is retained in the same manner as evidence until forfeiture is finalized or the property is returned to the claimant or the person with an ownership interest.

(d) Property received for forfeiture is not used unless the forfeiture action has been completed.

(e) Forfeitable property is retained until such time as its use as evidence is no longer required (N.D.C.C. § 29-31.1-08).

601.6 FORFEITURE REVIEWER

The responsibilities of the forfeiture reviewer include:

(a) Remaining familiar with forfeiture laws, particularly N.D.C.C. § 19-03.1-36 et seq., N.D.C.C. § 29-31.1-01 et seq. and the forfeiture policies of the forfeiture counsel.

(b) Serving as the liaison between the Department and legal counsel or the appropriate court while ensuring prompt legal review and court processes of all seizures.

(c) Making reasonable efforts to obtain annual training that includes best practices in pursuing, seizing, and tracking forfeitures.

(d) Reviewing each seizure-related case and deciding whether the seizure is more appropriately made under state or federal seizure laws. The forfeiture reviewer should contact federal authorities when appropriate.

(e) Ensuring that responsibilities, including the designation of a fiscal agent, are clearly established whenever multiple agencies are cooperating in a forfeiture case.

(f) Ensuring that seizure forms are available and appropriate for department use. These should include notice forms, a receipt form, and a checklist that provides relevant guidance to officers. The forms should be available in languages appropriate for the region and should contain spaces for:

1. Names and contact information for all relevant persons and law enforcement officers involved.
2. Information as to how ownership or other property interests may have been determined (e.g., verbal claims of ownership, titles, public records).
3. A space for the signature of the person from whom cash or property is being seized.
4. A tear-off portion or copy, which should be given to the person from whom cash or property is being seized, that includes the legal authority for the seizure, information regarding the process to contest the seizure, and a detailed description of the items seized.

(g) Ensuring that officers who may be involved in asset forfeiture receive training in the proper use of the seizure forms and the forfeiture process. The training should be developed in consultation with the appropriate legal counsel and may be accomplished through traditional classroom education, electronic media, Daily Training Bulletins (DTBs), or Departmental Directives. The training should cover this policy and address any relevant statutory changes and court decisions.

(h) Reviewing each asset forfeiture case to ensure that:

(j) Ensuring that the process of selling or adding forfeited property to department inventory is in accordance with all applicable laws and consistent with the use and disposition of similar property (N.D.C.C. § 29-31.1-06).

A decision to transfer the property is not subject to review.

2. Sell forfeited property which is not required to be destroyed by law and which is not harmful to the public. The proceeds must be used for payment of all proper expenses of the proceedings for forfeiture and sale, including expenses of seizure, maintenance of custody, advertising, and court costs, with any remaining proceeds to be deposited, subject to N.D.C.C. § 54-12-14, in the appropriate general fund. No member of this department may use property that has been seized for forfeiture until the forfeiture action has been completed and the Chief of Police has given written authorization to retain the property for official use. No department member involved in the decision to seize property should be involved in any decision regarding the disposition of the property.

Eyewitness Identification

603.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy sets forth guidelines to be used when members of this department employ eyewitness identification techniques.

603.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to the policy include:

Eyewitness identification process - Any field identification, live lineup or photographic identification.

Field identification - A live presentation of a single individual to a witness following the commission of a criminal offense for the purpose of identifying or eliminating the person as the suspect.

Live lineup - A live presentation of individuals to a witness for the purpose of identifying or eliminating an individual as the suspect.

Photographic lineup - Presentation of photographs to a witness for the purpose of identifying or eliminating an individual as the suspect.

603.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department will strive to use eyewitness identification techniques, when appropriate, to enhance the investigative process and will emphasize identifying persons responsible for crime and exonerating the innocent.

603.3 INTERPRETIVE SERVICES

Members should make a reasonable effort to arrange for an interpreter before proceeding with eyewitness identification if communication with a witness is impeded due to language or hearing barriers.

Before the interpreter is permitted to discuss any matter with the witness, the investigating member should explain the identification process to the interpreter. Once it is determined that the interpreter comprehends the process and can explain it to the witness, the eyewitness identification may proceed as provided for within this policy.

603.4 EYEWITNESS IDENTIFICATION PROCESS AND FORM

The Investigations Division supervisor shall be responsible for the development and maintenance of an eyewitness identification process for use by members when they are conducting eyewitness identifications.

The process should include appropriate forms or reports that provide:

(a) The date, time and location of the eyewitness identification procedure.

(b) The name and identifying information of the witness.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(c) The name of the person administering the identification procedure.

(d) If applicable, the names of all of the individuals present during the identification procedure.

(e) An instruction to the witness that it is as important to exclude innocent persons as it is to identify a perpetrator.

(f) An instruction to the witness that the perpetrator may or may not be among those presented and that the witness is not obligated to make an identification.

(g) If the identification process is photographic or live lineup, an instruction to the witness that the perpetrator may not appear exactly as he/she did on the date of the incident.

(h) An instruction to the witness that the investigation will continue regardless of whether an identification is made by the witness.

(i) A signature line where the witness acknowledges that he/she understands the identification procedures and instructions.

(j) A statement from the witness in the witness's own words describing how certain he/she is of the identification or non-identification. This statement should be taken at the time of the identification procedure.

The process and related forms should be reviewed periodically and modified when necessary.

603.5 EYEWITNESS IDENTIFICATION

Members are cautioned not to, in any way, influence a witness as to whether any subject or photo presented in a lineup is in any way connected to the case. Members should avoid mentioning that:

- The individual was apprehended near the crime scene.
- The evidence points to the individual as the suspect.
- Other witnesses have identified, or failed to identify, the individual as the suspect.

In order to avoid undue influence, witnesses should view suspects or a lineup individually and outside the presence of other witnesses. Witnesses should be instructed to avoid discussing details of the incident or of the identification process with other witnesses.

Whenever feasible, the eyewitness identification procedure should be audio and/or video recorded and the recording should be retained according to current evidence procedures.

603.6 PHOTOGRAPHIC LINEUP AND LIVE LINEUP CONSIDERATIONS

When practicable, the member presenting the lineup should not be involved in the investigation of the case or know the identity of the suspect.

In no case should the member presenting a lineup to a witness know which photograph or person in the lineup is being viewed by the witness. Techniques to achieve this include randomly numbering photographs, shuffling folders or using a computer program to order the persons in the lineup.

Individuals in the lineup should reasonably match the description of the perpetrator provided by the witness and should bear similar characteristics to avoid causing any person to unreasonably stand out. In cases involving multiple suspects, a separate lineup should be conducted for each suspect. The suspects should be placed in a different order within each lineup.

The member presenting the lineup should do so sequentially (i.e., show the witness one person at a time and not simultaneously. The witness should view all persons in the lineup.

A live lineup should only be used before criminal proceedings have been initiated against the suspect. If there is any question as to whether any criminal proceedings have begun, the investigating member should contact the appropriate prosecuting attorney before proceeding

603.7 FIELD IDENTIFICATION CONSIDERATIONS

Field identifications, also known as field elimination show-ups or one-on-one identifications, may be helpful in certain cases, where exigent circumstances make it impracticable to conduct a photo or live lineup identification. A field elimination show-up or one-on-one identification should not be used when independent probable cause exists to arrest a suspect. In such cases a live or photo lineup is the preferred course of action if eyewitness identification is contemplated.

When initiating a field identification, the member should observe the following guidelines:

(a) Obtain a complete description of the suspect from the witness.

(b) Assess whether a witness should be included in a field identification process by considering:

1. The length of time the witness observed the suspect.
2. The distance between the witness and the suspect.
3. Whether the witness could view the suspect’s face.
4. The quality of the lighting when the suspect was observed by the witness.
5. Whether there were distracting noises or activity during the observation.
6. Any other circumstances affecting the witness’s opportunity to observe the suspect.
7. The length of time that has elapsed since the witness observed the suspect.

(c) If safe and practicable, the individual who is the subject of the show-up should not be handcuffed or in a patrol vehicle.

(d) When feasible, members should bring the witness to the location of the subject of the show-up, rather than bring the subject of the show-up to the witness.

(e) The person who is the subject of the show-up should not be shown to the same witness more than once.

(f) In cases involving multiple suspects, witnesses should only be permitted to view the subjects of the show-up one at a time.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(g) The person who is the subject of the show-up should not be required to put on clothing worn by the suspect, to speak words uttered by the suspect or to perform other actions mimicking those of the suspect.

(h) If a witness positively identifies a subject of the show-up as the suspect, members should not conduct any further field identifications with other witnesses for that suspect. In such instances members should document the contact information for any additional witnesses for follow up, if necessary.

603.8 DOCUMENTATION

A thorough description of the eyewitness process and the result of any eyewitness identification should be documented in the case report.

If a photographic lineup is utilized, a copy of the photographic lineup presented to the witness should be included in the case report. In addition, the order in which the photographs were presented to the witness should be documented in the case report.

Brady Information Disclosure

604.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy establishes guidelines for identifying and releasing potentially exculpatory or impeachment information (so-called "Brady information") to a prosecuting attorney.

604.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Brady* information - Information known or possessed by the Minot Police Department that is both favorable and material to the current prosecution or defense of a criminal defendant.

604.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department will conduct fair and impartial criminal investigations and will provide the prosecution with both incriminating and exculpatory evidence, as well as information that may adversely affect the credibility of a witness. In addition to reporting all evidence of guilt, the Minot Police Department will assist the prosecution by complying with its obligation to disclose information that is both favorable and material to the defense. The Department will identify and disclose to the prosecution potentially exculpatory information, as provided in this policy.

604.3 DISCLOSURE OF INVESTIGATIVE INFORMATION

Officers must include in their investigative reports adequate investigative information and reference to all material evidence and facts that are reasonably believed to be either incriminating or exculpatory to any individual in the case. If an officer learns of potentially incriminating or exculpatory information any time after submission of a case, the officer or the handling investigator must prepare and submit a supplemental report documenting such information as soon as practicable. Supplemental reports shall be promptly processed and transmitted to the prosecutor's office.

If information is believed to be privileged or confidential (e.g., informant or attorney-client information, attorney work product), the officer should discuss the matter with a supervisor and/or prosecutor to determine the appropriate manner in which to proceed.

Evidence or facts are considered material if there is a reasonable probability that they would affect the outcome of a criminal proceeding or trial. Determining whether evidence or facts are material often requires legal or even judicial review. If an officer is unsure whether evidence or facts are material, the officer should address the issue with a supervisor.

Supervisors who are uncertain about whether evidence or facts are material should address the issue in a written memo to an appropriate prosecutor. A copy of the memo should be retained in the department case file.

604.4 BRADY COORDINATOR

The Chief of Police shall delegate certain responsibilities to a Brady Coordinator. The Brady Coordinator shall be appointed by and is directly responsible to the Administration Division Division Commander or the authorized designee.

The responsibilities of the Brady Coordinator include but are not limited to:

(a) Working with the appropriate prosecutors' offices and the City Attorney's office to establish systems and processes to determine what constitutes Brady information and the method for notification and disclosure.

(b) Maintaining a current list of members who are known to have Brady information in their files or background.

1. Whenever potential Brady information concerning any department member becomes known to the Department or is placed into a personnel or internal affairs file of any member of this department the Brady Coordinator will ensure that the list is updated.

604.5 DISCLOSURE OF PERSONNEL INFORMATION

If a member of this department is a material witness in a criminal case, a person or persons designated by the Chief of Police shall examine the personnel file and/or internal affairs file of the officer to determine whether they contain Brady information. If Brady information is located, the following procedure shall apply:

(a) In the event that a motion has not already been filed by the criminal defendant or other party, the prosecuting attorney and department member shall be notified of the potential presence of Brady information in the member's personnel file.

(b) The prosecuting attorney or department counsel should be requested to file a motion in order to initiate an in-camera review by the court.

1. If no motion is filed, the supervisor should work with counsel to determine whether the records should be disclosed to the prosecutor.

(c) The custodian of records shall accompany all relevant personnel files during any in-camera inspection to address any issues or questions raised by the court.

(d) If the court determines that there is relevant Brady information contained in the files, only that information ordered released will be copied and released to the parties filing the motion.

1. Prior to the release of any information pursuant to this process, the custodian of records should request a protective order from the court limiting the use of such information to the involved case and requiring the return of all copies upon completion of the case.

(e) If a court has determined that relevant Brady information is contained in the member's file in any case, the prosecutor should be notified of that fact in all future cases involving that member.

Unmanned Aerial System (UAS) Operations

605.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to establish guidelines for the use of an unmanned aerial system (UAS) and for the storage, retrieval and dissemination of images and data captured by the UAS.

605.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Unmanned Aerial System (UAS) - An unmanned aircraft of any type that is capable of sustaining directed flight, whether preprogrammed or remotely controlled (commonly referred to as an unmanned aerial vehicle (UAV)), and all of the supporting or attached systems designed for gathering information through imaging, recording or any other means.

605.2 POLICY

A UAS may be utilized to enhance the department's mission of protecting lives and property when other means and resources are not available or are less effective. Any use of a UAS will be in strict accordance with constitutional and privacy rights, Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) regulations, and N.D.C.C.

605.3 PRIVACY

The use of the UAS potentially involves privacy considerations. Absent a warrant or exigent circumstances, operators and observers shall adhere to FAA altitude regulations and shall not intentionally record or transmit images of any location where a person would have a reasonable expectation of privacy (e.g., residence, yard, enclosure). Operators and observers shall take reasonable precautions to avoid inadvertently recording or transmitting images of areas where there is a reasonable expectation of privacy. Reasonable precautions may include, for example, deactivating or turning imaging devices away from such areas or persons during UAS operations.

605.4 PROGRAM COORDINATOR

The Chief of Police will appoint a program coordinator who will be responsible for the management of the UAS program. The program coordinator will ensure that policies and procedures conform to current laws, regulations and best practices and will have the following additional responsibilities:

- Ensuring that all authorized operators and required observers have completed all required FAA and department-approved training in the operation, applicable laws, policies and procedures regarding use of the UAS.
- Developing uniform protocol for submission and evaluation of requests to deploy a UAS, including urgent requests made during ongoing or emerging incidents. Deployment of a UAS shall require authorization of the Chief of Police or the authorized designee, depending on the type of mission.
- Developing protocol for conducting criminal investigations involving a UAS, including documentation of time spent monitoring a subject.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

- Implementing a system for public notification of UAS deployment.
- Developing an operational protocol governing the deployment and operation of a UAS including, but not limited to, safety oversight, use of visual observers, establishment of lost link procedures and secure communication with air traffic control facilities.
- Developing a protocol for fully documenting all missions.
- Developing a UAS inspection, maintenance and record-keeping protocol to ensure continuing airworthiness of a UAS, up to and including its overhaul or life limits.
- Developing protocols to ensure that all data intended to be used as evidence are accessed, maintained, stored and retrieved in a manner that ensures its integrity as evidence, including strict adherence to chain of custody requirements. Electronic trails, including encryption, authenticity certificates and date and time stamping, shall be used as appropriate to preserve individual rights and to ensure the authenticity and maintenance of a secure evidentiary chain of custody.
- Developing protocols that ensure retention and purge periods are maintained in accordance with established records retention schedules.
- Facilitating law enforcement access to images and data captured by the UAS.
- Recommending program enhancements, particularly regarding safety and information security.
- Ensuring that established protocols are followed by monitoring and providing periodic reports on the program to the Chief of Police.

605.5 USE OF UAS

Use and operation of department owned UAS will be by personnel who have been certified through the F.A.A., and/or those personnel trained in the use and department procedures of UAS under the direct supervision and direction of F.A.A. certified personnel in accordance with current part 107 requirements.

Use of vision enhancement technology (e.g., thermal and other imaging equipment not generally available to the public) is permissible in viewing areas only where there is no protectable privacy interest or when in compliance with a search warrant or court order. In all other instances, legal counsel should be consulted.

UAS may only be flown over populated areas in accordance with current F.A.A. requirements.

In the absence of a warrant, UAS shall only be used (N.D.C.C. § 29-29.4-04):

(a) To patrol within 25 miles of our national border to prevent or deter the illegal entry of any individual, illegal substance or contraband in the state.

(b) In exigent circumstances to address an imminent danger of bodily harm or death to a person.

(c) To monitor or assess an environmental or weather-related catastrophe.

605.6 PROHIBITED USE

The UAS video surveillance equipment shall not be used:

- To conduct random surveillance activities.
- To target a person based solely on individual characteristics, such as but not limited to, race, ethnicity, national origin, religion, disability, gender or sexual orientation.
- To harass, intimidate or discriminate against any individual or group.
- To conduct personal business of any type.
- To conduct surveillance of any person without a search warrant.

The UAS shall not be weaponized (N.D.C.C. § 29-29.4-05).

605.7 RETENTION OF UAS DATA

Data collected by the UAS shall be retained as provided in the established records retention schedule.

Documentation of UAS use based upon a warrant shall be retained for a minimum of five years. Images and data lawfully obtained without a warrant shall not be retained for more than 90 days unless there is reason to believe that the images or data contain evidence of a crime or are relevant to an ongoing investigation or trial (N.D.C.C. § 29-29.4-06).

605.8 REPORTING

(a) The person authorized to conduct the surveillance shall document all use of an unmanned aerial vehicle for surveillance. The person shall document all surveillance flights as to duration, flight path, and mission objectives.

(b) The flight information must be verified as accurate and complete by the supervising person authorized by a court to conduct the surveillance.

605.9 WARRANT APPLICATION

When a warrant is sought for the use of UAS, the application shall include (N.D.C.C. § 29-29.4-03):

(a) Identification of the members who will have the power to authorize the use of the UAS.

(b) The location where the UAS will be operated.

(c) The maximum period of time for which the UAS will be operated in each flight.

(d) Whether the UAS will collect information or data about individuals or groups of individuals. If such information or data will be collected, the warrant application must also include:

1. The circumstances under which the UAS will be used.
2. The specific kinds of information or data that the UAS will collect and how the information or data will be used, disclosed and handled, including retention periods and destruction schedules.

Sexual Assault Investigations

606.1 SECTION TITLE

See attachment: Sexual Assault Investigations Policy.pdf

606.2 VICTIM INTERVIEWS

The primary considerations in sexual assault investigations, which begin with the initial call to Minot Central Dispatch, should be the health and safety of the victim, the preservation of evidence, and preliminary interviews to determine if a crime has been committed and to attempt to identify the suspect.

Whenever possible, a member of the SART should be included in the initial victim interviews.

An in-depth follow-up interview should not be conducted until after the medical and forensic examinations are completed and the personal needs of the victim have been met (e.g., change of clothes, bathing). The follow-up interview may be delayed to the following day based upon the circumstances. Whenever practicable, the follow-up interview should be conducted by a qualified investigator.

No opinion of whether the case is unfounded should be included in a report.

Victims should not be asked or required to take a polygraph examination (34 USC § 10451). Victims should be apprised of applicable victim's rights provisions, as outlined in the Victim and Witness Assistance Policy.

606.3 COLLECTION AND TESTING OF BIOLOGICAL EVIDENCE

Whenever possible, a SART member should be involved in the collection of forensic evidence from the victim.

When the facts of the case indicate that collection of biological evidence is warranted, it should be collected within 96 hours following the assault unless good cause is shown for the delay in performing the examination. This 96-hour limitation does not apply in cases involving children. Any evidence obtained during the medical examination may not be used against the victim for the prosecution of the victim for a separate offense (N.D.C.C. § 12.1-34-07).

If a drug-facilitated sexual assault is suspected, urine and blood samples should be collected from the victim as soon as practicable.

Biological evidence from all sexual assault cases, including cases where the suspect is known by the victim, should be submitted for testing.

Victims who choose not to assist with an investigation, do not desire that the matter be investigated or wish to remain anonymous may still consent to the collection of evidence under their control. In these circumstances, the evidence should be collected and stored appropriately.

606.3.1 COLLECTION AND TESTING REQUIREMENTS

Members investigating sexual assaults or handling related evidence should:

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(a) Use collection kits provided or approved by the North Dakota Attorney General's Office.

1. If the member reasonably believes the sexual assault may have been drug-facilitated, a toxicology collection kit should be used.

(b) Obtain a signed release from the victim for access to the medical records related to the sexual assault offense.

(c) When the victim consents to proceeding with the investigation, facilitate the transfer of the evidence to the North Dakota Crime Laboratory.

1. When the victim does not consent to the investigation, the member should transfer the evidence to the Property Section.

Additional guidance regarding evidence retention and destruction is found in theProperty Section Policy.

606.3.2 DNA TEST RESULTS

Members investigating sexual assault cases should notify victims of any DNA test results as soon as reasonably practicable.

A SART member should be consulted regarding the best way to deliver biological testing results to a victim so as to minimize victim trauma, especially in cases where there has been a significant delay in getting biological testing results (e.g., delays in testing the evidence or delayed DNA databank hits). Members should make reasonable efforts to assist the victim by providing available information on local assistance programs and organizations as provided in the Victim and Witness Assistance Policy.

Members investigating sexual assaults cases should ensure that DNA results are entered into databases when appropriate and as soon as practicable.

606.4 DISPOSITION OF CASES

If the assigned investigator has reason to believe the case is without merit, the case may be classified as unfounded only upon review and approval of the Investigations Division supervisor.

Classification of a sexual assault case as unfounded requires the Investigations Division supervisor to determine that the facts have significant irregularities with reported information and that the incident could not have happened as it was reported. When a victim has recanted his/her original statement, there must be corroborating evidence that the allegations were false or baseless (i.e., no crime occurred) before the case should be determined as unfounded.

606.5 CASE REVIEW

The Investigations Division supervisor should ensure cases are reviewed on a periodic basis, at least annually, using an identified group that is independent of the investigation process. The reviews should include an analysis of:

- Case dispositions.
- Decisions to collect biological evidence.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

- Submissions of biological evidence for lab testing.

The SART and/or victim advocates should be considered for involvement in this audit. Summary reports on these reviews should be forwarded through the chain of command to the Chief of Police.

Warrant Service

607.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy establishes guidelines for the planning and serving of arrest and search warrants by members of this department. It is understood that this policy cannot address every variable or circumstance that can arise in the service of a search or arrest warrant, as these tasks can involve rapidly evolving and unique circumstances.

This policy is intended to be used in conjunction with the Operations Planning and Deconfliction Policy, which has additional guidance on planning and serving high-risk warrants.

This policy is not intended to address the service of search warrants on locations or property already secured or routine field warrant arrests by patrol officers.

607.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department to balance the safety needs of the public, the safety of department members, privacy interests and other relevant factors when making decisions related to the service of search and arrest warrants.

607.3 SUPERVISOR OR SWAT COMMANDER

The Supervisor or SWAT Commander (see the Operations Planning and Deconfliction Policy) shall review all risk assessment forms with the involved involved officer to determine the risk level of the warrant service.

The operations director will also have the responsibility to coordinate service of those warrants that are categorized as high risk. Deconfliction, risk assessment, operational planning, briefing and debriefing should follow guidelines in the Operations Planning and Deconfliction Policy.

607.4 SEARCH WARRANTS

Officers should consult with a supervisor before preparing a search warrant application. Once authorization is received, the officer will prepare the affidavit and search warrant, consulting with the applicable prosecuting attorney as needed. He/she will also complete the risk assessment form and submit it, along with the warrant affidavit, to the appropriate supervisor for review and classification of risk (see the Operations Planning and Deconfliction Policy).

607.5 ARREST WARRANTS

If an officer reasonably believes that serving an arrest warrant may pose a higher risk than commonly faced on a daily basis, the officer should complete the risk assessment form and submit it to the appropriate supervisor for review and classification of risk (see the Operations Planning and Deconfliction Policy).

If the warrant is classified as high risk, service will be coordinated by the supervisor. If the warrant is not classified as high risk, the supervisor should weigh the risk of entry into a residence to make an arrest against other alternatives, such as arresting the person outside the residence where circumstances may pose a lower risk.

607.6 WARRANT PREPARATION

An officer who prepares a warrant should ensure the documentation in support of the warrant contains as applicable:

(a) Probable cause to support the search or arrest, including relevant dates and times to demonstrate timeliness and facts to support any request for nighttime or no-knock warrant execution.

(b) A clear explanation of the affiant's training, experience and relevant education.

(c) Adequately supported opinions, when relevant, that are not left to unsubstantiated conclusions.

(d) A nexus between the place to be searched and the persons or items central to the investigation. The facts supporting this nexus should be clear and current. For example, the affidavit shall explain why there is probable cause to believe that a particular person is currently residing at a particular location or that the items sought are present at a particular location.

(e) Full disclosure of known or suspected residents at the involved location and any indication of separate living spaces at the involved location. For example, it should be disclosed that several people may be renting bedrooms at a single location, even if the exact location of the rooms is not known.

(f) A specific description of the location to be searched, including photographs of the location, if reasonably available.

(g) A sufficient description of the items to be seized.

(h) Full disclosure of any known exculpatory information relevant to the warrant application (refer to the Brady Information Disclosure Policy).

607.7 HIGH-RISK WARRANT SERVICE

The supervisorshall coordinate the service of warrants that are categorized as high risk and shall have sole authority in determining the manner in which the warrant will be served, including the number of officers deployed.

The member responsible for directing the service should ensure the following as applicable:

(a) When practicable and when doing so does not cause unreasonable risk, video or photographic documentation is made of the condition of the location prior to execution of a search warrant. The images should include the surrounding area and persons present.

(b) The warrant service is audio- and video-recorded when practicable and reasonable to do so.

(c) Evidence is handled and collected only by those members who are designated to do so. All other members involved in the service of the warrant should alert one of the designated members to the presence of potential evidence and not touch or disturb the items.

(d) Reasonable efforts are made during the search to maintain or restore the condition of the location.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(e) Persons who are detained as part of the warrant service are handled appropriately under the circumstances.

(f) Reasonable care provisions are made for children and dependent adults (see the Child and Dependent Adult Safety Policy).

(g) A list is made of all items seized and a copy provided to the person in charge of the premises if present or otherwise left in a conspicuous place.

(h) A copy of the search warrant is left at the location.

(i) The condition of the property is documented with video recording or photographs after the search.

607.8 DETENTIONS DURING WARRANT SERVICE

Officers must be sensitive to the safety risks of all persons involved with the service of a warrant. Depending on circumstances and facts present, it may be appropriate to control movements of any or all persons present at a warrant service, including those who may not be the subject of a warrant or suspected in the case.

As soon as it can be determined that an individual is not subject to the scope of a warrant and that no further reasonable suspicion or safety concerns exist to justify further detention, the person should be promptly released.

Officers should, when and to the extent reasonable, accommodate the privacy and personal needs of people who have been detained.

607.9 ACTIONS AFTER WARRANT SERVICE

The case officer shall ensure that all affidavits, warrants, receipts and returns, regardless of any associated cases, are filed with the issuing judge or magistrate as soon as reasonably possible, but in any event no later than any date specified on the warrant.

607.10 OUTSIDE AGENCIES AND CROSS-JURISDICTIONAL WARRANTS

The supervisor will ensure that cooperative efforts with other agencies in the service of warrants conform to existing mutual aid agreements or other memorandums of understanding and will work cooperatively to mitigate risks including, but not limited to, the following:

- Identity of team members
- Roles and responsibilities
- Familiarity with equipment
- Rules of engagement
- Asset forfeiture procedures

Any outside agency requesting assistance in the service of a warrant within this jurisdiction should be referred to the shift commander. The shift commander should review and confirm the warrant, including the warrant location, and should discuss the service with the appropriate supervisor from the other agency. The shift commander should ensure that members of the Minot Police Department are utilized appropriately. Any concerns regarding the requested use of Minot Police Department members should be brought to the attention of the Chief of Police or the authorized designee. The actual service of the warrant will remain the responsibility of the agency requesting assistance.

If officers intend to serve a warrant outside Minot Police Department jurisdiction, the supervisor should provide reasonable advance notice to the applicable agency, request assistance as needed and work cooperatively on operational planning and the mitigation of risks detailed in this policy.

Officers will remain subject to the policies of the Minot Police Department when assisting outside agencies or serving a warrant outside Minot Police Department jurisdiction.

607.11 MEDIA ACCESS

No advance information regarding warrant service operations shall be released without the approval of the Chief of Police. Any media inquiries or press release after the fact shall be handled in accordance with the Media Relations Policy.

607.12 TRAINING

The Administrative Captain should ensure officers receive periodic training on this policy and associated topics, such as legal issues, warrant preparation, warrant service and reporting requirements.

Operations Planning and Deconfliction

608.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides guidelines for planning, deconfliction and execution of high-risk operations.

Additional guidance on planning and serving high-risk warrants is provided in the Warrant Service Policy.

608.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

High-risk operations - Operations, including service of search and arrest warrants and sting operations, that are likely to present higher risks than are commonly faced by officers on a daily basis, including suspected fortified locations, reasonable risk of violence or confrontation with multiple persons, or reason to suspect that persons anticipate the operation.

608.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department to properly plan and carry out high-risk operations, including participation in a regional deconfliction system, in order to provide coordination, enhance the safety of members and the public, decrease the risk of compromising investigations and prevent duplicating efforts.

608.3 RISK ASSESSMENT

608.3.1 RISK ASSESSMENT FORM PREPARATION

Officers assigned as operational leads for any operation that may qualify as a high-risk operation shall review the operation with their supervisor and complete a risk assessment form.

When preparing the form, the officer should query all relevant and reasonably available intelligence resources for information about the subject of investigation, others who may be present and the involved location. These sources may include regional intelligence and criminal justice databases, target deconfliction systems, firearm records, commercial databases and property records. Where appropriate, the officer should also submit information to these resources.

The officer should gather available information that includes, but is not limited to:

(a) Photographs, including aerial photographs, if available, of the involved location, neighboring yards and obstacles.

(b) Maps of the location.

(c) Diagrams of any property and the interior of any buildings that are involved.

(d) Historical information about the subject of investigation (e.g., history of weapon possession or use, known mental illness, known drug use, threats against police, gang affiliation, criminal history).

(e) Historical information about others who may be present at the location (e.g., other criminals, innocent third parties, dependent adults, children, animals).

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(f) Obstacles associated with the location (e.g., fortification, booby traps, reinforced doors/windows, surveillance measures, number and type of buildings, geographic and perimeter barriers, the number and types of weapons likely to be present, information that suggests the presence of explosives, chemicals or other hazardous materials, the potential for multiple dwellings or living spaces, availability of keys/door combinations).

(g) Other environmental factors (e.g., nearby venues such as schools and day care centers, proximity of adjacent homes or other occupied buildings, anticipated pedestrian and vehicle traffic at the time of service).

(h) Other available options that may minimize the risk to officers and others (e.g., making an off-site arrest or detention of the subject of investigation).

608.3.2 RISK ASSESSMENT REVIEW

Officers will present the risk assessment form and other relevant documents (such as copies of search warrants and affidavits and arrest warrants) to SWAT Team Commander.

The SWAT Commander will determine whether the warrant should be served by SWAT personnel. The SWAT Commander should discuss the matter with the Special Operations Group Commander if the circumstances rise to the level of SWAT Team activation..

608.3.3 HIGH-RISK OPERATIONS

If the the SWAT Commander determines that the operation is high risk, they should:

(a) Determine what resources will be needed at the location, and contact and/or place on standby any of the following appropriate and available resources:

1. SWAT Team (SWAT)
2. Additional personnel
3. Outside agency assistance
4. Special equipment
5. Medical personnel
6. Persons trained in negotiation
7. Additional surveillance
8. Canines
9. Property Section or analytical personnel to assist with cataloguing seizures

(b) Contact the appropriate department members or other agencies as warranted to begin preparation.

(c) Ensure that all legal documents such as search warrants are complete and have any modifications reasonably necessary to support the operation.

(d) Coordinate the actual operation.

608.4 DECONFLICTION

Deconfliction systems are designed to identify persons and locations associated with investigations or law enforcement operations and alert participating agencies when others are planning or conducting operations in close proximity or time or are investigating the same individuals, groups or locations.

The officer who is the operations lead shall ensure the subject of investigation and operations information have been entered in an applicable deconfliction system to determine if there is reported conflicting activity. This should occur as early in the process as practicable, but no later than two hours prior to the commencement of the operation. The officer should also enter relevant updated information when it is received.

If any conflict is discovered, the supervisor will contact the involved jurisdiction and resolve the potential conflict before proceeding.

608.5 OPERATIONS PLAN

The supervisor should ensure that a written operations plan is developed for all high-risk operations. Plans should also be considered for other operations that would benefit from having a formal plan.

The plan should address such issues as:

(a) Operation goals, objectives and strategies.

(b) Operation location and people:

1. The subject of investigation (e.g., history of weapon possession/use, known mental illness issues, known drug use, threats against police, gang affiliation, criminal history)
2. The location (e.g., fortification, booby traps, reinforced doors/windows, surveillance cameras and/or lookouts, number/type of buildings, geographic and perimeter barriers, the number and types of weapons likely to be present, information that suggests the presence of explosives, chemicals or other hazardous materials, the potential for multiple dwellings or living spaces, availability of keys/door combinations), including aerial photos, if available, and maps of neighboring yards and obstacles, diagrams and other visual aids
3. Other environmental factors (e.g., nearby venues such as schools and day care centers, proximity of adjacent homes or other occupied buildings, anticipated pedestrian and vehicle traffic at the time of service)
4. Identification of other people who may be present in or around the operation, such as other criminal suspects, innocent third parties and children

(c) Information from the risk assessment form by attaching a completed copy in the operational plan.

1. The volume or complexity of the information may indicate that the plan includes a synopsis of the information contained on the risk assessment form to ensure clarity and highlighting of critical information.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(d) Participants and their roles.

1. An adequate number of uniformed officers should be included in the operation team to provide reasonable notice of a legitimate law enforcement operation.
2. How all participants will be identified as law enforcement.

(e) Whether deconfliction submissions are current and all involved individuals, groups and locations have been deconflicted to the extent reasonably practicable.

(f) Identification of all communications channels and call-signs.

(g) Use of force issues.

(h) Contingencies for handling medical emergencies (e.g., services available at the location, closest hospital, closest trauma center).

(i) Plans for detaining people who are not under arrest.

(j) Contingencies for handling children, dependent adults, animals and other people who might be at the location in accordance with the Child Abuse, Adult Abuse, Child and Dependent Adult Safety and Animal Control policies.

(k) Communications plan

(l) Responsibilities for writing, collecting, reviewing and approving reports.

608.5.1 OPERATIONS PLAN RETENTION

Since the operations plan contains intelligence information and descriptions of law enforcement tactics, it shall not be filed with the report. The operations plan shall be stored separately and retained in accordance with the established records retention schedule.

608.6 OPERATIONS BRIEFING

A briefing should be held prior to the commencement of any high-risk operation to allow all participants to understand the operation, see and identify each other, identify roles and responsibilities and ask questions or seek clarification as needed. Anyone who is not present at the briefing should not respond to the operation location without specific supervisory approval.

(a) The briefing should include a verbal review of plan elements, using visual aids, to enhance the participants' understanding of the operations plan.

(b) All participants should have access to the operations plan and search warrant, if applicable. Any items to be seized should be identified at the briefing.

(c) The supervisor shall ensure that all participants are visually identifiable as law enforcement officers.

(a) Exceptions may be made by the supervisor for officers who are conducting surveillance or working under cover. However, those members exempt from visual identification should be able to transition to a visible law enforcement indicator at the time of enforcement actions, such as entries or arrests, if necessary.

(d) The briefing should include details of the communications plan.

Personal Communication Devices

701.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to establish guidelines for the use of mobile telephones and communication devices, whether issued or funded by the Department or personally owned, while on-duty or when used for authorized work-related purposes.

This policy generically refers to all such devices as Personal Communication Devices (PCD) but is intended to include all mobile telephones, Personal Digital Assistants (PDA) and similar wireless two-way communications and/or portable Internet access devices. PCD use includes, but is not limited to, placing and receiving calls, text messaging, blogging and microblogging, e-mailing, using video or camera features, playing games and accessing sites or services on the Internet.

701.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department allows members to utilize department-issued or funded PCDs and to possess personally owned PCDs in the workplace, subject to certain limitations. Any PCD used while on-duty, or used off-duty in any manner reasonably related to the business of the Department, will be subject to monitoring and inspection consistent with the standards set forth in this policy.

The inappropriate use of a PCD while on-duty may impair officer safety. Additionally, members are advised and cautioned that the use of a personally owned PCD either on-duty or after duty hours for business-related purposes may subject the member and the member's PCD records to civil or criminal discovery or disclosure under applicable open records laws.

Members who have questions regarding the application of this policy or the guidelines contained herein are encouraged to seek clarification from supervisory staff.

701.3 PRIVACY POLICY

Members shall have no expectation of privacy with regard to any communication made with, or stored in, or through PCDs issued by the Department and shall have no expectation of privacy in their location should the device be equipped with location detection capabilities. The use of any department-provided or -funded PCD, computer, Internet service, telephone service or other wireless service while on-duty is without any expectation of privacy that the member might otherwise have in any communication, including the content of any such communication. Communications or data reception on personal, password-protected, web-based e-mail accounts and any other services are subject to monitoring if department equipment is used.

In accordance with this policy, supervisors are authorized to conduct a limited administrative search of electronic files without prior notice, consent or a search warrant, on department-issued or personally owned PCDs that have been used to conduct department-related business. Administrative searches can take place for work-related purposes that may be unrelated to investigations of member misconduct and, as practicable, will be done in the presence of the affected member. Prior to conducting any search of personally owned devices, supervisors shall consult with the Chief of Police. All such searches shall be fully documented in a written report.

701.4 DEPARTMENT-ISSUED PCD

Depending on a member's assignment and the needs of the position, the Department may, at its discretion, issue or fund a PCD. Such devices and the associated telephone number shall remain the sole property of the Department and shall be subject to inspection or monitoring (including all related records and content) at any time without notice and without cause.

Unless a member is expressly authorized by the Chief of Police or the authorized designee for off-duty use of the PCD, the PCD will either be secured in the workplace at the completion of the tour of duty or will be turned off when leaving the workplace.

701.5 PERSONALLY OWNED PCD

Members may carry their own PCD while on-duty, subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(a) Permission to carry a personally owned PCD may be revoked if it is used contrary to provisions of this policy.

(b) The Department accepts no responsibility for loss of or damage to a personally owned PCD.

(c) The PCD and any associated services shall be purchased, used and maintained solely at the member's expense.

(d) The device should not be used for work-related purposes except in exigent circumstances (e.g., unavailability of radio communications). Members will have a reduced expectation of privacy when using a personally owned PCD in the workplace and have no expectation of privacy with regard to any department business-related communication.

(e) The device should not normally be utilized to record or disclose any department business-related information, including photographs, video or the recording or transmittal of any information or material obtained or made accessible as a result of employment or appointment with the Department, without the express authorization of the Chief of Police or the authorized designee.

(f) Use of a personally owned PCD constitutes consent for the Department to access the PCD to inspect and copy data to meet the needs of the Department, which may include litigation, open records retention and release obligations and internal investigations. If the PCD is carried on-duty, members will provide the Department with all telephone access numbers for the device.

(g) All work-related documents, emails, photographs, recordings or other public records created or received on a member's personally owned PCD shouldbe transferred to the Minot Police Department and deleted from the member's PCD as soon as reasonably practicable but no later than the end of the member's shift.

Except with prior express authorization from their supervisor, members are not obligated or required to carry, access, monitor or respond to electronic communications using a personally owned PCD while off-duty. If a member is in an authorized status that allows for appropriate compensation consistent with policy or if the member has prior express authorization from his/her supervisor, the member may engage in department business-related communications. Should members engage in such approved off-duty communications or work, members entitled to compensation shall promptly document the time worked and communicate the information to their supervisors to ensure appropriate compensation. Members who independently document off-duty department-related business activities in any manner shall promptly provide the Department with a copy of such records to ensure accurate record keeping.

701.6 USE OF PCD

The following protocols shall apply to all PCDs that are carried while on-duty or used to conduct department business:

(a) A PCD shall not be carried in a manner that allows it to be visible while in uniform, unless it is in an approved carrier.

(b) A PCD may not be used to conduct personal business while on-duty, except for brief personal communications (e.g., informing family of extended hours). Members shall endeavor to limit their use of PCDs to authorized break times, unless an emergency exists.

(c) Members may use a PCD to communicate with other personnel in situations where the use of radio communications is either impracticable or not feasible. PCDs should not be used as a substitute for, as a way to avoid or in lieu of regular radio communications.

(d) Members are prohibited from taking pictures, audio or video recordings or making copies of any such picture or recording media unless it is directly related to official department business. Disclosure of any such information to any third party through any means, without the express authorization of the Chief of Police or the authorized designee, may result in discipline.

(e) Members will not access social networking sites for any purpose that is not official department business.

(f) Using PCDs to harass, threaten, coerce or otherwise engage in inappropriate conduct with any third party is prohibited. Any member having knowledge of such conduct shall promptly notify a supervisor.

701.7 SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

Supervisors should ensure that members under their command are provided appropriate training on the use of PCDs consistent with this policy. Supervisors should monitor, to the extent practicable, PCD use in the workplace and take prompt corrective action if a member is observed or reported to be improperly using a PCD. An investigation into improper conduct should be promptly initiated when circumstances warrant. Before conducting any administrative search of a member's personally owned device, supervisors should consult with the Chief of Police or the authorized designee.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

If, when carrying out any provision of this policy, the need to contact a member who is off-duty arises, supervisors should consider delaying the contact, if practicable, until the member is on-duty as such contact may be compensable

701.8 USE WHILE DRIVING

The use of a PCD while operating a motor vehicle can cause unnecessary distractions and presents a negative image to the public. Officers operating emergency vehicles should restrict the use of these devices while driving to matters of an urgent nature and should, where practicable, stop the vehicle at an appropriate location when utilizing the device (N.D.C.C. § 39-08-23(3)).

Except in the case of an emergency, members who are operating non-emergency vehicles that are department owned or are being used in the scope of employment shall not use a PCD while driving unless the device is specifically designed and configured to allow hands-free use. Hands-free use should be restricted to business-related calls or calls of an urgent nature.

701.9 OFFICIAL USE

Members are reminded that PCDs are not secure devices and conversations may be intercepted or overheard. Caution should be exercised while utilizing PCDs to ensure that sensitive information is not inadvertently transmitted. As soon as reasonably possible, members shall conduct sensitive or private communications on a land-based or other department communications network.

Vehicle Use

703.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to establish a system of accountability to ensure department vehicles are used appropriately. This policy provides guidelines for on- and off-duty use of department vehicles and shall not be construed to create or imply any contractual obligation by the City of Minot to provide assigned take-home vehicles.

703.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department provides vehicles for department-related business and may assign patrol and unmarked vehicles based on a determination of operational efficiency, economic impact to the Department, requirements for tactical deployments and other considerations.

703.3 USE OF VEHICLES

703.3.1 SHIFT ASSIGNED VEHICLES

The Patrol Supervisor shall ensure a copy of the shift assignment roster, indicating member assignments and vehicle numbers, is completed for each shift and retained in accordance with the established procedure. If a member exchanges vehicles during his/her shift, the new vehicle number shall be documented on the roster.

703.3.2 OTHER USE OF VEHICLES

Members utilizing a vehicle for any purpose other than their normally assigned duties or normal vehicle assignment (e.g., transportation to training, community event) shall first notify the Patrol Supervisor. A notation will be made on the shift assignment roster indicating the member's name and vehicle number.

This subsection does not apply to those who are assigned to transport vehicles to and from the maintenance yard or car wash.

703.3.3 INSPECTIONS

Members shall be responsible for inspecting the interior and exterior of any assigned vehicle before taking the vehicle into service and at the conclusion of their shifts. Any previously unreported damage, mechanical problems, unauthorized contents or other problems with the vehicle shall be promptly reported to a supervisor and documented as appropriate.

The interior of any vehicle that has been used to transport any person other than a member of this department should be inspected prior to placing another person in the vehicle and again after the person is removed. This is to ensure that unauthorized or personal items have not been left in the vehicle.

When transporting any suspect, prisoner or arrestee, the transporting member shall search all areas of the vehicle that are accessible by the person before and after that person is transported.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

All department vehicles are subject to inspection and/or search at any time by a supervisor without notice and without cause. No member assigned to or operating such vehicle shall be entitled to any expectation of privacy with respect to the vehicle or its contents.

703.3.4 SECURITY AND UNATTENDED VEHICLES

Unattended vehicles should be locked and secured at all times. No key should be left in the vehicle except when it is necessary that the vehicle be left running (e.g., continued activation of emergency lights, canine safety, equipment charging). Officers who exit a vehicle rapidly in an emergency situation or to engage in a foot pursuit must carefully balance the need to exit the vehicle quickly with the need to secure the vehicle.

Members shall ensure all weapons are secured while the vehicle is unattended.

703.3.5 MOBILE DATA TERMINAL

Members assigned to vehicles equipped with a Mobile Data Terminal (MDT) shall log onto the MDT with the required information when going on-duty. 703.3.6 VEHICLE LOCATION SYSTEM

Patrol and other vehicles, at the discretion of the Chief of Police, may be equipped with a system designed to track the vehicle's location. While the system may provide vehicle location and other information, members are not relieved of their responsibility to use required communication practices to report their location and status.

Members shall not make any unauthorized modifications to the system. At the start of each shift, members shall verify that the system is on and report any malfunctions to their supervisor. If the member finds that the system is not functioning properly at any time during the shift, he/she should exchange the vehicle for one with a working system, if available.

System data may be accessed by supervisors at any time. However, access to historical data by personnel other than supervisors will require Division Commander approval.

703.3.7 KEYS

Members shall not duplicate keys. The loss of a key shall be promptly reported in writing through the member's chain of command.

703.3.8 AUTHORIZED PASSENGERS

Members operating department vehicles shall not permit persons other than City personnel or persons required to be conveyed in the performance of duty, or as otherwise authorized, to ride as passengers in the vehicle, except as stated in the Ride-Along Policy.

703.3.9 ALCOHOL

Except when responding to an emergency or whendepartment-related business requires otherwise, members driving department vehicles should obey all parking regulations at all times.

703.3.11 ACCESSORIES AND/OR MODIFICATIONS

703.3.12 CIVILIAN MEMBER USE
Civilian members using marked emergency vehicles shall ensure that all weapons have been removed before going into service. Civilian members shall prominently display the "out of service" placards at all times. Civilian members shall not operate the emergency lights or siren of any vehicle unless expressly authorized by a supervisor.

703.4 INDIVIDUAL MEMBER ASSIGNMENT TO VEHICLES
Department vehicles may be assigned to individual members at the discretion of the Chief of Police. Vehicles may be assigned for on-duty and/or take-home use. Assigned vehicles may be changed at any time. Permission to take home a vehicle may be withdrawn at any time.

The assignment of vehicles may be suspended when the member is unable to perform his/her regular assignment.

703.4.1 ON-DUTY USE
Vehicle assignments shall be based on the nature of the member’s duties, job description and essential functions, and employment or appointment status. Vehicles may be reassigned or utilized by other department members at the discretion of the Chief of Police or the authorized designee.

703.4.2 UNSCHEDULED TAKE-HOME USE
Circumstances may arise where department vehicles must be used by members to commute to and from a work assignment. Members may take home department vehicles only with prior approval of a supervisor and shall meet the following criteria:

(a) The circumstances are unplanned and were created by the needs of the Department.

(b) Other reasonable transportation options are not available.

(c) The member lives within a reasonable distance (generally not to exceed a 60-minute drive time) of the Minot City limits.

(d) Vehicles will be locked when not attended.

(e) All firearms, weapons and control devices will be removed from the interior of the vehicle and properly secured in the residence when the vehicle is not attended, unless the vehicle is parked in a locked garage.

703.4.3 ASSIGNED VEHICLES

Assignment of take-home vehicles shall be based on the location of the member's residence; the nature of the member's duties, job description and essential functions; and the member's employment or appointment status. Residence in the City of Minot is a prime consideration for assignment of a take-home vehicle. Members who reside outside the City of Minot may be required to secure the vehicle at a designated location or the Department at the discretion of the Chief of Police.

Department members shall sign a take-home vehicle agreement that outlines certain standards, including, but not limited to, how the vehicle shall be used, where it shall be parked when the member is not on-duty, vehicle maintenance responsibilities and member enforcement actions.

Members are cautioned that under federal and local tax rules, personal use of a City vehicle may create an income tax liability for the member. Questions regarding tax rules should be directed to the member's tax adviser.

Criteria for use of take-home vehicles include the following:

(a) Vehicles shall only be used for work-related purposes and shall not be used for personal errands or transports, unless special circumstances exist and the Chief of Police or a Division Commander gives authorization.

(b) Vehicles may be used to transport the member to and from the member's residence for work-related purposes.

(c) Vehicles will not be used when off-duty except:

    (a) In circumstances when a member has been placed on call by the Chief of Police or Division Commanders and there is a high probability that the member will be called back to duty.

    (b) When the member is performing a work-related function during what normally would be an off-duty period, including vehicle maintenance or traveling to or from a work-related activity or function.

    (c) When the member has received permission from the Chief of Police or Division Commanders.

    (d) When the vehicle is being used by the Chief of Police, Division Commanders or members who are in on-call administrative positions.

(d) While operating the vehicle, authorized members will carry and have accessible their duty firearms and be prepared to perform any function they would be expected to perform while on-duty.

(e) The two-way communications radio, MDT and global positioning satellite device, if equipped, must be on and set to an audible volume when the vehicle is in operation.

(f) Unattended vehicles are to be locked and secured at all times.

Cash Handling, Security and Management

704.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides guidelines to ensure department members handle cash appropriately in the performance of their duties.

This policy does not address cash-handling issues specific to the Property and Evidence and Informants policies.

704.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department to properly handle and document cash transactions and to maintain accurate records of cash transactions in order to protect the integrity of department operations and ensure the public trust.

704.3 PETTY CASH FUNDS

The Chief of Police shall designate a person as the fund manager responsible for maintaining and managing the petty cash fund.

Each petty cash fund requires the creation and maintenance of an accurate and current transaction ledger and the filing of invoices, receipts, cash transfer forms and expense reports by the fund manager.

704.4 PETTY CASH TRANSACTIONS

The fund manager shall document all transactions on the ledger and other appropriate forms. Each person participating in the transaction shall sign or otherwise validate the ledger, attesting to the accuracy of the entry. Transactions should include the filing of an appropriate receipt, invoice or cash transfer form. Transactions that are not documented by a receipt, invoice or cash transfer form require an expense report.

704.5 PETTY CASH AUDITS

The fund manager mat perform an annual. This audit requires that the manager and at least one other command staff member, selected by the Chief of Police, review the ledger and verify the accuracy of the accounting. A discrepancy in the audit requires documentation by those performing the audit and immediate reporting of the discrepancy to the Chief of Police.

Transference of fund management to another member shall require a separate petty cash audit and involve a command staff member.

A separate audit of each petty cash fund should be completed on a random date, approximately once each year by the Chief of Police or the City.

704.6 ROUTINE CASH HANDLING

Members who handle cash as part of their regular duties (e.g., Records Officers, the Ward County Narcotics Task Force supervisor, those who accept payment for department services) will discharge those duties in accordance with the procedures established for those tasks (see the Property and Evidence and Informants policies).

704.7 OTHER CASH HANDLING

Members of the Department who, within the course of their duties, are in the possession of cash that is not their property or is outside their defined cash-handling responsibilities shall, as soon as practicable, verify the amount, summon another member to verify their accounting, and process the cash for safekeeping or as evidence or found property in accordance with the Property and Evidence and Informants policies.

Cash in excess of $1,000 requires immediate notification of a supervisor, special handling, verification and accounting by the supervisor. Each member involved in this process shall complete an appropriate report or record entry.

Personal Protective Equipment

705.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy identifies the different types of personal protective equipment (PPE) provided by the Department as well the requirements and guidelines for the use of PPE.

This policy does not address ballistic vests or protection from communicable disease, as those issues are addressed in the Body Armor and Communicable Diseases policies.

705.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Personal protective equipment (PPE) - Equipment that protects a person from serious workplace injuries or illnesses resulting from contact with chemical, radiological, physical, electrical, mechanical or other workplace hazards.

Respiratory PPE - Any device that is worn by the user to protect from exposure to atmospheres where there is smoke, low levels of oxygen, high levels of carbon monoxide, or the presence of toxic gases or other respiratory hazards. For purposes of this policy, respiratory PPE does not include particulate-filtering masks such as N95 or N100 masks.

705.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department endeavors to protect members by supplying certain PPE to members as provided in this policy.

705.3 OFFICER RESPONSIBILITIES

Members are required to use PPE as provided in this policy and pursuant to their training.

Members are responsible for storage and periodicmaintenance of issued PPE. PPE should be stored in the issued bag and in an appropriate location so that it is available when needed. Members should store their issued PPE in or on top of their assigned locker.

Any member who identifies hazards in the workplace is encouraged to utilize the procedures in the Illness and Injury Prevention Policy to recommend new or improved PPE or additional needs for PPE.

705.4 HEARING PROTECTION

Approved hearing protection shall be used by members during firearms training.

Hearing protection should meet or exceed industry standards for use at firing ranges (29 CFR 1910.95).

prescription (e.g., eye protection that can be worn over prescription lenses). Members shall ensure their eye protection does not interfere with the fit of their hearing protection.

The Rangemaster should ensure eye protection meets or exceeds consensus standards set by the American National Standards Institute (29 CFR 1910.133).

705.6 HEAD AND BODY PROTECTION

Members who make arrests or control crowds in violent crowd control situations should be provided head protection with an attachable face shield.

Padded body protection consisting of chest, arm, leg and groin protection.

705.7 RESPIRATORY PROTECTION

The Administrative Commander is responsible for insuring a respiratory protection plan is developed and maintained by a trained and qualified member. The plan should include procedures for (29 CFR 1910.134):

(a) Selecting appropriate respiratory PPE based on hazards and risks associated with functions or positions.

(b) Fit testing, including identification of members or contractors qualified to conduct fit testing.

(c) Medical evaluations.

(d) PPE inventory control.

(e) PPE issuance and replacement.

(f) Cleaning, disinfecting, storing, inspecting, repairing, discarding and otherwise maintaining respiratory PPE, including schedules for these activities.

705.7.1 RESPIRATORY PROTECTION USE

Designated members may be issued respiratory PPE based on the member's assignment (e.g., a narcotics investigator who is involved in clandestine lab investigations).

Respiratory PPE may be worn when authorized by a scene commander who will determine the type and level of protection appropriate at a scene based upon an evaluation of the hazards present.

Scene commanders are responsible for monitoring members using respiratory PPE and their degree of exposure or stress. When there is a change in work area conditions or when a member's degree of exposure or stress may affect respirator effectiveness, the scene commander should reevaluate the continued effectiveness of the respirator and direct the member to leave the respirator use area when the scene commander reasonably believes (29 CFR 1910.134):

(a) It is necessary for the member to wash his/her face and the respirator facepiece to prevent eye or skin irritation associated with respirator use.

(b) The member detects vapor or gas breakthrough, or there is a change in breathing resistance or leakage of the facepiece.

(c) The member needs to replace the respirator, filter, cartridge or canister.

705.7.2 MEMBER RESPONSIBILITIES FOR RESPIRATORY PROTECTION

Members shall not use self-contained breathing apparatus (SCBA), full-face respirators or cartridge respirators unless they have completed training requirements for the equipment.

Members exposed to environments that are reasonably known to be harmful due to gases, smoke or vapors shall use respiratory PPE.

Members using respiratory PPE shall (29 CFR 1910.134):

(a) Ensure that they have no facial hair between the sealing surface of the facepiece and the face that could interfere with the seal or the valve function. Members also shall ensure that they have no other condition that will interfere with the face-to-facepiece seal or the valve function.

(b) Not wear corrective glasses, goggles or other PPE that interferes with the seal of the facepiece to the face, or that has not been previously tested for use with that respiratory equipment.

(c) Perform a user seal check per department-approved procedures recommended by the respirator manufacturer each time they put on a tight-fitting respirator.

(d) Leave a respiratory use area whenever they detect vapor or gas breakthrough, changes in breathing resistance or leakage of their facepiece and ensure that the respirator is replaced or repaired before returning to the affected area.

705.7.3 GAS MASK

Full-face air-purifying respirators, commonly referred to as gas masks, may be fitted with mechanical pre-filters or combination cartridge/filter assemblies for use in areas where gases, vapors, dusts, fumes or mists are present. Members must identify and use the correct cartridge based on the circumstances (29 CFR 1910.134).

A scene commander may order the use of gas masks in situations where the use of a SCBA is not necessary. These incidents may include areas where tear gas has or will be used or where a vegetation fire is burning. Gas masks shall not be used if there is a potential for an oxygen-deficient atmosphere.

Members shall ensure their gas mask filters are replaced whenever:

(a) They smell, taste or are irritated by a contaminant.

(b) They experience difficulty breathing due to filter loading.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(c) The cartridges or filters become wet.

(d) The expiration date on the cartridges or canisters has been reached.

(e) They are directed by a scene supervisor.

705.7.4 SELF-CONTAINED BREATHING APPARATUS

Scene commanders may direct members to use SCBA when entering an atmosphere that may pose an immediate threat to life, would cause irreversible adverse health effects or would impair an individual's ability to escape from a dangerous atmosphere. These situations may include, but are not limited to:

(a) Entering the hot zone of a hazardous materials incident.

(b) Entering any area where contaminant levels may become unsafe without warning, or any situation where exposures cannot be identified or reasonably estimated.

(c) Entering a smoke- or chemical-filled area.

The use of SCBA within the incident area hot zone should not cease until approved by a scene commander.

705.7.5 RESPIRATOR FIT TESTING

No member should be issued respiratory PPE until a proper fit testing has been completed by a designated member or contractor (29 CFR 1910.134).

After initial testing, fit testing for respiratory PPE should be repeated (29 CFR 1910.134):

(a) At least once every 12 months.

(b) Whenever there are changes in the type of SCBA or facepiece used.

(c) Whenever there are significant physical changes in the user (e.g., obvious change in body weight, scarring of the face seal area, dental changes, cosmetic surgery or any other condition that may affect the fit of the facepiece seal).

All respirator fit testing shall be conducted in negative-pressure mode.

705.7.6 RESPIRATORY MEDICAL EVALUATION QUESTIONNAIRE

No member shall be issued respiratory protection that forms a complete seal around the face until (29 CFR 1910.134):

(a) The member has completed a medical evaluation that includes a medical evaluation questionnaire.

(b) A physician or other licensed health care professional has reviewed the questionnaire.

(c) The member has completed any physical examination recommended by the reviewing physician or health care professional.

1. These records shall be maintained in a separate confidential medical file.

The records should be maintained in accordance with the department records retention schedule and 29 CFR 1910.1020.

705.9 TRAINING

Members should be trained in the respiratory and other hazards to which they may be potentially exposed during routine and emergency situations.

All members should be trained in the proper use and maintenance of PPE issued to them, including when the use is appropriate; how to put on, remove and adjust PPE; how to care for the PPE; and the limitations (29 CFR 1910.132).

Members issued respiratory PPE should attend annual training on the proper use of respiratory protection devices (29 CFR 1910.134).

800.5 CALL HANDLING

This department provides members of the public with access to the 9-1-1 system for a single emergency telephone number.

When a call for services is received, the dispatcher will reasonably and quickly attempt to determine whether the call is an emergency or non-emergency, and shall quickly ascertain the call type, location and priority by asking four key questions:

- Where?
- What?
- When?
- Who?

If the dispatcher determines that the caller has a hearing and/or speech impairment or disability, he/she shall immediately initiate a connection with the individual via available TDD/TTY equipment or Telephone Relay Service (TRS), as mandated by the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

If the dispatcher determines that the caller is a limited English proficiency (LEP) individual, the dispatcher should quickly determine whether sufficient information can be obtained to initiate an appropriate response. If language assistance is still needed, the language is known and a language-appropriate authorized interpreter is available in Minot Central Dispatch, the dispatcher should immediately connect the LEP caller to the authorized interpreter.

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

If no authorized interpreter is available or the dispatcher is unable to identify the caller's language, the dispatcher will contact the contracted telephonic interpretation service and establish a three-party call connecting the dispatcher, the LEP individual and the interpreter.

Dispatchers should be courteous, patient and respectful when dealing with the public.

800.5.1 EMERGENCY CALLS

A call is considered an emergency when there is an immediate or potential threat to life or serious property damage, and the timely arrival of public safety assistance is of the utmost importance. A person reporting an emergency should not be placed on hold until the dispatcher has obtained all necessary information to ensure the safety of the responding department members and affected individuals.

Emergency calls should be dispatched immediately. The Patrol Supervisor shall be notified of pending emergency calls for service when department members are unavailable for dispatch.

800.5.2 NON-EMERGENCY CALLS

A call is considered a non-emergency call when there is no immediate or potential threat to life or property. A person reporting a non-emergency may be placed on hold, if necessary, to allow the dispatcher to handle a higher priority or emergency call.

The reporting person should be advised if there will be a delay in the dispatcher returning to the telephone line or when there will be a delay in the response for service.

800.6 RADIO COMMUNICATIONS

The police radio system is for official use only, to be used by dispatchers to communicate with department members in the field. All transmissions shall be professional and made in a calm, businesslike manner, using proper language and correct procedures. Such transmissions shall include, but are not limited to:

(a) Members acknowledging the dispatcher with their radio identification call signs and current location.

Radio call signs are assigned to department members based on factors such as duty assignment, uniformed patrol assignment and/or member identification number. Dispatchers shall identify themselves on the radio with the appropriate station name or number, and identify the department member by his/her call sign. Members should use their call signs when initiating communication with the dispatcher. The use of the call sign allows for a brief pause so that the dispatcher can acknowledge the appropriate department member. Members initiating communication with other law enforcement or support agencies shall use their entire radio call sign, which includes the department station name or number.

800.7 DOCUMENTATION

It shall be the responsibility of Minot Central Dispatch to document all relevant information on calls for service or self-initiated activity. Dispatchers shall attempt to elicit, document and relay as much information as possible to enhance the safety of the member and assist in anticipating conditions that may be encountered at the scene. Desirable information would include, at a minimum:

801.6.1 RESPONSIBILITIES OF OTHER PERSONNEL

Every time property is released or received, an appropriate entry on the property form shall be completed to maintain the chain of custody. No evidence is to be released without first receiving authorization from a supervisor or investigator. Found property may be released to the rightful owner without prior approval of a supervisor or investigator.

Request for analysis of items other than controlled substances shall be recorded on the property form.

801.6.2 TRANSFER OF EVIDENCE TO CRIME LABORATORY

The transporting employee will check the evidence out of property, indicating the date and time on the property control card and the request for laboratory analysis.

The Records Officer releasing the evidence must complete the required information on the property control card and the evidence. The lab forms will be transported with the property to the examining laboratory. Upon delivering the item, the officer will record the delivery time on both copies and indicate the locker in which the item was placed or the employee to whom it was delivered. The original copy of the lab form will remain with the evidence and the copy will be returned to the Records Section for filing with the case.

801.6.3 STATUS OF PROPERTY

Each person receiving property will make the appropriate entry to document the chain of custody. Temporary release of property to officers for investigative purposes, or for court, shall be noted on the property record, stating the date, time and to whom it was released.

The Records Sergeant or Records Officer shall obtain the signature of the person to whom property was released and the reason for release. Any employee receiving property shall be responsible for such property until it is returned to the Property Section or released to another authorized person or entity.

The return of the property should be recorded on the property record, indicating date, time and the person who returned it.

801.6.4 AUTHORITY TO RELEASE PROPERTY

The Records Officer shall not release any property without a signed authorization from an appropriate authorized member of the Department. The Investigations Division shall authorize the disposition or release of all evidence and property coming into the care and custody of the Department.

For property in custody of the Department for investigatory or prosecutorial purposes and owned by a victim or witness, a Records Officer shall, upon the request of the owner:

(a) Provide a list describing the property, unless such release would seriously impede an investigation.

(b) Return the property expeditiously, unless the property is contraband or required as evidence.

Upon the direction of a prosecuting attorney, property held as evidence of a crime may be photographed and released to the owner.

801.6.5 RELEASE OF PROPERTY

A reasonable attempt shall be made to identify the rightful owner of found or stolen property or evidence not needed for an investigation.

Property belonging to a crime victim shall be promptly released to the victim unless needed for evidence within 10 days of being taken or recovered, or as expeditiously as possible, unless the property is contraband or otherwise excluded (N.D.C.C. § 12.1-34-02(9)). Property seized pursuant to a search warrant may not be released without a court order indicating so.

Release of property shall be documented on a property form, listing the name and address of the person to whom the property is to be released. The release authorization shall be signed by the releasing officer and must conform to the items listed on the property form or must specify the specific item to be released. Release of all property shall be properly documented.

With the exception of firearms and other property specifically regulated by statute, found property and property held for safekeeping shall be held for a minimum of 90 days. During such period, property personnel shall attempt to contact the rightful owner by telephone and/or mail when sufficient identifying information is available.

A Records Officer shall release the property to the owner or finder, upon valid identification and proper documentation presented by the owner or finder, for which an authorized release has been received. The owner or finder may be required to pay any costs incurred by the agency, such as costs for advertising or storage. A signature of the person receiving the property shall be recorded on the original property documentation. After release of all property entered on the property form, the form shall be forwarded to the Records Section for filing with the case. If some items of property have not been released, the property form will remain with the Property Section.

Upon release or other form of disposal, the proper entry shall be recorded in all property documentation and logs.

801.6.6 STOLEN OR EMBEZZLED PROPERTY

Stolen or embezzled property that is in the custody of this department shall be restored to the legal owner upon receipt of a court order (N.D.C.C. § 29-01-21). However, goods used for personal, family or household purposes or property that is covered by a certificate of title may be released to the legal owner without necessity of a court order (N.D.C.C. § 29-01-20).

The Department shall deliver stolen or embezzled property that has not been claimed by the owner within six months following the conclusion of criminal court proceedings to the county treasurer.

801.6.7 DISPUTED CLAIMS TO PROPERTY

Occasionally more than one party may claim an interest in property being held by the Department, and the legal rights of the parties cannot be clearly established. Such property shall not be released until one party has obtained a court order or establishes proof of the undisputed right to the property (N.D.C.C. § 12.1-34-02(9)).

All parties should be advised that their claims are civil. In extreme situations, legal counsel for the Department may be asked to file an interpleader in court to resolve the disputed claim.

801.6.8 RELEASE AND DISPOSAL OF FIREARMS AND AMMUNITION

Under no circumstances should any firearm or ammunition be returned to any individual unless and until such person presents valid identification and proof that the individual may legally possess such items.

Pursuant to a court order, a forfeited dangerous weapon may be sold at public auction, sold or traded to other law enforcement agencies or dealers, retained for use or destroyed (N.D.C.C. § 62.1-01-02).

The Records Officer shall determine if a firearm has been lost by, stolen from or otherwise unlawfully obtained from an innocent owner and notify the owner, if located, before disposal. Dispositions of firearms shall follow the steps and reporting set forth in N.D.C.C. § 62.1-01-02.

801.7 DISPOSITION OF PROPERTY

The Records Sergeant shall request a disposition or status on all property that has been held in excess of 120 days and for which no disposition has been received from a supervisor or detective or as required by local ordinance (N.D.C.C. § 40-05-02(20)).

All property not held for evidence in a pending criminal investigation or proceeding, and held for six months or longer where the owner has not been located or fails to claim the property, may be sold at a public auction in compliance with existing laws, upon receipt of proper authorization for disposal. The Records Sergeant shall request a disposition or status on all property which has been held in excess of 120 days and for which no disposition has been received from a supervisor or detective or as required by local ordinance (N.D.C.C. § 40-05-02(20)).

Property not held for any other purpose and not claimed after notification (or receipt, if notification is not feasible) may be auctioned to the highest bidder at a properly published public auction. If such property is not sold at auction or otherwise lawfully claimed, it may thereafter be destroyed. Property with an estimated value of $500 or more will be advertised in the local print media before it is destroyed or auctioned. The final disposition of all such property shall be fully documented in related reports.

Case reports are filed numerically by Records Section personnel.

Reports are numbered commencing with the last two digits of the current year followed by a sequential number beginning with 00001 starting at midnight on the first day of January of each year. As an example, case number 13-00001 would be the first new case beginning January 1, 2013.

803.4 PROCESSING REQUESTS FOR PUBLIC RECORDS

Any department member who receives a request for any record shall route the request to the Custodian of Records or the authorized designee.

If access to any public record is denied, the requesting party may request a written statement of the grounds for the denial. The Custodian of Records shall respond in writing, citing the law, regulation or authority under which access is denied or a statement that the record does not exist (N.D.C.C. § 44-04-18(7)).

If repeated requests for records become disruptive to the essential function of the Department, inspection and/or copies of records may be refused. In such event, the Custodian of Records shall provide the requesting party with written reasons supporting the refusal (N.D.C.C. § 44-04-18(13)).

Only those members who have completed applicable training and met any applicable requirements, such as a background check, may access protected information, and only when the member has a legitimate work-related reason for such access.

Unauthorized access, including access for other than a legitimate work-related purpose, is prohibited and may subject a member to administrative action pursuant to the Personnel Complaints Policy and/or criminal prosecution (N.D.A.C. § 110-01-02-02; N.D.C.C. § 12-60-16.10).

804.5 RELEASE OR DISSEMINATION OF PROTECTED INFORMATION

Protected information may be released only to authorized recipients who have both a right to know and a need to know (N.D.A.C. § 10-13-04-01).

A member who is asked to release protected information that should not be released should refer the requesting person to a supervisor or to the Records Sergeant for information regarding a formal request.

Unless otherwise ordered or when an investigation would be jeopardized, protected information maintained by the Department may generally be shared with authorized persons from other law enforcement agencies who are assisting in the investigation or conducting a related investigation (N.D.C.C. § 12-60-16.5). Any such information should be released through the Records Section to ensure proper documentation of the release (see the Records Maintenance and Release Policy).

Protected information, such as Criminal Justice Information (CJI), which includes Criminal History Record Information (CHRI), should generally not be transmitted by radio, cellular telephone or any other type of wireless transmission to members in the field or in vehicles through any computer or electronic device, except in cases where there is an immediate need for the information to further an investigation or where circumstances reasonably indicate that the immediate safety of officers, other department members or the public is at risk.

Nothing in this policy is intended to prohibit broadcasting warrant information.

804.5.1 REVIEW OF CRIMINAL OFFENDER RECORD

Requests for CHRI from non-criminal justice sources shall be referred to BCI by providing the requestor with the appropriate request form, which should be supplied by BCI (N.D.A.C. § 10-13-05-01).

804.6.2 DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS

When any document received through CJIS, including CHRI, has served the purpose for which it was obtained and is eligible for destruction, it shall be disposed of via a permanent destruction method, in compliance with the organization’s records retention schedule. At no time shall documents merely be placed in a trash receptacle.

Each employee shall be responsible for properly destroying CHRI and CHRI documents he/she receives.

804.6.3 PURGING

Purging allows for the retention of records, or portions of records, that are not the direct objective of a purge order. An entire record may be destroyed, including fingerprints, photos, and arrest and disposition data, or only specific portions of a record may be destroyed (N.D.A.C. § 10-13-11-02).

Upon written request and with proper proof of identification, an individual or an authorized representative may review, in person, his/her own CHRI on file with the Department. However, an individual is not entitled to data contained in intelligence, investigatory or other related files. If an individual seeks to review records not held by the Department, the individual should be directed to the applicable agency (N.D.A.C. § 10-13-07-01).

The written request will be forwarded to BCI within five working days. Upon return of the information from BCI, the department member will notify the requesting party when the information is available for review during normal working hours (N.D.A.C. § 10-13-07-04; N.D.A.C. § 10-13-07-06).

The requesting party may make notes of the information but will not be provided a copy except when the information is challenged, and then only those portions being challenged will be copied (N.D.A.C. § 10-13-07-08).

804.7.2 NEGATIVE RESPONSE
The Department may deny inspection of a record if the subject of the record is not satisfactorily identified. The Department also can deny inspection if no record for the individual is found. In either situation, the individual will be informed, in writing, of the reason for the negative response and will be advised of his/her right to challenge the denial (N.D.A.C. § 10-13-07-07).

804.7.3 DENIED ACCESS
If an individual is denied the right to inspect his/her criminal history record, he/she may challenge this denial by submitting a challenge form and a complete set of fingerprints within 10 days of the denial.

The Department must, within 30 days, either allow inspection of the record requested, or respond to the individual, in writing, as to why the denial is upheld (N.D.A.C. § 10-13-07-09).

804.7.4 CHALLENGE TO RECORDS
The subject of any record may challenge, in writing, the completeness or accuracy of his/her criminal history record entries and request that incomplete or inaccurate entries be corrected. The subject of the record must specify which entries are incomplete or inaccurate.

Upon challenge, the Department shall conduct an administrative review of the alleged incomplete or incorrect entries, and shall notify the individual, in writing, of the result of the review. This shall be done within 20 working days of receiving the challenge (N.D.A.C. § 10-13-07-10).

The Records Sergeant or the authorized designee shall:

(a) Review the request for correction and make a determination of whether to grant or refuse the request, in whole or in part.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

(b) If a correction is warranted, notify the requestor, ensure the change is made in the records of the Minot Police Department and forward corrected copies to other applicable agencies, including:

1. Two copies of BCI.
2. All criminal justice and non-criminal justice agencies that have received the erroneous information within the year preceding the correction (N.D.A.C. § 10-13-07-12).

(c) If the requested correction is refused, promptly provide the requestor with a written statement of the grounds for the refusal.

(d) Upon request, the names of all non-criminal justice agencies to which the data has been disseminated should be given to the requestor.

If the Department is not also the originating agency, the original challenge form and any related documents must be forwarded to the originating agency, or, in the case of challenges claiming incompleteness, to the agency that can verify the notations that the subject of the record believes should be included. The Department shall retain a copy of the original challenge form (N.D.A.C. § 10-13-07-11).

Animal Control

805.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to establish guidelines for Minot Police Department personnel when interacting with animals and responding to calls for service involving animals.

805.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department to be responsive to the needs of the community regarding animal-related issues. This includes enforcing local and state laws relating to animals and appropriately resolving or referring animal-related problems, as outlined in this policy.

805.3 MEMBER RESPONSIBILITIES

Members who respond to or assist with animal-related calls for service should evaluate the situation to determine appropriate actions to control the situation.

Due to the hazards of handling animals without proper training and equipment, responding members generally should not attempt to capture or pick up any animal, but should keep the animal under observation until the arrival of appropriate assistance.

Members may consider acting before the arrival of such assistance when:

(a) There is a threat to public safety.

(b) An animal has bitten someone; members should take measures to confine the animal and prevent further injury.

(c) An animal is creating a traffic hazard.

(d) An animal is seriously injured.

(e) The owner/handler has been arrested or is incapacitated. In such circumstances, the member should find appropriate placement for the animal.

1. This is only necessary when the arrestee is expected to be in custody for a time period longer than would reasonably allow him/her to properly care for the animal.
2. With the owner’s consent, locating appropriate placement may require contacting relatives or neighbors to care for the animal.
3. If no person can be found or the owner does not or cannot give consent, the animal should be taken to a designated animal care facility.

805.3.1 STRAY ANIMALS

If an animal has a license or can otherwise be identified, the owner should be contacted, if reasonably possible. If the owner is contacted, the animal should be released to the owner and a citation may be issued if appropriate. If an animal is taken into custody, it shall be transported to the animal shelter or other designated area, making sure the animal has food, water and bedding.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

An officer may take custody of any animal that appears to have been abandoned. The officer shall take reasonable steps to find the owner of any abandoned animal that has been taken into custody.

An animal pick-up form must be completely filled out and placed in the animal control officer's in-box. The animal control officer will transport any animals in the holding pens to the animal shelter as soon as he/she comes on-duty. Once an animal has been taken into custody, all releases should be handled by the animal shelter. In cases where an animal control officer is not available, the Patrol Supervisor shall designate an alternate to transport so that animals are not held in the holding pens unnecessarily for extended periods.

805.3.2 CONFISCATION OF NON-TRADITIONAL LIVESTOCK
Members may seize any non-traditional livestock, as defined by N.D.C.C. § 36-01-00.1, that is located on private property if probable cause exists that the animal is being held in violation of state law and there are exigent circumstances requiring the immediate confiscation of the animal. To seize the animal, the member must seek an ex parte order from the appropriate court as required by N.D.C.C. § 36-01-12.2.

805.4 DECEASED ANIMALS

When a member becomes aware of a deceased animal, all reasonable attempts should be made to preliminarily determine if the death of the animal is related to criminal activity.

Deceased animals on public property should be removed, sealed in a plastic bag, and properly disposed of by the responding member or City Sanitation should be contacted to dispose of the animal. The ACO vehicle should be utilized for transporting deceased animals in lieu of utilizing a patrol car.

Members should not climb onto or under any privately owned structure for the purpose of removing a deceased animal.

805.5 INJURED ANIMALS

When a member becomes aware of an injured domesticated animal, all reasonable attempts should be made to contact an owner or responsible handler. If an owner or responsible handler cannot be located, the animal should be taken to a designated animal care facility.

805.6 ANIMAL CONTROL RESPONSIBILITIES

Animal control services are generally the primary responsibility of Animal Control and include the following:

(a) Animal-related matters during periods when Animal Control is available.

(b) Ongoing or persistent animal nuisance complaints. Such complaints may be scheduled, if reasonable, for handling during periods that Animal Control is available for investigation and resolution.

(c) Follow-up on animal-related calls, such as locating owners of injured animals.

805.7 ANIMAL CRUELTY COMPLAINTS

Laws relating to the cruelty to animals should be enforced including but not limited to N.D.C.C. § 36-21.2-01 et seq.

(a) An investigation should be conducted on all reports of animal cruelty.

(b) Legal steps should be taken to protect an animal that is in need of immediate care or protection from acts of cruelty (N.D.C.C. § 36-21.2-06).

(c) Making notifications related to the seizure of an animal (e.g., owner, state officials) that may be required under state law.

805.8 ANIMAL BITE REPORTS

Members investigating an animal bite should obtain as much information as possible for follow-up with the appropriate health or animal authorities. Efforts should be made to capture or otherwise have the animal placed under control. Members should attempt to identify and notify the owner of the final disposition of the animal.

805.9 DANGEROUS ANIMALS

In the event responding members cannot fulfill a request for service because an animal is difficult or dangerous to handle, the Patrol Supervisor will be contacted to determine available resources, including requesting the assistance of animal control services from an allied agency.

805.10 PUBLIC NUISANCE CALLS RELATING TO ANIMALS

Members should diligently address calls related to nuisance animals (e.g., barking dogs), because such calls may involve significant quality-of-life issues.

805.11 DESTRUCTION OF ANIMALS

When it is necessary to use a firearm to euthanize a badly injured animal or stop an animal that poses an imminent threat to human safety, the Firearms Policy shall be followed. A badly injured animal shall only be euthanized with the approval of a supervisor.

900.3.2 SUPERVISION IN TEMPORARY CUSTODY

An authorized department member capable of supervising shall be present at all times when an individual is held in temporary custody. (b) Evaluate the following issues against the stated risks in (a) to determine the need for placing the individual in a single cell:

2. Provide any individual identified as being at a high risk for sexual or other victimization with heightened protection. This may include (28 CFR 115.113; 28 CFR 115.141):

900.4.2 CONSULAR NOTIFICATION

Consular notification may be mandatory when certain foreign nationals are arrested. The Patrol Division Division Commander will ensure that the U.S. Department of State's list of countries and jurisdictions that require mandatory notification is readily available to department members. There should also be a published list of foreign embassy and consulate telephone and fax numbers, as well as standardized notification forms that can be transmitted and then retained for documentation. Prominently displayed signs informing foreign nationals of their rights related to consular notification should also be posted in areas used for the temporary custody of adults.

Department members assigned to process a foreign national shall:

(a) Inform the individual, without delay, that he/she may have his/her consular officers notified of the arrest or detention and may communicate with them.

A request for the release of property to another person must be made in writing. Release of the property requires the recipient's signature on the appropriate form.

Upon release of an individual from temporary custody, his/her items of personal property shall be compared with the inventory, and he/she shall sign a receipt for the property's return. Custodial Searches

901.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy provides guidance regarding searches of individuals in custody. Such searches are necessary to eliminate the introduction of contraband, intoxicants or weapons into the Minot Police Department facility. Such items can pose a serious risk to the safety and security of department members, individuals in custody, contractors and the public.

Nothing in this policy is intended to prohibit the otherwise lawful collection of evidence from an individual in custody.

901.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Strip search - A search that requires an individual to remove or rearrange some or all of his/her clothing to permit a visual inspection of the underclothing, breasts, buttocks, anus or outer genitalia. This includes monitoring an individual who is changing clothes, where his/her underclothing, buttocks, genitalia or female breasts are visible.

901.2 POLICY

All searches shall be conducted with concern for safety, dignity, courtesy, respect for privacy and hygiene, and in compliance with policy and law to protect the rights of those who are subject to any search.

member of the same sex as the individual being searched. If a member of the same sex is not available, a witnessing member must be present during the search.

Custody searches should also be conducted any time an individual in custody enters or re-enters a secure area, or any time it is reasonably believed that a search is necessary to maintain the safety and security of the facility (N.D.C.C. § 12-44.1-15).

901.4.1 PROPERTY

Members shall take reasonable care in handling the property of an individual in custody to avoid discrepancies or losses. Property retained for safekeeping shall be kept in a secure location until the individual is released or transferred.

Some property may not be accepted by a facility or agency that is taking custody of an individual from this department, such as weapons or large items. These items should be retained for safekeeping in accordance with the Property and Evidence Policy.

901.5 STRIP SEARCHES

No individual in temporary custody at any Minot Police Department facility shall be subjected to a strip search unless there is reasonable suspicion based upon specific and articulable facts to believe the individual has a health condition requiring immediate medical attention or is concealing a weapon or contraband. Factors to be considered in determining reasonable suspicion include, but are not limited to:

(a) The detection of an object during a custody search that may be a weapon or contraband and cannot be safely retrieved without a strip search.

(c) Custody history (e.g., past possession of contraband while in custody, assaults on department members, escape attempts).

(d) The individual’s actions or demeanor.

(e) Criminal history (i.e., level of experience in a custody setting).

No transgender or intersex individual shall be searched or examined for the sole purpose of determining the individual’s genital status. If the individual’s genital status is unknown, it may be determined during conversations with the person, by reviewing medical records, or as a result of a broader medical examination conducted in private by a medical practitioner (28 CFR 115.115).

(b) There is probable cause to believe that the individual is concealing controlled substances or evidence that cannot be recovered by a more limited search, and there is no reasonable alternative to ensure the individual cannot destroy or ingest the substance during transportation.

These special-circumstance field strip searches shall only be authorized and conducted under the same restrictions as the strip search procedures in this policy, except that the Patrol Supervisor authorization does not need to be in writing.

901.6 PHYSICAL BODY CAVITY SEARCH
Physical body cavity searches shall be subject to the following:

(a) No individual shall be subjected to a physical body cavity search without written approval of the Patrol Supervisor and only upon a search warrantor approval of legal counsel. 1. The Department shall not rely on other individuals in custody for assistance except in limited circumstances where an extended delay in obtaining an appropriate interpreter could compromise the individual's safety, the performance of first-response duties under this policy, or the investigation of an individual's allegations of sexual abuse, harassment or retaliation.

Individuals in custody shall be notified of the department zero-tolerance policy regarding sexual abuse and sexual harassment, and of at least one way to report abuse or harassment to a public or private entity that is not part of the Department and that is able to receive and immediately forward a report of sexual abuse or sexual harassment to department supervisors and command staff. This allows the individual to remain anonymous (28 CFR 115.132; 28 CFR 115.151).

902.4.2 PATROL SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

The Patrol Supervisor shall report to Minot Police Department designated investigators all allegations of sexual abuse, harassment, retaliation, neglect or violations leading to sexual abuse, harassment or retaliation. This includes third-party and anonymous reports (28 CFR 115.161).

If the alleged victim is under the age of 18 or considered a dependent adult, the Patrol Supervisor shall also report the allegation as required under mandatory reporting laws and department policy.

Upon receiving an allegation that an individual in custody was sexually abused while confined at another facility, the Patrol Supervisor shall notify the head of that facility or the appropriate office of the agency where the alleged abuse occurred. The notification shall be made as soon as possible but no later than 72 hours after receiving the allegation. The Patrol Supervisor shall document such notification (28 CFR 115.163).

If an alleged victim is transferred from the Department to a jail, prison or medical facility, the Patrol Supervisor shall, as permitted by law, inform the receiving facility of the incident and the individual's potential need for medical or social services, unless the individual requests otherwise (28 CFR 115.165).

902.5 INVESTIGATIONS

The Department shall promptly, thoroughly and objectively investigate all allegations, including third-party and anonymous reports, of sexual abuse or sexual harassment. Only investigators who have received department-approved special training shall conduct sexual abuse investigations (28 CFR 115.171).

902.5.1 FIRST RESPONDER RESPONSIBILITIES

The responsibilities of the first officer to respond to a report of sexual abuse or sexual assault shall include, but not be limited to (28 CFR 115.164):

(a) Separating the parties.

(b) Establishing a crime scene to preserve and protect any evidence.

(c) Identifying and securing witnesses until steps can be taken to collect any evidence.

(d) Requesting that the alleged victim and suspect not take any actions that could destroy physical evidence, including, as appropriate, washing, brushing teeth, changing clothes, urinating, defecating, smoking, drinking or eating if the abuse occurred within a time period that still allows for the collection of physical evidence.

If the first responder is not an officer, he/she shall request that the alleged victim not take any actions that could destroy physical evidence and should then notify an officer (28 CFR 115.164).

902.5.2 INVESTIGATOR RESPONSIBILITIES

The responsibilities of investigators shall include, but not be limited to (28 CFR 115.171):

(a) Gathering and preserving direct and circumstantial evidence, including any available physical and biological evidence and any available electronic monitoring data.

(b) Interviewing alleged victims, suspects and witnesses.

(c) Reviewing any prior complaints and reports of sexual abuse involving the suspect.

(d) Conducting compelled interviews only after consulting with prosecutors as to whether compelled interviews may be an obstacle for subsequent criminal prosecution.

(e) Assessing the credibility of the alleged victim, suspect or witness on an individual basis and not by the person’s status as an individual in custody or a member of the Minot Police Department.

(f) Documenting in written reports a description of physical, testimonial, documentary and other evidence, the reasoning behind any credibility assessments, and investigative facts and findings.

(g) Referring allegations of conduct that may be criminal to the City Attorney or State's Attorney for possible prosecution, including any time there is probable cause to believe an individual in custody sexually abused another individual in custody at the department facility (28 CFR 115.178).

902.5.4 SEXUAL ASSAULT AND SEXUAL ABUSE VICTIMS

No individual in custody who alleges sexual abuse shall be required to submit to a polygraph examination or other truth-telling device as a condition for proceeding with the investigation of such an allegation (28 CFR 115.171(e)).

902.5.5 CONCLUSIONS AND FINDINGS
All completed investigations shall be forwarded to the Chief of Police, or if the allegations may reasonably involve the Chief of Police, to the City Manager. The Chief of Police or City Manager shall review the investigation and determine whether any allegations of sexual abuse or sexual harassment have been substantiated by a preponderance of the evidence (28 CFR 115.172).

All department members shall be subject to disciplinary sanctions up to and including termination for violating this policy. Termination shall be the presumptive disciplinary sanction for members who have engaged in sexual abuse. All discipline shall be commensurate with the nature and circumstances of the acts committed, the member's disciplinary history and the sanctions imposed for comparable offenses by other members with similar histories (28 CFR 115.176).

All terminations for violations of this policy, or resignations by members who would have been terminated if not for their resignation, shall be criminally investigated unless the activity was clearly not criminal and reported to any relevant licensing body (28 CFR 115.176).

Any contractor who engages in sexual abuse shall be prohibited from contact with individuals in custody and reported to any relevant licensing bodies (28 CFR 115.177). The Chief of Police shall take appropriate remedial measures and consider whether to prohibit further contact with individuals in custody by a contractor.

902.6 RETALIATION PROHIBITED

All individuals in custody and department members who report sexual abuse or sexual harassment or who cooperate with sexual abuse or sexual harassment investigations shall be protected from retaliation (28 CFR 115.167). If any other person who cooperates with an investigation expresses a fear of retaliation, appropriate measures shall be taken to protect that person.

The Patrol Supervisor or the authorized designee shall employ multiple protection measures, such as housing changes or transfers for victims or abusers, removal of alleged abusers from contact with victims, and emotional support services for individuals in custody or members who fear retaliation for reporting sexual abuse or sexual harassment or for cooperating with investigations.

A member of the Department shall be identified by the Patrol Supervisor or the authorized designee to monitor the conduct and treatment of individuals in custody or members who have reported sexual abuse, and of those who were reported to have suffered sexual abuse. The member shall act promptly to remedy any such retaliation. In the case of individuals in custody, such monitoring shall also include periodic safety checks.

902.7 REVIEWS AND AUDITS

902.7.1 INCIDENT REVIEWS
An incident review shall be conducted at the conclusion of every sexual abuse investigation, unless the allegation has been determined to be unfounded. The review should occur within 30 days of the conclusion of the investigation. The review team shall include command staff and seek input from supervisors and investigators (28 CFR 115.186).

Copyright Lexipol, LLC 2024/02/01, All Rights Reserved.
Published with permission by Minot Police Department

The review shall (28 CFR 115.186):

(a) Consider whether the allegation or investigation indicates a need to change policy or practice to better prevent, detect or respond to sexual abuse.

(b) Consider whether the incident or allegation was motivated by race; ethnicity; gender identity; lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender or intersex identification, status or perceived status; gang affiliation; or was motivated or otherwise caused by other group dynamics at the department facility.

(c) Examine the area in the facility where the incident allegedly occurred to assess whether physical barriers in the area may enable abuse.

(d) Assess the adequacy of staffing levels in that area during different shifts.

(e) Assess whether monitoring technology should be deployed or augmented to supplement supervision by department members.

The review team shall prepare a report of its findings, including any determinations made pursuant to this section and any recommendations for improvement. The report shall be submitted to the Chief of Police and the PREA Coordinator. The Chief of Police or the authorized designee shall implement the recommendations for improvement or shall document the reasons for not doing so (28 CFR 115.186).

902.7.2 DATA REVIEWS

The PREA Coordinator shall conduct an annual review of collected and aggregated incident-based sexual abuse data. The review should include, as needed, data from incident-based documents, including reports, investigation files and sexual abuse incident reviews (28 CFR 115.187).

The purpose of these reviews is to assess and improve the effectiveness of sexual abuse prevention, detection and response policies, practices and training. An annual report shall be prepared that includes (28 CFR 115.188):

(a) Identification of any potential problem areas.

(b) Identification of any corrective actions taken.

(c) Recommendations for any additional corrective actions.

(d) A comparison of the current year’s data and corrective actions with those from prior years.

(e) An assessment of the progress in addressing sexual abuse.

The report shall be approved by the Chief of Police and made readily available to the public through the department website. Material may be redacted from the reports when publication would present a clear and specific threat to the safety and security of the facility. However, the nature of the redacted material shall be indicated.

All other data collected pursuant to this policy shall be securely retained for at least 10 years after the date of the initial collection unless federal, state or local law requires otherwise (28 CFR 115.189).

902.9 TRAINING

All department members and contractors who may have contact with individuals in custody shall receive department-approved training on the prevention and detection of sexual abuse and sexual harassment within the department facility. The Administrative Captain shall be responsible for developing and administering this training as appropriate, covering at a minimum (28 CFR 115.131):

(a) The department zero-tolerance policy and the right of individuals in custody to be free from sexual abuse and sexual harassment, and from retaliation for reporting sexual abuse or harassment.

(b) The dynamics of sexual abuse and harassment in confinement settings, including which individuals in custody are most vulnerable.

(c) The right of individuals in custody and department members to be free from sexual abuse and sexual harassment, and from retaliation for reporting sexual abuse or harassment.

Anti-Retaliation

1000.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy prohibits retaliation against members who identify workplace issues, such as fraud, waste, abuse of authority, gross mismanagement or any inappropriate conduct or practices, including violations that may pose a threat to the health, safety or well-being of members.

This policy does not prohibit actions taken for nondiscriminatory or non-retaliatory reasons, such as discipline for cause.

These guidelines are intended to supplement and not limit members' access to other applicable remedies. Nothing in this policy shall diminish the rights or remedies of a member pursuant to any applicable federal law, provision of the U.S. Constitution, law, ordinance or employment agreement.

1000.2 POLICY

The Minot Police Department has a zero tolerance for retaliation and is committed to taking reasonable steps to protect from retaliation members who, in good faith, engage in permitted behavior or who report or participate in the reporting or investigation of workplace issues. All complaints of retaliation will be taken seriously and will be promptly and appropriately investigated.

1000.3 RETALIATION PROHIBITED

No member may retaliate against any person for engaging in lawful or otherwise permitted behavior; for opposing a practice believed to be unlawful, unethical, discriminatory or retaliatory; for reporting or making a complaint under this policy; or for participating in any investigation related to a complaint under this or any other policy.

Retaliation includes any adverse action or conduct, including but not limited to:

- Refusing to hire or denying a promotion.
- Extending the probationary period.
- Unjustified reassignment of duties or change of work schedule.
- Real or implied threats or other forms of intimidation to dissuade the reporting of wrongdoing or filing of a complaint, or as a consequence of having reported or participated in protected activity.
- Taking unwarranted disciplinary action.
- Spreading rumors about the person filing the complaint or about the alleged wrongdoing.
- Shunning or unreasonably avoiding a person because he/she has engaged in protected activity.

Anti-Retaliation

1000.4 COMPLAINTS OF RETALIATION

Any member who feels he/she has been retaliated against in violation of this policy should promptly report the matter to any supervisor, command staff member, Chief of Police or the City Human Resource Director.

Members shall act in good faith, not engage in unwarranted reporting of trivial or minor deviations or transgressions, and make reasonable efforts to verify facts before making any complaint in order to avoid baseless allegations. Members shall not report or state an intention to report information or an allegation knowing it to be false, with willful or reckless disregard for the truth or falsity of the information or otherwise act in bad faith.

Investigations are generally more effective when the identity of the reporting member is known, thereby allowing investigators to obtain additional information from the reporting member. However, complaints may be made anonymously. All reasonable efforts shall be made to protect the reporting member's identity. However, confidential information may be disclosed to the extent required by law or to the degree necessary to conduct an adequate investigation and make a determination regarding a complaint. In some situations, the investigative process may not be complete unless the source of the information and a statement by the member is part of the investigative process.

1000.5 SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

Supervisors are expected to remain familiar with this policy and ensure that members under their command are aware of its provisions.

The responsibilities of supervisors include, but are not limited to:

(a) Ensuring complaints of retaliation are investigated as provided in the Personnel Complaints Policy.

(b) Receiving all complaints in a fair and impartial manner.

(c) Documenting the complaint and any steps taken to resolve the problem.

(d) Acknowledging receipt of the complaint, notifying the Chief of Police via the chain of command and explaining to the member how the complaint will be handled.

(e) Taking appropriate and reasonable steps to mitigate any further violations of this policy.

(f) Monitoring the work environment to ensure that any member making a complaint is not subjected to further retaliation.

(g) Periodic follow-up with the complainant to ensure that retaliation is not continuing.

(h) Not interfering with or denying the right of a member to make any complaint.

(i) Taking reasonable steps to accommodate requests for assignment or schedule changes made by a member who may be the target of retaliation if it would likely mitigate the potential for further violations of this policy.

1000.6 COMMAND STAFF RESPONSIBILITIES

The Chief of Police should communicate to all supervisors the prohibition against retaliation.

Command staff shall treat all complaints as serious matters and shall ensure that prompt actions take place, including but not limited to:

(a) Communicating to all members the prohibition against retaliation.

(b) The timely review of complaint investigations.

(c) Remediation of any inappropriate conduct or condition and instituting measures to eliminate or minimize the likelihood of recurrence.

(d) The timely communication of the outcome to the complainant.

1000.7 WHISTLE-BLOWING

North Dakota law protects employees who report job-related violations of law, rules, regulations, ordinances, or misuse of public resources in writing to the Chief of Police, State's Attorney, the attorney general, the state auditor, or an employee organization (N.D.C.C. § 34-11.1-04).

Members who believe they have been the subject of reprisal for engaging in such protected behaviors should promptly report it to a supervisor. Supervisors should refer the complaint to the Office of Professional Standards for investigation pursuant to the Personnel Complaints Policy.

1000.8 RECORDS RETENTION AND RELEASE

The Chief of Police shall ensure that documentation of investigations is maintained in accordance with the established records retention schedules.

1000.9 TRAINING

The policy should be reviewed with each new member.

All members should receive periodic refresher training on the requirements of this policy.

Reporting of Employee Convictions

1001.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to describe the notification requirements and procedures that members must follow when certain arrests, convictions, and court orders restrict their ability to perform the official duties and responsibilities of the Minot Police Department. This policy will also describe the notification requirements and procedures that certain retired officers must follow when an arrest, conviction, or court order disqualifies them from possessing a firearm.

1001.2 DOMESTIC VIOLENCE CONVICTIONS AND COURT ORDERS

Federal and North Dakota law prohibits individuals convicted of certain offenses and individuals subject to certain court orders from lawfully possessing firearms. Such convictions and court orders often involve allegations of the use or attempted use of force, or threatened use of a weapon on any individual in a domestic relationship (e.g., spouse, cohabitant, parent, child) (18 USC § 922; N.D.C.C. § 62.1-02-01; N.D.A.C. § 109-02-01-03).

All members and retired officers with identification cards issued by the Department are responsible for ensuring that they have not been disqualified from possessing firearms by any such conviction or court order and shall promptly report any such conviction or court order to a supervisor, as provided in this policy.

While legal restrictions may or may not be imposed by statute or by the courts upon conviction of any criminal offense, criminal conduct by members of this department may be inherently in conflict with law enforcement duties and the public trust, and shall be reported as provided in this policy.

1001.4 REPORTING

All members and all retired officers with identification cards issued by the Department shall immediately notify their supervisors (retired officers should immediately notify the Patrol Supervisor or the Chief of Police) in writing of any past or current criminal detention, arrest, charge, or conviction in any state or foreign country, regardless of whether the matter was dropped or rejected, is currently pending, or is on appeal, and regardless of the penalty or sentence, if any.

All members and all retired officers with identification cards issued by the Department shall immediately notify their supervisors (retired officers should immediately notify the Patrol Supervisor or the Chief of Police) in writing if they become the subject of a domestic violence-related order or any court order that prevents the member or retired officer from possessing a firearm or requires suspension or revocation of applicable POST-issued license.

Any member whose criminal arrest, conviction, or court order restricts or prohibits that member from fully and properly performing his/her duties, including carrying a firearm, may be disciplined.

Published with permission by Minot Police Department

This includes but is not limited to being placed on administrative leave, reassignment, and/or termination. Any effort to remove such disqualification or restriction shall remain entirely the responsibility of the member, on his/her own time and at his/her own expense.

Any employee failing to provide prompt written notice pursuant to this policy shall be subject to discipline, up to and including termination.

Retired officers may have their identification cards rescinded or modified, as may be appropriate (see the Retiree Concealed Firearms Policy).

1001.5 POLICY

The Minot Police Department requires disclosure of member arrests, convictions, and certain court orders to maintain the high standards, ethics, and integrity in its workforce, and to ensure compatibility with the duties and responsibilities of the Department.

1002.2 POLICY

It is the policy of this department to provide a drug- and alcohol-free workplace for all members.

1002.3 COMPLIANCE WITH THE DRUG-FREE WORKPLACE ACT

No later than 30 days following notice of any drug statute conviction for a violation occurring in the workplace involving a member, the Department will take appropriate disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal, and/or requiring the member to satisfactorily participate in a drug abuse assistance or rehabilitation program (41 USC § 8104).

1002.4 CONFIDENTIALITY

The Department recognizes the confidentiality and privacy due to its members. Disclosure of any information relating to substance abuse, except on a need-to-know basis, shall only be with the express written consent of the member involved or pursuant to lawful process.

The written results of any screening tests and all documents generated by the employee assistance program are considered confidential medical records and shall be maintained in the member's confidential medical file in accordance with the Personnel Records Policy (N.D.C.C. § 44-04-18.1).

Safety Belts

1006.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy establishes guidelines for the use of safety belts and child restraints. This policy will apply to all members operating or riding in department vehicles.

1006.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Child restraint system - An infant or child passenger restraint system that meets Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards (FMVSS) and Regulations set forth in 49 CFR 571.213 (N.D.C.C. § 39-21-41.2).

1006.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department that members use safety and child restraint systems to reduce the possibility of death or injury in a motor vehicle accident.

1006.3 WEARING OF SAFETY RESTRAINTS

All members shall wear properly adjusted safety restraints when operating or riding in a seat equipped with restraints, in any vehicle owned, leased or rented by this department while on- or off-duty, or in any privately owned vehicle while on-duty. The member driving such a vehicle shall ensure that all other occupants, including those who are not members of the Department, are properly restrained (N.D.C.C. § 39-21-41.4).

Exceptions to the requirement to wear safety restraints may be made only in exceptional situations where, due to unusual circumstances, wearing a safety belt would endanger the department member or the public. Members must be prepared to justify any deviation from this requirement.

1006.4 TRANSPORTING CHILDREN

Children younger than 8 years of age shall be transported using a child restraint system unless an exemption exists due to the child's height and weight (N.D.C.C. § 39-21-41.2).

Rear seat passengers in a cage-equipped vehicle may have reduced clearance, which requires careful seating and positioning of safety belts. Due to this reduced clearance, and if permitted by law, children and any child restraint system may be secured in the front seat of such vehicles provided this positioning meets federal safety standards and the vehicle and child restraint system manufacturer's design and use recommendations. In the event that a child is transported in the front seat of a vehicle, the seat should be pushed back as far as possible and the passenger-side airbag should be deactivated. If this is not possible, members should arrange alternate transportation when feasible.

1006.5 TRANSPORTING SUSPECTS, PRISONERS OR ARRESTEES

Suspects, prisoners and arrestees should be in a seated position and secured in the rear seat of any department vehicle with a prisoner restraint system or, when a prisoner restraint system is not available, by safety belts provided by the vehicle manufacturer. The prisoner restraint system is not intended to be a substitute for handcuffs or other appendage restraints.

Prisoners in leg restraints shall be transported in accordance with the Handcuffing and Restraints Policy.

1006.6 INOPERABLE SAFETY BELTS

Department vehicles shall not be operated when the safety belt in the driver's position is inoperable. Persons shall not be transported in a seat in which the safety belt is inoperable.

Department vehicle safety belts shall not be modified, removed, deactivated or altered in any way, except by the vehicle maintenance and repair staff, who shall do so only with the express authorization of the Chief of Police.

Members who discover an inoperable restraint system shall report the defect to the appropriate supervisor. Prompt action will be taken to replace or repair the system.

1006.7 VEHICLES MANUFACTURED WITHOUT SAFETY BELTS

Vehicles manufactured and certified for use without safety belts or other restraint systems are subject to the manufacturer’s operator requirements for safe use.

1006.8 VEHICLE AIRBAGS

In all vehicles equipped with airbag restraint systems, the system will not be tampered with or deactivated, except when transporting children as written elsewhere in this policy. All equipment installed in vehicles equipped with airbags will be installed as per the vehicle manufacturer specifications to avoid the danger of interfering with the effective deployment of the airbag device.

1007.3.2 INSPECTIONS OF BODY ARMOR

Supervisors should ensure that body armor is worn and maintained in accordance with this policy through routine observation. Regular inspections of body armor should be conducted by the officer to which it is issued for fit, cleanliness and signs of damage, abuse and wear.

1007.3.3 CARE AND MAINTENANCE OF SOFT BODY ARMOR

Soft body armor should be cared for and cleaned pursuant to the manufacturer’s care instructions provided with the soft body armor. 1011.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy regarding meals and breaks, insofar as reasonably possible, shall conform to the policy governing all City employees that has been established by the City Manager.

1011.1.1 MEAL PERIODS

Licensed employees and dispatchers shall remain on-duty subject to call during meal breaks. All other employees are not on-call during meal breaks unless directed otherwise by a supervisor.

Uniformed patrol and traffic officers shall request clearance from Minot Central Dispatch prior to taking a meal period. Uniformed officers shall take their breaks within the City limits and shall monitor their radios unless on assignment outside of the City.

Lactation Breaks

1012.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to provide reasonable accommodations to employees desiring to express breast milk for the employee's infant child.

1012.2 POLICY

It is the policy of this department to provide, in compliance with the Fair Labor Standards Act, reasonable break time and appropriate facilities to accommodate any employee desiring to express breast milk for her nursing child for up to one year after the child's birth (29 USC § 207).

1012.3 LACTATION BREAK TIME

A rest period should be permitted each time the employee has the need to express breast milk (29 USC § 207). In general, lactation breaks that cumulatively total 30 minutes or less during any four-hour work period or major portion of a four-hour work period would be considered reasonable. However, individual circumstances may require more or less time.

Lactation breaks, if feasible, should be taken at the same time as the employee's regularly scheduled rest or meal periods. While a reasonable effort will be made to provide additional time beyond authorized breaks, any such time exceeding regularly scheduled and paid break time will be unpaid.

Employees desiring to take a lactation break shall notify Minot Central Dispatch or a supervisor prior to taking such a break. Such breaks may be reasonably delayed if they would seriously disrupt department operations.

Once a lactation break has been approved, the break should not be interrupted except for emergency or exigent circumstances.

1012.4 PRIVATE LOCATION

The Department will make reasonable efforts to accommodate employees with the use of an appropriate room or other location to express milk in private. Such room or place should be in close proximity to the employee's work area and shall be other than a bathroom or toilet stall. The location must be shielded from view and free from intrusion from co-workers and the public (29 USC § 207).

Employees occupying such private areas shall either secure the door or otherwise make it clear to others that the area is occupied with a need for privacy. All other employees should avoid interrupting an employee during an authorized break, except to announce an emergency or other urgent circumstance.

Authorized lactation breaks for employees assigned to the field may be taken at the nearest appropriate private area (N.D.C.C. § 23-12-16).

After the appeal process has concluded, the revocation will remain in force until the employee's performance directly related to the outside employment has been re-established to the minimum level of acceptable competency.

(b) If, at any time during the term of an approved outside employment request, an employee's conduct or outside employment conflicts with the provisions of department policy, or any law.

(c) The outside employment creates an actual or apparent conflict of interest with the Department or the City.

(a) Involves the employee's use of department time, facilities, equipment or supplies, the use of the department badge, uniform, prestige or influence for private gain or advantage.

(b) Involves the employee's receipt or acceptance of any money or other consideration from anyone other than this department for the performance of an act that the employee, if not performing such act, would be required or expected to render in the regular course or hours of employment or as a part of the employee's duties as a member of this department.

(c) Involves the performance of an act in other than the employee's capacity as a member of this department that may later be subject directly or indirectly to the control, inspection, review, audit or enforcement of any other employee of this department.

For example, nothing in this policy affects the obligation of the Department to engage in a good faith, interactive process to consider reasonable accommodations for any employee with a temporary or permanent disability that is protected under federal or state law.

1019.2 POLICY

Subject to operational considerations, the Minot Police Department may identify temporary modified-duty assignments for employees who have an injury or medical condition resulting in temporary work limitations or restrictions. A temporary assignment allows the employee to work, while providing the Department with a productive employee during the temporary period.

1019.3 GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS

Priority consideration for temporary modified-duty assignments will be given to employees with work-related injuries or illnesses that are temporary in nature. Employees having disabilities covered under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) or the North Dakota Human Rights Act (N.D.C.C. § 14-02.4) shall be treated equally, without regard to any preference for a work-related injury.

No position in the Minot Police Department shall be created or maintained as a temporary modified-duty assignment.

Temporary modified-duty assignments are a management prerogative and not an employee right. The availability of temporary modified-duty assignments will be determined on a case-by-case basis, consistent with the operational needs of the Department. Temporary modified-duty assignments are subject to continuous reassessment, with consideration given to operational needs and the employee's ability to perform in a modified-duty assignment.

The Chief of Police or the authorized designee may restrict employees working in temporary modified-duty assignments from wearing a uniform, displaying a badge, carrying a firearm, operating an emergency vehicle, engaging in outside employment, or being otherwise limited in employing their peace officer powers.

Temporary modified-duty assignments shall generally not exceed a cumulative total of 1,040 hours in any one-year period.

1019.4 PROCEDURE

Employees may request a temporary modified-duty assignment for short-term injuries or illnesses.

Employees seeking a temporary modified-duty assignment should submit a written request to their Division Commanders or the authorized designees. The request should, as applicable, include a certification from the treating medical professional containing:

(c) The nature and scope of limitations and/or work restrictions.

(d) A statement regarding any required workplace accommodations, mobility aids or medical devices.

(e) A statement that the employee can safely perform the duties of the temporary modified-duty assignment.

The Division Commander will make a recommendation through the chain of command to the Chief of Police regarding temporary modified-duty assignments that may be available based on the needs of the Department and the limitations of the employee. The Chief of Police or the authorized designee shall confer with the Human Resource Department or the City Attorney as appropriate.

Requests for a temporary modified-duty assignment of 20 hours or less per week may be approved and facilitated by the Patrol Supervisor or Division Commander, with notice to the Chief of Police.

1019.5 ACCOUNTABILITY

Written notification of assignments, work schedules and any restrictions should be provided to employees assigned to temporary modified-duty assignments and their supervisors. Those assignments and schedules may be adjusted to accommodate department operations and the employee's medical appointments, as mutually agreed upon with the Division Commander.

1019.5.1 EMPLOYEE RESPONSIBILITIES

The responsibilities of employees assigned to temporary modified duty shall include, but not be limited to:

(c) Communicating a status update to their supervisors no less than once every 30 days while assigned to temporary modified duty.

1019.5.2 SUPERVISOR RESPONSIBILITIES

The employee's immediate supervisor shall monitor and manage the work schedule of those assigned to temporary modified duty.

The responsibilities of supervisors shall include, but not be limited to:

(b) Notifying the Division Commander and ensuring that the required documentation facilitating a return to full duty is received from the employee.

(c) Ensuring that employees returning to full duty have completed any required training and certification.

1019.6 MEDICAL EXAMINATIONS

Prior to returning to full-duty status, employees shall be required to provide certification from their treating medical professionals stating that they are medically cleared to perform the essential functions of their jobs without restrictions or limitations.

The Department may require a fitness-for-duty examination prior to returning an employee to full-duty status, in accordance with the Fitness for Duty Policy.

1019.7 PREGNANCY

If an employee is temporarily unable to perform regular duties due to a pregnancy, childbirth or a related medical condition, the employee will be treated the same as any other temporarily disabled employee (42 USC § 2000e(k)). A pregnant employee shall not be involuntarily transferred to a temporary modified-duty assignment.

1019.7.1 NOTIFICATION

Pregnant employees should notify their immediate supervisors as soon as practicable and provide a statement from their medical providers identifying any pregnancy-related job restrictions or limitations. If at any point during the pregnancy it becomes necessary for the employee to take a leave of absence, such leave shall be granted in accordance with the City's personnel rules and regulations regarding family and medical care leave.

1019.8 PROBATIONARY EMPLOYEES

Probationary employees who are assigned to a temporary modified-duty assignment shall have their probation extended by a period of time equal to their assignment to temporary modified duty.

1019.9 MAINTENANCE OF CERTIFICATION AND TRAINING

Employees assigned to temporary modified duty shall maintain all certification, training and qualifications appropriate to both their regular and temporary duties, provided that the certification, training or qualifications are not in conflict with any medical limitations or restrictions. Employees who are assigned to temporary modified duty shall inform their supervisors of any inability to maintain any certification, training or qualifications.

Employee Speech, Expression and Social Networking

1020.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy is intended to address issues associated with employee use of social networking sites and to provide guidelines for the regulation and balancing of employee speech and expression with the needs of the Department.

Nothing in this policy is intended to prohibit or infringe upon any communication, speech or expression that is protected under law. This includes speech and expression protected under state or federal constitutions as well as labor or other applicable laws.

Employees are encouraged to consult with their supervisor regarding any questions arising from the application or potential application of this policy.

1020.1.1 APPLICABILITY

This policy applies to all forms of communication including, but not limited to, film, video, print media, public or public speech, use of all Internet services, including the World Wide Web, e-mail, file transfer, remote computer access, news services, social networking, social media, instant messaging, blogs, forums, video and other file sharing sites.

1020.2 POLICY

Public employees occupy a trusted position in the community, and thus, their statements have the potential to contravene the policies and performance of this department. Due to the nature of the work and influence associated with the law enforcement profession, it is necessary that employees of this department be subject to certain reasonable limitations on their speech and expression. To achieve its mission and efficiently provide service to the public, the Minot Police Department will carefully balance the individual employee's rights against the department's needs and interests when exercising a reasonable degree of control over its employees' speech and expression.

1020.3 SAFETY

Employees should carefully consider the implications of their speech or any other form of expression when using the Internet. Speech and expression that may negatively affect the safety of Minot Police Department employees, such as posting personal information in a public forum, can result in compromising an employee's home address or family ties. Employees should therefore not disseminate or post any information on any forum or medium that could reasonably be anticipated to compromise the safety or privacy of any employee, an employee's family or associates. Examples of the type of information that could reasonably be expected to compromise safety include:

- Disclosing a photograph and name or address of an officer who is working undercover.
- Disclosing the address of a fellow officer.
- Otherwise disclosing where another officer can be located off-duty.

1020.4 PROHIBITED SPEECH, EXPRESSION AND CONDUCT

To meet the department's safety, performance and public-trust needs, the following is prohibited unless the speech is otherwise protected (for example, an employee speaking as a private citizen on a matter of public concern):

(a) Speech or expression made pursuant to an official duty that tends to compromise or damage the mission, function, reputation or professionalism of the Minot Police Department or its employees.

(b) Speech or expression that, while not made pursuant to an official duty, is significantly linked to, or related to, the Minot Police Department and tends to compromise or damage the mission, function, reputation or professionalism of the Minot Police Department or its employees.

(c) Speech or expression that could reasonably be foreseen as having a negative impact on the credibility of the employee as a witness. For example, posting statements or expressions to a website that glorify or endorse dishonesty, unlawful discrimination or illegal behavior.

(d) Speech or expression of any form that could reasonably be foreseen as having a negative impact on the safety of the employees of the Department. For example, a statement on a blog that provides specific details as to how and when prisoner transportations are made could reasonably be foreseen as potentially jeopardizing employees by informing criminals of details that could facilitate an escape or attempted escape.

(e) Speech or expression that is contrary to the canons of the Law Enforcement Code of Ethics as adopted by the Minot Police Department.

(f) Use or disclosure, through whatever means of any information, photograph, video or other recording obtained or accessible as a result of employment with the Department for financial or personal gain, or any disclosure of such materials without the express authorization of the Chief of Police or the authorized designee.

(h) Accessing websites for non-unauthorized purposes, or use of any Personal Communications Device, game device or media device, whether personally or department-owned, for personal purposes while on-duty, except in the following circumstances:

1. When brief personal communications may be warranted by the circumstances (e.g., inform family of extended hours).

2. During authorized breaks such usage should be limited as much as practicable to areas out of the sight of the public and shall not be disruptive to the work environment.

Employees must take reasonable and prompt action to remove any content, including content posted by others, that is in violation of this policy from any web page or website maintained by the employee (e.g., social or personal website).

1020.4.1 UNAUTHORIZED ENDORSEMENTS AND ADVERTISEMENTS

While employees are not restricted from engaging in the following activities as private citizens, employees may not represent the Minot Police Department or identify themselves in any way that could be reasonably perceived as representing the Minot Police Department in order to do any of the following, unless specifically authorized by the Chief of Police:

(a) Endorse, support, oppose or contradict any political campaign or initiative (N.D.C.C. § 44-08-19)

(b) Endorse, support, or oppose any product, service, company or other commercial entity.

(c) Appear in any commercial, social or nonprofit publication or any motion picture, film, video, public broadcast or any website.

Employees retain their right to vote as they choose, to support candidates of their choice and to express their opinions as private citizens on political subjects and candidates at all times while off-duty. However, employees may not use their official authority or influence to interfere with or affect the result of an election or a nomination for office. Employees are also prohibited from directly or indirectly using their official authority to coerce, command or advise another employee to pay, lend or contribute anything of value to a party, committee, organization, agency or person for political purposes (5 USC § 1502).

1020.5 PRIVACY EXPECTATION

Members forfeit any expectation of privacy with regard to e-mails, texts or anything published or maintained through file-sharing software or any Internet site (e.g., Facebook, MySpace) that is accessed, transmitted, received or reviewed on any department technology system (see the Information Technology Use Policy for additional guidance).

1020.6 TRAINING

Subject to available resources, the Department should provide training regarding employee speech and the use of social networking to all members of the Department.

Locker Rooms

1021.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

Maintaining secure and private locker rooms is an important obligation for the Department to ensure each employee's rights and privacy are maintained.

1021.2 SECURITY

At no time will a person of the opposite sex be allowed into the locker room unless the locker room is empty of employees of the opposite sex. Entry of the opposite sex should be restricted to locker room or building maintenance or the gathering of property.

Employees who seek to talk to, interrogate or interview anyone inside the locker room should generally wait until after the employee has taken care of personal affairs and has exited. Situations requiring an immediate conversation regarding the safety or security of another employee, person or citizen, will require the employee to exit the locker room as soon as possible.

In critical or emergency situations where time is of the essence, an employee of the same sex may enter the locker room to obtain information from the employee.

1021.3 PRIVACY

At no time will video recording devices be used. Audio recording devices may be used only with the written permission of the Chief of Police. Situations allowing the audio recording of conversations in the locker room are generally limited to internal investigations of employee misconduct.

At no time will an employee capture, record or transfer video or audio recordings, either openly or in secret, of another employee by any means, including, but not limited to, the use of cameras, computers, Personal Digital Assistants (PDAs), tape or digital recorders, video cameras or cellular telephones.

Assigned lockers, storage spaces and other areas may be searched as part of an administrative investigation upon reasonable suspicion of misconduct. Lockers may also be searched any time by a supervisor for non-investigative purposes, such as obtaining a needed report, radio or other document or equipment.

There is no expectation of privacy by employees in any locker, storage space, and other areas including desks, offices and vehicles.

Line-of-Duty Deaths

1022.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The purpose of this policy is to provide guidance to members of the Minot Police Department in the event of the death of a member occurring in the line of duty and to direct the Department in providing proper support for the member's survivors.

The Chief of Police may also apply some or all of this policy in situations where members are injured in the line of duty and the injuries are life-threatening.

1022.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Definitions related to this policy include:

Line-of-duty death - The death of a sworn member during the course of performing law enforcement-related functions while on- or off-duty, or a civilian member during the course of performing their assigned duties.

Survivors - Immediate family members of the deceased member, which can include spouse, children, parents, other next of kin or significant others. The determination of who should be considered a survivor for purposes of this policy should be made on a case-by-case basis given the individual's relationship with the member and whether the individual was previously designated by the deceased member.

1022.2 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department to make appropriate notifications and to provide assistance and support to survivors and coworkers of a member who dies in the line of duty.

It is also the policy of this department to respect the requests of the survivors when they conflict with these guidelines, as appropriate.

1022.3 INITIAL ACTIONS BY COMMAND STAFF

Upon learning of a line-of-duty death, the deceased member's supervisor should provide all reasonably available information to the Patrol Supervisor and Minot Central Dispatch.

(a) Communication of information concerning the member and the incident should be restricted to secure networks to avoid interception by the media or others (see the Public Information Officer section of this policy).

(a) The Patrol Supervisor should ensure that notifications are made in accordance with the Officer-Involved Shootings and Deaths and Major Incident Notification policies as applicable.

(b) If the member has been transported to the hospital, the Patrol Supervisor or the designee should respond to the hospital to assume temporary responsibilities as the Hospital Liaison.

(c) The Chief of Police or the authorized designee should assign members to handle survivor notifications and assign members to the roles of Hospital Liaison (to relieve the temporary Hospital Liaison) and the Department Liaison as soon as practicable (see the Notifying Survivors section and the Department Liaison and Hospital Liaison subsections in this policy).

1022.4 NOTIFYING SURVIVORS

Survivors should be notified as soon as possible in order to avoid the survivors hearing about the incident in other ways.

The Chief of Police or the authorized designee should review the deceased member's emergency contact information and make accommodations to respect the member's wishes and instructions specific to notifying survivors. However, notification should not be excessively delayed because of attempts to assemble a notification team in accordance with the member's wishes.

The Chief of Police, Patrol Supervisor or the authorized designee should select at least two members to conduct notification of survivors, one of which may be the Department Chaplain.

Notifying members should:

(a) Make notifications in a direct and compassionate manner, communicating as many facts of the incident as possible, including the current location of the member. Information that is not verified should not be provided until an investigation has been completed.

(b) Determine the method of notifying surviving children by consulting with other survivors and taking into account factors such as the child's age, maturity, and current location (e.g., small children at home, children in school).

(c) Plan for concerns such as known health concerns of survivors or language barriers.

(d) Offer to transport survivors to the hospital, if appropriate. Survivors should be transported in department vehicles. Notifying members shall inform the Hospital Liaison over a secure network that the survivors are on their way to the hospital. Notifying members should remain at the hospital while the survivors are present.

(e) When survivors are not at their residences or known places of employment, actively seek information and follow leads from neighbors, other law enforcement, postal authorities, and other sources of information in order to accomplish notification in as timely a fashion as possible. Notifying members shall not disclose the reason for their contact other than a family emergency.

(f) If making notification at a survivor's workplace, ask a workplace supervisor for the use of a quiet, private room to meet with the survivor. Members shall not inform the workplace supervisor of the purpose of their visit other than to indicate that it is a family emergency.

(g) Offer to call other survivors, friends, or clergy to support the survivors and to avoid leaving survivors alone after notification.

(h) Assist the survivors with meeting childcare or other immediate needs.

(i) Provide other assistance to survivors and take reasonable measures to accommodate their needs, wishes, and desires. Care should be taken not to make promises or commitments to survivors that cannot be met.

(j) Inform the survivors of the name and phone number of the Survivor Support Liaison (see the Survivor Support Liaison section of this policy), if known, and the Department Liaison.

(k) Provide their contact information to the survivors before departing.

(l) Document the survivors' names and contact information, as well as the time and location of notification. This information should be forwarded to the Department Liaison.

(m) Inform the Chief of Police or the authorized designee once survivor notifications have been made so that other Minot Police Department members may be apprised that survivor notifications are complete.

1022.4.1 OUT-OF-AREA NOTIFICATIONS

The Department Liaison should request assistance from law enforcement agencies in appropriate jurisdictions for in-person notification to survivors who are out of the area.

(a) The Department Liaison should contact the appropriate jurisdiction using a secure network and provide the assisting agency with the name and telephone number of the department member that the survivors can call for more information following the notification by the assisting agency.

(b) The Department Liaison may assist in making transportation arrangements for the member's survivors, but will not obligate the Department to pay travel expenses without the authorization of the Chief of Police.

1022.5 NOTIFYING DEPARTMENT MEMBERS

Supervisors or members designated by the Chief of Police are responsible for notifying department members of the line-of-duty death as soon as possible after the survivor notification is made. Notifications and related information should be communicated in person or using secure networks and should not be transmitted over the radio.

Notifications should be made in person and as promptly as possible to all members on-duty at the time of the incident. Members reporting for subsequent shifts within a short amount of time should be notified in person at the beginning of their shift. Members reporting for duty from their residence should be instructed to contact their supervisor as soon as practicable. Those members who are working later shifts or are on days off should be notified by phone as soon as practicable.

Members having a close bond with the deceased member should be notified of the incident in person. Supervisors should consider assistance (e.g., peer support, modifying work schedules, approving sick leave) for members who are especially affected by the incident.

Supervisors should direct members not to disclose any information outside the Department regarding the deceased member or the incident.

1022.6 LIAISONS AND COORDINATORS

The Chief of Police or the authorized designee should select members to serve as liaisons and coordinators to handle responsibilities related to a line-of-duty death, including, but not limited to:

1022.6.1 DEPARTMENT LIAISON

(f) If applicable, explain to the survivors why an autopsy may be needed.

(g) Ensure hospital bills are directed to the Department, that the survivors are not asked to sign as guarantor of payment for any hospital treatment and that the member's residence address, insurance information and next of kin are not included on hospital paperwork.

Other responsibilities of the Hospital Liaison include, but are not limited to:

- Arranging transportation for the survivors back to their residence.

The Survivor Support Liaison should be selected by the deceased member's Division Commander. The following should be considered when selecting the Survivor Support Liaison:

- The liaison should be an individual the survivors know and with whom they are comfortable working.
- If the survivors have no preference, the selection may be made from names recommended by the deceased member's supervisor and/or coworkers. The deceased member's partner or close friends may not be the best selections for this assignment because the emotional connection to the member or survivors may impair their ability to conduct adequate liaison duties.

- The liaison must be willing to assume the assignment with an understanding of the emotional and time demands involved.

The responsibilities of the Survivor Support Liaison include, but are not limited to:

(a) Arranging for transportation of survivors to hospitals, places of worship, funeral homes and other locations, as appropriate.

1. Items should not be delivered to the survivors until they are ready to receive the items.
2. Items not retained as evidence should be delivered in a clean, unmarked box.
3. All clothing not retained as evidence should be cleaned and made presentable (e.g., items should be free of blood or other signs of the incident).
4. The return of some personal effects may be delayed due to ongoing investigations.

Survivor Support Liaisons providing services after an incident resulting in multiple members being killed should coordinate with and support each other through conference calls or meetings as necessary.

The Department recognizes that the duties of a Survivor Support Liaison will often affect regular assignments over many years, and is committed to supporting members in the assignment.

If needed, the Survivor Support Liaison should be issued a personal communication device (PCD) owned by the Department to facilitate communications necessary to the assignment. The department-issued PCD shall be used in accordance with the Personal Communication Devices Policy.

4. Related funding or accounting questions and issues.

(c) Working with the Benefits Liaison to establish a process for the receipt of public donations to the deceased member's survivors.

(d) Providing accounting and cost information as needed.

1022.7 PUBLIC INFORMATION OFFICER

In the event of a line-of-duty death, the department's PIO should be the department's contact point for the media. As such, the PIO should coordinate with the Department Liaison to:

(a) Collect and maintain the most current incident information and determine what information should be released.

(b) Ensure that department members are instructed to direct any media inquiries to the PIO.

(c) Prepare necessary press releases.

1. Ensure coordination with other entities having media roles (e.g., outside agencies involved in the investigation or incident).

2. Ensure that important public information is disseminated, such as information on how the public can show support for the Department and deceased member's survivors.

(d) Arrange for community and media briefings by the Chief of Police or the authorized designee as appropriate.

(e) Respond, or coordinate the response, to media inquiries.

(f) If requested, assist the member's survivors with media inquiries.

(h) If desired by the survivors, arrange for the recording of memorial and funeral services via photos and/or video.

The identity of deceased members should be withheld until the member's survivors have been notified. If the media has obtained identifying information for the deceased member prior to survivor notification, the PIO should request that the media withhold the information from release until proper notification can be made to survivors. The PIO should ensure that media are notified when survivor notifications have been made.

1022.8 DEPARTMENT CHAPLAIN

The Department chaplain may serve a significant role in line-of-duty deaths. His/her duties may include, but are not limited to:

1022.9 INVESTIGATION OF THE INCIDENT

The Chief of Police shall ensure that line-of-duty deaths are investigated thoroughly and may choose to use the investigation process outlined in the Officer-Involved Shootings and Deaths Policy.

Investigators from other agencies may be assigned to work on any criminal investigation related to line-of-duty deaths. Partners, close friends or personnel who worked closely with the deceased member should not have any investigative responsibilities because such relationships may impair the objectivity required for an impartial investigation of the incident.

Involved department members should be kept informed of the progress of the investigations and provide investigators with any information that may be pertinent to the investigations.

1022.10 LINE-OF-DUTY DEATH OF A LAW ENFORCEMENT ANIMAL

The Chief of Police may authorize appropriate memorial and funeral services for law enforcement animals killed in the line of duty.

606.3 DISPATCH/ CALL TAKER RESPONSE

Evidence Preservation Considerations

Direct the victim to preserve evidence by refraining from engaging in any of the activities listed below:

1. Changing clothes

2. Washing, brushing teeth, rinsing mouth

3. Consuming any food, beverage or smoking

4. Combing hair

5. Touching, destroying, or, moving any items at the crime scene

6. Urinating or defecating: advise the use of a clean plastic container to collect urine should the victim have to urinate

Additional Procedures

1. Demonstrate patience and respect at all times with the victim reporting a crime of sexual assault. The victim may be in crisis and may exhibit behaviors ranging from rage, outbursts, and crying to calmness, unresponsiveness, or laughter.

2. Determine victim's relationship to the suspect and whether a restraining order is in place.

3. Whenever possible, stay on the line with the victim to provide additional information and assistance until an officer arrives at the scene.

4. For 911 or other emergency hang-up calls, the dispatcher will immediately attempt to reestablish contact with the caller. Field units will still respond.

5. Record and preserve a tape of the conversation and print out a transcript, if possible, for the investigation.

6. Utilize a current list of domestic violence/sexual assault programs, shelters, and victim/witness programs to assist in making referrals.

606.4 LAW ENFORCEMENT RESPONSE

Immediate Response

Law enforcement's initial contact with victims of sexual assault can greatly influence the entire investigative process. Therefore, contact with victims should be guided by professional, respectful, and courteous behavior at all times. Law enforcement initially responding to a report of sexual assault shall:

1. Respond immediately to the crime scene or location of the victim.

    a. If responding to the scene, the officer shall:

        • Assess the crime scene

        • Arrange transportation to the hospital if needed

        • Inform victim of rights and reporting options

        • Advise victim on preserving evidence

    b. If responding to a hospital, the officer shall:

        • Initiate contact with medical staff for information

        • Determine if an advocate has been called.

        • If advocate is not available, review victim rights and reporting options

2. Secure the scene to ensure the offender is not present or if present poses no additional risk to the victim.

3. Keep the victim safe and address any safety issues.

4. Administer first aid, if necessary.

5. Request medical support, if necessary.

6. Establish trust and rapport by demonstrating understanding, patience, and respect for the victim's dignity, including:

a. Limiting preliminary questions

b. Explaining each person's role c. Contacting other officers or agencies for assistance

7. Remain aware that the sexual assault may have been committed by a family member, caretaker, neighbor or friend who may be present at the scene.

8. Conduct initial investigation of the crime that has been committed:

a. Obtain names of witnesses and contact information.

b. When possible, obtain statements from witnesses that were present.

c. Identify where the incident occurred, specifically to establish jurisdiction.

d. Determine whether drugs or alcohol were utilized to facilitate the sexual assault without the victim's knowledge in order to identify the need for additional evidence collection.

e. Determine the relationship between the victim and suspect, and whether a valid protection order is in force.

9. Be aware that a victim may make excited utterances which may have evidentiary value.

a. Record these utterances when practical and note them in your report.

Delayed Investigation Response

It is not uncommon for delayed reports (any report after the 96 hour evidence collection limitation) to occur regarding sexual assaults. In a delayed investigation, law enforcement shall:

1. Obtain a victim statement.

2. Identify witnesses present prior to and after the assault occurred and obtain contact information for them.

3. Contact witnesses and interview each of them regarding the reported assault.

4. Identify all possible evidence that may exist. This may include:

a. Any text messages discussing the incident

b. Electronic postings regarding the incident on sites such as Facebook or Twitter

c. Any physical evidence related to the assault: clothing, bedding, condoms, etc.

d. Any photographs that may have been taken prior to or after the assault occurred

606.5 VICTIM INTERVIEW PREPARATION

1. Prior to conducting an interview with the victim, law enforcement should contact the local sexual assault/domestic violence program.

2. Obtain an interpreter if needed. Be mindful of the victim's needs during the interview process (i.e. if the victim needs to take a break or would like a support person present-when appropriate).

3. While documenting basic information, obtain the victim's name, date of birth and contact information. Ensure the victim wants to make a report, and understands what that involves.

4. Explain the process of the interview: who is involved and their roles. Ensure the victim is okay with everyone in the room.

5. Ensure safety and privacy by interviewing the victim in a place separate from the suspect.

a. If responding to the scene, suggest finding somewhere private to speak; this may include going to the police department or hospital. Allow the victim to make that determination whenever possible.

b. If responding to a hospital, ensure privacy by requesting an examination room or conference room rather than remaining in a trauma area waiting room.

c. If the victim presents to the law enforcement department, use an interview or conference room to ensure comfort and privacy.

6. Maintain an appropriate demeanor by:

a. Listening, showing interest in the victim and the situation, maintaining objectivity, and remain aware of nonverbal communication signals.

b. Maintaining good eye contact through natural, spontaneous glances. (Fixed gazes or staring increase fear and hostility).

c. Demonstrating interest and encouraging the victim to continue speaking (appropriate facial and head movements with a relaxed stance).

7. Lead the interview; however, let the victim speak uninterrupted.

606.6 CONDUCTING THE VICTIM INTERVIEW

1. Ascertain victim's relationship to the suspect.

2. Determine what happened. It may be most effective to have the victim begin with the events prior to the sexual assault, noting the victim's condition and demeanor. Obtain the following information:

a. A description of injuries, if any, to the victim.

b. Identify any injuries, if any, to the suspect specifically any injuries inflicted by the victim.

c. Inquire how the incident began.

d. Identify the location of where the assault occurred.

e. Determine if there was any weapon involved.

f. Obtain as much information related to the suspect as possible, if known; where he/she lives and/or works, vehicles used, areas frequented.

g. Inquire if anything was taken from the scene or left at the scene by the victim or suspect.

3. Identify any witnesses, their contact information, and how they were involved.

4. After the victim has provided his/her statements, the officer(s) should ask about details for clarification, and summarize the stated account; this allows the victim to point out anything that might be misrepresented and ensures accuracy.

5. Photograph and document photographs in the report.

(a) Photographs of extremely brutal injuries or bite marks can prove beneficial in court. Because some injuries become apparent only after several days, it is recommended that follow-up photographs be taken as there is always the possibility initial photographs will not show the extent or the severity of the injury.

6. Answer any other questions the victim may have after the interview.

7. Address the victim's safety, such as whether the suspect knows where the victim lives, and any transportation issues.

8. Upon completion of the interview, ensure the victim has law enforcement's contact information.

9. Obtain the phone number of the victim's residence and include that number in the incident report so jail/court/victim-witness personnel may use this information to inform the victim of the suspect's release on bail. It is also important to obtain alternative contact information, (i.e. additional phone numbers, etc.) where messages can be left when necessary. If possible, record name, address, and phone number of two close friends or relatives of the victim who will know how to reach the victim 6-12 months from the time of the investigation.

10. Inform the victim of what will occur following the preliminary interview, including:

a. Provide the victim with contact for a follow-up interview with law enforcement.

b. Describe how law enforcement may proceed following the interview.

c. If advocate was not present during the interview, provide the victim with contact information for the local domestic violence/sexual assault advocacy program.

11. Also, pretext phone calls often produce valuable information. The victim's emotional and physical state should be considered before initiating such a call. A victim advocate is a source of valuable support. Pretext phone calls can be utilized with other witnesses as well.

606.7 SUSPECT INTERVIEW

1. If possible, the officer should tape record the suspect's statement for evidentiary purposes.

2. Determine the suspect's relationship to the victim (stranger vs. non-stranger) and what happened. Determining the relationship is significant especially when discussing the victim's safety as well as during the interview and evidence collection.

3. Prior to the interview ascertain suspect's criminal history and any previous contact with law enforcement.

4. Determine what happened. It may be most effective to have the suspect begin with the events prior to the sexual assault, noting the suspect's condition and demeanor in the report.

5. Document any injuries to the suspect, who or what caused them, and if weapons or objects were used to commit the reported assault.

6. Photograph and document in report:

    a. Any damaged or torn clothing on the suspect (keeping in mind the suspect may have change clothing).

    b. Any smeared or transferred makeup on either clothing or the suspect.

    c. All evidence of injury, including any physical complaints the suspect may have.

    d. The presence of any use of alcohol and/or drugs by the suspect.

7. Make every attempt to obtain a suspect statement.

606.8 EVIDENCE COLLECTION

Law enforcement within the jurisdiction in which the offense was believed to have occurred is responsible for coordinating the collection of the Sexual Assault Evidence Collection Kit from the healthcare facility at which the examination was conducted. In order to ensure effective evidence collection, the officer should:

1. Once the victim has consented to the examination, ensure the following information is communicated:

    a. He/she has the right to decline any or all parts of the examination.

    b. The victim's name and date of birth will be on the evidence collection kit for storage purposes.

    c. The sexual assault kit will be stored for seven years or until the victim turns 22, whichever comes later.

d. The examination will occur within the 96 hours following the assault (unless reason to extend the time period is given). N.D.C.C. § 12.1-34-07 If the victim does not consent to the examination, encourage the victim to obtain medical attention to address sexually transmitted infections and pregnancy testing.

2. Work with other professionals (SANE, advocate, physician) to explain the forensic examination process; this includes explaining what is done and what may be collected, such as clothing.

3. Recognize drug-facilitated sexual assault considerations. NOTE: Inform the victim he/she will not be criminally charged if drugs or alcohol are identified in the urine and/or blood sample; however, the results may be presented in court proceedings, N.D.C.C. § 12.1-34-07(4).

606.8.1 ON-SCENE EVIDENCE COLLECTION

1. Secure the crime scene (if not already done).

2. Maintain chain of custody and properly collect evidence.

a. All evidence collected should be dried, clearly marked, properly packaged and labeled.

b. Refrigerate the evidence as soon as possible.

c. When packaging, use individual envelopes for each item collected.

d. Use new paper bags or envelopes rather than plastic bags to collect evidence.

3. Collect physical evidence such as:

a. Any clothing worn by the victim and suspect at the time of the assault-specifically undergarments, pants, and shorts (unless collected by medical personnel).

b. Other physical evidence that may corroborate the victim's account of the incident (i.e. condom wrappers, sheets, blankets, bottles, etc.).

c. Any damaged or torn clothing worn by the victim or the suspect.

d. Any smeared or transferred makeup on either the victim or the suspect or their clothing.

e. Document all evidence of injury including any physical complaints the suspect may have.

606.8.2 VICTIM FORENSIC EVIDENCE COLLECTION

1. Prior to the examination if a SANE is unavailable, document and photograph the victim's external visible injuries (if any).

a. Expose as little as possible using sheets or other covers.

b. Ensure all of the needed photographs are obtained.

c. Arrange to take additional photographs after the assault as more bruises may appear or become more visible.

d. Medical personnel and law enforcement should use an anatomical diagram to document the injuries on the victim as the primary crime scene.

2. Follow proper kit storage requirements.

a. Refrigerate the sexual assault kit as soon as possible.

b. If urine sample is included with the sexual assault kit, freeze sample immediately; it is not necessary to freeze the entire kit, only the urine sample.

c. Transport sexual assault kit to the North Dakota Crime Laboratory Division if DNA evidence is necessary and the victim has consented to the investigation.

3. If not providing the sexual assault kit to ND Crime Laboratory Division for analysis (when a victim chooses not to report) proceed as follows:

a. The law enforcement agency in custody of the collected evidence is responsible for maintaining the chain of custody of that evidence.

b. The victim's name and date of birth are required for collection and storage of the kit.

c. Sexual Assault Evidence Collection Kits and other evidence collected for victims who do not currently elect to proceed with an investigation should be maintained in the same manner as other evidence collection kits and evidence.

606.8.3 SUSPECT FORENSIC EVIDENCE COLLECTION

A sexual assault evidence collection kit can be utilized to collect the evidence on the suspect. Law enforcement should remain present during the evidence collection procedures.

It is essential everything possible is done to prevent any contact between the victim and suspect.

Although not always possible, this may include examinations taking place at different times and/or locations, ensuring the victim has left the site of the examination prior to the suspect's arrival.

1. If in custody, the suspect shall be given a Miranda warning before being asked medical history questions by the forensic examiner or investigator.

2. Both the examiner and attending officer shall be prepared to document any spontaneous statements made by the suspect regardless of whether or not the suspect is in custody and whether or not the suspect was provided with a Miranda warning.

606.9 PROCEDURES FOR SUSPECT EXAMINATION

1. Immediately after the suspect interview, the investigating officer shall determine whether a forensic sexual assault examination should be obtained for the suspect. Consider the following when making this determination:

a. What is the length of time since the assault occurred?

b. What was the nature of the assault?

c. Does the victim believe he/she may have injured the suspect?

d. Has the suspect showered?

e. Is the suspect wearing the same clothing he/she was wearing during or immediately after the assault?

2. A search warrant may be needed to collect any evidence from the body of the suspect or even to collect clothing. If the suspect consents to such evidence collection procedures, complete and obtain the suspect's signature on a consent form.

606.10 FOLLOW UP VICTIM INTERVIEW

The purpose of the follow-up interview is to address any inconsistencies and clarify any confusion and to gather any further information. Law enforcement officers shall:

1. Conduct the interview in a location that is convenient, accessible and comfortable for the victim. This may include arranging for transportation and contacting the local advocacy agency to be present for the interview.

a. Discuss the purpose of the interview with the victim.

b. Review the victim's contact information.

c. Address arrest decisions made and explain the status of the case with the victim.

d. Identify any new information or developments and ask questions specifically related to how the sexual assault has impacted the victim.

e. Identify any need for follow-up photographs of injuries.

NOTE: Depending upon the location of the injuries, it may be necessary to enlist in medical personnel to assist in obtaining follow-up photographs.

2. Compile and review information already collected including:

a. Talk to the responding officer(s) regarding the preliminary investigation.

b. Review the first responder documentation: How was the call received? Where did the officer respond?

c. Review the first interview with the victim and identify any holes, gaps or questions.

d. Review the history of questions asked related to the incident

e. Identify whether there were any additional witnesses and their contact information.

f. Clarify any inconsistencies with earlier accounts in a nonthreatening manner.

3. Ensure the following issues were addressed in the initial interview including:

a. Obtain specific circumstances of the assault, such as how it happened.

b. Review and clarify the details of the assault.

c. Review the details provided by the suspect prior to meeting with the victim to identify discrepancies that may need to be addressed.

4. Discuss any safety concerns the victim may have. Work with local domestic violence/sexual assault advocacy programs to assist in addressing the victim's concerns and any questions they may have about obtaining a court order due to safety concerns. Utilize pretext phone calls (one-party consent in ND: N.D.C.C. § 12.1-15-02). These are valuable in non-stranger sexual assault cases. Involve the victim as an investigative tool as appropriate.

606.11 FOLLOW UP SUSPECT INTERVIEW

Based on the nature of the assault, develop an investigative and interview strategy. This may require considering the potential defenses available to the suspect (for example: denial, mistaken identity or consent). This strategy will guide the questions and any additional evidence collection that may be needed. This interview may:

1. Re-photograph injuries on the suspect to document changes in visible injuries from the previous interview.

2. Compile and review information already collected including:

a. Talk to the responding officer(s) regarding the preliminary investigation.

b. Review the first interview with the suspect and identify any holes, gaps or questions.

c. Review history of questions asked related to the incident

3. Obtain any clarifying information from the suspect, including addressing inconsistencies that may have come up during other interviews and throughout the investigation.

4. Gather any additional information and/or details from the suspect regarding the assault.

a. Obtain specific circumstances of the assault, such as how it happened.

b. Review and clarify the details of the assault:

5. Identify whether there were any additional witnesses and their contact information.

606.12 ARREST AND PROSECUTION CONSIDERATIONS

1. Law enforcement and prosecution are encouraged to communicate throughout the investigation and prosecution of a case. Decisions regarding prosecution should be communicated to law enforcement.

2. Some considerations in arrest and prosecution decisions might include:

a. The victim's safety and rights.

b. Requests made by the victim regarding the incident.

c. Any existing evidence related to the incident.

3. During this time prosecution may enlist in assistance from the victim witness program and/or local domestic violence/sexual assault advocacy program. These programs may aid with informing the victim of decisions made regarding arrest and/or prosecution.

606.13 DOCUMENTATION AND GUIDELINES IN NON_REPORTED CASES

In the event a victim seeks an examination but does not wish to make a report at that time documentation should occur as follows:

1 The local law enforcement agency within the jurisdiction in which the offense was believed to have occurred is responsible for coordinating the collection of the Sexual Assault Evidence Collection Kit from the healthcare facility. The victim's name and date of birth shall be required for collection of the kit.

2 Sexual Assault Evidence Collection Kits and other evidence collected for victims who do not currently elect to proceed with an investigation should be maintained in the same manner as other Evidence Collection Kits and evidence.

3 Sexual assault evidence collected from non-investigated cases should be kept by law enforcement for a minimum of seven years or until the victim turns twenty-two, whichever occurs later.

   See also the Reasonable Suspicion Testing under Section 6 of this document.

If a supervisor reasonably believes, based upon objective facts, that an employee's ability to perform his/her duties safely and efficiently may be impaired by the consumption of alcohol or other drugs, the supervisor may ask the employee whether he/she has consumed any alcohol or other drugs and, if so, the amount and type of alcohol or other drugs consumed and the time of consumption, and in the case of a controlled substance, the name of the person who prescribed the substance.

If the supervisor reasonably believes, based on objective facts, that an employee is impaired by the consumption of alcohol or other drugs, the supervisor shall prevent the employee from continuing work and shall ensure that he/she is safely transported away from the Department following any testing procedures. No employee shall be allowed to continue working if the odor of alcohol is on their breath, excepting that specified in MPD policy 1002.4.

However; No employee shall report for duty or remain on duty when the employee uses any substance which carries a warning label, except when the use is pursuant to the instructions of a licensed medical practitioner, who has advised the employee, in writing, that the substance will not adversely affect the employee's ability to safely perform a safety sensitive function.

Use of any prescription or non-prescription drug in a manner other than is advised by a physician or by package directions is prohibited.

A legally prescribed drug means that an individual has a prescription or other written approval from a licensed physician for the use of a drug in the course of medical treatment. It must include the patient's name, the name of the substance, quantity/amount to be taken per dose and a period of authorization for use.

If any employee misuses any controlled substance, is tested and the result of any test is found to be positive by the laboratory, the Medical Review Officer shall declare the result to be positive and the employee will be subject to disciplinary action up to, and including termination.

c. Alcohol:

The ingestion of beverages or substances containing alcohol, including medication , mouthwash, foods, candies or any other substance such that alcohol is present in the body while performing city business is prohibited.

The employee cannot consume alcohol 4 hours prior to reporting for duty even if the alcohol is in a prescribed medication. No employee shall be allowed to continue working if the odor of alcohol is on their breath, excepting that specified in MPD policy 1002.4.

The concentration of alcohol is expressed in terms of grams of alcohol per 210 liters of breath as measured by an evidential breath testing device. A confirmed BAC result of 0.04 or greater will be considered positive for alcohol and the employee will be removed from duty and the required steps will be followed.

5. Prohibited Conduct:

Employees shall notify a supervisor immediately if they observe behavior or other evidence that they believe demonstrates that a fellow employee poses a risk to the health and safety of the employee or others due to drug or alcohol use.

a. Controlled substance use:

Employees shall report for work in an appropriate mental and physical condition. Employees are prohibited from purchasing, manufacturing, distributing, dispensing, possessing or using controlled substances or alcohol on department premises or on department time (41 USC § 8103).

The lawful possession or use of prescribed medications or over-the-counter remedies is excluded from this prohibition.

Employees that violate this rule will be subject to disciplinary action up to or including termination. If criminal activity is suspected appropriate law enforcement response will be initiated. Referral to a Substance Abuse Professional for evaluation will also be available.

b. Alcohol use:

No Minot Police Department employee shall use alcohol while on duty or within 4 hours prior to going on duty. Employees who are authorized to consume alcohol as part of a special assignment shall not do so to the extent of impairing on-duty performance. Employees subject to recall are reminded that they are to be in conformance with this policy when reporting for duty.

Post - accident regulations require an employee to remain available for testing and use no alcohol for up to 8 hours following an accident or until that employee is tested, whichever comes first.

Employees violating this policy and procedure will be subject to disciplinary action up to and/or including termination. Referral to a Substance Abuse Professional for evaluation is also available.

c. Minot Police Department personnel must comply with testing requirements as a condition of employment. Any employee must fully cooperate with testing personnel. Any refusal to test will have the same consequences as a positive test result. The following circumstances constitute a test refusal:

1. Failure to appear in a timely fashion for drug or alcohol tests (except pre-employment).
2. Failure to remain at the testing site until the testing process is complete.
3. Failure to attempt to provide a breath, or urine specimen for alcohol and drug testing.
4. Failure to provide adequate specimen for any drug or alcohol test as required and failure to seek and obtain a valid medical explanation for the insufficient quantity.
5. Refusal to allow the observation or monitoring of a specimen collection when it is required.
6. Failure to take a second drug test that the employer or collector has directed.
7. Failure to undergo a medical exam as directed by the employer, Medical Review Officer or Designated Employer Representative as part of the verification process, “shy bladder” or “shy lung” procedures.
8. Failure to cooperate with the testing process.
9. For an observed collection, failure to follow the observer’s instructions to raise clothing above the waist, l lower clothing to mid-thigh, and to turn around (360°) to allow the observer to insure that the donor is not wearing a prosthetic or similar device that could be used to interfere with the collection process.
10. Possession of a substance or wearing of a device as described above intended to help pass the drug test.
11. Admitting adulteration or substitution of the specimen to the collector or the Medical Review Officer.
12. The Medical Review Officer reports a verified adulterated or substituted test result.
13. For alcohol tests, refusing to sign Step 2 of the Alcohol Testing Form
14. Failing to remain available for a Post-accident test as required.

d. Notification of Criminal Drug Conviction:

In accordance with the Drug Free Workplace Act of 1988, any individual covered by this policy who is convicted of any criminal drug statute for a violation occurring on duty, on City of Minot premises or City of Minot property, while operating any City of Minot owned or controlled vehicle shall notify their Supervisor no later than 5 days after such conviction. Pursuant to the Federal Drug-free Workplace Act, the City of Minot will notify the appropriate federal granting or contracting agency, if any, of the conviction within 10 days after receiving such notification. Within 30 days after receiving notice from an individual covered by this policy of a drug-related conviction, the City of Minot, at its sole discretion, will take appropriate action against the employee up to and including termination or require the individual to satisfactorily participate in a drug abuse assistance or rehabilitation program. Failure to comply with this provision shall result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

6. Testing Procedures

a. Drug testing:
One urine specimen is collected for testing at the designated testing facility and the specimen will be split into two vials. “Vial A” is used as the primary testing and “Vial B” will be stored at the Department of Health and Human Services certified laboratory in the event the donor request a split specimen test. If the split specimen (Vial B) is to be tested, it will be sent to another DHHS approved laboratory. If the second laboratory confirms the positive results of the first laboratory, the employee will be responsible for payment of the second test. Regardless of payment, the second test will be conducted in a timely manner. If the second laboratory fails to confirm the results of the first laboratory, the second test will be used as the ultimate test result. Employees have up to 72 hours after being first contacted by the Medical Review Officer regarding a positive drug test result. If you have not requested a split test within 72 hours, the employee can still do so, however the employee must present documentation of a serious illness or communication failure preventing the employee from contacting the MRO.

b. Alcohol:

Tests for breath alcohol concentration will be conducted using a screening and/or evidential breath testing (EBT) device that is contained on the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration's (NHTSA) conforming products list. If an initial screening indicates an alcohol concentration of 0.02 or greater, a second confirmation test will be performed using an EBT operated by a certified BAT after an elapsed waiting time of not less than 15 minutes but no more than 30 minutes.

An alcohol concentration of less than 0.02 on the confirmation test shall be considered negative for alcohol.

An employee with an alcohol concentration of 0.02 to 0.039 shall be sent home for one day and cannot use sick leave for that day. The test result shall otherwise be treated as a negative.

An employee with a confirmed alcohol concentration of 0.04 or greater shall be considered to be positive for alcohol and the appropriate disciplinary action may be taken. Documentation shall show the test as positive for alcohol.

Alcohol testing, regardless of the reason for the test, shall only be conducted immediately prior to, or during work hours.

7. Reasons for Testing

A drug test can be performed at any time. An alcohol test shall only be performed while the employee is on duty, immediately prior to, or immediately following an accident or Officer Involved Shooting. The time used for drug and alcohol testing is considered to be "on duty time" with the exception of Pre-employment testing.

The Chief of Police is subject to all the rules and procedures included in this policy. If the Chief of Police is subject to testing for any reason the City Manager will be contacted and the policy will be followed under the City Manager's supervision.

The following paragraphs outline the reasons an employee could be tested:

a. Pre-employment Testing:

All police department hires shall undergo alcohol and/or drug testing following the offer of employment. The City of Minot must have a verified negative drug test on file for the employee prior to the start of employment. A positive pre-employment drug test will disqualify an applicant for employment for a period of 120 days and subject the applicant to the substance abuse evaluation, treatment and re-evaluation process outlined in the Return-to-duty process.

If an applicant has previously failed a pre-employment drug test, the applicant must present to the employer proof of successfully having completed a referral, evaluation and treatment plan.

b. Random Testing:

Current employees, will be randomly tested for controlled substances and/or the presence of alcohol. Each employee shall be included in a pool from which random selections are made. Each employee in that pool shall have an equal chance of being selected and shall remain in the pool, even after that employee has been tested.

Random drug testing can be done at any time the employee is employed.

Alcohol testing will be conducted immediately prior to, or during scheduled work hours, or immediately following an accident or officer involved shooting when requested by a supervisor.

Random pool selection shall be made by the Third Party Administrator using a scientifically valid random number generator or computerized random number generator program. The date and times of testing will be varied and spread out throughout the selection period. All random testing will be unannounced and reasonably spread throughout all days, hours and shifts throughout the year.

When an employee has been notified of a random test, he/she will immediately proceed to the testing site for breath or urine testing. The employee must have a government or employer issued, unexpired, photo identification with them to present to testing personnel. After a successful urine collection and/or negative alcohol test, the employee may return to his/her duties.

c. Negative Dilute:

Following a negative dilute the employee will be required to undergo another test. Should this second test result in a negative dilute result, the test will be considered a negative and no additional testing will be required unless directed to do so by the Medical Review Officer.

d. Post-Accident Testing:

A drug or alcohol test may be requested by a supervisor when an employee during the performance of his/her duties, drives a motor vehicle and becomes involved in an accident or is involved in any other work related action that results in bodily injury to him/herself or another person.

Any accident involving serious injury or death to any involved party or any officer firing a firearm during Officer Involved Shooting shall require testing for both alcohol and drugs of the involved employee.

The employee shall remain available for testing for 8 hours for alcohol, 32 hours for drugs, or until after that employee has completed the testing, whichever occurs first. When a required test has not been administered within the required time frame following the accident, the following actions shall be taken:

- 2 hours - If the employee has not been tested for alcohol within this time, the employer or supervisor shall prepare and maintain on file a record stating the reason a test was not properly administered, but must continue efforts for 6 more hours.
- 8 hours - Cease attempts to administer an alcohol test. Prepare and maintain the record described above.
- 32 hours - If the employee has not been tested for drugs after this time, the employer shall cease attempts to administer the test. The employer shall prepare and maintain the record described above.

Employee Responsibility:

An employee who is subject to required testing must remain available for testing or the employer may consider the employee to have refused to submit to testing. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the delay of necessary medical attention for the injured following an accident or to prohibit a covered employee from leaving the scene of an accident for the period necessary to obtain assistance in responding to the accident or to obtain necessary emergency care. The employee subject to a required test must refrain from consuming alcohol for eight (8) hours following the incident or accident, or until he/she completes the alcohol test, whichever comes first.

Employer Responsibility:

The employer shall provide employees with necessary post-accident information and instructions, prior to the employee operating a Minot Police Department vehicle so the employee will be able to comply with the requirement.

e. Reasonable Suspicion Testing:

REQUESTING SCREENING TESTS

The Shift Commander or supervisor may request an employee to submit to a screening test if he/she:

(a) Reasonably believes, based upon objective facts, that the employee is under the influence of alcohol or drugs which are impairing his/her ability to perform duties safely and efficiently.

(b) Informs the employee of the specific facts supporting this belief, and:

1. Informs the employee whether the test will be for alcohol or drugs, or both.

2. Informs the employee that the result of the test is not admissible in any criminal proceeding against him/her.

3. Informs the employee that he/she may refuse the test, but that his/her refusal may result in termination or other disciplinary action.

(c) The employee discharges a firearm, other than in training, in the performance of his/her duties other than to dispatch an animal.

(d) During the performance of his/her duties, drives a motor vehicle and becomes involved in an accident or is involved in any other work related action that results in bodily injury to him/herself or another person.

SCREENING TEST REFUSAL

An employee is subject to disciplinary action if he/she:

(a) Fails or refuses to submit to a screening test as requested.

(b) After taking a screening test that indicates the presence of a controlled substance, fails to provide proof, within 72 hours after being requested, that he/she had taken the substance as directed pursuant to a current and lawful prescription issued in his/her name.

(c) Violates any provisions of Minot Police Department policy.

Reasonable suspicion testing is required when a trained supervisor reasonably suspects that an employee is under the influence of a prohibited controlled substance and/or alcohol. The supervisor's determination that reasonable suspicion exists to require the employee to undergo a drug test must be based on specific, contemporaneous, articulable observations concerning the appearance, behavior, speech or body odors of the employee, and must be documented. The observations may include indications of the chronic and withdrawal effects of controlled substances.

A reasonable suspicion alcohol test can only be done immediately prior, during or immediately after the performance work related duties. The observations leading to that testing must be made during, just preceding, or just after the employee performs covered duties.

Following a reasonable suspicion determination, the employer shall ensure the test is completed within the same time constraints outlined for post-accident testing. If the test has not been completed, a similar record must be written and maintained.

f. Return-To-Duty Testing:

1. Alcohol:

Each employer shall ensure that prior to an employee returning to duty, after confirmed alcohol test result with an alcohol concentration of 0.04 or greater, or who refuses to submit to a test, the employee shall complete any required evaluation, rehabilitation requirement and re-evaluation determined by a Substance Abuse Professional. The employee shall also undergo and receive a negative alcohol test with a reading of less than 0.04 BAC.

2. Controlled Substances:

The employer shall ensure that prior to an employee returning duty, after being found positive for one or more controlled substances or refuses to submit to a test, the employee shall complete any required evaluation, rehabilitation requirement and re-evaluation determined by a Substance Abuse Professional. The employee shall also undergo and receive a verified negative result for controlled substances.

g. Follow-up Testing:

After successful completion of the return-to-duty process, the employer shall ensure the employee is subject to unannounced follow-up alcohol and/or controlled substance testing as directed by the Substance Abuse Professional. Follow-up testing shall be a minimum of at least 6 tests per year given at an interval determined by the Substance Abuse Professional, and can continue for up to a total of 5 years. Employees subject to follow-up testing must also remain in the standard random pool and must be tested whenever their name comes up for random testing, even if this means being tested twice in the same day, week, or month.

8. Refusal to Test:

Employees must comply with testing requirements. Any employee must fully cooperate with testing personnel. Any refusal to test will have the same consequences as a positive test result. The following circumstances constitute a test refusal:

1. Failure to appear in a timely fashion for drug or alcohol tests (except pre-employment).
2. Failure to remain at the testing site until the testing process is complete.
3. Failure to attempt to provide a breath, or urine specimen for alcohol and drug testing.
4. Failure to provide adequate specimen for any drug or alcohol test as required and failure to seek and obtain a valid medical explanation for the insufficient quantity.
5. Refusal to allow the observation or monitoring of a specimen collection when it is required.
6. Failure to take a second drug test that the employer or collector has directed.
7. Failure to undergo a medical exam as directed by the employer, Medical Review Officer or Designated Employer Representative as part of the verification process, “shy bladder” or “shy lung” procedures.
8. Failure to cooperate with the testing process.
9. For an observed collection, failure to follow the observer’s instructions to raise clothing above the waist, l lower clothing to mid-thigh, and to turn around (360°) to allow the observer to insure that the donor is not wearing a prosthetic or similar device that could be used to interfere with the collection process.
10. Possession of a substance or wearing of a device as described above intended to help pass the drug test.
11. Admitting adulteration or substitution of the specimen to the collector or the Medical Review Officer.
12. The Medical Review Officer reports a verified adulterated or substituted test result.
13. For alcohol tests, refusing to sign Step 2 of the Alcohol Testing Form
14. Failing to remain available for a Post-accident test as required.

9. Disciplinary Action

a. Drug and/or Alcohol Tests:

1. Negative test result:
No disciplinary action is taken.

2. Positive test results:
I. A positive test may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

II. If the employee is not terminated, the employee shall complete a drug and/or alcohol evaluation and shall comply with the recommendation of the Substance Abuse Professional. The employee shall pay for all costs associated with the evaluation and treatment as recommended. The employee shall only be permitted to return to duty after meeting Substance Abuse Professional requirements for rehabilitation and testing negative on the Return-to-duty test. The employee will then be required to submit to follow-up drug and alcohol testing.

b. Supervisors:

If a supervisor has a reasonable suspicion that an employee is under the influence of a controlled substance or alcohol, he/she must request that the employee be tested in a timely manner. The failure to do so may result in disciplinary action against the supervisor. Any supervisor that misuses his/her authority will result in disciplinary action up or including termination.

10. Self-Referral to Employee Assistance Program

Employees should contact the Human Resource Department, their insurance providers or the employee assistance program for additional information. It is the responsibility of each employee to seek assistance before alcohol or drug problems lead to performance problems.

All employees who feel they have a problem with the use of alcohol or controlled substances may refer themselves for evaluation and any needed rehabilitation through the employee assistance program prior to notification of an impending test. The admission and self-referral cannot be used to avoid a properly administered regulated controlled substances or alcohol test.

No employee will be subject to disciplinary action for self-referral. Until that employee has completed any rehabilitation program and received a verified negative controlled substances and/or alcohol test (less than 0.02 BAC), they will be removed from duty. The employee may also be subject to a return-to-duty test. All expenses relating to the rehabilitation program shall be the sole responsibility of the employee

11. Program Contact

Any questions regarding this policy or any other aspect of the drug and alcohol-free program should contact the Chief of Police or Human Resources Director.

The Third Party Administrator, Medical Review Officer, Collector and/or BAT shall discuss testing only with the Human Resource Director or Designated Employer Representative.

12. Documentation

A. Confidentiality
The written results of any screening tests and all documents generated by the employee assistance program are considered confidential medical records and shall be maintained separately from the employee's other personnel files (N.D.C.C. § 44-04-18.1).

All documentation shall be kept confidential. The only persons that have access to any documents relating to the Minot Police Department's Drug and Alcohol Testing Program and specific test results are the donor employee (with written request by the employee or in response to a proceeding initiated by the employee), the Chief of Police, Designated Employer Representative, Human Resource Director, Medical Review Officer and the City of Minot's Third Party Administrator. No other person(s) shall have access without written court order.

B. Retention of documents

1. Negative test results shall be retained on file for no less than one (1) year.

2. Positive test results shall be retained on file for no less than five (5) years.

13. Drug and Alcohol Testing Fees

The City of Minot shall pay for all tests that are required by the testing program except that:

Any tests requested by the employee or caused to be conducted by a violation of this policy shall be paid by the employee. The City of Minot shall ensure that all testing is done in a timely manner regardless of payment. The City of Minot may seek reimbursement for the costs of rehabilitation, split tests, return-to-duty tests, follow-up testing and/or any test otherwise requested by the employee.

15. Adverse Effects of Alcohol and Controlled Substances on the Body Information concerning the effects of alcohol and controlled substances use on an individual's health, work, and personal life; signs and symptoms of an alcohol or controlled substances problem, can be found in the following paragraphs.

a. A l c o h o l : The most commonly abused drug in the nation is alcohol. Nearly 100,000 deaths each year are linked to alcohol; and alcoholics are 16 times more likely to die in falls. Alcohol includes beer, wine and hard liquor. The same alcohol content is found in each of the following: One 12 ounce can of beer, one 4 ounce glass of wine or 1 ounce of hard liquor.

The short term effects of alcohol are impaired muscle control and/or coordination, body odor, glassy eyes, slurred speech and an impaired thought process. Behavior can also be affected in a lack of awareness, moodiness, depression and/or aggressive mannerisms. Long term effects of alcohol may include (but are not limited to) hypertension; enlarge heart; loss of muscle tissue memory loss; ulcers; cirrhosis of the liver; liver cancer and addiction.

b. M a r i j u a n a : It's the most frequent illegal substance detected in DOT regulated. It is also the most prevalent drug found in fatal commercial vehicle accidents. A common fallacy is that marijuana impairs coordination only while the user is experiencing what is considered to be the "high". In fact, measurable response time and judgmental skill impairment can last for days after using marijuana.

Marijuana is a dry, shredded green/brown mix of flowers, stems, seeds and leaves of the hemp plant Cannabis Sativa. It usually is smoked as a cigarette (joint) or in a pipe or water bong. It is also smoked in blunts (cigars emptied of tobacco and refilled with marijuana), often mixed with another drug such as PCP. Use might also include eating food or drinking a brewed tea containing marijuana. A more concentrated, resinous form is called hashish and a sticky black liquid is known as hash oil. Marijuana has a pungent, distinctive, sweet and sour odor.

The active chemical in marijuana is THC. Marijuana's effect on the user depends on its potency. The THC content in marijuana has been steadily increasing since the '70's. Short term effects of using marijuana can include chronic fatigue & sore throat, irritating cough, accelerated heartbeat, slowed speech, impaired coordination and increased appetite. Behavior while using marijuana can also include impaired memory, time and space distortion, panic attacks, paranoia and an "I don't care" attitude. Long term effects may include increased risk of come cancers, heart disease, altered immune system, depression and/or anxiety.

Medicinal use of marijuana is not permitted under Federal regulations regardless of State laws permitting its use for certain medical reasons. Also, eating foods or using products containing hemp are not acceptable excuses for a positive marijuana test result even if the hemp products were legally obtained.

c. C o c a i n e : There are two chemical forms of cocaine; powder (hydrochloride salt), which is generally dissolved in water and injected or snorted; and freebase, which is normally smoked. Crack cocaine is processed with ammonia and heated or cooked. It is also most normally used by smoking or injection. Effects of cocaine are dilated pupils, runny or irritated nose, profuse sweating, dry mouth, tremors, needle track marks, loss of appetite, hyper-excitability hypertension, heart palpations, insomnia and talkativeness. Behaviors of persons using cocaine can include depression, isolation, boosted energy levels, paranoia, mood swings, trouble concentrating and frequent absences. Long term effects may include heart disease, respiratory disease and/or failure, stroke, seizures and gastrointestinal problems.

d. A m p h e t a m i n e s : Amphetamines, including methamphetamine, are psycho stimulants. They are sometimes commonly known as 'speed" and stimulate the central nervous system. They can be in the form of powder, tablets, capsules, crystals (rocks), or red liquid. They are usually packaged in foil, plastic bags or small balloons when sold illegally.

Effects of amphetamines are dilated pupils, sweating, hypertension, heart palpitations, dizziness, decreased appetite, dry mouth and insomnia. Behaviors can include confusion, paranoia, moodiness, hallucinations, and anxiety. Long term effects of amphetamine abuse may include irreversible brain damage, convulsions, psychosis and intense anxiety.

e. O p i a t e s : Derived from the poppy plant, opiates include opium, heroin, morphine and codeine. Opiates can trigger very strong addiction tendencies when used improperly and without a physician's advice. Heroin is generally a white or brown powder and is typically injected.

Effects of opiate use includes constricted pupils, sweating, nausea and vomiting, diarrhea, needle track marks, slurred speech, slowed reflexes, depressed respiration and heartbeat drowsiness, loss of appetite and fatigue. Behaviors include mood swings, impaired coordination, depression and apathy, stupor and/or feelings of euphoria. Long term effects may include collapsed veins, infection of the heart lining, cellulites, liver disease, respiratory problems and pneumonia.

f. Phencyclidine: Also known as PCP, it is a white crystalline powder that is water or alcohol soluble. PCP is usually sold illegally in the form a tablets, capsules and/or colored powder. It can be snorted, smoked or eaten. It is often smoked with marijuana.

Effects of Phencyclidine use may include dilated or "floating" pupils, blurred vision, drooling, muscle rigidity, sweating, and resistance to pain, drowsiness, impaired coordination, rapid heartbeat and disorientation. Behaviors include aggressive or violent tendencies, panic, poor judgment, severe confusion, hallucinations, terror and mood swings. Long terms of PCP use may include violent behavior, central nervous system disorders, loss of motor skills and coma.

If an employee suspects a co-worker of abusing a banned substance, the employee should not confront the co-worker. The employee should report the concerns to their supervisor, who will in turn, investigate the suspicions. If substantiated, the supervisor will refer the employee to the employee assistance program or a Substance Abuse Professional that can properly diagnose and treat any dependency problem.

Secs. 24-32—24-35. Reserved.

DIVISION 2. THE ANNUAL PLAN

Sec. 24-36. The annual plan.

(a) No later than June 1st of each year, the director shall prepare and submit an annual employees' classification and pay plan to the commission for its review and approval. The commission shall conduct a public meeting on the plan, which may be adjourned from time to time, wherein it shall consider and approve the plan with or without modifications. In addition to the usual notice given of public meetings, the director will provide an additional notice specifically addressed to municipal employees by such means as he shall choose which are reasonably designed to accomplish that purpose. The commission shall take final action with respect to the proposed annual plan within sixty (60) days of its receipt thereof. Thereafter, the plan shall be confirmed as submitted or modified and confirmed by the city council as part of the annual budget process.

(b) The annual plan shall consist of two (2) parts. The first being the job classification analysis and the second being the pay plan.

(c) The job classification analysis shall be based upon a study of the job descriptions for all employees currently employed by the city and a study of the job descriptions for positions which are currently authorized but vacant. To the maximum extent feasible, the analysis shall treat the work force of the city as a whole and shall disregard departmental boundaries. The purposes of the classification analysis shall be to set forth various categories or classes, each of which will consist of a number of job descriptions which are substantially similar to one another in terms of duties, responsibilities, authority, minimum qualifications, required skills, required knowledge, required character traits, and such other matters as might be deemed relevant. The various categories or classes shall be distinguished from one another to the extent feasible by suitable descriptive titles. Moreover, the various categories or classes shall be arranged in a numerical ranking system which shall take into account and which shall reflect the relative importance, difficulty and exclusivity of each category or classification with respect to all other categories or classifications. The numerical ranking system shall use consecutive numbers to indicate the relative ranking of the various classes or categories commencing with the number 1 for the lowest thereof. Each level of ranking to which a number is assigned is to be considered a "grade" to be known by the number assigned to that grade.

(d) The pay plan shall set forth the compensation which shall be paid to the employees of the city during the next ensuing fiscal year, including noncash benefits and severance pay, if any. It shall establish different levels of pay based upon grades and length of service. It shall take into account salaries being paid by competing employers and the city's ability to pay and shall be based upon two (2) general principles:

(1) The higher the grade the higher the pay; and

(2) The longer the service the more the pay.

However, the pay plan may provide for one (1) principle being subordinated to the other, so that, for example, one (1) employee with longer service than a second employee may be paid more than the second employee even though the second employee occupies a higher grade than the first.

(e) After the annual plan has been confirmed by the city council with or without modification as provided for in subsection (a) hereof, it shall govern and establish the salaries to be paid to city employees during the fiscal year to which it pertains. During that fiscal year, no employee shall be paid in excess of the amount provided therein for the position which he occupies. However, nothing herein is to be construed as prohibiting an increase in pay to an employee resulting from a promotion received by him or attributable to attaining a higher step within a grade, as long as the promotion or step increase occurs in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and the rules and regulations established hereunder.

(f) Changes in classification with respect to a particular job description may be initiated by the director as part of the preparation of the annual plan or the process may be initiated at any time by the employee holding the position in question; provided, however, that in the latter case, the reclassification, if any, shall not take effect until approved by the commission, and the city auditor certifies that sufficient unencumbered monies are available in the appropriate accounts in the budget for the fiscal year during which the reclassification occurs to pay for any resulting salary increase. Reclassification may be based upon either one (1) of two (2) grounds:

(1) The job description adequately describes the job, but the relative ranking of the job is inappropriate when compared to other job descriptions in the same grade.

(2) The job description does not accurately reflect the knowledge and skills being used by the employee in the course of employment, or it does not reflect the duties and responsibility actually being discharged by the employee; and if the job description were rewritten accordingly, the job would be ranked at a different grade or the rewritten description would duplicate an existing description at a different grade.

(g) Instead of granting a request for a reclassification of a position currently occupied by an employee, the commission may, instead, if it deems it in the best interest of the service, require of the director that the provisions of this chapter pertaining to promotions, lateral transfers, or demotions be followed instead, including, if necessary, the declaration of a vacancy with respect to a position and the filling of that position by competitive examination, so that the intent and purpose of this chapter may not be frustrated through the device of administratively reassigning duties. In exercising its discretion under this subsection, the commission shall consider whether and to what extent the reclassification request comes about as the result of a gradual, evolutionary, and unanticipated change in the duties of a position. Nothing herein is to be construed as prohibiting the appointing authority from administratively changing the duties attributable to a position or to an employee, but, rather, this subsection addresses solely the consequences resulting from such administrative changes in duties.

(h) The city council may amend the annual plan during the course of the year to which it applies, provided that the proposed amendment has been submitted and approved by the commission.

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1; Ord. No. 2936, § 1)

Sec. 24-37. Job descriptions.

(a) The director shall maintain detailed narrative job descriptions with respect to each distinct authorized position. The job description shall set forth characteristic duties and responsibilities attributable to a position and the minimum qualifications and desirable skills expected of the holder thereof.

(b) New job descriptions and substantial amendments to existing job descriptions must be approved by the city council as part of the annual plan or as an amendment thereto.

(c) No person shall be employed by the City of Minot unless he is hired with respect to a specific job description which has been approved by the city council and which has been classified as part of the annual plan or an amendment thereto approved by the city council unless:

(1) The employee is hired as an independent contractor; or

(2) The employee is hired under the authority of section 24-46.

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1; Ord. No. 5683, § 3)

Secs. 24-38—24-40. Reserved.

ARTICLE V. RECRUITMENT, PROMOTION, DEMOTION, TRANSFERS, TENURE, DISMISSAL, AND REDUCTION IN FORCE

Sec. 24-41. Filling vacancies.

(a) All vacancies in the service shall be filled by:

(1) The demotion, lateral transfers or promotion of a present employee;

(2) The rehiring of a former employee; or

(3) By the hiring of a new employee.

(b) (1) A present employee of the city shall have a qualified preference to fill a vacancy before the vacancy is filled through the rehiring of a former employee or the hiring of a new employee. That is, present employees who are interested in the vacant position shall initially compete amongst themselves alone for the vacancy. The commission shall make a determination among such present employees as to who meets the minimum qualifications for the position and pursuant to subsection (c) below the commission shall determine what their comparative rankings are with respect to one another. This process of establishing comparative rankings in some cases may require taking into account that a particular employee is seeking a vacant position by way of a voluntary demotion or voluntary lateral transfer. In this regard see paragraph (2) of this subsection and subsection (c) below. Next the commission shall submit to the appointing authority a list of names of present employees eligible for appointment to the vacancy. In so doing it shall employ the formula set forth in subsection (d) of section 24-42 in order to establish how many names to the list and shall list the names in accordance with their order of comparative ranking, the highest first. The appointing authority may fill the vacancy from the list or it may reject all names thereon. If more than one vacancy is involved, the appointing authority may fill one or more vacancies from the list and yet retain the right to reject the remaining names thereon with respect to the remaining vacancies. If pursuant to this paragraph a present employee who bids for a vacant position is not selected for that position he may nevertheless compete for the same position with the applicants who compete for the position pursuant to section 24-42 (assuming that the position is not filled by another present employee or by the rehiring of a former employee), but in that instance he is entitled to no special preference by virtue of being a present city employee.

(2) Paragraph (1) shall not apply to those positions identified by the commission as entrance level positions, nor to department head positions, so that, consequently, city employees and non-employees alike may apply for such positions on an equal footing.

(3) To the extent a vacancy is to be filled from among present employees, preference shall be given to demotions over lateral transfers and to lateral transfers over promotions. If the vacancy is to be filed by a demotion, the following descending order of preference shall be observed: Demotions as part of a reduction in force, demotions for the good of the service, demotion of a probationary employee and voluntary demotions. If the vacancy is to be filled by a lateral transfer the following descending order of preference will be observed: Lateral transfer as a part of a reduction in force, lateral transfer for the good of the service, lateral transfer of a probationary employee, voluntary lateral transfer and lateral transfer for disciplinary reasons.

(4) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in paragraphs (1) and (2) above, the appointing authority must fill a vacancy by demotion or lateral transfer if that action is required by section 24-50 pertaining to reduction in force or if an applicant seeks a voluntary demotion or voluntary transfer to a position when no one with higher priority under this subsection seeks the same position and all affected department heads consent.

(c) The commission shall promulgate suitable regulations, rules and procedures to implement the system of priorities set forth in subsection (b). These regulations shall also set forth a means whereby comparative rankings can be established among employees in the same category who are eligible for a vacant position, such as, for example, when more than one employee is seeking a lateral transfer to a vacancy. The comparative ranking system shall take into account each employee's performance evaluations and length of service, and may take into account the results of tests or criteria similar to those provided for in section 24-42(c).

(d) If a vacancy is filled by the rehiring of a former employee or the hiring of a new employee the procedures set forth in sections 24-43 and 24-42 respectively shall be followed.

(e) In all cases where a vacancy becomes available for filling the director shall see that suitable public notice of the vacancy is given. The notice will include the title of the position, if any, the job description for the position (which may be summarized), the classification of and the minimum and maximum salary attributable to the position, and appropriate information as to how an interested applicant may obtain further particulars. The public notice shall be made in the manner most reasonable under the circumstances. For example, if it appears to the director that it is very likely that the position will be filled by a present city employee then at least initially the notice need only be posted on city bulletin boards and distributed among city employees without publication of the notice in a newspaper of general circulation.

(f) For the purpose of this section only, a present employee of the city shall include those employees of the auditorium and recreation departments transferred to the Minot Park District after March 31, 2019, with the exception of the tennis center manager who is employed under contract.

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1; Ord. No. 3965, § 1; Ord. No. 5361, § 3)

Sec. 24-42. Hiring new employees.

(a) If a vacancy in the service is not filled by a present employee or by the rehiring of an employee who is eligible for rehiring as a matter of right, then the appointing authority may choose an employee from among names of applicants submitted to him by the director in accordance with the following procedures, or he may choose to leave the position vacant.

(b) The appointing authority shall indicate to the director whether he wishes to choose an employee from the existing eligibility list established with respect to the position, if any, or whether he wishes the director to create a new eligibility list for that position.

(c) An eligibility list shall be established with respect to a position as follows: The commission will establish and approve appropriate tests and criteria to be used to evaluate employment applicants with respect to each position, based upon the contents of the job description pertaining thereto, including specifically the minimum qualifications stated therein. The tests may be written, oral, physical or in the form of a demonstration of skill or any combination of these. The tests and criteria shall be designed to evaluate elements of training, experience, aptitude, knowledge, character, personality, skill, physical fitness or other qualifications. In any event, the tests and criteria to be administered must be reasonably designed to relate positively to actual job performance with respect to the position for which the tests are given and the criteria applied, in order that the tests shall not serve as a means whereby job applicants are unlawfully discriminated against on the grounds of race, color, religion, sex, age or national origin.

(d) The commission shall rank applicants one against the other based upon the results of the tests referred to in subsection (c) and the list of the names of the applicants set forth in the order of their respective rankings, with the highest ranked first, shall constitute the eligibility list for the position for which the tests were administered. The appointing authority may consider for appointment three (3) names on the list for the first vacancy to be filled, plus two (2) names for each vacancy thereafter, but the names subject to consideration for appointment must be selected in consecutive numerical order commencing with the first.

(e) The commission may provide with respect to certain classes of positions that no tests of the type provided for in subsection (c) be administered, as when, for example, the position requires as a prerequisite that the applicant possess a professional degree or professional credentials. Likewise the commission may provide that certain positions be filled by the appointing authority on the basis of personal interviews only, because the nature of the position does not easily permit the applicant to be evaluated in an objective manner, but rather selection must take into account intangible aspects of character and personality.

(f) If in the judgement of the commission it will promote the efficiency of the service to maintain permanent eligibility lists with respect to some positions it may do so, without prejudice, however, to the right of the appointing authority at any time to require that a new eligibility list be established with respect to a position wherein there is a vacancy which the appointing authority wishes to fill. The permanent eligibility list may either be frozen or floating. That is, a frozen list is one to which no new names are added until some predetermined event occurs such as the number of the names on the list dropping to a certain prescribed level or after the passage of a prescribed period of time. A floating list is one in which names are added and ranked from time to time as persons submit applications for employment and take examinations, which procedure the commission may authorize even though no vacancies may exist in the positions for which employment is sought. If the commission does establish a permanent eligibility list it may strike names therefrom at any time upon its determination that good cause exists to do so. The nature of such good cause shall be established by the commission by appropriate rules and regulations but at a minimum these rules and regulations will provide that the name of a person on a permanent eligibility list shall be struck if that person:

(1) Obtains city employment,

(2) Refuses an offer of city employment,

(3) Can no longer be contacted after a reasonably diligent effort to do so,

(4) Can no longer meet minimum qualifications for the position to which the list refers,

(5) Requests elimination from the list, or

(g) The director shall have the authority to prescribe the contents of job application forms. As part of the initial job application process he may make a determination whether the applicant meets certain minimum employment standards which by way of rules and regulations established by the commission shall be imposed upon all job applicants irrespective of the position applied for. The minimum employment standards may include, by way of example, a requirement that the applicant be literate in the English language or that the applicant shall never have been convicted of a felony. However, such standards must be reasonably job related so that they do not serve as a means of unlawful discrimination against job applicants on the grounds of race, color, religion, sex, age or national origin. An applicant who cannot meet all the minimum employment standards shall not be considered further for employment nor shall he be permitted to take employment tests with respect to a position until such time as he can meet the minimum employment standards.

(h) Any person, not an employee of the city, may appeal to the commission from a decision made under the authority of this section by the director or by the appointing authority, which decision is adverse to the party making the appeal or which is otherwise claimed to prejudice him.

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1; Ord. No. 2801, § 1)

Sec. 24-43. Reemployment.

The director shall maintain a register of employees who are entitled to reemployment as a matter of right, comprised of those persons who were discharged from city employment solely on the basis of a reduction in force. The register shall set forth the position which each employee thereon last held. Thereafter, the director shall recall to employment persons whose names appear on the list as appropriate vacancies occur. The commission shall, by rules and regulations established by it, determine the order in which employees shall be recalled to employment, which rules and regulations may be based upon respective performance evaluations, respective lengths of service, respective dates of discharge, or any combination of these. An employee who is eligible for recall as a matter of right shall not be recalled to fill a vacancy if a present employee of the city who is afforded preference to the position under 24-41 (b) is willing to fill the position. The commission, by rules and regulations, may provide for the removal of names from the reemployment register in the same manner and for the same reasons that names are removed from an eligibility list.

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1; Ord. No. 3175, § 1)

Sec. 24-44. Veterans' preference.

(a) Any applicant for a position who is a veteran of the armed forces to the United States who was not dishonorably discharged therefrom, and who served in such forces during a period of war, shall have five (5) points added to his test results provided for in 24-41(c) or 24-42(c), unless he is disabled by a service-connected disability, in which case he shall have ten (10) points added to the test results.

(b) "Period of war" means any of those time periods specified in NDCC 37-01-40.

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1; Ord. No. 3568, § 1)

Sec. 24-45. Nondiscrimination.

It is the policy of this city not to discriminate unlawfully against any person in regard to employment on the grounds of race, color, religion, sex, age or national origin.

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1)

Sec. 24-46. Special appointments.

(a) Not withstanding anything in sections 24-41 through 24-43 to the contrary, the appointing authority exercising his sole authority alone, may hire a person to fill a vacancy in any position as long as he does so subject to the limitations set forth in the following subsections.

(b) A person may be hired to fill a vacancy in any position as a provisional employee, that is, for a period of time consisting of not more than ninety (90) consecutive days. No person shall be hired as a provisional employee more than twice with respect to the same position.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be construed as allowing the appointing authority to disregard the minimum qualifications established for a particular position or to disregard the minimum employment standards established for all positions of city employment.

(d) Service with the city as a result of a special appointment pursuant to this section shall not be credited as a period of city employment for purposes of establishing pension rights, seniority rights, longevity pay increases, or any other right or benefit which is dependent in whole or in part upon length of service. Nor shall it be considered as part of a period of probationary employment except as provided in subsection (f).

(e) An employee holding a position by virtue of a special appointment under this section shall be treated as a probationary employee for purposes of dismissal, lateral transfer, or demotion.

(f) An employee appointed pursuant to this section, is not considered an employee for purposes of sections 24-41, 24-43, 24-62, 24-63, 24-64, 24-65, 24-66, 24-67, 24-68, 24-69, 24-70, Division 2 of Article VI, or section 24-113, except that if required to work on a holiday he shall be paid accordingly. However a person not already an employee who is appointed to a position pursuant to subsection (b) is considered an employee for purposes of the sections just mentioned when and if he secures a permanent appointment to the same position, with benefits to relate back to the date of the provisional appointment.

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1; Ord. No. 5683, § 4)

Sec. 24-47. Tenure; termination of employment.

(a) Employment with the city once initiated will continue until it is terminated pursuant to subsection (b) hereof.

(b) Employment with the city shall terminate on any one of the following grounds:

(1) The employee reaches mandatory retirement age;

(2) Before reaching the mandatory retirement age the employee dies or voluntarily quits city employment in order to retire or to pursue other employment;

(3) The employee is dismissed for the good of the service;

(4) The employee is dismissed as part of a reduction in force;

(5) The employee is dismissed for disciplinary reasons;

(6) The employee is dismissed because the position for which he was hired was a temporary position or otherwise one of limited duration;

(7) The employee is dismissed because the appointing authority is permitted under section 24-46 or section 24-48 to terminate the employment and he does so; or

(c) Dismissal pursuant to a reduction in force shall be made in accordance with section 24-50.

(d) Dismissal of employees holding a position by virtue of special appointment and of probationary employees shall be made in accordance with sections 24-46 through 24-48 respectively.

(e) Dismissals for disciplinary reasons shall be made in accordance with Article VI of this chapter.

(f) Dismissals for the good of the service shall be made in accordance with section 24-51.

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1)

Sec. 24-48. Probationary employment.

(a) Except as provided for in subsection (d) hereof, upon making an appointment to fill a vacancy, the appointing authority will establish a probationary period with respect to the particular person appointed to the position (hereinafter called the probationary employee or an employee in probationary status), which probationary period shall be set at six (6) months or twelve (12) months. Prior to the initial probationary period expiration, the probationary period may be extended by the appointing authority, but it shall not exceed eighteen (18) months. Probationary status shall also apply to those former non-career employees converted to full civil service status effective January 1, 2022 as adopted in the 2022 budget.

(b) During the probationary period the appointing authority may take the following actions with respect to the probationary employee:

(1) A new employee or a rehired former employee may be dismissed, laterally transferred or demoted;

(2) An employee who is in probationary status as a result of a voluntary lateral transfer or voluntary demotion may be laterally transferred;

(3) An employee who is a probationary employee as a result of a promotion may be demoted to a grade not less than the one occupied prior to promotion.

(c) The appointing authority may take the actions authorized in subsection (b) because in his sole judgment, which is not subject to review, there exists one of the following grounds for so doing:

(1) The job performance of the probationary employee is not satisfactory;

(2) The action is required as a part of a reduction in force;

(3) The action is required in order to provide a vacant position for another employee to fill who is being demoted for the good of the service or who is being demoted under this section;

(4) The employee fails a required post-employment physical examination; or

(5) There exists with respect to the probationary employee sufficient grounds which would warrant the dismissal or lateral transfer of the employee for disciplinary reasons if he were an employee who was not in probationary status.

(d) If an employee changes a position as the result of a lateral transfer or demotion as part of a reduction in force, or a lateral transfer or demotion for the good of the service, there shall be imposed no probationary period with respect to the employee in his new position, but rather further demotion, lateral transfer or dismissal shall be based upon there arising new grounds for a demotion, dismissal or lateral transfer which are independent from the grounds which gave rise to the original demotion or lateral transfer.

(e) An employee may rescind a voluntary lateral transfer or voluntary promotion during his probationary period and return to his former position:

(1) As a matter of right if the former position is vacant, or

(2) At the discretion of the appointing authority if the position is not vacant.

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1; Ord. No. 3430, § 1; Ord. No. 5683, § 5)

Sec. 24-49. Demotions.

(a) An employee shall be demoted only on the following grounds:

(1) Voluntary demotion;

(2) Demotion as part of a reduction in force;

(3) Demotion for the good of the service; or

(c) Demotions pursuant to a reduction in force shall be made in accordance with section 24-50.

(d) Demotions for the good of the service shall be made in accordance with section 24-51.

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1)

Sec. 24-50. Reduction in force.

(a) A reduction in force is a decrease in the number of city employees which is accomplished in a manner other than through a combination of natural attrition and limitations on hiring. Reductions in force shall be of two kinds, temporary and permanent.

(b) A temporary reduction in force results in the temporary layoffs of employees. That is, a laid-off employee is not dismissed from city employment but rather for a temporary period of time he is not called upon to perform work for the city, during which time he earns no pay. A laid-off employee shall be subject to recall to active employment upon not less than seven (7) days notice. Periods during which an employee is laid off pursuant to this subsection shall not be counted as periods of employment for purposes of determining pension rights and benefits, seniority or any other benefit dependent in whole or in part upon length of service, nor shall the period during which a worker is laid off count as part of a probationary period.

(c) A permanent reduction in force results in the permanent dismissal or permanent demotion of employees, or both. It may also involve lateral transfers.

(d) The appointing authority may implement a reduction in force whenever:

(1) A reduction is required because of fiscal reasons such as, for example, when there is an unanticipated shortfall in projected tax receipts or other revenues, or both, or when the amount budgeted in any one fiscal year for salaries is inadequate to maintain previously existing staff levels and to pay salaries in accordance with the applicable annual plan; or

(2) Whenever there is insufficient worthwhile work to keep all members of the city work force fully occupied.

(e) Whenever the number of available positions in a table of organization is reduced, or city council approval of a particular job description is withdrawn, in such a manner that one or more employees becomes redundant, the appointing authority shall accomplish an appropriate reduction in force to eliminate the redundancy.

(f) The commission shall establish rules, regulations and procedures to govern the order of temporary layoffs. The rules shall address such matters as whether layoffs and recalls shall be made on the basis of comparative lengths of service, or comparative performance evaluations, or both. At a minimum the rule shall provide that with respect to employees sharing the same job description layoffs shall occur in the following order, to wit, employees holding a position by a special appointment under section 24-46, probationary employees, all other employees.

(g) The order in which employees are dismissed, demoted, or laterally transferred as part of a permanent reduction in force shall be established by the commission through appropriate rules and regulations. However, at a minimum, the rules and regulations shall observe the following principles:

(1) To the extent feasible the reduction in force shall be accomplished by demotions and lateral transfers in preference to dismissals;

(2) If the question should arise with respect to two (2) or more employees who share the same job description or the same classification grade as to the order in which they are to be dismissed, demoted, or transferred, the decision shall be based upon the employees' comparative length of service, and if these should prove to be equal, then the decision should be based upon the employee's comparative performance evaluations, except that a permanent employee shall displace a probationary employee in the same job description, notwithstanding the fact that the probationary employee may have superior performance evaluations or greater length of service;

(3) Demotions and lateral transfers shall be only of the following types which are listed hereafter in decreasing order of preference:

a. A lateral transfer to a preexisting vacancy in a permanent position;

b. A lateral transfer to a position in the same department wherein the employee served immediately prior to the transfer, or to a position formerly held by the employee in another department, if the incumbent thereof is subject to displacement by the transferred employee under the principles set forth in subparagraph (2) above;

c. A demotion to the highest position within the department in which the demoted employee served immediately prior to his demotion from which the incumbent is subject to displacement by the demoted employee under the principles set forth in subparagraph (2) above, unless the demoted employee would be entitled to a position with a higher classification pursuant to d below, in which case d shall govern;

d. A demotion to the highest position formerly held by the demoted employee in a department other than the department wherein the demoted employee served immediately prior to the demotion, from which the incumbent is subject to displacement by the demoted employee under the principles set forth in subparagraph (2) above;

e. A demotion or lateral transfer to a special appointment position as described in section 24-46 even though the incumbent thereof is displaced;

(4) If in the course of applying the principles set forth in subparagraph (3) above it should appear that two (2) or more employees are eligible for a position by virtue of a lateral transfer or demotion thereto, then the decision as to which of these employees shall obtain the position shall be made on the basis of the principles set forth in subparagraph (2) above;

(5) No person shall be demoted or laterally transferred to a position for which he does not meet the minimum requirements set forth in the job description pertaining to that position as of the time of the demotion or transfer.

(h) As long as he observes the rules and regulations provided for in subsection (f) and subsection (g), and subject to budgetary constraints, the appointing authority in implementing a permanent or temporary reduction in force shall have the discretion to determine how and to what extent the reduction in force shall be spread across the various departments of city government. However if the city council has as part of a mandated reduction in force prescribed a specific table of organization to be achieved, or if the city council has specifically abolished certain positions by limiting the number thereof or by withdrawing the approval of the job description pertaining thereto, the appointing authority shall implement the action taken by the city council.

(i) Nothing in this section shall be construed as prohibiting the city council from directing or the appointing authority from accomplishing on his own authority a decrease in the number of employees through natural attrition combined with restrictions on the hiring of new employees.

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1)

Sec. 24-51. Demotion, lateral transfer or dismissal for the good of the service.

(a) An employee may be dismissed, laterally transferred or demoted for the good of the service on any one or more of the following grounds:

(1) He suffers from mental or physical disability, or both, to such an extent that he can no longer adequately fulfill the duties of his position;

(2) The employee no longer maintains the necessary technical credentials or minimum qualifications required with respect to the position which he holds; or

(3) The employee is unable or unwilling to satisfactorily discharge the duties of his position.

(b) The appointing authority shall make the initial determination whether a dismissal, lateral transfer, or demotion for the good of the service should be ordered with respect to the particular employee. Before ordering such action he will meet with the employee and explain to him the nature of the action to be taken and the reasons for such action. If requested he shall provide the employee with adequate time in which to prepare an argument or explanation as to why the proposed action is inappropriate, to which statement he will give careful consideration before taking final action. If the appointing authority proceeds with dismissal, demotion, or lateral transfer the affected employee has the right to request that the commission consider the matter anew at a hearing held for that purpose. At such hearing the appointing authority will have the burden with going forward with the evidence and the burden of persuasion with respect to whether there are adequate grounds for dismissal, lateral transfer, or demotion under this section. The commission shall either affirm or reverse the decision of the appointing authority but it may not modify the decision, such as, for example, by ordering demotion in lieu of dismissal.

(c) Any demotion ordered by the appointing authority shall only be made if it can be made by filling a pre-existing vacancy and then only if it can be made in conformity with the rules established under the authority of section 24-41(c), or alternatively if it can be made with respect to a position which is occupied by a probationary employee or special appointment employee as described in section 24-46. Otherwise the appointing authority shall order dismissal.

(d) To the extent permitted under law a decision by the commission under subsection (b) shall be final and not subject to review by any court of law.

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1)

Sec. 24-52. Nepotism.

(c) Nothing herein is to be construed as requiring or permitting the dismissal of an employee by virtue of subsection (a) if the disqualifying relationship first comes about or occurs after the employee is appointed to a position with the city and while he is employed by the city.

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1)

Sec. 24-53. Promotional ladders.

Notwithstanding anything in this chapter to the contrary, the commission may approve the interconnection of related job descriptions into a "promotional ladder" whereby an employee in one position in the ladder may progress to a higher position in the ladder without competing against other applicants for that position. An example of such a promotional ladder is the progression from police patrolman to senior police patrolman. The commission shall establish rules and regulations to govern the use of promotional ladders which at a minimum shall provide that progression up the ladder is dependent upon satisfactory job performance as determined by the employee's department head, who shall have the sole discretion to make that determination, and which rules and regulations may provide that the employee pass certain competency tests prescribed by the commission.

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1)

Sec. 24-103. Standard of review.

The person or persons hearing and determining a grievance pursuant to the authority of section 24-101, or the commission acting pursuant to the authority of section 24-102, shall have the full power and authority to reverse or to modify, as well as to affirm, a decision giving rise to a grievance if he or it concludes that the decision is based upon a misinterpretation or misunderstanding of applicable constitutional principles, both state and federal, or of North Dakota statutory provisions, or of ordinances, regulations, rules, formal procedures, or formal statements of policy of the City of Minot. However if the decision which gives rise to a grievance is a decision which involves the exercise of a discretionary judgment on the part of the person making the decision, and it fairly appears that the person making the decision has been entrusted with or delegated the power to exercise his discretion in making such a decision, then the decision shall be reversed only in the event there is a demonstrated abuse of discretion, on which issue the grieving employee shall have the burden of persuasion.

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1)

Sec. 24-104. Grievance procedure limited.

Notwithstanding anything in this division to the contrary, if this chapter elsewhere provides that a decision affecting an employee is to be reviewed in a certain manner, such as is provided in Article V with respect to the dismissal or demotion of an employee for the good of the service, for example, then such other procedure shall be exclusive so that the grievance procedure of this division is inapplicable.

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1)

Secs. 24-105—24-110. Reserved.

DIVISION 3. EMPLOYEE DISCIPLINE

Sec. 24-111. Disciplinary regulations.

The commission shall establish disciplinary regulations. These regulations will be of two (2) types, the first type being substantive regulations which set forth the type of behavior which is either prohibited or required on the part of an employee, the breach or nonobservance of which by the employee may form the basis for disciplinary action against him. For example, the regulations may prohibit insubordination, chronic tardiness, making false claims or reports, etc. The second type shall constitute procedural rules with respect to the imposition of discipline. At a minimum the procedural rules of discipline shall provide that the employee's constitutional rights of due process are observed, particularly including the principle that no employee shall be subject to punishment for behavior which is not reasonably identified in the substantive rules of discipline as being the sort of behavior which can give rise to disciplinary action. Moreover the rules and regulations shall provide that with respect to all disciplinary actions taken against an employee, there shall be a right of appeal by the employee to the city manager, or alternatively, that before disciplinary punishment is imposed with respect to an employee the city manager must concur that there are adequate grounds therefor and that the punishment to be imposed is appropriate under the circumstances.

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1)

Sec. 24-112. Allowable disciplinary punishments.

(a) Employees may be subject to any one or more of the following disciplinary punishments in accordance with the rules and regulations authorized under section 24-111:

  (1) Dismissal;

  (2) Lateral transfer;

  (3) Suspension without pay;

  (4) A temporary decrease in pay in an amount not to exceed twenty (20) per cent of the amount of gross pay which the employee would be receiving in the absence of disciplinary punishment for a period of time not to exceed one hundred eighty (180) consecutive calendar days;

  (5) Adjustment in performance evaluations; or

  (6) A letter of reprimand to be included in the employee's personnel file.

(b) A lateral transfer for disciplinary reasons may only be made to a preexisting vacancy and then only in accordance with the rules promulgated under the authority of section 24-41(c).

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1)

Sec. 24-113. Review by the commission.

(a) An employee who has been subjected to disciplinary action resulting in the imposition of disciplinary punishment may appeal to the commission. The commission shall have the authority to reverse the determination that there is cause to impose disciplinary punishment, and may remit the punishment, or it may find that there are grounds for imposing disciplinary punishment but that the punishment imposed should be modified, in which case it shall so order.

(b) The procedures whereby an employee may appeal to the commission from an adverse decision with respect to whether disciplinary action should be taken against him, which disciplinary action has led to the imposition of disciplinary punishment, shall be identical to the procedures involved in presenting a grievance to the commission, except that in all respects the appointing authority shall have the burden of going forward with evidence and the burden or persuasion with respect to the factual issues which arise, which issues will be determined by the commission de novo. Furthermore, once the commission has arrived at a decision the employee shall be considered to have exhausted his administrative remedies for purposes of applying the legal doctrine which requires the exhaustion of administrative remedies as a prerequisite to judicial review. To the extent permitted under the general law of the state the decisions of the commission under this division shall be subject to judicial review.

(Ord. No. 2630, § 1)

Secs. 24-114—24-147. Reserved.

ARTICLE VII. EMPLOYEES' PENSION PLAN[2]

[2]Editor's note(s)—Ord. No. 4247, adopted Jan. 11, 2010, repealed the former Art. VII, §§ 24-148—24-156, 24-158—24-161, and 24-171—24-181, in its entirety. Former Art. VII pertained to employees' pension plan and derived from Ord. No. 4131, adopted July 7, 2008. Section 1 of Ord. No. 4247 states, "Ordinance No. 4131 and all previous Ordinances addressing the Employees' Pension Plan and the Former Police Pension Plan are now governed by City of Minot, North Dakota Pension Plan (2009 Restatement) and subsequent amendments, which 2009 Restatement Plan is incorporated by reference as part of this Ordinance and is maintained under separate cover in the City Clerk's Office effective January 1, 2009."

Received 4/23/24 @ 4:10 pm

Officer 1 (no longer with dept.) – Referred to as officer A

- 9 yr officer – swat, sniper, Master officer
- '21/'22 – after responding to call (back in 2018/2019) – victim died in officer's arms – told by Chief Klug/Captain Sundheim – "if you need help for PTSD – go get it" – Tammy Ness is outside therapist. Ness also offered Chief any counselling help for any officer that needed it after Officer Blanchard's suicide. Chief 'blew her off'.
- Officer A was close friends with Officer Pat Blanchard who committed suicide in '22 as well...which undoubtedly added to [redacted] issues.
- Officer A went outside department and found [redacted] in '22
- Being short staffed and other work/personal issues contributed to work deficiencies and in summer of '23 asked Chief Klug for mental health help – was given brochure to look in to for help.
- In Nov. '23 officer A had work incident where officer A yelled at citizen on a call about taking care of her child and was turned in by fellow officer...written up and Chief 'suggests' officer A received more help – so they find her a spot in a [redacted] facility in FL that – doesn't specialize in [redacted], but have counsellors that are trained in [redacted] Suggestion was actually – if you don't go, you won't have a job – kind of suggestion. After being threatened with job – officer A goes to counselling and returns back to work. Officer A received $4,000 bill for 30 day stay at treatment facility that was mainly for [redacted]. Department mandated counselling – or officer A would lose job – department doesn't pay for counselling...this seems inappropriate and possibly retaliatory in nature.
- Officer A had confrontational relationship with MO Dan Batteiger – officer A says MO Batteiger is unethical, immoral and lies quite often. Provided multiple instances witnessed at work/during work.
    - This was the first instance from anyone in the Minot PD that I was made aware of MO Batteiger sleeping with a domestic violence victim – in which he was a responding officer to the DV call – within 48 hours of arresting victim's boyfriend/spouse. MO Boettiger's vehicle was at the victim's house at 13:30am 2 days after call...no lights on. Reported to Sgt Noyes. Sgt Noyes askes MO Batteiger about it and is told by MO Batteiger "I was just over there as a friend; I had given her my card and she needed to talk to someone". Sgt Noyes reported up chain of command to Lt. McCloud that two officers had seen MO Batteiger's vehicle at the victim's house, but Batteiger told Sgt Noyes that he wasn't there as anything other than a friend. As it went up the chain (admitted to Chief and Cpt Sundheim that he had in fact slept with the victim) – officer Batteiger was ultimately disciplined with a 3-day suspension from the department for sleeping with victim, but never spoken to about lying to his Sgt.
    - At this point officer A told me about other instances within the department where officers were caught lying and not fired – Summerville instance came up amongst multiple officers I spoke with. All said that Summerville lied multiple times, was written up and suspended, but not fired. All of them, past and present, indicated things like that that happen, hurt moral of the dept as most officers didn't believe this was good behavior for a fellow officer.

- Officer A brought up ND POST Board Code of Ethics they sign and pointed to instances that, under ND POST Board rules, would be offenses that the POST Board would remove your license for.
- Officer A also brought up other instances MO Batteiger was counselled, disciplined or suspended for – including failure to adequately train K9 Cyrus for drug detection on a monthly basis, a ATV pursuit complaint in which he lied about how many cars he passed during pursuit (told Sgts 7-8 cars, camera footage showed him passing roughly 80 cars), not following up on cases that are assigned to him and lastly losing of 15.7 grams of DEA grade heroine used for training of our Minot PD drug dogs.

- After the Nov. '23 incident where officer A yelled at citizen about taking care of kids – officer A went to counselling "suggestion" and came back to work. Was suspended for 6 months from Swat team as a sniper, but was told she was NOT in trouble. Chief did say he was disappointed in officer A for "always trying to point out the liars in the department. We are not the morality police". Sgt Strandemo (SWAT Commander) – wrote letter to have officer A removed from team because she spoke with officer who reported her about the yelling (not confrontational – per the officer) and that she pulled out a riot shield during a call – because "it looks bad to use swat gear on a call that doesn't need it". Chief also screamed at officer A for speaking with reporting officer about yelling incident.
- It was at this point that officer A requested to not work with MO Batteiger any further as, in her words, "I didn't feel safe and I didn't know if I showed up on scene, if he was doing something legal or illegal". Officer A was told by Chief (this occurred during counselling for [redacted] sessions) "you will work with him or you won't have a job". Officer A was very upset in her own words.
- On 5/3 of this year, Chief requires officer A to take a [redacted] On or about 5/20 of this year, Chief requires (given in suggestion form again – as in sign this or you won't have a job) officer A to sign 'records release' for all of her outside [redacted] – including all [redacted] on what officer A said in session. Outside [redacted] is upset at request as it ignores patient/client privilege. [redacted]
- Officer A was put on administrative leave while waiting for results for [redacted]
- [redacted] may require 3 accommodations/actions that will help officer A (attached with this document) item 1. Officer A was decorated multiple times by city and department for her work/service. Also held significant amounts of training/certifications/qualifications that we as a city paid for. That is attached as well, item 2.
- I asked officer A if any of the accommodations that were suggested were applied to help – she indicated that nothing Kuhlman suggested was put into place. Instead, Sgt. Ruell was directed to report on all of officer A's daily activities to make sure things were going ok. Sgt. Ruell did the daily reports for a while, but then stopped because officer A was having no issues and so reports were not needed.

- During this same time, Cpt. Sundheim added a letter to officer A's personnel file (not HR but hidden one within the dept.) stating officer A was on a PIP, but it wasn't really a PIP in Cpt's words.
- I asked officer A why she was speaking up now – she said because she had left the department and they couldn't do anything to her any longer and that she still cared very much about the dept and her friends still working there. She indicated other people would speak up – but were worried about retaliation from brass, as they had all seen how Sgt. Schoenrock was treated for speaking up to/against brass.
- Main take-aways from this interview – officer A reported inconsistent discipline within the department (favorites played), Poor communication from the senior brass, getting into trouble for reporting ethical, moral issues of other officers, no transparency within the depart. And not taking appropriate actions with regards to some officers' unethical behavioral issues.
- At end of interview officer, A also spoke about an incident that happened when Amy Evans (who I believe still works for the city) was hired on. Evans was identified in a hit and run report as the offending party. This was shortly after Evans had been hired by the city as an animal control officer. Officer A was attempting to issue warrant/citation for Evans so other citizen could get insurance claim made. The following morning officer A was pulled into Cpt. Sundbakken's office and told that they would not be pursuing this issue as it would be embarrassing to the city as this was now a city employee. Officer A objected because citizen needed this to get insurance claim filed. There has been some discrepancy about how long after the incident this happened....officer indicated within a few days – brass has told others it was the following month.

Officer 2 and Officer 3 (both prior Minot PD officers, current FOP reps)

- During this first meeting I met with the local chapter and state Fraternal Order of Police reps. They spoke about multiple issues within the department – both explained different issues that ultimately forced them to make the decision to leave the department.
- Both of these officers were with Minot PD for a long time – both had no issues prior to Chief Klug taking over the PD. Both previous officers pointed out inconsistencies with discipline, getting in trouble for small things (one of the officers was the community outreach officer and had been for 4-5 years....he received a reprimand for scheduling the PD to be at the second Juneteenth event here in Minot...was called into Cpt Sundbakken's office and told that he needs approval before they get the dept. into events that could be considered controversial – asked why this event would be controversial – no answer given), lack of support for the officers from brass (they just sit in their offices or are never there), poor communication from upper leadership and the 'changing goalposts' that is the promotions board within the department.
- The FOP reps also handed me a letter from the FOP detailing the issues they see with the department. Most of the issues listed on the FOP letter were with regards to officer's wage changes, PTO/OT changes, insurance changes, etc. Item 3 is attached.
- Both prior officers indicated that current brass does not like to be questioned or have to answer any how/why questions. Cited a few personal instances where either of them would ask Chief or Cpt Sundheim about maybe looking at changing something or adding a new policy that would help with efficiency, job duties etc. – always met with "this is the way we've always done it." If they asked to many questions or suggested to "harshly" about why brass didn't think it would work, they would be reprimanded by brass or yelled at.
- Both officers spoke about the lying that went on while they were in the department. Some people would be fired for lying (Clouse and Wilke both fired for lying to chief) and other officers such as Summerville and Batteiger who were not fired for lying but only suspended. They indicated how bad things like this would crush the moral of younger officers.
- Officer #2 worked for the Minot PD for 5 yrs and achieved the rank of MO, with the ND Highway Patrol for 8 years prior and with Bottineau County Sheriff's Dept for the last couple years. He was trained with the NDHP in crash reconstruction. Officer #2 spoke at length about how the 4-year assignment rotation has hurt the department. He mentioned officers Stef Letz (Det) who recently left the department because she was about to be rotated out of her detective assignment and moved back to patrol. He also mentioned Jay Haaland who was forced out of his SRO job and moved back to MN to become a cop. Officer #2 mentioned that the Chief never asked for any input on this policy change when instituted. Had they been asked they would have informed Chief that a lot of officers aren't in favor of it, because "while some officers are great at being a detective or on patrol, others may not be and so when they find a position that they are good at, usually they don't want to transfer out and do something else". I question why we would take a leading detective or patrol officer who is fantastic at their job and doesn't want to do a different job, and force them to do something else....kind of like forcing officers who don't trust each other to work with each other. Seems to be very little regard for what the officers actually think or feel.

- Officer #2 said he ultimately left the department because he could see the lack of communication/support, poor communication and selective promotion process that passed over many good officers. He mentioned that he tested for Sgt. 2 times. The first time he was #4 on the list and they promoted 2 people....so he didn't make it. The second time he was #3 on the list, they promoted 6 people that time, but he was passed over. No reason given, no explanation of deficiencies in officers file or reviews. He said he could see that if you weren't in "Chief's group" you would not make promotion board at Minot PD.
- Officer #2 spoke about inconsistent discipline procedures as well...he spoke about frivolous write ups of Sgts. Jensen and Foley and SO Olsen, but other officers weren't written up or discipline for the same offenses.
- Officer #2 discussed his extensive experience in crash reconstruction and the specialized training he received while serving with the North Dakota Highway Patrol (NDHP). Upon joining the Minot Police Department (PD), he noted that the department lacked expertise in this area. Following a tragic incident involving a pedestrian fatality near Jim Hill, in which Officer #2 was not called upon to assist with the reconstruction, Captain Sundheim requested his help in developing a crash reconstruction policy akin to the NDHP's. Officer #2 dedicated significant time and effort to crafting a policy, largely based on the NDHP's framework, at Captain Sundheim's behest. Although he submitted the policy to Captain Sundheim, it was never discussed further. This situation underscores a concerning lack of follow-through and support from department leadership.

RE: NDPERS Public Safety Pension Plan

To All Concerned:

I write the letter on behalf of the members of the North Dakota Fraternal Order of Police – Souris Valley Regional Lodge #7, who are also employees of the Minot Police Department, in support of adoption of the NDPERS Public Safety Pension Plan.

Nationwide efforts to recruit and retain quality employees in the profession of policing has unquestionably fallen off. In fact, the National Lodge of the Fraternal Order of Police estimated that law enforcement recruiting nationwide was down 60% in 2019. There can be no doubt that 2020 saw similar or worse performance in this area vital to public safety. The Minot Police Department has not been immune to these troubling trends in recruiting and retention. Time-and-again, for those officers leaving employment with the City of Minot, but staying in the profession, the desire to seek better benefits packages in other agencies is a leading reason for an early departure.

While no single compensation/benefit change can be expected to be the magic wand in reversing this trend, improvement in the area of the pension benefits would demonstrate a very real commitment to improvement to employee benefits and send a strong message that our membership's efforts in serving the Magic City are appreciated. To those responsible for making the applicable budgetary decisions, the appearance of immediate savings from slightly less expensive plans can be a strong motivator in adopting less favorable pension programs. However, the perception of savings from this type of decision quickly evaporates when the expenses, in the hundreds of thousands of dollars, of constantly training new police officers and firefighters gets tallied.

Further, with the high rate of turnover experienced by Minot's public safety departments, the median experience level of its police officers and fighter fighters remains low. While keeping employee allotment numbers staffed is a challenge in and of itself, when those positions are filled with inexperienced law enforcement officers, the public simply doesn't enjoy the benefit of the level of policing a more veteran and happier police department provides. Improvement in benefits packages, and in this case adoption of the NDPERS Public Safety Pension Plan, is a step in the right direction in slowing the unfavorable trend of watching the training and experience gained by police officers, paid

Officer #4 (current MPD Sgt) – Referred to as Sgt X

- 12 yr PD officer – promoted to Sgt. X
- Sgt X spoke about issues he sees within the Minot PD – again – inconsistent discipline (from brass and even some lower-level officers), Absent leadership – never around, no support for lower grades, brass is not open to suggestions or criticism at all, the brass "doesn't seem to have time for lower officers". Chief and Cpt Sundheim do not like to be challenged at all...if officers speak up and they don't like it, will be given shitty assignments, removed from duties/teams they've been assigned to etc. – basically said that bras doesn't want to hear from the lower grade Sgts/officers.
- Sgt X also spoke about the 4-year assignment rotation that was put into place under chief Klug. Indicated it is quite unpopular amongst the officers.
- Sgt X spoke about one particular incident that happened within the department prior to MO Pat Blanchard's suicide. MO Blanchard was at an event at a bar and had been drinking with other officers (I believe it was a going away or retirement party). During the party SWAT was called out and although he had been drinking – MO Blanchard got in his car and headed towards the scene. As he was attempted to drive to the call out, MO Blanchard was involved in an accident where he ran into a building and popped 2 tires on his vehicle. He left the scene of that accident and headed back to the Minot PD garage to attempt to change his tires. While in the garage working on the tires, Sgt Ruell finds him intoxicated and attempting to change his car tires. Sgt Ruell speaks with MO Blanchard, decerns what had happened and reports this all to Lt. Houge. At this point it is believed that Lt. Houge informs brass of what has taken place. The next day Sgt Ruell is called into Cpts office and told they would not be proceeding with DUI, hit and run or any other offenses MO Blanchard may have been involved in from the incident the night before. Officers within the department were stunned he said...as most were aware of what happened and new there should have been some formal punishment. Nobody was told why he wasn't being punished and so they lack of transparency and the 'non punishment' really hit the moral within the PD.
- Sgt X spoke a bit about MO Batteiger and some of the issues and was unsure why we would keep officers with ethical issues on the department. This was the second time the 15.7 grams of DEA heroine that was lost, was brought up. He brought up officer Summerville who had lied numerous times in the dept as well....has been suspended but not fired. I can see the fact that other officers lie really bothers the officers both past and present.
- It was at this point I went and started speaking with Stef Stalheim, the city attorney, and asked what she knew about the missing drugs. She indicated that the Thursday right before Labor Day weekend was the first time she'd heard about this (the drugs were lost somewhere between Feb-Nov. 2023). Stalheim and I asked for the investigation report into the lost drugs and MO Batteiger's personnel file. We read through both and were quite surprised at some things said in the investigation report and the lack of letters of discipline/counselling in his file. As I'd been told there were several write-up offenses. It was at this time we were made aware of 'shadow files' held within the Minot PD by command staff. Stef Stalheim requested all of those MO Batteiger files from Minot PD command staff. Both internal investigation report and Chief's letter of discipline are attached to this file for reference as items 4 and 5. I would also recommend reviewing the write up for MO Batteiger with regard to the 2022 'sleeping with a victim of DV'.

- Sgt. X also mentioned several other write-ups for MO Batteiger, that were known throughout the department – he said there are 6-7 writeups on MO Batteiger that happened before the 'sleeping with the victim' writeup and before the 'lost drugs' incident (timeframe would be 2022-2023. He mentioned that Sgt. Y (another K9 Sgt) had written a letter to Cpt Sundheim and Chief to detail some of the issues and problems with MO Batteiger as related to his K9 training issues. Cpt Sundheim looked at the letter and told Sgt. Y she lacked supervisor maturity for pointing out the issues. Again – made mention of how that affected moral within the department.
- Sgt. X mentioned multiple times the lack of communication within the department. These incidents varied from why certain things were happening within the department to reasons for writeups/discipline to suggestions/committees giving recommendations (asked for by brass) and nothing ever happening. Sgt. X indicated that most of the junior officers don't feel the brass even knows who they are, let alone care about what they think. He told me that 2023 annual personnel reviews had not been done for the department (other than detectives – Cpt Plessus). These would have fallen to Cpt Sundheim and Cpt Sundbakken (to a lesser degree) He said "they don't even care to tell us if we are doing a good job or not..."
- Sgt. X also mentioned that there is no 'follow through' from the senior brass nor much support of any kind.
- I asked Sgt. X what he thought would help fix things within the department. Here were Sgt. X's responses:
    - Clear guidance from brass. Be around/seen and interact with the officers in the dept. Chief micro manages a lot of things and so decisions never get made. NO DECISION CAN BE MADE WITHOUT CHIEF'S OK.
    - Get rid of the politics that happen within the department – it is crushing moral
    - Allow officers to do their jobs, instead of telling them not to take action. Give officers latitude and guidance while allowing to make some decisions.
    - Lay out clear criteria for advancement/promotion instead of the moving target they have now. Quit promoting people that aren't good leaders just because they've been there for 10+ years.
    - Implement some of the CPSM suggestions that were delivered a few months ago. Nothing has been done with those...why did we pay for the study?
- Sgt. X finished up our meeting by telling me about 2 things. First, SWAT is not used at all. Cpt Sundheim will not let SWAT be deployed for anything in the city. "It looks bad to have SWAT running around out there". The training has turned south because they all know nobody will call them out for anything. They used to go serve drug warrants, but that has changed and they have only been called out 3 times in the last 3 years. Nobody understands why they aren't used, but it hurts moral. Sgt. X wondered what the point in having a SWAT department if you never use them?
- Lastly, Sgt. X told me about issues in Dispatch - this was the first time anyone had brought this up. He said if you wonder why the city can't keep any dispatchers, it's because the same thing is happening there that happens in the PD. He mentioned how the PSAP (Margaret) is a very harsh supervisor, she talks poorly about dispatchers to other dispatchers and PD, she retaliates against people and the supervisors have very little training...no guidance from PSAP. He also mentioned that when only two dispatchers are on shift due to staff shortages, they are required to work 12-hour shifts without taking lunch breaks unless they use PTO. To cover their lunch, another dispatcher must be called in, which effectively discourages taking their lunch break. Most stand or sit at their desk and eat while working. This arrangement seems highly questionable, potentially violating labor laws and exposing the city to legal liability,

To: Daniel Batteiger, Master Police Officer

Ref: 23-12, Chief's Letter of Discipline

This is a summary and order of discipline resulting from the investigation of Master Officer Daniel Batteiger reference internal administrative investigation 23-12 regarding the missing narcotics from the canine training kit.

On December 14, 2023, it was discovered that 15.7 grams of heroin, packaged for training canine teams for narcotics detection, was missing. Upon being notified, I assigned the administrative investigation to Capt. Dale Plessas. The full investigative report is available in the internal file and will be maintained for reference. The investigation was to determine if the narcotics were misplaced or taken by one of the four employees with access to the storage location.

The result of the internal investigation showed that the last person to sign out the heroin samples was Officer Batteiger. The night of December 13, 2024, the heroin kit was retrieved by Officer Connole from Officer Batteiger's vehicle, which was parked at Batteiger's residence. The kit was not inventoried, but it remained sealed until the evening of December 14, 2023, and it was at that time that Sgt. Taylor Jensen found the 15.7 gram sample was missing from the kit.

With Officer Batteiger being the primary handler to check the narcotics out from the locker and the handler who had most recently checked it out, I find that most of the responsibility for the missing sample lies with him.

Based on the results of the investigation, I find the following violations of policy and have set discipline based on the seriousness of the violations which are all sustained and are basis for this disciplinary action.

- Policy 322 – Standards of Conduct
  - 322.5.1 LAWS, RULES, AND ORDERS
    (b) Disobedience of any legal directive or order issued by any department member of a higher rank.
    - Maintained possession of heroin training kit beyond the time allowed by the directive issued by Lt. Dave Chapman.
  - 322.5.7 EFFICIENCY
    (b) Unsatisfactory work performance including, but not limited to, failure, incompetence, inefficiency, or delay in performing and/or carrying out proper orders, work assignments or the instructions of supervisors without a reasonable and bona fide excuse.

- Failure to maintain minimum training requirements.
- Failure to inventory samples when checked out for training.
- Maintaining possession of sample beyond the allotted time allowed.

- 322.5.9 CONDUCT
  (i) Unauthorized possession of, loss of, or damage to department property or the property of others or endangering it through carelessness or maliciousness.
  - Maintained the samples of heroin with poor practices of inventory and accountability.

My concerns about this incident are inflated by the history of disciplinary actions with Officer Daniel Batteiger. He has been counseled for errors made while instructing the deployment of our spike systems, policy violation associated with the pursuit of an off-highway vehicle, and failure to maintain the required level of training with his canine as established by the department. Officer Batteiger has also been suspended for a Standards of Conduct violation, which was largely reflective of poor judgement.

Discipline: As a result of these policy violations, I am ordering the following for Master Officer Daniel Batteiger:

- This letter will serve as a letter of reprimand for the violations of the Standards of Conduct policy.
- Officer Dan Batteiger will be removed from his position as a canine handler and surrender Cyrus to the Canine Coordinator by the date and time set by the Chief of Police.
  - Date: 2/26/2024 Time: 1730
- Officer Batteiger will no longer instruct Emergency Vehicle Operations Courses for the Department or its' members.
- A copy of this letter will be placed in the personnel file of Daniel Batteiger in the Office of the Chief of Police.

John Klug, Chief of Police — Date: 2/23/2024

I have been given a copy of this disciplinary decision.

RE: The loss of control of narcotics from the canine training allocation

ADMINISTRATIVE INVESTIGATION

Introduction:

Employee:	Lt. David Chapman, Sgt. Taylor Jensen, M.O. Daniel Batteiger, and S.O. Michael Connole
Source of Complaint:	Notification from Lt. David Chapman
Interviewed:	Lt. David Chapman, Sgt. Taylor Jensen, M.O. Daniel Batteiger, and S.O. Michael Connole
Complaint Date:	December 14, 2023
Investigation Date:	December 20, 2023
Investigator:	Capt. Dale Plessas – Minot Police Department

Synopsis:

On December 14, 2023, at 1630 hours members of the Minot Police Department K9 team, to include Lt. Chapman (coordinator), Sergeant Jensen (handler), and S.O. Michael Connole, met with two handlers from McHenry County Sheriff's Department for bimonthly K9 training. Master Officer Batteiger was not present for this training as he was home sick.

The training was conducted at the Minot Police Department in the old City Council Chambers. The training was a drug detection training where drugs were to be hidden in specialized K9 popper boxes. While placing drugs in popper boxes, Sgt. Jensen discovered that the 15.7-gram sample of heroin was missing. She immediately alerted Lt. Chapman. Lt. Chapman conducted a limited search for the drugs and then contacted Capt. Sundheim to report the discrepancy.

Chief John Klug assigned this investigation with focus on the following questions:

- Who signed out the narcotics?
- Who accessed the drugs during that time?
    - Voluntary hair follicle testing of all with access.
- Were current policies/procedures followed?
- Were additional attempts to locate since the initial report?

Summary of investigation:

During this investigation, I interviewed each of the members of the K9 team starting with Master Officer Daniel Batteiger, Senior Officer Michael Connole, Lieutenant, Dave Chapman, and finishing with Sergeant Taylor Jensen. I later found it necessary to re-interview M.O. Batteiger and S.O. Connole to clarify some items. I began my interviews by orientating myself on the K9 drug kit make up and process of the K9 team. I learned that the K9 drug kit is made up of 4 types of narcotics to include Methamphetamine, crack cocaine, cocaine, and heroin. Each of these drugs were received via the DEA laboratory and were sent in 1 oz samples or roughly 28 grams (see: 2023 K9 forms -DEA Request). The samples were then broken into three smaller samples by the K9 team. This was done by breaking the sample in half and then breaking one of the halves in half again. The largest of the Samples of heroin was measured at 15.7 grams. These smaller samples were then placed individually in canvas bags with a label that indicated the size of the sample. The three samples of a drug type were then placed in a small glass jar, similar to a baby food container. Each of the narcotic samples undergo the same process and are stored in a pelican case that is referred to as the K9 drug kit. This kit generally would be stored in a locked locker located in a basement storage room at the Minot Police Department. The storage room has limited access among police personnel and the locked K9 locker has a combination lock that limits access to members of the K9 team. Members who assist the K9 team, commonly referred to as decoys, do not have access to this locker. The K9 locker has a paper log, titled Drug inventory Log, that is used for tracking the K9 drug kit usage (I took pictures to illustrate each of these storage locations and log, Images 1 – 8). LT. Chapman indicated in his statement that he developed a digital log but acknowledged that it is not used with any consistency. He indicated that this is ironic as members of the team wanted the digital log, but they do not use it. In my review I determined that M.O. Batteiger and S.O. Connole do not use the digital log. Connole indicated that he has not been able to get the log to work on his cell phone. Sgt. Jensen does regularly use the digital log when accessing training aids.

It appears that inventories of the K9 drug kit are inconsistent at best. In interviews with Lt. Chapman and M.O. Batteiger it was determined that there is no formal process in place for inventory of drug samples in the K9 kit. Lt. Chapman and M.O. Batteiger acknowledged that they do not formally inventory the kit prior to taking or upon returning the kit to the locker, beyond ensuring all of the bottles are inside. M.O. Batteiger said it is not part of his process to take a physical count or inventory of the K9 kit. S.O. Connole indicated that it is his experience that an inventory is done after each training event. Despite this statement, he acknowledged that he retrieved the kit in from M.O. Batteiger's patrol vehicle in preparation for the December 14, 2023, training, but did not do an inventory. Each indicated that during training, sometimes they take a sample out of the bottle and use them individually, and sometimes they use the full sample, in and out of the bottle. Each indicated that they should notice if a sample is missing but could not be certain of this.

Further complicating tracking of these drugs is inadequacies in training documentation. The K9 team utilizes the Packtrack system for monitoring training. The system provides a great means of monitoring all of the various training activities by members of the K9 team. The System permits the K9 handler to be very detailed in documentation of training. The inadequacy comes with documenting specific training aid being used. While S.O. Connole seems to document the specific size of sample he utilizes, M.O. Batteiger often indicates "1 item" when the full sample is not used. This makes it difficult to determine when the 15.7-gram sample was last used. The last recorded date that the 15.7-gram sample was listed in training is Jun 23, 2023, at MSU (see: Excersize-Detail-Report-9328-vBaoL hrp Pg28). There were multiple times where 28 grams, or 1 ounce, was listed, but it is difficult to know if the handler observed all three samples, or simply used the whole jar and considered it the full sample. Sgt. Jensen indicated that she handled placement of one of the 6-gram sample (the Packtrack log shows 6.4 grams) of heroin on November 12, 2023, and felt confident that if the 15.7-gram sample was missing, she would have noticed, but could not be certain of this.

M.O. Batteiger stated that after, former K9 handler, Sgt. Pappenfus left the Minot PD, Batteiger's dog was the only narcotics dog left, so he commonly left the K9 kit in his vehicle. This is documented on the drug inventory log as M.O. Batteiger checked the full kit out from February 28, 2023, to November 13, 2023 (ref image 2). According to Lt. Chapman storing the drugs in a patrol car long term, was consistent with how he and other past drug detection K9 handlers operated. Nevertheless, Lt. Chapman acknowledged that he knew this was not good practice, so he put out an order stating that the K9 kit could only be checked out of the locker for three days at a time for the full kit, and 7 days at a time for a partial kit. If more time was necessary, the handler would need approval of the K9 coordinator. Samples were not to be split apart (partial odors from the same drug type) at any time (See: Minot Police Department Unit Expectations). This order was distributed at the first training in November. M.O. Batteiger stated that after this order was given, he checked the kit back into the K-9 locker, but he and Officer Connole split the kit apart. He took the heroin with the intent of training with it. The Drug Inventory Log showed that the M.O. Batteiger checked the heroin sample out of the locker on the same date that he checked the full kit back in, November 13, 2023. The log also showed that S.O. Connole checked a partial kit containing methamphetamine, crack cocaine, and cocaine out, thirteen days later, on November 26th, 2023, and returned it on November 29, 2023.

A noteworthy discrepancy shows that M.O. Batteiger logged the heroin sample back in on November 26, 2023, but heroin was absent from S.O. Connole's check out of the partial kit on November 26, 2023. M.O. Batteiger stated that he recalls placing the sample in the kit and did not leave the lone heroin container in the locker. He also indicated that he did not give it to S.O. Connole. With the indications on the log, this explanation is not possible. Also noteworthy is that the handwritten "2" in the number 26, in M.O. Batteiger's log check in date, appears modified, potentially from a "1". If the date was listed as "1" the check in date would have been November 16th, 2023, which would have been consistent with Lt. Chapman's directive. M.O. Batteiger acknowledged that the date listed was November 26, 2023, which he acknowledged put him in violation of Lt. Chapman's directive. He indicated he could have been wrong on his date that they split the drugs. Also noteworthy was that S.O. Connole logged training on November 26, 2023, and listed cocaine and methamphetamine but did not utilize heroin. After refreshing his memory with the use of the drug inventory log and Packtrack training log, S.O. Connole recalled that he had checked out the kit on November 26, 2023, to train with Sgt. Jensen and M.O. Batteiger but said that Batteiger indicated that he had possession of the heroin sample, so Connole did not check that sample out nor use it in training.

Sgt. Jensen pointed out that Lt. Chapman had instructed M.O. Batteiger, via e-mail, that she should be involved in the process of replacement of the K9 kit (See: DEA Narcotics – e-mail from Lt. Chapman). She said Batteiger went forward with the process without her. Sgt Jensen found out about this when she received a DEA certificate forwarded to her from Lt. Chapman (see: DEA Cert – e-mail to Sgt. Jensen). She then asked Batteiger about this and he said he did not want a headache for the both of them. In their interviews, both Sgt. Jensen and S.O. Connole made mention that it was a red flag that M.O. Batteiger had sent the paperwork in to the DEA to have the drugs destroyed and shortly after Sgt. Jensen discovered that the heroin sample was missing. Officer Connole said M.O. Batteiger had advised him the kit was out of use for up to six weeks because the drugs were being destroyed. In fact, Officer Connole pointed to the December 5th, 2023, training and indicated that he took a fentanyl training aid (a pseudo-odor) because he was under the belief that the K9 drug kit was destroyed. Officer Connole said it was a surprise to him on December 7th, 2023, training to see the kit was still available. At this training Lt. Chapman did utilize the 1 Ounce sample of heroin but indicated that he did not know for sure if the full sample was there, and indicated in hindsight, something seemed to be off. He equated his feeling to a situation where you feel like something is off, but just cannot put your finger on it. He acknowledged that he did not inventory the drugs, so he does not know for sure. M.O. Batteiger acknowledged that he did tell S.O Connole that he was destroying the drugs. He said replacing the k9 drug kit was a new process to him and he didn't know that he would need to wait for a letter from the DEA before he could destroy it. M.O. Batteiger said he had a conversation with Sgt. Foley to determine the process to destroy the drugs but learned that he needed to wait for the letter, after that conversation. Sgt. Foley recalled having a conversation with Batteiger but could not give a specific date other than to estimate it was roughly the end of November or beginning of December.

It was determined that Lt. David Chapman, Sgt. Taylor Jensen, Master Officer Daniel Batteiger, and S.O. Michael Connole were the only people to have access to the drug kit. Each was asked to submit to a voluntary drug test. Since I was unable to pinpoint the date that the heroin went missing, a decision to utilize hair follicle testing was made. The hair follicle test provides the best results for a long length of time (up to 90 days). Julie Eidemiller, from Trinity Occupational Medicine, advised that the 5-panel test was recommended for opioid screening. This was the test selected. Lt. Chapman, Sgt. Jensen, M.O. Batteiger, and S.O. Connole each separately agreed to provide a sample for testing. They were individually directed to Trinity Occupational Medicine where they provided a sample. Each screening resulted in negative results for all five panels (see attached file: City of Minot PD K9-Hair -Connole, Chapman, Jensen, & Batteiger).

When Lt. Chapman was informed of the missing narcotics on December 14, 2023, he went to the last location where he knew the drugs had been used in training. He returned to John Hoeven Elementary and Minot State University. After failing to locate the missing heroin, he contacted Capt. Sundheim and informed him of the missing drugs. Sgt. Jensen and S.O. Connole searched the K9 kit to ensure it was not inadvertently placed in the wrong jar. On December 15, 2023, Lt. Chapman sent an e-mail to K9 handlers Daniel Batteiger and Michael Connole with a list of training logs pages from Packtrack. He instructed them to start working backwards through each of the locations where heroin was used in training (see: E-mail string from Officer Connole). S.O. Connole searched most of these locations to include searching the administrative vehicles used in hides (see: Note-Michael Connole, 1 & 2) while M.O. Batteiger searched other locations.

- Who signed out the narcotics?
    - Since the last known time that the 15.7-gram sample was in use (June 23, 2023, training at MSU) M.O. Batteiger was the only handler to check the heroin out. S.O. Connole checked the kit out on November 26, 2023, but only signed for Meth/CC/Coke.
- Who accessed the drugs during that time?
    - Since June 23, 2023, each of the handlers of the K9 team, to include Lt. Chapman, Sgt. Jensen, M.O. Batteiger, and S.O. Connole had access to the K9 kit and used it in training in some way.
    - Voluntary hair follicle testing of all with access.
        - All submitted voluntary hair follicle samples for testing. All tested negative for drug use.
- Were current policies/procedures followed?
    - See the applicable policy section.
- Were additional attempts to locate since the initial report?
    - Each member contributed to searches for the missing heroin. Lt. Chapman directed his team to search every location that the drug was used since the last known possession (June 23, 2023), to no avail.

Conclusion:

The 15.7-gram training aid sample was discovered missing on December 14, 2023, but it most certainly had been missing prior to that date. The last record of this sample's use was six months prior, on June 23, 2023, at a K9 drug detection training at Minot State University. While the drugs were consistently stored in M.O. Batteiger's locked car, and less commonly in the K9 locker, there was never any indication of theft from either of these locations. The K9 team has no formalized procedure for inventory on the K9 drug kit. Heroin had been used in at least six training sessions from June 23, 2023, to December 14, 2023. The K9 training system, Packtrack, would have been a great resource for tracking the sample use, if proper sample descriptions were consistently used. This was not the case as M.O Batteiger often listed "1 item" instead of using product weight in the amount section of the report. As a result, it is unclear when the 15.7-gram sample of heroin went missing. What is clear is that M.O. Batteiger was the only handler to check out the heroin samples from the locker, and he possessed them exclusively, from February 28, 2023, (he checked the other three drug samples back in on November 13, 2023, but kept the heroin sample), until at least November 26, 2023, when he signed the heroin sample back into the locker. This return date is also in question as S.O. Connole checked the kit out on the same day (notably absent the heroin sample) that M.O. Batteiger indicated he had returned it. In his second interview M.O. Batteiger acknowledged that this entry could not be accurate if S.O. Connole had the case in his possession at that time, but he could not give any explanation for the discrepancy. He surmised that he may have listed the wrong date on the log. Further adding suspicion to this situation was the timing of all of this. M.O. Batteiger was in the process of having the kit destroyed for the impending replacement samples. He did this unilaterally and without the knowledge or involvement of Sgt. Jensen, as he was instructed by Lt. Chapman. In fact, S.O. Connole was under the belief that this process had already happened as per a conversation he had with M.O. Batteiger. M.O. Batteiger acknowledged having this conversation with Connole but indicated at the time he did not understand that he had to wait for a letter from the DEA to destroy the kit. The kit was not permissible to be destroyed, so it was returned to training on December 7th, 2023. The heroin sample was not noticed missing on that date, but an inventory was not completed. Lt. Chapman did indicate that he felt something was off regarding the heroin sample at that training. While these circumstances are suspicious, no evidence of theft of the heroin was found in this investigation. Each of the K9 handlers voluntarily submitted to drug screening and all resulted in negative tests.

Applicable Policy:

I reviewed the following applicable policies:

Policy 309- Canines

Policy 322 - Standards of Conduct

Police 324 – Report Preparation

Policy 700 – Department-Owned and Personal Property

Policy 309 - Canines

309.4 CANINE COORDINATOR

The canine coordinator shall be appointed by the Chief and directly responsible to the Patrol Commander.

The responsibilities of the coordinator include, but are not limited to:

(a) Reviewing all canine use reports to ensure compliance with policy and to identify training issues and other needs of the program.
(b) Maintaining accurate records to document canine activities.
(c) Not reviewed.

Lt. David Chapman is the K9 Coordinator.

(a) There is evidence that Lt. Chapman reviewed all the K9 training reports as they all show that he signed off on them. Lt. Chapman identified a procedure issue and adjusted it based on his evaluation that it was improper for a K9 handler to maintain control of the K9 kit for an extended period (See: Minot Police Department Unit Expectations).

(b) While the accuracy of M.O. Batteiger's reports should have been better, the reports were not inaccurate. Good records are kept via the Packtrack system which documents K9 training activities apart from M.O. Batteiger's neglecting to add weight to describe samples being used.

309.9 TRAINING

Before assignment in the field, each canine team shall be trained and certified to meet current nationally recognized standards or other recognized and approved certification standards. Cross-trained canine teams or those canine teams trained exclusively for the detection of narcotics and/or explosives also shall be trained and certified to meet current nationally recognized standards or other recognized and approved certification standards established for their particular skills.
All canine training should be conducted while on-duty unless otherwise approved by the canine coordinator or Patrol Supervisor.

309.9.3 TRAINING RECORDS

All canine training records shall be maintained by the canine handler and the canine's training file.

Training records are maintained in the Packtrack system. The K9 Coordinator and the K9 team members have access to review these records. The K9 Coordinator finalizes the reports when he signs off on them.

309.9.4 CONTROLLED SUBSTANCE TRAINING AIDS

Officers acting in the performance of their official duties may possess or transfer controlled substances for the purpose of narcotics-detection canine training in compliance with state and federal laws (N.D.C.C. § 19-03.1-16; 21 USC § 823(f)).

The Chief of Police or the authorized designee may authorize a member to seek a court order to allow controlled substances seized by the Minot Police Department to be possessed by the member or a narcotics-detection canine trainer who is working under the direction of this department for training purposes, provided the controlled substances are no longer needed as criminal evidence.

As an alternative, the Chief of Police or the authorized designee may request narcotics training aids from the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA).

These procedures are not required if the canine handler uses commercially available synthetic substances that are not controlled narcotics.

The Chief of Police has authorized and made a request for the use of training aids provided by the DEA. The K9 Team was properly registered to maintain these narcotics (See: 2023 K9 forms -DEA Request).

309.9.5 CONTROLLED SUBSTANCE PROCEDURES

Due to the responsibilities and liabilities involved with possessing readily usable amounts of controlled substances and the ever-present danger of the canine's accidental ingestion of these controlled substances, the following procedures shall be strictly followed:

(a) All controlled substance training samples shall be weighed and tested prior to dispensing to the individual canine handler or trainer.
(b) Blank
(c) Blank
(d) All controlled substance training samples may be inspected, weighed, and tested. The results of the quarterly testing shall be recorded and maintained by the canine coordinator with a copy forwarded to the dispensing agency.
(e) All controlled substance training samples will be stored in locked, airtight, and watertight cases at all times, except during training. The locked cases shall be secured in the trunk of the canine handler's assigned patrol vehicle during transport and stored in an appropriate locked container.
(f) All DEA obtained controlled substance aids shall be destroyed in accordance with DEA procedures. All other controlled substance training aids shall be destroyed in accordance with department controlled substance destruction procedures.

The investigation found:

(a) All controlled substance training samples were weighed upon receipt and broken to smaller sample sizes.
(b) blank
(c) blank
(d) There is no record of the substances being inspected, weighed, or tested nor did any of the handlers make any indication that this was a practice. This section indicates," substances training samples may be inspected, weighed, and tested". The failure to do so may be poor practice but is not a violation of this policy.
(e) All samples, except for the missing sample, were stored in an airtight, and watertight pelican case. This case is not locked as required by this policy. The case was stored for extended periods of time in the back of M.O Batteiger's locked patrol vehicle. This policy does permit a locked case, secured in the trunk of a K9 handler's car during transport, but Batteiger had an unlocked case in the back of his patrol car for approximately 8 and ½ months. Furthermore, this goes well beyond transport of the drugs and the intent of this policy. It should be noted that storage of the drugs in a patrol car was an accepted procedure at the time and up until Batteiger returned the drugs on November 13, 2023, but at that time he was directed by Lt. Chapman not to store them beyond 3 days. He was again in violation when he stored heroin in his car outside of the locked pelican case, for up to 13 days, between November 13, 2023, to November 26th, 2023.
(f) M.O. Batteiger was in the process of starting the destruction of the drugs in this kit when he learned that he was required to wait until receiving a letter, permitting their destruction, by the DEA. He did suspend his effort to destroy these drugs, so as to be in compliance with DEA procedures.

Policy 322 – Standards of Conduct

322.2 POLICY

The continued employment or appointment of every member of the Minot Police Department shall be based on conduct that reasonably conforms to the guidelines set forth herein. Failure to meet the guidelines set forth in this policy, whether on- or off-duty, may be cause for disciplinary action.

322.3 DIRECTIVES AND ORDERS

Members shall comply with lawful directives and orders from any department supervisor or person in a position of authority, absent a reasonable and bona fide justification.

On or before November 13 Lt. David Chapman, the K9 Coordinator, gave the K9 team a document titled Minot Police Department K9 Unit Expectations. This document was as a lawful order to the K9 team. In section 10 of this document Lt. Chapman directs the team to "treat and maintain training aids properly".

As part of this order, he made modification to the procedure of checking out and maintaining drugs outside of the K9 locker. In this order he required the K9 handlers to check the training aids via the digital app. He limited the time the handler could maintain training aids to three days (or 72 hours) for a full kit, or 7 days (or 168 hours) for half of a kit. After this order was given, M.O. Batteiger admitted that he returned the K9 drug kit to the locker, but immediately checked out the heroin sample for an additional 13 days, in disregard for this order.

322.5 CAUSES FOR DISCIPLINE

The following are illustrative of causes for disciplinary action. This list is not intended to cover every possible type of misconduct and does not preclude the recommendation of disciplinary action for violation of other rules, standards, ethics and specific action or inaction that is detrimental to efficient department service.

322.5.1 LAWS, RULES AND ORDERS

(a) Violation of, or ordering or instructing a subordinate to violate any policy, procedure, rule, order, directive, requirement or failure to follow instructions contained in department or City manuals.

(b) Disobedience of any legal directive or order issued by any department member of a higher rank.

(c) Violation of federal, state, local or administrative laws, rules or regulations.

M.O. Batteiger disobeyed Lt. Chapman's order by maintaining the K9 kit outside of the K9 locker for 13 days.

Police 324 – Report Preparation

324.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

Report preparation is a major part of each employee's job. The purpose of reports is to document sufficient information to refresh the employee's memory and to provide sufficient information for follow-up investigation and successful prosecution.

324.1.1 REPORT PREPARATION

Employees should ensure that their reports are sufficiently detailed for their purpose and reasonably free of errors prior to submission. It is the responsibility of the assigned employee to complete and submit all reports taken during the shift before going off-duty, unless permission to delay submission of the report has been approved by a supervisor. Generally, reports requiring prompt follow-up action on active leads or arrest reports where the suspect remains in custody should not be delayed.

324.2 REQUIRED REPORTING

Written reports are required in all of the following situations on the appropriate department-approved form unless otherwise approved by a supervisor.

324.2.2 NON-CRIMINAL ACTIVITY

Whenever the employee believes the circumstances should be documented or at the direction of a supervisor

Lt. Chapman, as well as MPD Policy 309, expressed the importance of maintaining records to show that the K9 team members are appropriately trained. To this end, he initiated the Packtrack training log system. This log permits K9 handlers to submit detailed reports about their activities. Lt. Chapman has instructed his handlers to log their reports within 24 hours of the event. Policy 324.1.1 requires the reports be "sufficiently detailed for their purpose". M.O. Batteiger appears to be the only handler to neglect to document the weight of the training sample. This proved to be problematic when trying to narrow down when the 15.7-gram sample was last used, resulting in substantially more effort being expended in searching for the missing sample.

Policy 700 – Department-Owned and Personal Property

700.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

The policy addresses the care of department-owned property and the role of the Department when personal property, the property of another or department-owned property is damaged or lost.

700.3 POLICY

It is the policy of the Minot Police Department that members shall properly care for department property assigned or entrusted to them...

700.4 DEPARTMENT-ISSUED PROPERTY

All property and equipment issued by the Department shall be documented in the appropriate property sheet or equipment log; receipt shall be acknowledged by signature...

A drug inventory log is maintained, to track when K9 handlers have access to the K9 drug kit. Maintaining an accurate log is essential as any discrepancies in the log leads to questions of impropriety. A discrepancy was observed in the November 26, 2023, entry where M.O. Batteiger noted returning the heroin sample to the kit, but a subsequent entry by S.O. Connole, checking the kit out on November 26, 2023, shows that the heroin was not present in the kit (see: Image 2). M.O. Batteiger acknowledges that his entry cannot be accurate. It is also note worth that the entry appears to have been altered from a "1" in the day, to a "2" (changing the day from 11/16/23 to 11/26/23). Lt. Chapman indicated that he created a digital log that could not be altered, but the log was not used by M.O. Batteiger or S.O. Connole.

700.4.1 CARE OF PROPERTY

Members shall be responsible for the safekeeping, serviceable condition, proper care, use and replacement of department property that has been assigned or entrusted to them. Intentional or negligent abuse or misuse of department property may lead to discipline including, but not limited to, the cost of repair or replacement.

(a) Members shall promptly report, through their chain of command, any loss, damage to, or unserviceable condition of any department-issued property or equipment assigned for their use.

1. A supervisor receiving such a report shall conduct an investigation and direct a memo to the appropriate Division Commander, in circumstances where misconduct or negligence caused the loss, damage or unserviceable condition.
2. A review by command staff should determine whether additional action is appropriate.

It is not clear when the 15.7-gram sample of heroin when missing, but M.O. Batteiger is the only K9 handler to sign this sample out of the locker. As a result, he took responsibility for this sample and should have accounted for it. He acknowledged that he does not regularly maintain inventories of the K9 drug kit as part of his process. Lt. Chapman reported asking M.O. Batteiger if he had everything at the end of the December 7th, 2023, training. It was at the next training that the sample was learned to be missing. S.O. Connole did not check the K9 kit out of the locker but acknowledged taking the kit from M.O. Batteiger's car in preparation for the December 14, 2023, training. S.O. Connole should have inventoried the kit at that time to ensure that he had the whole kit in his possession.

Officer #5 (current MPD Sgt) – referred to as Sgt. Y

- 12 yr MPD officer. Bomb commander, K9 handler
- Sgt. Y started our conversation by speaking about all the officers we've lost over the last 24 months. Really good officers according to Sgt. Y. Sgt. Y gave a number of names as examples - Laudenschlager, Fowler, Moss – more were named but I couldn't write fast enough.
- Sgt. Y mentioned the things that she sees as issues within the department – including, but not limited to, inconsistent discipline, poor communication from brass, getting in trouble for speaking up about officers' questionable behavior, no transparency, not disciplining unethical behavior from fellow officers, failing to maintain ethical standards in the department.
- Sgt. Y provided an example of these issues by recounting the case of MO Batteiger, who, while attending K9 training in Minnesota, would drive the department vehicle to Fargo each night to visit his girlfriend—despite being married at the time. Sgt. Y reported this behavior to her superior, Cpt Sundheim, who responded by saying, 'We are not the morality police.' This lack of accountability deeply upset many within the department, as they felt such conduct should have been addressed. Sgt. Y provided further examples of MO Boettiger's infractions that were not 'disciplined'. These have all been mentioned by previous officers in their statements so I will not repeat them as they are the same/similar. Sgt. Y indicated that MO Batteiger had 7 writeups and still worked for the department. These issues were the same as mentioned in Sgt. Xs interview. Sgt. Y spoke of the letter she wrote in 8/2023 to Cpt Sundheim about the deficiencies in training with MO Batteiger and his K9 – Sgt. Y was told "she lacked supervisor maturity" for bringing up such issues, even though it was her job as the Senior K9 officer. The letter/complaint was 'squashed' and not much happened with MO Batteiger – and this was after most of his other writeups.
- Sgt. Y then started talking about the lost 15.7g of Heroine, given to the Minot PD, for training with their drug K9s. Sgt. Y told me that MO Batteiger had check the drugs out of the "locker" in Feb '23 and when they went to use them for some multi department training in Nov. of '23 that the 15.7g package was missing. Because MO Batteiger was the only officer at the time that had a drug K9, he kept the drugs in a case in the trunk of his patrol car at home each night, rather than in the locked room and locker they were normally kept in. Sgt. Y also spoke about the tracking/training system they use in the K9 world – after training with their dogs they have computer program where they log what drugs were used, how the K9 reacted during the training etc. MO Batteiger was the only officer within the K9 division that didn't put the weight of the drugs used in his reports. SOP was to put the weight into the report. It was mentioned in the investigation report by Cpt Plessus that MO Batteiger didn't utilize the program the way it was intended. During this time, MO Batteiger was the only officer to check out this "drug sample". It was used a couple times in the 9 months that MO Batteiger held the sample, but nobody knows for sure when it disappeared. It was noticed in Nov. '23 when they realized right before the multi department training that it was missing. Sgt. Y also mentioned that after the drugs went missing, no investigation was started until after Christmas that same year.
- Sgt. Y continued her story by telling me about how the 'drug kit' gets changed out each year so the drugs don't lose their potency. Lt. Chapman had instructed MO Batteiger NOT to do anything with regard to destroying the drugs without Sgt. Ys help and approval. Most of this is detailed in Cpt. Plessus's investigation report and if you haven't read it in its entirety, I would suggest reading it.

- In Feb. '24 Sgt. Y was called into Chief's office and Cpt Sundheim was in there as well. Sgt. Y was told that the drugs couldn't be found, but they had taken MO Batteiger's K9 from him.
- Sgt. Y also told me of an incident in which MO Batteiger had volunteered to pick up "bobblehead toys" for the brass for Christmas one year. Officers each pitched in $20 and they collected $300 in total. When Christmas arrived MO Batteiger failed to produce any bobbleheads and everyone wanted to know what happened to their money? MO Batteiger made some excuses and just never returned his fellow officer's money. Other officers I spoke with spoke of this incident as well.
- I asked Sgt. X what he thought would help fix things within the department. Here were Sgt. X's responses:
    - Culture change within the dept. "used to be a family, that was taken away when Chief was put in place"
    - Reestablish trust with the rank and file – trust has been lost by Chief, Capt Sundheim and Cpt Sundbakken
    - Let the beard/hair policy be implanted. He started a committee to write/change it all. They put in 4 months work on it and it's been laying on Chief's desk for 8 months. Another example of no decisions being made.
    - Quit covering up for poor officers and/or their unethical behavior.

Officer #6 (Current Minot PD MO)

- 7 yr MPD officer – patrol
- Officer #6 started our discussion by stating he was worried about retaliation, but at this point he had to start speaking up because they'd lost so many good people at the MPD.
- Officer #6 went into detail about issues within the department from his point of view. He said ideas or recommendations from rank and file are never given any merit – "they don't want to hear from us, whether it's making things more efficient, safer, etc." "We've always done it this way; we don't need to change" is usually the response. Ideas/suggestions go nowhere – if it doesn't come from Chief, it isn't a valid idea. Chief told everyone in the department after taking over 'You are all replaceable'. This affected moral quite a bit.
- Officer #6 also mentioned that command staff is never around. They don't see some of them at all during the day, Chief never seems to be around and they all have reasons to leave early most days. At one point Officer 6 said "Chief was gone for a month and nobody noticed"
- Officer #6 recounted a 2020 incident where he responded to a call but encountered a significant issue: his radio microphone attachment was malfunctioning, preventing him from calling for backup. Despite repeatedly notifying Lieutenants and Captains, including Houge and Sundheim, about the persistent radio issues, his concerns were largely disregarded. This neglect became critically apparent during a chase at the Enerbase gas station north of Minot on Highway 83. While pursuing a suspect, Officer #6 attempted to use his malfunctioning radio to request assistance, but was unable to make contact. After apprehending the suspect, he engaged in a physical altercation without backup. A second officer, who had heard the initial call, arrived to assist but faced the same radio failure. In response, she used her personal phone to call 911 for additional backup. The lack of support was compounded by the fact that no command staff reached out to check on the officers' well-being or offer assistance after the fact. Instead, Chief remarked, "Do our officers need to be coddled?" This response was deeply disheartening for Officer #6 and his colleague. Officer #6 was told that the fight really wasn't that big of a deal.
- Officer #6 was at one point called into Cpt Sundheim's office and joining the SWAT team. Cpt Sundheim placed him on the SWAT team, but officer #6 was told by Sundheim that if he kept 'causing issues' with complaints, that they'd remove him from SWAT. WOW
- Officer #6 highlighted a significant issue with the command staff's lack of support and follow-through, noting that decisions are frequently stalled. He specifically referenced the Uniform Committee's work on the beard and hair policy—a seemingly minor issue, yet one that could have positively impacted morale and made officers feel heard. After the committee developed the new policy, it was submitted to the Chief, who responded with a dismissive comment: if he did not address the policy by April 1st, officers should assume it was rejected and proceed with shaving. This response underscored the broader problem of inadequate support and decision-making within the department. He also mentioned no support from command staff with regards to recruiting when officer #6 came to them with an idea to recruit more from the MSU criminal justice program. I guess we are not recruiting from our college here in Minot at all.
- Officer #6 also addressed the issue of shifting promotion criteria, describing how the selection standards seem to change arbitrarily. He explained that while one round of promotions might prioritize specific criteria, subsequent rounds often introduce new, unpredictable factors that affect the top candidates' chances. This inconsistency has led to the departure of several qualified individuals who perceive the promotion process as favoring personal connections with the Chief or Captain Sundheim over merit and leadership qualities. Notable officers who have left under these circumstances include Laudenschlager, Moss and Kasson. While Sgt. Schoenrock who is still with the department, has been passed over multiple times and nobody knows why. "He's one of the best Sgts we have". Favorites are played a lot.

- Officer #6 noted that they have yet to receive their 2023 evaluations, a concern that appears to be widely shared within the department. Additionally, they pointed out that following the "FREE SPEAK" meeting initiated by command staff in 2021-2022, several officers who voiced their opinions received negative remarks in their files and reviews, specifically citing "negative communication with superiors."
- Officer #6 also mentioned inconsistent discipline, CPSM study that nothing has happened with regards to the suggestions, the 1 on 1 meetings that never happened, our progressive punishment policy – which only seems to be applied to certain officers and not others.
- Officer #6 concluded our meeting by addressing ongoing concerns within dispatch. This issue has been raised in multiple interviews, underscoring its significance. Officer #6 described a hostile work environment in dispatch attributed to the PSAP, noting that this situation has led to the departure of several skilled dispatchers. He also mentioned a new policy implemented at the beginning of 2024: with two dispatchers required to be on duty at all times, if the shift is staffed by just two individuals, they are either unable to take breaks or must use PTO to leave the room for lunch. This is necessitated by the need to call in additional staff to cover breaks. I'm pretty sure this is against state and federal law.

Officer #7 (past MPD officer)

- 7 years with MPD – left department because of issues from brass in 2022.
- Officer #7 mentioned a lot of similar issues during her time at the MPD – including inconsistent discipline, lack of support or care from the brass, the issues in dispatch and how unsafe it was for officers because of the lack of training – stems from PSAP and other things.
- Officer #7 introduced two new issues that had not previously been raised. Firstly, she reported instances of sexism within the department, specifically from a couple of lieutenants. While these comments did not personally affect her, other female officers have expressed discomfort with remarks made by Lt. Wagoner and possibly Lt. Dyke. The second issue raised was more concerning. Officer #7 disclosed that a relationship with a fellow officer had turned abusive. When she sought assistance from Chief Klug, requesting a shift change to avoid the officer, her concerns were dismissed with the advice to "just stay away from him." This response parallels the situation described by Officer #1 regarding concerns about MO Batteiger, highlighting a troubling pattern where the Chief seems to dismiss serious concerns, leaving officers in untenable and unsafe situations.

Officer #8 (current MPD Sgt.) – referred to as Sgt. Z

- 14 years with MPD, Community outreach officer, Cadet Program coordinator
- Sgt. Z articulated several concerns regarding departmental issues, including the need for updated equipment—a matter previously unmentioned. He also highlighted a perceived lack of support from senior leadership, noting their frequent absence. Additionally, Sgt. Z expressed frustration with the fluctuating criteria for promotions, which seem to disadvantage qualified individuals not part of the 'favorites' group. He criticized the command staff for their lack of follow-through on commitments and inconsistent discipline within the dept.
- Sgt. Z mentioned that since the change from patrol to evidence he's really noticed the moral issue within the department that comes from the above issues.
- Sgt. Z was forthright about his previous disciplinary issues during his time on patrol, but he described the most recent write-up while assigned to evidence as particularly troubling. In this instance, Sgt. Z proposed an improvement to the drug receiving procedure in the evidence room to his lieutenant. He was instructed to formalize the suggestion and present it to the command staff. Despite following this directive, the proposal was never discussed further. After waiting four months with no feedback, Sgt. Z decided to implement his idea by relocating the vacuum sealing machine from inside the evidence room to outside, aiming to streamline the process by reducing the number of individuals handling evidence before it was sealed. However, upon observation by Chief and/or Cpt. Sundheim, Sgt. Z was reprimanded the following day for 'testing' an unapproved idea. He expressed frustration over the lack of communication during the four-month waiting period. Ultimately, the vacuum sealing machine was returned to the evidence room, and the proposed change was never revisited.
- Sgt. Z provided a detailed account of the lack of support from command staff. He noted that senior officers seldom attend public events or engage with the community, citing the upcoming MSU homecoming parade on Saturday, September 14th, as an example. He questioned whether any of the command staff had volunteered to assist with the parade, given the shortage of officers – this was a rhetorical question as they had not. Sgt. Z contrasted this with previous administrations, where senior leaders were more visible and involved in public affairs.
- As the Cadet Program Coordinator, Sgt. Z reported receiving no support from command staff, although he indicated that this lack of assistance allows him to manage the program according to his own vision. Additionally, he spoke positively about MO Batteiger, commending his consistent willingness to support the cadet program whenever possible.
- Sgt. Z spoke about the change to 4 duty shifts from the 3 that they currently have. He said it upset some officers, because of how short staffed they are. They don't have the people to cover 3 shifts, why would we create another?
- Sgt. Z spoke about the lack of recruiting in the PD...he said we don't utilize MSU, we've stopped going to Lake Region and that we pass over some candidates that could be good cops with some training, but the brass 'doesn't seem to want to train anyone'.
- Sgt. Z took over the evidence room two years ago with minimal training or guidance. Upon assuming the role, he discovered significant disorganization and inefficiencies, including evidence stored improperly and a general lack of systematic categorization. He undertook efforts to rectify these issues, introducing a categorization system that had not previously existed and clearing out obsolete or 'dead' evidence, which created substantial additional space. To further optimize the evidence room, Sgt. Z requested additional shelving to accommodate the improved organization. Noting that extra shelves in the SWAT bay were cluttered with garbage and equipment, he sought permission from command staff to repurpose one of these units. After receiving no response for several months, Sgt. Z took the initiative to clean out the SWAT bay, organize the remaining equipment, and relocate one shelving unit to the evidence room. Sgt. Z finished his clean up and then went on vacation. Upon returning from vacation, Sgt. Z was reprimanded for 'insubordination' due to moving the shelf.

- Sgt. Z highlighted another issue that underscored the lack of guidance and support from command staff. During the spring auction cleanout in 2024, a significant task for which Sgt. Z was responsible as the evidence sergeant, he requested additional help and volunteers. Despite the magnitude of the undertaking, only four officers volunteered, two of whom had to leave early. Although command staff were aware of the staffing shortfall, they neither intervened to assign additional personnel nor offered assistance themselves.
  As a result of the limited help, a few minor errors occurred during the auction, including the sale of evidence that should have been returned to victims. While these mistakes were not entirely Sgt. Z's fault, and were subsequently rectified with items and funds returned to the appropriate individuals, he was nonetheless held accountable and written up for the issues. The problems might have been avoided had there been adequate support during the auction.
- Sgt. Z was subsequently assigned the task of developing a Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) for evidence intake, storage, and auction sales. He meticulously prepared a comprehensive 48-page SOP binder and presented it to his lieutenant and captain. After briefly acknowledging the effort with a "great job," they promptly returned to their discussions, showing little engagement with the document. This response further illustrates the broader issue of inadequate support from senior leadership and a general lack of concern for the perspectives and contributions of officers.

This was the officer that Chief referenced in our meeting when he grabbed the file from his desk, through it on the table and said should I fire this guy too instead of suspending him.

Officer #9 (current MPD MO)

- 9 yr PD officer, bomb squad, patrol officer
- Officer #9 started our conversation talking about the issues that he sees every day in the PD – including the lack of support from command staff. Specifically, if you make suggestions or try to give a helpful comment – nobody wants to hear from you. He said there is really no active recruitment at the PD and asked specifically about approaching MSU criminal justice department to possible let them come in and speak, teach etc....no response given from command staff. "Command staff is where ideas go to die"
- Officer #9 said he believes we are losing officers at an alarming rate because of the lack of support from command staff. "They don't tell us good job or anything positive...the only time they speak with us is if we are in trouble."
- Officer #9 remarked that Captain Sundheim, who oversees patrol, appears unfamiliar with his officers. This was evident during a conversation in which Captain Sundheim mistakenly addressed Officer #9 as another officer, highlighting his lack of recognition and familiarity with his own team. "Sundheim doesn't even know his officers"
- Officer #9 addressed concerns regarding the promotion board criteria. He recounted his experience of testing for the Sergeant position three times, where he ranked among the top three candidates 2 of the 3 times. Despite his strong performance, he was passed over for promotion each time. Following his most recent application, he received feedback stating that he lacked the "big picture" perspective required for the role. This vague comment left Officer #9 perplexed, as he was not provided with a clear explanation or actionable guidance on how to improve. This lack of clarity highlights a recurring issue of ineffective communication and insufficient support from command staff. Officer #9's experience underscores a broader problem within the department, where critical feedback is often imprecise and unhelpful, leaving officers with a diminished understanding of how to advance in their careers. He also mentioned that he didn't even get to test for Sgt. In 2020 or 2021 due to covid issues, but other officers did.
- Officer #9 subsequently noted that he was removed from the Field Training Officer (FTO) program following complaints he had made about command staff. He was informed that reinstatement in the program would require reapplication. He found this particularly unusual given that another officer, who had been removed from the FTO program for showing up to a shift intoxicated, was reinstated without the need to reapply upon his return from a 6-month hiatus. This discrepancy exemplifies the inconsistent application of disciplinary measures within the department.

Officer #10 (current MPD Sgt.) – referred to ask Sgt. Q

- 19 year MPD officer.
- Sgt. Q has had 4 different Chiefs since starting with MPD. Prior to this Chief, MPD was a family feeling organization. Things changed when Chief was appointed in 2020. Chief Klug and Cpt. Sundheim regularly spoke disrespectfully – talked down to whole staff. "you're all replaceable". I've heard this multiple times from officers...this really upsets employees and it is said quite frequently.
- When Chief was promoted, Sgt. Q had been doing Lt. Redding's job, without any type of compensation. He was happy to do it, as Lt. Redding was a good friend and his Lt. who had been med relieved. Sgt. Q thought it was great experience and hoped it would lead to promotion to LT.
- Sgt. Q – is well liked and every other officer I spoke to within the department had nothing but great things to say about him. "He should've been promoted, He's a great cop, I would've left if it hadn't been for Sgt. Q".
- Sgt. Q was/is on the SWAT team for Minot PD – during his career – Darin Egge had been SWAT commander. Egge developed cancer while at the MPD, but continued to show up for SWAT training. Egge would tell them at training, I'll show up until I can't. After Egge could no longer be SWAT commander, Cpt. Sundheim became SWAT commander. He never showed up for training and still doesn't to this day. SWAT is very rarely used within the MPD because of Cpt. Sundheim's urging.
- Cpt. Sundheim has two different domestic violence incidents while working for MPD. One with girlfriend (Christie) and one with current wife Jess. Both incidents were brought to supervisors' attention and squashed. In one of the incidents...Cpt Sundheim allegedly put a gun to his girlfriend's head. Sgt. Q was good friends with Cpt. Sundheim's wife (she was a MPD officer for a while as well). She ended up in the hospital after one incident and when Sgt. Q went to check on her, she said, "He's getting help".
- Sgt. Q spoke about some of the previous discipline at the dept. – specifically speaking about Wilke and another officer who were both fired for relatively minor offenses (one of them for giving out a door code during COVID). There were a number of officers violating COVID policies that were put in place (videos online of officers out partying with no masks etc.) but none of them were let go. Inconsistent discipline.
- Some of these issues were brought to Cpt. Sundbakken during this time – it never went anywhere. "if you were part of the in club, you got away with things". Sgt. Q said not many people have confidence in Sundbakken as he rarely follows through with reports up the chain of command. Sgt. Q also told me to look in to the Shannon Lackey incidents – her and Chief were good friends and drinking buddies; he protected her at the department until she punches people drunk in the bar the final time.
- Sgt. Q also mentioned some of the sexism issues at the MPD. Specifically, Lt. Wagner and Lt. Dyke – always saying inappropriate things to female officers. Most weren't too bothered by it...always "oh that's just Wagner" but there were a few incidents where female officers spoke with Sgt. Q about some very inappropriate comments from Lt. Wagner.
- During all of this time the brass never showed up for meetings, they didn't know their officers and most of the MPD officers were upset about these things. Officers were scared during COVID and to not have leadership around bothered almost every officer out on the road. Meetings were called – no Chief, no Cpts. No Lts. Showed up

- As mentioned before Sgt. Q had been doing Lt. Redding's job for almost a year. He was the number 1 Lt. candidate going into the promotions board. He was passed over for Lt. Dyke who was Chief's buddy. Sgt. Q took this personally he admitted.
- During 2020-2021 an internal investigation was started into Chief for a few things...including hostile work environment. During this investigation, Cpt. Sundheim called for a 'Free Speak" meeting for the officers. They were told you can speak freely, there will be no consequences. Sgt. Q was running the night shift and his guys approached him to ask if they should speak up or not. Sgt. Q told them, "Just tell the truth, if you don't speak up now, you have no one to blame but us". Cpt. Sundheim 'lost his mind' after the meeting when officers spoke up – he blamed Sgt. Q for this. If asked Sgt. Q if he went to HR with any of this. Sgt. Q said there is a lot of distrust with HR because Lisa Jundt and Chief are friends and have been seen drinking together.
- People who spoke up at Cpt. Sundheim's free speak meeting were given crap details, assignments and basically 'slapped around' for saying something.
- During the COVID and investigation stuff – the night shift guys started 'One PD' slogan with a "Sammy Sosa" kiss to the heavens gesture. Sgt. Q explained it as a moral building thing during COVID and it became popular for all shifts to make the gesture when they saw other officers. Cpt. Sundheim took this as a personal attack, because he was the one who came up with the One Dept. slogan. Lt. McCloud told Sgt. Q that he was stirring the pot by making the gesture at Cpt. Sundheim's urging. Very passive/aggressive behavior from brass after this. A letter of reprimand was put in Sgt. Q's personnel file and he was blamed for the attitude of the 'agitators' who spoke up.
- Sgt. Q was dealing with injuries during the '21-22 years. He had physical issues with his neck, back etc from doing the job.
- Sgt. Q spoke about a past officer – SO Bjork. He indicated what a great officer she was and "how we need more like her". SO Bjork went to HR about some of the issues and it was largely ignored. There was a incident between Shannon Lackey and SO Bjork at a fellow officers wedding dance. Lackey attacked Bjork at the dance. The next day Sgt. Q was asked about the incident by Cpt Plessus. He said there were multiple incidents like this with Lackey when she was on the PD...but it was always swept away because of her friendship with Chief. Sgt. Q mentioned during the last 4 years we have lost 'dozens' of officers who we shouldn't have lost because of the way the dept. is run. Indicated we have 'lost 200 years of experience' in 4 years.
- When the City Council investigation happened in 2020/21 – nobody reached out to speak with Sgt. Q – and they were told to by other officers.
- Sgt. Q spoke about how all officers deal with external drama everyday – patrol, home life etc..he said 'we have enough drama to deal with, we don't need internal drama at the dept' – it adds to mental stress daily.
- Sgt. Q spoke about his 2nd interview for Lt. He was either the top Lt. candidate or second candidate...he couldn't remember. He noted how odd the interview portion of his promotion board was. He was asked questions about what his position was within the PD and who he's in charge of? He was also asked how he'd disseminate information to other officers within the dept. He said "I told them I'd just go talk to them" – Cpt Sundheim's response started with "here's the problem with that". They don't want us talking to the lower grade officers. Sgt. Q said he knew he wouldn't be promoted this time either, because he'd called for an investigation in the Lackey incidents and both Chief and Cpt. Sundheim knew it.

- Sgt. Q spoke with Councilman Pitner a couple years ago when he and Councilman Podrygula were looking into allegations at the MPD. Nothing ever came of it.

Officer #16 (former MPD officer)

- 5 yr MPD officer – Patrol, Investigations
- Officer 16 mentioned that her immediate supervisors were Lt. Houge, Sgt. Burns and Sgt. Wilke; with command officers being Cpt. Sundbakken. Officer 16 said Cpt. Sundbakken is a 'yes' man to Chief Klug and that he has no leadership whatsoever.
- Upon being moved to night shift her supervisors changed to Lt. Redding, Sgt. Schoenrock, Sgt. Ruell and Sgt. Chapman
- Officer 16's career started in 2015 as a patrol officer – she said she'd been paired up with some 'salty, burnt-out officers' but that she'd been trained well and enjoyed patrol. She then went to academy – during which time she was having some health issues – most of it being stress related (not all work stress). She finished academy even though she was having health issues. This was recognized by fellow officers and one commented "you have a lot of will power and determination to finish while sick".
- After academy training was over, officer 16 was assigned to the night shift to finish off her training. For some reason, officer 16 was transferred back to days (I believe they were short staffed). Officers Clouse and Gates were her training officers. Sgt. Lackey was her direct supervisor for a short time. Officer 16 stated how Sgt. Lackey was very 'hard' on the other female officers in the department, stating "that's how she was trained". After finishing her training on days, she started her official assignment on afternoon shift.
- Officer 16 didn't speak much about her time on the afternoon shift, other than to say that she had some issues with Sgt. Wilke – but mentioned not much happened, because if Chief liked a particular officer and you complained, it just disappeared. Sgt. Lackey was still being hard on female officers, so officer 16 spoke with Sgts Burns and Houge about it. Nothing happened. (Lackey and Klug very close friends).
- Officer 16 admitted that her moral started to falter. She spoke with Cpt. Whitesell and was moved from afternoons back to day shift patrol. Sgts. Plessus, Jess Sundheim and Lackey were her direct supervisors. Lackey continued to be very hard on officer 16 and the other female officers in the department. "If Lackey was in charge for the day, everyone knew it was going to be a tough day". Officer 16 was written up by Sgt. Lackey for swearing during an arrest. Sgt. Lackey didn't care if other officers swore during citizen engagements and failed to write up male officers for the same behavior.
- During this time, she worked a lot with Officer Clouse – officer 16 said she wouldn't have made it through if it wasn't for fellow officers Clouse and Lund. She spoke with some of the Sgts. about Lackey's treatment of the female officers. Sgt. Burns looked into it and spoke with all the female officers and the consensus was Lackey 'sucks as a supervisor' and she was harder on female officers than their male counterparts. Sgt. Burns pushed it up to command staff and nothing was every said about it again.
- 2018/2019 Officer 16 was moved to investigations. She had expressed interest in working financial crimes and arson crimes and was told she would be able to do that. After moving over to investigations, based on the notion she'd be able to work the types of crimes mentioned above. She was given almost every domestic violence case that came to the department instead. Officer 16 asked if when she wasn't working a case, could she get some training on the arson and financial crime areas. She was told no by Lt. Wagner. Lt. Wagner also started pressing officer 16 about small mistakes – typing errors, etc. Officer 16 mentioned that her direct reports Lt. Sundheim, Lt. Wagner and Sgt. Wilke overly critical management of her made investigations an 'awful place' to work. "They were critical to the point of causing me mental stress." She was given little to no training and no guidance in investigations, just left to figure it out on her own. Officer 16 mentioned it was apparent the 3 of them "didn't want her in investigations". Lt. Wagner again became quite critical of officer 16 and how she was doing her reports. Officer 16 asked Lt. Wagner what she was doing wrong and how should she correct it. Lt. Wagner couldn't give her specifics, just said "they just aren't right".

- On officer 16's 2018 department review she received all 3, 4 and 5s and was told 'you have some areas to work on'. Shortly into 2018 officer 16 went on maternity leave and when she returned things were much harder. She said the 'culture' in the dept. was awful – the investigators would go to lunch together each week, officer 16 was excluded from these lunches. Officer 16 also said they talked about her quite a bit behind her back and that it usually got back to her. These things made officer 16 was uncomfortable and she went to Lt. Wagner and said "if I'm not a good fit for this department, can I go back to patrol?" The response was, you're doing just fine.
- Officer 16 during her time in investigations like to go out to the crime see and look at it for herself. Officer 16 also liked to follow up with witnesses to make sure she was understanding the whole story. Officer 16 was told 'you are doing things incorrectly. Your job is not to go out there. That's not how you investigate." Officer 16 was confused by these comments. Lt. Wagner also continued to criticize officer 16 about the reports she was writing. Officer 16 mentioned how her immediate supervisor said her reports looked good and how they were similar to other officers' reports. Officer 16 asked Lt. Wagner to explain how he would like her to change the reports, to which he responded "I can't, just meet with Dave (immediate supervisor) more".
- Officer 16 next recounted an incident in June of 2019 where she was investigating a domestic violence situation. Officer 16 recounted how the DV 'victim' wanted to make sure her voice was heard, so officer 16 met with her. After meeting with the female involved in the DV incident, officer 16 issued a warrant for the male DV individual's arrest. After meeting with the female DV individual and then watching the video that the male DV individual had recorded, officer 16 realized she had made a mistake and that the female DV individual was the aggressor in the DV case. Officer 16 admitted she had been struggling some at this point as her baby had not been sleeping well and she was pretty tired. She went to Dave (supervisor) and told him "I messed up". Officer 16 shows Dave the video and he agrees with her assessment. He asked her how she was going to correct it and officer 16 told him she had already retracted the warrant with the SA. Supervisor Dave said 'Ok, finish taking care of it."
- Because of this incident, officer 16 met with Chief Olsen. He told officer 16, "good catch. How are you going to fix this." Officer 16 explained how he had retracted the warrant and taken care of the situation. Chief Olsen and officer 16 spoke about her 'struggles' after coming back from maternity leave. Chief Olsen asked officer 16 if she'd prefer to move back to patrol. She responded with "yes, that'd be great. I've been asking in investigations if I could go back." After this meeting with Chief Olsen, officer 16 met with Supervisor Dave again and recounted the meeting. She mentioned that Chief ok'd her going back to patrol, but Lt. Wagner and Lt. Sundheim would not let officer 16 go back to patrol – no reason was given. Lts Wagner and Sundheim continued to make things very hard on officer 16. This frustrates Officer 16 very much, but she goes back to work.

- Approximately 45 days after the domestic violence incident, Lt. Wagner informed Officer 16 that an internal investigation had been initiated regarding the oversight. Throughout the investigation, Lt. Sundheim and Officer Guerton held several closed-door meetings, during which Officer 16 overheard her name mentioned multiple times. When she inquired with her supervisors about the situation, she was reassured that "everything is fine."
  Sometime later, Officer 16 was summoned to Lt. Sundheim's office, where she was read her Garrity rights. During the meeting, Officer 16 acknowledged her mistake, telling Lt. Sundheim, "I know I made an error, and I took responsibility for it. It's been corrected." Lt. Sundheim then asked her to review the video footage and explain what she observed. During this discussion, Officer 16 questioned why, if the department was dissatisfied with her performance in investigations, they hadn't allowed her to return to patrol as Chief Olsen had suggested. Lt. Sundheim responded, "We don't have the personnel for you to go back. She also asked Lt. Sundheim why the investigation was taking place as she'd already met with Chief Olsen and he was ok with how the situation turned out. No response was given. Other officers within the investigation unit commented to officer 16 after the meeting, "they are focused on you."
- Officer 16 said she left that meeting feeling like Lt. Sundheim was trying to get her fired. The internal investigation went through its process and nothing came of it. Officer 16 said that she received NO support from command staff in investigations.
